had added 13 points to the Cats' total. Asbury said he took responsibility for the poor performance.

"For whatever reasons, some of our guys who played well the other night were just completely out of it," he said, "which is my job, to get these guys on the same page. That's my responsibility to get these guys playing on a consistent basis. We did not have any semblance of consistency

1105 Waters COME IN FOR OUR 8TH ANNIVERSARY SALES

ENTRY FEE

EVENT SCHEDULE

Saturday, March 16, 1996

Race Headquarters will be at 616 N. 12th

10-12:15 p.m. Registration and securing of race packets for all races and walk.

PARADE 11 a.m. 12:30 p.m. Start of 2-mile Fun Run.

1:15 p.m. Start of St. Pat's 10km Road Race 1:15 p.m. 3-mile Walk participants follow

10km runners. 2:45 p.m. Awards Ceremony begins in Triangle Park. Barbecue for all

Drawing for shoes provided by ASICS. ASICS representative available at Ballards all day.

runners after Awards Ceremony.

This schedule will be followed rain or shine.

AGE DIVISIONS

Separate age groups for men and women for both the St. Pat's 10km Road Race and the

MO-MINE LA	n Kun:
9-Under	25-29	45-49	60-64
10-13	30-34	50-54	65-69
14-18	35-39	55-59	70-Over
19-24	40-44	Wheelchair	Division

SPONSORED BY KANSASSIAH BANK K-ROCK • BALLARD 5 • K-MAN

1996, $15/$11 if postmarked after March 9, 1996. Entry fee must accompany entry form, and is not refundable. A $15 fee ($18 if late) allows a participant to enter two races (still receiving 1 T-shirt). MAIL ENTRIES TO: ST. PAT'S RACE c/o Kansas State Bank P.O. Box 69 • Manhattan, Kansas 66502 Name (print) Address City State ZIP. Phone (work) (home) Age on Race Day Date of Birth Check: Male 0 Female Shirt Size: For Official Use 10km SO Event: 2 Mile 🔾 MO Walk LO Race Number XL O If under 18, signature of parent or guardian

ENTRY FORM

Runners $12, walkers $8 if postmarked by March 9,

All Proceeds Benefit Special Olympics

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

CROSSWORD by Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 2"-Lazy 21 Vacationsausage River" 1 Sample of 40 Round ing 3 Sen. 22 Torn statuary Table Symington 23 Inter-tile 5 Follow address mortar relent-41 Infinitesi-4 Leotards 5 Responsi-25 Island lessly mal bit 8 Unaltered near 42 Researchbility 12 Talent er's tool 6 Praiseful Vene-14 Boggy 47 Missing piece 7 Vivid red zuela 26 Pre-48 Means 15 Chelsea, 49 Boulle's 8 Complain diploma to Bill 9 Family woe planet 27 Novice 16 Destroy denizens member 17 Cry for 50 Form of 10 Put 29 Formally precise Buddhist together attention con-31 densation Causes of 18 Lessens "I" strain? 20 Bash 51 Acknowlsect 33 View from 13 Every-23 Eat away edge 2/ 24 Has bills 29? body else the Tower 19 Combo of London 25 Gewgaw DOWN 28 Sweep 20 Burst 34 Air freshener the Solution time: 25 min. scent camera 36 Prevarisideways cator 29 Haughty ROSA KEN INT SEXY 30 Talley-37 It's a long story rand's 38 On affair 39 Unrivaled 32 Metallic 40 Dither element 34 Aesopian 43 "Hail!" 44 Census also-ran statistic 35 Intimation 45 Vast 36 Air expanse freshener Yesterday's answer 46 Sixth scent sense 37 Spicy

PED? For answers to today's crossword, call tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP 3-4

MUDIZA E J : XNX

DZWE WLIZENIZV

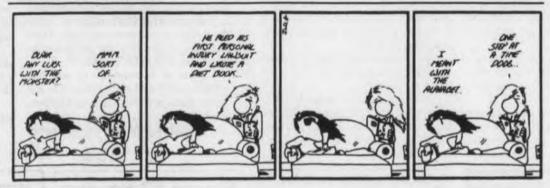

MZUHA IUHWJUM UHEW Saturday's Cryptoquip: IN GENERAL, A REGATTA IS NOTHING MORE THAN A SAILS MEETING.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: I equals M

▶ FOXTROT by Bill Amend MY CIGAR AND I WILL USE THIS BANISHMENT AS AN DID YOU SAY OPPORTUNITY TO GET TO TUPID DOOR KNOW ONE ANOTHER IN AN ATMOSPHERE FREE OF HARASSMENT.

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilich

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

'Words' explores self-sufficiency, mature decisions

staff writer

The audience waited for any words.

The first few minutes of the play "Waiting for the Words" were fraught with tension and uncertainty.

Most of the acting in the first few minutes of the play was physical instead of verbal. The actors set the mood for the play through their body language.

The play, written by Deidre Ensz, graduate student in theater, begins with the nerve-wracking return of an old boyfriend, Josh, who wishes to rejoin Rebecca's life. Too late. Josh, played by Chris Ellner, freshman in theater, is the reckless, adventure-seeking boyfriend who returns to find his girlfriend has another lover. Just when the plot seemed predictable, Ensz added a Rebecca, played by Vanessa Vaughn, freshman in theater, has been involved in a relationship with another woman, a sculptor named Mara. Mara, played by Sarah Kuhns, freshman in music, fights a vicious battle with Josh for Rebecca's affection. Rebecca seems to have all of the power when she is suddenly afforded the chance to choose between her wayward boyfriend, Josh, and her friend, lover and confidante, Mara.

The play is suddenly sexually charged. Rebecca's tension and uncertainty are tangible.

When Mara and Rebecca finally touch each other, it is like a confirmation. They are a loving, affectionate couple. Once again, the ending seems secured. Not so. Josh challenges Rebecca's relationship with Mara by asking her to marry him.

Ensz boldly takes on serious issues from human sexuality to modern success.

Rebecca takes control of her life by choosing to be alone, rather than staying in either of the relationships. The staid, conservative university teacher spreads her wings to experiment and experience. Rebecca changes dramatically over the course of the play.

Vaughn gave an excellent performance of a woman who is unconsciously sensual and perhaps still very uncertain of her own sexuality and physical and emotional relationships.

The revelation of Rebecca's bisexuality comes early in the play. Rebecca loves the fantasy of her relationship with Mara. She uses Mara to become stronger.

Josh unrealistically tries to seduce the lesbian out of Rebecca. Vaughn characterized Rebecca as a woman who has found success in her career, but she is still not sure of what she wants in her relationships.

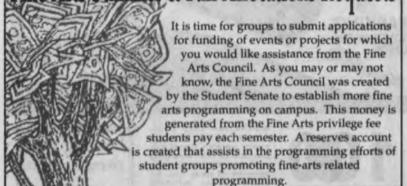

"Waiting for the Words" is about change. Rebecca seems to mature into a stronger, more self-reliant person. In the process, she loses both of her relationships, but she is transformed into a woman who can have a positive, loving relationship without the neediness or insecurity that characterized her previous relationships with Mara and Josh.

The levity of this play is broken frequently by humor. mature but humorous manner.

Ensz uses strong language and controversial situations effectively to develop her characters. Ensz' message goes beyond the sexual nature of the play. The thought-provoking script is highlighted by an excellent cast with a good feel for the nature of their characters. "Waiting for the Words" has a universal theme.

"Every man or woman needs to live for themselves,"

The forms that need to be filled out are available at the OSAS Office. THE DEADLINE FOR APPLICATION IS ON OR BEFORE THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1996 AT NOON (12 p.m.).

For more information, please call or go to the Office of Student Activities and Services. K-State Union, Ground Floor • (913) 532-6541

STOP STEPING WITH YOUR PIFESSORS.

Is it the sound of that whispery voice, or those big, intellectual words? If your professors are putting you to sleep, Revive with Vivarin. Don't let fatigue get the best of you. Vivarin's the safe way to stay mentally alert, with the same caffeine as about two cups of coffee.

So stay sharp in class. Don't sleep your way to the bottom.

Revive with blet contains 200 mg of calleine, equal to about two cups of coffee. Use only as directed

Exploring Europe on low funds like this:

A day in the life of Gil White begins

He wakes up around 6 a.m. in a stranger's house. He gets out of his sleeping bag, rolls it up and walks to the kitchen to talk with the inhabitants of

They don't speak his language, though. So he uses a series of hand gestures and the dictionary to communicate

They feed him breakfast; he thanks them in their native language. Then he is on his way

Next, he is on the road where he tries to hitch a ride. With a tennis racket in one hand and a stuffed backpack placed on his back, he extends his thumb toward the traffic.

After several cars speed by, a car stops. He hops in, and his day has be-

White is an adventurer who writes books on the side.

His latest, entitled "Europe on $.84 a Day," describes many of his adventures, not unlike the one just described, through countries all over Europe. He gives instructions on how to spend the least amount of money while having a great time exploring foreign lands.

White describes how, in 1981, he toured 30 countries in four months for just less than $1,000.

That was 15 years ago. Although prices have increased for such a trip due to inflation, White says the trip can still be made cheaply, but not for 84 cents as the book's title indi-

According to

White's estimates, a similar trip today, using all of the money-saving techniques he has prescribed, would cost around $2,300 for four months, including airfare. This means each day in Europe would cost around $19 per day.

Although the title raises false expectations about the price of the trip, White lends some interesting traveling secrets and some advice

White says to hitchhike whenever possible. And because of this, he says traveling alone is best, except for women, because drivers are more likely to pick up someone who is alone.

Birthright of Manhattan

According to the book, women are a different case. Women should not travel alone and shold always dress conservatively.

All of White's adventures indicate he is a very outgoing

Since high school, he has been making these kinds of trips and tells of only a few bad experiences among many good

In one of his stories, he wrote he needed to have some of his clothes ironed. Instead of paying someone to do it for him, he simply walked up to a stranger's house and presented his problem to the lady who answered the door.

She promptly took him in, ironed his/clothes and sent him off with some bread and cheese.

White possesses a personality that is essential in order to make this kind of trip possible. He asks for a lot of handouts from people. It is truly an adventure for the fearless.

We are paying cash for your good used books in all mystery, science fiction, hobbies, cookbooks, children, and many others (no text books please).

THE DUSTY BOOKSHELF

Aggieville 539-2839

VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

Hot cocoa, lamps warm ARH players

Stepfianle Schmutz staff reporter

The sand, the sun lamps and the 32-degree weather set the stage for the first Arctic Ball sponsored by Kansas State University Association of Resident Halls Saturday night.

"We thought this was something dif-ferent," Jason Oblander, junior in history and political science and the service, learning and environmental coordinator, said. 'It was something that could get people's attention and increase participation." Fifteen teams participated in Saturday's single-elimination tournament. Team sizes of six or less filled the grassy area located across from Moore Hall. "It has all the essentials of sand volleyball, except we have hot chocolate and frozen marshmallows," Jammie Gardner, freshman in speech pathology, said.

"It's such a good idea that the weather doesn't even matter."

Despite the cold, spirits were high. Keeping warm was one of the bigger challenges at the tournament. Jean Riez, graduate student in economics, was playing to keep warm. "We started out with a team of six, but two of our players got sick," Riez said. "That's OK. We'll win the tournament with four." One participant was happy with the turnout for the evening, but something was missing.

"I wish we had more snow," Luke Trotta, freshman in civil engineering, said. "It is cold, but we're having a great time." No entry fee was required for partici-

A $50 donation from the Union Bookstore will be passed along to the Konza Prairie to help with research and devel-

With participation as high as it was, the KSUARH would like to make this an an-

"Everything went better than expected," Oblander said.

"We'd like to make this something we do in the future. Seeing people have that much fun made me think that this is something we could keep doing."

First place went to the team from Hay-

The winning prize was Silly Putty.

It has all the essentials of sand volleyball, except we have hot chocolate and frozen marshmallows.

> JAMMIE GARDNER FRESHMAN IN SPEECH PATHOLOGY

Randolph Motel

N. Tuttle Creek Blvd. Randolph Kitchenettes • Clean • Quie Cold Beer
 Soda Snacks

Student & Military Discounts Drive a Little Save a Lot

FREE "We Care About You" Evening Hours: Wed. 6:30 - 8 p.m.

categories.

*history, art, literature,

Send Flowers Steve's Floral

Call 539-6227

FLOWERS FOR ANY OCCASION 302 Poyntz

705 North | Ith - Aggieville

50 CENTS OFF!

ANY YOGURT OR COFFEE MENU ITEM WITH THIS COUPON.

HOURS: 9AM-10PM DAILY I I AM-I OPM SUNDAY

(EXPIRES 4-30-96)

A Member Of Professional

Claflin Custom Resumes

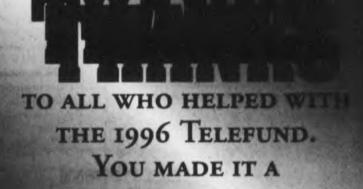

Claflin Books and Copies

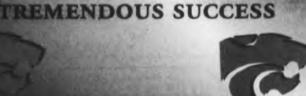

The right resume does make a difference.. Call us. Our resume writers can create an effective resume for you.

1814 Claflin Rd.

776-3771

Whats the most fun you've ever had with a watermelon?

Find out April 28 at the Lambda Chi Alpha and Kappa Alpha Theta Chariot Relay and Watermelon bust!

Its a New Twist on a Classic Philanthropy

CONGRATULATIONS

to the menbers of Mortar Board National Senior Honor Society 1996-1997

Keri Barrow Carrie Bateman Laura Bathurst Becki Blankenship Kelly Anne Burness Kim Davis Kayla Dick Gregory Doan Brook Donley Andrea Dowling Alison Downard Christina Frick Karla Gebhart Jennifer Graff

David Harrison Judith Hill Heather Hjetland Danielle Kafka Lynn Kennedy Karen Killinger Scott Knappenberger Megan Loeb April Martin Shannon Meis Jennifer Mueller Kristi Oleen Brad Parker

Scholars--chosen for leadership--united to serve

Theodore Poppitz Jennifer Pruitt Angle Riggs Jon Siefkes Emily Simpson Sarah Sporing Maria Stecklein Heather Stephany Deana Teske Megan Theel Ann Waylan Keith White Dawn Zitko

Tuesday, March 5 It's Your Night O) a Kansas City's ELITE Male Dance Show!

Kansas City's TINEST

Female Dance Show!

Born Wights

4 before 7 p.m. • 5 at door

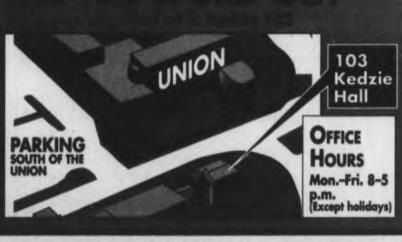

9 p.m. Showtime

ville - 539-0230

Classifieds

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

BULLETIN BOARD

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scubs dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, at Creative Travel, 539-0531, class-es now forming.

LONG DISTANCE

ADVANCED FLIGHT TRAINING. 6000-hour flight instructor special-izing in multi-engine and other advanced rat-ings. Very competitive

rates. Hugh Irvin, 539-3128.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 778-6735 after 5:30p.m.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed from for three

FOUND: Black winter coat with white lining. Found in Anderson Hall February 23, Room 211. Contact Mary or Bran-da to claim.

FOUND: MEN'S watch at KSU-KU game. Section 19. Call 776-3468 to ID.

FOUND a cet recently. I love the cat but if you've lost one in the last three weeks. Cell 587-8372.

Parties-n-More

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7567, 539-7561. ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental. 537-1825.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 587-2440.

A VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apart-ments. Close to cam-pus. Call Moore Man-

Leasing now thru August Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts.

> Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

College Heights Apts.

Cambridge Square Apts.

new. Best offer. 539-4959 ask for Dallas.

WANTED: BIG 8 Tourna

ment tickets. (800)387-6944.

Tickets to Buy/Sell

PORTATION

Automobiles

1984 HONDA CRX five-speed, 91K, AM/FM, cassette, air conditioning, 1984 VOLVO 240 for sale,

1987 MONTE Carlo SS

1987 TOYOTA Tercel, two-

1988 FORD Festiva 83K

1990 LINCOLN Continental

FOUR-WHEEL-DRIVE JEEP

WANTED: 1984 through 1987 Chevrolet Caprice. High mileage ok. Even-ings 776–3624.

message.

$1050 or best offer 537-2144.

runs great $1200, nego-tiable. Please call 776-9381.

below average miles. 539-8307.

door, air conditioning, automatic, sunroof, very reliable, great car $3400. 539-5773, leave four-speed, runs good, reliable, one owner, $2500. 537-1047 after 6.

Town Car. Loaded. Ask-ing $7500 or best offer. High mileages NADA 8,800- 12,000. 238-1259 or 776-2329.

Cherokee 1985, five-speed, $2850 or best offer, must sell call 539-5432.

Collegian Classifieds

agement. One-bed-room $320, two-bed-room with fireplace $510, two-bedroom with one and one-half bath $510, two-bed-room $400. Summer subleases available, no pets. Water, trash paid. June and August lease available. Call 537-7542 9a.m.- 6p.m. 537-4567 after 7p.m.

AUGUST LEASE: Next to campus—Eastside un-furnished two-bed-room with fireplace and laundry. Westside fur-nished one/ two-bedroom. Both locations have balcony, central air/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen, and off-street parking. 539–2702 evenings.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourfor now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-

FOR AUGUST next to KSU Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichols Hall. Deluxe two-bed-room apartment. $490-$500. Also one-bedgust $320. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. pets. 537-8389.

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Claffin next to campus $325 plus de-posit plus electric. Au-gust year lease. No pets, 537-1180.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease $450.539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apartment 1200 Fremont. Centra air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537–0428

For Rent-Unfurnished

AVAILABLE AUGUST1, nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to no pets.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one two, three and four Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

apartment, new paint, cats allowed. Water and trash paid. Laundry facilities. Westside lo-cation, 701 Allison. Street, $420, 537-6216.

CLEAN, TWO-BEDROOM

COTTAGE, ONE-BED-ROOM, near City Park, available immediately, 539-7277.

CRESTWOOD bath, personal washer dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480.

FOR SUMMER and fall, two beautiful apart ments at North Park Apartments. 1200 Fre-mont. Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537-0428.

> ROYAL TOWERS Apartments 700 N. Manhattan Now Leasing or June & August 4 bedroom/2 bath $750 mo./3 people 860 mo./4 people EARLY SIGNING BONUS $400 credit toward laundry Refrigerator w/icemaker, range, microwave &

Model Showings: M-F 5-5:30 p.m. at on-site office or M-F by appt. 776-3804

LARGE THREE-BEDROOM with roomy closets in a nine-plex. Living room, dining area, fully dining area, fully equipped kitchen, low utilities, $210 each. Available June 1 and August 1, 537-7087.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Avail-able immediately. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776–3804.

LEASING FOR Fall. Twobedroom, two bath du-plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, garbage disposal, laundry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744.

LEASING FOR Summer and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, gar-bage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744.

NICE, QUIET, one and twobedroom apartments. 909 Moro. Gas, water, trash paid. Off-street parking. No pets and no smoking. $300 and $400. Available June 1. 527, 2018.

ONE, TWO, three, four-bed-lease no pets. Water and trash paid. Call TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-

BRITTNAY RIDGE

Town Homes

For June & Augus

"Very Nice" 1500 sq. ft., 4 bedroom, 2% bath

Refrigerator, range, nicrowave, dishwasher Full-size washer/dryer

EARLY BIRD

SPECIAL

signed lease. 3 people/$750 mo. 4 people/$860 mo.

Model Showings:

Wed. 3-5, Thurs. 6-8,

Sat. 11-Noon

2529 Candlecrest Circle

776-3804

CHASE

MANHATTAN

APARTMENTS

Corner of College and

Claflin, Manhattan

1 to 4 Bedroom

Deck/Patios for

On-Site Gym, Pool,

Apartments

and Laundry

Covered Parking

2 BR - $550 & $570

3 BR - $720 & $735

4 BR - $860 & $880

Now Accepting

For more information,

Monday-Friday,

9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Saturday

Noon to 3 p.m.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE immediately, near Aggieville, 1124 Fremont, $395. Water, study available now. 1212 Thurston. $400.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.

Near KSU campus. Water, trash paid. Call 776-3804.

apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-two-bedroom at Chase Manhattan Apart-ments, great view, available August 1, call now 565-0615.

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom bridge #8, 539-2951.

POOLSIDE, THIRD level,

PRELEASING: TWO-BED-ROOM, one block from campus. Available June 1. Water and trash paid. $495/ month. 539-1897.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT $490/ month. Available now- July. Call 539-9524.

WO-BEDROOM APART-MENTS at Plaza West Apartments available now. Large, clean apart-ment $400 lower level or $420 middle level Call 539-2649.

bedroom apartment near campus; all ap-pliances; laundry, gym, pool on-site; $570/ month; call day

•2 bedrooms

1/2 block from campus

Furnished and unfurnished Showings every day

Make Anderson Place Your

Home Away From Home!

Now leasing for 1996-97

Monday through Friday

2-4 p.m.

1852 Anderson Place #16

776-1222

AVAILABLE NOW: Two

776-3663; (316)722-4469.

WITH

ONE-BEDROOM

trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

each unit

ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475, now through May 31. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804. 539-1975. ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now, two blocks from campus. Water and trash paid $355 or $375 with pet, 565-0759.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now through May 31. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804. TWO-BEDROOM NEAR

KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221. VERY NEAR university one bedroom apartment. Monthly lease. 537-1550 or 537-9188. WALK ACROSS to Aggieville and campus Spacious one and two bedroom apartments available now and August. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

For Rent-Houses

AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with wash er, dryer, central air, some with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY. Four-bed-room, close to campus. 776–1340.

THREE- FOUR and fivebedroom houses, ranch style, appliances, west of University. June-June occupancy. $690-$800- $900 monthly. 537-1269.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drinker. No pets please 539-1554.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX $325/ month. Water paid. Last month free with twelve month lease. (913)379-5450.

For Sale-Houses

GOVERNMENT FORE-Reservations for August CLOSED homes for pennies on $1. De-linquent Tax, Repo's, 1996 - July 1997 Leases REO's. Your area. Toll Free .1-800-898-9778 ext. H-1915 for current call: (913) 776-3663

> Roommate Wanted

MALE ROOMMATE deeded immediately how through July 30 $213/ month plus one-half utilities. Call Kendra 537-9169, leave FEMALE

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted immediately. $162.50 a month plus $385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804. one-third utilities. Townhouse. Own room and bath. Call Sarah 537-0575.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one of two-bed-room apartment. $245/ month. Now- July. Call 539-9524.

IMMEDIATELY ROOM available for female roommate. Low rent, bills split three ways. Close to campus. 776-8284.

ROOMMATE NEEDED immediately for apart-ment, close to campus. Prefer non-smoker. Call 776-1340.

ROOMMATE WANTED, 17th Street, three-bedroom spartment, own room $125 utilities included. Now available 539-2909, leave mes-

Sublease

MANHATTAN summer sublease. For more information call

MAY 20- July 31, Share two-bedroom apart-ment $180/ month, three blocks east cam-pus, 776–9559.

NEGOTIABLE PRICE for two-bedroom apart-ment for sublease dur-ing summer. Close to campus. 776-3706, leave message.

SUBLEASE ONE or twobedroom of our three-bedroom house. June-July. Female, nonsmoker, no pets. Rent $197.50 plus utilities, share. Call 776–8004.

SUMMER SUBLEASE: Non smoking female want-ed to sublease one room in three-bed-room, two bath apartment. Across from cam pus plus walking dis-tance to Aggieville. Laundry facilities and off-street parking pro-vided. Rent $265/ month, negotiable. Contact Misty at 587-0917.

Resume/ Typing

Claflin Custom RESUMES

RW

corner of Claffin and Denisor 776-3771 PERFECT and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776-3290.

TYPING DONE in my home. Reasonable rates. Call Diana, 587-0411.

TYPIST. Experienced typist will type anything on my home computer: reports, proposals, thesis preadsheets. Have IBMPC with Windows Lotus, MSPublisher Works, Call for more in formation and quote. Sonya, 776-1132.

Other Services

GUITAR LESSONS: Learn to play guitar. Indi-vidual and group rates available. Rob 539-6623.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. (913)841-5716.

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he'she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any vised to approach any such employment op-portunity with reason-able caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Travel (Car-ibbean, Europe, Ha-

DESERVE

* Great location

Private bedroom

* Laundry facilities

* 2 pools

* Large bath & closets

* Dishwasher/disposal

776-1118

OPEN HOUSES DAILY

THE BEST * 2 bedroom apartments

YOU

waiil) Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. Gde. (919)929-4398 ext.

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information cal (301)306-1207.

$22.50/ HOUR part-time/ full-time. Easy work. Get paid for shopping and your opinion on new consumer products. No experience required. (800) 638-6845, ext. 2009

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-1915 for details.

potential. Home typests PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. Toll 1915 for listings.

No experience neces-sary. (206)971-3510 ext-A57683.

APARTMENT MAIN TENANCE some car pentry experience re-quired. Full-time in summer part-time in school year. 537-1746.

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time positions. No experi ence necessary,. For in formation (206)971-3550 ext.C57684.

DAYTIME NANNY: Start March and work through summer. Must be available 8a.m.-5p.m. Tues, and Thurs., as well as Spring Break. Must be good with inf-ants and have at least three references. Call between 9- 6. 539-6523 to set up interview.

FAST FUNDRAISER Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated individuals. Fast, easytion (800)862-1982 ext.33.

GOVERNMENT FORECLOSED homes or pennies on the dollar Delinquent Tax, Repo's

Delinquent Tax, nepos, REO's. Your area. Toll free (1) 800-898-9778 Ext. H-1915 for current listings. JOBS IN the Great Outdoors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife

Preserves are now hir-ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-KAPLAN TEST-PREP seeks campus rep. Earn extra money and a free course by distributing flyers, promoting KA-PLAN programs, and taking in enrollments. Send letter of interest to KAPLAN, 3848 W.

Needed 38 people to lose weight. All natural Dr. recommended. 587–1037.

75th St., Shawnee Mis-sion, KS 66208.

SS CONTROL AS-SOCIATE. Challenging position for profes-sional with previous ex-perience detecting internal and external theft in a retail envi-ronment. Send resume: c/o Collegian Box 1,

MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or assist. Openings in: Base-ball, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-

BA, English Horseback

Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top sala-ries, excellent facilities, room/ baord/ laundry, travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

needs WSI certified in-structors to teach Red Cross swimming lessons. Morning, late afternoon, and evening. Call 539-8763.

Cross WSI certification classes will be offered by UFM. March 15- 23

(evenings and weekends). Call to register

Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students

as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-

also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and

Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure

Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station,

Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities

(Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking). Top salaries, room, board and travel, June

18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-be willing to work hours indicated and work every other week-end. Must be enrolled in at least one resident hour during the semes-ter and willing to work

STUDENT COMPUTER Op-erator (2nd shift) 10- 30 hours per week. Must 392-3752

PREMIERE BROTHERS

NEED A summer job? UFM

NEED SUMMER job? Red

$40,000/ YEAR income

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female.

ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT. Fisher ies, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month! Air farel Room/ Board Free video with pro gram! Call SE gram! Call SE (919)932-1489, ext. A87

ATTENTION ALL Students! Over $6 Billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All Students are eligible. Let us help. For more information call: (800)263-6495 ext.F57684.

CUSTOM HARVEST crew members needed. Com-bine, Truck and Silage Truck operators for summer and fall har-vest. Excellent wages including room and board, monthly salary and bonus. Call even ings (913)877–2081, ask for Randy. Clydesdale Harvesting and Truck-during student recesses and summer months. applications will be ac-cepted until 5p.m. Fri-day, March 8, 1996 in Room #2 Farrell Library. STUDENT'S DREAM. Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural pro-ducts. Doctor recommended. Increases en mental alertness ergy, mer 539-7336.

SUMMER EMPLOY-MENT: Experienced combine or truck driv ers needed for custom wheat harvesting op-eration. Lancaster Harvesting, Dodge City Kansas. (316)227-8821.

wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in
May Call Mike Parker, Waterville, KS. Phone (800)653-8235.

STREET LABORER POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill SIX Summer Sea-sonal full-time Street Seasonal Laborer positions. Persons are re-sponsible for various street maintenance instreet maintenance in-cluding asphalt and concrete. Must be will-ing to work in dis-agreeable weather. Driver's license is re-quired. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks (May 15th-August 15th). Salery: August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until posi-tions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Of-fice, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS. EOE-M/F/D

TRAFFIC LABORER
POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill FOUR Summer Seasonal full-time Traf-fic Seasonal Laborer positions. Persons are responsible for painting of traffic lines, cross walks, etc., on city streets and curbs. Use hand tools including brooms, brushes and roller brushes, and need to carry five gal-lon paint buckets. Must be willing to work in disagreeable weather. Driver's license is re-quired. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks May 15th-for 14 weeks May 15th, August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until posi-tions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Of-fice, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS EOE-M/F/D. THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you Antiques to: Advertising Director, fax (316)267-8570. TROPICAL RESORTS HIP ing. Entry-level and ca-reer positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, housekeepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness counselors, and more. Ex cellent benefits + bo nuses. Call Resort Employment Services 1-206-971-3600 ext.

are proud of your ac complishments and want to join an excel-lent team of professionals fax your resume

R57681. WANTED PART-TIME help now and or full-time for summer with crops and machine work Need experience with planters and tillage equipment, (913)457-3440.

WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for whea harvest. Experience ar ound farm machinery or trucks preferred. Good wages and bonus od wages and b plan available (913)776-1321 ask for Ryan or (913)582-5359

Volunteers Needed

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED to work as small group leaders for second and third graders at an after school program every other Tuesday, 2:30-5:15p.m. Mar. 19- May 7. Contact at Riley County Extension Of-fice, 537-6350.

OPEN MARKET

Items for Sale

CDS BOUGHT/ sold, Used musically perfect with case/ insert. Send self-list/ buy-list: CBaldwin, 140 Snowden, Prince-ton NJ 08540.

FOR SALE by Sealed Bid: Nine- Herman Miller Dining Tables; 40- Her-man Miller Chairs; one-Carver Press with 12 ton Jack; one weigh scale with Mahogany Case; one Westing-house Electric range (pink- in good condi-tion); two Fisher Scien-tific Analytical Balanctilic Analytical Balances; Wheaton Portable Autostill; Beckman 110A Liquid Chroma-tograph Solvent Deliv-ery System with Beck-man 210 Injector valve; one-Hitachi UV/VIS Decone-Htachi OV/VIS Deciretory; one-Gilford Spectrophotometer; Zenith Z181 Laptop Computer; one-HP Color Plotter, Bids will close at 5p.m. April 1, 1996. For information, bid sheets and/ or to view sheets and/ or to view sale items, contact Dave Trumble, Justin Hall 146B, KSU (532-5508) or (e-mail TRUMBLE@HU-

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS-New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT work-wear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9- 5.

MEC.KSU.EDU).

St. Mary's Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734.

HOMEGYM POWERMAX 70072 three workout stations. $120 cash for

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og den, KS.

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Man-hattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

386 SX 4 RAM 80 HD Windows 3.1 DOS 6.22 14-inch VGA, just tuned. Great beginner's computer. $400 or best offer. 776–2329.

486 DX 4 133 8MB RAM

COMPUTER FOR sale:
486DX2/66 16 M RAM
900 plus M hard drive CD SVGA monitor 14.4
bps ext. modem, Viper video, 25-pin LQ printer, Win 95 MS Office for Win 95, 537-9657 leave message. leave message.

DESKTOP COMPUTER 486SX25 4 MB RAM fax modem, printer windows 3.1, $550 Notebook 486SLC250, 4 MB RAM.

MACINTOSH CENTRIS 610, 68040-CPU, 125 mhz, 8MB RAM, 340MB hard drive, 14-inch Sony color monitor, keyboard, mouse, soft-wares, $1000, 537-8990.

Motorcycles

530

Pets and 1993 YAMAHA FZR 6000 Supplies miles. Great condition $3900. 537-7383. Leave FOR SALE Albino Burmese Python, Borneo Blood

Tree 537-6871. TWO FREE Parakeets with

Python, pair of Amazo Tree Boas. Ca

Sporting Equipment

450

BEST PRICES on Clarion car audio. Shippable on credit card orders. Installation available by appointment. Sound in-(913)336-3880.

LANGE TII ski boots for sale. Size 9 1/2, like

Spring KEYSTONE CONDO for

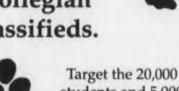

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

zi, walk to slopes. (913)897-3421.

Track down your market with the Collegian classifieds.

students and 5,000 faculty/staff with a classified ad. It's only $8.85 for 20 words.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 103 Kedzie (east of Union) 532-6555

Classified Directory

HOUSING/ REAL

SERVICE DIRECT-

EMPLOY-MENT/ CAREERS

MARKET

TATION

sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large preceded by a number designation.

CLASSIFIED AD

are confused by abbreviations.

Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in heir price range.

Always put what item or service you are images, and sub-categories are

TIPS FOR WRITING A CATEGORIES To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have dvertising first. This helps potential buyers nd what they are looking for been arranged by category and Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers

* Onsite office NOW LEASING For June & August Call

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

grounds, Dole suggested to about 500 people that victories by him on Tuesday would further winnow the field of Republican candidates - a gentle prod aimed at both former Tennessee Gov. Lamar Alexander and Sen. Richard Lugar of Indiana.

While saying he wouldn't suggest when anyone should leave the race, Dole added pointedly, "If we do well on Tuesday, it will encourage at least some in the race it's time to go." >

Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Vermont hold pri-

CONTINUED FROM PAGE

attacking the hill.

life," McClary said.

in the neck and shoulder, but he continued to lead his men when enemy soldiers with explosive charges wrapped around their waists began

Later, an explosion from one of the soldiers blew McClary out of his foxhole. He lost his left arm in this explosion. While he was crawling back to the safety of the platoon, another grenade explosion took out his left eye.

"I didn't want to live so bad in my maries Tuesday, followed by the big prize of New York Thursday.

As he has done in recent campaign appearances, Dole continued to present himself as a unifying force with-

"I don't want to divide the Republican Party. I want to multiply the Republican Party," he said.

The party should make certain it makes the right choice in selecting a nominee who can challenge President Clinton, he said.

Dole also attended a Veterans for Dole rally in Towson, near Baltimore, later Sunday and on Monday was to campaign in Georgia and New York state. In Towson, he again referred to others dropping out.

"There are still about four candidates around," he said."I think if we do very well on Tuesday, there will only be one around. And I hope it's me. You have to be optimistic in this business."

Rep. Constance Morella, R-Md., said Dole exemplified leadership, integrity, character, experience and a vision for America.

"Leaders do not divide. Leaders unify," she said, in a clear reference to Buchanan. "Leaders do not build walls to keep people out. They take down walls to include everybody."

Dole was clearly relishing his ability to once again claim the front-runner's mantle after a rocky start in Iowa and humbling defeats in New Hampshire and Arizona.

"We've got a great crowd," he said at the fairgrounds rally. "I thought I had come to the wrong place."

And he called attention to a sign that said," Bob Dole Comeback Adult."

"How about that," Dole said. In the ABC interview, Dole said he would bring the party together.

"I think Pat does have a tendency to divide the party. I think he does make statements that offend people, and I try to avoid that," Dole said.

But when asked if he would support Buchanan if the commentator winds up the GOP nominee, Dole "I've always supported the Republican nominee, and I will continue to do that."

"You got to see yourself in the dream to reach it," McClary said.

some acronyms for the cadets to remember: PIG - be professional, have integrity and have guts to accomplish your dreams; FIDO - forget it

Whole Tuna

Sandwich and a side

$1 OFF

expires 3-18-96

1219 Bluemont · Aggieville

SHUTTLE

SERVICE

for temporarily or permanently disabled

students on campus,

building to building.

Inquire by calling

532-6441

Monday Night

25¢ Karaoke

Pool table . Drink Specials

. Dart Machine .

Available for Parties

539-2788

Visit the Dilly's

Deli

and drive on.

McClary ended the speech with

SECOND SET OF P

Receive a second set of 3" or 4" prints FREE with any exposure roll of 35mm, disc, 110 or 126 color print film left for developing and printing at our everyday prices! C-41 process only. (KODAK FINISHING SERVICES NOT INCLUDED)

DAILY: 9 A.M. TO 9 P.M.

SUNDAY: 11 A.M. TO 6 P.M.

Kodak

Colorwatch

system

3007 Anderson at Seth Childs Plaza West

NYC Opera National Company La traviata

Tuesday, March 5, 7 p.m.

Giuseppe Verdi's musical staging of Camille, the story of a courtesan who sacrifices everthing for love, was considered scandalous when it premiered in 1853. Today it's one of the world's best loved operas. The National Company's production features fine voices, an orchestra, and English supertitles.

Corporate support provided by Commerce Bank

Gen. Pub $32, $28, $24 Sr. Cit $30, $26, $ 22 Stu/Child $16, $14, $12

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays. VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the McCain events are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

Kansas State Bank in cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, provides a free bus service to series events for patrons 55 years or older. For details, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 to 5 p.m.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts. a federal agency.

All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

Chilton and Pigott, who were both working on the KPL Fiber Optics Operation, had been replacing neutral lines with fiber-optic cable when their helicopter crashed at the east entrance of Kansas Farm Bureau and Affiliated Services, 2627 Farm Bureau Plaza.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"It just fell like a rock," said Sgt. Joe Stech, Riley County Police Department.

Sunday had been the last day the crew was scheduled to work on the electrical lines that run parallel to the west side of Seth Childs Road north of Kimball Avenue.

During the process, the helicopter hovers alongside the lines while a lineman works with the lines from a secured platform affixed to the helicopter's landing apparatus.

While the helicopter is hovering, a section - roughly 100 feet around the helicopter - is blocked off to

"They had been on the pole for about five minutes when (the helicopter) just fell out of the sky," said Stech, who was directing traffic away from the scene before the accident.

At the time the helicopter lost power, Pigott was on the platform, said Bill Roland, KPL Gas Service electrical distribution superintendent. While Pigott was working from the platform, he was secured by a safety

The McDonald Douglas 500D helicopter, owned by Haverfield Corp. of Miami, sustained an undetermined amount of damage.

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

•I ree pregnancy testing Totally confidential service ·Same day results *Call for appointment

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

United States and a strong will power to live kept him alive on the hill.

The thought of his wife back in the

Just as helicopters airlifted McClary and his platoon off the hill, more than 150 enemy soldiers charged the hill. Five minutes later, no one would have left the hill alive, McClary

He received the Silver Star, Bronze Star and three Purple Hearts. He underwent 34 operations and spent 2-1/2 years in the hospital.

McClary said he retired from the Marines and asked God into his life. He decided to share this word with others and show them how to keep their heads up during bad times.

"Success is finding God's plan early in your life," McClary said. "Today is a gift from God — that's why we call it the present."

McClary said people must have good control of their attitudes to succeed in life. "Nobody controls your attitude but you," McClary said.

He said the biggest problem with college students today is that they have a poor self-image. He said to be enthusiastic every day and about everything in life.

Everyone has to have a dream to shoot for, McClary said.

He said the only difference between a goal and a dream is that the dream has dates put on it.

WANTED

Prior Service Veterans

Hold the Same Rank that you had when you got out up to E-6

· No Basic Training

· Continue Working Toward your Military Retirement

Continue Serving America - Kansas - Your Local Community Earn as much as $218.88 a weekend!!

CALL TODAY: 913-537-4108 Kansas Army National Guard

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE NEW EXECUTIVE MEMBERS OF ENGINEERING AMBASSADORS.

Anjie Burkhart Erick Hartzell Mark Montgomery Clayton Seese Kurt Chipperfield Brian Plattner Melissa Miller Rachel Niles Doug Van Goethem Todd Armatys

Matt Laubhan Kristi Meverden Derek Roth Andy Matlock Kye Hittle Brad Marks Brent Perkins Fredrick Sheffield Kevin Stamm

Apartment Search 105:

"How to Find the Perfect Apartment!"

Presented by: CONSUMER AND TENANT AFFAIRS

Special guest: Pat Ball, City of Manhattan Code Inspector

Gain valuable information for renting an apartment or house:

Conducting a thorough search

Understanding a rental agreemen Utilities (gas, electricity, and cable)

· Tenant's rights and responsibilities · Landlord's rights and responsibilities

STUDENT UNION, BIG 8 ROOM Tuesday, March 5, 1996 · 2:30 p.m.

For more information, please contact Scott Smith, Director Consumer and Tenant Affairs

Office of Student Activities and Services, Ground Floor of the Student Union 532-6541

FREE DELIVERY! INTERNET #

HTTP//:MMEDIA.COM/CLIENTS/PYRAMID

Sunday:

ALL YOU CAN EAT!!! $399 + tax

Monday Mania: Buy 1 Get 1 Free (equal or Lesser Value)

1-2-3 DAY

Tuesday:

Thursday:

LG. 2 Topping 64 oz. Drink - $799 + tax

Wednesday: Buy Small and 2nd get for $1, Buy a Medium get 2nd $2, Buy Large get 2nd $3

2 Med. 2 Toppings

2 - 32 oz. Drinks $1099 + tax

515 Richards Dr. • Manhattan lower level of Memory Lanes M'Cullough Development Apartment Mall

> Your one stop apartment shopping! Apartments Near Campus . Now Leasing for June and August

> > Model Showings start week of March 4

STUDIO	1000000	TWO BEDROOM	9 14 3 1
Wareham Apartments 418 Poyntz By appointment only	$300-375	1417-1419 Leavenworth Mon. 6-8 p.m. (1417 #1) Tues. Noon-2 p.m. Sat. 11 a.mNoon	$490-510
ONE BEDROOM 1803-1607 College Heights 925-927 Denison	$396-410	1026 Osage Tues 3-5 p.m. (1026 #11) Fri. 11:30 a.m1:30 p.m. Sat. 10:30 a.m11:30 a.m.	$510
Mon. & Tues. 3-5 p.m. (1803 #5) 1950-80 Hunting Mon. 6-8 p.m. (1960 #13)	$435-455	Aggleville Penthouse Apts. 617 N.12th By Appointment Only	$600-725
Tues. 9-5 p.m. 1005 Bluemont Thurs. 3-5 p.m. (1005 #2)	$385	1001-1005 Bluemont Thurs 3-5 p.m. (1005 #2) Fn. 2-4 p.m.	$470-720
Fri. 2-4 p.m. Sun. 3-4 p.m. 1722 Laramie By appointment only	$375-390	Sun. 3-4 p.m. 1825-1829 College Heights Mon. 5-7 p.m. (1829 #6)	$800-780
1884-58 Claffin (1858 #3) Tues. 7-8 pm. Frt. 10 s.m. Noon	$385-410	Tues. 4-6 p.m. 1113 Bertrand Mon. 7:30-9:30 p.m. (1113 #6) Tues. 3-5 p.m.	$625
411-413-415 N. 17th Men. 11:30 a.m1:30 p.m. (415 #5) Tues. 10:30 a.m12:30 p.m.	$365-385	FOUR BEDROOM	$720
1023-1026 Sunset Tues & Thurs. 6-8 p.m. (1024 #4) Royal Towers - 1700 N. Manhattan	$345-395 $395	Mon. 6-8 p.m. (1611 #2) Wed. 4:30-6:30 p.m. Sun. 1-2 p.m.
By appointment only 1212 Thurston	$410-430	Royal Towers - 1700 N. Manhattan Mon. & Pri. 5-5:30 p.m. on-site office	$750-860
Tues. & Wed. 5-7 p.m. (1212 #11) Wareham Apertments - 418 Poyntz By appointment only	$350-475	Britinay Ridge Townhomes 2529 Candlecrest Circle Wed. 3-5 p.m. Thurs. 6-5 p.m. Sat. 11 a.m Noon	8750-860
	Managed I	by McCullough Development
McCullough		776-3804

Today: Chance for rain. See weather map, page 2.

OPINION • pag SPORTS . page 6

K-STATE LIFE • page 8

DIVERSIONS • page 9

Exp. Date 00/00

PO Box 3585

Topeka

Kansas State Historical Society

Section

March 5, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 107

CAMERAS INCREASE SAFETY Emergency phones and surveillance cameras installed a few years ago help prevent crime in lots B-2 and North B-2 north of Haymaker Hall.

• page 3

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS INC. PRIVILEGE FEE

Senate to vote on increase Increased costs

of newsprint prompt request for more funding

Chris Oakley

Student Senate will vote on the Student Publications Inc. privilege fee tonight. Student Publications Inc. publishes the Royal Purple, the Collegian and the Campus Phone book.

The money Student Publications Inc. receives from the privilege fee makes up 29 percent of its total income.

The Privilege Fee Committee voted 5-2 to recommend to Student Senate that it keep the fee at its current level of $275,748 per fiscal year Feb. 25.

Student Publications Inc. originally proposed an increase of $66,903 to combat rising costs. The board decided to reduce the proposal to $26,434 to combat the rising cost of newsprint at a meeting Feb. 29.

In a letter to members of the Privilege Fee Committee, Ben Clouse, Board of Student Publications Finance Committee Chair, stated that rising costs of newsprint have influenced the board's decision to ask for a fee increase.

The increase in the cost of newsprint has forced the Collegian to decrease its circulation from 17,000 to 11,500 copies per day within the last

Mike Marlett, editor in chief of the Collegian, said the increased price of newsprint is his main concern.

"Every other newspaper in the state and in the nation are able to pass along those expenses through three ways. They can cut the number of papers they're printing, they can pay less to their workers, or they can raise the price of subscription to their readers," he said. The Collegian has cut the press run in the last three years, and there have not been any raises in Collegian salaries in the last four years, Marlett

He said the Collegian's only alternative is to ask for an increase in sub-

"At the Collegian, the privilege fee replaces a subscription, and we have to have Senate's approval to raise that subscription," he said. Linda Puntney, assistant director of Student Publications Inc. and adviser of the Royal Purple yearbook, said the rising cost of newsprint is the main reason the privilege fee should be increased.

"You can't expect expenses, even one expense, to increase 65 percent and not experience some sort of increase in funding or cost," she said.

Mark Tomb, Privilege Fee Committee chairman, said the

• See COSTS Page 5

PRIVILEGE FEE COMMITTEE

Committee meets to discuss funding

Union Program Council and Student Publications Inc. officials met with the Student Senate Privilege Fee Committee Monday night to discuss the allocation of fees to each group.

Patrick Carney, UPC president, said the group has been able to dramatically increase the quality of programming as a result of receiving privilege fee funding.

The group asked for $69,992, which is less than the $70,705 it received last year when it began receiving privilege fee funds.

UPC works with campus groups like the Black Student Union and Hispanic American Leadership Organization, and it is responsible for Kaleidoscope and Feature films and public speakers.

"We have a wide variety of programming we represent," Carney

• See PRIVILEGE Page 5

FACILITIES PLANNING

Public Safety plans move to new space

QUICKread

The K-State Police and Parking Services will relocate to Edwards Hall this summer in order to make better use of space in the center of campus.

As part of a plan to keep the core of campus accessible to students, the K-State Department of Public Safety, including the K-State Police and Parking Services, will move to Edwards Hall this

"One of the aspects that makes K-State unique is the core of campus is such that students can walk to and from class," Helen Cooper, assistant director of facilities planning, said.

Although it is not a written policy, the plan is to move units or departments that don't have daily contact with large numbers of students and faculty to the perimeter of campus, Cooper said.

"It is simply a way of managing the space we have to best utilize it," she said.

For Parking Services, it will be the added space that will make the move a pleasant one, Dwain Archer, director of Parking Services, said. "We need some elbow room," Archer said. "This space is not conducive to large crowds.' There will also be more parking available for people who need to do business at the new location, Moving the campus police office from the center of campus will not reduce the effectiveness of the officers, Capt. Robert Mellgren, K-State Police,

"Most of our people are mobile anyway," Mellgren said. Complaints are generally taken at the scene or

• See MOVE Page 10

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Johnny King, supervisor of the College of Education's copy center, sits on the floor of Forum Hall in the K-State Union during the speech, given Monday afteroon by Charles Koch, chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Koch Industries. Koch spoke at K-State as part of the College of Business Admistration's Distinguished Lecturer Series.

Koch shares business philosophy

SUMMER SCHOOL

New programs provide easier class scheduling

Richea Lecklider

K-State has planned new summer school programs, which are known as 6-8-6+ and Quick Start, to offer students more opportunities on and off campus. "The course offering is very broad and covers everything from introductory classes to upper division classes," said Melinda Sinn, public information coordinator for the Division of Continuing Education. Under the new plan, summer school will be offered in four separate

The first of these sessions begins May 21, lasts six weeks and offers 14 courses. Both upper level and beginning classes are offered.

The traditional eight-week session will start in June and will last until the end of July. Following the traditional eight-week session, another six-week session will begin July 1 and end Aug.

The + in 6-8-6+ includes Division of Continuing education courses.

There will be two intersessions. The first one runs May 20-31, and the second runs Aug. 5-23. These intersessions offer graduate and undergraduate courses from most of the col-

An Expanded Summer Studies program will also be offered. There will be 14 classes to choose from, most of which will be at Manhattan Christian College.

Also distance learning classes will be offered as part of the Division of Continuing Education. These courses are offered by video, audio and computer conferencing, Sinn said.

K-State will also offer upper division and graduate courses on Telenet 2, she said.

Sinn said there are about 33 locations in Kansas where these courses are offered. Some include Wichita, Salina, Topeka, Kansas City and oth-

"The main purpose of the new program is to offer more opportunity to students. Traditionally, it's been eight weeks long. It's now expanded to six additional weeks of opportunities. It also gives students a good opportunity to take a class and also work," Sinn

The new summer school program will give students much more flexibil-

Elizabeth Unger, vice provost for academic services and technology and dean of continuing education, said the advantages of 6-8-6+ include accelerated degree progress, concentrated study and smaller class sizes - all in a relaxed atmosphere.

Quick Start runs the same time as the last six-week summer school session, beginning in July.

Quick Start is for incoming freshmen, Sinn said. She said this is the first time that a program of this type has been made available to incoming Ouick Start offers five entry-level courses and is designed to help incoming freshmen get started on their courses early.

Kara Rogers

tudents sat huddled in the aisles while others stood with their backpacks, waiting to hear the wisdom of Charles Koch, chairman and CEO of Koch Industries.

Koch

We find K-State graduates tend to have more of the values that are crucial in the success of business

CHARLES KOCH HAIRMAN AND CEO OF KOCH INDUSTRIES

Koch spoke in Forum Hall as part of the Distinguished Lecturer Series presented by the College of Business Administration.

Under Koch's leadership, Koch Industries has become the second-largest, privately owned company in the United States, increasing profits from $177 million in sales in 1966 to more than $25 bil-

Koch Industries employs more students from K-State than from any other universi-

"We are hoping to increase that number further. The reason has to do with values. We find K-State graduates tend to have more of the values that are crucial in the success to business today," Koch said.

These values are an integral part of the market-based management theory Koch advocates companies adopt.

In 1983, Koch began to implement the concepts of market-based management into the company. "This approach fosters a process of discovery and contributes to the well-being of society," Koch said. The best framework for doing this one is based on economic freedom, and Koch Industries' version of that framework is market-based management, Koch said.

The increase of information gives consumers more choices and the knowledge to make better choices, Koch said.

"This is causing a fundamental restructuring of economy. It is causing companies to change the way they do business and build more knowledge in their products and service," Koch said.

Companies that are not changing are being devastated, Koch said.

"A fundamental change in thinking: It requires identifying needs customers have not conceived of yet. It requires restructuring the whole way value is created. It requires business become leaders of change and generators of knowledge,"

Koch'said. To achieve this, a complete integrated framework that is philosophically sound and internally consistent must be implemented, Koch said.

"Market-based management is based on theoretical, historical, practical lessons on what creates prosperity and social progress," Koch said. The first step in implementing market-based management is getting employees to understand and internalize the framework, Koch said. This is not easy because it requires a change in old habits and consistently redefining employees' roles in the company, Koch said.

The next step is to change our vision of the business, organization and our job. We found this is important because a vision controls the way we think, therefore the way we act," Koch said.

Companies must constantly strive to create new vision based on changes in technologies in our market, Koch said.

"Changes are not without cost. It produces reactionaries that fight to block progress," Koch said. "We have found it possible to minimize resistance by establishing a culture based on core values."

Values such as humility, integrity, tolerance, responsibility, desire to contribute and long-term perspective are crucial, "A culture based on these core values creates trust, experimentation and knowledge. It makes people want to contribute,"

Koch said. Establishing this type of culture is extremely difficult because it must be reenforced in everything a company does, including hiring, training, monitoring, promoting and compensating, Koch said "But most of it requires strong examples. It requires leaders practice what they

"In fact, living the vision and values that we have been talking about is what leadership is all about, both in business and society," Koch said.

Another key dimension in the marketbased management is an incentive system that rewards accomplishment, Koch said. To be effective these incentives need to be based on more than contribution to current profits," Koch said. "It needs to include contribution to long-term success and the culture," he

As employees contribute, they acquire decision rights, meaning the authority to allocate the firm's resources, Koch said. "We are constantly moving control of resources to those that successfully satisfy people's needs from those who don't,"

• See KOCH Page 10

In the news

SECTIONS OF FARRELL LIBRARY TO BE REOPENED THIS MONTH

Students will get their first peek at the new Farrell Library this

About 7,000 square feet of library will be reopened in March, Pam Sexton, KSU Libraries external publicity coordinator, said.

The library will be moving several departments and collections into the 1927 building during the next six weeks, and departments will open for public use when the departments finish moving, she said.

The move will allow several departments and collections to move to their permanent locations and others will move into the 1927 section temporarily.

Administrative Services and other departments moving to temporary locations are doing so to make way for continued construction.

Karan Cole, associate dean of KSU Libraries said finding the departments after they move will not be easy, but they will do everything they can to help students get

Maps will be posted, and information will be available at the library entrance, each of the service points and on the library World Wide Web pages, she said.

Government Documents, the Music Book collection and the Art Book collection are moving now. Administrative Services is scheduled to begin moving Friday, Sexton said.

The Government Documents

office, Library Network Services, Mail Services and the sorting department are scheduled to move within the next two weeks.

The other departments and collections are scheduled to begin moving within the next two to four

The departments and collections moving to their permanent locations are as follows:

■ the Art Book collection

the Music Book collection the Copy Center

■ InterLibrary Loan ■ Government Documents the Microforms/Periodicals

► STUDENT REMAINS STABLE

The student injured in a crash Sunday on Kansas Highway 177 remains in serious but stable condition at Stormont-Vail Regional Medical Center in Topeka, authorities said.

Michele Peterson, junior in interior design. sustained a broken shoulder blade when her car struck three driveway culverts early Sunday mom-

Lt. Crosby of the Riley County Police Department said the accident is still being investigated.

electrical lines from the platform of a helicopter

when it crashed at the Farm Bureau and Affiliated Services.

cable when he was Optics Operation.

working on KPL Fiber

the helicopter to fall to the ground while Pigott able to land the heli- .

copter on the right side.

Pigott was on the plat-

"The pilot did an outstanding job maneuver it down to the ground as best as he could,"

Kohlmeier said.

form on the left side.

was working. Chilton was east entrance of Kansas

He was replacing neu-

Engine failure caused

tral lines with fiber-optic

Sara Edwards

► FAA INVESTIGATES CRASH

The Federal Aviation Administration was still inspecting a helicopter that crashed northwest of Manhattan Sunday. The crash injured two

Both men were transported to the Saint Mary Hospital in Manhattan. Lineman Jeff Pigott, 32, of Bradenton, Fla., sustained a fractured pelvis and was transported to the University of Kansas Medical Center

Pigott was reported in stable condition Monday. Stacy Kohlmeier, KPL general manager, said the pilot, Steve Chilton, 41, of Woodlawn, Tenn., was treated for back pains and released

Pigott was working on went off the road and Senate agenda

Reading Room

The Student Senate meeting is at 7 tonight in the Union Big 8 Room.

Roll call Approval of Feb. 29 minutes Open Period Announcements Committee reports

Call to order

Student Director's reports

	The second secon
311 95/96/80	Black Student Union fall '96 allocation
Bill 95/96/89	International Coordinating Council fall '96 allocation
311 95/96/90	International Club fall '96 allocation
311 95/96/91	India Student Association fall '96 allocation
311 95/96/92	KSU Environmental Professionals fall '96 allocation
	0

Bill 95/96/93 Students for Peace and Justice fall '96 allocation Students for Sustainability fall '96 allocation Bill 95/96/94 Thai Student Association fall '96 allocation Vietnamese Student Association fall '96 allocation Bill 95/96/96 Zairian Students of America fall '96 allocation Bill 95/96/97

Bill 95/96/98 African Student Union fall '96 allocation Bill 95/96/103 UFM FY '97 allocation Bill 95/96/104 FONE Crisis Center FY '97 allocation Bill 95/96/105 Women's Center FY '97 allocation Bill 95/96/106 Students for Disability Awareness FY '97 allocation Bill 95/96/107 College Council FY '97 allocation

Held in committee

Bill 95/96/49 Senator education requirements - Senate operations

Bill 95/96/99 Student Publications Inc. Fee Continuance

Announcement of constitution and/or by-law revisions Adjournment

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County police departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list wheellocks, calls for escorts or minor traffic violations.

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

SUNDAY, MARCH 3

At 1:40 a.m., an ambulance responded for medical assistance Christina L. Smith at the Delta Tau Delta house for an asthma attack.

At 2:40 p.m., a notice to app was issued for possession of a fictitious identification when a vehicle was stopped by an officer.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

SUNDAY, MARCH 3

At 4:14 p.m., an ambulance sponded to an attempted suicide. At 6:26 p.m., burglary and criminal Platt St., reported unlawful use of a damage to a vehicle was reported at 69 Blue Valley Trailer Court. The loss financial card. The loss was $338.

MONDAY, MARCH 4

Monday, March 4 At 12:39 a.m., a report was filed of

At 2:06 a.m., a report was filed for furnishing intoxicants to a minor at

At 9:40 p.m., Matt Thomas, 1800

MISS YOUR PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The world is getting smaller. Make yours larger. Volunteer to help an international student practice spoken English in the Conversational English Program Contact Jim Endrizzi at the mational Student Center, 532-

Adult Student Services will sponsor a brown-bag lunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. today in Union

Consumer and Tenant Affairs will meet at 2:30 p.m. today in the Union Big 8 Room. The program topic will be "Apartment Search 105: How to Find the Perfect

BULLETINS

M Silver Key will meet at 9 tonight in the Union Little Theater. ■ Hispanic American Leadership Organization was tonight at ECM. on will meet at 6:30 m K-State SCUBA will have a general information meeting at 6 p.m. Wednesday in Denison 113a.

Everyone is welcome.

Pre-Occupatonal Therapy Club will meet at 7:30 tonight at Lucky Brewgrille.

© College of Human Ecology student ambassador applications are available. Applications are due in

We take news tips! 532-6556

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc... Kedzie Hall 103. Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer.

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167

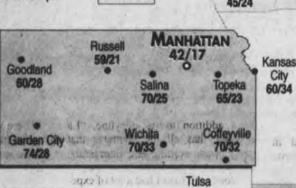

C Kansas State Collegian,

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today Wednesday Cooler with a 20-percent A chance for light snow. Highs chance for showers. Mostly around 35. cloudy. High near 50. Northeast Omaha wind from 10 to 15 mph. 45/24

 Denver 59/21

Yesterday's highs and ows

STATE OUTLOOK

Colder and mostly cloudy in the north. Partly cloudy in the south. Highs from 35 to 40 in the northwest to the mid-60s in the southeast. Tonight, a chance for light snow or freezing drizzle in the north. Partly cloudy in the south. Lows around 20 in the northwest to the mid-30s in the southeast.

St. Louis . 65/37

OUR LOSS IS YOUR GAIN!

TEXTBOOK SALE

March 1 - 17, 1996

We have cleaned out our storerooms and have HUNDREDS of selected new and used textbooks to sell at great prices!

$2.00 Hardbacks $1.00 Paperbacks

Various fields of study Some previously used at K-State

"We Give You Our Best"

9 a.m. - 9 p.m. Mon. - Sat.

Noon - 5 p.m. Sunday deferred annuities designed to help build additional assets - money that can help make the difference between living and living well after your working years are over.

Contributions to your SRAs are deducted from your salary on a pretax basis. That lowers your current taxable income, so you start saving on federal and, in most cases, state and local income taxes right away. What's more, any earnings on your SRAs are also tax deferred until you receive them as income. That can make a big difference in how painful your tax bill is every year.

of allocation choices - from the TIAA Traditional Annuity, which guarantees principal and interest (backed by the company's claims-paying ability). to TIAA-CREF's diversified variable annuity accounts. And our expenses are very low,* which means more of your money goes toward improving your future financial health.

To find out more, call 1 800 842-2888. We'll send you a complete SRA information kit, plus a free slide calculator that shows you how much SRAs can lower your taxes.

Call today-it couldn't hurt.

Ensuring the future for those who shape it."

and of Parc's Insurance Rating Analysis, 1995; Lipper Analytical Services, Inc. Lipper-Directors Analytical Data, 1995. (Quarterly), cases are distributed by TIAA-CREF Individual and Institutional Services, Inc. For more complete information, including charges, call 1 800 842-2733, ext. 5509, for a current CREF prospectus. Read the prospectus carefully before you invest or send money

Residents still worried about parking safety

Stephanie Schmutz

staff reporter

For students living in the residence halls, parking is more than just an inconvenience — safety is also a factor.

B-2 and North B-2, formerly called B-2 and B-3, are where a majority of residence hall residents park their cars, but many residents said they don't feel comfortable parking there after dark.

"I'd never walk out there alone," Kristy Svoboda, freshman undecided, said. "I always walk out there with my roommate or someone else from the dorm. It is just an unnerving feeling at night."

Kelsey Gilland, freshman in political science and pre-law, has recently been elected to her hall's governing board.

"I get to park in the lots in front of the dorms now," she said. "I feel a lot safer parking over in this area than I did out in North B-2."

"I hated having to go all the way out there," Gilland said. "Especially after hearing about cars getting broken into and the attack last semester. I just don't think it is very safe out there."

B-2 and North B-2 parking lots are north of Haymaker Hall. Some students have expressed concern about the amount of patrolling in these areas.

"I have never seen the lots being patrolled," Svoboda said. "Not during the day or at night."

Gilland said she agreed.

"I feel comfortable walking from the parking lot in front of the dorms, but North B-2 is a different story," Gilland said. "I haven't ever seen any patrolling out there. The only time I have seen anybody in either lot is when they are issuing parking tickets — and even then it is a student."

Capt. Robert Mellgren from the K-State Police said he feels the lots are safe areas.

"There are emergency phones and surveillance cameras in both lots that patrol activity at all times," he said.

"We do not have a set patrol schedule for these lots," Mellgren said. "Sometimes we have an officer out there four times a night. Sometimes we have someone out there all night long. With the cameras we don't feel that there is a need to patrol this area on a regular basis."

Mellgren said crime in these two lots has gone down since the cameras were installed a few years ago.

"I don't know what more the students could ask for," Mellgren said.
"The cameras are watching the lots at all times, and we can see all the activ-

Last semester, a student was attacked in North B-2. The victim was struck from behind and robbed while she lay unconscious.

"No arrests have been made regarding this matter," Mellgren said. "There were no witnesses, and the cameras didn't show any suspicious activity."

Ian Sinnett, freshman in architecture and Marlatt Hall resident, said he isn't happy with the parking situation

"I think it is a big hassle to have to go all the way out there from here," he said. "The lots are poorly lit, too secluded, and I haven't ever seen them being patrolled."

Sinnett said he was not aware of the cameras in the lots.

"Now that I know they are there, I still don't feel completely safe," he said. "There is no way to tell where the cameras are focused."

The phones are also a concern for some students.

"I don't think they are very well located," Sinnett said. "If I were in trouble I wouldn't spend time looking for a phone. I would run to a dorm that is closer than Marlatt."

But Carrie Barta, freshman in secondary education, said she thinks the parking situation is acceptable for those living in the residence halls.

"I don't always feel comfortable walking out there at night when it is dark," she said. "I think that both lots are pretty well lit, and I have seen B-2 patrolled. I just wish it wasn't so far out there. It is kind of inconvenient."

There are no plans for change in the parking situation.

"We feel this is a relatively safe area and we don't have a lot of trouble out there," Mellgren said.

Many students who park their cars in B-2 and North B-2 said they do not feel comfortable parking
there after dark.
Some students walk to and from their cars with their roommates or other people who live in the residence halls.

RHETT HARTMAN

LA TRAVIATA

Opera tells story of prostitute

Kristin Hermes

Verdi's "La Traviata" will be performed by New York City Opera National Company at 7 tonight in McCain Auditorium.

The opera, first performed in March 1853, tells the story of Violetta Valery, a high-class prostitute who falls in love with Alfred Germont. The happiness Valery and Germont find, however, is short-lived when she must sacrifice her love in order for Germont's family to avoid humiliation.

The first time the opera was performed, it was a scandal because of the content, Richard Martin, director of McCain Auditorium, said.

"It's all melodrama — the sort of story that you might find in an airport novel," he said.

In addition to its storyline, "La Traviata" has all the elements that make opera exciting and interesting, making it a good opera to see for someone who hasn't had a lot of experience with opera before. Martin said rience with opera before, Martin said.

"'La Traviata' is something that a neophyte can grasp and really appreci-

"There is an immediately accessible storyline, and Verdi writes in the style that is accessible to someone

MENTAL HEALTH WORKER

Menninger is accepting applications for a second shift

(3-11:30) Arabic-speaking

Mental Health Worker in the will include assisting with the provision of nursing care to patients on an in-patient unit

Adult Hospital. Responsibilities

who doesn't have a lot of musical experience."

Part of this accessibility will come from the supertitles that will accompany the performance.

There will be a screen showing an English translation while the performers are singing in Italian, said Kristin Brighton, junior in mass communications and English and intern at McCain

"The supertitles will make it easier for people who have never seen this show before because they will be able to have a better insight into the plot of the opera," she said.

In addition, Martin said he expects Union Bookstore.

TICKET PRICES

➤ Ticket prices are $32, $28 and $24 for general public; $30, $26 and $22 for senior citizens; and $16, $14 and $12 for students and children.

the company performing the opera will give a good performance.

"They are consistently well-rehearsed, with good singers, a good orchestra, and overall, a good production," he said. "The set may not be elaborate, since they are touring, but it will be effective and very believable."

Tickets can be purchased at the McCain Box Office, Manhattan Town Center, Fort Riley or the K-State Union Bookstore.

Television separates genders

Rick Druse

staff reporter

The television age has created a gender segregation in today's society. Milton Chen, director of KOED

Milton Chen, director of KQED Center for Education and Lifelong Learning, said there is a separate gender culture for boys and girls, and television is one of the leading mediums for the separation.

KQED is a public television network based in San Francisco.

"We are raising these kids in separate cultures," Chen said.

Chen said the segregation starts young, and the television programming most children watch is either for boys or for girls.

He said the Children's Television Workshop is trying to come up with entertaining programs that portray boys and girls in the same gender roles.

Chen said one of the problems in trying to create a program for both sexes to watch is entertainment value. In a study done by Chen, he found that boys want to see more action and adventure programs, while girls usually watch more sitcoms and relationship programs.

Girls will watch programs with male lead characters, but boys will not watch programs with female lead characters, Chen said.

Chen said the biggest danger is the multi-television families. Communication tends to be lost in families with multiple television sets, Chen said.

Wildcats Wildcats Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338 • Free pregnancy testing • Totally confidential service

- Totally confidential service
- Same day results
 Call for appointment

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

under the direction of RN's.
Qualifications are:

Center • High school diploma

March is

Our Registered Dietician

is available to meet your dietary/nutritional needs.

For appointment

532-6544

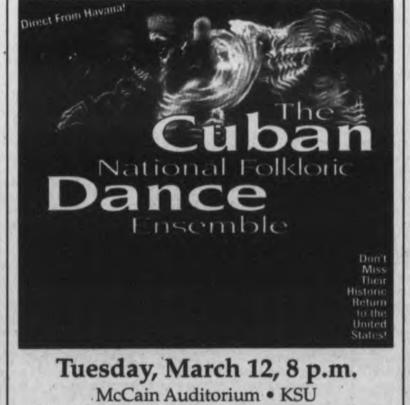

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

- Two years of college preferred Fluency in Arabic and
- Fluency in Arabic and English languages
- Experience working with psychiatric patients

For more information contact Mary Wentworth, Director of Nursing, (913) 350-5521, or send resume to: Sherry Harold, PHR, MENNINGER, Human Resources Dept., P.O. Box 829, Topeka, KS 66601-0829

EO/AA Employer

Three New Flavors. One Great Sale. We're introducing three delicious new Blizzard* and Breeze* flavors, Fudge Oreo,* Cappucino Heath,* and Mint "M&M's."* To celebrate, all flavors and sizes are now on sale for a limited time at your participating Dairy Queen* store. All flavors and sizes on sale. Starting at ON SALE Monday, March 4 through Friday, March 15 1015 N. 3rd OUICELL OUICELL OUICELL ON SALE Monday, March 15 1015 N. 3rd

Gen. Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9
Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. weekdays.
VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets.

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts. Additional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

11 a.m.-1 p.m.

99¢ PEPPERONI PERSONAL PAN

(NO 5 MINUTE GUARANTEE)

OFFER GOOD WEDNESDAY ONLY AT THE AGGIEVILLE LOCATION ON DINE-IN ORDERS SORRY—NOT AVAILABLE FOR CARRYOUT.

AGGIEVILLE 1121 MORO 539-7666

*NOT VALID WITH ANY OTHER SPECIAL OFFER*1/20 CENT CASH REDEMPTION VALUE*® PIZZA HUT OF AGGIEVILLE 1992*EXPIRES May 15, 1996

Opinion

EDITORIAL BOARD MEMBERS

Mike Marlett .. Editor in chief Kevin Klassen Managing editor Sarah Lunday . News editor Casy Conover. Photo editor Derek Simmons .. Design editor Kim Hefling . Campus editor Christy Little Copy chief N. Stewart Anderson _ Features editor City / government editor

Claudette Riley Arts and entertainment editor Stephanie Fuqua - Opinion editor Shana Newell _ Sports editor Graphics editor Justin Stahlman Kevyn Jacobs _ E-Collegian editor ■ These Collegian editorial board members write 'COLLEGIAN opinion. Editorials are a majority opinion and not necessarily the view of all individuals on the board. People interested in joining the board can call 532-6556 or send a letter to the editor by e-mail or snail mail at Kedzie 116, Attention: Stephanie Fuqua.

COLLEGIANopinion

The fate of this publication lies in the hands of Senate

QUICKread

Please call the Student Governing Association at 532-6541, and ask for the names and phone numbers of the senators from your college. Then call and urge them to vote for an increase in the Student Publications Inc. fee Tonight, Student Senate will determine the future of Student Publications Inc.

For you, the readers, it will determine whether you will see the K-State Collegian on campus

Readers might feel three editorials in three days is a little too much self-promotion. But about one-half of the Editorial Board members are graduating seniors. This plea isn't for us. It's for

Even if students could manage sharing a reduced press runof 7,500 newspapers, or even if it could rely on the Electronic Collegian (our on-line version of the newspaper), the reality is both these options would disappear shortly enough.

No business would pay to advertise in a publication with such low circulation. In the end, Student Publications Inc. will only be begging for more student funds two years from now, much like Lafene Health Center has been forced to do because of poor decisions made by Senate two years ago. There are some alternative options to raising the fee that Senate will probably consider tonight. Let's look at the outcome of these possibilities:

■ The Collegian could wait until next year to see if newsprint costs will actually go up, then apply to the Senate special allocations fund for needed

First of all, the cost will go up. It's a reality. Professional newspapers have either switched to smaller pages and print, like the Kansas City Star, or cut circulation - as many students know because the Wichita Eagle no longer delivers to Manhattan.

Secondly, the Collegian can't wait until sometime next fall to adjust its advertising rates, depending on Senate's decision whether to grant a special allocation. The Collegian needs to know how to set those rates now.

Also keep in mind that by now, Senate has suggested several groups should apply for a special allocation. It is putting off inevitable budget decisions that should be decided now. Newly elected Senate members won't remember the hows and whys of each budget request. The Collegian simply can't afford to wait for someone to remember how important a student service it provides.

And finally, we strongly suspect there isn't going to be that much money left to help all the people who still need funding.

Another likely Senate suggestion will be reliance on the E-Collegian.

This just isn't going to work, either. Most importantly, the Collegian does not and cannot, by University policy, advertise online.

Seventy-five percent of Student Publications' budget comes from advertising in the print Collegian.

That money pays for the resources to produce the E-Collegian. With no on-line advertising, that means there must be a regular Collegian to support the E-Collegian.

Pain in the tush that we are. we can't and won't go away. Saving money now, by voting down a fee increase, means the regular and on-line Collegian will disappear before most current students graduate.

Perhaps someday all newspapers will be online. But that day is far away. It will be when residence halls have more than four computers in the basement. It will be when on-line advertising is permitted and when it appeals to local businesses.

We would like to ask Senate to consider these facts, and we would like to remind students what we said when you called the newsroom and asked why you couldn't find a Collegian anymore: It's out of our hands.

If Senate cuts the Collegian off, remember who is denying you your daily newspaper.

Burnout

is making me illiterate

Myview

Му сору

of her novel is a dog-eared paperback with its cover taped on, and I have to squeeze

it tightly

when I carry it from place to place or else leave a few pages

behind.

Clearly, one or two people loved this novel

well at some point.

Schields

am a dysfunctional English major; I can't read anymore.

I've been losing literacy for the past few weeks, and late the other night, it left me completely.

I was trying desperately to reach page 284 of "The Mill on the Floss" by George Eliot so I could participate in class the next day, but somehow the words just wouldn't register any longer.

Needless to say, I wasn't enjoying myself. I suspect it had something to do with a fellow short-story writer's a play by Shakespeare and a story in Spanish I had already forced my way through that day. I had nothing left

My copy of her novel is a dog-eared paperback with its cover taped on, and I have to squeeze it tightly when I carry it from place to place or else leave a few pages behind. Clearly, one or two people loved this novel well at

It's really too bad this noble paperback probably won't survive to be toted around and read by someone else someone who might appreciate it. I wish I could appreciate it, but then, I'm illiterate. Although I often manage to choke the words down, I do it without the necessary amount of thought and without pleasure.

I used to love to read anything. When I was still truly literate, I read just for the thrill of it. Now I carry an untouched copy of The New Yorker in my backpack at all times, thinking I really ought to touch it. If nothing else, I might look at the cartoons. However, its cartoons rely on words to explain their pictures, and that's the last thing I want to see in my free time. Words on a page nauseate me right now, and that frightens me.

It's a scary thing to become disillusioned with something you love - especially when it's something you had chosen to make a life of.

I think many students choose a field of study because they have a real passion for it. That's the way it should be. They find something they're good at - math or teaching or writing - and it's not hard to love something you're good at. Then they immerse themselves in it and start to learn the little intricacies that make them love it so much. They lose their naivete and along with it goes their innocence in approaching the subject. Pretty soon, their chosen field consumes the better part of their time each day and

Through it all, maybe some never doubt their love for a second. Maybe others get burned out from time to time: Such is the danger of making your love your life. Too much of any one thing is bound to burn you out, no matter how much you love it. Sometimes I wonder whether the interior designer ever walks into a room hoping not to notice anything, or whether the mathematician is able to work through a familiar problem, precisely because it is so familiar. I also wonder if they might be relieved to look at their work for a moment through my eyes, the eyes of an innocent, when turned toward their fields.

This is what I see in the class for which I'm reading "The Mill on the Floss." The class is comprised mostly of non-English majors, and they all like the book. They come from their biology or engineering classes, and this novel is a diversion for them.

I don't mean to imply that the intelligent students in my class don't know how to think about literature. They're thinking about it better than I am, and I'm terribly jealous. This is my domain.

Compared to them, I take a highly perverted and dis-gusting approach to literature. I read the book, not because want to, but because I ought to read it. In my opinion, that's not reading. Hence, I call myself illiterate.

As I hinted before, I don't believe English majors have cornered the market on burnout. How does anyone maintain the awe that led them to their area of concentration? That seems to be the trick.

Keely Schields is a junior in English/creative writing.

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identifi-, cation will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

READER FINDS LAFENE QUALITY GOOD

I'm sorry Student Body President Jeff Peterson thinks Lafene Health Center is mediocre. I have found the service, quality and inexpensiveness of Lafene to be terrific. I know of many people who use Lafene. I have never heard that they think it is I'll tell you what's mediocre the political games Peterson and some senators are playing with the students.

We all know elections are coming up. Gee - no new fees. That sure makes a good campaign slo-

Peterson and Student Senate need to look at the big picture. Not everyone on campus has a family physician in town or is covered by their family's insurance. Last year alone, 14,000 different K-State students used Lafene. Aren't these the students whom the student government should be representing?

No - as some senators said, "My constituents say ..." Who exactly are their constituents? The world may never know.

I hope I don't sound bitter. But when some senators and Peterson start messing with the quality, cost and accessibility of health care to everyone on campus, that is when a lot of people become bitter. If everyone on campus had a family physician in town, then I could see the point of lowering health fees.

Mark Tomb, Privilege Fee Committee chairman, said the cuts are up to the Lafene administration. Well, Tomb, just to let everyone know, you are forcing the administration to cut the accessibility and increase T.J. SCHREINER the cost for anyone to go 66 Deterson and to Lafene. Student Peterson, I Senate need to thought everylook at the big one was satisfied with the picture. Not agreement that everyone on was made campus has a about the fee family physician increase last in town or is Thursday. I covered by their guess your constituents family's insurdidn't feel that ance." way. Or was it you and a couple of senators who felt they know what is right for the whole student body? I implore anyone who uses Lafene and wants to keep the accessibility, cost and quality at the high standard it is at to call your college senator and voice your opinion. Otherwise your voice will not be heard.

PETERSON OWES PHYSICIANS AN APOLOGY

The democratic process and political gamesmanship are one thing, but when Student Body President Jeff Peterson called our University medical services "mediocre at best," he insulted without basis - all the healthcare providers at Lafene Health Center, as well as the thousands of students who use such "mediocre" care. I am angry and indignant at this student leader's careless com-

When Peterson states that he "randomly surveyed" LARRY MOELLER people during his 66 Tam even campaign, what does that mean? more insulted Did he use a surby Peterson's vey instrument? implying that if I Does he have hard am paid more, I copy of his methwill practice ods and results? better-quality Lafene is regularmedicine. ly surveyed by patients, by peer review, and by a national accrediting organization called the Joint Commission for Accreditation for Health Organizations (JCAHO). We get "good grades," and we have hard copy of our methods and results. I would dare to say Peterson has his usual small circle of people, whose responses are predictable, to "randomly survey.'

There are tens of thousands of visits to the clinic every year, with diagnoses ranging from colds to cancer and acne to AIDS. Last year, 14,000 different students out of 20,000 used the clinic at least once. If your student leadership believes in a two-thirds majority and campus-wide surveys, then I believe the student body has spoken loud and clear. Is anyone listening?

Any community the size of K-State has essential needs. Health care is part of the community infrastructure - it is there for the public welfare, whether all citizens use it or not. At least 70 percent of K-Staters need medical service for minor-to-major reasons - isn't that a statement by the community? I am even more insulted by Peterson's implying that if I am paid more, I will practice better-quality medicine. Outrageous! I am practicing medicine at K-State by choice, and I am bound by my professional ethics to deliver the best medical care I am capable of, even if it is free. I do not associate myself with mediocrity. Lafene is one of the most comprehensive outpatient clinics I have been associated with during my 25 years in medicine. sophomore in arts and sciences The center has been showcased to other Big 8 facilities and is one of the best in the nation.

Peterson, I feel you owe a lot of us a printed apology.

Larry Moeller Lafene physician

IN THE REAL WORLD, MEDICINE IS EXPENSIVE

I think our student body president, Jeff Peterson, and some of our student senators have been institutionalized too long. Maybe what they need is a good dose of reality medicine. Living within the confines of an institution of higher learning has led to a belief that we are getting ripped off - paying way too much for everything. 1 say,

"Wake up and take a whiff of the smelling salts." Health costs in the real world are expensive. What the student body of K-State pays in the way of the Lafene fee is a bargain at $70, $80 or even $90 a semester.

I've just come in from the cold, harsh world of reality off-campus, and you pay a lot more for the same or less service. The cost of a single doctor visit off-campus is anywhere from $40-75, not counting lab tests or prescription medicines. Doctor's offices are open between 8 or 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. (if you're lucky), and you generally must have an appointment to go there. I am a full-time graduate student, old enough to have been paying for offcampus medical expenses for more than 20 years. I left an urban setting to attend college fulltime in Manhattan and believe the oncampus health facility and availability of low-cost student health insurance is a benefit.

My daughter attends another state university, and I appreciate the fact that she, too, has access to inexpensive, oncampus care and a student health insurance policy.

It is unfortunate that the Student Senate forced Lafene to use cash reserves to save $10 a semester in fees. Health-care expenses have been growing at many times the rate of inflation for the last six years. It was naive to think K-State would be immune to that national trend. The students will be paying, one way or the other, for the folly of the past.

I urge the senators to rethink their position on the Lafene fee. Keep affordable and accessible health care available on campus for the thousands of students, and their parents and families, who depend on its being here.

Be brave — look forward into the future and act accordingly. Don't short-change the future health of K-State. In a non-urban setting, it is essential we have accessible and affordable health care. I urge Senate to override Peterson's veto. Grant the increase of $20, and allow Lannie Zweimiller, director of Lafene, and his staff to move forward on their budgeting process for the next year.

Christine Jordan graduate student in adult education

READER WANTS FACTS BEFORE RAISING FEE

JAMES NORRIS

66 There are always several papers

left lying around in classrooms at the end of the day, and I have read, or rather re-read, the less than lectures.

compelling paper during

Let me start by saying that, in general, I find the Collegian to be one of the better college papers I've seen. Furthermore, it is better than the only professional paper published in this town, the Manhattan Mercury.

Having said that, I wonder if the fee increase for the paper is really necessary.

In Monday's editorial, a statement is made that is clearly in need of support if it is intended to serve as the basis for your fee increase request: "Unfortunately, we will be serving less than half the student body on this campus

(if the press run is cut to 7,500)." Is one paper required for every student on campus for them to be served? In my office, one fellow regularly brings in two or three copies of the Collegian each morning and leaves them on the main table. Throughout the day, a good number of the 20 people in our group reads one of these papers. There are always several papers left lying around in classrooms at the end of the day, and I have read, or rather re-read, the paper during less than compelling lectures. Presumably others read these previously-read papers for the first

So, before I am convinced the Collegian needs a fee increase, I'd have to see an argument to the effect that each copy of the Collegian is not read by at least two students on this campus.

James Norris graduate student in physics

COSTS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

increase in newsprint was probably the strongest case made by Student Publications Inc. in justifying a fee

"My committee will be looking at it as far as an amendment tonight (Monday)," Tomb said.

"If it doesn't pass my committee, then there will be an amendment on the floor, certainly," Tomb said.

Tomb said the cost of the Royal Purple should be increased to help combat costs.

"There's a problem with the Royal Purple with the way it's funded. It's $44 dollars to produce the Royal Purple, and yet this year they're charging only $21. It's highly subsidized," Tomb said.

The Royal Purple is sold to nonstudents for $25.

Tomb said non-students should be charged more so that students don't have to subsidize the difference between the cost of publishing and the purchase price of the yearbook.

I think the Royal Purple is a good product. It's a credible thing and an award-winning item. The fact is, it's highly subsidized, and I think that the subsidization needs to be reduced,"

Student Publications Inc. decided to raise the cost of the Royal Purple next year. The Royal Purple, which can be purchased for $21, will be sold to students for $24.95 next year.

A price study done by Ed Olson, associate professor of economics, said any price above $24.95 would be prohibitive and decrease total revenue earned on yearbook sales.

"They're factoring into total revenue dealing with an elasticity study. I think they will make more money than that by increasing it," Tomb said. "I think that people will pay for tradition. This is nostalgia. This is a memory book. This is something people will buy. You can't put a price on that,"

"I don't want to get rid of the yearbook. I want the yearbook to still thrive. I just think that subsidies that all students are forced to pay should be reduced. A good chunk of those privilege fees is essentially to subsidize the Royal Purple for 4-5,000 people to buy the yearbook. But, hey, there's still 20,000 people here that don't buy a yearbook," he said.

Puntney said without the increased revenue from fees, the Royal Purple would probably change.

"We'll see changes across the board in Student Publications. Certainly we're going to see a reduction in the number of pages. We're going to see a lesser book, and students are going to have to pay considerably more for it," she said.

Puntney said the Royal Purple and the Collegian provide a historical record and keep students aware of events concerning the University. "There are certain things which a university ought to provide," she said. "One of those, I think, is a vehicle to keep people up-to-date with what would be happening on campus. That would be the Collegian," she said. "Another is a historical record of the University. Today you might not see its value, but every week we have someone who writes or calls who asks if they can get a copy of their yearbook because they failed to get one while they were in college," Puntney

Sarah Kallenbach, editor of the Royal Purple, said if the fee is not increased, students would notice

"I think a couple of things could happen. The quality of the products would go down, and the size would decrease," she said.

"In that respect, the service that we provide to students is going to go down," Kallenbach said.

more limited press run of the Collegian and lower-quality publica-

An initial motion was passed for no increase in the fee, but after further discussion, the committee voted to recommend to Student Senate the

"The service the Collegian procut because of rising newsprint costs," Joshua Hulse, Senate intern and Privilege Fee Committee member, ► MURDER

Couple abducted, killed after witnessing hold-up

■ Grandparents arrive at grandson's video store at wrong moment

Associated Press

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. - A couple were found shot to death near their car Monday, a day after they apparently stumbled onto a videostore holdup in which their grandson and two other people were slain.

George and Pauline McDougall were last seen alive when they left their home about 2 a.m. Sunday to pick up their 19-year-old grandson Zachary Blacklock after he finished working his shift at the video store.

The couple's bodies were found in the mountains about 20 miles east of Albuquerque.

Police suspect the couple were abducted by whoever killed their grandson and co-workers Mylinh Daothi, 30, and Jowanda Castillo, 18.

The three employees were discovered bound and shot in the back room of the Hollywood Video store Sunday by members of the store's morning crew, who found the doors unlocked and money missing.

Authorities searched for a van with a Confederate-type logo on the side. Police Chief Joe Polisar said officers also were searching for a couple seen in the video store shortly before closing time. Police "just want to talk to them to see what they saw," he said.

The McDougalls used to pick up their grandson on those occasional nights when he couldn't find any other way home, said Kim Andrews, their daughter and Zachary's mother.

Before the couple were found dead, Andrews had pleaded for her parents' return, saying both were on medication they urgently needed.

"For my dad, it's his heart, for my mom, it's for her high blood pressure,' she said. "But when they run little errands they don't take the medicine with them. They just leave."

Zachary Blacklock had moved from nearby Rio Rancho into Albuquerque to live with his grandparents so he could be closer to work.

His grandmother "worshiped Zack," said the young man's father, Ed Blacklock. "If that meant getting up in the middle of the night to pick him up, that's what she did.'

Ed Blacklock said Zachary was talking about saving up for a car so he wouldn't have to depend on his grandparents and city buses to get to and

PRIVILEGE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

UPC has scheduled William Gates from the movie "Hoop Dreams" for a speech on March 11 and Laura Pedersen of Women In Business, who made her first million dollars by age

Carney said about 35,000 students attend UPC-programmed events each semester.

The committee voted to recommend the bill for further readings, and the final vote should occur March 12.

The Privilege Fee Committee also voted in favor of an amendment by Student Publications Inc.

Last week the committee voted 5-2 in favor of keeping the allocated funds for Student Publications Inc. at $278,220, which Ben Clouse, chairman of the Finance Committee for the Board of Student Publications Inc., said is not enough.

The amendment asked for a total of $304,332, which is $26,111 more than originally asked.

mean some

Clouse said Student Publications Inc. needed an increase in funding to offset the increase in Student Senate will newsprint vote on the Student costs. Publications Inc. privilege "Without fee tonight in the Union that money, Big 8 room. it's going to drastic changes in Publications," he said.

Some of the changes would be a tions overall.

$26,111 increase in the fee.

vides is essential, and I'd hate to see it

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN MOTIVES AUTO

Custom Alignment Service

Complete brake, shock, strut & suspension service, 2 & 4 wheel alignment, wheel balancing, power steering, rack & pinion, cv joints & boots

Over 35 years experience Bud & Pat Umscheid, Owners

323 Yuma St.

Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sat. 8 a.m.-Noon.

537-1852

C. J. Automative L.L.C. 776-8333 925 Enoch Lane, Manhattan

All Types of Foreign & Domestic Repairs

Lube, Oil, Filter 4 cyl. Tune-up

Complete Custom Detailing

ESTGATE 2- & 4-WHEEL ALIGNMENTS STRUTS & SHOCKS

610 Hayes Dr. - Behind Walmart 776-4239

MUFFLER HOUSE

'Our business is exhausting"

MUFFLERS & TAILPIPES DUAL SYSTEMS AUTOS (American & Foreign) RVs LIGHT & HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS CUSTOM PIPE BENDING

COMPLETE BRAKE SERVICE FOR AMERICAN, FOREIGN, & LIGHT TRUCKS

SHOCK ABSORBERS & STRUTS ROSE HOUSE OF TINT GLASS TINTING SERVICES AVAILABLE

FOR YOUR AUTO, HOME OR BUSINESS PRAWTITE

TRAILER HITCHES - SALES & INSTALLATION

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. 776-8955 or 1-800-439-8956

Take advantage of our courtesy van for rides to school and home while your vehicle is being serviced Same Location

Low Cost Car Rental • Cars - Vans - Trucks

As low as $15 per day.

Complete Car & Truck Service & Repair Center Domestic & Imported Diesel service & repair Allen Diagnostic Computer

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sat. 8 a.m.-1 p.m.

GOODSON AUTO TRIM

Complete Upholstering & Fabric • Custom Made Auto & Truck Seat Covers Convertible Tops • Headliners

Boat Upholstery & Covers . Vinyl Tops . Window Tinting

1-800-773-7679

201 Sarber Lane Between K-Mart & Walmart 776-7679

ROAD TRIP!

IT'S ALMOST SPRING BREAK

BE PREPARED IF YOU'RE TAKING A VEHICLE W GET YOUR BATTERY, ALTERNATOR, & STARTER CHECKED ON THE SPOT FOR

FREE!

WE DO STOCK 72-MONTH BATTERIES.

INSTALLED AS LOW AS $4495+tax OTHER EMERGENCY SPECIALS:

HEAVY DUTY EXIDE JUMPER CABLES

$2495 +tax INSTANT SPARE FOR FLAT TIRES

or the Service Hours:

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m. - 6 p.m.

Sat. 8 a.m. - Noon

776-1950

Toll Free 1-800-658-4664

917 N. 3rd St.

Texaco

776-3298

EXIDE

MINUTES FOR A CHANGE is free

Mr. Goodwrench® Quick Lube® Plus Oil Change- now only $

Oil and filter change with up to 5 quarts of GM Goodwrench[®] motor oil · AC Duraguard oil filter

WE RUN CIRCLES AROUND THE COMPETITION.

CHEVROLET-OLDSMOBILE-CADILLAC-GEO

HWY 24 EAST

MANHATTAN

Mr. Goodwrench

Sports

1. Kentucky (65)	26-1	14. Memphis	21-6
2. Massachusetts (1)	28-1	15. Virginia Tech	22-4
3. Connecticut	27-2	16, Penn St.	20-5
4. Purdue	25-4	17. UCIA	21.7
5. Konsos	24-3	18. Georgio Tech	20-10
6. Georgetown	24-6	19. lowa	21.7
7. Texas Tech	25-1	20. North Carolina	20.9
8. Cincinnati	22-4	21. Marquette	20-6
9, Villanova	245	22. Louisville	19-10
10. Utah	23-5	23. lowa St.	20-8
11 Arizona	23-5	24. WisGreen Boy	25-3
12. Wake Forest	20-5	25. Mississippi St.	19-7
13. Syrocuse	22.7	THE THE PERSON	1000

What is the sports world coming to?

My mind started to wander this past week a little bit. I have to add that it isn't common for me to do that, but my mind turned to pondering today's modern sporting world.

I have to wonder what the sporting world has

■ Neil O'Donnell signs a contract to play with the New York Jets. O'Donnell followed the usual free-agent pattern of the '90s. He said he wanted to play for a contender, and then he signed for a lot of money with a team that is not a contender.

The Jets are the most pathetic organization in the NFL, and they will continue to be, with O'Donnell at the helm. Paying a quarterback like O'Donnell $25 million is absolutely ridiculous. He has not proven he can make the big plays when he has to.

Also, you have to consider a player is only as good as his supporting cast. You could call the Jets' supporting cast the no-name, no-talent offense.

The only positive thing the Jets have going for them is the first pick in the draft this year. But leave it to them to screw it up, probably taking another

Myview

SHANE McCormick

■ The San Francisco 49ers were willing to shell out $16 million to free-agent back running Rodney Hampton. First of all, Hampton is not a good runner on natural grass.

Secondly, I've seen a walrus that could catch better out of the backfield.

But what is even more ludicrous is that the Giants are matching the 49ers' deal. The Giants are willing to spend all that money on Hampton, when they have a back who is younger and just as good in Tyrone Wheatley. They should be using that money to get a decent quarterback in New York. Heck, many of those fans throwing snowballs against San Diego had better arms than Dave Brown.

■ The Kansas City Chiefs are thinking a kicker from the World League will solve their problems. Hey, Mr. Peterson, there is a reason why those players are playing in the World League. The Chiefs need to focus on signing free-agent kicker Eddie Murray. This would not only give them consistency at the position, but it would also meet their age requirement for free-agent pickups.

■ The Kansas City Royals think that Bob Hamelin will solve their offensive problems. The Royals said Hamelin will be hitting .300. The only 300 marks Hamelin has the potential to reach are 300 strikeouts and 300 pounds this season.

How about 30 home runs for the Hammer? More like 30 Ho-Hos a day.

Dwight Gooden is able to pitch in the major leagues again. For the first time in more than 20 months, Gooden pitched in a major-league game Sunday against Toronto. Gooden's performance was not bad, giving up two runs and three hits in three innings of play.

Given his past history, the umpires should check his glove this season for something hidden besides

Shane McCormick is a senior in radio/television. If you're also wondering what the sports world is coming to, email him at shanem@ksu.ksu.edu.

Valery Gorbach, a defender on the Russian professional soccer team, Falek, manuevers the ball around members of the K-State soccer team during an exhibition game Saturday at Frank Anneberg Park. The Russian team

K-State kickers fall to visiting Russian team

In an exhibition game Saturday, the K-

State soccer club was introduced to the Russians

sports editor

They came. They saw. They con-

When the Russian professional soccer team, Falek, came to Manhattan, it had one focus: To learn more about the American style of soccer.

"We want to learn more about the way Americans play soccer," Alexander Donder, the team's vice-president, said.

On the other hand, the K-State soccer team wanted to test its skills at a professional level.

"It will be a good way to see how we are in competition to the pros," Eric Fitzwater, president of the K-State soccer club, said.

But that was before Saturday's contest between the teams. K-State's team got its answer, in a 16-0 shutout by the Russians. Although Fitzwater was unavailable for comment, Falek's coach, Sergey Savchenkov, said experience was the difference between the teams.

"The problem was that the Americans didn't have enough experience," he said.

With an audience level of about 50 people, Savchenkov said it was a different atmosphere for his team to play under than that of which it is normally accustomed.

"We usually play in big stadiums, with lots of people, but this was an exhibition game, so it was OK," Savchenkov

Interest in soccer is Savchenkov's solution to getting a bigger audience at

"With Americans, there is not a lot of attention placed on soccer," he said.

"They need people who are interested in soccer for it to grow. Most importantly, they need good coaches, and they need players who really want to play."

TRACK AND FIELD

Cats track team looking toward NCAA tourney

John Berggren

The K-State track teams competed in two events last weekend at the USA Indoor National Championships in Atlanta and the Arkansas National Qualifiers' Meet in Fayetteville, Ark.

K-State track coach Cliff Rovelto said the USA Indoor National Championships were a tune-up for his freshmen for the NCAA Championships next weekend.

'We used the meet to gain experience for our freshmen who had never competed in a major finalist event," Rovelto said.

"The Atlanta championships have both collegiate and non-collegiate athletes competing, which gives our athletes a feel for what the competition might be like next week at the NCAAs.

"It's also a great way to give our youth a chance to play in a big indoor arena that seats 100,000 peo-

Kirsten Schultz and Renetta Seiler competed for K-State along with non-collegiate K-State graduates Steve Fritz, Gwen Wentland and Chris Pryor.

It was a long shot at best for us to qualify more people. We didn't give our best performances, and the level of competition wasn't very strong.

CUFF ROVELTO

K-STATE TRACK COACH

The only athlete to place in the meet for K-State was freshman Seiler who placed eighth in the weight throw. Rovelto said it was quite a feat for a freshman.

"Renetta didn't throw all that well, but she made the finals at a national caliber meet. She didn't throw as well as she has at other times this year, but it was quite an accomplishment for a freshman." Rovelto said the Arkansas meet was a last-chance meet for his athletes who had not already qualified for the NCAAs. "Basically it gives our athletes one last shot to qualify for the big tournament," Rovelto said. "We weren't real impressed with how we did, but it's very difficult to come off a meet like the Big 8 meet and be emotionally focused. "It was a long shot at best for us to qualify more people. We didn't give our best performances, and the level of competition wasn't very strong." K-State didn't qualify anyone at the meet for the NCAA Championships, but several tracksters placed well in the meet.

On the women's side Emily Diederich placed third in the 800-meter run (2:17.86), Susan Seymour finished first in the 200-meter dash (25.16), and Irma Betancourt finished first in the one-mile run

On the men's side Ryan Clive-Smith finished sixth in the 5,000-meter run (14:42.72), Jeff Martin finished sixth in the 400-meter run (49.63), Ryan Johnson finished fifth in the 800-meter run (1:53.15), and Scott Galas finished 10th in the 800meter run (1:57.70).

Sports clubs Softball Game 2 K-STATE Game 1 Air Force

Colby CC K-STATE Game 4 Game 3 K-STATE Dodge City CC. Barton County CC.....2 K-STATE Colby CC K-STATE

Cycling

At Clinton Lake in Lawrence 1st - Bill Stolte 8th - Bill Marshall 15th - Luis Jimenez

Men's Tennis

K-STATE KSU 8-2 1. Aaron O'Donnell 2. Brian Timmons Brian Carny Todd McSpedden KSU 8-3 Gopi Khandavalli
 Shane MacWilliam
 Dave Hadcock Miguel Camarillo KSU 9-8 Matt Ripee KSU 8-0 Brandon Furlong KSU 8-3 Trevor Miller W.J. 4-8

William Jewel K-STATE Brian Carny 1. Auron O'Donnell Todd McSpedden KSU 8-2 Gopi Khandavalli s Miguel Camarillo

2. Shane MacWilliam Nick Grimsley

KSU 8-4 Matt Ripee

Brandon Furlong KSU 8-3 Trevor Miller 4. Otto Romer KSU 8-4 Brian Carney

To have your club included, submit results to the sports editor at 116 Kedzie or by e-mail at (twobag@ksu.ksu.edu) by 5 p.m. each Monday. The sports club round-up will be a regular Tuesday feature

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

Wildcat netters devastate Tulsa in home contest

Shane McCormick

contributing writer

The K-State women's tennis team pulled out all the shots Friday as it blanked Tulsa University. The Cats took all nine matches to grab a 7-0 victory at Ahearn Field House.

"We are really showing our capacity to learn from our mistakes and stay competitive throughout the match," Coach Steve Bietau said.

At the No. 1 spot in singles, it was Yana Dordnova cruising to a straight set victory against Morgan Briggs, 6-1, 6-3. Karina Kuregian held off Heidi Brown in the second set to take the No. 2 singles match, 6-0, 6-

"Karina was really able to dominate the match early," Bietau said. "In the second set, was looking a little bit tired also. It would have been a lot tougher on her if it went to a third set." In the rest of the singles her opponent was making matches, the Cats dropped only one set. The one set loss came at the No. 6 singles spot. Chris Schulte was able to bounce back after the first set, to grab a thrilling three-set victory over Teresa Baird, 3-6, 7-6, 7-6.

"The difference for Chris in the second and third set was that she was able to simplify her game and execute," Bietau said.

"She really started to put pressure on her opponent, and that allowed her to stay in the Score by innings adjustments, and Karina had a hard time adapting to those changes in the second set. She

Wildcat baseball

Central Michigan ..100 400 000

K-State Wildcats (9-3)

At No. 1 doubles, Kuregian and Lena Piliptchak dominated their match, winning 8-0. It 2 spot for the Cats. Dorodnova and Karen Nicholson struggled but came back to win 8-6. "Yana and Karen were just hitting the ball too hard at times," Bietau said. "They were reverting back to the problems they had a couple weeks ago with overpower-At the No. 3 spot in doubles, it was Nikki Lagerstrom and Shulte defeating Heidi Brown and Teresa Baird 8-3. The Cats will take to the courts again this weekend when they travel to the state of Indiana to take on Purdue and Notre Dame.

RHE

.010 001 500 7 10 2

► BASEBALL

Cats dominate Greyhound Classic, improve to 9-3

Shans Newell

sports editor

For a team to improve, it needs to move in the right direction, and that is exactly what the K-State baseball team did this weekend at the Greyhound Classic in Jacksonville, Fla. Although it wasn't easy, K-

State defeated Jacksonville University (11-8), Xavier of Ohio (15-1), Purdue (4-2) and Central Michigan (7-5). "The competition was fantastic, K-State coach Mike Clark said. "All the teams down there were quality teams. We saw quality pitchers. I don't know what it was, but every team saved their best pitcher for us." With four of seven games in the tournament under its belts, Clark said it was a great weekend "The kids played good. We got quite a few things accomplished," he said. "Our pitching, for the most part, was outstanding." With pitching the primary concern for the Wildcats before the start of the season, Clark said he was impressed with the performances of his bullpen. "Jon Oiseth did a great job out of the pen, and we got saves out of three different pitchers, which is one of the areas we wanted to work on," Clark said. "Pitching is one of the keys for us to be a successful team this year."

Even more impressive, Clark said, was the overall ability of the players to step up. "One of the things that was interesting was that hitters like Chris Hess and Dave Hendrix, who normally have big games, really had an off weekend," he said.

"But we were able to find players who stepped up and kept us in the games, and that's the mark of a good team. In a 56-game season, you need people to step up with quality at-bats because one person will not be able to do it every

Although K-State won all four games, Clark said there are still things to work on. 'We need more quality at-bats. Our batters need to adjust to different types of pitches. Our pitchers walked batters a few more times than we'd like, but they still did a solid job," Clark said. "We're still not where we need to be, but it was a step in the right direction." Clark has 249 wins in his tenure at K-State. The Cats will face Wichita State Wednesday night at Frank Myers Field in an attempt to make it 250.

8.0 9 1.0 1

0	Heep	A	Dis	3		0 -0
2	Bichelmsyer1b	4	0 0	0		0 1	e de
0	Hendrixdh	4	0	0	-	0 2	磨
0	No. of Concession, Name of Street, or other		-			0 3	-
0	Buell management of	-	-			0 0	100
2	Gardner	2	N NA	100	SIN	0 0	100	19
Section 2		10	201	1 7		1: 1	36
	E — Posperd (4), Traylor (DP — K-State 1 LOS — K-State 3 28 — Gardner (2)	-
	DP K-State 1 LOS K-State 3				The second
	DP — K-State 1 LOS — K-State 3 28 — Gardner (2) HR — Hean (2) SS — Feruday (4) K-State pitchers		P	H. Carlotte	B	ER	88	so
BB SO	DP — K-State 1 LOS — K-State 3 28 — Gardner (2) HR — Heas (2) 88 — Fereday (4) K-State pitchers Name		- 17	H 5		ER 5	_	_
88 SO 2 8 0 1	DP — K-State 1 LOS — K-State 3 28 — Gardner (2) HR — Hean (2) SS — Feruday (4) K-State pitchers		- 17			ER 5 0 0	_	_

The music scene isn't dead when you have

Wasted

Jazz band brings different sound to Manhattan

We take a great deal of pride in the fact that we have played weekly for nearly three years in a

JOE BRUMBELOE

WASTED POTENTIAL MEMBER

town the size of Manhattan.

Kristin Hermes

Sliding up the stairs and out the door, the conversational sounds of Wasted Potential spill onto the street, weaving strands of jazz.

Every Wednesday night, this fivepiece jazz band jams in the basement of Auntie Mae's Parlor, bringing a different sort of sound to the streets of Aggieville.

"It's jazz in your face," said Bill McFarlin, trumpeter in Wasted Potential and director of marketing and administration at the International Association of Jazz Educators, in Manhattan

"It's cool at Auntie Mae's because it's not a formal concert setting," he said. "It's an intimate setting to hear jazz, more like a European jazz club would be.

Wasted Potential formed in 1993 when Jim Kull, then the director of jazz studies, got together with McFarlin and Joe Brumbeloe, assistant professor of music, in the hopes of starting a jazz quintet, Brumbeloe said.

Originally, the band played at the Little Apple Brewing Company, but when the management there changed, the members moved to the basement of Auntie Mae's Parlor.

Since then, a few players have come and gone, but the size of the group, as well as its sounds, has remained constant, he

The length of time the group has been together is quite an accomplishment, Brumbeloe said.

We take a great deal of pride in the fact that we have played weekly for nearly three years in a town the size of Manhattan," he said.

Another thing the members said they take a lot of pride in is the rich experiences that many of the band members have had and the musical knowledge they bring to the perfor-

"Our bass player is Michael Brown," McFarlin said, "and in addition to being a full-time fireman and paramedic in Junction City, he's a fulltime student in physics. Truly, he could be a standout player in any major city.'

In addition, the piano-playing team of Brumbeloe and Bill Lee, executive director of IAJE, brings musical experience to the band.

"Joe and Bill are our dynamic duo," McFarlin said. "Joe is a fantastic player who brings a great understanding and historic sense of jazz because he's a musicologist.

"Also, Bill has truly played with all of the greats, like with Charlie Parker in New York City in the '50s. His son is also the founding bassist with the David Letterman Show's band, and he still plays with them," he said.

Other than faculty and community members, the band has a few members who are traditional students at K-State. Lucas Munce, senior in geography, is the saxophonist and one of the key members of Wasted Potential, McFarlin said.

"In high school, he was selected nationally as one of the top five young jazz players by IAJE," he said. "He's really a world-class player."

Munce said he grew up listening to jazz, and that influenced him to start playing the saxophone and keeps him going strong.

"I enjoy playing with Wasted Potential now, and I know that I will do jazz in my future," he said.

Although Wasted Potential's following isn't as large as those of some other bands who call Aggieville home, it is a loyal crowd. Anne Walker, senior in applied music, is one of the loyal fans.

"I'm a fan of Wasted Potential, and I think it's because of my own tastes in music. But also, everything about the group is quality," she said.

"Jazz is timeless," she said. "They play tunes from 30 or 40 years ago, and it still sounds good today."

Members of Wasted Potential said they aren't disappointed if they don't have as many people who line up to hear them play.

"People who play jazz understand that it doesn't really have a mass appeal," Brumbeloe said.

As a result, the fans of Wasted Potential can't be easily classified. "It's great to play for our crowds," he said, "because they're varied. Jazz pulls everyone in from all walks of life," McFarlin said.

But for the fans, it doesn't matter who appreciates the music

"There's so much more going on with their music," Walker said. "The improv work they do has so many intricate things. It's really quality

"But the best part is that they're doing it because they love it."

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

Jeffrey Loetel, senior in physics, listens to a trumpet solo performed by Wasted Potential's Bill McFarlin during a February performance at Auntie Mae's Parlor in Aggleville.

10% OFF WITH KSU ID Lunch Buffet 195 All You Can Eat Lunch Combo 735 And Up w/ soup, fried rice, & ap TREE DELIVERY limit 1 coupon per customer OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK FASHION SHOP

$6.00 With Coupon

Walk-ins Welcome Appointments Preferred

1129 Westloop 539-2921 (on the west side)

CUSTOM FRAMING BY

THE

1346 WESTLOOP

CENTER

539-0567

Exotic Aquatics

Freshwater Fish & Plants

Sattwater Fish & Coral

Bring in this ad

for $1 worth of free feeder fish

expires 3-31-96

1348 WESTLOOP MANHATTAN. KS 66503

539-1751

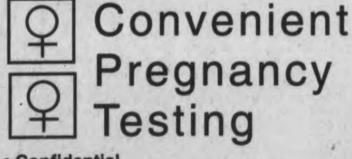

LITTLE APPLE BREWING COMPANY

- Conveniently located in Westloop Shopping Center
- 8 different cuts "Certified Angus Beef"
- · 8 varieties fresh, handcrafted beers
- Take-out and Private Party Room available
- · Open seven days a week · Daily lunch and dinner specials

1110 Westloop Center • 539-5500

Chardonnay. For March. at Dean Liquor we feature a wine varietal.

- Confidential
- Pregnancy Testing by Professionals
- No Appointment Necessary
- Professional Counseling on All Options
- Birth Control Counseling and Education

Lafene Health Center Women's Clinic 532-6554

Manhattan's Premium Wine Source Since 1968

1338 WESTLOOP PLACE 539-9441

WESTLOOP SHOPPING CENTER.

Fri.-Sun.

EXPRESS

NEW RELEASES -

Choose from thousands of titles

for only 49¢

Mon.-Thurs.

$149

1310 Westloop Shopping Ctr.

Class Projects · Decor · Gifts

BEADS BALSA BELLS

Ben Franklin Your Creative Outlet

Westloop Shopping Center • Manhattan • 776-4910

Don't be caught off base.

Come in for all your softball needs! •softballs, gloves, bats, used balls, cleats.

Team Discounts

PLAY IT AGAIN

At one time, $5,000 was spent to study the possibilities of building a union on different sites on the west banks of Tuttle Creek Reservoir, as well as one on the south shores of the river pond. It was deemed unfeasible.

Look w

Union to celebrate anniversary in style

Variety of speakers to be part of week-long birthday celebration

 Past Union directors, food and music to be included during the week

Brett Mast

he K-State Student Union will turn 40 years old Friday.

As part of a week-long celebration of the anniversary, more than 1,000 invitations were sent out for a reception from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Union Courtyard.

A variety of different speakers, including past Union directors and present Union director, Bernard Pitts, will address how the Union has changed and give personal accounts of their experiences while they were involved with the Union, Sarah Hadley, K-State Union program adviser, said.

An assortment of food items that have become favorites at the Union will be served at the reception, Hadley said.

"Since it is the 40th anniversary of the Union, we want to show people what it is famous for," Hadley

Following the reception, at 7:30 p.m., a panel discussion, "Students' Rights Movements: Past, Present, and Future," will take place in Forum Hall.

A diverse panel consisting of past and present students, as well as University officials, will take questions from the crowd and discuss the evolution of the students' rights movement, John Sandlin, K-State Union program adviser, said.

"The Union has been open since 1956, and the rights of students have definitely changed during that time," Sandlin said.

Although special invitations were sent out, everyone is welcome to attend the reception, Sandlin

An ice cream social is also planned from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Union Courtyard.

Ice cream and free '50s and '60s jukebox music will be available, and the courtyard will be decorated to resemble an old-fashioned malt shop, Hadley said.

The original Union building had 110,000 square feet of floor space and cost $1,650,000 to build.

Construction of the building was funded entirely by a $5-per-semester student fee passed in 1938.

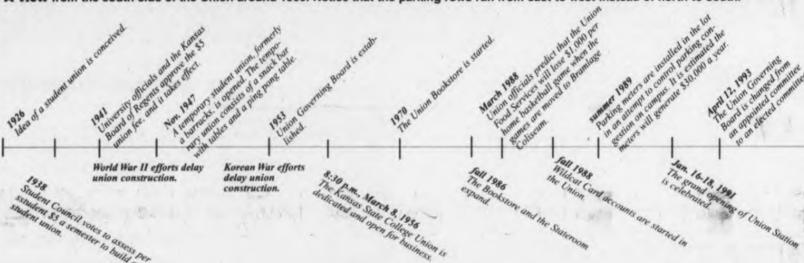

Although construction was delayed by World War II and the Korean War, the Union was finally opened March 8, 1956.

Since it opened its doors, 60,000 square feet have been added to the Union at a total cost of $3,780,000.

Photo courtesy of UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES

A view from the south side of the Union around 1960. Notice that the parking rows run from east to west instead of north to south.

Former pin setter reflects on working in the bowling alley

Kara Rogers

Thirty-nine years ago, Von Hefling spent his Friday nights peering out behind a rectangular opening to see how many pins a black bowling ball rolling down the wooden alley toward him would knock down.

In 1957, Hefling worked his freshman year one night a week at the K-State Student Union as a pin setter while earning his undergraduate degree in electrical engineering.

"I got the job because my brother knew about it. He worked at the games desk renting shoes and tables.

"It was good steady work. No one really wanted to do that kind of work. It definitely gave you a strong back and kept you busy,' Hefling said.

Hefling, along with three others, would stand in the back of the alley waiting for students to bowl their turn.

'You would just hope that they wouldn't bowl until you had the pins in the rack, but some of them just couldn't wait. Every once in a while you would get hit by a ball," Hefling said.

The bowling alley consisted of only eight lanes, leaving each person responsible for two lanes, Hefling said.

Hefling said his responsibilities included placing the pins that were knocked down.

He would put the pins that were knocked down each time in the metal rack above the end of the alley. After all the pins were knocked down and placed in the rack, Hefling said he would pull the handle on the rack down, setting all the pins in order on the alley.

"The next year they got automatic pin setters. It was sure handy after they got those automatic setters. I don't think you could get people to do that kind of work again," Hefling said.

Hefling laughed when he said he only earned 75 cents an hour.

"I know it probably doesn't sound like a lot to you, but it was money then. It kept me in when I didn't have any money to be spending on a weekend night.

"Sometimes you would get lucky and a league would bowl and they would tip you," Hefling said.

• See HEFLING Page 10

The Dive was the students in the Unior before the Catskeller or Union Station.

Photo courtesy of UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES

The Fortmeyer Files

This week Brice Hobrock Dean of K-State Libraries

Russell: Have there been any changes in the construction schedule? Are we on schedule?

Brice: I don't know how to answer that. We expect to finish the project in the 30 months allocated. This is a massive project. Its final cost is about $30 million. It's achieving a major transformation as to what we can offer students. We will be done one year from now, which is on schedule. Russell: Are you looking to open in fall 1997? Brice: We are going to open things as they finish. Within two weeks, we will open 7,000 square feet of public space that is renovated. By the end of the school year, we will have opened much of the original 1927 building. A large portion of it has been gutted and completely reconstructed.

By fall 1996, there will be large portions of brand-new space opened on the west and some on the south. We do not expect the entire space to open until January 1997. We are projecting dedication for graduation week for May 1997.

Russell: When are the reserves moving to new space? Will that interrupt service for students?

Brice: We will expect reserves to move to new space in the west portion of the building sometime around May. Service will not be suspended. We are aware of those needs.

Russell: What kind of money is still needed to complete the project?

Brice: We hope there are enough funds in the governor's allocation to complete the building. Those funds are programmed to buy the furnishings we need for the building. The negotiating committee is committed to opening a building that is furnished. We hope there are no unpleasant surprises over the next 12 months. The furnishings will be good quality, but will be limited to those accommodating students. The library staff is not getting luxurious new furniture.

There will be many, many needs for specialty kinds of furniture like display cases for rare books and furniture to accommodate computer terminals. The new library computer system will bring everything together on one work station. We need specialized furniture and, of course, more computer equipment. We can't afford to purchase all-new, graphics workstations.

Russell: What aspect of the new library are you most excited about?

Brice: I think it is going to be, externally, a classic building that people will drive miles to see. I think the most outstanding feature of the interior is its legibility. In the past, even after 10 years, I never knew where I was. It was impossi-

What's being done with this project is pulling together all the difficult level changes and difficult passages and transitions. Integration and legibility are the most striking things about the building. That's the major feature.

by Russell Fortmeyer

Some people wonder why you need a new library if everything is becoming electronic. Well, it will not become electronic. There will be people who access information from a workstation, but I still believe that place is important. I don't believe you can take people out of

We're creating alcoves that have six to eight seats where students can get together and work together and continue to interact.

Russell: What would you say to someone who said the library looks like a cathedral and that it is not a modern building?

Brice: The architect's objective was to try to restore the look of the late 19th century/early 20th century campus, which was sort of a mixture of Gothic and Richardsonian Romanesque style. Even the new chemistry building, for example, is a modern Gothic kind of building. The trend today is away from the box-type architecture of the 1950s, 1960s and 1970s back to more classic

The 1960s architecture in the 1970s building was a disaster. Other boxes on campus - I don't want to make a slur against Bluemont Hall - aren't wellliked by many people We have reversed the trend. Some people will misunderstand the various transitions in style achieved on the outside of the building. The idea is to come from Gothic to Romanesque and then reblend back into Gothic on the west. Holton Hall is a beautiful building and was wisely preserved rather than destroyed. Denison and Lafene are examples of 1950s mistakes. They are out of place and make poor use of land.

Russell: Is Denison planned to be

Brice: Possibly, but I don't have the details. Russell: How long will this expansion ameliorate the library's problems? Brice: This building is programmed for 30 years. That programming was based upon a constant rate of growth of print materials. I think we'll have enough change in the ratio between print and electronic in the next 25 years that in 2020 or 2025 we'll have to rethink everything. My prediction is that we will not need a new expansion. This building, since it is being wired for the future, will remain an information access platform that is adaptable to the future. Russell: How do you keep a library of this size organized when you are constantly shifting offices and stacks?

Brice: Only through the heroic efforts of the staff. The concern and dedication the staff has for the students is the only way to make it happen.

Russell: Who are the Hales? Brice: The Hales are native Kansans Joyce Hale's family has always been a big supporter of K-State. Joe Hale is a KU graduate. Three of their children have graduated from K-State, and I think that is the connection. They have the means, I believe, to do many things and they have.

Their statement was, "We want to help the students of Kansas State University," and they came forward in the fall of 1993 with an anonymous commitment of $2 million. They said if we would raise another $3 million privately and if students will commit $5 million, we will give you our $2 million.

People are complaining that for $2 million, the Hales should not have the building named for them and that we should not destroy the legacy of President Farrell.

The fact is, the project would not exist without the Hales. They leveraged the entire project. They also saw to it another $1 million was contributed by foundations they serve on.

We are not changing the name on the part of the building that remains Farrell Library. We are renaming an entrance the Farrell Entrance. Farrell's daughter is satisfied we are doing the right thing. What remains of President Farrell's project is 20,000 square feet. The total project, when we are done, is 400,000 square feet. That's why we can justify renaming the build-including a part of the library dedicated to the study, advancement and the literature of squirrels? Was that ever tossed

Russell: Is there any chance of Brice: It's for sale. If you have $1 million, we'll be happy to create a part of the library dedicated to squirrels.

ket section

Diversions

TUESDAY March 5, 1996

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

CROSSWORD

ACROSS

by Eugene Sheffer

aloom 22 Thought

23 Suburb of New York and billions

City 24 Billions

26 Teased

27 Mound

stat.

28 Kaiser,

for one

1 Eam a D.	38 Delta
maybe	preceder
5 Soothing	40 Low
agent	42 Past
9 Outdo	43 Wonder-
12 Hodge-	land figure
podge	48 Card table
13 Medicinal	cry

pastime 5 Crimson 6 Emcee 7 Mr. plant 14 Honest 50 Satan's 8 Profesforte 9 Action politician 15 Diploma 51 Pismire 17 Wade opponent 18 Wheedle 53 Ohio 18 Wheedle squad 19 Bring upon DOWN 1 Music oneself 21 In a heap store 24 Network section 25 Purim's month

26 Aft 30 Celtic sea god 31 Podiatry subjects 32 Actor Jack 33 It's a sad commen-

35 With 35 Down, one who says "Break a 36 Take on 37 Supermar-3 Letter Solution time: 24 mins.

Yesterday's answer

29 Senate Majority 52 - majesty movie Leader scenes 10 "- Ben 31 Candy apple coat Adhem" 34 Kipling lad 11 Equal 16 Scuttle 35 See 35 20 Australian Across Volcanic st. 21 Cover of outpouring Enthusias-39 Not "fer" items opener 4 Pele's

Tide, for short

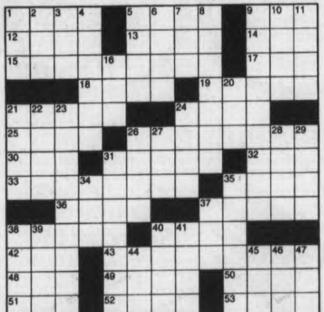

Trebek

Chaney

sions

40 Lingerie 41 Pinnacle 44 Evidence in the Borden case 45 Street map abbr. Disen-

cumber 47 Golfer Emie

PED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873!99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

OKKJ LRZZKLH D YBG NDLSKXQ XHAHXXHJ SK

BG BRSKPDKOXBZNQ. Yesterday's Cryptoquip: DID LAWMEN IN THE OLD WEST SOMETIMES LEARN MARSHAL ARTS?

Today's Cryptoquip clue: O equals G

▶ FOXTROT

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilich

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

. Well I hate the Collegian. I'm going to vote against the fee increase tonight ... Then they will have to either cut the pless run ...

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

▶ BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

When most people think of tours, they think of big, hot groups and the tour guide not talking loud enough to hear what is going on. The Internet is changing that by putting tours and museums online. As usual, these pages were previewed using Netscape.

Moscow Kremlin On-Line Excursion (http://www.kiae.su/www/wtr/kremlin/ begin.html)

This first page is in honor of the Russian soccer players who visited Manhattan.

Tour Russia's most famous fort from the comfort of your arm chair. The page still shows the main highlights of the Kremlin and plenty of technical information that most tourists will forget as soon as the guide tells them.

It also contains pictures of the largest bell in the world (it has never been rung) and the largest cannon in the world (it has never been fired). For those who can't drop the $2,000 to the University for a trip, this is the best way to see Moscow. One word of warning: This site is on a Russian server. So in other words, this server can be slow, especially during peak hours.

Empires Beyond the Great Wall: The Heritage of Genghis Khan (http://vvv.com/khan/)

"Genghis is the best!" President Jon Wefald said. Find out more for yourself about a man who couldn't seem to lose a battle.

This site was put together by the Royal British Columbian Museum. And it has a professional page. They have included pictures and descriptions for several artifacts ranging from a vase to little statues.

The best part of the page is the information it has included about the Khan. It is perfect for emergency research for papers. The abbreviated history of Genghis Khan's life is not as close in completeness as a Wefald lecture about the man, but what is? The main problem I have with this page is that it hasn't included enough pictures of the exhibits.

The Smithsonian Institution Home Page (http://www.si.edu/)

Typical of our government, this site is big and looks professional but doesn't seem to provide what anyone

This is a large page, and for its size, one would think that there had to be a tour or two. Wrong! The entire page is a walking billboard of all the technical boring things that web surfers don't care about.

Want to see Lindbergh's Spirit of Saint Louis? You won't see it here, but you will see who the curator for the National Air and Space Museum is.

People can cruise this entire page for hours, never see the same section twice and still not find anything. At least there is one redeeming section. The Smithsonian Magazine is online here, and it is top-notch. Just remember to set your bookmarks to the magazine section and avoid the rest of the drivel.

Word of the week: Jacking in Most on-campus computer users at K-State have trouble understanding this word. It normally refers to when someone connects to the net from home. They jack in to the Internet. Here, we just get a busy signal.

Any questions or comments? E-mail me at (wings@ksu.ksu.edu).

For information call 532-6560

Rowdy Trouty's

ALL NIGHT IF YOU 25¢ DRAWS

Sound by KJ DJ Dr. Fellows 50¢ Jell-O Shots

Rowdy Trouty's 776-2424

Experience the Real French Cuisine

NOW OPEN FOR

Fresh Pastas and Salads

$3.25 - $7.95

*prepared by European Chef wide selections of wine *call for reservations Hours: Lunch 11:30-1:30 Tues-Fri Dinner Starting @ 5:30 Tues-Sun 537-0886 Mon.-Sat. 11 a.m.-1 a.m. Sun.

This coupon good for KUNG PAO CHICKEN $3.90

Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

Dine-in & carryout

FREE DELIVERY (Minimum order $9) Expires 3-22-95

Student Union Courtyard • 10:00am-4:00pm • March 5, 6 and 7

25 personalized announcements $29.40

cap, gown & tassel $14.40

Honoring 40 years of service to the students of K-State.

Critic discusses meaning of art, problems of its appeal to masses

 Guest lecturer said people thirst for an art they can relate to

Kristin Hermes

Art is not merely paint on canvas, but it is the experiences people have upon viewing the art, an art critic and philosopher said in his speech Monday night.

About 75 people attended the lecture, "Museums and the Thirsting Millions" in Forum Hall, as Arthur Danto discussed the various ways of defining and interpreting art. One of the most important of these was an idea of an art of their own, Danto said.

"The thirsting millions do thirst for art," he said, "but it is not yet something a museum can provide them with, because art is valid for those to whom the art constitutes an art of their own." The reason people search for an art they can relate to, he said, is because art means different things to different peo-

"The same works will not affect the same people in the same way every time," he said, "but that's why we go back to the masterpieces. We go back not because we'll see something new in the piece of art, but because we know there's a possibility to see something new in ourselves or in our world."

The struggle museums face, Danto said, is that this experience may come from outside a museum, which poses a challenge with bringing people into the building.

"The source of the knowledge to experience art," he said, "does not necessarily belong to the museum docents and art historians, but rather to philosophy and religion.

Another challenge the art community faces is coming to a definition of art especially in light of the idea of an art of their own, Danto said.

Danto explained how art must be created, relevant to the artist.

"Artists must realize what gives meaning to their lives and how to make art out of it," he said. "And we must preserve those meanings. That is the role of the museum." Jane Wegscheider, an artist from Council Grove, said she agreed with

"I like his affirmation of the meanings that people get from art," she said.

"Art is about something meaningful."
In addition, Kathy Wylie, senior in art therapy, said she thought the lecture was relevant to the construction of the Marianna Kistler Beach Museum of Art on campus.

"Hopefully it will attract more people who don't see art on a regular basis," she said, "because how people relate to and experience art will always be in a different way."

Danto is a Johnsonian Professor Emeritus of philosophy at Columbia University and art critic for the Nation magazine. In addition, he has published numerous books and articles on the philosophy of art.

HEFLING

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 8

Despite the hard work it involved, Hefling said that the other students working had fun.

"Although it was pretty loud back there, all the boys would be hollering at one another. We would yell if someone bowled really well or if we knew that this person wouldn't wait for you pick the pins up or if they were wild. It was kind of a club that did it," Hefling said.

Before closing the alley for the night, Hefling said they would bowl a couple of games.

Each person would get two balls and roll them down a lane, Hefling said.

"It would help your average go up quicker," Hefling said.

or brought their lunches to eat at the Union, Hefling said.

during the weekends, Hefling said.

ways come down," Hefling said.

ends, Hefling said.

Hefling said.

people like to do. Your friends would al-recreational entertainment on the week-socialize. If you were going to meet anyone during the day it would be at the all we did was go to class and then back to the Union and go to class and back to the Union again. We would also use it as a meeting place before going somewhere,"

Some students even ate at the cafeteria

"It was very much a place to go and

"We spent a lot of time there, because The games room in the Union was a Students spent their evenings studying at the Union until it closed at 10 p.m. and very popular place for students to hang out then headed to get a cup of coffee before "Bowling is always something that leaving to come home and begin studying again, Hefling said. "If I remember correctly, there weren't The Union was more than a place for a lot of places to study at, so we usually went to the Union," Hefling said.

Hefling said he remembered working out math problems on the white Formica tables in the Union.

"I remember teachers would come around sometimes in the day and you could get them to help you with a problem or two," Hefling said

The popularity of the Union could be attributed to the fact that it was the new place for students to go on campus, he said. "I can remember the floor plan, but I can't remember what it looked like exactly. I'm sure that it has all changed now," Hefling said.

for the space left behind by the campus

Hall will be turned over to the College of Engineering, and the physics department will get the space formerly

The Public Safety offices in Ward

police, Cooper said.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

the place where the person is calling from, Mellgren said.

"Very few students come here to report things," Mellgren said.

Bringing the divisions of the Department of Public Safety together in one building will improve the working relationship between them, John Lambert, director of public safety, said. "It is definitely better for communication," Lambert said. "We were pretty widespread before.'

Because Parking Services and the campus police work closely, they already are connected by radio, Archer

"Being in the same building will allow us to have closer, face-to-face communication with the officers," he said. No definite plans have been made occupied by Parking Services in Burt Hall, Cooper said. The best estimate for when the move will occur is June of this year, Lambert said. "We will move in as soon as the building is ready for us," he said.

Косн

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

The final concept of the marketbased management theory is market transaction, Koch said.

"It is based on what I think is a globally underappreciated mechanism for creating knowledge in society," he

The firm needs to create internal profit signals so employees can see what contributes value and what does not, Koch said.

"Dealing with rapid change requires more than applying one of these five di-mensions of market-based management. It requires applying all five," he said.

Market-based management has given a new vision of employees. Rather than have jobs, employees have set rights and responsibilities, Koch said.

"It is ultimately about helping people fulfill their potential, helping people improve their lives by making a contribution, helping people to do good by doing well," Koch said.

539-5200

$3.29 8 oz. Ribeye Every Tuesday and Wednesday 5-8 p.m. Tuesday $3 60 oz. Pitchers All Day

539-KICK • 2315 TUTTLE CREEK

CONGRATULATIONS CHRISTINE IRISH MOTLEY

Department of Family Studies and Human Services.

Winner of the Golden Key 1996 Outstanding Graduate Teaching Assistant Award

Visiting Scholar or of KQED Center for Edu & Lifelong Learning San Francisco, California

Apartment Search 105:

How to Find the Perfect Apartment!"

Presented by: CONSUMER AND TENANT AFFAIRS

Special guest:

Pat Ball, City of Manhattan Code Inspector

Gain valuable information for renting an apartment or house:

· Conducting a thorough search Understanding a rental agreemen

· Budgeting

STUDENT UNION, BIG 8 ROOM Tuesday, March 5, 1996 • 2:30 p.m.

For more information, please contact Scott Smith, Director

Consumer and Tenant Affairs Office of Student Activities and Services, Ground Floor of the Student Union 532-6541

Whole Tuna Sandwich and a side $1 OFF

expires 3-18-96 1219 Bluemont · Aggieville

FREE Tinted Contacts

Purchase 12 pairs of FreshLook clear disposables and receive 3 pairs of FreshLook colored tinted contacts FREE. Limited time offer

Dr. Verne Claussen optometrist

Wamego 456-2236

Weekdays 10:30-8 p.m. 631 Lincoln

Every MATTRESS SET

Saturday 10:30-6 p.m. Sunday Noon-5 p.m.

GOING OF BUSINESS!

Financing Available ALL SALES FINAL

Classifieds

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

BULLETIN BOARD

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scube dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, at Creative Travel, 539-0531, class-es now forming.

ADVANCED FLIGHT
TRAIMING. 6000-hour
flight instructor specializing in multi-engine and other advanced ratings. Very competitive
rates. Hugh Irvin, 539-3128.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776–6735 after 5:30p.m.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND : Black winter cost with white lining. Found in Anderson Hall February 23, Room 211. Contact Mary or Bren-

I FOUND a cat recently. I you've lost one in the last three weeks. Call 587-8372.

LOST PUPPY: Blue heel-er, black & white, KSU collar 7th and Hum-boldt, Sunday. Call 537-7905.

Parties-n-More D A extra touch of class to your next perty. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental. 537-1825.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelorette perties and birthdays. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at reasonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, reli-glon, age, color, na-tional origin or ances-try. Violations should be reported to the Di-rector of Numan Re-sources at City Hall, 587-2440.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

PARKING SOUTH OF THE UNION

A VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apart-ments. Close to cam-pus. Call Moore Man-

egement. One-bed-room $320, two-bed-room with fireplace $510, two-bedroom with one and one-half bath $510, two-bed-room $400. Summer sublesses available, no pets. Water, trash paid. Juna and August lease available. Call $37-7542 9a.m.— 6p.m. or 537-4567 after 7p.m.

UNION

AUGUST LEASE: Next to campus- Eastside un-furnished two-bed-room with fireplace and laundry. Westside fur-nished one/ two-bed-room. Both locations have balcony, central air/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen, and off-street parking. 539-2702 leave mes-AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-

p.m. (Except holidays)

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours Mon.-Fri. 8-5

LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apertments-for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU. Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichola Hall. Deluxe two-bad-room apartment. $490-

Collegian Classifieds

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE

(913)841-5716

EMPLOYMENT/

CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he she is properly quali-

work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classifica-tion. Readers are ad-vised to approach any such employment opportunity with reason-able caution. The Col-legian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, To-peka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Trave! (Car-ibbean, Europe, Ha-waii!) Seasonal/ Per-manent, no experience necessary. Gde. (919)929-4398 ext. C1069

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

$22.50/ HOUR part-time/ full-time. Easy work. Get paid for shopping

ALASKA JOBS- Fishing In-dustry. Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month plus benefits. Male/ female.

PLOYMENT. Fisher

No experience necessary. (206)971-3510 ext-A57683.

ies, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000-

$6000 plus/ month! Air-fare! Room/ Board! Free video with pro-gram! Call SEI (919)932-1489, ext. A87.

and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All

Let us help. For more

CRUISE SHIPS hiring- Earn up to $2000 plus/ month. World travel. Seasonal and full-time

CUSTOM HARVEST Crew

members needed. Com-bine, Truck and Silage

Truck operators for summer and fall har-vest. Excellent wages including room and board, monthly salary and bonus. Call even-ings (913)877–2081, ask for Randy. Clydesdale Harvesting and Truck-ing.

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated individuals. Fast, easy-no financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982 ext.33.

positions. No experi-ence necessary. For in-formation call (206)971-3550 ext.F57684.

ext.C57684.

ATTENTION ALL Students!

ext. 2009

and your opinion or new consumer pro-ducts. No experience re-quired. (800) 638-6845, and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D.

$500. Also one-bedroom apartment for August $320, 539-2482

NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537-8389.

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Claflin next to campus $325 plus deposit plus electric. Au gust year lease. No pets, 537-1180.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM FUR-NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428

For Rent-Unfurnished

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS

Corner of College and Claffin, Manhattan

- 1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments
- Deck/Patios for each unit
- On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry
- Covered Parking ***********
- 2 BR $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735 4 BR - $860 & $880

Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases

For more information. call: (913) 776-3663

Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday Noon to 3 p.m.

10 K Apartments. Spaquality apartments in new complex two blocks east of campus, large, L-shaped kitchen, dishwasher, air condities, laundry, quiet street, no pets. June through May lease $480, 539-2536.

AVAILABLE AUGUST1, four-bedroom, close to campus, no pets.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATEbedroom apartment for now, summer and fall Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

BRITTNAY RIDGE lown Homes Now Leasing or June & August "Very Nice" 1500 sq. 4 bedroom, 2% bath townhomes Refrigerator, range, Icrowave, dishwasher ull-size washer/dryer in each unit. EARLY BIRD SPECIAL

Model Showings: ed. 3-5, Thurs. 6-8, Sat. 11-Noon 2529 Candlecrest Circle

776-3804

AVAILABLE JUNE 1- one Washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. $375, Call 776-5981. Ask for Tasha or Travis.

OUT.

ROYAL OWERS

partments June & Au

droom/2 bath 50 mo./3 people 60 mo./4 people

Model Showings: M-F 5-5:30 p.m. at on-site office or M-F by appt. 776-3804

COTTAGE, ONE-BED ROOM, near City Park, available immediately, available 539-7277.

CRESTWOOD APART STWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345.

FOR SUMMER and fall, two beautiful apart-ments at North Park Apartments. 1200 Fre-mont. Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537-0428.

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

arge 2-bedroom units

537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

LARGE THREE-BEDROOM with roomy closets in a nine-plex. Living room, dining area, fully equipped kitchen, low utilities, $210 each. Available June 1 and

Now Is The Time

- 2 bedroom apartments Great location
- Large bedrooms
- Two bathrooms ▲ Walk-in closets ▲ Washer/dryer
- hook-ups ▲ Fireplaces ▲ Large pool

NOW LEASING JUNE 8 AUGUST CALL 587-1380

Open Houses Daily The Curtin Company

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Avail-able immediately. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

LEASING FOR Fall. Twobedroom, two bath du-plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, garbage disposal, laun-dry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings

(913)632-2744. LEASING FOR Summer and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, garbage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744.

NICE, QUIET, one and two be dulet, one and two-bedroom apartments. 909 Moro. Gas, water, trash paid. Off-street parking. No pets and no smoking. $300 and $400. Available June 1. 537-9306.

ONE, TWO, three, four-bedroom apartments. June lease no pets. Water and trash paid. Call 539-1975. ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now, two blocks from campus. Water and trash paid $355 or $375 with pet, 565-0759.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE immediately, near Aggieville. 1124 Fremont, $395. Water, trash paid. Call now. 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry, facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804.

•2 bedrooms

% block from campus

Furnished and unfurnished

ONE-BEDROOM KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM WITH study available now, 1212 Thurston, $400. Near KSU campus, Wa-ter, trash paid, Call 776-3804.

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 1413 Cam-bridge #8, 539-2951.

POOLSIDE, THIRD level, two-bedroom at Chase Manhattan Apart-ments, great view, available August 1, call now 565-0615.

PRELEASING: TWO-BED-ROOM, one block from campus. Available June 1. Water and trash paid. $495/ month. 539-1897.

TWO- THREE- four-bedroom near campus, one and one-half bath. Central air, laundry, dish-washer, 537-1746.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT $490/ month. Available now- July. Call 539-9524.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENTS at Plaza West Apartments available now. Large, clean apart-ment $400 lower level or $420 middle level Call 539-2649.

AVAILABLE NOW: Twobedroom apartment, near campus; all ap-pliances; laundry, gym, pool on-site; $570/ call 776-3663; (316)722-4469.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475, now through May 31. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now through May 31. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

WALK ACROSS to Aggieville and campus Spacious one and two-bedroom apartments available now and Au gust. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

For Rent-

AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with wash er, dryer, central air, some with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

AVAILABLE IMME DIATELY. Four-bed 776-1340.

FIVE-BEDROOM, TWO bath, two kitchens, cen-tral air. August 1, lease. Call (913)494-8325.

FOR RENT or sale, two-bedroom house in Keats. Huge yard, out-door pets ONLY. Con-tact Dick Walsh at Blan-ton Reality. 776–8506.

THREE- FOUR and five-bedroom houses, ranch

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX $325/ month. Water paid. Last month free

Home Away From Home!

Now leasing for 1996-97

Showings every

Monday through Friday

2-4 p.m.

1852 Anderson Place #16

776-1222

Wanted

FEMALE GRADUATE stud-ent needs roommate for house rent $192.50 plus utilities: water, trash, phone, cable and KPL. Call 776-1195.

FEMALE ROOMMATE needed immediately, now through July 31. $213/ month plus one-half utilities. Call Ken-dra 537-9169, leave wanted immediately. $162.50 a month plus one-third utilities. Townhouse. Own room and bath. Call Sarah 537-0575.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one of two-bed-room apartment. $245/ month. Now- July. Call

OM IMMEDIATELY available for female roommate. Low rent, bills split three ways. Close to campus. 776-8284.

ROOMMATE WANTED 17th Street, three-bed-room apartment, own room $125 utilities included. Now available 539-2909, leave mes

Sublease AVAILABILITY IMME-DIATELY, first month rent free, non-smoking female to share threebedroom, one and one-half bath, very nice. Low one-third utilities. Parking. (316)733–4092. Call Lisa as soon as pos-

CHASE MANHATTAN summer sublease. For more information call

MAY 20- July 31. Share two-bedroom apart-ment $180/ month. three blocks east cam-pus. 776-9559.

NEGOTIABLE PRICE for two-bedroom apart-ment for sublease during summer. Close to campus. 776-3706, leave message.

SUBLEASE ONE or twobedroom of our three-bedroom house. June-July. Female, nonsmoker, no pets. Rent $197.50 plus utilities, share. Call 776-8004.

SUMMER SUBLEASE, two people needed for a three-bedroom two-bathroom. Chase Manhattan Apartments Ground level, poolside, close to clubhouse. $150 negotiable. Call SUMMER SUBLEASE: Nonroom in three-bed room, two bath apart ment. Across from cam-pus plus walking dis tance to Aggieville. Laundry facilities and off-street parking pro-vided. Rent $265/ month, negotiable. Contact Misty at 587-0917.

home. Reasonable rates. Call Diana, ist will type anything on my home computer: re-ports, proposals, thesis, spreadsheets. Have IBMPC with Windows, Lotus, MSPublisher, Works. Call for more in-formation and quote.

formation and quote. Sonya, 776-1132.

GUITAR LESSONS: Learn to play guitar. Indi-vidual and group rates available. Rob 539-6623.

TYPIST. Experienced typ-rates. (587-0411.

Other

Services

DIRECTORY

Resume/

Typing PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

TYPING DONE in my style, appliances, west of University. June–June occupancy. $690–$800–$900 monthly. 537–1269.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

with twelve month lease. (913)379-5450.

Roommate

Make Anderson Place Your

030 Personals

$20 For Rent -- House 108 For Sale -- House

115 Rooms Available

140 For Rent - Gara 146 Roommets Went

168 Stable/Pesture 160 Office Space YES LUID NV Side

400 SERVICE DIRECTORY

246 Pet Services 180 Automotive Repair 86 Other Services

$10 Resume/Typing

36.

40 MARKET

ogs Wanted to Buy 410 Items for Sale

418 Funiture to Buy/Sel 420 Garage/Yard Sales

430 Adiques еза Сопритеги

160 Pets and Suppli

660 Stilleo Equipment 460 Tokels to Buy Ball Items for Sale FOR SALE by Sealed Bid: Nine- Herman Miller Dining Tables; 40- Her-man Miller Chairs; one-Carver Press with 12

MEC.KSU.EDU)

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats

the retail price! Inter-ested? Call 587-1017 for weekly listing of miscellaneous items.

Antiques

WANTED PART-TIME help now and or full-time for summer with crops and machine work. Need experience with planters and tillage equipment. (913)457-3440.

Top salaries, room, board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-392-3752. 392-3752. STUDENT COMPUTER Opreator (2nd shift) 10–30 hours per week. Must be willing to work hours indicated and work every other weekend. Must be enrolled in at least one resident hour during the semes-ter and willing to work during student recesses Volunteers and summer months. applications will be ac-cepted until 5p.m. Fri-day, March 8, 1996 in Room #2 Farrell Library.

STUDENT'S DREAM Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural pro-ducts. Doctor recommended. Increases energy, mental alertness. 539-7336.

MENT: Experienced combine or truck drivers needed for custom wheat harvesting operation. Lancaster Harvesting, Dodge City, Kansas. (316)227–8821.

JOBS IN the Great Outdoors- National Parks, Forests and Wildlife SUMMER HARVEST help wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in May. Call Mike Parker, Preserves are now hir ing. For information, call (206)971-3620 ext-Waterville, KS. Phone; (800)653-8235. KAPLAN TEST-PREP seeks campus rep. Earn extra money and a free course by distributing speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Rus-sian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Su-san, Unlimited Income.

flyers, promoting KA-PLAN programs, and taking in enrollments.

to KAPLAN, 3848 W. 75th St., Shawnee Mis-sion, KS 66208.

Needed 38 people to lose weight. All natural Dr. recommended. 587-1037.

instruct, coach or assist. Openings in: Base-ball, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All

Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing

Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top sala-ries excellent facilities room/ baord/ laundry

travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

NEED A summer job? UFM needs WSI certified in-NEED SUMMER job? Red Cross WSI certification classes will be offered by UFM. March 15- 23 kends). Ca 539-8763.

OUTSIDE

(evenings and wee-kends). Call to register.

JOBS Tropical Beach/ Mountain Resorts, Na-tional Parks, Ranches,

Rafting Companies! 500 plus employers na-tionwide! Call SEII (919) 932-1489, ext. R85.

Sister Camps in Mas sachusetts: Counselo positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball:

ey, Soccer, Volleyball, 30 Tennis apenings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-

also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and

Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper,

Photography, Year-book, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities

(Swimming, Skiing Sailing, Windsurfing Canoeing/ Kayaking)

PREMIERE BROTHERS-

SUMMER

structors to teach Red Cross swimming less-ons. Morning, late af-ternoon, and evening. Call 539–8763.

LOSE WEIGHT NOW!

MAINE. EXCITING, fün-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to 539-7336.

SUMMER SEASONAL STREET LABORER POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill SIX Summer Sea-sonal full-time Street Seasonal Laborer posi-tions. Persons are re-sponsible for various street maintenance including asphalt and concrete. Must be willing to work in disagreeable weather. Driver's license is required. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks (May 15th August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until positions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Office, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS. EOE-M/F/D street maintenance in TRAFFIC LABORER POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill FOUR Summer Seasonal full-time Traffic Seasonal Laborer positions. Persons are responsible for painting of traffic lines, cross-walks, etc., on city streets and curbs. Use hand tools including brooms, brushes and roller brushes, and need to carry five gal-lon paint buckets. Must be willing to work in disagreeable weather. Driver's license is required. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks May 15th-August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until posi-tions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Office, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS EOE-M/F/D.

THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you are proud of your accomplishments and want to join an axed. want to join an excel-lent team of professionals fax your resume to: Advertising Direc-tor, fax (316)267-8570.

TROPICAL RESORTS HIT ing. Entry-level and ca-rear positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, housekeepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness counselors, and more. Excellent benefits + bonuses. Call Resort Employment Services 1-206-971-3600 ext.

WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience ar-ound farm machinery or trucks preferred Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776-1321 ask for Ryan or (913)582-5359.

Needed

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED to LUNTEERS NEEDED to work as small group leaders for second and third graders at an after school program every other Tuesday, 2:30– 5:15p.m. Mar. 19- May 7. Contact at Riley County Extension Of-fice, 537-6350. MARKET ton Jack; one weigh scale with Mahogany Case; one Westing-house Electric range (pink- in good condi-tion); two Fisher Scien-tific Analytical Balance es; Wheaton Portable Autostill; Beckman 110A Liquid Chroma-tograph Solvent Delivery System with Beck-man 210 Injector valve, one-Hitachi UV/VIS Dectector; one-Gilford Spectrophotometer; Ze-nith Z181 Laptop Com-puter; one-HP Color Plotter, Bids will close at 5p.m. April 1, 1996. For information, bid sheets and/ or to view sale items, contact Dave Trumble, Justin Hall 146B, KSU (532-5508) or (e-mail TRUMBLE@HU

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS-New and used Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT workwear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9- 5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734. HOMEGYM POWERMAX

70072 three workout stations. $120 cash for best offer. Call 539-3157.

military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-den, KS. SAVINGS AT 40- 70% off

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

386 SX 4 RAM 80 HD Windows 3.1 DOS 6.22 14-inch VGA, just tuned. Great beginner's computer. $400 or best offer. 776–2329.

486 DX 4 133 8MB RAM 6x CD. 395-4811.

COMPUTER FOR sale: 486DX2/66 16 M RAM 900 plus M hard drive CD SVGA monitor 14.4 bps ext. modem, Viper video, 25-pin LQ print-er, Win 95 MS Office for Win 95, 537-9657 leave message.

MACINTOSH CENTRIS 610, 68040 CPU125 mhz, 8MB RAM, 340MB hard drive, 14-inch Sony color monitor, keyboard, mouse, soft-wares, $1000, 537-8990,

Instruments

FOR SALE: six string lba-nez electric guitar, dual, single coil pickups, volume, tone controls. Call 395-2732.

Pets and Supplies

FOR SALE Albino Burmes Python, Borneo Blood Python, pair of Amazon Boas. 537-6871

PROFESSIONAL Grooming, reasonable prices. Call 537-7905.

TWO FREE Parakeets with cage, toys, food. Call Ni cole, 776–9548.

Sporting

Equipment BEST PRICES on Clarion car audio. Shippable on credit card orders. Installation available by appointment. Sound investments. Seneca, KS (913)336-3880.

LANGE TII ski boots for sale. Size 9 1/2, like new. Best offer. 539-4959 ask for Dallas.

Tickets to Buy/Sell

PORTATION

ment tickets. (800)387-TRANS-

WANTED: BIG 8 Tourna-

Automobiles 1982 OLDSMOBILE station wagon, nine passenger. good family car in good condition $1000.

1984 HONDA CRX five-speed, 91K, AM/FM cassette, air condi-tioning, $1050 or best offer. 537-2144. 1984 VOLVO 240 for sale, runs great $1200, nego-tiable. Please call 776-9381.

1987 MONTE Carlo SS below average miles. 539-8307.

ANTED: 1984 through 1987 Chevrolet Caprice. High mileage ok. Even-ings 776–3624.

Motorcycles 1993 YAMAHA FZR 6000 $3900. 537-7383. Leave message. TRAVEL/

Spring

TRIPS

Break KEYSTONE CONDO for rent over Spring Break. Two-bedroom, two full baths, sleeps six, jacuz-zi, walk to slopes. (913)897-3421.

A LOT CAN BE SAID ABOUT A LITTLE BIT OF SPACE: It works

KANSAS STATE

COLLEGIAN

532-6555

Classified Directory

610 Amountements 020 Lost and Found

040 Meetings/Events

216 Desklop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations DAS Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Cera

SSE Child Care 240 Musiciana/D.ls

EMPLOYMENT!

498 Auction

440 Frod Specials 646 Music Instrumen

CATEGORIES looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and 610 Automobile 550 taxacoxin

TRANS-

PORTATION

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

To help you find what you are sub-category. All categories are images, and sub-categories are marked by one of the large preceded by a number designation.

potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

Always put what item or service

you are advertising first. This helps

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

K-STATE STUDENT UNION

A WORD FROM THE DIRECTOR

The Enhancement Steering Committee, K-State Student Union Staff and The Ken Ebert Design Group architectural firm are continuing to pursue the finalization of plans for the K-State Student Union Enhancement Project. A variety of secondary decisions have been addressed. A charrette, shematic design, project budget refinement and bond issuance represents our next stage in the process. It is our goal to retain the integrity of the Enhancement Project and fulfill the parameters identified.

- Bernard J. Pitts

March Specials in the Student Union

March 10 - 16

March 11

March 1 Live Jazz, 9:00pm - Midnite, Union Station Movie: Ace Ventura II, 7:00 & 9:30pm, Forum Hall International Nite, 10:00pm - 1:00am, Union Station March 2 Movie: Ace Ventura, 7:00pm, Forum Hall Movie: Cronos, 9:30pm, Forum Hall March 3 - 9 Film Specials - 2 for 1 enlargement at the Information Counter Poetry Reading, 9:00pm, Union Station. UPC March 4 40th Anniversary of the K-State Student Union March 4 - 8 40¢ bowling, 9:00 - 5:00 40¢ specials in Union vending machines 40¢ popcorn at the Information Counter. One per customer 40th Anniversary Reception at 5:30 in Courtyard March 6 Panel Discussion on Student Rights Movement, 7:30pm, Forum Hall March 8 40¢ ice cream sundaes, 11:30 - 1:30 in the Courtyard 40¢ 8.5 x 11 color copies in Copy Center 40¢ canned pop at the Information Counter. One per customer March 5 - 7 Grad Fair, 10:00am - 4:00pm in the Courtyard. Sponsored by Bookstore Blood Pressure Screening, 8:30 - 4:30, table 5 March 6 March 7 Movie: Search & Destroy, 7:00 & 9:30pm, Forum Hall March 8 Live Jazz, 9:00pm - Midnite, Union Station Movie: Golden Eye, 7:00 & 9:30pm, Forum Hall Deadline to order purchased material for Spring Commencement Horticultural Therapy plant sale, 9:30 - 3:00, table 2 March 9 Christian Dance Nite, 10:00pm - 1:00am, Union Station Movie: Golden Eye, 7:00, Forum Hall

Movie: Search & Destroy, 9:30, Forum Hall

Banner Contest March 12 Laura Pederson, 7:00pm, Forum Hall. UPC March 12 - 17 Chinese Movie Week, 7:00 - 9:30pm, Little Theatre, March 13 Principal/Counselor/Student Conference March 14 Live Entertainment: Here and Now, 8:00pm, Ballroom India Nite, 8:00pm - 1:00am, Union Station Movie: Eat, Drink, Man, Woman, 7:00 & 9:30, Forum Hall St. Patrick's Day Celebration in the Student Union Bookstore March 14 - 17 Live Music: Time Suttle & the Great Sleeping Adams, 9:00pm - Midnite, March 15 Union Station Howard Wiarda Lecture, 2:00pm, Forum Hall, UPC Movie: Braveheart, 7:00, Forum Hall March 16 African American Nite, 10:00pm - 1:00am, Union Station Ebony Fashion Revue, 7:00, Grand Ballroom Movie: Braveheart, 6:00, Forum Hall Movie: Eat, Drink, Man, Woman, 10:00, Forum Hall March 17 Spade Tournament, 6:00pm, Union Station March 17 - 23 Film Specials - 2nd set free at the Information Counter Poetry Reading, 9:00pm, Union Station. UPC March 18 Poetry Reading, 4:30 - 6:30pm, Union 212 March 19 Live Entertainment: Comedy Sportz, 8:00pm, Union Station

Free You Mind Week - UPC Multicultural Committee

William Gates of Hoop Dreams, 7:00pm, Forum Hall

Debate: Extreme, Noon, Courtyard.

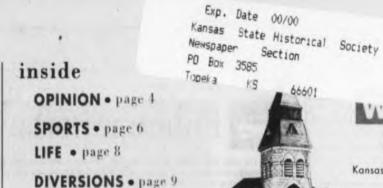

Closed Dring Break Building Hours 8:00a 9:00a 7:00a 8:00a 11:00p 11:00p 4:00p 5:00p 2:00p 10:30p 2:00p 2:00p Closed Closed Closed 9:00a 10:00p 10:30a 7:00a 7:30a 6:00p 5:30p Closed 8:00a - 5:00p 9:00a - 4:00p 7:45a - 4:30p 11:00a -10:30p 11:00a - 10:30p 7:30a - 4:00p 8:00a - 5:00p Closed 7:00a - 10:30p 7:30a - 5:30p 5:00p 4:45p 4:45p 11:00p 11:00p 4:00p 5:00p - 2:00p 8:00p 5:30p 8:00a - 5:00p 9:00a - 4:00p 7:45a - 4:30p 11:00a -10:30p 7:30a - 4:00p 8:00a - 5:00p Closed 8:00a - 5:00p 9:00a - 4:00p 7:45a - 4:30p 11:00a -10:30p 7:30a - 4:00p 8:00a - 5:00p Closed BS CC IC RC SW SR UPC US Closed Closed Closed 2:00p-10:00p 2:00p-10:00p Closed 8:00a - 5:00p 9:00a - 4:00p 7:45a - 4:30p 11:00a -10:30p 11:00a -10:30p 7:30a - 4:00p 8:00a - 5:00p 2:00p BS CC IC RC SR UPC US 8:00a -BSC ICC SR C USB DR BSC ICC RS SR CUS BR CUS BR BCCCRSRC RSSPSBR UUGD BCCCRSRC SSPC US Closed 8:00a 5:00p 8:00a 9:00a 9:00a 10:00a 11:00p 11:00p 2:00p 8:00a Closed Closed 7:00a 7:00a 8:00a Closed 10:30a 7:00a 7:30a 6:00p GB DR 12:00a- 5:30p GB 7:00a - 10:30p 7:00a - 10:30p 7:30a - 5:30p 29 30 Closed Closed DE SERVE Closed 2:00p 2:00p Closed 10:30p Stateroom, 532-6580 Bookstore, 532-6593 Union Program Council, 532-6571 CC Copy Center, 532-5596 UPC Closed 5:00p Information Counter, 532-6592 Union Station, 532-6736 IC GB 12:00p-11:00p Recreation, 532-6582 General Building, 532-6591 RC GB Closed Subway, 532-0600 DR Director's Office/Reservations, 532-6591 SW

March 23 - 31

Spring Break!

Today: Snow likely. See weather map, page 2.

March 6, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 107

CHILD REVERSES HIV

Baby Charles, born with HIV, was somehow able to shuck the virus that causes AIDS. Charles, now five, still tests negative for HIV. New reports, mostly from Europe, are beginning to confirm this phenomenon.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Senate rejects increase in publications fee

Courtney Marshall

The power of the executive veto loomed over Student Senate Tuesday night when it came time to vote on the Student Publications

Inc. fee increase. The proposed $301,859 operating level that Student Publications

Inc. requested was voted down, and some senators said they felt comments made by John Potter, senate chair, contributed to the loss of the bill.

'What you have here is a power struggle between the establishment SGA and Student Pub.," Steve Weatherman, business senator, Russell Fortmeyer, engineering senator, said he felt Potter was speaking for the executive branch. "I owe my allegiance to my constituents. I don't owe it to the executive branch," he said. 'I'm sick of these petty politics and, boy, is that a buzz word this

Potter said he addressed Student Senate because he did not think senators would make the right decision about the proposed Student Publications Inc. fee increase.

"I don't do this very often. I don't take pleasure in doing this, but I see a lot of things that are not being addressed, and I fear that Senate is going to make a very bad decision tonight," Potter said.

Potter told senators that if the Student Publications Operations Fee was passed at the level of $301,859, Jeff Peterson, student body president, would probably veto the bill.

An amendment was presented that would have decreased the fee from $301,859 to $278,220. The amendment failed to carry a twothirds vote.

"I fear that we're not thinking tonight. Someone, tell me what happened last week — a veto," he

Last Tuesday, Peterson vetoed the health fee increase for Lafene Health Center.

Peterson ran on a platform of no student fee increases, and he has stood by his campaign promises, Potter said.

• See SENATE Page 10

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

Dole sweeps votes; competitors resign

Associated Press

Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., swept eight primaries Tuesday and seized an overwhelming lead in the Republican presidential race as GOP voters blocked Pat Buchanan's conservative challenge and turned the party's attention to beating President Clinton in November.

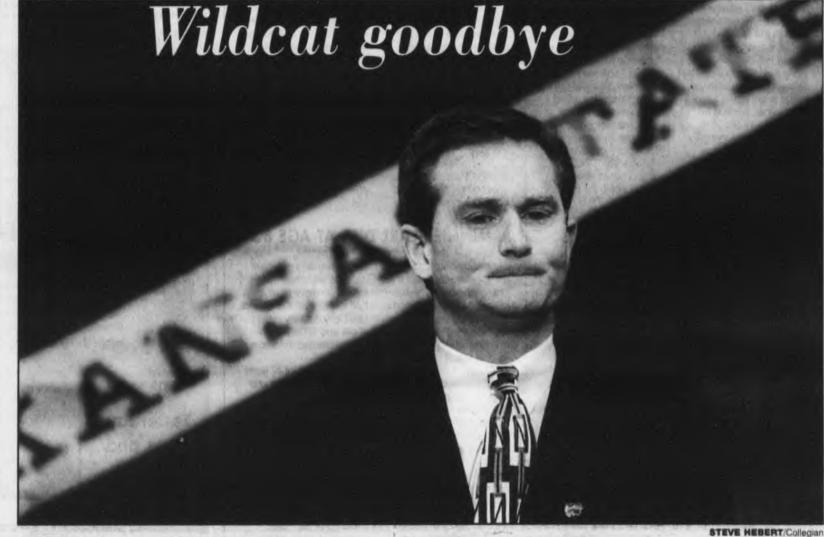

"We'll return conservative leadership to the White House," Dole told cheering supporters in Washington, acting as if the nomination fight was over. "And I will be very proud to carry that ban-

So overwhelming were Dole's victories that two lagging rivals - former Tennessee Gov. Lamar Alexander and Sen. Dick Lugar, R-Indiana decided to quit the race on Wednesday, shrinking the field for the contests ahead.

Dole, flush with confidence that his third bid for the GOP nomination would be successful, told the Associated Press, "I always felt in my heart it was going to happen, but you never know until the people vote."

Dole won primaries in Georgia, Vermont, Connecticut, Maryland, Maine, Massachusetts, Colorado and Rhode Island — a Junior Tuesday primary sweep. There also were caucuses in Minnesota and Washington to begin choosing their

• See DOLE Page 10

Mitch Holthus, voice of the K-State Wildcats for the last 13 years, responds to questions during a press conference Tuesday, where he announced his resignation. Holthus said the wear and tear factor of the past two season, in which he was also the voice of the Kansas City Chiefs,

'Voice of Wildcats' quits, will spend more time at home

IT WAS A SAD DAY in Wildcat land yester-day after the weekly Tom Asbury press conference as Mitch Holthus announced his resignation as the radio play-by-play Voice of the Kansas State Wildcats. Holthus, who has had the position for the last 13 years, has become famous across the region over the last few years doing

A look back at the 13 seasons with Mitch Holthus See sports, page 6. everything from commercial endorsements with Briggs Jeep Eagle to becoming the Voice of the Kansas City Chiefs. Holthus said he had been trying to gather his thoughts during the past year and a half.

"I have made the decision to step down as the radio play-by-play Voice of the Kansas State Wildcats," Holthus said. "In addition, I will also resign my position as the sales manager of the Wildcat Sports Network. This decision was made because of primarily two reasons."

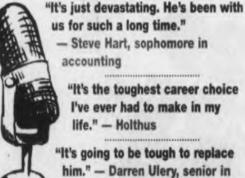

"First, the wear and tear factor of the past two seasons has taken its toll. Over the past two years, I have had seven jobs, and now I am going to cut back to five. Secondly, this decision was made so I

• See HOLTHUS Page 10

Holthus was known for putting a "big, big, big, big" in front of his announcement of a Wildcat victory.

stories by John Berggren

K-Staters mourn Holthus' move, express heartache

WITH THE BOMBSHELL of the resignation of the "Voice of the Wildcats" filtering through campus yesterday, several students showed a lot of emotion and heartache.

To K-State fans, Mitch Holthus was a god of sorts who seemed to know every conceivable statistic and tidbit of information. He brought the play-by-play of every K-State game to everyone who had a radio over the last 13 years, and his voice will not soon be forgotten.

"I can't blame a guy not wanting to spread himself too thin," Darren Ulery, senior in marketing management, said. "It's kind of depressing, because he's a symbol for the school - kind of like the 'Wildcat first down' saying. It's going to be tough to replace him."

Several students said they are concerned K-State will have problems finding a comparable replacement for Holthus.

"It's just devastating," Steve Hart, sophomore in accounting, said. "He's been with us for such a long time. It's a big, big, big, big, big loss for K-State. I don't know who will do as good of a job as

• See STUDENTS Page 10

SPEED LIMIT

65 mph changes to 70 mph on Kansas roads

Three days before speed limits in Kansas would have reverted back to the pre-1974 speed limit, Gov. Bill Graves signed a bill Tuesday increasing the speed limits.

The new law increases the speed limit on interstates and four-lane divided highways to 70 mph. The speed limit will increase to 65 mph on improved two-lane highways, and county roads will remain at 55 mph.

'The law will go into effect on March 22," Mike Matson, the governor's press secretary, said. The cost of changing speed limit signs was budgeted and will come from the Department of Transportation, Matson said. "Right now the base estimate cost is $340,000," said Ken Miller, representative

Speed increases March 22 Governor Bill Graves signed a bill Tuesday increasing the speed limits on interstates and four-line divided highways to 70 mph. The speed limit will increase to 65 mph on improved two-lane highways, and county roads will remain at 55 mph. The law will go into effect March 22. This chart compares the time it takes for a car to travel 116 miles from exit 318 on I-70 to Kansas City. Kansas City Manhattan Topeka 1 hour and 47 minutes spokesman for the Kansas Department of Transportation.

Not all signs will be completely new; some will have aluminum overlays on them, Sandra Tommer, area engineer for K-DOT, said.

"On March 22, we are planning to change all the signs on 1-70 in one day," Tommer said. It will take longer to change signs on other roads, Miller said.

"Two-lane roads still need to be studied to find what the appropriate speed is going to be by the Kansas Department of Transportation. They will determine the safest speed under the new speed legislation," Miller said.

See SPEED Page 10

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegio

marketing and management

STATE GOVERNMENT

Bill would require keg tags

Associated Press

TOPEKA - Buying beer might become more complicated than slapping down some change and hauling off a keg, under a proposal designed to prevent the fountain-style barrels of brew from showing up at teen-age

A bill before the House Federal and State Committee would require retailers to fasten identification tags onto the kegs and then record who the beer was sold to.

The records would help law enforcement to track down the adult who bought the beer for the underage

"Large congregations of drinking youths at events such as keg parties present unique challenges to police in enforcing alcohol laws," said Rosalie Thornburgh, the Kansas Department of Transportation's traffic safety bureau chief. "A keg registration law could provide the necessary deterrent to the potential purchaser and prevent these situations from occurring."

Proponents also argued that if teen-agers were relegated to consuming beer in cans or bottles, they would

That in turn would cut down on the number of alcohol-related accidents. But Rebecca Rice, a lobbyist for the Retail Liquor Dealers Association, said the legislation has "Big Brother" overtones that places a law enforcement burden on the people who sell Rice said the penalties under the bill would be worse for the businesses who would be closed five business days for incorrectly recording the information, than for the beer buyer

Rice suggested amending the legislation to grant liquor retailers immunity from civil liability cases.

who would be fined up to $2,200 for allowing underage drinkers to take

'I could see this as being a paperwork nightmare for the retailer," said Rep. Sabrina Standifer, D-Wichita.

The committee took no action on the bill Tuesday.

In the news

▶ VIETNAM TRAINS CUBA FOR POSSIBLE CONFLICT WITH U.S. TROOPS

LONDON (AP) - Vietnam has been training Cuban commandos for limited attacks in the United States if Washington invades Cuba, Jane's Defense Weekly reported Tuesday.

"Havana's strategy in pursuing such training is to attack the staging and supply areas for U.S. forces preparing to invade Cuba," the magazine said.

SALT LAKE CITY

Greene Waldholtz, tangled in a financial mess announced Tuesday she

(AP) - Rep. Enid

she blames on her estranged husband,

"The political objective would be to bring the reality of warfare to the American public and so exert domestic pressure on Washington.'

Vietnam's Communist government has been training Cuban Special Forces troops at least since 1990, Jane's said.

The courses are mainly for midlevel Cuban officers, who pass on the tactics and techniques to soldiers under their command when they return home, the report said.

The training program concentrates on seaborne and underwater operations roughly comparable to those assigned to the U.S. Navy Seals, it said.

Cuban officers train in lakes north of the Black River near the Vietnamese army base at Hoa Binh, southwest of Hanoi, and at seaside sites elsewhere in the country, the magazine said.

▶ ISRAEL PRESSURES TERRORISTS

Justice Department probe of her financial dealings would not be resolved any time soon. "For these reasons and for the sake of my family, friends and supporters, I will not be a will not seek a second term in the fall. The one-time rising star in the Republican party said it would be too difficult to run a campaign while being a single mother, serving on the House Rules Numerous polls Committee and trying to

SENATE SANCTIONS CUBA

SCANDAL CAUSES CAREER END

husband. Waldholtz said she decided to announce her

WASHINGTON (AP)

- With a message that for shooting down two

the Senate decisively passed a bill Tuesday

nomic sanctions on

Cuba.

74-22.

Fidel Castro must answer

American civilian planes, that further tightens eco-

The bill, aimed eign investors from the island, moved to the sage this week, and

President Clinton has

of law to existing sanctions orders against the

The Senate vote was

It also gives the force promised to sign it.

House for certain pas-specifically at driving for-wrongdoing of her former clear her name of the decision now because her lawyers told her the candidate for Congress in 1996," she said in a statement. She did not return messages left at her Washington office.

found the vast majority of Waldholtz's constituents in Utah's 2nd District wanted her to resign or not run again for the Castro government to ensure that no president can ease them without

In a statement,

sage will send Cuba a powerful message that tolerate further loss of

Senate Majority

Kan., spoke of the bill's clear message that the Dole, facing an upcoming primary in rupted his campaign

flew in for the vote.

time of Fidel Castro has

Leader Bob Dole, R-

American life.

come and gone.

the United States will not

Clinton said the bill's pas-an act of Congress.

RAMALLAH, West Bank (AP) - Israeli troops blockaded more than 1 million Palestinians inside the West Bank on Tuesday and sealed the homes of Islamic militants whose bombing war has terrorized Israel and shaken the peace process.

Stepping up their offensive against the militants, soldiers raided a West Bank village, herding all the men into the main square for questioning.

Prime Minister Shimon Peres vowed to imprison relatives of the bombers without trial.

In an about-face, the military wing of Hamas said it would heed a call from the group's political leaders to halt the bombing attacks until July. The wing, Izzedine al Qassam, claimed responsibility for four bombings in nine days that killed four bombers and 57 other people. Angry Israelis buried the 13 victims of the latest attack, killed Monday when an Islamic militant blew himself up outside Tel Aviv's main shopping mall.

Half the dead were children.

► MINNIE PEARL DIES AT AGE 83

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Minnie Pearl, the country-genre comedian known around the world

"Howdyyyyy!" and widebrimmed straw hat with its dangling $1.98 price tag, is dead at age 83. Pearl died Monday night at Columbia Centennial Medical Center after a week of unconsciousness following a stroke on Feb. 25. A previous stroke in 1991 had ended Pearl's performing career and left her partially paralyzed.

anti-Castro Florida, inter-Pearl's loud, cheerful "Howdyyyyy! I'm just so Tuesday in New York and proud to be here!" and her straw hat, toothy grin and calico and gingham dresses were her trademarks on more than a half century on the Grand Ole Opry country music show and 20 years on the syndicated TV show "Hee Haw."

"There's a lot of tears in the nation tonight and certainly quite a few in Grinder's Switch," said Jerry Stroble, manager of the Grand Ole Opry.

highs and Pearl laced her jokes with references to ows 'Grinder's Switch."

Grinder's Switch is a railroad switching station near her hometown of Centerville, 50 miles southwest of Nashville.

Police reports

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

MONDAY, MARCH 4

At 10:45 p.m., Steve Scott reported accidental damages to property when a forklift involved in the Farn

TUESDAY, MARCH 5

At 12:30 p.m., Gerald Fornelli, 508

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

At 5:40 p.m., David Sedlock, 1204 Yuma St., filed a report of criminal property damage when one of his car windows was damaged. Estimated cost of the damage was

At 9:01 p.m., Scott Peterson, 505

Denison Ave, filed a report of aggra-vased burglary, items reported stolen were a backpack, wallet and books with an estimated value of $290.

At 9:40 p.m., Jill Francis,

Goodnow 361, filed a report of

TUESDAY, MARCH 5

At 12:56 a.m., Ladonna Lintect

6252 Pigeon Lane, Apt. 10, reported a possible break-in at her neighbors' residence. Police determined the

MONDAY, MARCH 4

Library construction rolled into the construction lot fence.

will include general elections, and everyone is welcome. A professional develo seminar series will be from 11:30 aggravated burglary. Items reported stolen were a backpack, calculator, wallet and credit cards with an esti-BULLETINS mated value of $161. At 10:09 p.m., Jarrod Bammas, 3515 Hudson Circle, reported the door of the residence to have been kicked in. The residents had been reported gone for several days.

At 10:22 p.m., Ryan Reed, 531 Moro St., Apt. B, filed a major accident report after striking a deer with his vehicle at 3108 Anderson Ave.

theft of four 15-inch rims, valued at $500, from the front porch of his

The Kanass State Collegian (USPS 291 020), student newspaper at Kanass State University, published by Student Publications Inc., Keckne d 103, Marhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian published western Kan. 1650.

class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Sand address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167

© Kansas State Collegian, 1995

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The world is getting smaller. Make yours larger. Volunteer to help an international student practice an international applies in the spoken English in the Conversational English Program.

The American Society for Public Administration will meet at 6 tonight in the Cottonwood Room of ■ Project Release will meet at 7 tonight in Union 206. The meeting a.m. to 1:15 p.m. at the Ramada Inn.

■ College of Human Ecology student ambassador applications are m K-State SCUBA will meet at 6 tonight in Denison 113a.

KSU Alkido will meet from 7 to

The program topic is "Windows to the Future: Promoting Leadership," presented by Manhattan City have a brown bag luncheon from 11

WIC: Healthy Foods and Nutrition Education, has openings for women (pregnant, delivered and breastfeeding), infants and children

Department at 776-4779 ext. 229 for breastfeeding), infants and oup to 5 years. Call the Riley

Vince Primer will present a doc toral dissertation at 2:30 p.m. today at the Galichia Center in room 233.

a.m. to 1 p.m. today in Union 202.

Commissioner Justin Kastner.

M Adult Student Services will

MISS YOUR PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Yesterday's

MANHATTAN Kansas City 49/30 Garden City 54/21

morning. Snow likely central and east. Highs from around 20 northwest to around 35 southeast. North wind 20 to 30 mph and gusty. Wednesday night, evening flurries southeast corner. Cold with lows 5 to 15.

St. Louis .

on't let this spring leave you broke and left out of all the fun.
Go anywhere Greyhound goes for a maximum round trip
fare of $129. For a limited time only, from February 26th until April 15th, students who show a valid student ID can travel to any of our 2,400 destinations. So this spring, take your break on Greyhound.

For more information call 1.800.231.2222.

Dennison R. Hamilton, M.D. MUSCULAR SPRAINS AND STRAINS SYNOVITIS BURSITIS BACK AND NECK Announces the opening OVERUSE INJURIES

CARPAL TUNNEDS THID REMALICE of LACERATIONS FOOT PAIN AND NUMBNESS DEGENERATIVE TO INTERPRETATION DISC HERNATIONS ARTHRITIS

DEGENERATIVE DISC DISEASE PAIN MANAGEMENDERSONORKERSE

COMPENSATION PERSONAL Kansas HOME EXERCISE INJURY

913-539-4040

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

Tom Boggs, sophomore in biology, ducks to avoid being hit by flying oranges during his performance in the Minute Maid "Make it Your Minute" contest Tuesday night in Forum Hall.

27 talent acts vie for trip; Minute Maid backs event

Kristin Hermes

Orange was the in color at Forum Hall Tuesday

From original songs and skits to a handmade sequin dress that bore the Minute Maid logo, students competed with original talent acts for the grand prize - a seven-day spring break cruise in the West Caribbean.

The Minute Maid "Make It Your Minute" event, coordinated by the Department of Housing and Dining Services as a part of a Minute Maid promotion for which K-State was selected, brought in 27 acts and about 200 spirited specta-

"Here's our chance to see some human ingenuity, creativity and sheer profundity," said Mark Edwards, an instructor with Housing and Dining and emcee for the talent show. "But most of all, it's our chance to see what goofy things people will do for a trip to the Caribbean." The rules of the contest were relatively lax, Edwards said.

"Anything goes," he said, "except for lewd or insidious behavior.'

The acts were then given a three-minute time limit and were judged by a five-person panel of students, staff and faculty on the basis of enthusiasm, artistic merit, theme and creativity, Edwards

And then the games began.

Although many acts used some sort of spin on a Minute Maid juice box or carton, some took this

Heidi Hartman, sophomore in pre-professional secondary education, and Brent Perkins, sophomore in engineering, used the juice carton theme, but added their own flare with music.

With Perkins dressed in a huge white juice carton and Hartman in a glittery hula skirt, the duo danced and sang songs from the '60s, '70s, '80s and '90s. All the songs were reworked to include a Minute Maid theme.

Perkins said they both knew they wanted to enter the contest, but coming up with an original act was the challenge - until Hartman came up with the idea that landed them in fourth place.

"It was one o'clock in the morning," Hartman said, "and I was working on a term paper when I started singing songs, putting Minute Maid into them. Then the decade theme just sort of came out of that.'

Another entry was the presentation of a Minute Maid sequin dress, developed by Jennifer Elliott, senior in apparel design, and Whitney Haefner, freshman in pre-journalism and mass communications. Haefner wore the mini-dress which had 8,000 sequins, along with an original pair of shoes, a orange sequin purse, an orange ring and a headpiece that had oranges dangling above Haefner's head.

Elliott and Haefner said they agreed that making the dress was a great deal of the experience of entering the contest.

"It took us a week and a half of almost straight work to get it done," Haefner said. "We pulled allnighters, but it was a major bonding experience with all the late nights, Mountain Dews and piz-

After a second-place finish in the contest, the fate of the dress had been decided.

"I think I'll take a picture of it," Elliott said, "and then I'll let her keep the dress because she's the one who can fit into it."

The winning entry came about halfway through the evening from Shawn Stephens, freshman undecided, from Haymaker Hall. Stephens performed a rap about Minute Maid orange juice.

After winning the cruise, Stephens, who has been rapping since age 12, said he came up with the idea by inspiration and hard work.

"I sat there with a can of Minute Maid in front of me," he said, "and I just started in on the rap. In all, it took me about a day."

Besides the performers on stage, much of the energy during the contest was generated by audience participation. Minute Maid prizes were thrown into the audience by Willie the Wildcat, as well as by a large penguin and a Minute Maid juice box mascot.

"I like how the audience is really getting into it," Hartman said. "It makes it so much easier and so much more fun to be here and perform."

Italian opera illustrates true star-crossed lovers

Portia Sisco

A prostitute finds true love in "La Traviata," performed at McCain Auditorium on Tuesday night by the New York City Opera.

"La Traviata" is the tragic story of Violetta Valery, the fallen woman played by Virginia Grasso. Valery is a mistress who sacrifices her life for the man she loves.

Violetta's tragedy begins when Alfredo Germont, played by Rick Moon, asks her to give up her life of parties and balls to live with him in the country. She accepts and falls deeply in love with Alfredo.

Three months later, Violetta's door is darkened by Alfredo's father, Giorgio,

He begs Violetta to forsake her love for Alfredo because she has brought shame on the family, and this is threatening his innocent daughter's marriage to a worthy young man. Violetta tearfully agrees.

played by Charles Robert Stephens.

Violetta and Alfredo are the original star-crossed lovers, torn apart by his family and society.

The subtle sounds of the orchestra highlighted the drama as Violetta grieves for the terrible bargain she has struck with Alfredo's father.

Giorgio's betrayal of his son is beautifully captured as he pretends concern for Violetta, who grieves at the loss of her love.

Stephens and Grasso sang a stunning and passionate duet in brilliant

Grasso did an incredible job of portraying a stricken woman forced to make a life-shattering agreement to leave the man she loves.

Her powerful vocals and dramatic carriage made this a truly unique per-

Act 3 brought a stunning change from the dark tragedy to a few moments of light-hearted comedy, where the joyful atmosphere of a ball is captured and a hint of scandal revealed. The lady guests, dressed in red, sing a silly, flirtatious gypsy song, and the men parry with a song about a potent young bullfighter who wins the love of a lady. Their light-hearted moods are broken when Alfredo and Violetta meet, and Alfredo denounces Violetta in a jealous rage.

Violetta's grief is tangible. Heart-broken and ashamed, she collapses in her grief.

Tearful violins open Act 4 as Violetta sleeps in a giant bed in the home of her friend,

Her faithful maid, Annina, played by Joan Eubank, rests in the window

Annina is the picture of grace as she waits on the broken Violetta, watching her mistress die.

Violetta is reunited with Alfredo in a poignant and hopeful song. But her body betrays her, and she dies in Alfredo's arms. Each scene had an intricate set with realistic furniture, including a canopy bed, chandeliers, chairs, tables and floor-length curtains. The setting created the mood for the drama that unfolded. The orchestra accentuated the tone and sounds of the singers and gave their music soul.

The instrumentals and the singing combined created an all-consuming experience that earned the company a standing ovation.

Although this was only Grasso's second performance as Violetta, she made Violetta truly unforgettable for Alfredo and for the audience.

► K-STATE

City Commission awards $112,500 for renovations

Chris Oakley

The City Commission decided 3-2 to give K-State's High Energy Physics group $112,500 to renovate the current motor pool building into a high-bay technical complex.

The funds were approved by the Manhattan Economic Development Opportunity Fund Advisory Board, which recommends businesses to the commission that it feels will create and diversify jobs. Those businesses may then be qualified to receive city

Commissioner Bruce Snead, who voted to approve the funds, said if the amount requested were more, he would have considered it differently.

"If this were a larger sum of funds, I'd have some concerns," Snead said "It certainly stabilizes and builds on the strengths of the community." Voting against the city grant were Commissioner Sydney Carlin and Mayor Edith Stunkel.

Stunkel said she didn't want to use MEDOFAB money to fund what is essentially renovation on campus.

"It's good for K-State and the community, but I can't at this point say this is the right use for MEDO-FAB money," she said.

Carlin said she appreciated the work of the scientists, but the funds would be better spent on a business that has nowhere else to turn for

"I see you as aggressive fund raisers and believe you could have gone to other places to find this money, but now you won't have to," she said. This is the first time the commission has approved MEDOFAB funds spending on a University proposal. Bill Varney, chairman of MEDO-

FAB, said the project diversified jobs in Manhattan. Although a concern of the committees is to find jobs not dependent upon institutions, he said, he felt the project was different.

Varney said the money will be taken from the grants and special projects category of the MEDOFAB

MEDOFAB member Cal Hansen said the grant would create new revenue for Manhattan.

"In this particular case, I can see a 200-to-1 return on our investment," Hansen said.

The technical complex will be used by the High Energy Physics group for a Department of Energysupported project called COSMOS. The project builds machines in an attempt to find out whether elusive particles, called neutrinos, have

The project will bring in $2.3 million in grant money and create seven new jobs, said Bill Reay, distinguished professor of physics "We will not only hire people, but this grant will allow us to build a technological base that will attract other companies," Reay said. "This project that we're setting up here would be a godsend to this University," he said. "There are only a few universities in the country with the technical infrastructure we're after," Reay said.

"We will have created something here that will live on. It will give young people in our field a way to be players for a long time," he said.

Fine Arts Summer & Fall Allocations Requests

It is time for groups to submit applications for funding of events or projects for which you would like assistance from the Fine Arts Council. As you may or may not know, the Fine Arts Council was created by the Student Senate to establish more fine arts programming on campus. This money is generated from the Fine Arts privilege fee students pay each semester. A reserves account s created that assists in the programming efforts of student groups promoting fine-arts related programming.

The forms that need to be filled out are available at the OSAS Office. THE DEADLINE FOR APPLICATION IS ON OR BEFORE THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1996 AT NOON (12 p.m.).

For more information, please call or go to the Office of Student Activities and Services. K-State Union, Ground Floor • (913) 532-6541

Sculptured Nails ONLY $20 •Fills ONLY $15 • Manicures ONLY $7 HairCuts $795

• Perms Starting at $20 • Massage Therapy $10 OFF •

51 Bottles 51.25 Wells ⁵2 Pitchers

Yeah, we mean everything, even menu items

1129 Laramie • 537-4866

FOOSBALL TOURNEY . SUNDAY . 6 P.M.

Lafene Health Center

General Medical Clinic Hours

8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Saturday Closed Sundays and Holidays

Specialty Clinics 8:30.-11:30 a.m. & 1-4:30 p.m.

FOR APPOINTMENTS CALL 532-6544

Monday-Friday

 Administration 532-7755 532-2769 Allergy Clinic · Cashier 532-7759 Health Education and Promotion 532-6595 • Insurance 532-6749 • Pharmacy 532-7758 Physical Therapy 532-6544

532-7880

532-6927

532-6554

Sports Medicine Clinic

· Women's Clinic

University Counseling Services

om&Dad Student Union Courtyard • 10:00am-4:00pm • March 5, 6 and 7 25 personalized announcements cap, gown & tassel $29.40 $14.40 Honoring 40 years of service to the students of K-State.

COLLEGIANopinion

Primaries more important than you think

QUICKread

Want to participate in the elections online?

This link (http://www.votesmart.org/other/participate.html) will take you to several places on the World Wide Web where citizens can electronically vote on candidates, talk about issues and participate in budget

To some college students, elections might seem like a distant stench they do not want to deal with until

The smell is closer than you think. Eight states conducted presidential primaries yesterday. It was the busiest campaign day in 1996.

Sen. Bob Dole, Pat Buchanan, Lamar Alexander, Steve Forbes, Alan Keyes and others are all smiling into the TV cameras, grabbing reporters and trying to tell us about their buzzword, platform or campaign promises. And the primaries are a weeding-out zone that we need to pay attention to.

Look closely and watch for the candidates to change positions in an effort to gain support. Who has a spine, and who does not? Who is a leader, and who is a puppet? The answers to these and many other questions can only be answered by you, but it is necessary you watch the candidates throughout their campaigns.
After all, snakes can slide right by us.

Last month, Gov. Bill Graves vetoed the primaries in Kansas in an effort to save $1.4 million, This eliminated the candidates' chance to campaign directly to us.

As voting citizens we could have listened to the campaigners explain how they might try to solve problems directly related to students. Those might include their stance on the Farm Bill, financial aid and corporate monopolies. We have to pay close attention and sift our issues out from the others.

Watching and listening to the candidates is annoying and it stinks, but having to put up with an idiot for four years is like living in a sewage plant.

NOTES FROMthe underground

What makes the situation interesting was Clinton's quote concerning the Cuban situation: 'This shooting of civilian aircraft out of the air was a flagrant violation of international law. It is wrong, and the United States will not tolerate it.' I'm willing to bet the Iranians felt the same way in 1988.

LATT HAWKINS

Wild

hen President Clinton ordered U.S. troops into Bosnia, he used the rationale that because the United States had helped write the peace treaty, it should be present in Bosnia to support it.

He coupled the statement with the fact the United States is a world leader and needs to use its influence to shape events occurring in the global community.

We are a world leader both economically and militarily. Despite the issue of whether we should intervene in a situation such as Bosnia, the fact remains that it is the role our leadership wishes us to play. The fault I find with this line of ideology is it consists of more physical action then intellectual.

The country is facing an odd duality. One just as the other side was beginning in Cuba. become relevant to our foreign relations dilemma, occurred when side started in 1988 and ended this February, The first factor, which would later the U.S. Navy shot down an Iranian passenger plane in 1988 after mistaking it for an enemy plane. All 290 people aboard were It was announced Feb. 23 that the United States had settled with the families of the victims for $131.8 million.

It is true that Cuba's intentional downing of civilian aircraft over its airspace differs from America's shooting down of an Iranian passenger plane. Ours was accidental, and Cuba's 'actions were intentional. Castro released a statement that said the downing was justifiable because the members of Brothers to the Rescue were engaging in 'serious' terrorist threats" by dropping prodemocracy pamphlets over Cuba.

What makes the situation interesting was Clinton's quote concerning the Cuban situation: "This shooting of civilian aircraft out of the air was a flagrant violation of international law. It is wrong, and the United States will not tolerate it." I'm willing to bet the Iranians felt the same way in 1988.

Indeed, such a thing is deplorable. The killing of civilians, under any situation, is a crime frowned upon the world over. However, in this situation, our actions in one case contradicted those of another issue.

With all of our mighty actions, we've shown the world that we don't follow our own rules. After Iran-Air 655 was shot down, the Iranian people were incensed. The United States did issue an apology, yet it took government roughly eight years to reach a settlement with the families

The United States is seeking sanctions against Cuba. We're lucky, as a country, that Iran doesn't have the muscle we do. That $131.8 million might have come out of the country's coffers during a time span which was much smaller than eight

It is often said that actions carry great meaning, and at times, they do. However, a physical action is nothing without the intellectual or emotional content behind it. We are setting a standard for world action in Bosnia, engaging in a situation which could likely be the model for future deployments. Cuba might have shot down our planes, but we have unwittingly shot down our own ideology with our actions toward settling with the families of those who died aboard that Iranian passenger plane.

Justin Wild is a senior in English.

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

COLLEGIAN NOT WORTH THE MONEY WE PAY

Editor,

It troubles me greatly to read that the Collegian might be discontinued sometime in the near future. I'm in such a state of disequilibrium pondering my last two semesters of college without reading such insightful features as the one you ran about the Navajo Community College cross country team last fall.

I doubt I'll be able to concentrate during my classes without knowing whether Kevyn Jacobs is dressed as a man or a woman on that day.

How on earth will I be kept abreast on the '96 presidential campaign without the Rockwell-esque Toles political cartoon?

Finally, I fear I may lose my sense of humor if I am denied access to the legendary comic strips like Mr. Invader and Whatever.

Dipping back into reality, I think it would be educational, to say the least, if the Collegian was made to test the free market. Right now we have the choice of whether or not we read this publication, but we can't choose whether we pay for it. If there is truly a great demand for the Collegian, then it will thrive in a competitive environment economy at 25 cents an issue.

But honestly, how many students, if given a quarter every morning to buy a newspaper, would choose a 10-page Collegian in favor of a Kansas City Star, Wichita Eagle or Topeka Capital-Journal? How about the Manhattan High School How many students would even hover like scavengers over recycling bins in the K-State Union for an opportunity to read the work of writing phenoms like Jason Hamilton and Lach Franquemont? I think the Collegian isn't as afraid of simply being abolished, as it is scared of the fact the staff might have to improve immeasurably in order to survive.

Byron Vogel junior in elementary education

SMOKERS NEED TO HAVE RESPECT FOR OTHERS

Editor,

I commend Dan Lewerenz for writing the column "Shame on Smokers." The idea of people purposely breathing in smoke and polluting their lungs for the sake of intermittent pleasure repulses me. However, they have just as much right to do this as certain people (myself included) have to eat too much junk food.

Instead of prudently and cleanly exercising their right by disposing of their cigarette butts, many smokers just discard them wherever it pleases them, not thinking of the evesore and environmental damage they can cause. This carelessness is evident in front of my residence, Ford Hall, where butts litter the area near the front doors despite the convenience of the cigarette containers placed outside.

Seeing these discarded tools of addiction reminds me too much of the death of my grandfather due to emphysema. smoking-related Please smokers, quit if you think it best, but if you do not, dispose of the remains properly.

Amber Dowlin sophomore in elementary education

PERHAPS ACTORS SHOULD OPEN THEIR MINDS ALSO

Editor.

Nikki Prentice, Collegian staff reporter, presented a review of the two-act play "Words" in Thursday's Collegian.

My comment pertains to quotes she attributes to the author, Diedre Ensz, and one of the actors in the play, Chris Ellner. Ensz, who states she has always been intrigued with bisexual life, says, "I think it is impossible to find one person to spend the rest of your life with." Ellner said he hopes the play "opens people's minds a little bit about relationships and learn to be more understanding."

Maybe the minds that need opening are not all found in the audience.

> Kenneth Buyle fiscal officer for the Division of Homophobes erode our nation

hey're getting out of control. They think they can run the country. They're even starting to unravel the very fabric of our society both culturally and politically making inroads in all the right places and passing laws that threaten the core of our nation's being.

They're homophobes. That's right. It's not the homosexuals who are doing the damage. It's the people whose irrational fear of homosexuality has started to affect all of society. Just a few weeks ago, the school board in Salt Lake City took the latest step in a recent trend to deny homosexuals the rights everyone else holds. Or at least that's what they wanted to do.

Students in Salt Lake City schools had formed a gay-straight alliance to combat homophobia and offer support to fellow students. Board members, afraid of the corruption of their youth, hoped to ban the organi-

But federal laws written to protect the right of religious groups to gather in schools prohibit school officials from banning a group based on its ideas or beliefs. (Ironically, the bill was sponsored by Sen. Orin Hatch, R-Utah.) If Salt Lake City wanted to ban the gay-straight alliance, it had to ban all non-academic extracurricular

And that's what they did. No more gay-straight alliance. No more chess club. No more Bible study. No more free assembly for stu-

And that's not the only constitutional guarantee being threatened by homo-Myview phobes in places of power. Supreme The Court of Hawaii is expected to require the state to recognize same-sex marriages this term, contending that failure to do so constitutes discrimination and a failure to provide equal protection under the law. Such recognition would afford benefits of marriage in insurance and tax rates, adoption procedures, inheritance claims, etc.

DAN

Lewerenz

If that happens, Hawaii will be the first state in the union to officially sanction same-sex marriages.

California and Washington are already preparing. Both states have bills in their legislatures that would fail to recognize same-sex marriages, making them the first states to actively oppose such unions.

But more dangerous is the idea that a couple can be married in one state and lose that status when they travel.

The whole purpose of the Constitution is to provide a set of basic rules by which our nation is to be governed, leaving power with the states but preventing them from having completely disparate policies especially when it comes to universal cultural norms like marriage.

California might have a different notion of crime and punishment than Hawaii. The two might have different welfare needs. But people are people, and marriage is marriage.

If this trend continues, our nation will continue to erode. Its structure will erode as the various states go their separate ways with no consideration of the needs of the others. Its people will erode, finding less and less in common with each other. And its ideals will erode as the most basic protections guaranteed in our fundamental documents are set aside in fear of that which we don't understand.

Dan Lewerenz is a senior in philosophy and American ethnic

Dealing with

Sexual Harassment

K-State faculty, students face risk of harrassment on, off campus; education is vital to preventing it

Khristi Shell

Sexual harassment occurs not only in the business world, but also on col-

K-State is no exception.

The most common response for someone who has been sexually harassed is to do nothing, said Frank Saal, head of the Department of Psychology.

There are two kinds of sexual harassment.

"The kind that is easily agreed upon is Quid Pro Quo," Saal said. "It is a Latin phrase. Basically it amounts to you do something for me, and I do something for you.'

The other kind, which is far more common, is what is called hostile environment harassment, he said. This is where a behavior creates a hostile environment for another person.

An example of this would be the telling of dirty jokes, certain types of touching (the kind that is acceptable to one person might not be acceptable to another, such as touching the shoulder or back), staring, and questions about a person's social and sex life.

Bob Shoop, professor of educational administration and leadership in the College of Education, said he defines sexual harassment as any unwanted attention of a sexual nature that interferes with one's ability to function here at school.

It is a violation of Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, and it is a violation of Title IX of the 1972 Education Amendments, he said.

"The reason that sexual harassment is illegal is because it has been declared to be a form of discrimination, and it's treating people differently because of their sex," Shoop said.

The University has an affirmative duty to have a policy that prevents sexual harassment and tells students what they should do if they believe themselves to be a victim of either a student or a faculty member, he said.

CHECK OUT THE E-COLLEGIAN. HTTP://WWW.COLEGIAN.KSU.EDU

Office of Student Activities d Services is acce Director of Consumer Tenant Affairs

Tenant Affairs: ion of this oriency is to serve the students, faculty, staff, and community through education and providing education on consumer and tenantrelated issues.

sion of Consumer and Job description and applications can be obtained at the office of student activities and services located on the Ground Floor of the Student Union.

Applications are due by 3 p.m. on Friday, March 15, 1996 in the Student Office of Activities and Services.

For more information. Please contact: Scott Smith, Director Consumer and Tenant Affairs 532-6541

The type of sexual harassment that gets the most publicity is a male faculty supervisor behaving inappropriately toward either female students or female employees, Saal said.

Sexual harassment is also recognized to occur in organizations between peers and colleagues or persons of the same rank, he said.

Not everyone observes objectionable behavior between students, Saal said. If a student makes a comment about another student's clothing, everyone assumes they are just being

"Probably the thing that keeps us from recognizing student-to-student as sexual harassment is that there's the element of a power differential, which is sort of missing," he said.

It is awkward when someone higher up in rank is sexually harassing a subordinate, because the victim needs that person for a job, recommendations or a grade, Saal said.

'Oftentimes there is no real desire to have a sexual relationship, but sex is used as a form of intimidation and discrimination," Shoop said. "It's about someone saying, 'I can do or say anything I want to you, and you can't do anything to stop me.'

The best way to eliminate a problem of sexual harassment is to con-

The approach that is commonly recommended, fully realizing that

COME IN FOR OUR 8TH ANNIVERSARY SALES

difficult to do than others, is to confront the person who is engaging in the offensive behavior. Saal said.

"Let them know that it's offensive to you, that it embarrasses you, that it makes you sick to your stomach, that it scares you, that it does whatever it is doing to you and ask them to stop," he said.

That is important because sometimes people, usually men, will engage in behaviors that are offensive to women, and they do not realize that it is offensive. Clearly, by letting them know, you eliminate their ignorance, Saal said.

If people do not feel comfortable confronting the offending person, they can seek help from a department or unit head or contact the Affirmative Action Office, which deals with complaints like these.

If a case of sexual harassment is brought before the unit or department leader, the first thing to be done is to notify the Affirmative Action Office.

Then the affirmative action officer and the unit head meet and come to a decision on whether the allegation actually constitutes sexual harassment and warrants further investigation, or if it is decided to be an innocent misunderstanding, Saal said.

If it is thought to warrant further investigations, the affirmative action officer, the unit head and the dean or

Hear Dan McBride

"The Will Rogers of the religious world."

His humorous observations drive home spiritual truths.

It's FREE ... and it's this Sunday at 6 p.m.

College Heights Baptist Church

corner of Anderson and College Heights

EACH TIME YOU

DONATE PLASMA!

776-9177

MANHATTAN BIOMEDICAL CENTER

MON-FRI 9AM - SAT 9AM-2PM

1130 GARDENWAY

MAKING INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL PLANS?

INCLUDE A TRIP TO LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

6-8 WEEKS PRIOR TO DEPARTURE FOR:

FOREIGN TRAVEL CONSULTANT

TRAVEL HEALTH INFORMATION

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

IMMUNIZATION CLINIC

FOR APPOINTMENT CALL

532-2796

IMMUNIZATION UPDATE

MEDICATION

1105 Waters

some women would find this more the representative of the dean's office of the college the incident occurred in will meet with the woman making the allegations and then with the alleged perpetrator, he said.

After that procedure is through, the Affirmative Action Office, the department head, the unit head and representative of the dean's office get together to try to come up with some sort of response. The seriousness of the response depends upon the results of the investigation, Saal said.

"It also may depend upon whether or not the alleged harasser has a history of doing this kind of thing before,"

Package Auto & Home Coverage for 20% Discount on Auto Insurance.

Clay Taylor 539-6949 315 Houston Suite G Manhattan

AMERICAN FAMILY AUTO HOME BUSINESS HEALTH LIFE

City Farmers Surplus Flea Market Open:

Tues. - Fri. 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Sat. & Sun. 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Appliances, furniture, household items, jewelry and clothing, sporting goods, tools, medical supplies, lawn equipment, antiques, home maintenance items, knick knacks and A LOT MORE. (A little bit of everything new and used at affordable prices.)

We Buy Used 501 Levis

201 S. 4th St., Manhattan, Kansas (the old Sears building) 539-8579

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

Free pregnancy testing

 Totally confidential service Same day results

Call for appointment

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Eliminating sexual harrassment

The most common response to sexual harrassment is to do nothing. If people do not feel comfortable confronting the offending person, they can seek help from a department or unit head or contact the Affirmative Action Office, which deals with complaints of sexual harrassment.

These steps are followed when a case is brought before the unit or department head.

The affirmative action officer and the unit head decide if the allegation actually constitutes sexual harassment and warrants further investigation.

It is decided to be an innocent misunderstanding.

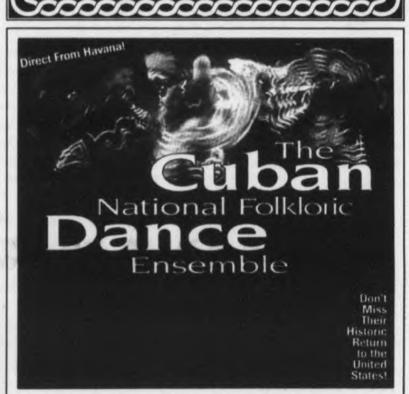

A group consisting of the affirmative action officer, the unit head and the dean or the representative of the dean's office of the college the incident occurred in meet with the person making the allegations and then with the alleged perpetrator.

The group comes up with a response. The seriousness of the response depends upon the results of the investigation. The response might depend upon whether the alleged harasser has a history of harrassment.

Sources: Frank Saal, head of the Department of Psychology and Bob Shoop, professor of educational administration and leadership in the College of Education

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

$3.29 8 oz. Ribeye Every Tuesday and Wednesday 5-8 p.m. Wednesday $150 Wells All Day Saloon & Grill Home of Country 539-KICK • 2315 TUTTLE CREEK

Tuesday, March 12, 8 p.m.

McCain Auditorium • KSU

Gen. Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9 Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. weekdays VISA and MC accepted.. Tickets also available at the usual outlets.

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts. Additional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

$48G-57D

M'Cullough Development Apartment Mall Your one stop apartment shopping!

Apartments Near Campus . Now Leasing for June and August

1417-1419 Lo

Model Showings start week of March 4 TWO BEDROOM

$300-375

418 Poyntz Mon. 6-8 p.m. (1417#1) Tues. Noon-2 p.m. Sat. 11 a.m.-Noon 1026 Osage Tues: 3-5 p.m. (1026 #11) ONE BEDROOM $210 $395-410 Fri. 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. 925-927 Denison Sst. 10:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m. Appleville Penthouse Apts. Mon. & Tues. 3-5 p.m. (1803 #6) 1950-60 Hunting $435-456 617 N.12th Mon. 6-8 p.m. (1960 #13) Tues. 3-5 p.m. 1001-1005 Blue Thurs. 3-5 p.m. (1005 #2) Fri. 2-4 p.m. Thurs. 3-5 p.m. (1005 #2) Fri. 2-4 pm. Sun 3-4 p.m. 1825-1829 College Heights Mon. 5-7 p.m. (1829 #6) Tues. 4-6 p.m. 1113 Bertrand Mon. 7:30-9:30 p.m. (1113 #6) 1722 Laram 54-58 Claffin (1858-#3) Les. 7-8 pm. Fri. 10 a.m.-Noor Tues. 3-5 p.m. 411-413-415-N. 17th Mon. 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. (415 #5) FOUR BEDROOM 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. 1022-1026 Sunset Des. & Trum. 6-8 p.m. (1024 M) rel Towers - 1709 N. Mar wers - 1700 N. Mar oyal Towers - 1700 M. Mar on -Fri 5-5:30 p.m. an-alis olik M10-430 ns. A Wed. 5-7 pm. (1212 #11) erehem Apartments - 418 Poyntx Managed by McCullough Development McCullough

AUDITIONS

Manhattan Civic Theatre announces auditions for the musical...

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

by Rogers and Hammerstein

Saturday, March 2 CHILDREN 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. Saturday, March 9 CHILDREN 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. ADULTS Sunday, March 10 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. Monday, March 11 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. ADULTS

*Children auditioning on Saturday should plan to attend BOTH in the morning and afternoon. The morning session is for reading and the afternoon for music. Bring a prepared song.

web page -- http://www.flinthills.com/arts/

For more information call Fred Nelson at 776-3891

Bidding a big, big, big Goodbye to a great friend

After 13 years of service, the Voice of the Kansas State Wildcats has decided to hang up his purple headphones > story by John Berggren

photo by Shane Keyser

uring the last thirteen years, Mitch Holthus has meant the world to K-State.

Without Holthus, there is a good possibility K-State fans would not see KSU Stadium packed to the rim every Saturday afternoon during football season. His voice and accomplishments have helped make K-State one of the elite college programs in the coun-As I look at my accomplishments, I In the Holthus get somewhat era, he has broadcast fatigued. It's been more than 1,200 events or shows, an outstanding 13 beginning it all on the years on the Wildcat Sports Network in 1983. He Wildcat Sports started as a basketball Network. color analyst and a Мпсн Ноиниs sideline reporter during football season. In VOICE OF THE 1984, Holthus began his play-by-play duties against Vanderbilt dur-

Since the beginning on the Wildcat Sports Network, Holthus has broadcast 145 football games, 374 men's basketball games, 96 baseball games, 28 women's basketball games; was host to televised coaches' shows for Jack Hartman, Stan Parish, Lon Kruger, Bill Snyder, Dana Altman, Tom Asbury and was host to 275 "Cat Chat" radio call-in shows.

Holthus was responsible for creating the Holthus was also sales manager for the Wildcat Sports Network, and he increased network billing by 300 percent during the last ten years. He billed about $3.5 million in revenue.

accomplishments, Holthus gasped at the amount of work "As I look at my accomplishments, I over the list of get somewhat fatigued," Holthus

"It's been an outstanding 13

Mitch is a great,

great ambassador

for Kansas State

University. If we lose him for one minute of State's loss, but it will be the world's gain.

TOM ASBURY

K-STATE BASKETBALL

any function, it's K-

"Cat Chat" show, starting WIBW-TV's extensive coverage of women's basketball, inventing the Jr. Wildcat Club, and starting WIBW-TV's coverage of K-State baseball.

After looking years of being involved on the Wildcat Sports

Network. I'll still be around because I'm trying

Mitch Holthus prepares another question for K-State football coach Bill Snyder during an airing of "Cat Chat." Holthus began to do the television here, and also in the midlands with the college basketball package. I'll be doing commercials with the Kansas City Chiefs, but my days of radio play-by-play on the Wildcat Network have come to an end."

the talk show during his tenure at K-State

Not only have Wildcat fans been saddened by the loss of Holthus, but so have K-State's coaches. Holthus' press conference followed men's basketball coach Asbury's weekly conference. Asbury finished his conference by saying what an asset to K-State Holthus has

"Mitch is a great, great ambassador for Kansas State University," Asbury said.

"If we lose him for one minute of any function, it's K-State's loss, but it will be the world's gain. He's a great guy, got a great family and is an excellent professional."

Holthus was asked how football coach Snyder took the news.

'Coach Snyder wasn't too fired up about it," Holthus said. "To be very honest with you, it was real hard to even talk to him about it. Bill was a little reluctant to even hear it, but yet he understands that life goes on. I wish him the best, and I'll still support him as much as I

Holthus said one of the greatest things he had witnessed at K-State was the turnaround of the football team.

"One of the most gratifying things that I've seen here in these last 13 years - and there's been a lot of ups and downs - but one of the most gratifying was watching this football team move from one of the worst to one of the best. I was just glad I could be a part of it."

When looking for characteristics that set Holthus apart from the rest of the sports broadcasting media, one has to point to the enthusiasm he voices when calling a game.

Holthus' trademark has been his classifying a win by saying "big, big, big."

After an important win Holthus reiterates it by giving it its deserving number of bigs. The minimum number of bigs has always been six and the greatest honor a win has received has been 13 bigs, which was awarded after the win at the Holiday Bowl.

For many, the resignation of Mitch Holthus big, big, big loss for K-State.

Nebraska basketball under investigation for possible violations

the football sea-

Al Papik, Nebraska's senior associate LINCOLN, Neb. — The NCAA is questioning Nebraska about its attempt in 1992 to recruit a Nigerian basketball star, the Houston Chronicle reported.

Coach Danny Nee has denied any wrongdoing and, specifically, an allegation he sent $8,400 to a North Carolina man to recruit the African player, the Omaha World-Herald reported in today's

"It's not true," Nee said. "I'm not budging. I know what's right. We didn't mail any $8,400 to a guy in North Carolina.

"It's like I asked the reporter from Houston, that you're telling me I talked to a guy on the phone who I've never met, and I mailed him $8,400 in cash to bring a 7-foot African to Lincoln? I mean, mon. Nee said to the World-Herald.

athletic director for rules compliance, acknowledged the NCAA has inquired about Nee's involvement with Osita Nwachukwu, a 6-foot-8 player senior at Wisconsin, the Chronicle reported

Papik and Athletic Director Bill Byrne were unavailable for comment Monday night and this morning and could not be who has coached the Cornhuskers since 1986, also could not be reached. The Chronicle detailed a series of events in a two-month period in 1992 involving Christopher Pond, - a former Peace Corps volunteer who steered Hakeem Olajuwon to the United States -Nee and a former Nebraska assistant bas-

The newspaper said Pond called Lynn Mitchem, then an assistant Husker coach, to tout the Nigerian player. What transpired during the next two months between Pond and Nee is a matter

According to the Chronicle, Pond claims Nee wanted him to travel to Nigeria on Nebraska's behalf and sent him $8,400 in cash to pay for the trip. Pond said he eventually backed out of the trip but kept the cash.

The newspaper reported that Papik said the school believes Nee's contacts with Pond were "within the regulations" but conceded he had been unaware of Pond's allegation regarding the $8,400.

Nwachukwu eventually visited Nebraska in August 1992 but enrolled at Kilgore College. The Houston newspaper said Nee told the Chronicle he discussed several African players with Pond, including Nwachukwu, but never sought Pond's help in recruiting the players or sent him "We were looking for big kids anywhere we could get them," Nee said,"but we weren't going to do anything illegal." Pond said he described how he would be going to Nigeria to get Nwachukwu

• See NEE Page 10

Big 8 tourney had no surprises

Dan Lewerenz

Tournament offered few surprises. The top four seeds - Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma State and Nebraska - won in the opening round, and the top two seeds played in the championship. No. 19 Colorado's 75-47 thrashing of top-seed and No. 20 Kansas certainly turned a few heads, but might have worked out for the bet-

The Big 8 Women's Basketball

"I think there's four teams in this conference that deserve bids," Colorado coach Ceal Barry said of teams' NCAA Tournament hopes. "Kansas has had a tremendous year. Oklahoma State beat us twice, and Nebraska is a very solid team.'

Barry is probably right. All four teams had impressive nonconference wins early and finished Big 8 play with winning records. Each won its first tournament game, further solidifying their position among the nation's elite. "I would like to think this, along with the win at Colorado (last week), would convince the selection committee that we are a tournament team," Oklahoma State coach Dick Halterman said after his team's overtime win against Iowa State in the opening round. "We had lost a few games we thought we should have won, and that probably put us on the bubble. But I think our overall record, and a good finish here will go a long way in getting us a bid."

Kansas and Colorado's battle in the final had more at stake than the tournament trophy

Both were hoping a win would get them a top-four seed in the NCAA Tournament — and a pair of home games in the opening rounds

And because the Buffaloes routinely draw big crowds for women's basketball - they have sold out their last five NCAA Tournament games — Colorado's win virtually guarantees the Buffaloes the chance to play host to a sub-regional. "I think it will." Barry said after the win. "Kansas is a great team, and a win like this will surely go a long way with the commit-For the teams not awaiting invitations, the focus is on next year.

"I've said from the beginning we weren't going to win the conference this year," Iowa State coach Bill Fennelly said. "But anyone can win the tournament. We were fighting for a three-game season.

"Now we have to look to next season. We don't have any seniors on our roster, so we have a lot to build on next year."

K-State also returns all five starters, and nine of the top-10 players in terms of minutes played.

"We're a young team," junior wing Missy Decker said. "We have most of our players returning, and we hope that will help us out next

Girls can play sports, too; Society should expect it

Growing up, I was not expected to play sports, so I did not, even though I loved sports. Sometimes I felt inferior to my classmates, and many more times I felt I was missing out on something.

I have finally figured out I was missing out on the opportunity to succeed at something that was not expected of me.

Girls are not expected to succeed at sports. It just is not socially accepted. So, it was not expected of me, although I know my dad probably would have been ecstatic if I had played sports. Last fall, I had the pleasure of watching my little sister, Robyn, play soccer. While this was nothing new for me, on one particular day, I learned a lot about myself. I was proud of my sister. She could run, I always knew that, but she outran everyone. And she could pass. For a 14-year-old, I was again

But there was more to it than that. I wished I was my little sister. Well, OK, not really her, but I wish I had

We are so much alike, but we are so different. We are both tomboys to an extreme, and we both can revert into a shyness in been given the opportunities she has been uncomfortable surroundings. But Robyn has always played sports, while I never did. I was much more involved in other things. Add to that the fact that when I was younger, my family was always on the move. It was hard for me to find a niche. Robyn has been fortunate enough to live in the same place since the third grade. Robyn is starting high school next year. Since the second grade, she has played soccer. Granted she started when lived in Denver, where soccer is the No. 1 sport, but she quickly fell in love with it. I, to this day, still do understand her infatuation with soccer.

Newell

She had her spurt with basketball, but like me, she had problems coordinating running and dribbling at the same time. Somehow, she managed to overcome that handicap in

Now, she is starting high school with a promising soccer career ahead of her. Barring any injuries, Robyn will almost assuredly receive a scholarship to play soccer

But coordination and scholarships are not what I envy about her.

Being involved in a sport has given Robyn a sense of achievement and pride in herself that many young girls just do not have. Robyn has a group of soccer cronies that she hangs out with all the time. Those girls are so tight-knit, sometimes it is sickening. But mostly, it is reassuring.

It is reassuring to know Rob has a group of friends that is always there to support her. It is also reassuring to know she is not afraid to speak her mind. Anyone who knows the two of us can tell right away we are exactly alike. Mom always jokes Robyn is my scary thought. But looking back, I was not always that way. I was never an outgoing child, which pretty much astounds my friends. But I would give anything to have been given the oppor-

clone, which in my opinion can be a pretty tunity to play on a softball, basketball, soccer, or even a baseball or football team when I was growing up

I know that I can do most anything a male can do, at least as far as sports go. I just did not know it when I was growing up. There was a Nike commercial a few months back that always comes to my mind when I watch Robyn play soccer. It goes through a series of shots of young girls saying things like "I could be president, if I were allowed to play sports," or "I won't be abused by my boyfriend, if you let me play I watch Robyn, and I am glad she is playing soccer. I know she will always have positive self-esteem. I know she will always stand up for herself. I know she will never be intimidated by things she is told she cannot do, only because she is female. And I make a vow to myself.

If I ever have daughters, they will be involved in sports. I will give them the opportunities I never had. Too bad society is not on the same page.

Cow cells contribute to cancer research

Local slaughter plants donate brains to student researchers

K-State students are researching and testing purified molecules from cow brain cells as an inhibitor of cancer cell growth.

The inhibitor has been tested on cells growing in plastic dishes in a K-State lab.

"In this case, the inhibitor is capable of stopping cancer cell growth in a variety of tissues from a number of different species, including humans and animals," Heideh Fattaey, lab manager, said.

Cow brain cells are used for two

The first is because brain tissue is the first tissue in an organism to stop growing, therefore the brain was a likely tissue to contain more of the inhibitor, Fattaey said.

The second reason is there are a great deal of slaughterhouses

REC COMPLEX

Consultants

help create fitness plans

The Chester E. Peters Recreation

Complex offers personal exercise consulting through its Wellness Resource throughout Kansas. The slaughterhouses would normally throw out the cow brains, but they now can be donated to K-State for this research

The project has dealt with cells from different tissue samples, but students are testing human breast cancer cells.

"The inhibitor is also having the same effects in stopping the breast cancer cell growth, as in cells from other human tissues that have been tested in the lab," Fattaey said.

Both undergraduate and graduate students are working on this project, and are being paid or receiving class credit for their work.

Some of these students received the Cancer Research Award, which was provided by the Center for Basic Cancer Research at K-State in conjunction with sponsoring labs. This award entitles the students to $500 in cash, class credit, a mentor in the lab and everything needed for the project, Fattaey said.

The money that funds this project, as well as salaries for the students and other lab assistants, ational services, said the program has to other health-related problems," tion and exercise science, said she began consulting to help people

five years now, and I wanted to work more one-on-one with people than just a big group type of leading like I've been doing," Bishop said. "I think people reach their goals better when there's a one-on-one relationship."

Michelle Bishop, senior in nutri-

"I've been teaching aerobics for

To meet with a fitness consultant, contact the Wellness Resource Room

at 532-6950 or fill out an information card at the Rec Complex.

three student consultants.

"The students assist people in finding the best workout routine to satisfy

each individual and help

find solutions

achieve exercise goals.

Robel said.

comes from private and government grants, including the Center for Basic Cancer Research, NASA and the National Institutes for Health. These are just a few of the sponsors for this and other research projects

Most research projects like this one are quite time consuming. Fattaey has worked on this project since she was a K-State student in

"The greatest hope we have is that someday we may be able to help humanity - that is the one thing that keeps us going," Fattaey said.

Students are looking for a way to clone the inhibitor from cow brain cells, in order to have the inhibitor in larger amounts. This process is quite difficult, because an exact match must be made to the purified

Once this inhibitor is able to be produced in the lab, it might be possible to test its action in live organ-

"The inhibitor is about ten years and $20 million away from being tested on humans," Fattaey said.

The Wellness Resource Room is a

He said by next fall the Wellness place where people can gain more information about fitness, Robel said.

Resource Room will have computers with possible World Wide Web access where people can get more information on sports and updated fitness news. CD-ROMs and video tapes will

"Fitness consulting has been around since the early '80s, when the Rec Complex opened," Robel said. "It has continued to expand with the expansion of the Rec Complex. The idea for the program came from the and exercise science, said her job at the Rec Complex is her first fitness

Laura Schaaff, senior in nutrition

"I'm certified as a personal trainer,

• See FITNESS Page 10

also be available.

staff and students.

consulting job.

Guest conductor to collaborate with ensembles in performance

Kristin Hermes

Three K-State student ensembles will take the stage at 8 tonight in McCain Auditorium.

The Concert Band, University Brass Ensemble and Symphony Band will all present works by composers both past and present.

The Concert Band, conducted by band director Frank Tracz, will begin the concert with works by Robert Jager, Frank Tichelli, Steve Melillo, David Gorham, James Hosay and Craig Barton.

The University Brass Ensemble will follow with a Janacek "Fanfare" under the direction of Gary Mortenson, associate professor of music.

The Symphony Band will then finish the concert with works by Brahms, Holsinger, Dimitri Shostakovich and John Philip Sousa, as well as a piece by Roger Cichy, who will guest conduct for the performance.

Cichy is a former band director from Iowa State University and a fulltime composer. The piece was originally written for the Des Moines Symphony, Tracz In addition to guest conducting his piece, Cichy has also rehearsed this week with the Symphony Band. "It's a pretty neat deal that he's in town so that he can work with the kids on the piece and then perform it with them," Tracz said. At the performance, Cichy will also give a brief explanation of his composition before conducting the piece, Tracz said.

Trumpet player Sarah Morris, freshman undecided, said she was enthusiastic about having a guest con-

> A Member Of Professional

Claflin Custom Resumes

Claffin Books and Copies he right resume does mak difference.. Call us. Our resume writers can create an effective resume for you.

1814 Claflin Rd. 776-3771

SHOW TIME

► The concert starts at 8 tonight in. McCain Auditorium and is free and open to the public.

"There's always something new that a guest conductor can add that your regular conductor, as good as he may be, can't teach you about a piece," she said. "Also, since Cichy wrote it, he obviously knows things about the piece that nobody else

The Cichy piece itself is also some-thing Tracz said he thinks will make the concert interesting.

"There's a lot of percussion and keyboards," he said. "I think it will be really enjoyable to listen to and to watch. It should be entertaining," Tracz said.

The concert is free and open to the

King Henry V

CRISPIAN'S DAY AT THE BOAR'S HEAD

Sunday, March 17, 3 p.m.

McCain Auditorium .

Gen. Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9 Call 532-6428 or come to McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. VISA and MC accepted.

Tickets also available at the usual outlets Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency and the National Endowment for the Arts. Idditional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to chance without notice

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility infor

The fitness advice is available to all Rec card holders, from novice exercisers to experienced workout gurus, without charge Raydon Robel, director of recre-

NEEDED PEER AIDS EDUCATORS FOR FALL SEMESTER

STUDENTS INTERESTED IN JOINING A TEAM OF STUDENTS TO TEACH OTHERS ABOUT AIDS

REQUIREMENTS:

SELF MOTIVATING, CREATIVE, ABLE TO TALK TO GROUPS

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

CONTACT HEALTH EDUCATION AND PROMOTION AT LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

APPLICATIONS ARE AVAILABLE NOW

532-6595

BOOK NOW BREAK '96 PRICE INCLUDES: AIRFARE HOTEL . 3 MEALS A DAY 7 NIGHTS OF ALL YOU CAN DRIN ALSC PADRE, PANAMA CITY DAYTONA & BAHAMAS

Kansas State Orchestra

Thursday, March 7 8 p.m.

McCain Auditorium

David Littrell, conductor

Piano Concerto in A Aria from La Boheme Scheherazade

Sibylle Kuder, piano Anne Walker, soprano

T.S. Bach Puccini Rimsky-Korasakov

Free Admission. This program is made possible in part by the students' Fine Arts fee.

■ If you have any ideas for the Life pages, feel free to e-mail any suggestions to (imbatman@ksu.ksu.edu).

The mystery

It's been so strange for me - for us. Because this is personal and private. And yet it gets so much attention in the news. I have been in a group of people and heard them talking about it, and they have some facts wrong. I want to correct them, but I don't because it's personal business.

CHARLES' FATHER

Doctors, scientists have been trying for five years to unlock the mystery of how 'Charles' was born HIV-positive, yet the deadly disease disappeared from his system

story by John Barbour Associated Press News/feature writer

Editor's note - When researchers saw the HIV virus mysteriously disappear in a baby, they chalked it up to a mistake in the original diagnosis. But there is evidence that a child actually shucked the virus, and the answers to how and why might answer some deeper questions about the virus that OS ANGELES — The baby "Infant Charles" was born HIV-positive, a possible death warrant at the moment of his birth.

His mother was also diagnosed with that same virus, which cripples the human immune system and causes AIDS, leaving the victim defenseless to any number of otherwise harmless infec-

The mother and child were part of a study to determine the frequency at which mothers transmit the HIV virus to their offspring and if there were ways of detecting the infection early. To do this, infants were tested for HIV at birth.

In spite of the dire prognosis, baby Charles' (not his real name) mother was optimistic. Her family, including her uninfected husband, rallied around.

The mother already faced the specter of a strong familial tendency to cancer, which was a threat she had learned to live with.

And in fact, she did not die of AIDS. She succumbed to cancer.

But Charles met a far different fate. Diagnosed as positive for HIV at birth, the virus suddenly and inexplicably disappeared - apparently for good - before the age of 11 months. Charles, now 5, still tests negative for the virus.

His was the first well-documented case of this aberrational HIV reaction. Since then, there have been studies reported in the journals AIDS and Lancet involving more than 20 additional cases worldwide - but mostly in Europe — in which positive tests reverted to negative. Now, as scientists probe why and how, they are finding clues to the virus in its disappearance. The minuscule amount of virus recovered from Charles' early blood tests has shown, for instance, that all HIV infections are not created equal. They vary in virulence, outcome and even in the cells that harbor the harles, of course, knows nothing about his infection or his medical history in spite of his regular and frequent visits to the doctor. His family resolutely guards its identity in spite of considerable media pressure.

His father said in responding to written questions: "It's been so strange for me — for us — because this is personal and private. And yet it gets so much attention in the news. I have been in a group of thople and heard them talking about it, and they have some facts wrong. I want to correct them, but I don't because it's personal

"What happened is a very strange experience." Meanwhile, the checkups of the original group of 250 mothers and children in the study - including

Charles — continue on a regular basis. But what measure of fate singled out Charles? Did he and the few other lucky ones truly shuck the virus? Or is it hiding in a site somehow undetectable somewhere in the body? At first, Dr. Yvonne Bryson of Children's Hospital, University of California, Los Angeles, thought there had been a mistake in Charles' case. Did the laboratory goof? Was there a mix-up in blood samples? Was he really HIV-positive?

She consulted with colleagues, some of whom admitted having seen occasional cases of suspected reversal. They were simply discounted as laboratory error.

A check of the literature showed that in big studies such as hers there were buried in the text other mentions of reversals, usually chalked off as unexplainable and insufficiently documented.

But, unlike earlier investigators, Bryson retained the original blood samples so they could be checked again, and the HIV-positive results confirmed. Her coheagues agreed there might be something to it.

'Now, of course, people are really looking for it," she

In fact, several unusual cases regarding disappearing viruses have popped up and are being investigated. In one report, yet to be published in scientific journals, both a child and its mother shucked off the virus, a truly unprecedented occurrence, but it's one that fits with some of Bryson's hypotheses. "I wanted to do a lot of tests on the virus earlier, including tissue typing, but I had some trouble convincing people it was worth doing," Bryson said.

'I had to sort of go out there on a limb in a way. And, as with anything new, people were naturally wary, I would be, too. I feel good now. I think I've opened upon new area to look at that people never thought was possi-

he delay was fortunate in another way. The virus Bryson had isolated from Charles was weak and available only in minuscule amounts. Now, laboratory tests have improved, the DNA has been mapped and cloned so it can be grown in greater quantities. Not only was there more virus to work with, but better tests to probe weaker reactions.

"We certainly see that this virus doesn't grow well in human cells," Bryson said. "And the other thing that I observed but haven't published is that this child's cells

The HIV virus varies in virulence.

"was not a general resistance to all HIV. It seems to be of children born to HIV-infected mothers who did not get infected and who never had evidence of the virus at tried to infect the cells from the uninfected children with

"I think the disappearance of the virus might be partly the virus and partially the interaction between the cells and the virus," Bryson said. "The virus in this child was a very, very low amount, not like barely detectable, but the virus did not replicate well in this child. And that's very so, where did it come from? Babies get antibodies from their mothers in the womb, but professor, of Charles' strange case, he found it interesting, but he was not really surprised. "Because we are researchers, we're not so dogmatic

When Bryson told her husband, a UCLA medical that we can't look at something in a different way and take a different approach," she said.

In fact, Charles' virus was confirming a pattern of infectivity seen in other diseases.

But rather than provide answers, the virus from infant Charles has left more questions in its wake.

"One possibility is that it is a weakened virus," Bryson said, "a virus that was not able to replicate as well as others."

Another is the chance that the mother's antibodies play a role in communicating resistance to the offspring in the womb

Still another is that some infants might have an innate resistance. If so, where does it come from?

Or is the ability to get rid of the virus a partnership of two or more of these effects?

What needs to be done, Bryson said, is develop some uniformity in the way these studies are done. Blood samples that are positive need to be saved to be tested again if subsequent tests show negative results.

Bryson would like to see universal criteria and testing adopted, since different research groups are following their own procedures. Nevertheless, with the number of positive-negative cases approaching two dozen, the phenomenon seems well-established. Some people, some lucky few, have been rid of the virus.

When Charles was first diagnosed with the infection, his father was stung by this strange intrusion in his fam-

"I didn't know much about it," he said. "I was afraid. "But I had a belief inside me that he was going to overcome it. I did not give up hope. I just always believed he was going to be OK.

And when the virus suddenly disappeared, he felt

"It just felt right, like I always believed. He was going to be OK.

And for the children and parents who are infected, Charles' father said, "All I can say is never give up hope.

Diversions

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 — criley@ksu.edu

CROSSWORD

ACROSS roster 43 Fellow, to 1 Clear the tables Francisco 4 Kachina 44 Rudimentary worshiper

8 Deterlessons mination 46 Variety 12 Magistrate of ink 50 Highest Alp Lance 13 Cheshire 55 Plagiarize counte-

56 Garfield's nance 14 Notion 57 Singer 15 Howl at Brickell 58 Have debts the moon 59 Cronies 16 Exhibited thought-60 Dandies 61 Vanna's lessness? 18 Ignominy cohort

DOWN

1 Chest

20 Sphere 21 Earthenware pot 24 Sound 28 Bugs Bunny's voice 32 Gossipmonger Barrett

33 Eggs 34 Funt directive 36 Pendu-37 Gets the gold 39 Winter needs 41 Candidates' lum's place G A M M A Yesterday's answer

58

MPED? For answers to today's crossword, call tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP 3-6

WOXJB EXBM EMFEBMSV WOPSXTXBL

WOPV TPIJEM TEM

LOIIBLLTOS IMOXLB. Yesterday's Cryptoquip: I SUPPOSE A GOOD HIS-TORY OF CARS CAN BE REFERRED TO AS AN AUTO-BIOGRAPHY.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: W equals Q

▶ FOXTROT

by Eugene Sheffer

bunch

22 Exemplar

25 Info

26 First ltr.

28 Takes blades to blades

29 Beelze-

bub's

31 Family

35 Dangles

specialty

30 Ms. Tumer

a carrot

38 Puts into words

40 Barbie's

beau

42 Undergo

45 Staff recession

leader?

48 Hawkeye's

49 Help a hood

47 Let plunk

state

50 Swab

51 Harem

52 0

room

53 Commotion

frosty air

54 Quality of

of gentle-

2 Hexagonal

state

3 Sauce

source

author

6 Wrestling enjoying

8 Mr. Ed's

owner

10 Author

11 "Mighty

17 Corse-

protectors 19 Unruly

Solution time: 28 mins.

a Rose

9 Greek peak

Deighton

tiere's ware

coup

7 Greatly

Machine"

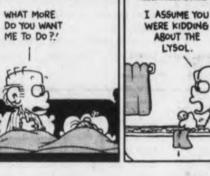

4 "The Time 23 Weak

5 Mined find 27 Feed-bag

BUT I BRUSHED MY TEETH! WASH! I WASHED MY HANDS I CHANGED OUT OF MY CLOTHES

DOOG AND BLAIR

MOVE YOU GUTS DEEN UP ALL MICHT WATCHING

"BONANZAS"!

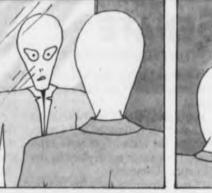

by Bill Amend

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

Smatterings by Rott Allen Milker

LORD, HAVE MERCY! K-STATE SURE DID

K-State recently announced that suspended women's basketball coach Brian Agler was reassigned to a position in the Office of the Vice President for Institutional Advancement. This move came after Agler was suspended amid allegations of use of ineligible players.

Oh, if only life were as kind to the rest of us as it has been to Agler. How many of us could get suspended for allegedly breaking the rules in one job and be transferred to a cushy position in a different department? Smatterings would like to engage in some moot, selfserving, useless speculation about what would have happened if fate had been as kind to some other more famous people as it was to Agler.

For one thing, King Louis XIV would not have been beheaded durthe French Revolution. He would have been reassigned as deputy secretary of aristocratic transition.

Gen. George Custer would not have made his last stand at the Little Big Horn. The Sioux confederation would have captured him and made him assistant to Chief Sitting Bull.

SCOTT ALLEN Miller

The members of Milli Vanilli would not have had their Grammy Awards revoked after it was discovered they were not the voices on their hit album "Girl You Know It's True." They would have kept their awards and been invited to lip-sync the presentation of the Best New Artist award the following year.

If the Romans and Jews had been as kind to Jesus as K-State was to Agler, he would not have been crucified. He would have been made vice minister of Messianic

Lee Harvey Oswald would have been made president of the National Rifle Association instead of shot dead by

Keep in mind that Agler did not do anything as bad as any of these folks. But I am hoping if I get sued for libel for writing this about him, I will be made editor-inchief of the Collegian.

THIS WEEK'S WEIRD, OBNOXIOUS WORD

tit'illate vt. to make a breast happy or elated

THIS WEEK'S STUPID INTERNET NEWS-GROUP (S.I.N.) alt.bigfoot Do not let anyone fool you. This group does exist, although no one has actually captured it yet. If you listen really carefully to your computer while reading this newsgroup, you will hear absolutely nothing.

THIS WEEK'S PATHETIC INTERNET SITE SUGGESTION (P.I.S.S.)

(http://www.awa.com/nct/bios/smuffin.html)

This is the website for Sassy's Worldwide Dog Bite Service Inc. There are forms to fill out on this page for someone you want bitten, what body part should be bitten, where the person lives, any special instructions you might have, your attorney's contact information and your credit card information.

If you submit your credit card number and expiration date, you can expect that the only person bitten will be you.

ARTSFEST

NEEDED:

Artists interested in selling work to students for the K-State ArtsFest Wednesday, March 13

Call 532-6571, ask for Julie or Jonas or leave a message

CK the Balm line

Union Program Office - 3rd floor of the K-State Student Union - 532-6571

Business" LAURA PEDERSEN

"Women in

a millionaire by age 23

Tuesday, March 12 7:00 pm Forum Hall Student Union K-State Student Union UPC leaves & Ideas Committee

LAS VEGAS SPRING BREAKTRIP

We have 3 spots left for this trip! Cost is $250 per person Sign up today in the UPC Office 3rd Floor Student Union

N. State Student Union

This weekend at Union Station:

KSU Music Department presents:

LIVE JAZZ JAM

Friday, March 8 9:00pm - midnight Union Station

Christian Dance Nite

Saturday, March 9 9:00 pm - 1:00 am Union Station

STUDENT ART SHOW

Entries accepted in the UPC Office 9:00 am - 4:00 pm Monday - Friday Pick up rules and regulations before bringing in your entry.

C K-State Student Union

FREE YOUR MIND WEEK PRESENTS:

WILLIAM GATES OF HOOP DREAMS

Monday, March 11 7:00 pm Forum Hall

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

and how Nebraska would have to pay for the trip, the Chronicle reported. Pond said Nee seemed nervous but was Pond said two Airborne Express packets were sent to his home in Raleigh, N.C., from the Nebraska athletic department. The payments arrived several weeks apart and totaled $8,400.

The newspaper said records obtained by the Chronicle, indicated Nee sent four packages to Pond's home in Nebraska phone records showed 15 calls to Pond's home number were made from Nee's office extension or charged to the coach's university credit card between March 23 and May 26.

According to the Chronicle, Nee said Pond talked of bringing Nwachukwu and three other Nigerians to the United States and mentioned needing money to do it.

Nee said he told Pond no funds would be provided.

According to Nee, the Airborne Express packages sent to Pond contained recruiting information and media

The newspaper also reported that Nee said Nebraska brought Nwachukwu to Lincoln for an official visit in August 1992 after the player obtained a visa and used his own funds to travel to

Nee said Nwachukwu was not offered a scholarship because of concerns about his size, as well as his high school

"You could see that it had been tampered with," Nee said.

STUDENTS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

HOLTHUS

jobs," he said.

television package.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

can better focus on those remaining by-play for the Kansas City Chiefs. In the winter, Holthus said he would do play-by-play for college basketball games, possibly including the K-State

Holthus will also continue to ex-

Holthus will continue to do the play-

"It's a slight disappointment," Raymond Nichols, junior in computer science information systems, said. "He's famous locally with all the commercials and everything, and I hope they get a voice as good as his or maybe

But ideas for a replacement were already starting to flow.

"I'm saddened by it," Nicki Schrock, sophomore in elementary education, said. "I liked him because I'm a big K-State fan. No one is as good as Mitch, but if anyone would have to replace him, Greg Sharpe gets my vote."

But what is most important is the loss K-State and its fans will feel next

"I grew up with his family and in the same area as he did, so I know his back-pand on his own company, which includes public motivational speaking, commercial endorsements and his annual sportscasting camp in the sum-ever had to make in my life," Holthus said. "Really when I sat down at the beginning of the year I kind of looked at it as it might be the final one, but I wanted to go through it and see how I felt at the end of the season. It's just all become a lot, and I didn't want so many

"It's the toughest career choice I've ground pretty well," Troy Kirkendall, graduate student in recreation, said. "I think it's a big loss to the University but at the same time you have to think of him. He's got a family to support."

Not all students were upset by the loss of Holthus, however. One student said it was a good thing.

"I never liked him in the first place," Jason Crum, sophomore in park re-source management, said. "I thought he was kind of goofy, myself."

"It's tough to walk away from this school. This was my boyhood dream of mine ever since listening to Dev (Nelson) growing up in Smith County,

Kansas. It's time to walk away from it, and I need to pursue additional things in my profession. I also need to have a balanced time with my family. I'm things affecting my work."

FITNESS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7

and I thought this would give me a lot of practical experience," Schaaff said. "It looks good on a résumé, and if I decided to go to another gym, it looks good that I have experience.'

Tyler Simpson, senior in nutrition and exercise science, has been a fitness consultant since August. He said the fitness consulting is geared toward the individual.

'When people come in, they usually have set ideas on what they want to do, like build muscle or lose weight," Simpson said. "We try to establish a program that is personalized and is enjoyable for them.'

Consulting hours depend on the consultants' schedules. Generally, appointments are available from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Schaaff said the consultants try to follow the American College Sport Medicine Guidelines when prescribing fitness programs, but she said the individual's needs are also important.

The consultants have advised 200 to 300 people since August. Each consultant sees about 12 individuals week-

"We've got a big response," Schaaff said. "People like how they can come in for advice and personal training and not have to pay for it."

After the first consulting appointment, the consultants like to meet with the individuals periodically.

Simpson likes to see people at least six to eight weeks after the first consulting date. He said additional meetings are recommended to see if the exercise program is satisfying the individual and goals are being achieved.

Bishop said her clients have been "Basically people stick with the program, but with so many people, it's hard to stay up with everyone," she said. "People have said we've helped them.'

Schaaff said the majority of her clients are older women.

"Some come only once while others try to come back. I try to call my clients at least once a month to see how they are doing and if we need to reassess their goals," she said.

DOLE CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

convention delegates. Dole entered the night with 91 delegates and won 185 more.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"I believe I know what will happen

Potter also pointed out the senators

if the amendment is not adopted," Pot-had a very short timeline and had to complete the allocations before the March 15 deadline set in place by the

but I believe you need to think about

"I'm not trying to use scare tactics,

SENATE

Allocations Committee.

ter said.

That gave him 276, well over a quarter of the way toward the 996 needed to clinch nomination. Publisher Steve Forbes was a distant second, with 69 delegates.

Dole predicted his lead would bulge even more after New York's primary Thursday and then again in next week's Super Tuesday contests in Texas, Florida and five other states. New York awards 93 delegates; 362 are at stake the following Tuesday. He was heading to Texas Wednesday to pick up the endorsement of Gov. George W. Bush. Convinced Dole's lead was insur-looking forward to a situation where I can give some time back to Tami and Brian and Hayley (the Holthus family)," cided Tuesday night to bow out of the race. Lugar planned a noon announcement in Washington; Alexander was heading home to Tennessee to make his announcement there.

mountable, Lugar and Alexander de-

Buchanan, though, headed to Florida and vowed to fight all the way to the Republican convention.

"It's a very uphill battle," he acknowledged.

SPEED

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Along with the signs, the striping distances on the two-lane roads will also need to be changed, but to paint new lines, the temperature must be above 60 degrees, Miller said.

'We hope to get that done in the next couple of months, weather permitting," Miller said.

The new speed limit law includes a 10 mph buffer on interstates and a 5 mph buffer on all two-lane highways. "For example, if you are stopped at 78 mph in a 70 mph zone you will get ticketed, but it will not go on your per-manent driving record. The buffer also prevents insurance companies from in-creasing drivers' rates," Miller said.

Proponents of the buffer on twolane highways from western Kansas insisted their constituents needed the higher speed limit because of the wide open spaces of the west. "The buffer was never a big issue for the governor. He was happy to sign the bill because it was important to a lot of other legislators," Matson said.

The speed limits of 65 mph for interstate highways outside of urban areas and 55 mph for all other highways had been set by Congress in 1974.

Last summer, Congress passed a bill giving each state the authority to determine its own speed limits.

"Since 1994 and the Republican party became the majority, providing states with more control has been important. This is definitely a philosophy Gov. Graves shares," Matson said.

"He supported provisions in federal legislation allowing these issues to be decided at a state level. He and Secretary of Transportation Dean Carlson lobbied to allow Kansas to have this debate," he said.

what you will be voting on," Potter

During open period after the final vote, Potter apologized to senators and said he apparently upset some senators earlier and said he hoped he did not sway the vote.

"I was not speaking on behalf of the executive staff. I was speaking on my behalf," he said. "I felt that people weren't giving certain sides a fair shake.

In other Senate news, 15 allocation bills were passed. The Black Student Union allocation passed after being sent back to Allocations Committee to change the wording of the proposal.

Senators will be traveling to K-State-Salina on Thursday to tour the campus and meet with administrators.

It was announced by Potter that a special meeting will be held next Tuesday to finish allocations. Allocations were scheduled to be completed this week, but some issues have taken longer to deal with, and new proposals are being made before the March 15 deadline.

CONTRACTOR OF THE PRODUCT OF THE PRO This Week's Specials Taco Burgers 2 for *1.70 (reg. 1.25 eg.) Burrito Dinner *3.05 (reg. *4.00)_ Good through 3-9-96 TACO HUT 2809 Claffin 539-2091

BOOMTOWN SOUND PROFESSIONAL INSTALLATION AT LOW, LOW PRICES

F.B.I. CAR ALARM

•2 Remote • Built-In Shock Sensors • Flashing LED • Remote Panic . Tone Siren . Starter Kill Option

Auto Reset

11 a.m.-5 p.m. Sat.

installed

FINANCING AVAILABLE

THE BEST SOUNDS AROUND - COME FROM BOOMTOWN SOUND

CAR & HOME STEREOS - ALARMS OPEN 11 a.m.-7 p.m. Mon.-Fri

539-7929

1015 HOSTETLER RD.

MANHATTAN, KS.

PET HEALTH ALERT Heartworm Season Begins in March Have Your Dog Tested!! Kansas State University Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital Saturday, March 16 & March 23 Tornes 18 do 30 a.m. each day Gall Now for as apppointment 532-5690 Rogs must be 5 1/2 months old to be tested.

WE CARE

AS STATE UNIVE

Women's ^ Health

Young women are at risk for BREAST CANCER!

Just as men do a testicular self exam, women should do monthly breast self exams to detect breast cancer early.

Learn How at LAFENE HEALTH CENTER 532-6554 For Appointment

Classifieds

SAS STATE COLLEGIAN

BULLETIN

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to

ADVANCED FLIGHT
TRAINING. 6000-hour
flight instructor specializing in multi-engine
and other advanced ratings. Very competitive
rates. Hugh Irvin, 539-3128.

scube dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, at Creative Travel, 539–0531, class-es now forming.

BOARD

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776–6735 after 5:30p.m.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND a cat recently. I love the cet but if you've lost one in the last three weeks. Call 587-8372.

er, black & white, KSU coilar 7th and Hum-boldt, Sunday, Cell 537-7905.

Parties-n-More

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental, 537-1825.

OPERATION PURPLE Wave
Hot Tub Bus Rental, 18-20 person tub capacity. New tubs and equipment 567-0990.
Manhattan City Ordinance 4514 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on secount of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 587-2440.

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

For Rent-Apts. Furnished A VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apart-ments. Close to cam-pus. Call Micore Man-agement. One-bedroom $320, two-bed-room with fireplace $510, two-bedroom with one and one-half bath $510, two-bed-room $400. Summer subleases evailable, no pets. Water, trash peld. June and August lease evailable. Call $37-7542 9s.m.— 6p.m. or 537-4567 after 7p.m.

Call 532-6555

to place your classified.

AUGUST LEASE: Next to campus- Eastaide unfurnished two-bedroom with fireplace and laundry. Westaide furnished one/ two-bedroom. Both locations have balcony, central air/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen, and off-street parking. 539–2702 leave message or call evenings.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom spartments-for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2819.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU. AUGUST next to KSU. Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichols Hall. Deluxe two-bedroom apartment. $490-$500. Also one-bedroom apartment for August $320. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537–8389.

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Clefiin next to campus $325 plus deposit plus electric. August year lease. No pets, 537-1180.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublesse, 8450, 539-8401.

TWO-SEDROOM FUR-NISHED spertment, 1200 Fremont. Central sir, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428.

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

PARKING SOUTH OF THE UNION

10 K Apartments. Spa-cious, two-bedroom quality apartments in quality apartments in new complex two blocks east of campus, large, L-shaped kitchen, dishwasher, air conditioner, sound proofed, well insulated, low utilities, Isundry, quiet street, no pets. June through May Isase $480, 539–2538.

AVAILABLE AUGUST1, nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to campus, no pets, 539-2561.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartment for now, summer and fall.

Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919. AVAILABLE JUNE 1- one

Leasing now thru August

> Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts. Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m.

> > Washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. $375. Call 776-5981. Ask for Tasha or Travis.

Sat. 10-3 p.m.

COTTAGE, ONE-BED-ROOM, near City Park, available immediately, 539-7277.

CRESTWOOD APART-MENTS- Two-bed-room, one and one-half bath, personal washer/ dryer, fire place. No pets, $425- $480. 776-3345. FOR SUMMER and fall, two beautiful apart-ments at North Perk Apartments. 1200 Fre-mont. Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537–0428.

LARGE THREE-BEDROOM with roomy closets in a nine-plex. Living room, dining area, fully equipped kitchen, low utilities, $210 each. Available June 1 and August 1, 537–7087.

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours Mon.-Fri. 8-5

p.m. (Except holidays)

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Avail-able immediately. $500. Water, trash paid. Cell now 776-3804.

LEASING FOR Fall. Two bedroom, two bath du-plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, garbage disposal, laun-dry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744.

Collegian Classifieds

LEASING FOR Summer and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, gar-bage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744.

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS

Corner of College and Claflin, Manhattan

1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments

Deck/Patios for each unit

On-Site Gym, Pool.

and Laundry * Covered Parking

2 BR - $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735 4 BR - $860 & $880

Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases

For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday

Noon to 3 p.m. NICE, QUIET, one and twobedroom apartments. 909 Moro. Gas, water, trash paid. Off-street parking. No pets and no smoking. $300 and $400. Available June 1. 537–9306. ONE, TWO, three, four-bedroom apartments. June lease no pets. Water and trash paid. Call 539–1975. ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now, two blocks from campus. Water and trash paid $355 or $375 with pet, 565-0759. ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE immediately, near Aggieville. 1124 Fremont, $395. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. Sunset Apartments. $345-Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid.

Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804. ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM WITH study available now. 1212 Thurston, $400. Near KSU campus, Wa

PARK PLACE APART MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom

hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 539-2951. POOLSIDE, THIRD level two-bedroom at Chase Manhattan Apart-ments, great view, available August 1, call now 565-0615.

PRELEASING: TWO-BED-ROOM, one block from campus. Available June 1. Water and trash paid. $495/ month. 539-1897.

TWO- THREE- four-bed-

tral air, laundry, dish-washer. 537-1746. TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT $490/ month. Available now- July. Call 539-9524.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL

ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475, now through May 31. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now through May 31. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

WALK ACROSS to Aggieville and campus Spacious one and two bedroom apartments available now and August. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

For Rent-

AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with washer, dryer, central air, some with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

FIVE-BEDROOM, TWO bath, two kitchens, cen-tral air. August 1, lease. Call (913)494-8325.

FOR RENT or sale, two-bedroom house in Keats. Huge yard, out-door pets ONLY. Con-tact Dick Walsh at Blan-ton Reality. 776–8506.

NEWLY REMODELED spacious three-bedroom duplex. Washer/ dryer, off-street parking. Walk out patio. $675, Call 776-3191. NICE TWO-BEDROOM duplex. All appliances, ga-rage. Please, no smok-ing, no pets. Five rage. Please, no smok-ing, no pets. Five month or one year lease. Located 2304 Wil-low Lane, Manhattan. Call (913)456-7185.

THREE- FOUR and five bedroom houses, ranch style, appliances, west of University. June– June occupancy. $690– $800– $900 monthly.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX $325/ month. Water paid. Last month free with twelve month lease. (913)379-5450.

For Sale-

Houses GOVERNMENT FORE-CLOSED homes for pennies on $1. De-linquent Tax, Repo's, REO's, Your area. Toll Free 1-800-898-9778 ext. H-1915 for current

Roommate Wanted

FEMALE GRADUATE stud ent needs roommate for house rent $192.50 plus utilities: water, trash, phone, cable and KPL. Call 776-1195.

FEMALE ROOMMATE for a two-bedroom base-ment apartment. No pets. $220 utilities paid except phone. Close to campus. Please call 587-0847 if interested. NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate wanted to share two-bedroom apartment for fall. Call Shelley 587-1830. Leave message. NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one of two-bed-room apartment. $245/ month, Now- July, Call 539-9524. IMMEDIATELY available for female roommate. Low rent, bills split three ways. Close to campus. 776-8284.

ROOMMATE WANTED, 17th Street, three-bedroom apartment, own room $125 utilities included. Now available 539-2909, leave mes

Sublease

AVAILABILITY IMME-DIATELY, first month rent free, non-smoking female to share threebedroom, one and onehalf bath, very nice. Low one-third utilities. Parking. (316)733–4092. Call Lisa as soon as possible. Leave message.

MANHATTAN summer sublease. For more information call 587-8982.

FIVE-BEDROOM townhouse, two and one-half bath, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, starts June 1, 587-8622.

MAY 20- July 31. Share two-bedroom apart-ment $180/ month. three blocks east cam-pus. 776-9559.

NEGOTIABLE PRICE for two-bedroom apart-ment for sublease during summer. Close to campus. 776-3706, leave message.

SUBLEASE JUNE 1 to July 31. One-bedroom apart-ment. $250. Call Laurie message, leave 587-0912.

SUBLEASE ONE or twobedroom of our three-bedroom house. June-July. Female, non-July. Female, non-smoker, no pets. Rent $197.50 plus utilities, share. Call 776-8004.

SUBLEASE- ONE-BED-ROOM in spacious three-bedroom duplex with one roommate. Washer/ dryer- lots of privacy, $225. Call 776-3191.

SUMMER SUBLEASE, two people needed for a three-bedroom two-bathroom. Chase Manhetten Apartments. Ground level, poolside, close to clubhouse. $150 negotiable. Call 539-3465.

SUMMER SUBLEASE Two-bedroom, one and one-half bath. Close to campus and Aggieville. 539-9110.

SUMMER SUBLEASE: Non smoking female want-ed to sublease one room in three-bed-room, two bath apart-ment. Across from campus plus walking dis tance to Aggieville Laundry facilities and off-street parking pro-vided. Rent $265/ month, negotiable. Cortact Misty at 587-0917.

TWO-BEDROOM apartments. One close to east stadium $485/ month. Other close to Aggieville- $350/ month. Call 537-5069

DIRECTORY

210 Resume/

Typing PERFECT resum and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

home. Reasonable rates. Call Diana, TYPING DONE in

Other

Services

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D., Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordi-nance 4814 assures every person equal op-portunity in securing and holding employ-ment in any field of work or labor for which work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Gareer classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Trave! (Car-ibbean, Europe, Ha-waii!) Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. Gde. (919)929-4398 ext.

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

$22.50/ HOUR part-time/ full-time. Easy work. Get paid for shopping and your opinion on new consumer products. No experience required. (800) 638-6845, ext. 2009

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-1915 for details

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings

PLOYMENT- Students needed! Fishing indus-try. Earn up to $3000-

Make Anderson Place Your Home Away From Home!

Now leasing for 1996-97 •2 bedrooms

% block from campus Furnished and unfurnished Showings every

2-4 p.m. 1852 Anderson Place, #16

776-1222

Monday through Friday

$6000 plus per month. Room and board! Transportation! Male or female. No experience necessary. Call (206)971-3510 ext.A57684.

PLOYMENT. Fisheries, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month! Air-fare! Room/ Board! Free video with pro-gram! Call SEI (919)932–1489, ext. A85.

BABY SITTER needed for occasional evenings for two boys ages 5 and 9. Call 776-4544 and leave

CRUISE SHIPS HIRING Travel the world while earning an excellent income in the Cruise Ship and Land-Tour In dustry. Seasonal and full-time employment available. No experi ence necessary. For in-formation call (206)971–3550 ext.C57685.

CUSTOM HARVEST crew members needed. Com-bine, Truck and Silage Truck operators for summer and fall har-vest. Excellent wages including room and board, monthly salary and bonus. Call even-ings (913)877-2081, ask for Randy. Clydesdale Harvesting and Truck-

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated indi-viduals. Fast, easyno financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982

FREE FINANCIAL AID! Over $6 billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships s now available. All students are eligible re-gardless of grades, income, or parent's in-come. Let us help. Call Student Financial Serv ices: (800)263-6495 ext.

speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Russian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Su-san. Unlimited Income. 539-7336.

TORS NEEDED: Wonder Workshop Child-ren's Museum seeks en-ergetic and creative individuals with strong background in any of the following: archi-tecture, physics, chemistry, engineering, art, ceramics, and theatre to facilitate a morning program for youth (grades 1-8) June 10-July 3. Hours/ salary ne-gotiable. Applications may be picked up at Wonder Workshop Children's Museum 409 Poyntz, E.O.E.

KAPLAN TEST-PREP eks campus rep. Earn extra money and a free course by distributing flyers, promoting KA-PLAN programs, and taking in enrollments. Send letter of interest to KAPLAN, 3650 75th St., Shawnee Mis-sion, KS 66208.

LOSE WEIGHT NOW! Needed 27 people to lose weight. All natural recommended. 587-1037

MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or ass-ist. Openings in: Base-ball, Basketball, Soccer, Tensis Lay, Swim Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top salaries, excellent faci room/ baord/ laundry, travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

NEED A summer job? UFM needs WSI certified in-structors to teach Red Cross swimming lessons. Morning, late af-ternoon, and evening. Call 539-8763.

NEED SUMMER job? Red Cross WSI certification classes will be offered by UFM. March 15- 23 (evenings and wee-kends). Call to register.

OUTSIDE SUMMER JOBS Tropical Beach/ Mountain Resorts, Na-tional Parks, Ranches, Rafting Companies! 500 plus employers na-tionwide! Call SEI! (919) 932-1489, ext. R85.

PREMIERE BROTHERS. Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings: ey, Soccer, voney, 30 Tennis openings; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Rifery, Pioneering/ Overnight Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Yearbook, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking). Top salaries, room, board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-

STUDENT COMPUTER Op-erator (2nd shift) 10-30

Work with the biggest names in sports. NIKE . FILA . ADIDAS

And take the field with a winner.

Finish Line. Get there first.

We're drafting mangers, so if you're a team player, we can put you in the game with •Major league salaries •Bonuses for MVP's *All Star benefits *A flexible game plan

SEND YOUR STATS TO

FINISH LINE Attn: Donna 515 Manhattan Town Center Manhattan, KS 66502

hours per week. Must be willing to work hours indicated and work every other wee-kend. Must be enrolled in at least one resident hour during the semes-ter and willing to work during student recesses and summer months. applications will be ac-cepted until 5p.m. Fri-day, March 8, 1996 in Room #2 Farrell Library.

STUDENT'S DREAM. Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your schedule. All natural pro ducts. Doctor recom mended. Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539-7336.

SUMMER EMPLOY-MENT: Experienced combine or truck drivers needed for custom wheat harvesting op-eration. Lancaster Har-vesting, Dodge City, Kansas. (316)227–8821.

SUMMER HARVEST help wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in May. Call Mike Parker, Waterville, KS. Phone; (800)653–8235.

POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill SIX Summer Seasonal full-time Street Seasonal Laborer positions. Persons are re-sponsible for various street maintenance in cluding asphalt and concrete. Must be will-ing to work in dising to work in disagreeable weather. Driver's license is required. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks (May 15th-August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until positions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Of Human Resources Office, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS. EOE-MF/D

SUMMER SEASONAL TRAFFIC LABORER POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill FOUR Summer Seasonal full-time Traf-fic Seasonal Laborer positions. Persons are responsible for painting of traffic lines, cross-walks, etc., on city streets and curbs. Use hand tools including brooms, brushes and roller brushes, and need to carry five gal-lon paint buckets. Must be willing to work in disagreeable weather. Driver's license is re-quired. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks May 15th-August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until positions are filled. Apply at the Department of the Department of Human Resources Of-fice, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS Poyntz, Mar EOE- M/F/D.

are proud of your ac complishments and want to join an excel lent team of profes

ROPICAL RESORTS Hir ing. Entry-level and career positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, house keepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness coun selors, and more. Ex cellent benefits + bo-nuses. Call Resort Em-ployment Services 1-206-971-3600 ext.

WANTED PART-TIME help now and or full-time for summer with crops and machine work Need experience with planters and tillage equipment. (913)457-3440.

WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience around farm machiner or trucks preferred Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776-1321 ask for Ryan or (913)582-5359.

WHEAT HARVEST help wanted for summer. Case-IH equipment die-sel trucks from Texas to Montana. $1500/ Montana. $1500 month. Maddey Harvesting. Norton, KS (913)877-5577.

Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertise-ments in the Employ-

EXPANDING BUSINESS in

OPEN MARKET

410 Items for Sale

YOU DESERVE THE BEST

* 2 bedroom apartments

* Great location

* Private bedroom * Large bath & closets

* Dishwasher/disposal

* Laundry facilities

Onsite office

* 2 pools NOW LEASING For June & August Call 776-1118

OPEN HOUSES DAILY

THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you sionals fax your resume to: Advertising Director, fax (316)267-8570.

FOR SALE by Sealed Bid: Nine- Herman Miller Dining Tables; 40- Her-man Miller Chairs; one-Carver Press with 12

ton Jack; one weigh scale with Mahogany Case; one Westing-house Electric range (pink- in good condi-tion); two Fisher Scien-tific Analytical Balances: Wheaton Portable

es; Wheaton Portable

110A Liquid Chroma-tograph Solvent Deliv-ery System with Beck-man 210 Injector valve; one-Hitachi UV/VIS Dec-tector; one-Gilford

Spectrophotometer; Zenith Z181 Laptop Computer; one-HP Color Plotter, Bids will close at 5p.m. April 1, 1996. For information, bid sheets and/ or to view sale items, contact

Dave Trumble, Justin Hall 146B, KSU (532-5508) or (e-mail TRUMBLE@HU-

New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT work-wear. Open Monday through Friday 9– 5:30p.m. Saturday 9– 5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437–2734.

sive and effective way to get the word out about your group, theme, event or cause?

Or are you interested about having a picture of yourself or a friend on your refrigerator? How about buttons! We make buttons from your pre-printed designs or we can help you with a design. In-terested? Want some in-formation? Call Pawnee Mental Health's CSP program. Ask for Joe at 587–4333.

weekly listing of mis-cellaneous items.

TIME MACHINE Antique

386 SX 4 RAM 80 HD Windows 3.1 DOS 6.22 14-inch VGA, just tuned. Great beginner's computer. $400 or best offer. 776-2329.

486 DX 4 133 8MB RAM 6x CD. 395-4811.

MACINTOSH CENTRIS 610, 68040 CPU125 mhz, 8MB RAM, 340MB hard drive, 14-inch

Sony color monitor, keyboard, mouse, soft-wares, $1000, 537-8990.

Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Man-

Antiques

435 -

445

Music

Instruments

FOR SALE: six string Iba

nez electric guitar, dual, single coil pickups, vo-lume, tone controls. Call 395–2732.

MEC.KSU.EDU).

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS

Autostill:

Beckman

450

Supplies

FOR SALE Albino Burmese

PROFESSIONAL

Sporting

Equipment

Tickets to

PORTATION

Automobiles

1982 OLDSMOBILE station

510-

Buy/Sell

Python, Borneo Blood Python, pair of Amazon Tree Boas. Call 537–6871.

Grooming, reasonable prices. Call 537-7905.

BEST PRICES on Clarion car audio. Shippable on credit card orders. In-stallation available by appointment. Sound in vestments. Seneca, KS (913)336-3880.

sale. Size 9 1/2, like new. Best offer. 539-4959 ask for Dallas.

LANGE TII ski boots for

WANTED: BIG 8 Tourna

ment tickets. (800)387-

DOG

ment/Career classifica-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the BBB, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

wagon, nine passenger, good family car in good condition $1000. 537-3920. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-1984 HONDA CRX five-speed, 91K, AM/FM, cassette, air condi-tioning, $1050 or best offer. 537-2144. SAVINGS AT 40- 70% off the retail price! Inter-ested? Call 587-1017 for 1984 VOLVO 240 for sale, runs great $1200, nego-tiable. Please call 776-9381. 1987 MONTE Carlo SS below average miles. 539-8307.

WANTED: 1984 through 1987 Chevrolet Caprice. High mileage ok. Even-ings 776–3624.

Bicycles

1995 SCHWINN Moab S mountain bike, 19-inch, squash yellow with front suspension. $425 or best offer. 537-1359.

Motorcycles 1993 YAMAHA FZR 6000 miles. Great condition $3900. 537-7383. Leave

KEYSTONE CONDO for rent over Spring Break. Two-bedroom, two full baths, sleeps six, jacuzzi, walk to slopes. (913)897-3421.

Classified Directory

010 Announcements 020 Lost and Found man Personals 040 Meetings/Events

160 Office Space 401

165 Suble/Pasture

115 Rooms Available 120 For Rent - Houses 220 Sewing/Alterations 125 For Sale - House 130 For Rent — Mobile Homes 225 Pregnancy Testing

240 Musicians/DJs 140 For Rent - Garage 146 Roommale Wanted 245 Pel Services 150 Sublease

106 Land for Sale 326 Volunteers Neede SERVICE DIRECTORY

210 Resume/Typing 218 Desktop Publishing

230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care

250 Automotive Repair 255 Other Services

30,. EMPLOYMENT/

4 FOR SALE MARKET 605 Wanted to Buy

410 Items for Sale

415 Furniture to Buy/Sei 420 Garage/Yard Seles 425 Auction 430 Antiques

445 Music Instruments 480 Pets and Supplies 488 Sporting Equipmen

460 Stereio Equipmenti

665. Tickets to Buy/Self

435 Computers

440 Food Specials

500 TRANS-PORTATION

510 Automobiles

520 Bicycles 836 Molestycies 540 Car Pool

TRAVEL

CATEGORIES To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS

OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

Whole Tuna Sandwich and a side $1 OFF

expires 3-18-96

1219 Bluemont · Aggieville

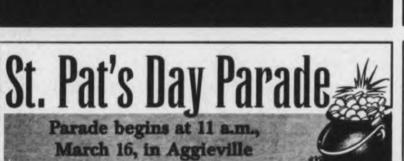

Garnet, amethyst, citrine, opal, moonstone, onyx, lapis, and sterling silver rings. Also toe rings and anklets.

708 N. Manhattan Ave. • Aggieville

Parade begins at 11 a.m., March 16, in Aggieville

12:30 p.m. - 2-mile Fun Run begins 1:15 p.m. - 10 km Road Race

2:45 p.m. - Awards ceremony in Triangle Park

COME EARLY! Bring the family and spend the day in Aggieville - Enjoy shopping and eating, pony rides, moonwalk, clowns and face painting.

Parade entries include:

- Marching Cobras from Kansas City · K-State Marching Band
- KSU Football Team Captains

Aggieville

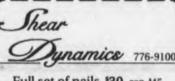

Shear

SHEAR DYNAMICS 776-9100 Aggieville

Full set of nails '30, reg. '45 Fills $15, reg. $22 Nikki or Amy -- Exp. 3/22/96 12th & Laramie • Aggieville

Not just a night spot

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for FREE NACHOS

Exp. 3/15/96 616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE *one coupon per visit with purchase of beverage

Olson's Shoe Service 1214 B Moro • Aggieville • Manhattan

Certified Pedorthist National Registry of Orthopedic Shoe Technicians, Inc. #368 PFA

Schlitz ZAPK 7.99
Schlitz ZAPK 7.99
Schlitz ZAPK 7.99
12 Pak Molson Canadian cans
12 Pak Molson Canadian cans Keystone Suit Coors Light Suit 11.99 12 Pak Molson cans 5.99

22oz Beer bottles

.99¢

Bock Sapporo Labatt Ice

50 Eden Roc Champagne 3.99 Peter Vella box wines 8.99 1/2 Sal Seb Country Chardonnay 8.99
Proprietor White 211 6.99 Sal Seb Country wines 6.55

Cale Description of the Country Chardonnay 8.99

200

6 pak Heineken Tarwebok 5.99

CASE BTS

Berghoff Red Augsburger Red Oldenberg Holiday Salute

1.0 Cafe Di Amore Coffee Liquer WAS 16.19 NOW 9.99

1/2 Gals Jack Daniels Black 27.34

10.99

Windsor 13.89 Skol Gin 8.99 Canadian Club 20.49 Jack Daniels Lynchburg Lemonade 1.50

AGGIEVILLE TRADITION Rickel's 1129 WINES & SPIRITS 537-8219 Bluemont

1225 Moro

$229 PARIS $229 FRANKFURT

$285

onneil Travel

Today: Mostly sunny. See weather map, page 2.

inside OPINION . page 4 SPORTS . page 6

DIVERSIONS • page 7

March 7, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 108

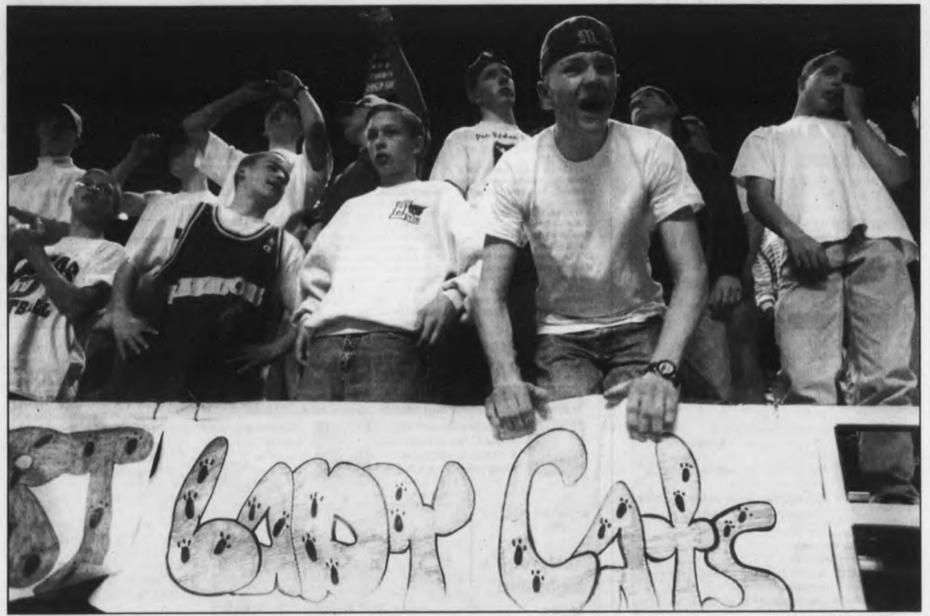

FRESHMEN MUST MEET ACADEMIC REQUIREMENTS

A qualified admissions bill passed the Kansas House of Representatives Feb. 27 and is on its way to the Senate.

The bill, which wouldn't come into effect until the 2001-02 school year, requires incoming freshmen from Kansas high schools to meet minimum academic requirements before entering a Kansas Board of Regents institution.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

2A fans

Elkhart High School students respond to a foul called on the Elkhart Lady Cats during the third quarter of the 2A Kansas High School basketball tournament Wednesday night at Bramlage Coliseum. For basketball fans in Kansas, this weekend will be a busy one, with high school tournament sites all over the state and the Big 8 Tournament beginning in Kansas City, Mo., on Friday.

LAFENE FEE

Bills to create new options for funding student health

Heather Hollingsworth

With a Kansas Board of Regents deadline rapidly approaching, Student Senate struggles to pass a student health fee by March 14.

The fee has to be in the hands of the regents by March 18 or 19.

Following a month-long debate, Student Senate will start at square one and present at least two new bills for first readings tonight.

During second readings of the new bills on March 12, questions and debate will occur. At that point Senate will vote on the bill.

The bills were written in response to Student Body President Jeff Peterson's veto of a $13.68 per semester increase in the student health fee.

Senate has not increased any privilege fees, but Lannie Zweimiller, director of Lafene Health Center, said an increase was needed to make up for a $2.4 million reserve, which has been depleting since the privilege fee was decreased from $80 to $70 in 1994.

Peterson said more of the operating budget for Lafene should be paid for by user fees.

Zweimiller said switching the funding from privilege fees to user fees would be difficult without a reserve to fall back on.

In a bill co-sponsored by senators Trent LeDoux, Mark Tomb and John Potter, students would have the opportunity to vote on leaving the fee at $70 per semester or increasing the fee to $13.68 per semester during the April 9-10 elections.

"It's the same bill Senate passed and the president vetoed," LeDoux said. "That's the number we

See LAFENE Page 8

The K-State Student Union

kicked off its 40th

in the Union

Courtyard

KYLE WYATT

tion with a reception

Wednesday evening.

Theater appeals to older audience

QUICKread

No longer competing with Campus Theatre, Varsity Theatre's business is doing well at showing first-run art

Phill Kellum

With the switch of the Varsity Theatre in Aggieville to an art movie house, Manhattan residents have a theater in which to view first-run art

After the first couple weeks, business is doing well, Jamie Pride, manager of the Campus and Varsity theaters, said.

"(It's) a lot better than it had been for the dollar house. It's picked up a great deal, which we've all been very happy about." Pride said.

With the switch from a dollar movie theater to an art movie house, the clientele has also switched to a predominantly older crowd, Pride said.

'Now they're (Campus and Varsity) not competing with each other for the same audience. Now they have their separate ones," he said.

Public opinion has been overwhelmingly positive, Pride

Questionnaires were placed at the concession stand for patrons to fill out to give their opinions on the switch.

"Half of them were everybody was excited about the new offerings of food here we were suggesting and were giving out new movie ideas. Then the other half wrote, 'Change your prices back to $1.50,"

Varsity assistant manager Jennica Preboth said.

"I will attend more movies now. I'm a movie fan to go to Kansas City to see them. But now if they're down the street that's cool," Josh Baze, junior in advertising, said.

Plans have also been discussed to make changes in the concessions offered at the Varsity, such as coffee or bottled water.

"We're trying to see what people would like to have there," Pride said. Baze said he thought Manhattan was in need of an art movie house.

• See VARSITY Page 8

K-STATE STUDENT UNION

Turning 40

Union celebrates its anniversary with albums of pictures, awards and speeches

Jill Story

More than 100 people gathered in the K-State Student Union Wednesday evening to celebrate the Union's 40 years as host to the campus.

Towers of purple and white balloons surrounded Courtyard as Union workers from the past and present mingled with K-State faculty, staff, students and members of the Manhattan

"I'm here because I wanted to see what was going on and because I wanted to see people who I don't get to see very often, like people who were here when I started here 14 years ago," Jean Johnson, Union Bookstore employee, said.

Coffee and punch were served, along with a buffet provided by Union Food Services as those in attendance viewed albums of pictures and numerous awards and listened to speakers.

Former Union director Walter Smith, who began his K-State career in 1959 as a Union accountant was among those who spoke at the anniversary/birthday

"Forty years - I can't believe it. It doesn't seem possible," Smith said.

Smith also quoted James McCain, president of K-State when the Union opened in fall 1956, as saying, "As we acquire more experience in the operation of the Union, it is certain to become increasingly a major asset to the campus life - socially, culturally and educationally."

Others also affirmed the Union's service to the campus. Congratulatory letters from the Association of College Unions-International, and former directors Loren Kottner (1955-1963) and Jack Sills (1987-1995) were read by John Sandlin, program adviser for Union Program Council and chairman of the 40th anniversary committee. Kottner said he remembered the grand opening of the Union. 'The band and cheerleaders were entertaining the crowd of 3,000 students in front of the darkened Union," Kottner said. "As the ribbon was cut by the president of the student body and the Chairman of the Board of Regents, the lights were turned on all over the building, and the students entered to the strains of When the Saints Go Marching In," he said.

That was 1956. After 40 years, three additions, and the hiring of a fifth director, Bernard Pitts, the Union is still focused on serving the needs of the campus. The party was meant to celebrate that.

"I think the party went well. It's a feeling of elation to see the final product of an event that originally started as a collective idea," Sandlin said. "It's a very rewarding feeling seeing people enjoying them-

▶ U.S. CURRENCY

New bills receive anti-counterfeit safety features

Kris Bethea

After nearly 70 years, Benjamin Franklin is getting a facelift.

New security features are being added to U.S. $100 bills and eventually will be added to $50s and

They will make counterfeiting more difficult, said D'Anne Latimore, assistant vice-president at Kansas State Bank in Manhattan.

This is the first noticeable change with American paper currency since 1928. The new paper currency will have a larger, offcenter portrait of Ben Franklin, a longer serial number, a security thread and other measures to ensure protection against counterfeiting, Latimore said.

Some of the not so obvious changes include a watermark version of the portrait, which will only been seen if the bill is held up to a light, and color-

The color-shifting ink will turn from green to black depending on the angle.

Fine lines, which will be printed thin enough so that typical printing processes cannot reproduce it, • See MONEY Page 8

Countering counterfeiters New $100 bills to be issued before the end of March exhibit new features to thwart counterfeiters. In addition to the visible changes, the new bills will possess these security features.

Security thread A polymer thread inside the paper indicates denomination light, the portrait now left of the fold,

A letter and number above and to the left of the new Federal front of the bill. "USA lower-left number

The lower right number on the front changes from green to black when Concentric fine lines Fine lines too small to be copied or scanned are printed behind both the portrait on the front and Independence Hall on the back.

There will be no recall or devaluation of any U.S. currency. As old notes reach the Federal Reserve, they will be replaced by the redesigned currency. Sources: Angela Chapitan, analyst at the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, Mo. and D'Anne Latimore, assistant vice-president at Kansas State Bank

In the news

► SIMPSON LAWYER FAILS TO PRODUCE $2.3 MILLION, GOES TO JAIL

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - F. Lee Bailey, who has spent his career trying to keep famous clients out of jail, was hauled away in handcuffs and leg irons Wednesday and began serving a six-month jail sentence for failing to produce $25 million in stock from a drug dealer he once represented.

U.S. District Judge Maurice Paul had given the 62-year-old defense attorney until 5 p.m. to come up with the $2.3 million he needed to get the stock released by a Swiss bank or be jailed for contempt of court. At 4:34 p.m., a grim-faced Bailey bolted from a car in front of the federal courthouse and strode through a throng of reporters on his way into the U.S. Marshal's Office. He refused to answer shouted questions.

Bailey's lawyer, Roger E. Zuckerman, declined to comment shortly before Bailey was taken to

Bailey contends the assets from a former client were for his fee and expenses. Prosecutors claim that most of the money belongs to the government because the drug dealer forfeited his assets as part of a

The judge had demanded that Bailey turn over the stock while the question of ownership is decided.

Bailey, whose clients have included O.J. Simpson, Patty Hearst, the Boston Strangler and Dr. Sam Sheppard, had pleaded with a federal appeals court in Atlanta for more time, insisting he had a made a good-faith effort to come up with the money.

But on Tuesday, the court turned him down. Appeals Judge Ed Carnes said Bailey had been clawing and scraping to keep the assets.

Police reports

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

TUESDAY, MARCH 5

At 3:15 p.m., Brent Stover, Haymaker 405, reported the theft of his bike. Loss was $360.

At 5:20 p.m., Mehesh Senagala reported the theft of two computer-generated architectural projects off the wall outside of Seston 104. Loss

At 12:30 p.m., Jerald Fornelli was $100. At 8:55 p.m., a two-vehicle accident occurred, involving Jennifer McGinnis, Ford 603, and Christopher Ortbals, 1919 Hunting Ave. Damage reported the theft of a bicycle and cable from the south area of Seaton

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6

Hall. Demage was $1,415.

At 3:15 p.m., Brent Stover reported the theft of his bicycle from north-west side of Ahearn Field House.

Loss was $360.00.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

TUESDAY, MARCH 5

At 6:42 a.m., Laura Arbuckle, 2101 Clefiin Road, reported the theft of her purse from her residence. Loss was $120.

St., reported the theft of his bicycle. Loss was $600 At 8:34 a.m., Sonya Perdue, 414 N. Juliette Ave., reported damage to the windows of her vehicle. Loss was

At 8:12 a.m., Jim Dyer, 1015 Vattier

At 9:45 a.m., Jason Godfrey, 730 Crestwood Drive, reported the theft of his car stereo. Loss was $120. At 11:42 a.m., Teresa Ryckman, 2011 Seaton Ave., reported the theft of military green body armor. Loss was $400. At 1 p.m., Maya Needham, 1442 Fairchild Ave., reported the theft of a bike from her residence. Loss was

At 4:22 p.m., Heather Miller, 518 Sunset Ave., reported the theft of hubcaps and damage to the antenna of her vehicle. Loss was $553. At 4:38 p.m., Arlene Kaump, Randolph, reported a theft at her resdence, Loss was $2,250.

At 4:48 p.m., Neil Miller, 1109 Kearney St., reported the theft of his bicycle. Loss was $600. At 7:01 p.m., Seth Lloyd, 1632 McCain Lane, reported the theft of several bicycles from Alpha Tau Omega, 1632 McCain Lane. Five

At 7:35 p.m., Jennifer Baker, 621 Bluemont Ave., reported the theft of her purse. Loss was $275. At 9:17 p.m., Brian Tuttle, 1119 Ratone St., reported the theft of his bicycle. Loss was $220.

bikes were stolen. Loss was $2,325

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

■ Be international! Volunteer to help an international student practice English. Contact Jim Endrizzi at the International Student Center at 532-6448.

m CEO15, Civil Engineering Assembly will meet at 7:30 tonight

 Ahmad Humam Hamid will give a doctoral dissertation at 2 p.m. WIC: Healthy Foods and today in Waters 201A. Nutrition Education, has opening

BULLETINS

 KSU Biochemical Society will meet at 8 tonight in the Chemistry Biochemistry building, room 437.

ICTHUS will meet at 6:30

tonight in the K-State Student Union, on the first floor in front of the bookstore. The group will go roller skating in Wamego.

Campus Crusade for Christ will meet at 7 tonight in Throckmorton

■ Lutheran Campus Ministry will meet for supper and a Bible study at 6 tonight in the Baptist Campus Pre-Vet Club will meet at 7:30 for women (pregnant, delivered and breast feeding), infants and children up to 5 years old. Call the Riley rtment at 776-4779, ext. 229 for County Manhattan Health

tonight in the west parking lot of Trotter Hall. College of Human Ecology student ambassador applications are available. Applications are due in the dean's office March 15.

KSU Horsemans' Associa will meet at 6:30 tonight in Weber 146. The executive committee will meet at 6 tonight in the lounge.

CORRECTION

> In the Wednesday edition of the Collegian, Mitch Holthus was credited for starting WIBW-TV's extensive coverage of K-State women's basketball and baseball.

The article should have read Holthus was responsible for starting WIBW's radio coverage of K-State women's basketball and baseball.

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the sum

Cold and mostly sunny. High

Omaha

Kansas

City

28/20

around 35.

38/32

Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan,

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167.

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

BIKE THEFTS PROMPT ACTION

Six bicycles, valued at more than $2000, were stolen from Alpha Tau Omega fraternity sometime between Saturday and last night.

Cary Majors, ATO president and senior in management and marketing, said because all of the bikes were locked up, the thieves had to cut the U-locks and chains.

This is not the first time this has happened this year. Majors said some bikes were stolen at the beginning of September, Lieutenant Herb Crosby said bike thefts are not uncommon during springtime.

He said he recommends storing bikes inside when possible and investing in a quality lock to prevent future bike thefts.

Majors said the fraternity is going to take measures to prevent future bike thefts.

The plans include installing motion-sensor lights around the bike rack and possibly a shed that will house bikes.

Abbi Hake

▶ PLANT GENETICIST DIES AT 73

A seed expert who spent a large part of her life improving wheat died Monday. Betty L. Goertzen, 73, died after openheart surgery at St. Luke's Medical Center in Kansas City, Mo. Goertzen and her husband, Kenneth, spent more than four decades on plant genetics, concentrating most of their efforts on developing improved strains of cereal grains. The couple helped develop two strains of wheat with particularly high protein content:

Carl 92 and Jager. Kenneth said he plans to continue their genetic research, but he said he realizes it will be difficult without his wife. Her funeral will be at 10:30 a.m. Friday at Haven United Methodist Church. Memorial contributions may be sent to help continue her work in wheat research, in care of Van Campen Funeral Home, Haven.

Staff Reporter

Senate agenda The Student Senate meeting is at 7 tonight in Salina. Call to order Roll call Open Period Approval of March 5 minutes Announcements Committee reports

Second readings Res. 95/96/70 Commendation to David Yoder

Bill 95/96/100 Amendment to SGA by-laws regarding proxy voting

First readings

Director's reports

Bill 95/96/108 Restructuring of student activity fee Bill 95/96/110 Establishment of ad-hoc Committee to Investig Athletics (CIA) Bill 95/96/111 Amendment to by-laws regarding the intern program

Bill 95/96/112 Increase of student health fee Bill 95/96/114 Amendment to by-laws regarding senator absences Bill 95/96/115 Special allocation to International Coordinating Council Bill 95/96/116 Special allocation to Student Governing Association Bill 95/96/117 Authorization of spring referendum for student

Held in committee

Bill 95/96/49 Senator education requirements - Senate operations

health fee

Open period Announcement of constitution and/or by-law revisions Adjournment

highs and Bill 95/96/107 College Council FY '97 allocation ows

MANHATTAN WEATHER Today Friday

Cold and mostly sunny. High around 30. North wind from 10 to 20 mph. Tonight, cold and mostly clear. Low near 7

Denver Yesterday's

MANHATTAN 27/20 24/13 22/7 Garden City

31/23 Tulsa

STATE OUTLOOK

Cold and mostly sunny. Highs from 25 to 30 in the north and from 30 to 35 in the south. Tonight, cold and mostly clear. Lows from zero to 10 above. Friday, cold and mostly sunny. Highs in the 30s.

St. Louis .

ADVERTISE KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

(formerly of Aggie Hair Shapers)

Shear

MAX

SHEAR DYNAMICS Aggieville 776-9100

Not just a night spot

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths

This coupon good for FREE SLICE OF PIZZA

Two Slices Per Customer Per Visit With Purchase of Beverage

616 N. 12TH • AGGIEVILLE • Exp. 3/15/96 Parlor

ADMISSION TO ALL UPC FILMS IS $1.75

GOLDENEYE

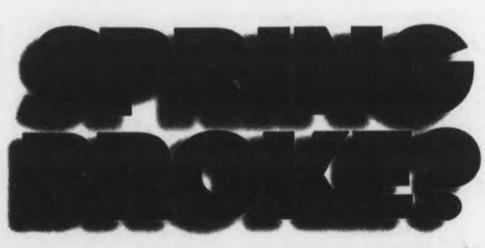

Friday, March 8 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, March 9 7:00 pm Forum Hall

SEARCH

Thursday, March 7 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, March 9 9:30 pm Forum Hall

Starring: Rosanna Arquette Ethan Hawke Dennis Hopper John Turturro Christopher Walken

For more information call the UPC Office at 532-6571

on't let this spring leave you broke and left out of all the fun.
Go anywhere Greyhound goes for a maximum round trip
fare of $129. For a limited time only, from February 26th until April 15th, students who show a valid student ID can travel to any of our 2,400 destinations. So this spring, take your break on Greyhound.

For more information call 1.800.231.2222.

▶ USD 383

School board approves starting date for school

QUICKread ▶ USD 383 board members approved an Aug. 22 starting date for classes next year. The rest of the calendar will be voted on at a later meeting.

Mikki Tice

The Manhattan/Ogden USD 383 school board approved an Aug. 22 starting date for classes next year.

Dave Mickey, associate superintendent, opened discussion of the school calendar for the 1996-97 school year.

The board motioned and seconded the starting date for Aug. 22 for students and Aug. 15 for the teachers' first day. The rest of the calendar will be voted on at a

"I am pleased the students end before June, and they don't start any earlier than the 22nd," Roberta Johnson, Manhattan resident, said.

"I have heard feedback from parents and children agreeing the fall semester should end before Christmas break," she said.

The way the calendar reads now, the students won't finish the fall semester until after Christmas break — during finals.

"I believe this problem could be solved if spring break wasn't so long," Johnson said. Since in-service was added, the calendar has been stretched. Spring break was necessary when there wasn't in-service, but now I think spring break shouldn't be so long.

Beverly Eversmeyer, school board member, said spring break should stay the length it is for

"It has been researched that spring break improves students' attendance and decreases vandalism," she said.

She said she feels Aug. 15 is too early for the teachers to be starting school, but now that air conditioning has been added, this date isn't so

The date for school to start was approved and seconded, but the calendar will be voted on in an upcoming meeting.

Another item discussed in the agenda was the YES fund grants totaling $17,943. The board discussed these funds were to be used for afterschool and evening activities through next spring. The board approved and seconded this Eversmeyer said the school district was grateful for what it had received and it would use the funds wisely.

Material thoughts

Eric Oliva, senior in architectural engineering, studies for Mechanics of Materials Wednesday night in the Cats' Pause Lounge on the second floor of the K-State Student Union. Oliva was waiting to meet other members of a study group.

KYLE WYATT

Men receive sentence for rape

U.S. servicemen sentenced to 6 1/2-to-7 years for raping girl Associated Press

NAHA, Okinawa - Three U.S. servicemen were convicted Thursday in the rape of a 12-year-old Okinawan girl and sentenced to 6-1/2 to 7 years in prison in a case that became a symbol of America's controversial bases on this southern island.

The verdict, handed down by a panel of three judges at the Naha District Court, followed six months of protests against the U.S. presence. Support for American troops on Okinawa is at one of its lowest points since World War II.

None of the three U.S. GIs - Navy Seaman Marcus Gill, of Woodville, Texas; Marine Pfc. Rodrico Harp, of Griffin, Ga.; and Marine Pfc. Kendrick Ledet, of Waycross, Ga. showed any emotion when the sentences were read.

Compare to $79.95

Special

Lacers

Compare to $99.95

Gill and Harp were sentenced to seven years, and Ledet received 6-1/2 years. The sentences, tough by Japanese standards, will be served in Yokosuka prison, just south of Tokyo.

All three had confessed to some role in the crime. On the trial's opening day, Gill said he raped the girl, while Ledet and Harp said they helped abduct her, but only because Gill bullied them into joining him.

The court, however, said Harp's testimony was untrustworthy, and he therefore was given the same sentence

In a statement, the judges said the crime was carried out systematically, violated the victim's human dignity and caused her extreme physical and psychological harm.

The U.S. Embassy in a statement refused to comment on the ruling and said an American military observer was present at all the proceedings and reported no problems contrary to U.S. or Japanese judicial practices.

"Japan is a nation under the rule of law, just as the United States is a nation under the rule law," the statement said. "We respect each other's legal processes."

Prosecutors said the three forced the girl into their rented car on the night of Sept. 4 as she left a stationery shop after buying a school notebook. They allegedly beat and bound her as Gill drove to a deserted road amid fields of sugar cane.

The girl was raped there and abandoned. Still bleeding, she wandered to the nearest house and tearfully called home. Gill, Ledet and Harp were arrested by military police two days

Prosecutors argued before the judges - there are no jury trials in Japan — that all three participated in the rape and deserved equal punish-

Although TV cameras were not allowed inside the courtroom, in keeping with Japanese legal custom, the proceedings were closely followed on this small, crowded island. About 300 people lined up Thursday morning for a lottery for the 34 seats available in the courtroom.

In the trial's first session last November, the victim's father said he wished he could kill the three Americans himself.

Later, the interpreter broke down in tears as she rendered into Japanese Gill's graphic account of the rape.

Emotions outside court have also been Record numbers of Okinawans have rallied against the heavy U.S. military presence here since the rape. The largest protest in October drew more than 60,000 people, many of whom shouted demands for the immediate withdrawal of the 27,000 U.S. troops. Outside the court Thursday, about a dozen red-stenciled anti-base signs had been hung up, some reading

Some American troops

still believe Okinawa is ours, not yours.

U.S. territory. Okinawa is

MASAHIDE OTA

OKINAWA GOVERNOR

English. Okinawa Gov. Masahide Ota, a long-standing opponent of the U.S. bases, has called for the troops' removal by 2015, and his government has drawn up detailed plans for the > troops still believe Okinawa is U.S. territory," he said in an interview earlier this week. "Okinawa is ours, not yours." Even so, for decades, much of the island has been off-limits to Okinawans

"Some American

Although Okinawa accounts for less than one percent of Japan's total area, roughly 75 percent of all Japanese land reserved for exclusive U.S. military use is concentrated here.

One-fifth of the island is taken up by the bases, and it is hard to take even a short drive without seeing at least one U.S. military facility.

Ota and other opponents of the bases said the return of land used by the U.S. military would allow the construction of roads, civilian airports and resorts to bolster tourism, Okinawa's main industry.

Without bases, Ota says, tourism could be doubled to 6 million visitors a year - an issue he says is all the more urgent because Okinawa is the poorest region in Japan, with about half the national average yearly wage and twice the unemployment rate.

Okinawa's pleas have been received with guarded expressions of sympathy in Tokyo and Washington. But while Okinawa is expected to top the agenda when President Clinton visits Japan next month, neither country wants to renegotiate their mutual security treaty.

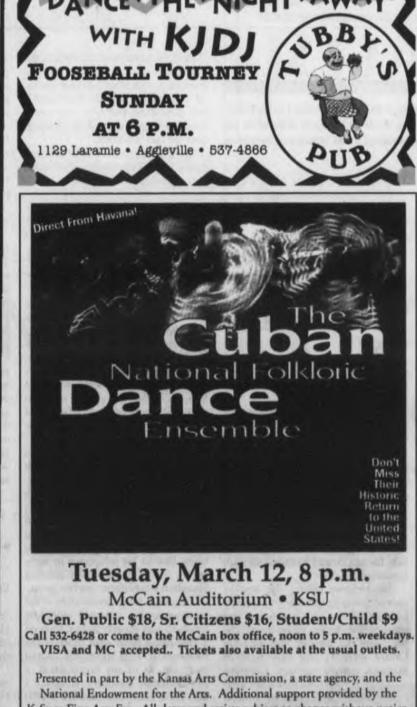

Adm. Joseph Prueher, commander of the U.S. Pacific forces, said last week that he expects no change in the number of troops in Japan — 47,000 or on Okinawa in the near future.

Ota countered a few days later that as long as U.S. troops are on Okinawa, more trouble is inevitable.

"As governor, I'm always worrying if something will happen," he said.

1105 Waters

K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to change without notice.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

COME IN FOR OUR 8TH ANNIVERSARY SALES Pregnancy

Whole Tuna Sandwich and a side $1 OFF

expires 3-18-96 1219 Bluemont . Aggieville Testing Center 539-3338

 Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service ·Same day results Call for appointment

in Anderson Village

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

'No Coupon" Specials

(NO coupon needed,

NONE accepted) Everyday Everyday Two-fers Three-fers - PIZZAS with 3 - PIZZAS with - TOPPINGS each TOPPING each COKES with ice COKES with ice Pizza Shuttle 776-5577

LEGAL SERVICES FOR STUDENTS

Dianne K. Urban, Attorney Student Activities and Services

K-State Union • 532-6541

Legal Counseling, Document Preparation, Limited Representation FOR ENROLLED STUDENTS PAYING ACTIVITY FEE FREE AND CONFIDENTIAL

Opinion

DO YOU HAVE AN OPINION ABOUT THE LAFENE FEE?

If you have an opinion about the Lafene Health Center fee, the members of Student Senate would like to hear it. A list of senators and e-mail addresses has been compiled on the E-Collegian for Point your web browser to (http://www.spub.ksu.edu/) and let your senators know what their constituents think.

NOTES FROMthe underground

LISTEN HERE YOU PANSY

"REAL" AMERICANS,

AND IT'S A

PROVEN FACT

THAT "REAL"

AMERICANS

DICTIONARIES

CAN'T USE

LITTLE RICH BOY! I REPRESENT

THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY DEBATES ...

ISN'T YOUR PROPOSED

"TARIFF" JUST ANOTHER

WORD FOR "TAX"?

COLLEGIANopinion

Mass transit system idea should be explored

QUICKread

Students should call city hall at 587-2465 and ask for the phone numbers of the Manhattan City Commissioners. Then call the commissioners and express your support for a public transportation system.

In Lincoln, Neb., University of Nebraska students can use their university ID as a pass and ride free.

In Ames, Iowa, Iowa State University owns the city bus line, and a student can ride anywhere for 35 cents. In fact, with two exceptions (Stillwater, Okla. and Manhattan), every city where there is a Big 8 school, there is a public transportation system.

Fortunately, this inequity might

The City of Manhattan is looking at proposals for a public transportation system for Manhattan with the hope of implementing one.

It's about time, we say. For too long, we have lacked this one vital thing in Manhattan — the kind of thing that can help make a good place to live into a great place to live public transportation.

The benefits of such a system would be many. It would help with our parking situation here on campus. It would give students without cars a way to get around town. It would be cheaperthan taking a taxi, and it would save

Taking public transportation is more environmentally friendly than driving your own car. That's reason enough to take the bus.

Students are likely to be a large portion of the users of this service. Many students don't own cars - especially international students. A public transportation system would make Manhattan a much friendlier place to live for those students.

The Manhattan City Commission is accepting proposals. Give the commissioners a call, and tell them students support the idea.

lately - what they mean and how

When I got married, I took my husband's name. No, I do not feel like his Marriage is a big step, one of the defining moments between childhood and adulthood. I feel a name change is a good way to mark the switch. That and Kady Massey-Guyton is too long.

Seventeen characters, including the Names are odd things to have attached to your personality. I have been told your name can determine property, and he is not my lord and they are used.

what becomes of you in life.

John Wayne's real first name was Marion. Somehow I think the Duke we all know and love would not have ever happened if he had stuck with

I have a hard time picturing a guy named Marion yelling "Fill your hands, you son of a bitch," then charging down a hill.

Try to imagine that. It is tough, and I'm paid to think up that kind of stuff. In some cultures, changing your name at a certain point in life is expected. Unfortunately, in this country it is not done so much.

My friend Kevyn decided to take matters into his own hands when he changed his name at age 21.

Key was originally named Kevin. When he became a legal adult he decided to mark it by switching over

Then there are those people who lose all grasp with reality and try to dispense with a name completely.

Take for example that guy who used to be Prince. He switched to that little symbol thingy and is unofficially known as the-artist-formerly-knownas-Prince.

Big switch. Way to be daring.

There are those people who are hypersensitive when their names are mispronounced and the ones with common names spelled oddly. (Tiphanie and Genipher are a couple I have encountered. My favorite one so far is SanDeE*.)

BUCHANAN

I have often wondered why some parents foist their children with certain names. The mother of Serendipity, a girl I went to school with, said the name just sounded good at the time. Serendipity went by Sera whenever she had the chance. She also swore her daughter would be named something easy - like Jane.

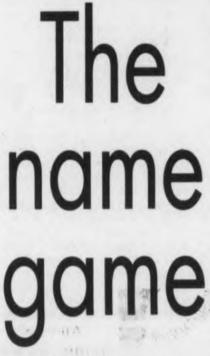

I think we should be allowed to choose our own names. Picabo Street, a downhill Olympic skier, got to, and how many men would go by Junior if they had a choice?

Not many, I would bet. The acid test of what to name a child is this: Open the back door and yell the name several times at varying degrees of loudness. The one that sounds best is the one you go with.

Think about this: How many times do you want to yell Basil across the neighborhood?

The columnist formerly known as Kady Guyton is a junior in journalism and mass communications.

Myview

Guyton

hat which we call a rose, by any other name would smell just as sweet." - William Shakespeare

I have a weird name, or as my mother likes to say, distinctive. I was named after my grandmother Leocadia. My parents thought her name was sort of unwieldy, so when I was born, they cut it down.

I have developed a good sense of humor about my name. It is constantly misspelled and mispronounced but always remembered. I have never met

Unfortunately, the 23 girls named Jennifer whom I went to high school with cannot say the same

I have been thinking about names more often

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

AWARENESS OF FIRE'S DANGERS IMPORTANT

Editor,

The column in the Feb. 26 Collegian regarding cigarette butts raised an important issue for Manhattan residents.

It didn't, however, explain some of the repercussions cigarettes have in regard to fire. We all know about the Konza Prairie fire. Fortunately, it didn't get close to most of us living in Manhattan. But what if it had?

STACEY PAUL

66 A trip to the

I'M grocery store required wearing filter masks to prevent the inhaling of gas. My family couldn't have a barbecue or set off firecrackers...

If you have never been near a severe fire, let me fill you in on a few things. I lived in Montana, just north of Yellowstone Park, during the fires of 1988. To us, the fires were just as devastating as the floods of 1992 were to the Midwest. They affected everyone.

The fires were initially started by the careless toss of a cigarette butt. Fires popped up in other places due to lightning striking the ground. The fires spread until they met each other, forming one huge forest fire covering hundreds of thousands of acres. It wasn't just ranch owners, park service workers or tourists these fires affected. I was a city dweller.

I couldn't just hop on my bike and go to a friend's house if I wanted to. First, I had to call the fire hotline to find out the ash-intensity level. If there was too much ash in the air, it wasn't safe to ride my bike. Even if the air was safe, my family might have used our weekly ration of water, and I wouldn't be able to hose the thick coating of ash off my bike.

A trip to the grocery store required wearing filter masks to prevent the inhaling of gas. My family couldn't have a barbecue or set off firecrackers on July 4.

Elk, deer and bears were forced out of their mountain homes to search for food, so our trash had to be placed in special containers and couldn't be left at the corner for pick-up. My father, a minister, was asked by the Red Cross if our church had room to house 100 children evacuated from a summer camp. Imagine calling 100 parents to tell them they need to come get their child

because the cabins went up in flames. When I looked out my window Sunday night, I could see the fires on the Konza Prairie. I had no idea how big the fire was, if the firefighters would be able to contain it, or if it would suddenly change directions or jump over the roadway, a hilltop or river, as the fires did in Fires destroy homes and property. They also change your way of life. They involves everyone in the vicinity, even if people don't lose property or know someone who did. Please think about this before you throw a cigarette butt out the window.

Stacey Paul freshmen in interior architecture

PRESIDENT APOLOGIZES TO LAFENE DOCTORS

I find it imperative to respond to the extensive coverage of the student health fee and my position concerning student health.

First, I recognize the importance of affordable, high-quality health care for our students. Secondly, I want to achieve that goal through the philosophical principle that was the single most important issue in the campaign last year.

Projections completed by the Privilege Fee Committee have demonstrated the increase in revenue that is being requested through a subsidy fee can instead be raised through generated revenue.

We propose raising the cost to user of specialty services provided by Lafene. Under this proposal, no charges for doctor visits would be necessary to provide the revenue Lafene officials said they need to maintain current services. Contrary to overall perceptions, this is not a cut in our support of Lafene, but instead it is continued support of their ser-

It is the same principle behind the final decision on the athletic fee. It is consistent with what has been decided concerning Student Publications Inc. It is consistent with how every other privilege fee has been reviewed over the last two years.

In response to Dr. Larry Moeller's public letter, I apologize if I offended you or anyone else on campus.

Jeff Peterson student body president

READER SAYS COLUMNIST

SLANDERED FRATERNITY

Editor,

I am writing in response to the March 4 column, "Thanks to the dork who shot me," by Jason Hamilton.

I would like to preface my comments by pointing out two facts. First, I sympathize with Hamilton's agitation with the "dork" who shot him. Secondly, I am a proud independent, and therefore not an advocate of the greek system or any particular house. In spite of these two facts, I strongly disagree with Hamilton's column and the way in he dealt with this incident.

My first problem is more of a question. Is he positive the shots came from the fraternity house on 11th and Fremont? If not, he should not make unfounded public accusations. Due to his reluctance in naming the fraternity, I sincerely question

Hamilton's confidence on this point. Secondly, his generalization of the incident to the fraternity allegedly involved was entirely unfair. I am on a first-name basis with most of the members of Delta Sigma Phi. I admit there are, as in any organization, a few immature members. However, I also know most members are intelligent men who do not condone this type of activity. I have yet to find an organization without any such "stupid" people. Hamilton's obvious attempt to use this incident to slander Delta Sigma Phi was immature and uncalled for.

Finally, if Hamilton had dealt with the situation properly, he would probably feel no need to vent through a column an entire week and a half later. I confess my first instinct would have been similar to Hamilton's desire to "shoot out all their windows." I am glad his roommate talked him out of breaking windows, but slander is not the solution. He should have immediately alerted the fraternity president about the shooting. Instead, the members of Delta Sigma Phi first heard about the incident by reading the Collegian, nearly two weeks later. Hamilton, next time you have a problem with the organization, I suggest you be an adult about it. Instead of using your position to slander, try approaching the person or organization face to face. This strategy not only provides results more effectively, but it also demonstrates integrity.

Incidentally, Delta Sigma Phi reacted to the article with integrity.

Mindy Scofield senior in accounting

S.H.A.P.E. SETS RECORD STRAIGHT ON CONDOMS

Editor.

We, the members of S.H.A.P.E. felt compelled to clarify some of Harold Taylor's incorrect statements regarding condoms and their usage in the Feb. 27 Collegian.

The FDA strictly regulates the manufacturing of latex condoms. Each and every latex condom is tested electronically for holes or thin areas which could let a virus through.

If such a hole is found, the condom is destroyed. The Center for Disease Control tests batches of latex condoms by filling sample condoms with 300 milliliters of water, which is much more fluid than is present during ejaculation. If more than three of the condoms break, the entire batch is destroyed.

Additionally, each and every latex condom is dipped twice in latex. Surgical gloves are dipped in latex only once. In short, a condom offers more protection from diseases transmitted by fluid than a surgical glove

In Dallas, city officials were able to drop the HIV and STD transmission rate from the 9th-highest in the country to the 20th, through open access to latex condoms, as well as education about disease.

It is our assumption the condoms Taylor was referring to in his study were made of lambskin and not latex. Lambskin condoms are not effective in preventing the transmission of diseases because they are made from the intestinal lining of sheep. Health officials recommend using a latex condom during all sexual contact because they are 98-100 percent effective in blocking transmission of diseases, as well as preventing unwanted pregnancies.

These are the facts. If you have any questions, there are several different hotlines to contact. ■ The AIDS hotline in Kansas is 1-800-232-0040.

■ The CDC's national hotline is 1-800-533-4855 ■ There are also caring professionals at Lafene in health education who are willing to answer questions. We suggest Taylor call one of these numbers to get his facts

The members of S.H.A.P.E.

Project allows student ideas to be traded

The program allows our other students are doing

as far as skill level and the design issues they

SUSANNE SIEPL-COATES

DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE

students to see what

Nebraska, KSU architecture students share techniques, models

Lynn Wuger

Architecture projects and models fill the Chang Gallery, on the first floor of Seaton Hall.

But the gallery was not featuring K-State students' works.

Instead, it displays the works of students enrolled in the Department of Architecture at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The display was part of the first project-exchange program between the K-State and University of Nebraska-Lincoln architecture depart-

Facilitated through the Department of Architecture and the American Institute of Architecture Students, the program involves exchanging student projects and models with University of Nebraska-Lincoln and displaying them in the gallery for two weeks, Grace Wallace, president of AIAS and senior in architecture, said.

"Mark Donahue, who is a professor in Lincoln, came down on Feb. 21 for critiques and brought the UNL projects with him," Wallace said. "We put them up in the gallery on the 26th for display and will take them down on March 8."

The idea for the project exchange was brought up by Madlen Simon, AIAS faculty advisor and assistant professor of architecture.

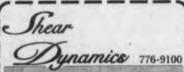

"Madlen thought it would be good for our schools to do something, together since we are so close and both have good architecture pro-grams," Susanne Siepl-Coates, head of the department of architecture, said. "She and Mark Donahue started talking about doing some type of exchange program when he was down here last semester."

Exchanging projects between the schools benefits the students, Siepl-Coates said

"The program allows our students to see what other students are doing as far as skill level and the design issues they embrace," she said. "It also gives them ideas on how to give presentations and come techniques to follow."

Tom McKenzie, junior in architecture, agreed the project exchange was a learning experience for both

> ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO DOWNLOAD. THE E-COLLEGIAN. HTTP://COLLEGIAN.KSU.EDU/

Full set of nails 130, reg. 145 Fills $15, reg. $22 Nikki or Amy -- Exp. 3/22/96 12th & Laramie • Aggieville

"I think the exchange is beneficial," McKenzie said. "We get to see what types of projects they are doing and compare them to projects we do in our classes.

"Plus, it's interesting to find out what schools like Nebraska are doing in terms of design."

McKenzie is one architecture student who will have a project displayed

> "I think it's great my project is going," he said.
> "The project involved designing an Institute of Mathematics in Norway, and I think it's a good example showing Nebraska what we are accomplishing here." The second half of the continues exchange through the next two weeks as K-State projects will be displayed on the UNL campus until spring "We are taking their

Save up to $20 on a complete pair of

NEEDED

PEER AIDS EDUCATORS

FOR FALL SEMESTER

STUDENTS INTERESTED IN JOINING

A TEAM OF STUDENTS TO TEACH OTHERS

ABOUT AIDS

REQUIREMENTS:

SELF MOTIVATING, CREATIVE,

ABLE TO TALK TO GROUPS

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

CONTACT HEALTH EDUCATION AND PROMOTION

AT LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

APPLICATIONS ARE AVAILABLE NOW

532-6595

1441 Anderson Ave. . Anderson Village

Adjacent to KSU

projects back to Lincoln on Monday and bringing along some of our projects for them to display," Wallace said.

► QUALIFIED ADMISSIONS

Students might have to meet requirement before being admitted to Kansas colleges

The long-standing tradition of open admissions in Kansas public universities could soon become a thing of the past. A qualified admissions bill passed the Kansas House of Representatives Feb. 27 and is on its way to the

The bill, which wouldn't come into effect until the 2001-02 school year, requires high school graduates to meet minimum academic requirements before entering a Kansas Board of Regents institution.

There are three main qualifications in the bill that passed in the House, but only one of the qualifications has to be met by an applicant.

They include that students need to rank in the top third of their high school graduating class, have a composite score of 21 on the American College Testing Program exam or attain a grade point average of 2.0 on a 4.0 scale taking precollege curriculum prescribed by the regents.

These requirements only pertain to incoming freshman from Kansas high schools.

Kansas is the last state with an open admissions policy.

Some K-State students and faculty members are opposed to qualified admissions because they said they feel that everyone should have the same opportunity to get an education.

776-9461

Toll Free 1-800-432-0036

Mike Lynch, assistant vice president for institutional advancement. said Kansas has a real populist tradition, and Kansans tend to feel that every student should at least have the right to go try.

Dan Delany, senior in wildlife biology, said he didn't think Kansas should have qualified admissions.

"Everyone should be allowed. If they can't cut it first semester, they're out of here. The University benefits and makes additional money," he

One concern is that minorities or students from rural communities are at a disadvantage because their schools are too small to have all the prep classes, or they don't really think of college in their future.

"Those kids don't have the same privileges," Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, said.

Many people are concerned some schools will not be able to offer all the classes in the precollege curriculum prescribed by the regents.

But Lynch said with time and technology schools will be able to provide the recommended curricu-

"Technology will afford small school districts to tap into courses,"

Franklin said some students don't think about college, so they aren't motivated in high school. But when they get to college they do better, he

"Just because you do well in high school doesn't mean you will do well in college," Melissa Kates, junior in computer science, said.

Franklin said tests like the ACT don't show a student's motivation.

"Those aren't motivation indicators. Those are performance indicators," he said.

But Lynch said since qualified admissions don't come into effect until 2001, it will give students a chance to prepare themselves to meet qualified admissions standards.

The bill, as passed by the House, also includes a 10-percent safety valve for Kansas students.

"Students have to take more rigorous courses, but they only have to have a 2.0 GPA in those courses. Most of the adjustment depends on what students take," he said.

Lynch said 70 to 80 percent of this year's freshman would have met the qualified admission bill standards.

"By 2001, between 81 to 90 percent should qualify just by taking the right courses," he said.

Mark Hansard, Manhattan resident who works with students on campus, said he is in favor of qualified admissions.

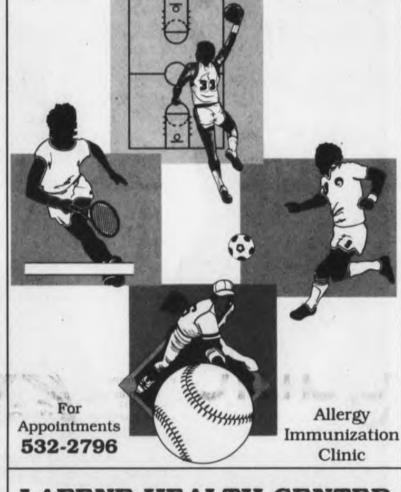

"I think the system has lowered the standards a lot, and the quality of education has been lowered. Instead of saying let's let everyone come, let's believe that everyone could make the standard."

The qualified admissions bill is in the Senate Education Committee.

The committee chair is planning hearings for the week of March 18. After that it would pass on to the Senate floor, Susan Peterson, assistant to the president, said.

"Everybody says they think it will pass," she said.

ERIKSEN SPORTS MEDICINE CENTER

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

STATE

St. PATRICKS

ENTRY FEE

EVENT SCHEDULE

Saturday, March 16, 1996

12:30 p.m.

Race Headquarters will be at 616 N. 12th

10-12:15 p.m. Registration and securing of race packets for all races and walk.

11 a.m. PARADE Start of 2-mile Fun Run.

1:15 p.m. Start of St. Pat's 10km Road Race 3-mile Walk participants follow 1:15 p.m.

10km runners. 2:45 p.m. Awards Ceremony begins in Triangle Park. Barbecue for all runners after Awards Ceremony. Drawing for shoes provided by ASICS. ASICS representative available at Ballards all day.

This schedule will be followed rain or shine.

AGE DIVISIONS

Separate age groups for men and women for both the St. Pat's 10km Road Race and the Two-Mile Fun Run:

45-49 9-Under 60-64 50-54 65-69 10-13 30-34 35-39 55-59 70-Over Wheelchair Division 19-24 40-44

SPONSORED KANSASSTAIL BANK K-ROCK • BALLARD'S • K-MAN

MAIL ENTRIES TO: ST. PAT'S RACE c/o Kansas State Bank P.O. Box 69 • Manhattan, Kansas 66502 Name (print) _ Address City ZIP State. Phone (work) . (home) Date of Birth Age on Race Day Check: Male Female For Official Use Shirt Size: Event: 10km S MO 2 Mile Walk LO Race Number XL O Assigned If under 18, signature of parent or guardian

ENTRY FORM

Runners $12, walkers $8 if postmarked by March 9, participant to enter two races (still receiving 1 T-shirt).

1996, $15/$11 if postmarked after March 9, 1996. Entry fee must accompany entry form, and is not refundable. A $15 fee ($18 if late) allows a

All Proceeds Benefit Special Olympics

AUDITIONS

Manhattan Civic Theatre announces auditions for the musical...

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

by Rogers and Hammerstein

10 a.m. - 4 p.m. CHILDREN Saturday, March 2 CHILDREN Saturday, March 9 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. Sunday, March 10 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. ADULTS ADULTS Monday, March 11 7 p.m. - 9 p.m.

*Children auditioning on Saturday should plan to attend BOTH in the morning and afternoon. The morning session is for reading and the afternoon for music. Bring a prepared song.

web page -- http://www.flinthills.com/arts/

For more information call Fred Nelson at 776-3891

 New Orleans, Sun Belt Conference North Carolina-Greensboro, Big South Conference

Purdue, Big Ten Conference
 Northern Illinois, Midwestern Collegiate Conference

Portland, West Coast Conference

 South Carolina State, Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference
 Tulsa, Missouri Valley Conference UCLA, Pacific 10 Conference

 Valparaiso, Mid-Continent Conference
 Virginia Commonwealth, Colonial Athletic Association Western Carolina, Southern Conference

KYLE WYATT/Collegian

Wildcat third baseman Todd Fereday belts a hit during the Cats' 14-2 victory against Creighton earlier this season. K-State's next home game will be at 3 p.m. March 15.

No. 250 on its way for Cats

■ Baseball team's next win will be the 250th victory in Coach Mike Clark's career at K-State ace take a 3.09 ERA

23.1

Shana Newell sports editor

fter 10 seasons at the helm of K-State baseball, Coach Mike Clark is about to reach a

With 249 wins in his tenure at K-State, Clark will be looking for No. 250 Friday as the Wildcats face Central Michigan for the second time this season.

In only its second game of the season, Central Michigan fell to 1-1 against the "Central Michigan was one of the top 10 teams last season," Clark said. "The competition is fantastic.'

K-State was led by right-fielder Chris Hess and second baseman Scott Poepard in the Cats' 7-5 win against the Chippewas.

Hess was 2-of-4 against the Central Michigan pitchers as he drove in three runs, courtesy of a seventh-inning homerun. To date, Hess has a .355 batting average in 62 at-bats. He has knocked out five doubles and two homeruns for the Cats, driving in 17 runs. He also is 3-of-4 in stolen bases. Hess tied K-State's record for consecutive game hitting streak with 25 games, tying Otto Kaifes.

Poepard was also 2-of-4 against the Chippewas, knocking in one run in the top of the sixth. On the season, Poepard is hitting .407, second only to third baseman Todd Fereday. In 54 at-bats, Poepard has a triple. He leads the team in total bases (39) and slugging percentage (.722) and is 3-of-5 in stolen bases.

Pitcher Jon Oiseth earned the win for the Cats, with 4.1 innings pitched. Only four hits were off Oiseth's pitching, and he walked only one batter. Oiseth had three strike-outs in his outing as he improved his record to 2-0. Oiseth has a season ERA of 5.68 in four appearances.

When K-State faces Central Michigan Friday, look Our batters need to for K-State adjust to different types of pitches, and our Koeman to pitchers need to walk mound. Off to a 3-0 start, MIKE CLARK Koeman has innings pitched. He has a team high 21 strike-outs, has walked only seven batters and has only eight earned runs against him. Clark said while K-State is definitely an improved team, there are still things to

BASEBALL COACH

"We need to get more quality at bats, first of all," he said. "Our batters need to adjust to different types of pitches, and our pitchers need to walk less. We've walked a few more batters than we would have

K-State will also face Xavier (Ohio) Saturday and North Florida Sunday, Clark will send Eric Yanz (2-1, 4.84 ERA) and Cevin Wicker (2-1, 2.63 ERA) to the mound.

K-State will return to home action at 3 p.m. March 15 at Frank Myers Field.

KANSAS CITY ROYALS

Pittsley hopes to pitch in April

HAINES CITY, Fla. - Right-hander Jim Pittsley was sent down from Kansas City to Class AAA Omaha last season to make a few starts, come back and join the starting rotation. In a start for Omaha on May 27, he felt his elbow go on the last pitch of the fifth inning. On Aug. 4, he had surgery to repair a torn ligament.

Pittsley, 21, made it a little closer to Kansas City Tuesday, throwing 30 pitches off the mound in practice for the first time since the surgery. He's to throw again Friday.

"Pitts was bringing out the 95-mph change-up," teammate Melvin Bunch joked.

That's the kind of speed Pittsley was known for when the Royals drafted him in the first round in 1992. In four minor-league seasons, he compiled a 24-12 record and averaged 9.3 strikeouts per nine Surgeon Frank Jobe said Pittsley could throw 95 mph again.

The Royals and Pittsley think the wait, likely to be at least another year, will be worth it. "I'm not counting on being here this year," he said. "I just want to get my work in. If I get back here, it's a bonus." Pittsley will stay in Florida for extended spring training. He said he hopes to be able to pitch in a game by mid-April. The surgery was not as serious as Pittsley and the doctors first feared. The full-blown "Tommy John" reconstructive surgery was not needed. "If I'd had Tommy John surgery, I wouldn't be here right now, because that's a year (to recover)" Pittsley said. Pittsley never had a previous problem with his arm. The injury has prompted him to work harder to strengthen his entire body in addition to his elbow. He said he was not a naturally patient person, but if he was ever going to make the trip back to Kansas City, he knows it might take some extra time. "I know I have to be patient," he said. "I don't want to go out and screw it up again."

Intramural basketball

Women's top 5 Co-Rec top 5 1. Fast Babes 1. Champs 2. Nads 2. Prime Option 3. Kappa Kappa Gamma 3. Sorry 4. Kappa Alpha Theta 4. Ballers 5. Rookies 5. Whips & Chains

Men's top 10 1. Purple Helmets 2. Tau Kappa Epsilon 3. Fabor College

4. Big Dogs 5. Lagnaf 6. Delta Upsilon 7. Jager Players

8. Alpha Tau Omega 9. Vanilla Gorillas 10. Haymaker 1

Source: KSU Recreation Se

6 foot and und top 5 1. Big Time

2. Frumunducheez 3. Paddy's 4 Total Package

5. Drunk

Honorable mention went to Tyrone

Myview

CHRIS

BIG 8 BASKETBALL

Hatcher makes 2nd team

KANSAS CITY, Mo. Oklahoma's Ryan Minor and Ernie Abercrombie and Kansas' Jacque Vaughn and Raef LaFrentz have been named to the All-Big 8 basketball team chosen by league coaches.

Iowa State's Dedric Willoughby rounded out the coaches' first team, announced Wednesday.

The second team featured Elliot Hatcher of K-State, Erick Strickland of Nebraska, Jason Sutherland of Missouri, Scot Pollard of Kansas and Kenny Pratt of Iowa State.

Davis, K-State; Adrian Peterson and Jerome Lambert, Oklahoma State; Chauncey Billups and Martice Moore, Colorado; Paul Pierce, Kansas; Julian Winfield and Kelly

Thames, Missouri; and Nate Erdmann, Oklahoma.

Minor, a senior, leads the league in scoring at 21.6 points per game. Abercrombie, also a senior, leads the conference with 10 rebounds per game despite standing only 6-4.

Vaughn, a junior, leads the league in assists with 6.3 per game. LaFrentz is averaging 13.7 points and is fourth among league rebounders at 8.3 per Willoughby is second in scoring at 20.2 points per game.

The coaches' first team was almost the same as the Associated Press' All-Big 8 team announced a day earlier.

The AP team, chosen by sportswriters and broadcasters who follow the league, had Hatcher on the first team and Abercrombie on the second

Wildcats need strong outing in tournament

Who would have thought it would come down to this? One game could make the difference between the Big Dance for the Cats or settling for the NIT. It all started back on Oct. 14 at Midnight Madness. Ever since then, the Cats have been turning the heads of people in the Big 8 as well as in other conferences, but have they turned the right heads? K-State has done something remarkable. It was predicted to finish seventh in the Big 8 but is sitting in fourth place. Of course, this year the Big 8 Conference isn't that strong.

Tomorrow starts the first round of the Big 8 Tournament in Kansas City, Mo., and a lot is riding on the outcome of the tournament - not just for K-State.

In the first game, which starts at 12:10 p.m., the Kansas Jayhawks are matched up against the Colorado Buffaloes. The Jayhawks are coming off a loss to the Oklahoma Sooners last weekend. The Hawks are 24-3 overall and are going against the Buffaloes, who are only 9-17. On a good note for the Buffs, they just announced that interim coach, Ricardo Patton, has received the head coaching job.

Patton, who was the Buffs' assistant coach, took over for Coach Joe Harrington on Jan. 16, when Harrington resigned. While under Patton's control, the Buffs are 4-8. A nice way for the Buffs to celebrate Patton's new job would be a win against Kansas.

Unfortunately, I don't see it happening. It's tournament time, and after the loss to Oklahoma, the Jayhawks will be ready to play.

The second game, a 2:20 p.m. tipoff, features the Wildcats paired up against the Oklahoma State Cowboys. Whoever wins this game, I believe, makes it to the Big Dance. The Cats have struggled lately, only winning two games of their last seven. The Cats do have some key wins to help their cause. They swept the No. 23 Iowa State Cyclones, won at California and beat Bradley.

But Oklahoma State has looked good down the stretch. The Pokes have won five in a row, including a win against Missouri Sunday at the Hearnes Center. We can only hope the Cats can get some sort of home court advantage playing in Kemper Arena. The teams split their wins this past season, each winning at home.

The third game of the day night actually, because it starts at 6:10 p.m. — is between Iowa State and Nebraska. The Cyclones have had an impressive year. They were picked to finish dead last. Instead, they are sitting in second place. Coach Tim Floyd has worked magic with this team and is no doubt looking forward to the NCAA Tournament. This could mean good news for the Huskers, who finished in a disappointing seventh place in the conference after a preseason pick of fourth place. for the Huskers to capitalize on that. After beating the Cats Sunday, the Huskers snapped a six game losing

If the Cyclones are looking past Nebraska, then look streak. Perhaps the Huskers will be feeding off the victory against the Cats and can take on the Cyclones. I wouldn't go placing any bets on the Huskers, though. Floyd will have his Cyclones ready to play.

The night capper, an 8:20 p.m. start, is between the third-seeded Sooners and the Tigers. The Sooners are coming off that big win against Kansas, and the Tigers are coming off a loss against the Cowboys. Can Oklahoma continue to ride on its high, or will Missouri finally snap a five-game losing streak? The Tigers have the advantage of playing in Kansas City, and I give them the advantage in the game. I don't think Missouri's Norm Stewart will let his Tigers end up with a record of 16-14, settling for a trip to the NIT. Of course, they'll have to win the Big 8 Tournament if they want to go to the Big Dance.

The games continue with the semifinals Saturday and the championship Sunday.

May It's hard to believe the end of the regular basketball season is here already. I can still see some of the Cats dancing at Midnight Madness. With a win against Oklahoma State, the Cats can be doing some dancing at the Big Dance. If the Cats win Friday, K-Staters must pack our bags and get to Kansas City as soon as possible. Tickets will be available as teams start losing, and our Wildcats are going to need our help when they take on the Jayhawks Saturday. See you at Kemper, and GO CATS!

■ There will be a reading of Scott Russell Sanders nonfiction at 8 tonight in Kedzie 106. ■ The Kansas State Orchestra will perform at 8 tonight in McCain Auditorium. David Littrell is the conductor. Admission is free. ■ UPC presents "Search and Destroy" at 7 and 9:30 tonight in Union Forum Hall.

Diversions

▶ CROSSWORD by Eugene Sheffer ACROSS the '60s DOWN 20 Guy's 1 Whale 44 Where mate 1 Jewel group 4 Broken, in 21 Not even 2 Past to spend 3 Region of zlotys 50-50 olden times 46 Nudged Romania 22 Obey the 8 Dark cover 50 Section 4 Ebb alarm 12 Freudian 23 Kennel of L.A.? 5 Casso 51 Hungarian wary's kin concept 27 Massage 13 Arab 6 Hollywood sheepdog bigwig 14 Rose's 52 Snails and 29 Treacle industry 30 Congre-7 Kilmer squids lover 56 Bakery classic gational 8 Party 15 Itsy-bitsy employee closer 31 Oboist's bit 57 Mayberry outfit? 17 Mrs. 9 Touch gadget moppet 33 Movable 58 Perfume Jupiter 10 Flooring. 18 Conk out for short cupboard label word 19 Explosive 59 Relinquish 11 Spinks or 35 Mid-June 60 Requisite Trotsky honoree unit 21 Armagnac, 61 Sermon 16 "Ich bin 38 AAA job Berliner" 40 Took a e.g. 24 "Cheers" survey Solution time: 23 mins. 43 Minion role 25 Actress of Satan Ullmann 45 Bud's 26 Listening partner 46 It's a long device 28 Truman's story 47 Publisher birthplace 32 Largest of Henry 48 Practiced the seven 34 Baby seal extortion 49 Info 36 A handful 37 Real 53 Whopper meaning 54 Chiang 39 Jazz style Yesterday's answer -shek 55 Soak up 41 Shelter 42 Stylish, in some rays 15

CRYPTOQUIP AUVUESHPSC MGADFA

tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

ED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873199c per minute, touch-

PMJFW HUOFV

AFMFA JP NUC APPCJFA

GW GHGAD EHSEO. Yesterday's Cryptoquip: A PIER QUITE PROP-ERLY QUALIFIES AS A QUAY FACTOR FOR A SUC-CESSFUL CRUISE.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: E equals C

▶ FOXTROT by Bill Amend FIGURES THIS HAPPENS ON CLASS-PHOTO WHAT'S THE WEATHER SUPPOSED TO BE LIKE TODAY ? RAIN. LOTS OF IT. ALL DAY LONG GREAT UP TO 10 INCHES EXPECTED. RAIN, RAIN, DAY LET'S RAIN ... GUATEMALA

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilieh

MR. INVADER

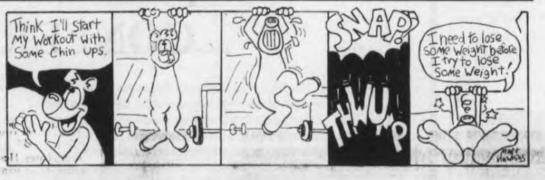

by Justin Stahlman

LAB ASSISTANT The qualified applicant will enjoy research involving wild animal capture, animal testing and research and working in a laboratory environment. 555 -1212 WOMEN'S B-BALL COACH

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

▶ ORCHESTRA

Performance offers exotic, colorful sounds of Arabia

Portia Sisco staff writer

Visit the Middle East with the tales of "1001 Arabian Nights," when Kansas State Orchestra performs "Scheherazade" at 8 tonight.

The orchestra will perform three selections, including "Piano Concerto in A Major," by Johann Sebastian Bach, and "Donde lieta usci," from "La Bohéme," by Giacomo Puccini.

This concert is free and open to the public. It will feature "Scheherazade," by Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov, which is the musical rendition of the story behind "1001 Arabian Nights."

The music portrays the life of Scheherazade, the sultan's newest bride. The sultan plans to marry her, spend one night with her and kill her the following day.

To avoid death. Scheherazade begins telling the sultan stories, including the voyages of Sinbad and the tale of the Kalandar

Orchestra Kansas State Orchestra will perform at 8 tonight in McCain Auditorium. Admission is free and open to the public.

prince Concertmaster Melissa Miller will perform several violin solos in her musical characterization of Scheherazade.

"It's fascinating. It's very colorful and exotic," David Littrell, conductor, said. "Donde lieta uscí," from "La Bohème" will also be performed Thursday. Anne Walker, senior in applied music, will perform a vocal solo.

Walker has been chosen as a soloist in the Concerto Aria contest at K-State every fall. Littrell selected Walker and Sibylle Kuder, graduate student in music, to perform solos in this year's spring concert.

Walker will have practiced with the orchestra three times before her performance Thursday night. "I've practiced with the orchestra twice," Walker said. "I think it's a lot easier this way because you're already familiar with the piece, and you've worked through the technical difficulties."

Kuder will play a piano solo in Bach's "Piano Concerto in A Major."

This performance will be recorded for KHCD 89.5 FM Radio Kansas. K-State has been recording its orchestral performances for Radio Kansas for about five years, Littrell said. Orchestral performances are broadcast several weeks after their performance.

"I get comments from people who have heard the orchestra. It gets our name out to the state," Littrell said. This is Littrell's sixth year with the orchestra. It is the first time he has conducted any of these selections for a performance at K-State. "We perform great music literature." Littrell said. Kansas State Orchestra is a diverse group of players from various majors.

'We have many fine players. There's quite a mixture of music majors and non-majors," Littrell said. "There would hardly be a string section without the engineering majors.

Most of the instrumentalists are students. "It's very important that we draw upon the whole university," Littrell said.

KOREAN TAEKWONDO STARRING JANE YI & SUNYI'S ACADEMY "AND" KOREAN FAN DANCE

FEATURING SUEJIN YI

MARCH 9, 1996 3:00 P.M. UNION FORUM HALL

Here and Now

Come Experience a Dramatic Difference! "... young, hot and everywhere" "These are real life stories of real life people..." Here and Now

MArch 14, 1996 8:00 p.m. Union Ballroom

Dragon Dance & Vietnamese Fan Dance Southeast Asian Leaderships (SEALs) Young People Bringing New Light to Campus March 15, 1996 NOON Union Courtyard

nsored by: Asian-American Students for Intercultural Awareness Multicultural Affairs, Multicultural Student Organization

2 Friends get two 1/4 lb. burgers with french fries for $3.50. Each additional friend will receive a $1.75 1/4 lb. burger w/french fries.

$1 Bottles • $2.25 Wells $1.75 Microbrews

Open at Noon on Friday For the Big 8 Tournament

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

spent the most time with."

LeDoux voted against the bill both times it was presented to Senate. "Most of my constituents did not want an increase in the health fee,"

LeDoux said. He said his constituents wanted to see a user fee looked at.

"If you could put all the Lafene services on a list and check off what you want, I think we would all want different services," LeDoux said. "Students on both sides said let us vote on

Because students would not have the opportunity to vote with a referendum vote before the regents deadline, a bill will have to be passed for the coming fiscal year. If no new legislation passes, the Lafene operating budget will decrease by $1.1-million. Zweimiller said.

Jeff Sweat, senior in pre-medicine, will present a bill that would increase the student health fee above the $13.68 amount that was vetoed by Peterson Feb. 27.

The $3.1-million amount Sweat proposes falls somewhere between the Student Health Advisory Committee's schedule B and C.

Potter said he did not think that large of an increase would pass through Senate, but he'd been surprised before.

> He suggested a compromise amount would likely pass.

'Right now, the amount can change if it is amend-If you could put all the ed on the Senate floor," Lafene services on a list he said. Tomb planned to either and check off what you create a compromise bill or an amendment to Sweat's bill.

"I don't think keeping it the same is feasible," he Tomb said the amount passed would likely be between $70 and $80. "I don't think it will be at $70." Tomb said. "Most people are willing to find a middle ground," he said.

Some senators are concerned that their hard work will be in vain if Peterson once again vetoes a fee increase. "I want the Senate to make the decision independent of me," Peterson

If problems arise with Tuesday's legislation, Thursday would still be available to make adjustments.

"It's not ideal," Peterson said. "I hope that doesn't happen." Peterson predicted an increase would be passed. "I think the Lafene folks will be happy," he said. Another bill is also dependent on the Lafene fee, Peterson said. "We would have to pass a bill to adjust the fee model," he said. "It's something we need to do to finish

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"The Union does a good job for some, like cult classics and some art films, but now there's two," he said.

"Hopefully that will generate more interest in quality films," he

Some of the upcoming films in the next few weeks will include "Il Postino," "Othello" and "Four Rooms." Preboth said there is also talk of "Richard III."

Each film will run from a week to three weeks depending on at-

"Il Postino" is presently showing at the Varsity Theatre.

KU reviews security plans following theft of letters

Associated Press

LAWRENCE - University of Kansas library officials are reviewing security procedures following the theft of historical documents valued at more than $10,000.

"We are reviewing all our security and registration procedures," Alexandra Mason, librarian at KU's Kenneth Spencer Research Library, said Wednesday. "We are really looking hard at everything."

On Tuesday, former Arkansas lawyer Robert H. Smith was charged with one count of felony theft in the disappearance of three letters signed by Civil War-era guerrilla leader William Quantrill. A preliminary hearing has been set for March 18.

Also missing from the library are letters signed by Presidents Ulysses S. Grant and Grover Cleveland, by a 19thcentury Kansas governor and by outlaw Emmett Dalton. None of the letters have been recovered.

William Crowe, dean of libraries at KU, said he was confident the missing letters would be recovered.

The Spencer library, built in 1960, has three sections. A university archives section contains documents related to KU history. A Kansas collection holds historical documents that deal with history of Kansas and the region. The third section contains about 200,000 rare books and manuscripts from around the world dating to the 15th century.

"The Spencer library is extremely good," said David Schoonover, curator of rare books at the University of Iowa. "It is a major research library."

Crowe said the library has a variety of security systems, but he declined to describe them. He said the university routinely upgrades its security as it learns newer and more effective mea-

"Our security system ultimately worked," Crowe said. "Our security enabled law enforcement to apprehend a suspect quickly. But it was obviously not fool-proof.

Crowe said library administrators around the world frequently share information on how to upgrade security and yet strike a proper balance between protecting library materials and schol-

"This library attracts scholars and students from around the world," Crowe

"That is why we have to promote access and security at the same time.

That's tough - and getting tougher." Crowe said it was impossible to place a value on the collection of rare books, manuscripts and other documents at the Spencer library Schoonover, who in 1990 assisted the FBI in an investigation of the theft of $20 million worth of rare books and manuscripts from libraries around the world, said security is a major problem at all libraries and institutions that keep rare documents.

"Things are stolen by people fairly frequently," Schoonover said. "It is not a light thing. It does immense intellectual and practical damage."

MONEY

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

is another security measure of the new bills.

Microprinting, where tiny words will be printed in Franklin's lapel and inside the lower left numeral, will also be used to prevent counterfeiting.

"After the $100 bills, the $50s and the $20s will be next," said Angela Chapman, analysis at the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, Mo. "$100s and $50s are the most counterfeited."

The lower denominations will be released during six- to 12-month intervals

"In God We Trust" will continue

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

ADVERTISING 532-6560

Nuprial Fashions

as the motto, and the historical figures and back illustrations will only be slightly modified.

Other concepts will remain unchanged, such as the size of the bill, the paper, the texture and ink colors.

"We aren't that concerned with lower bills such as $5s and $1s because they really aren't counterfeited," Chapman said. "It would also cost more to do."

The Federal Reserve System is funding the changes of the larger denominations using earnings received from interest on its holdings of U.S. government securities

The $100 bills should be distributed from the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City before the end of the first quarter, Chapman said. "It will be anytime before the end

Hear Dan McBride "The Will Rogers of the religious world." His humorous observations drive home spiritual truths. t's FREE... and it's this Sunday at 6 p.m

College Heights Baptist Church

of March," she said want, I think we would all

TRENT LEDOUX

AGRICULTURE SENATOR

want different services.

Chapman said each federal reserve bank determines its own distri-

First the reserves need to build up on the new bills before the area banks will receive them "I'm not sure if we will see the new bill right away," Latimore said.

"The East Coast will probably see it quite a while before we do." Latimore said there is no set date for the money to arrive in Manhattan. "It will trickle in just like any other money," she said. The old bills will still be considered at face value, Latimore said.

"As the old $100 bills come in, they will be destroyed little by little," Laura said, "and replaced with the new ones.'

Principal-Counselor-Student CONFERENCE

The Office of Admissions cordially invites former students of these high schools to attend the 1996 Principal-Counselor-Student Conference. High school principals and counselors will be on campus to visit with you about your preparation for and experiences in KSU Academic programs. Your participation will help the University build a stronger relationship with your former high school faculty.

You are welcome to drop by between 10:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. on Wednesday, March 13. This is an excellent opportunity for you to renew old friendships with former classmates. The Provost has asked that your instructors excuse you from these class periods.

Wednesday, March 13, 1996 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m. in the K-State Union Ahearn Field House

Arkansas City - Ahearn 12 Atchison County Comm - Union 1st Floor 1 Eudora - Union 212A Axtell - Ahearn 27 B & B - Ahearn 15 Basehor-Linwood - Ahearn 10 Beloit - Ahearn 7 Bennington - Union Courtyard 6 Bern - Aheam 28 Blue Valley, Randolph - Ahearn 40 Blue Valley, Stilwell - Ahearn 24 Blue Valley North - Ahearn 48 Blue Valley Northwest - Aheam 64 Bonner Springs - Union Courtyard 8 Bucklin - Ahearn 49 Buhler - Union Courtyard 9 Burlingame - Union 1st Floor 2 Caldwell - Union 1st Floor 19 Canton - Galva - Ahearn 14 Chaparral - Ahearn 54 Chapman - Ahearn 16 Cheney - Union Courtyard 10 Cimarron - Ahearn 51 Claffin - Union 1st Floor 3 Clay Center Comm - Ahearn 41 Clearwater - Union 1st Floor 20 Celby - Union Courtyard 11 Concordia - Aheam 55 Coldwater - Ahearn 5 Decatur Comm - Ahearn 4 Derby - Ahearn 33

De Soto - Union Courtyard 12 Dighton - Ahearn 38 Emporia - Ahearn 35 Flint Hills Christian - Union 1st Floor 4 Frankfort - Union 1st Floor 5 Goddard - Union Forum Hall, Main B Goessel - Ahearn 67 Great Bend - Ahearn 52 Greeley Co. - Ahearn 13 Haven - Union 1st Floor 6 Hayden - Ahearn 60 Hays - Ahearn 23 Hiawatha - Ahearn 29 Highland Park - Aheam 50 Holton - Union 212B Humboldt - Union 1st Floor 7 Hutchinson - Union 206A Immaculata - Aheam 17 Independence - Union 1st Floor 8 J.C. Harmon - Ahearn 59 Jackson Heights - Union 1st Floor 9 Jayhawk-Linn - Aheam 43 Jefferson Co. North - Ahearn 22 Jetmore - Union 212C Junction City - Ahearn 56 Labette Co. - Union 1st Floor 10 Lansing - Ahearn 37 Leavenworth - Ahearn 34 Little River - Ahearn 18 Madison - Union, Forum Hall Balcony B Manhattan - Union 202

Marysville - Ahearn 39 Meade - Ahearn 66 Millard North - Ahearn 21 Minneapolis - Union 212D Mulvane - Ahearn 65 Neodesha - Union Courtyard 4 Ness City - Ahearn 30 Newton - Ahearn 8 Nickerson - Ahearn 32 Norton Comm - Ahearn 2 Olathe North - Union Big Eight B Olathe South - Union 208 Onaga - Ahearn 62 Osage City - Union 1st Floor 18 Osawatomie - Ahearn 3 Osborne - Ahearn 19 Ottawa - Ahearn 1 Oxford - Union 1st Floor 12 Paola - Union Courtyard 1 Peabody - Ahearn 58 Plainville - Union Courtyard 5 Prairie View, Les Cygne - Ahearn 53 Pretty Prairie - Ahearn 6 Rock Creek - Union 1st Floor 13 Rossville - Union 1st Floor 14 Russell - Aheam 26 Sacred Heart - Union 207B St. (Saint) Xavier - Ahearn 57 Salina Central - Aheam 63 Salina South - Union 205 Seaman - Union 207A Shawnee Heights - Union Big Eight C

Shawnee Msn NW - UN Council Chamber Shawnee Msn South - Union 204 Shawnee Msn West - Union 209 Smith Center - Union, Forum Hall Main A Sumner Academy - Union 1st Floor 15 Thomas More Prep-Marian - Ahearn 36 Tonganoxie - Ahearn 44 Topeka - Union 206B Ulysses - Union Forum Hall Balcony A Valley Falls - Ahearn 45 Wakefield - Union 1st Floor 16 Washburn Rural - Ahearn 46 Washington (K.C.) - Union Courtyard 2 Washington (Washington) - Ahearn 20 Wellington - Aheam 9 West Smith County - Ahearn 47 White Rock - Union 1st Floor 17 Wichita East - Union, Little Theatre A Wichita Heights - Union Big Eight A Wichita NW - Union, Little Theatre B Wichita South - Union 203

Classifieds

FURTATIONS

1158

Tux rental '79

Grooms Tux FREE with 6 Rentals

2011 Fort Riley Blvd.

(913) 539-5200 Manhattan

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

BULLETIN BOARD

Alfred Angelo

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scubs dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, at Creative Travel, 539-0531, class-es now forming.

Bridal Gowns ♥ Bridesmaid Dresses ♥ Special Orders

Bridal Accessories ♥ Bridal Shoes ♥ Formals ♥ Lingerie ♥ Crinoline

larie s

Bridal • Formal Wear • Tuxedo

ADVANCED FLIGHT
TRAINING. 6000-hour
flight instructor specializing in multi-engine and other edvanced ratings. Very competitive rates. Hugh Irvin, 539-3128.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club hea five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

MARY KAY inventory reduction sale. Call after 5, 776-6052.

Lost and Found

LOST PUPPY: Blue heel-er, black & white, KSU collar 7th and Hum-boldt, Sunday. Call 537-7905.

Parties-n-More

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental. 537-1825. OPERATION PURPLE Wave Hot Tub Bus Rental, 18- 20 person tub ca-

Manhatten City Ordinance 4814 essures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on secount of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 557-2440.

Apts. Furnished

A VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apart-

PARKING SOUTH OF THE UNION ments. Close to campus. Cell Moore Menagement. One-bedroom $320, two-bedroom with fireplace $510, two-bedroom $450. Summer subleases available, no pets. Water, trash paid. June and August lease available. Cell 537-7542 9s.m.— 5p.m. or have balcony, centra air/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen, and off-street parking. 539-2702 leave mes-

9a.m.- 6p.m. 537-4567 after 7p.m.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments-for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

AUGUST LEASE: Next to campus- Eastside un-furnished two-bed-room with fireplace and laundry. Westside fur-nished one/ two-bed-FOR AUGUST next to KSU. Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichols Hall. Deluxe two-bed-room apartment. $490-

$500. Also one-bedroom apartment for August $320. 539-2482

NINE OR 12 month lease,

p.m. (Except holidays)

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours Mon.-Fri. 8-5

most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537-8389. ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Claffin next to campus $325 plus de-posit plus electric. Au-gust year lesse. No pets, 537-1180.

QUIET, LARGE, furnished.

Collegian Classifieds

six-plex with washer/ dryer, dishwasher, paid water and trash. One block from college. Available June or Au-gust 1, 537–7087. THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N.

10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428.

110 For Rent-Unfurnished

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064

Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m

10 K Apartments, Spacious, two-bedroom quality apartments in complex two new complex two blocks east of campus, large, L-shaped kitchen dishwasher, air conditioner, sound proofed well insulated, low util ties, laundry, quiet street, no pets. June through May lease $480. 539-2536.

AVAILABLE AUGUST1, nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to no pets,

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartment for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1- one bedroom near campus. Washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. $375. Call 776-5981. Ask for Tasha or Travis.

COTTAGE, ONE-BED-ROOM, near City Park available immediately, 539–7277.

FOR SUMMER and fall two beautiful apart ments at North Park Apartments, 1200 Fre-mont, Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537-0428.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Avail-able immediately. $500.

LEASING FOR Fall. Two bedroom, two bath du BRITTNAY RIDGE

fown Homes Now Leasing

Very Nice* 1500 sq. 4 bedroom, 2% bath townhomes.

Refrigerator, range, icrowave, dishwasher. ull-size washer/dryer in each unit.

EARLY BIRD

SPECIAL

2 university parking sermits provided with a signed lease. 3 people/$750 mo. 4 people/$860 mo. Model Showings: Wed. 3-5, Thurs. 6-8, Sat. 11-Noon

776-3804 plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher,

2529 Candlecrest Circle

garbage disposal, laun-dry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744 LEASING FOR Summer and Fall. One block

▲ Great location ▲ Large bedrooms

▲ Two bathrooms ▲ Walk-in closets ▲ Washer/dryer

hook-ups ▲ Fireplaces ▲ Large pool

NOW LEASING CALL 587-1380

Open Houses Daily The Curtin Company

TOWERS Apartments

700 N. Manhattan Now Leasing or June & August 4 bedroom/2 bath $750 mo./3 people $860 mo./4 people EARLY SIGNING BONUS

w/icemaker, range,

Model Showings: M-F 5-5:30 p.m. at on-site office or M-F by appt. 776-3804

from campus, two-bed room, dishwasher, gar bage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744.

NICE, ONE-BEDROOM. Pri vate entrance and off-street parking. Walk to campus. Available June 1. $275 per month. Open House Thursday March 14, 6- 8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr.

NICE, QUIET, one and twobedroom apartments. 909 Moro. Gas, water, trash paid. Off-street parking. No pets and no smoking. $300 and $400. Available June 1.

537-9306. ONE, TWO, three, four-bed-

CHASE MANHATTAN

APARTMENTS Corner of College and Claflin, Manhattan

1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments Deck/Patios for each unit

On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry

Covered Parking  2 BR - $550 & $570

3 BR - $720 & $735 Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases

For more information, call: (913) 776-3663

Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Saturday Noon to 3 p.m.

lease no pets. Water and trash paid. Call 539-1975.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now, two blocks from campus. Water and trash paid $355 or $375 with pet, 565-0759. ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE immediately, near Aggieville, 1124
Fremont, $395. Water, trash paid. Call now. 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804. ONE-BEDROOM NEAR

KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM WITH

study available now. 1212 Thurston. $400. Near KSU campus. Wa-ter, trash paid. Call 776-3804.

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 639-2961.

PRELEASING: TWO-BED-ROOM, one block from campus. Available June 1. Water and trash þaid. $495/ month. baid. $4 539-1897. TWO- THREE- four-bedroom near campus, one and one-half bath. Cen-

ROOMMATE WANTED, 17th Street, three-bedroom spartment, own room $125 utilities in-

ROOM

Make Anderson Place Your Home Away From Home! Now leasing for 1996-97

• 2 bedrooms •½ block from campus

 Furnished and unfurnished Showings every Monday through Friday 2-4 p.m.

1852 Anderson Place #16 776-1222

cluded. Now available 539-2909, leave mes-

Sublease

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT $490/ month. Available now- July Call 539-9524.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475, now through May 31. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804. TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now through May 31, 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776–3804.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call $460/ month. Cal 587-4111 or after 6p.m.

TWO-BEDROOM, SPA-CIOUS, one block from

WALK ACROSS to Ag gieville and campus. Spacious one and twoavailable now and August. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

For Rent-

Houses AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with wash-er, dryer, central air, some with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543. FOR RENT or sale, two-bedroom house in Keats. Huge yard, out-door pets ONLY. Con-tact Dick Walsh at Blan-ton Reality. 776–8506.

NEWLY REMODELED spacious three-bedroom duplex. Washer/ dryer, off-street parking. Walk out patio. $675. Call 776-3191. NICE TWO-BEDROOM duplex. All appliances, ga-rage. Please, no smok-ing, no pets. Five ing, no pets. Five month or one year lease, Located 2304 Willow Lane, Manhattan. Call (913)456-7185. NICE, THREE-BEDROOM, place, yard, walk to campus, off-street park-ing. Available June 1 $800 per month. Open House, March 14, 6-8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink er. No pets please. 539-1554.

with twelve mon lease (913)379-5450?

GOVERNMENT FORE-

CLOSED homes for pennies on $1. De-linquent Tax, Repo's, REO's. Your area. Toll

Free 1-800-898-9778

ext. H-1915 for current

FEMALE GRADUATE stud-

FEMALE ROOMMATE for a two-bedroom base-ment apartment. No pets. $220 utilities paid except phone. Close to campus. Please call 587-0847 if interested.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE

NON-SMOKING FEMALE

roommate wanted to share two-bedroom apartment for fall. Call Shelley 587–1830. Leave message.

to rent one of two-bed-room apartment. $245/ month. Now- July. Call 539-9524.

available for female roommate. Low rent, bills split three ways. Close to campus. 776-8284.

ROOMMATE NEEDED immediately for apart-ment, close to campus. Prefer non-smoker. Call 776-1340.

IMMEDIATELY

ent needs roommate for house rent $192.50 plus utilities: water, trash, phone, cable and KPL. Call 776-1195.

For Sale-

listings.

Roommate

Wanted

Houses

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX

$325/ month. Water paid. Last month free

PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

rates. (587-0411.

Other Services

and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D., Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

townhouse, two and one-half bath, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, starts June 1, 587–8622. MAY 20- July 31. Share two-bedroom apart-ment $180/ month. three blocks east cam-pus. 776-9559.

bedroom, one and one half bath, very nice. Low one-third utilities. Parking. (316)733–4092. Call Lisa as soon as pos-summer sublease. For more information call 587-8982.

FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM

MANHATTAN

sible. Leave message

SUBLEASE JUNE 1 to July 31. One-bedroom apart-ment. $250. Call Laurie message 7-0912.

SUBLEASE ONE or two-bedroom of our threebedroom house. June– July. Female, non-smoker, no pets. Rent $197.50 plus utilities, share. Call 776–8004.

SUBLEASE- ONE-BED-ROOM in spacious three-bedroom duplex with one roommate

Washer/ dryer- lots of privacy, $225. Call 776-3191. MMER SUBLEASE. Two-bedroom, one and one-half bath. Close to campus and Aggieville. 539-9110. SUMMER month, negotiable. Contact Misty at 587-0917.

SUMMER SUBLEASE: Nonsmoking female want-ed to sublease one room in three-bed-room, two bath apart-ment. Across from campus plus walking dis tance to Aggieville. Laundry facilities and off-street parking pro-vided. Rent $265

THREE-BEDROOM TWO full bath, AC. Sublease June 1, negotiable. Wa-ter, trash paid. Near campus and Aggieville 776-9432.

TWO- TWO-BEDROOM apartments. One close to east stadium $485/ month. Other close to Aggieville- $350/ month. Call 537-5069 or 587-8346 (evenings).

Resume/

TYPING DONE in my home. Reasonable rates. Call Diana,

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS AVAILABILITY IMME-DIATELY, first month rent free, non-smoking female to share three-

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordi-nance 4814 assures every person equal op-portunity in securing and holding employ-ment in any field of work or labor for which work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454. $ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Trave! (Car-ibbean, Europe, Ha-waii!) Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. (919)929-4398 $1750 WEEKLY, possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toli Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-1915 for details.

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typests/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T 1915 for listings ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT- Students needed! Fishing indus-try. Earn up to $3000-$6000 plus per month. Room and board! Transportation! Male or female. No experi ence necessary. Call (206)971-3510 ext.A57684. ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT. Fisher-PLOYMENT. Fisher-ies, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month! Air-fare! Room/ Board! Free video with pro-gram! Call SEI (919)932-1489, ext. A85.

BABY SITTER needed for occasional evenings for two boys ages 5 and 9. Call 776-4544 and leave CRUISE SHIPS HIRING-

Travel the world while earning an excellent in-come in the Cruise Ship and Land-Tour Industry. Seasonal and full-time employment ence necessary. For in call (206)971-3550

CUSTOM HARVEST crew members needed. Com-bine, Truck and Silage Truck operators for summer and fall har-vest. Excellent wages vest. Excellent wages including room and board, monthly salary and bonus. Call evenings (913)877-2081, ask for Randy. Clydesdale Harvesting and Trucking.

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated indi-viduals. Fast, easy-no financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982 ext.33. FREE FINANCIAL AID!

Over $6 billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All students are eligible re-gardless of grades, in-come, or parent's in-come. Let us help. Call ices: (800)263-6495 ext. F57685.

NEED HELP! If you speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Rus-sian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Su-san. Unlimited Income. 539-7336.

INSTITUTE FACILITA-TORS NEEDED: Won-der Workshop Children's Museum seeks en ergetic and creative in-dividuals with strong background in any of the following: archi-tecture, physics, chemistry, engineering, art ceramics, and theatre to facilitate a morning program for youth (grades 1-8) June 10-July 3. Hours salary negotiable. Applications may be picked up at Wonder Workshop Wonder Workshop Children's Museum 409 Poyntz. E.O.E. LOSE WEIGHT NOW!

Needed 27 people to lose weight. All natural Dr. recommended. 587–1037. MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or assist. Openings in: Base ball, Basketball, Soccer Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS: Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top sala-ries, excellent facilities, room/ baord/ laundry, travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR SUMMER AT CAMP TACONIC. Prestigious coed camp in beautiful Massachusetts seeks motivated sophomores, juniors, seniors and grads who love working with kids to be general counselors and instructors in: Swimming, Sailing, Windsurfing, Skiing, Athletics, Ropes Athletics, Ropes Course, Rollerblading, Horseback Riding, Archery, Gymnastics, Aer obics, Golf, Arts and Crafts, Photography, Silver Jewelry, Drama, Music, Piano Accompaniment, Cooking, Sci ence Rocketry, Pioneering, Video and News-paper. Competitive sala ries. Join a dedicated team. Have a rewarding and enjoyable sum-mer! Please call (800)762-2820

OUTSIDE SUMMER JOBS Tropical Beach Mountain Resorts, National Parks, Ranches Rafting Companies! 500 plus employers na-tionwide! Call SEI! (919) 932-1489, ext. R85. PREMIERE BROTHERS

Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, especially Baseball, Basketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; elso Golf, Archery, Riflery, Pioneering/ Overnight Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings Cycling: other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking). Top salaries, room, board and travel, June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118, DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-

STUDENT'S DREAM— Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural pro-ducts. Doctor recommended, Increases en ergy, mental alertness. 539-7336.

SUMMER EMPLOY-MMER EMPLOY-MENT: Experienced combine or truck driv-ers needed for custom wheat harvesting op-eration. Lancaster Har-vesting, Dodge City, Kansas. (316)227–8821.

SUMMER HARVEST help wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in May. Call Mike Parker, Waterville, KS. Phone; (800)653-8235.

SUMMER SEASONAL STREET LABORER POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill SIX Summer Seesonal full-time Street Seasonal Laborer posi-tions. Persons are re-sponsible for various street maintenance in cluding asphalt and concrete. Must be will-ing to work in dising to work in disagreeable weather. Driver's license is required. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks (May 15th. August 15th). Salary; $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until positions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Office, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS. EOE-M/F/D

TRAFFIC LABORER
POSITIONS. The City to fill FOUR Summe Seasonal full-time Trat fic Seasonal Laborer of traffic lines, cross walks, etc., on city streets and curbs. Use hand tools including brooms, brushes and roller brushes, and need to carry five gal-lon paint buckets. Must be willing to work in disagreeable weather. Driver's license is re-quired. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks May 15th-August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until posiwill be taken until posi tions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Of-fice, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS Poyntz, Ma EOE-M/F/D.

THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you are proud of your ac complishments and want to join an excel-lent team of profes sionals fax your resume to: Advertising Direc-tor, fax (316)267-8570. TROPICAL RESORTS Hir ing. Entry-level and ca-reer positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, house-keepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness counselors, and more. Ex cellent benefits + bo nuses. Call Resort Employment Services 1-206-971-3600 ext. WANTED PART-TIME help now and or full-time for summer with crops and machine work. Need experience with planters and tillage equipment. (913)457-3440. WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience around farm machinery or trucks preferred. Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776-1321 ask for Ryan or (913)582-5359. WHEAT HARVEST help wanted for summer.

Case- IH equipment desel trucks from Texas to Montana. $1500/
month. Maddey Harvesting, Norton, KS (913)877-6577.

Business

Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to ness Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

EXPANDING BUSINESS in Greece looking for associate who is bilingual. Call (913)353-2530. 455

MARKET

Items for Sale

FOR SALE by Sealed Bid: Nine- Herman Miller Dining Tables; 40- Her-man Miller Chairs; one-Carver Press with 12

ton Jack; one weigh scale with Mahogany Case; one Westing-house Electric range (pink- in good condi-tion); two Fisher Scien-tific Analytical Balanc es; Wheaton Portable Autostill; Beckman 110A Liquid Chroma-tograph Solvent Delivery System with Beck-man 210 Injector valve; one-Hitachi UV/VIS Dec-Spectrophotometer; Zenith Z181 Laptop Computer; one-HP Color Plotter, Bids will close at 5p.m. April 1, 1996. For information, bid sheets and/ or to view sheets and/ or to view sale items, contact Dave Trumble, Justin Hall 146B, KSU (532-5508) or (e-mail TRUMBLE@HU MEC.KSU.EDU)

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing Also CARHARTT Work-wear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9-5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734. PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-den, KS. SAVINGS AT 40- 70% off the retail price! Inter-ested? Call 587-1017 for weekly listing of mis-

Furniture to Buy/Sell FOR SALE: Five piece dining patio set. Excellent condition, Homecrest Brand. $200. Paid $459 new. 539–8859.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skywey Dr. four blocks east of Man-hattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

MACINTOSH CENTRIS 610, 68040 CPU125 mhz, 8MB RAM, 340MB hard drive, 14-inch Sony color monitor, keyboard, mouse, soft-wares, $1000, 537-8990. 450

Pets and

Supplies

FOR SALE Albino Burmese Python, Borneo Blood Python, pair of Amazon Tree Boas. Call 537-6871.

PROFESSIONAL Grooming, reasonable prices. Call 537-7905.

Sporting Equipment

BEST PRICES on Clarion car audio. Shippable on credit card orders. Installation available by appointment. Sound in-vestments. Seneca, KS (913)336–3880.

LANGE TII ski boots for sale. Size 9 1/2, like new. Best offer. 539-4959 ask for Dallas.

Tickets to Buy/Sell

465

510

WANTED: BIG 8 Tourna-ment tickets. (800)387-6944.

PORTATION Automobiles

1982 OLDSMOBILE station wagon, nine passenger. good family car in good condition $1000. 537-3920. 1983 PLYMOUTH Reliant, 92K, great school car. Asking $900 or best off-er. Call 532-6492 or 776-2073 after 6p.m.

1984 HONDA CRX five-speed, 91K, AM/FM, cassette, air condi-tioning, $1050 or best offer. 537-2144. 1987 MONTE Carlo SS below average miles. 539-8307. WANTED: 1984 through 1987 Chevrolet Caprice. High mileage ok. Even-ings 776–3624.

Bicycles

mountain bike, 19-inch, squash yellow with front suspension. $425 or best offer. 537-1359. 530

1995 SCHWINN Mosb S

1993 YAMAHA FZR 6000 $3900. 537-7383. Leave

Motorcycles

615 Spring

TRIPS

rent over Spring Break. Two-bedroom, two full baths, sleeps six, jacuz-zi, walk to slopes. (913)897-3421.

KEYSTONE CONDO for

Classified Directory

020 Lott and Found 030 Personals

040 Mostings/Event

HOUSING REAL ESTATE 401

116 Rooms Available 210 Resurre/Typing 120 For Rent - House 125 For Sale - House

130 For Rent — Mobile Homes 140 For Rant - Garage

148 Roommitte Wanted

180 Sublease 188 Stable/Pasture 140 Office Space

166 Lund for Sale

300 EMPLOYMENT SND Help Warned

215 Desktop Publishing 40 220 Sewing/Alteration 228 Pregnancy Testing OPEN MARKET 230 Lawn Care

256 Child Care

240 Musiciana/DJs

145 Pet Services 420 Gorage/Yard Sales State Automotive Repa 408 Auction 430 Antiques

> 840 Food Specials 448 Music Instruments 450 Pers and Supplier

406 Wanted to Buy

410 Norms for Sale

416 Furniture to Bay/Sal

466 Tickels to Buy/Sell

436 Computers 465 Sporting Equipm

50 TRANS-PORTATION

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large designation.

CATEGORIES

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service

images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations.

Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS

ROCK BOTTOM

You're failing Physics. Your girlfriend dumped you. Your self-esteem is way low. So you call Grandma for some sympathy. She tells you to "Stop whining and get a backbone." Ouch, talk about tough love.

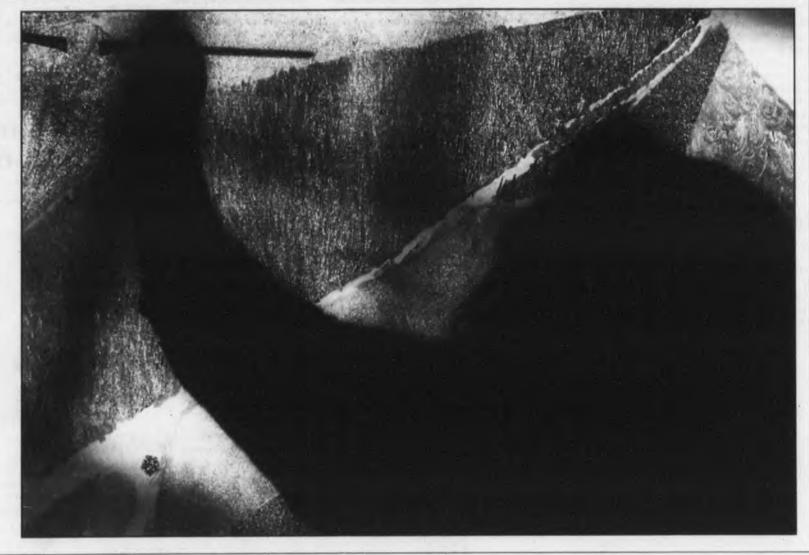

1-800-COLLECT

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Shadow painter

Late Thursday afternoon light casts the shadow of April Luscombe, senior in graphic design, on her Painting II class project in the painting studio in West Stadium.

STEVE HEBERT

ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

Linear tuition prompts credit talks

QUICKread

Credit, no credit classes pose challenge to administrators and departments planning for the change to linear tuition next fall.

Kara Rogers

With the implementation of linear tuition, K-State is forced to address the issue of courses or activities offered either for credit or no credit by giving departments two choices.

"The survival or at least the viability of some of these activities that departments wish to maintain, may depend on whether students who do not need the credit offered for these activities, have to pay tuition in order to participate in the activity," wrote John Johnson, chair of Faculty Senate Academic Affairs Committee, in a letter to deans, department heads and program directors.

An example of these types of courses or activities offered either for credit or no credit are band, debate or judging teams.

The options presented are close to what the University has now. The only difference is making sure students who select a non-credit course and tell the Registrar's Office are not charged,

The first option is to offer a given class for variable credit, including

The students would be required to indicate to the Registrar's Office the number of desired credits they want and would be charged accordingly.

The second option is to offer the course under two course numbers, one for zero credit with no tuition per

"It basically would be easier to do if two course numbers were offered for bookkeeping purposes. (In) cases where two consecutive numbers are offered, students could opt for variable credit.

"Individual departments in consultation with faculty will have to make this decision," Johnson said.

Don Foster, University registrar, said there should not be any additional costs to implement a linear-tuition system except for a new program to account for the way students are

Linear fee prices

		1
Credit hours	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18
Proposed tuition	$693	$756	$819	$882	$945	$1,008	$1,071	$1,134

This is the tentative fall '96 linear fee schedule: Figures do not include privilege fees, which are still being debated by Student Senate. This semester's undergraduate privilege fees were $216.45 for full-time students.

ource: Registrar's Office

"This type of program is typically not refunded until a later date. in the $5,000 to $10,000 range,

Everything should really remain the same, Foster said.

Questions have been raised concerning students ability to drop and add courses.

"None of these processes are really going to change," Foster said:

For example, a student who added a course would have the option to be assessed right then or billed on the next billing cycle.

A student dropping a course would

The cashier's office has a monthly billing cycle so you could receive the bill in the middle of September, Foster said. "It will be assessed at a later date. Refund checks are grouped and pro-duced periodically," Foster said.

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

The same amount of time will be allotted to drop or add a course.

Students dropping a course after a specific number of school days will not receive a refund. Foster said.

See TUITION Page 10

LANDON LECTURE

Speaker to discuss Poles, Russian past

Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, former president of Poland, will be the speaker of the 105th Landon Lecture at 10:30 a.m. Monday in McCain Auditorium.

Jaruzelski is expected to explain for the first time in the United States why he declared martial law in Poland 15 years ago and how the situation looks in retrospect.

On Dec. 13, 1981, Jaruzelski made the declaration in an effort to avoid invasion by the Soviet Union.

Dale Herspring, head of the political science department, led the U.S. State Department's Polish desk at the time Jaruzelski declared martial law.

"The Russians were putting tremendous pressure on the Poles to normalize the situation, or (they said) we will," Herspring said. At the time, the Communist Party in Poland was losing power while Solidarity, the non-communist trade union, was gaining Herspring said there are two views as to Jaruzelski's decision.

"One school of thought says he betrayed his people and his country declaring martial law, Herspring said.

The other says he saved Poland from a blood bath, because if the Russians would have invaded, there would have been blood all over Poland," he said.

On July 22, 1983, martial law was lifted, and Jaruzelski remained

Prior to coming to power, Jaruzelski served in the Polish Army as a four-star general and became defense minister in 1968. He is retired, Herspring said

Herspring said Jaruzelski's lecture is monumental for K-State.

This is the first time he has spoken in the United States about his decision, and he's not speaking anywhere else in the country. He may go to Fort Leavenworth, but that would be just to talk to Army students," Herspring said.

"Harvard would grab this thing on a shot if they could get it. It's the first time he's ever spoken outside Poland about the steps he took," Herspring said.

TELEPHONE REGISTRATION

Technology improves enrollment, payment

AbdullNaser T. Abdullah

Registration using a touch-tone telephone is coming soon to K-State.

Students will be able to avoid lines at Ahearn Field House by registering and paying for their classes from the comfort of their homes.

"We're in the midst of preparing a request for proposals that will be sent to various vendors of this kind of system," Don Foster, University reg-

If things go well, touch-tone registration will be available by November for early enrollment for the spring semester, he said. "Beginning spring '97, students will also be able to pay their fees by mail," Foster said. The mail-in fee payment process and the touch-tone registration went hand-in-hand, he

The touch-tone registration system is available at all of the Big 8 universities except K-State, the University of Kansas and the University of Oklahoma The University of Missouri installed touch-tone registration four years ago. "An advantage is the longer phone access hours," said Gary Freie, director of registration, records and student information system at Missouri.

Usually registration used to be done during regular office hours, but with the touch-tone system, the hours are longer, Freie said.

As many as 50,000 calls are processed each month through the touch-tone system, Freie Installing this system cost Missouri

$100,000, but Freie said the university got its The touch-tone registration system has been operational at the University of Colorado for two years. "It is much better than the previous way where you had to stand in line," Jerry O'Connor, university admissions at Colorado, said. Students feel this system has helped speedup the registration process and made it much easier on them, O'Connor said. Iowa State University has had a touch-tone registration system four years.

Betty Hunger, receptionist at admissions at Iowa State University, said the students are pleased with it, and it has been very useful in decreasing the load on the registrar's office.

Foster said K-State simply did not have the funds to implement a project like that sooner. Funds have been identified and will be used to install a touch-tone registration system here at K-State, Foster said.

jail location, facility size Chris Oakley City and county commissioners met Thursday to discuss preliminary steps in the planning of a new law enforcement center and jail. Jim Robertson, of Voorhis/Robertson Justice Services Inc., which was hired by the county commission in October 1995, told commissioners data was being collected to determine how large and

Firm collects

data about what type of facility would best suit the needs of the community. The company, which specializes in criminal justice consulting and planning, is involved in various types of similar projects across the country. Robertson said in 1995 there were 2,500 admissions to the Riley County Jail. He said the company is studying one out of every four admissions to the jail during January, February and March of 1995 to determine what time most inmates were arrested, the time released and how they were released.

He said the data would be compared to similar data collected in 1988.

"There's fairly a high amount of turnover in the facility. That's going to determine the type of facility as compared to one where the average stay is longer," Robertson said.

Robertson said information would also be collected that could indicate the best site to construct

"We hope to have the site selection criteria wrapped up very quickly," Robertson said.

"It's moving at a faster pace than most projects we have done," he said.

Robertson said the county has a low percent of

"I think it's safe to say that Riley County and Manhattan have a lower incarceration rate than other places we've worked with," he said. Riley County will be in charge of financing the new jail, and the city will be in charge of maintaining 80 percent of the costs of the jail after completion. "We understand the responsibility for facilities is largely county. When we turn around and look at funding, it's essentially 80-percent city, 3-percent city of Ogden and 17-percent county," Russ Frey, county commission chairman, said.

"I think it is important to involve city commissioners in planning, because the funding through the years will be important," Frey said. Robertson said the new jail will have a longlasting effect for years after its completion.

"The decision we make in the planning stages are going to have a 30, 40-year effect," Robertson

Commissioners agreed the facility will be built to last and so it can be easily expanded. "If history tells us anything, it will be a 50-year life cycle," city commissioner Bruce Snead said. "If the long term costs of criminal justice can be

See JAIL Page 10

STUDENT SENATE

Senate travels to K-State-Salina

Courtney Marshall

SALINA - Student senators got a change of scenery Thursday night.

Senators traveled to K-State-Salina to have the Thursday meeting rather than having the meeting in the Big 8 Room in the K-State Student Union

"I think the meeting went great. It was great for the senators to see what the west campus is doing. I thought the meeting was a success," Matt Wagner, Salina senator, said.

Jack Henry, dean of the College of Technology, addressed the senators as they ate pizza and sandwiches before the meeting. "Finally in 1991, we did the big thing. We merged with Kansas State University, and we became a college. So, this is a college just like the College of Veterinary Medicine, the College of Business, the College of Engineering," Henry said. Henry gave a brief history of K-State-Salina and Henry also said the college was not doing well in 1991 when it merged. The enrollment was down and there was discussion to close the campus.

Studen

said the area the campus is on used to be an airfield.

The enrollment has been increased continually, and the college now offers four degree programs, Henry said.

New buildings have been built on the Salina campus senators visited last year. "Since touring the campus from a couple of

• See SENATE Page 10

In the news

ARAFAT BLAMES RADICALS FOR DESTROYING PALESTINIAN DREAM

JERUSALEM (AP) - While his police agents showed off bombmaking gear and other confiscated terror tools, Yasser Arafat accused Islamic radicals on Thursday of trying to kill the Palestinian dream just as it was beginning to come true.

Opening the historic first session of an elected Palestinian lawmaking council, Arafat lashed out at the Hamas campaign of suicide bombings that has killed 61 people since Feb. 25 and put the peace process with Israel in jeopardy.

But he also attacked Israelis for trying to halt the terror by barricading Palestinians inside their towns. Arafat said the blockade was like the occupation come back

Laying out an agenda for the legislators, he said the top priority was to keep the peace and make it

"We must fight the terrorists and radicals on both sides," he said.

▶ 3-YEAR-OLD RECEIVES RESTRAINING ORDER FOR HITTING PLAYMATE

BOSTON (AP) - Three-yearold Jonathan had better not make little Stacy cry anymore.

Drawing a line in the sandbox, a judge has issued a court order to make the little boy play nice.

"Maybe it's a little emotional, maybe it's overprotective, but you do what you can," said Stacy's mother, Antonina Pevney, who filed for the restraining order, claiming Jonathan kicked her daughter in the

The incident took place while the 3-year-olds were playing in the Charles River Park playground on the Charles River. Jonathan had bullied Stacy before, Pevney said.

Pevney went to court, asking that Jonathan - and his mother, Margareth Inge - not even be allowed in the playground while her daughter was there.

"I fear that both these people are violent, and she applauds and encourages Jonathan to be violent, to fight and kick and to behave in a manner not becoming a responsible child," Pevnev wrote in her comInge did not return a telephone message seeking comment. On Monday, Superior Court Judge Charles Spurlock decided that the mothers must keep the children supervised and separated while at the playground.

Violators can be held in contempt, fined or even jailed - in theory, at least.

But since it would be tough to prove a 3-year-old knowingly violated a court order, chances are that only the grown-ups would get pun-

▶ WAR CRIME RESULTS IN 1ST ARREST AFTER BOSNIAN ONSLAUGHT

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) -Serbian police have arrested a Bosnian Serb soldier suspected of taking part in the mass murder of civilians in the eastern Bosnian Muslim enclave of Srebrenica, the Tanjug news agency reported

Drazen Erdemovic, 25, is the first person arrested in connection with the atrocities that followed the Bosnian Serb onslaught on Srebrenica in July, when thousands of Muslim men disappeared. It is suspected that they were slain by Serb forces.

Richard Goldstone, chief prosecutor of the international war crimes tribunal, said Erdemovic and a second man arrested with him, Radoslav Kremenovic, had been members of the Bosnian Serb army. Serbian police said the 29-yearold Kremenovic was arrested for hiding Erdemovic.

On Thursday evening, ABC-TV said Erdemovic had told one of its reporters that he took part in the execution of more than 100 men and boys who were brought from Srebrenica to a farm in northeastern

According to the report, Erdemovic said the slaughter went on for more than five hours and that many of his fellow soldiers there were drunk. Afterward, he went to a nearby village where he saw Serb soldiers throwing hand grenades into a building where Muslim men were held, reporter Vanessa Vasic-Janekovic said.

MEN TRY FEMALE CONDOMS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Health officials here are offering female condoms to gay men to help fight AIDS.

The latex pouches are designed for women as a barrier against pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases.

Some AIDS activists are worried that the condoms haven't been approved by the federal Food and Drug Administration for anal

"Is it responsible to be actively encouraging gay men to use a product that is untested? I would argue that no, we should push for more testing," said Ben Schatz, executive director of the Gay and Lesbian Medical

But authorities said the condoms could help prevent transmission of HIV.

"We'll distribute them anyway - it's our tradition to make whatever we can available to keep HIV from spreading," nurse Marcy Fraser of the city Health Department's AIDS project said.

MAYOR REJECTS BURIAL SITE

Bosnia.

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) - Ike Clanton ran from the OK Corral when the shooting began and was forever branded a coward. More than a century after the shootout, Clanton has been denied the honor of being buried in Tombstone's Boothill Graveyard next to his father and brother, who was killed in the gunfight against Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday.

A distant cousin had proposed moving Clanton's remains, which are believed to lie in an unmarked grave more than 100 miles away.

"I'm trying to bring the Clanton family back together," said Terry "Ike" Clanton.

The mayor and the City Council rejected the request Feb. 29. City Manager Charlotte Gilbert said that officials preferred to "let the dead rest where they lie," and she added that the city's designation as a national historic landmark prevents any digging at the graveyard anyway.

police departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list wheellocks.

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

THURSDAY, MARCH 7

At 6:32 a.m., a security officer reported a fire alarm sounding on the second floor of Veterinary Clinical Sciences Building, Officers and Manhattan Fire Department responded. The alarm was caused by a faulty smoke detector.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6

At 12:05 p.m., there was a report of a rural fire at 2500 W. 62nd St. A woodpile next to the garage was

At 11:55 p.m., there was a report of a fight in progress in a parking lot at North Manhattan Avenue and Laramie Street. A large crowd was

MISS YOUR

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

PAPER?

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

 Manhattan Jaycees will have a scavenger hunt and fundraiser from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Cerebral Palsy Ranch McNair Scholars Program will sponsor a seminar on the graduate chool application process from 3:30 to 5 p.m. today in Union 209 For more information, call 532-5642.

Be international! Volunteer to help an international student prac-

532-6448. WIC: Healthy foods and nutrition education has openings for women (pregnant, delivered and ing), infants and children up to 5 years. Call the Riley County > Practice DAT/MCAT/OAT begins promptly at 8 a.m. Saturday in Durland 173.

776-4779, ext. 229 for an appoint tan Health Department at

BULLETINS

m Collegiate 4-H will meet at 7:30 Lutheran Campus Ministry will meet at 7:15 p.m. Sunday in Danforth Chapel for an evening wor ship service.

KSU Student Fellowship will meet at 9 p.m. every Sunday at 1326

Fremont St. The group will meet to discuss "Forum on Jesus."

KSU Aikido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight in Dance Studio 301. College of Human Ecology student ambassador applications are available. Applications are due in

We take news tips! 532-6556

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc. Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second-class postage is paid

Warmer and mostly sunny. High

Omaha

15/-4

Kansas

around 45.

31/13

at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103. Manhattan, Kan. 66506-

© Kansas State Collegian,

7167

Today Cold and sunny. High around 30. Northwest wind from 10 to 15 mph. Tonight, clear and not as cold. Low from 10 to 15.

Denver

lows

Yesterday's

highs and

LIVIU

810

MANHATTAN 23/0 Goodland

. . 32/-6

Saturday

warmer and sunny. Highs from 40 to 45 in the east and from 50 to 55

St. Louis .

STATE OUTLOOK

Cold and sunny with highs from 25 to 35. Tonight, clear and not as cold.

Lows from 10 to 20. Saturday, much

21/14 WELLOW CV

X NO COUPON NEEDED!!!

AGGIEVILLE PIZZA FREE DELIVERY 539-3830

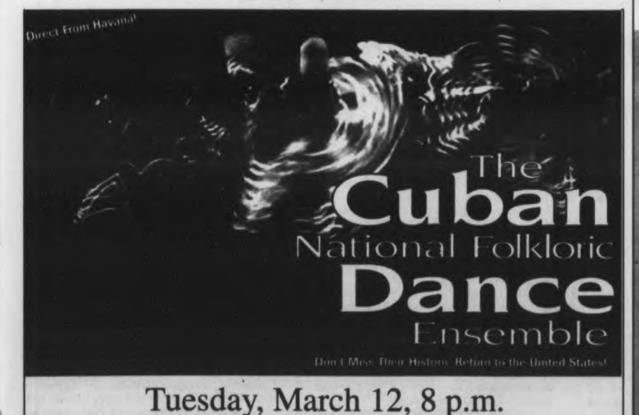

Large 16" Pizza

2x10" Pizzas 2-Cokes & Breadsticks

only $8.39

(One topping only)

McCain Auditorium • KSU Gen Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9

Tickets also available at the usual outlets. Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts. Additional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to change without notice. Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. weekdays, VISA and MC accepted.

FRI. NIGHT Band Milhouse Surprise -$1 bottles-SAT. NIGHT Hobbs End BANDS Red Eldon 8 p.m.- Close each night

M'Cullough Development Apartment Mall Your one stop apartment shopping!

Apartments Near Campus . Now Leasing for June and August

Mod	lel Showings sta	art week of March 4
STUDIO Wareham Apartments	2300-270	TWO BEDROOM	$490-510
418 Poyntz By appointment only		Man. 8-8 p.m. (1417 #1) Tues. Noon-2 p.m. Set, 11 e.mHoon
ONE BEDROOM		1000 Coaps	$510
1803-1807 College Heights 925-927 Denison Mon & Tues 3-5 p.m. (1809 At)	2386-410	Total, 3-5 p.m. (1020 #71) Fix 11:20 p.m1:20 p.m. Day 12:30 p.m11:20 p.m.	Viend
1950-60 Hunling Mon. 6-8 p.m. (1960 #13)	$130-054	Applicable Positiouse Apts. 817 N. 128) By Applicational Only	$600-725
Tues 3-5 p.m. 1005 Bluemont Thurs 3-5 p.m. (1005 #2) Fit 2-4 p.m.	450	1001-1005 Musmont There 3-5 pm. (1006 62) Fit 8-4 pm. Sen 3-4 pm.	$470-720
Sun 3-4 p.m. 1722 Laramis By appointment only	8375-050	1800-1809 College Heights Mon 6-17s.s. (1609 76)	$600-780
1854-58 Chaffin (1656 #3) Tues 7-6 pm. Fri. 10 a.mHoon	EMS-110	Time 4-0 pm 1163 Contract Jan 7-34-10 pm, (1163 pg)	$525
411-413-415 N. 1701 Mon. 11:30 a.m1:30 a.m. (415-45) Time. 10:30 a.m12:30 a.m.		FOUR BEDROOM
1022-1026 Sunset Topo & There 8-8-plm (1004 #4)		Ingel Trainer - 1790 K. Manhallan Mrs. En 8 a 10 pm, co-ohi citica	$750-860
Royal Towers - 1700 M. Menhadan By accomment only		Orithmy Ridge Townsomer 2008 Condemnal Chale	$750-860
1212 Thurston Tues A Wed. 6-7 p.m. (1212 #11)	ANDAR
Wareham Apartments - 418 Poyrist By appointment only	and the McCullough
LOCAL STREET,	NOW WHAT

► UNION PROGRAM COUNCIL

Week to honor diversity

L.L. Livengood staff reporter

Next week marks the beginning of K-State's Free Your Mind Week.

The week, sponsored by Program Council's Union Multicultural Committee, is designed to bring important issues into the minds of students. Erin Parkinson, committee chairperson, said.

Events scheduled for this year include lectures, visiting theatrical groups and forums.

One of the highlighted events will be a lecture by William Gates, who appeared in the documentary "Hoop Dreams." "He will draw a lot of people due to his exposure in 'Hoop Dreams," Parkinson said. His lecture is scheduled at 7 p.m. Monday in Forum Hall. Another Free Your Mind Week event coincides with Asian American Awareness Month.

The UPC committee and the Asian American student group on campus will be bringing the theatrical group "Here and Now" to

The group is an interactive Asian theatrical group from California, Parkinson said. The group is given a topic and will act it out, she said. "The group sold tickets to their performances at KU and sold out," Parkinson said. The performance is scheduled at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Union Ballroom. Admission is free. The second annual Ebony Fashion Revue will again be part of this year's Free Your Mind

Week activities. "This is a chance for African Americans on campus to model clothing from area merchants as well as traditional African clothing," Parkinson said, "but the revue is not just for the African American population on cam-

The show is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. March 16 in the Union Ballroom. The cost of admission is $5, and the dress is semi-for-

Admission money will be used to pay for the refreshments served during the show, Parkinson said.

In addition, the Bisexual and Gay and Lesbian Society will present a discussion on samegender marriages.

This will include information from a minister that performs such marriages, Parkinson said.

This issue is a hot topic in the news due to pending litigation in Hawaii that would make samegender marriages binding, causing the relationships to be recognized in every other state, Parkinson said.

The discussion is scheduled at noon Tuesday in the Union WOMEN'S ISSUES

Classes promote self-assurance

Khristi Shell

Workshops are being offered for women to provide a chance to learn skills about how to understand one's self and to associate with other

The Women's Resource Center, in conjunction with the University Counseling Service, are presenting a series of three workshops dealing with a variety of topics on relationships and self-

The three workshops are "What is Love, Anyway?" March 18, "Styles of Communications and the Gender Differences" April 22 and "Healthy and Happy; Being Alone and Being Lonely," which was Monday.

The workshops last from 4 to 6 p.m. in Union

The upcoming workshop, "What is Love, Anyway?" is to help women identify what they are looking for, but more importantly what is important to them about relationships, themselves and what they need in terms of connection, Dorinda Lambert, assistant director of Clinical Services, said.

The workshop, "Styles of Communications and Gender Differences," will explore the differences in styles of communication and what is expected in the communication between men and women, Lambert said.

"Healthy and Happy; Being Alone and Being Lonely," dealt with clarifying some of the terminology people use about being alone and being lonely, she said. WRC is trying to keep the workshops broad enough to be used for any type of relationship in any kind of love setting, she said. "(It is designed) so that people will be able to learn some things about themselves and be able to generalize it to all kinds of situations where they're interacting with other people," Lambert

The topics for these workshops are chosen by the presenters.

"The three topics that were chosen for this particular series are in response to the kinds of things that we often see women coming in and wanting to discuss in both agencies," Joyce Woodford, therapist, said.

These are three areas, not just people who come in to seek services, but everyone tends to struggle with at some point.

and are nicely suited for people coming together,

These are topics that appeal to most people

See WOMEN Page 10

MANHATTAN BIOMEDICAL CENTER 1130 GARDENWAY

MON-FRI 9AM - SAT 9AM-2PM

(NO coupon needed, 'No Coupon" Specials NONE accepted) Everyday Everyday Two-fers Three-fers PIZZAS with 3 - PIZZAS with TOPPINGS each TOPPING each COKES with ice COKES with ice

Pizza Shuttle 776-5577

Steve's Floral

A dozen roses in a vase (50 cm.) Only $39.95 when you mention ad, friendship or a full-bloom romance.

Expires 4/30/96 Angel Alley Aggieville Certain restrictions apply Hrs.: 10 a.m.-5 p.m. 776-5900 1-800-752-9105

Downtown Hrs.: 8 a.m.-6 p.m. 539-6227

9 p.m.-1 a.m. NO COVERI

Classic Rock n' Roll and Modern Country

17th and Ft. Riley Blvd 537-1484 Great Food! Great Entertainment!

Whole Tuna Sandwich and a side $1 OFF

expires 3-18-96 1219 Bluemont · Aggieville

Fiberglass Artificial Nailtips

Redken Clear Shades creates soft, shiny, lusterous hair instantly. Available now until March 20 for only 19.95.

THIS MONTH: ALL PERMS ONLY $1 995 (Add $5 for long hair)

French Manicures (full set) ONLY 5 SAVE 2

SAVE OUR ENVIRONMENT. SAVE YOUR CASH! Refill your Redken, KMS & Chas Ltd. Products & Save

512 POYNTZ AVE. ₹ 913-776-4794

Services

performed by supervised students

"SALON QUALITY AT A FRACTION OF THE PRICE!"

EARLY BIRD SPECIALS Appointments Scheduled 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. M-F

PERMS 115 (add 15 Long Hair) Haircut with Choice of one complimentary service (manicure, scalp massage or facial) $5.50

Manhattan Civic Theatre announces auditions for the musical...

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

by Rogers and Hammerstein

10 a.m. - 4 p.m. CHILDREN Saturday, March 2 Saturday, March 9 CHILDREN 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. Sunday, March 10 ADULTS 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. 7 p.m. - 9 p.m. ADULTS Monday, March 11

*Children auditioning on Saturday should plan to attend BOTH in the morning and afternoon. The morning session is for reading and the afternoon for music. Bring a prepared song.

web page -- http://www.flinthills.com/arts/

For more information call Fred Nelson at 776-3891

Epsilon Theta Chapter

BETA ALPHA PSI

The National Accounting Fraternity

The Epsilon Theta Chapter of Beta Alpha Psi would like to congratulate the newly elected 1996-1997 Executive Board.

> President Vice President Vice President in Charge of Programs Treasurer Recording Secretary

Corresponding Secretary

Brooke Beyer Heather Ross Colby Jones Kristi Ruble Marcia Hellwig Jeannie Matteson

Excelence Begins With You, The '95-'96 Executive Board

ADMISSION TO ALL UPC FILMS IS $1.75

GOLDENEYE

Friday, March 8 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, March 9 7:00 pm Forum Hall

K-State Student Union

DESTROY SEARCH

Thursday, March 7 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, March 9 9:30 pm Forum Hall

Starring: Rosanna Arquette Ethan Hawke Dennis Hopper John Turturro Christopher Walken

Marie Survey Turkerman To Mar

For more information call the UPC Office at 532-6571

Opinion

DO YOU HAVE AN OPINION ABOUT THE LAFENE FEE?

If you have an opinion about the Lafene Health Center fee, the members of Student Senate would like to hear it. A list of senators and e-mail addresses has been compiled on the E-Collegian for students' convenience.

Point your web browser to (http://www.spub.ksu.edu/) and let your senators know what their constituents think

COLLEGIANopinion

The road to 40 years was a difficult one

QUICKread

Students are invited to an ice cream social from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Union Courtyard. Help the K-State Union celebrate its 40th birthday.

The K-State Student Union is 40 years old today - but it didn't turn 40 without experiencing certain obstacles before its doors first opened.

Preliminary ideas for the Union were conceived in 1926. Support to construct the Union came primarily from students, who funded the construction entirely through a $5 per-semester stu-

Payment for the Union began in 1938, although some students who paid the fee would not even be around to appreciate it before the expected completion date in October 1955.

However, both World War II and Korean War efforts delayed the construction indefinitely.

Students continued to pay for something they could not see or use.

Ground-breaking for the Union occurred April 30, 1953, and the Union was dedicated and opened for business March 8, 1956.

There wouldn't have been a Union if it weren't for students.

The Union is a meeting place for all students, a place where students of all majors, races and sexes can find common ground.

K-State administrators should keep this in mind when they review the plans for Union enhancement. The wants and needs of students should be incorporated into the plans. After all, students have built a strong foundation for the Union,

In celebration of the Union's birthday, an ice cream social will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. today in the Union Courtyard. Make an effort to go to the social and thank the alumni who helped make the Union possible.

Thanks K-State alumni, and happy birthday Union!

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for handdelivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and

MEDIOCRE ALLEGATIONS UNFOUNDED

I feel compelled to respond to a recent quote from Jeff Peterson, student body president, who described the services at Lafene Health Center as "mediocre at best."

Peterson has made an unfounded allegation. As a long-time employee of Lafene, I have observed the type and quality of service, which we regularly provide to the students of K-State. Our staff are committed to students whether they come to us with an illness or injury or attend a presentation in their living group on issues of health and wellness.

I have worked in many types of health-care settings in my 22-plus years as a nurse in the United States and overseas, in hospitals both civilian and military, in a city health department, in a state school for the hearing impaired, and in a small group physician practice. I have observed and participated in patient care in all these settings.

Lafene stands out as a fine example of an excellent health-care organization. The care provided is some of the best I have had the privilege to participate with. I have been impressed by the kindness, compassion, intellect and high-quality diagnostic services above and beyond the call in April

CATHERINE BARRY

1989, when there was an outbreak of measles on campus ... None of us involved in these situations

would have overtime disease."

expected to do less. We worked willingly to protect our students.

from this deadly

provided

abilities demonstrated by the medical staff of Lafene Health Center. Most of the staff employed here would like to have physicians of such quality available to them when they are ill or injured.

We provided services above and beyond the call in April 1989, when there was an outbreak of measles on the campus. The medical director devised an organized plan, which included nurses working around the clock, to provide measles immunizations to hundreds of students to prevent this serious disease from spreading throughout the campus.

Again, in 1990, there was a similar outbreak which we addressed with equal commitment.

None of us involved in these situations would have expected to do less. We worked overtime willingly to protect our students from a deadly disease.

The local community is not prepared to address this type of problem on the scale necessary; it cannot absorb the additional load.

In 1993, nurses from Lafene assisted the local Health Department personnel in giving tetanus immunizations to community members and students who were helping with, or victims of, the summer flood. Most recently, the medical director responded to the case of a student who was diagnosed with active tuberculosis late on a Friday. The fraternity where this student lives was contacted, and additional nurses were called in on the weekend for TB skin testing of the fraternity. An organized process of informing necessary University personnel, planned responses and preparing Lafene staff for the process took place. The process was wellconsidered and effective and left barely a ripple on the surface of student life at K-State.

During the past two years, Lafene has participated in complex veterinary medicine rabies research studies involving extra hours of work for some medical and nursing staff. We have received high praise for our efficiency, commitment, excellent organizational skills and hard work. These activities are all undertaken with the view toward helping the University community achieve its mis-

Lafene has been evaluated positively by 90 percent of its consumers in semester surveys in 1995 and used by nearly 88 percent of all graduates of the University in exit surveys of graduating seniors. The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations has accredited Lafene since 1978. This is a third-party oversight organization which applies stringent standards to hospitals and ambulatory care centers. If you meet the standards of this accrediting body, which must include consumer evaluations and grading of quality of medical, nursing and other clinical and support services, you are recognized by your peers as an excellent organization.

Lafene staff have a strong commitment to the University and its students. This commitment is directed every day toward improving the quality of the services for the benefit of the students of K-State. This commitment is there for the long term, not just this semester or the length of a term in office. Whatever the fee structure of Lafene, we care about the students of K-State, and we shall continue to provide a quality service. The students need to continue to support this valuable service.

Catherine Barry Director of Nursing/Risk Manager Quality Management Coordinator

COLLEGIAN IS WORTH THE MONEY

I am writing in response to Byron Vogel's letter to the editor in Tuesday's Collegian. In Byron's pathetic attempt at sarcasm, he states he just wouldn't know what to do without the Collegian to read. He would miss such "insightful" features as the one profiling the Navajo Community College cross-country team and such riveting social commentary as the "legendary" comic strip Whatever.

I find it interesting Byron had to dig up articles and comic strips from last semester. Hasn't there been anything more recently that he could bag on?

Obviously not. This is because the Kansas State Collegian is one of the top three university newspapers in the nation. This fact has obviously eluded Byron, along with a large part of our Student Senate who are taking an axe to the Collegian's budget.

Now, if Byron would rather take his 25 cents and buy a copy of the Kansas City Star or Topeka Capital-Journal, that is his choice. However, he would be missing every single article in the Collegian concerning any K-State sport other than football and basketball, along with student body elections, closed class lists, local classifieds, announcements and bulletins for campus organizations, listings and reviews of cultural events, letters to the editor, plus a mix of local, national and international news that rivals many Kansas newspapers.

All this can be had for literally pennies per day. Of course, the Kansas City and Topeka papers are larger, but they also tend to contain twice as many articles about the University of Kansas as they do

Byron, if you have a problem with the comics, ust read FoxTrot. With the FarSide and Calvin and Hobbes now out of publication, FoxTrot is the only decent one left. If you don't like Kevyn Jacobs' liberal commentary or the "work of writing phenoms like Jason Hamilton and Lach Franquemont," the Collegian is always looking for new members for its editorial board.

Ryan Norman junior in pre-med/biology

a racial scapegoat

ife is a mixture of choices and circumstances.

When I moved to the New York suburbs of New Jersey from rural Indiana back in 1986, I was preparing for my sophomore year in high school. I moved to live with my mother after my father, whom I was living with in Indiana, suddenly died.

It was tough enough trying to adjust to a bigger school, a faster lifestyle and a different part of the country. It was also tough living without a dad and living with Mom, whom I had hardly spoken to in vears.

But there was one guy who made life a little tougher than it had to be.

Tony, who was my age, played tenor sax, played basketball and did well in honor classes. I did these things, too. But I, the interloper from the hinterlands, did all those things better. Not only did I outdo him without trying to, but I had the utter audacity to be white, as well.

I thought I had an identity problem being a fatherless-teenage-transplanted Hoosier in New Jersey.

I think Tony's identity problems were worse than mine.

Tony had the curse of being a black guy from a middle-class suburban family. His father worked for the FBI. His mother drove a Volvo station wagon. He did well in his classes. He wore sweaters and penny loafers. He dated white girls with similar backgrounds as his.

But he was conflicted. Lots of black kids in our school were from the tough streets of New York, Philadelphia, Newark, N.J., and other urban areas. They chided Tony mercilessly for being a white boy in a black man's skin.

So Tony established a pecking order. Certainly the hick Hoosier white kid was beneath the status of him - a black guy who was at least native to the northeast, he must have thought.

Eventually Tony tried to compromise by synthesizing his middle class existence with what other people indicated being black was about

He still took honor classes, but he would barely participate in class activities. He dated white girls, but only those who listened to hip hop and rap music. He had a difficult time finding antagonism from whites, which he seemed to think was the birthright of being a true black male. He sought it out, and he tried to find it by looking down the pecking order.

I lived only 10 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, so I used to wear surfer shirts all year-round.

SCOTT ALLEN

Miller

One day when I was wearing a yellow surf shirt, Tony, in his best stereotypical street voice, asked me, "Yo, man, what you gotta be wearin' a shirt like that Confused, I politely asked him what he found so disturbing about it.

His middle-class roots came out in his reply when he sighed and said, "God, don't you know that yellow isn't a winter color? You're so stupid."

That incident must have failed to convince Tony that he was black enough yet, and I was his great white enemy.

He eventually resorted to trying to pick a fight with me after a marching band event. I refused to fight, as I always Nonetheless, he punched me in front of the band teacher, who accosted Tony and asked him why he was hitting me.

The band teacher approached me a few minutes later and told me that if I ever called Tony or anyone else a "nigger" or any other epithet again, I'd fail band for the year. I told him that wouldn't be a problem, because I'd never called anyone a "nigger" before.

Tony played his race card, made himself into the victim in the situation, and got me ostracized. But he wasn't quite

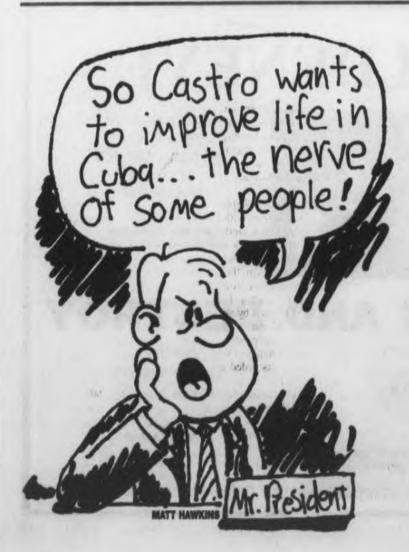

About a year later, he tried to start a fight with me again, and I refused to fight again. But this time some chaperones saw he was starting with me, not the other way around, so I didn't get any grief about it. Tony didn't either.

The years have given me the clarity to see Tony was really angry at someone. Was he angry at his parents for achieving the American dream and denying him the legitimacy that comes from living in a ghetto? Was he angry at other blacks for not accepting him for what he was? Was he angry at that nebulous abstraction called society?

He wasn't angry at me, that's for sure. I'm not angry with him for making me his scapegoat, either. I do feel a lot of pity for Tony and for anyone else caught between living up to one's potential and living up to a stereotype. I was having difficulty with life, but Tony apparently

I hope he's worked it all out.

Scott Allen Miller is a senior in interdisciplinary social science.

U.S. opposition to Castro has long history

magine this scenario: A civilian plane, clearly identified as belonging to an anti-American terrorist, flies over Washington, D.C., several times, dropping pamphlets urging the people to overthrow the government.

Finally, fed up with the situation the United States explicitly warns off this plane as it approaches. When it fails to turn back, U.S. fighter jets blow it out of the sky.

Now if this was to happen, many would say these anti-American terrorist had been asking for it. Although several, including myself, would

Myview

LACH Franquemont protest this use of force, the first to defend it would also be first to condemn Cuba for its recent shooting down of anti-Cuban terrorist.

As you read this today, President Clinton could be very well considering a bill to pass economic sanctions on Cuba. The smart money would be on him passing it, as well.

This is only the latest episode in a long history of U.S. opposition to the Castro government. The CIA orchestrated the failed Bay of Pigs invasion. It's been against the law to spend U.S. currency in Cuba for quite a number of years. In general, we've done everything we can to pressure the Cuban people to overthrow Castro.

Why? That is my question. Back during the Cold War, I can understand the strategic reasons why we didn't want a possible enemy base on our southern doorstep. But since 1989 and the breakup of the Soviet Union, there has been no reason to worry about this aspect.

Some might claim what the United States objects to is a dictator being in charge of Cuba and the real fight is for democracy. A look at U.S. foreign policy shows we have no problem with dictators as long as they support American business interest.

This shows me the threat the United States is combating in Cuba is an ideological one. The true worry is if Fidel Castro is allowed to succeed and the life of the Cuba people are made better under his system, it will encourage other counties to overthrow their oppressive capitalist systems and work on improving the lives of their

The fact is Castro has done exceptionally well with what he has. The standard of living in Cuba is much higher than many of the surrounding Caribbean nations. The only reason Cuba hasn't done better is continued U.S. opposition. The problem the United States has with Cuba is the Cubans have had the temerity to not allow our corporations to exploit their people, as has been the case in so many other countries around the world. Imagine that: Leaders who care more about their people than the bribes they could receive as a result of selling them off.

In no way do I intend to excuse the recent downing of the plane. My beef is with the hypocrisy inherit in U.S. policy toward Cuba.

If we are going to start imposing even more economic sanctions on the beleaguered nation of Cuba, we need to impose a few economic sanctions against ourselves for crimes we have directly or indirectly inflicted on civilian populations throughout the world.

For years, our government has been looking for an excuse to crack down on Cuba. Now it's been given one.

God help the Cuban people.

Lach Franquemont is a sophomore in physics and philosophy.

HOW TO TASTE WINE

According to B.D. Faw, an Internet wine pundit, the color is the first characteristic of evaluation.

Young, white wines tend to be clearer than older whites, which are more yellow. Reds also begin brightly, deepening with age. After noting the color, the experienced wine user will have an idea of what to expect.

The second step involves inhaling the bouquet by putting one's nose into the glass and whiffing. This is done to check for the dominant scents, which give a clue of the wine's character.

A proper bell-shaped wine glass will effectively capture the bouquet near the tapering, facilitating these olfactory sensations. According to Adrienne Lehrer, author of "Wine and Conversation," there are many popular adjectives used to describe the wine bouquet. There are positive adjectives, such as fruity and fragrant, and negative adjectives like musty or yeasty. After swirling the wine lightly to stir the fragrance, the bouquet is revisited. Finally, the taste is checked for acidity by sipping daintily, bringing in a goodly amount of fragrant air at the same time.

Don't worry; in wine-tasting circles, the resulting noises are acceptable. Swirl the wine around in your mouth and gently inhale a little of the bouquet as you allow the wine to roll from the tip of your tongue to the back.

vors. Does it taste like fruit? Berries? Itemize each flavor and note whether they add or detract from the overall essence of the wine. The aftertaste is the final test.

Once the full flavor of the wine has followed its source down your throat, note the length of the aftertaste. A good wine should hold together as a smooth, unified experience, not allowing one or more characteristics to dominate. This is referred to as balance.

Wine 101

wine tasting by Notan Schramm

eople praised the fruit of the vine in ancient times for its rejuvenating effects and amorous qualities. Some things never change.

And, as more studies show a correlation between moderate wine consumption and good health, more Kansans are willing to buy.

But when choosing a wine, one must look farther than the nearest row of screw-topped, gallon-sized jugs to make the experience truly sublime.

"Anybody in the world is going to like these, because they're like water," Scott Schneider, wine connoisseur, said. "Gallo, for example, is very easy to drink, but I guarantee it was fermented in a stainless steel vat versus American Oak."

Wooden containers help age and enhance the flavor of wines, whereas steel vats are normally used for a holding wines only long enough to ferment them and bottle them, he said. Lesser-quality wines usually come from companies that don't have vineyards, opting instead to buy juice on the market and simply ferment it, Schneider said.

These wines are typically cheaply priced and snubbed by wine aficionados.

Of course, a person need not buy a $200 bottle of wine to find good taste. Personal preference, considerations of the accompanying meal and price range are three basic factors that should be carefully considered when selecting a wine.

Schneider, co-owner of Nespor's Wine and Spirits, 1338 Westloop, said personal preference will outweigh all other considerations most of the time.

For example, not everyone is ready to begin a wine experience with a deep red wine. Deep reds are thick, full-bodied and dry, but other reds are medium and sweet, he said.

It is easy for newcomers to stereotype one color as always having the same flavor.

"Red wine is kind of an acquired taste," Schneider said. "You can't just jump in and think that all reds are really dry."

Certain wines were originally named for a particular region in Europe that grew the grapes used in fermentation, Schneider said.

For example, Burgundy originally referred to the wines that came from Burgundy, France.

Later, American wineries began producing red blends, made from white juices and the addition of red grape skins, for the color.

They called it Burgundy. Today, these are known as "generic" wines and are generally cheaply produced, using the aforementioned steel-vat method, Schneider said.

The second classification of wine is varietal, wines named after the particular grape used in fermentation.

Chardonnay and Zinfandel, for example, are proper names of grapes used to produce those par-

A common misconception is to believe a grape like Zinfandel must be sweet because the final product is sweet. This is not the case, Schneider said. These grapes, though they look tantalizing, are not grown for eating.

"If you were to bite one of these, it would have all the sweetness of a hedge apple," he said.

Most European wines are actually blends of six or seven different wines, making the taste more complex, Schneider said.

American wines, because of the fairly stable U.S. climate, are usually only made from one variety of grape, but this provides a uniformity to the wines that European blends lack.

Another myth is that expensive, imported wines are inherently better than less-expensive, domestic wines, Schneider said.

"Price is not an accurate indicator," he said. "There are some good bargains for $8 to $10. Especially if the company doesn't advertise much, or it just got started."

Certain imported wines may exceed $200 per bottle, while some domestics might cost $6.

Many European vineyards age wines for 15 or 20 years, carefully turning each bottle to ensure uniform fermentation, while vineyards in Napa Valley, California, often release their wines after a period of months, Schneider said.

In short, selection has everything to do with personal preference. And without a doubt, today's preferences are

"Our generation tends to have a glass of wine, whereas our parents would have had a stiff drink,"

"There's something about wine, though. It's more sophisticated. Our generation likes to be that way,"

THE CASUAL CRITICS

by Page Getz and Nolan Schramn

"Il Postino" Michael Radford, director

Page: *1/2 out of five stars It is a love story upstaged by the profound and unlikely bond of a controversial Chilean poet taking exile on the Italian island of Capri and his mailman, a harmless slacker inspired only by his lust for a local barmaid.

The movie has a series of themes, including the city mouse meets the country mouse, boy meets girl and directionless naivete meets a social conscience.

These themes are integrated into the transformation of a dreamer dodging his inevitable fate as a fisherman who becomes infatuated with poetry while pursuing an infatuation with Beatrice.

The film is rich with endearingly idiosyncratic characters, including Beatrice's simple and stiff-jawed aunt who is offended by these "metaphors" that she believes Mario is contaminating her niece's sensibilities with.

The exception to this would be Beatrice. Sadly and typically, her role serves only as the vacant fantasy, or muse that with the poetic guru-ship of Neruda, converts Mario's fantasies to poetry in an exchange of a lesson in metaphors for a lesson in humanity.

The movie is sort of a multicultural mesh based on "Burning Patience," a novel by Chilean writer Antonio Skarmeta and adapted by British director Michael Radford, Italian writer Anna Pavignano and the leading actor Massimo Troisi, who died just one day after the filming was completed.

Its widespread international success and penetration into the Oscars with nominations for five Academy Awards including best picture, best director and best actor might be a breakthrough for foreign films.

Nolan: * out of five stars

This Italian drama with English subtitles is set in 1954 on a small island in the Mediterranean Sea. It was inspired by the poetry of Pablo Neruda, the Chilean communist poet.

Mario, a young Italian fisherman, takes an odd job as a postman, mainly to be different from his father. He is told to deliver mail to Neruda, who has been exiled from Chile because of his political views.

They soon hit it off, and Mario takes a liking to a local lady, whom he is sure he will impress, if only he can learn the ways of poetry from Dom Pablo.

Through the course of the movie, we witness the young Mario Ruoppolo overcome his shyness by acknowledging the poet within himself.

The movie is charming in its simplicity and utterly honest dialogue, something all but lost in today's world

Radford, nominated for the 1995 Academy Awards for best director, portrays excellently the slice-of-life

"Manon of the Spring" Claude Berri, director

Page:  out of five stars Feeling masochistic?

Subject yourself to three hours of this rural-French. below-poverty-line soap opera complete with superficial lust, a secret family tree and scandals revolving around the avengence of a reclusive vixen (the Lady of Shallott with an attitude).

This movie is slow and bland. The characters are either annoying or sterile and stiff.

What a shock that the movie begins with Manon, the rustic Cinderella, a naked beauty-queen raised by barbarians bathing in a spring, unaware that the wealthy inbred hunter who "loves" her is watching.

There are two morals to this story. The first is sort of the typical cosmic law of karmic justice theme with a guilty conscience and Catholic

If you steal water from your neighbors, and if God doesn't punish you, your neighbors will.

The second is a favorite theme of all the soaps: Don't sabotage or drive your neighbors to suicide (especially if they have some kind of pathetic disposition like a hunchback), because they might just be the illegitimate child you never knew you had. Nolan: * out of five stars

This French sequel to "Jean de Florette" focuses on the life of Galienette and his quest for love.

While his father pesters him to find a wife to carry on the family name, he spies the beautifully naked Manon in the backwoods, leaping about and playing the har-

Manon is a shepherdess whose mother is an actress in Paris. She lives with her lady, who urges her to join her mother in Paris, and leave the small town that ostracizes her for her father's strangeness.

In the meantime, a new teacher in town fixes his heart on Manon, thickening the plot. Upon advice from Cesar, his father, Galienette dresses up in a formal hunting suit. He proceeds to make a fool of himself by shouting poorly formed sonnets at the fleeing Manon.

After trapping birds and various other game for Manon in hopes of winning her heart, Galeinette decides to sew a discarded bow to his nipple. (Hey, if all else

Manon proceeds to create a political situation after she overhears two hunters tell of how her father had been set up as a fool years before when he swore a natural spring was nearby.

Some town elders ridiculed him, branding him crazy, then bought the land the spring was on.

The intricate plot is brilliantly woven into a tapestry of tragedy. Several subplots make this film a delightful sequel to rent.

Sports

• Did You Know?

K-State has never defeated Oklahoma State in the Big 8 Tournament. The Cowboys are the only Big 8 team to be undefeated against the Wildcats in the tournament.

Lacrosse

■ The K-Stae men's lacrosse club will have a match at 2 p.m. Sunday at East Stadium.

'Clones will fall to Cats in title game

Kansas City at the Big 8 Tournament.

Hopefully I'll see lots of purple, especially since I, as a member of the media, will not be allowed to display my purple pride.

And with Kansas City in Mizzou and Kansas' backyard, it won't be a friendly environment for our beloved Wildcats.

But does that matter?

Well, if you look at K-State's performance in Columbia earlier this season, it does.

Missouri overpowered the Cats in an 80-86 loss. Although Elliot Hatcher, Tyrone Davis and Gerald Eaker all scored in double digits, the effort was not enough to overcome the hometown team. And

Myview games later in the pace with the Raef Jayhawks. LaFrentz lit up K-State in Kansas' 62-72 victory in Allen Fieldhouse.

Lawrence, the Cats

led at halftime but were unable to keep

But in round Newell one of the tournament, K-State will not be facing the Tigers or the Jayhawks. Instead, the Aggies from Kansas will match up with the Aggies from Oklahoma Both teams drubbed the other on their own homecourts. The first game between Oklahoma State and K-

State came right before the Cats' loss to Missouri. K-State pulled out the 62-59 win with double-digit efforts by Hatcher, Davis and Mark Young

But game two between the Cowboys and the Cats was a slightly different story.

Fighting a stomach virus that wasn't diagnosed until the next day, Hatcher was virtually an unproductive mechanism in K-State's machine. Not only was he unproductive, but he slowed the machine

With only 10 points from Hatcher, and Tyrone Davis contributing a season-low six points against conference opponents after getting into foul trouble, K-State left Stillwater, Okla., with its head hanging. The Cowboys dished out K-State's worst conference loss of the season with a 60-83 defeat. Cowboys Jerome Lambert and Mo Robinson combined for 38 points as the Cats literally gave the game away with 26 turnovers and only 12-of-22 free-throw shooting.

For K-State to advance in the tournament and keep NCAA tournament hopes alive, the Cats will have to have a near-perfect game.

Why?

Because Oklahoma State is probably the hottest team in the Big 8 right now. With a road thumping of Nebraska, Oklahoma State went on a five-game winning streak to close out the regular season. Those victories included victories at Colorado and Missouri and home wins against Iowa State and intrastate rival Oklahoma.

Both teams are 7-7, and both teams have everything to lose with a first-round loss in the tourna-

Another little fact to take note of is that K-State has never beaten the Ags from Oklahoma in the Big 8 Tournament. The Cowboys and the Cats have met four times, and each time K-State has dropped the bomb. All four of those wins were first-rounders.

The last time the two teams met, Oklahoma State dealt an 81-57 embarrassment to the Cats. In fact, Oklahoma State is the only team K-State has never beaten in the Big 8 Tournament.

For the last year of the Big 8 Tournament, it would be nice to see K-State change the tide.

If it doesn't, it's only a two-hour hike back to Manhattan and a hello to the NIT, if K-State has any luck at all.

If K-State does upset the odds, Kansas will more than likely be waiting in the wings. The winner of the K-State-Oklahoma State game will advance to round two and face the winner of the Kansas-Colorado game. Anyone who bets on Colorado will win a fortune if the Buffs win, because the odds certainly aren't in its favor. But who knows? The women Buffaloes upset Kansas in the women's Big 8 Tournament.

And what else should happen this weekend?

In the third game of the first round, No. 2 Iowa State will take on No. 7 Nebraska. This is a virtual no-brainer. Iowa State was embarrassed at home by a loss to K-State, and then almost choked in Columbia. Tim Floyd won't be the Big 8 coach of the year for nothing. He'll have his Cyclones ready to take on the Cornhuskers. Besides, the Huskers are probably still hung over from partying so hard after their victory against K-State. The thrill of a victory was most likely too much for the team to handle.

And in game four of the first round, I see Missouri upsetting Oklahoma. Like I said before, Kansas City is Missouri's playground. Both teams have upset Kansas this year, so they are quite capable of pulling out the big victory. But Missouri has the upper hand and will prevail.

Round two will see K-State defeating Kansas if the Cats can stay focused and can feed off the crowd's energy. Iowa State will defeat Missouri in a close battle that might even see overtime. The championship game belongs to the Cats. Iowa State will be rip-roaring mad after a regular season sweep by the Cats and will be looking to put a mark in the win column against K-State. But following a much-deserved victory against Kansas, the Cats will see nothing but Big 8 trophies and an NCAA tournament berth on their way to a confer-

Big 8 tourney last chance to go dancing

John Berggren

It is time for K-State (16-10,7-7) and Oklahoma State (17-9,7-7) to shelve their regular-season records and start all over.

Today at 2:20 p.m., the Wildcats will try to take round one of the Big 8 tournament from the Cowboys. A win for the Cats could help wrap up a spot in the NCAA Tournament for the first time in three years.

But K-State coach Tom Asbury would not go as far to say a win would for sure put the Cats in.

"It would sure help," Asbury said. "There are so many intangibles that you don't know about. There are all these other conference teams that put people who have records such as ours on the

Throughout regular season play, K-State and Oklahoma State split the series. The Cats won the first match-up in Bramlage 62-59, and the Cowboys won the second, whipping the Cats 83-60.

In the second game, at Stillwater, Okla., the Cats had the misfortune of having their most valuable player benched for most of the game with a stomach virus.

Elliot has played so well for us this year on the road. We need him to play well. This team has needed him to play well for it to be effective," Asbury said.

"Elliot wasn't Elliot that game, and

The Cats are coming off two game road games in which they beat No. 22 Iowa State 89-85 in overtime and lost to

"We've been up and down, but I think everybody in the conference has," Asbury said. "It's the nature of the beast. I've been pretty pleased with how we've played on the road this year. We've been in a position to win every game except for the one in Stillwater."

Oklahoma State, on the other hand, is coming off a five-game winning streak, including wins at Missouri and at home against Oklahoma

"There is probably nobody playing better than Oklahoma State," Asbury said. "I think Kansas is a better team, but I'm not sure they're playing any better."

Asbury said the main reason for the Cowboys' late season success was due to the team being healthy.

"They've gotten healthy, and I think they're really coming together as a team like they did last year," Asbury said. "Their defense is more sound, because they've got more depth and can bring in

"They're an extremely hard-nosed physical team. That's something we need to focus on this week, and it's a typical Eddie Sutton team. Whether they man you, zone you or press you, they're going to get after you.'

When looking at Oklahoma State's individual statistics, one might be surprised to see that Jerome Lambert is its leading scorer, averaging only 12.8 points per game.

Asbury said Oklahoma State relies on a total team effort.

"They're a multi-dimensional team," Asbury said. "There is not any one guy that is overwhelming in their team's leadership. These guys aren't awful players over-achieving. They're good basketball players."

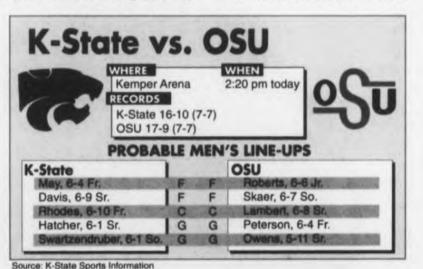

The Cats' key for the game comes down to playing physically smart and getting boards.

"It's all going to boil down to how we handle their pressure and how we rebound," Asbury said. "This isn't going to be a game for boys, because this game matters as much to them as it does to us."

FILE PHOTO BY SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Ayome May tries to work his way into the lane during the Nebraska game at the Devaney Center. The Cats will face the Oklahoma State Cowboys in their first round game of the Big 8 Tournament today.

Big 8 Tournament Seedings Kansas 24-3 (12-2) -Colorado 9-17 (3-11) ___ K-State 16-10 (7-7) -Winner Bia 8 OSU 17-9 (7-7) Tournament Iowa State 20-8 (9-5) Nebraska 16-13 (4-10) -Oklahoma 17-11 (8-6) -Missouri 16-13 (6-8) ANDY MARCINIAK/Collegian

TENNIS

K-State netters travel to Indiana to face Purdue, Notre Dame

The K-State women's tennis team will try to continue its success in the spring season this weekend. The Wildcats have gotten off to a 3-1 start in duals action this season. The Cats will take its impressive record into the state of Indiana to face Notre Dame and Purdue in a two-day tournament. The Cats will start the weekend action Saturday against Notre Dame. Just recently, the Fighting Irish moved up to No. 8 in the ITA rankings.

"They are better than they have been in a while," Coach Steve Bietau said. "They have two of the best freshmen in the country and another freshman who is playing at the No. 3 spot."

In what seems to be a consistent pattern for the Cats, the team will travel into this weekend's contest with injuries. Freshman Yasmine Osborn is still recovering from a stress fracture and is listed as questionable for this weekend. Sophomore Dinah Watson is still recovering from an AC joint problem in her shoulder. Watson practiced this week but reinjured her shoulder serving. She is listed as doubtful for this weekend.

Sunday, the Cats will face a familiar foe when they take on Purdue. The Boilermakers traveled to Manhattan last fall to participate in the Traveler's Express Wildcat Invitational. In that contest, Cat players faced Purdue opponents 14 times and were 7-7 against them. Bietau said the team will be keeping those matches in mind going into the contest this weekend.

"We will remember things about those players, how they played and how to attack their weakness-

K-State will also take a successful singles campaign into this weekend's action. Since the teams' season opener, the Cats have gone 17-1 in singles play. These wins have come against Creighton, Wichita State and Tulsa. In that time, the team has only lost four sets in singles action.

So far, the Cats' doubles teams have gone 8-4 in action this season. Two of those losses have come at the doubles team of Yana Dorodnova and Karen Nicholson. Dorodnova and Nicholson started off ranked No. 35 in doubles in the December ITA rankings release, but the duo started off the spring season 0-2. Those losses came at the No. 1 spot against Northwestern and Creighton.

"They really got their eyes opened with the loss to Creighton," Bietau said.

'They are at the stage now where they realize that they are not playing great doubles. But they are trying new things to improve. There will be a period of time where the execution of these new things will

"If they stick with this different style of play for doubles, I think they will see better results in their matches," Bietau said.

K-State has found success with the doubles team of Karina Kuregian and Lena Piliptchak. The duo have started off the spring season with a 3-1 record. But since moving into the No. 1 spot, they have posted a 2-0 record. Kuregian and Piliptchak are listed to play at the No. 1 spot this weekend.

Going into this weekend's contest with a threeame winning streak, the Cats' confidence level is high. But Bietau said the team is definitely not over-

The team realizes the level that they are playing at," Bietau said. "But we have worked hard to ensure that the team won't be over-confident. We have been making some progress, but progress is ultimately decided on the court against good teams."

TRACK AND FIELD

K-State sends 5 athletes to NCAA Championships

Today and tomorrow are what the K-State indoor track team has been waiting for all year. Beginning at 5 p.m. today and continuing at 6:15 p.m. tomorrow, K-State will compete at the 1996 NCAA Indoor Championships, where it sent five athletes.

'It's what we've been working up to all year," assistant track coach Jill Lancaster said.

'We're expecting all to have a good meet, and we're looking forward to the competition. They're ready." K-State enters the indoor championships with the women's team ranked third and the men's team ranked 16th in the Team Dual Meet Power Rankings. When going into a meet as competitive as the NCAA championships, the best athletes hope to do as well as they have all season, and the average athletes hope to break a season-high

Lancaster said K-State needs to perform like it has all season. "Depending on the quality of the athlete, an athlete will peak at certain times during the season," Lancaster

"Some work to peak at the Big 8 meet, and some hope to peak at nationals," she said.

"All of our people are quality athletes, and if they just do what they did to get to nationals, we should have some pretty good outcomes." Competing for K-State will be

Renetta Seiler in the 20-pound weight throw, Vanitta Kinard in the long jump and triple jump, Itai Margalit in the high jump, and Wanita Dykstra in the high jump. Going into the NCAA's, Seiler is ranked 13th, throwing a distance of 58 feet, 3-1/4 inches; Kinard is tied for 17th, jumping 20 feet, 1-3/4 inches and tied for 11th in the triple jump, jumping 42'7." Margalit (the lone men's qualifier) is tied for eighth, scaling 7'3" inches, and Dykstra is tied for third, scaling Margalit and Dykstra are the lone returning qualifiers for K-State.

"Itai and Wanita have both been there before, and we're expecting them to place well," Lancaster said. "If they duplicate the marks they set throughout the season, they should do well.

Lancaster said she was proud of all five athletes who made it to the

"They're all great accomplishments," Lancaster said. "We'll be getting the cream of the crop from across the nation this weekJapan at 7 tonight in Willard 202. Her work focuses on using hand-made paper as a medium for etching, drawing and woodcut printmaking.

Diversions

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

by Eugene Sheffer ▶ CROSSWORD ACROSS 23 Mall con-DOWN 41 Quid pro 1 Chum quo 45 Tortellini 1 Hearth stituents 4 Huck's gadget 2 Proof of 24 -- 10 Conbuddy ference topper innocence 25 Ga. 7 Lead 47 Sapporo neighbor 26 Gibson or singer with sash 3 "Silence the Comets 48 Daughters of the -" 12 Slangy of Mne-4 Albacore Brooks Com suffix 5 Put one's mosyne 13 - tree 52 Grand 2 cents in serving 6 Tropical Caesar's (cornered) squared? 53 Dispatch 14 Martini fruit 7 Sacrosanct 31 Matlock's garnish 15 Ms. 54 Recipe 8 Erstwhile field 32 Rushmore ring king Basinger meas. 16 Cat's quota 55 Citric 9 Caesar's carving 18 "Cabaret" 33 "Born in quencher 10 Leading lyricist 56 Ancestor the -19 Sore, and of David 36 Swain lady? then some 57 Pigs' digs 11 Unequivo- 37 Most 20 React to 58 Nancy pleasant cally Drew's 17 Sea eagle 40 Yearns 22 One billion boyfriend 21 Faux pas passionyears 23 Meat Solution time: 25 mins. 42 19th product Amend-27 Flushed ment bene-29 "Waiting to ficiary 43 Tolerate -" (book 44 In a heap and movie) 45 Urban pall 31 Singer 46 Catch Branigan 34 Not instrusight of 48 Quick 40 mental 35 Soak up "- Got a Secret" 37 Pinch 50 0 38 Sport Yesterday's answer 51 Compass 39 Inventor Whitney pt. 3-8

FD? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873199¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP

DCS RMCI, GBFJ QWZMY-MPI GWZ-

YFGFCMZE QSWMCCJP WPZEED

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE RIDICULOUS FARMER OFTEN LIKED TO REFER TO HIS ROOSTER AS AN ALARM CLUCK.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: R equals K

JOBS

Starting at $6 per hour

ATTENTION.

STUDENTS!

Help needed to take inventory in retail stores. Average 10 - 12 hours, mostly on weekends - especially Sundays. Math

Apply in person in Ramada

Inn Stateroom Teusday, March

12 at 6 p.m. 1-800-728-3586

aptitude is a must.

▶ FOXTROT by Bill Amend THIS WAY, WHEN I REALLY OF COURSE, THE MERE FACT THAT HI, I'D GOD-LIKE" TANT AND FAMOUS, I'LL BE CANCEL MAILING DOING THIS USED TO THE ADULATION FAN LETTERS AND IT WON'T MESS WITH PROBABLY MY HEAD. I'D HATE FOR MY EGO TO GO BONKERS.

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilich

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

▶ BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

New composition, tap dance rare treat for jazz

Russell Fortmeyer contributing writer

As if this week's musical offerings couldn't get any better, K-State students have another chance to see a live performance for free.

The K-State Concert Jazz Ensemble will perform this Sunday afternoon in Forum Hall.

The 3 p.m. concert, "CJE and Friend," is the first concert this year the band will perform on its own, without accompaniment. However, this won't prevent them from including some guest artists.

Dennis Wilson, director of jazz studies and conductor of the ensemble, said one of the highlights of the evening will be a dance number.

Heidi Bates, junior in dietetics, will join the ensemble during its number "Cute" to showcase her tap-dancing talents. Bates is twirler with the K - State Marching Band. "It's a classical jazz number," Bates said.

The K-State Concert Jazz Ensemble will perform in at 3 p.m. Sunday in Forum Hall. Admission is free and open to the public.

Jazz Ensemble

She said she has been working on the self-choreographed number for two weeks. "I get more energy from a live band, which makes it easier to work with because I get to set my own tempo," Bates' performance will be a treat, because tap dancing is not something featured in many musical shows at K-State, with the exception of the traveling show, "Crazy for You." "Tap is a lot more rare than ballet or jazz," Bates said. "I know maybe two or three people my age who also tap dance. I haven't ever seen any tap dancing at K-State.' Wilson has been working with Bates through a special studies program in the music department. "She wants to perform — to be a song-and-dance girl," Wilson said. "We look at her as a twirler, and there is more to Heidi than just twirling."

"I told her I could use her in the concert," he said. 'Cute' is a good piece for drummers. Heidi's feet are the drums, in this case," Wilson said.

Bates could most recently be seen on the K-State stage dancing in K-State theater's "The Music Man." She also works as the choreographer for "Sugar and Spice," a women's show choir at Manhattan High School, where she also attended.

Last summer, Bates choreographed the children's musical "Free to be You and Me" for Manhattan Parks and Recreation. Bates said she has been tap dancing since she was 3 years old, having grown up learning from her mother, Gyll Bates, who teaches at the Gyll Bates School of Dance.

"Cute" will also highlight a clarinet solo by Paul

Wilson said the concert will feature the premiere of Jessica's Day, a never-played-before composition of Quincy Jones. The piece was written for Count Basie's 80th birthday, but the legend died at age 79. So, the piece was never performed. Wilson said the Count Basie

Other songs in the repertoire include "Graves' Groove" and "Bug Out." Singer Staci Blackwell will accompany the band on the standards "Misty" and "Don't Get Around Much Anymore."

$23/person

for 2&3 bedroom condos 1-800-290-8174

537-0886

Mon.-Sat.

11 a.m.-1 a.m.

This coupon good for Chicken with Broccoli

$3.90 Dine-in and carryout 1116 Moro

Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries. FREE DELIVERY (min. $9)

■ No more cleaning hassles

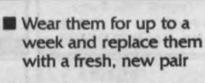

that can irritate your eyes

(6 Lenses) Disposable Contact Lens Multi-Pak

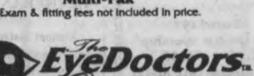

(913) 537-1118 3012 Anderson Manhattan, Kansas 66502

has never been so affordable.

■ No long-term buildup

RS. PRICE, YOUNG, ODLE, HORSCH PA. AND ASSOCIATES

Res: (913) 776-8900

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

1-800-232-5726 Buying or selling, we provide you with a home market analysis.

RE/MEX

Orchestra hasn't even played the song.

Penny Alonso

Res: (913) 776-7492

King Henry

CRISPIAN'S DAY AT THE BOAR'S HEAD by William Shakespeare

Sunday, March 17, 3 p.m. McCain Auditorium . KSU

Gen. Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9 Call 532-6428 or come to McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. VISA and MC accepted.

Tickets also available at the usual outlet Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency and the National Endowment for the Arts. Iditional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to chance without notic

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility inform

KSU to sell license plates depicting University logo

Bill Bontempo

If the K-State Alumni Association is successful, there will be a new look to some license plates in Kansas.

Two years ago the Kansas Board of Regents passed legislation giving K-State permission to design and promote license plates with a University

Brad Beets, vice-president of the K-State Alumni Association, said there have been some problems completing the process.

The timeline for receiving one of the specialized tags is the biggest

The Department of Motor Vehicles in Topeka established a one-year waiting period for those who wish to obtain the K-State license plates.

Beets said when he meets with officials from the Kansas Department of Motor Vehicles in Topeka in two weeks, he hopes to establish a waiting period of about three months.

The waiting period for receiving personalized plates is six weeks.

The other issue keeping the new tags from being placed on car bumpers is the design.

Sue Peterson, assistant to the president for government relations, said tentative designs had a depiction of Anderson Hall in the middle of the tag, but the Department of Motor Vehicles only allocated the upper left corner of the plates for design.

Beets said there are many possible designs for the new plates.

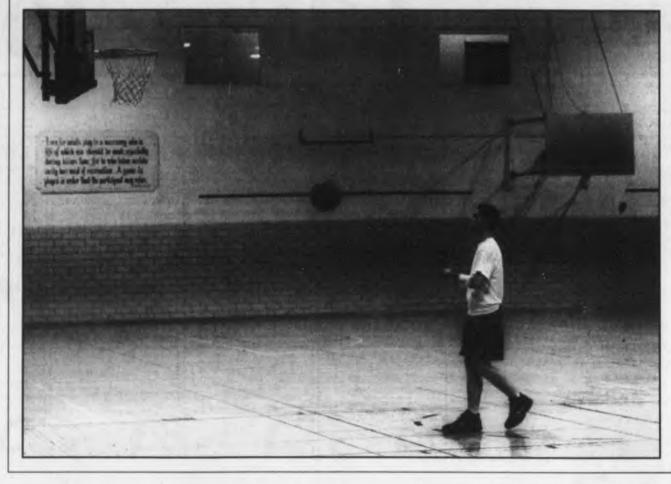

"Right now, the Cat head is an obvious possibility," he said. Willie the Wildcat and other K-

State logos are still possible options. Beets said the license plates would cost a little more than the production

The revenue created by sales would go back to the University.

"That money would be earmarked for scholarships back to the University," he said.

Beets said he is optimistic about the possible outcome of the meeting. "In a couple of weeks, we're gonna have some really good news," he said.

Solo shooter

All alone, Brad Hartman, junior in elementary education, shoots baskets Thursday evening in Ahearn Gymnasium. Hartman sald he tries to get to the gym to shoot baskets a few times a week.

CARY CONOVER

► NASA

Circuit failure shortens mission

QUICKread

► Space Shuttle Columbia will attempt to return to Cape Canaveral, Fla., early because of a failure in the shuttle's wing flaps, rudder and brakes.

Associated Press

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - NASA said it would try to bring Columbia back to Earth on Friday without delay after a computer circuit involving the space shuttle's wing flaps, rudder and brakes failed.

The shuttle has three identical backup circuits, and NASA said the seven astronauts were in no danger. But under the space agency's rules, the loss of even one of the circuits dictates a return to Earth as soon as possible.

Even before Thursday's problem, Columbia was scheduled to return Friday. But NASA had been prepared to let the shuttle stay in orbit a day or two longer if the weather at Cape Canaveral was bad. After the circuit problem came up, NASA dispatched a team of about 75 people to the shuttle's occasional backup landing site, at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., in case the weather is better there.

"What we want to do is make sure we're doing the smart things," NASA flight director Rich Jackson said. "So we keep our options open by not only scrambling the A-team out there but continuing to observe the weather on both coasts."

The 15-day mission has already had its share of disappointments for the crew, including the loss of its satellite-on-a-cord, which broke loose and floated off into space while being used to generate elec-

The circuit problem was discovered when Columbia's crew was making the usual day-before-landing check of the flight-control systems. One of four socalled command paths that relay data from these systems to the computer did not

This channel, like the others, controls the wing flaps, rudder, speed brake - all crucial for landing.

NASA always demands backup equipment for all essential systems, but a failure in one component raises the possibility that others could go, too.

Jackson said, to his knowledge, this particular problem was unprecedented.

During Columbia's Feb. 22 liftoff, hot rocket gas singed two O-rings in the booster rockets, a concern to engineers but no threat to the crew. And an on-board gauge and caution light indicated one of the three main engines wasn't working right at liftoff. It turned out to be a false alarm.

Three days later, as the crew was unreeling an Italian satellite on 12 miles of electrical cable, the American-made cord broke without warning, reducing a $400 million-plus experiment to space junk.

News Digest :

Resident disobeys ban, starts grass fire

Cooler temperatures and north winds are being credited for the lack of damage from a grass fire east of Manhattan Thursday.

A grass fire that started with a juvenile resident burning trash, burned about an acre at 7030 Anderson Ave., said Doug Messer, assistant fire chief for Manhattan and Riley County Rural Fire Department. But the situation could have been worse a week ago with drier, warmer conditions, Messer said.

"A week ago, we wouldn't have gotten this fire," Messer said.

The fire comes while a burn ban is still in effect. Officer Sam Thompson, south county officer for the Riley County Police Department, said he did not know if anyone would be cited for the Thursday's fire emphasized the need for obeying the bum ban, according to Messer.

"What I want to make sure everybody knows is it's as dry as can be out there," Messer said. Household trash should not be burned, while county residents should notify their fire department prior to starting fires, Thompson

"I think we need to reiterate you can not burn household trash, number one," Thompson said. "Number two, if you intend to start a fire, you have to notify the fire

Trevor Grimm

Group calls for prosecution of Castro's government

Associated Press

UNITED NATIONS - The Cuban exile group Brothers to the Rescue called Thursday for the United Nations to establish an international tribunal to prosecute Fidel Castro's government for rights violations in Cuba.

Jose Basulto, the leader of the group whose planes were shot down last month by Cuban military planes, said he was contacting unspecified governments and non-governmental organizations to support his request.

He accused Castro of using weapons of mass destruction on his own people.

Basulto appeared before reporters along with relatives of Armando Alejandro and Mario de la Pena, two of the four people who died when their planes were shot down Feb. 24.

The United States says the planes were shot down over international Cuba claims the planes violated its attack.

Basulto said the Castro government shot down the planes to send a message to the Cuban people that it could kill Americans with impunity and what more could I do to you.

Basulto, whose plane returned safely to Florida on Feb. 24, insisted the aircraft remained over international waters, though the United States concedes his plane did penetrate Cuban airspace before the

Asked whether Brothers would fly more missions in the area, he replied: "Yes. We do so because its our right to be in international waters. It's free airspace and necessary" to do so.

He said the group's next mission would be to fly humanitarian supplies to Cuban refugees in the Bahamas this weekend.

He refused to say when they might return to the Florida Straits, where the Feb. 24 attack took place.

2 planes sink after collision over ocean

FLAGLER BEACH, Fla. (AP) - Two small planes collided in a fireball and crashed into the sea about a mile offshore Thursday. The body of one man was found, and as many as five others were "Both planes sunk," said Coast Guard Lt. George Eldredge. "There was some debris in the water, but there's nothing there now.

Five helicopters, a Navy airplane and several boats scoured the area for hours after the 1 p.m. crash. The search was suspended until Friday morning due to the high waves, tornado watches and winds of 45 to 60 knots.

One of the aircraft was a single-engine Piper Cherokee carrying four people. The other may have been an ultralight plane or a small plane carrying one or two people that left the Daytona Beach Jet Center and was unaccounted

There was large smoke then a puff of fire, then it went right down," John Calender, who was fishing off a pier, told Orlando television station WCPX-TV. "It looked a ball of flames."

HAIR HIGHLIGHTS & COLORS $10 OFF HAIR REMOVAL $2 OFF

539-7621 613 N. Manhattan Ave.

10 TANS $20 NAIL PACKET SPECIAL

• FULL SET WITH 2 FILLS $40 • 3 FILLS FOR $30

offer ends 3-31-96

It is time for groups to submit applications for funding of events or projects for which you would like assistance from the Fine

Arts Council. As you may or may not know, the Fine Arts Council was created by the Student Senate to establish more fine arts programming on campus. This money is generated from the Fine Arts privilege fee students pay each semester. A reserves account is created that assists in the programming efforts of student groups promoting fine-arts related programming.

The forms that need to be filled out are available at the OSAS Office. THE DEADLINE FOR

APPLICATION IS ON OR BEFORE THURSDAY,

MARCH 21, 1996 AT NOON (12 p.m.).

For more information, please call or go to the Office of Student Activities and Services.

K-State Union, Ground Floor • (913) 532-6541

Your image is our reputation.

rts Summer & Fall Allocations Requests

RELIGION DIRECTORY

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH 8:30 & 11 a.m. Worship

9:45 a.m. Church School including University and Young adult classes Nursery provided for all services Omer G. Tittle, Pastor 776-8821 612 Poyntz DIAL-A-PRAYER 776-9569

WESTVIEW COMMUNITY CHURCH

Morning Worship 8:30 & 10:45 a.m. Sunday School 9:45 a.m.

Sunday Evening Worship 6 p.m.

1st Sunday CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 2, 3, 4 Sunday 6 p.m.

3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

* Grace Baptist Church 2901 Dickens (2 biks. E. of Seth Child)

·Sunday· 'Two Unique Worship' 8:15 • 10:45 Bible Classes (ALL AGES) 9:30 A.M.

Body Life or Care Cells 6 P.M. 776-0424 776-0424

LIVING WATER RANCH CHURCH

SUNDAY Service 10:30 a.m. School of Bible 9:30 a.m. 7 p.m. KOINONIA Fellowship Broadcast 9:05 a.m. Angel 95 (95.3 FM) WEDNESDAY Service 7:30 p.m. STERLING HUDGINS-PASTOR cated 12 miles north of Tuttle Creek Dar turn off Hwy. 13 at the sign. 4150 LIVING WATER DR. OLSBURG, KS 66520

(913) 468-3615

Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. For free transportation within chity limits, call the church.

Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8691

An American Baptist Congregration

ST. LUKE'S LUTHERAN CHURCH (LCMS)

Campus Pastor James Gau

6 p.m. Saturday Evening Service 7:45-8:45 a.m. Early Service 9-9:45 a.m. Sunday School 10-11 a.m. Contemporary Service 11:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m. Late Service (8:45-11:15 a.m. Fellowship)

330 N. Sunset Ave.

CRESTVIEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH English Worship 10:30 a.m. & 6:30 p.m.

Sunday School 9:15 a.m. Chinese Worship 10:30 a.m. 4761 Tuttle Creek Blvd. (3 miles north of Kimball Ave.) 776-3798

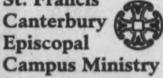

First Congregational Church 700 Poyntz (Poyntz and Juliette) 537-7006

Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m. Sermon:

"The Woman Wants Water" Sunday, March 10 Rev. Donald Longbottom

St. Francis

Eucharist & Guitar in Danforth Chapel Every Sunday at 5 p.m. Rev. Cathy Chittenden-Bascom 532-9099

FIRST LUTHERAN 10th Poyntz 537-8532 Worship at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m.

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center

Sun. 9:30, 11 a.m., & 5 p.m. Confessions: Sat. 4 p.m. 711 Denison 539-7496

Chaplain: Father Brad Sterrett Manhattan Mennonite

Church Sunday School 9:30 a.m., Worship 10:45 a.m. Eldon Epp, Pastor 10th and Fremont Child Care Available at Luther House 1745 Anderson Sunday Worship 7:15 p.m. in the Danforth Chapel "Now the Feast and Celebration"

Pastor Jayne Thompson 539-4451 Open to All

Come and Seek with us.

First Presbyterian Church Worship 10:30 a.m. 8th & Leavenworth 537-0518

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE Hours

p.m.

Mon.-Fri. 8-5

Except holidays)

military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Oging patio set. Excellent condition, Homecrest Brand. $200. Paid $459 new. 539-8859.

TIME MACHINE Antique

Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Man-hattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

FOR SALE Albino Burmese Python, Borneo Blood Python, pair of Amazon Tree Boas. Call

Grooming, reasonable prices. Call 537-7905.

Antiques

450 I

Pets and Supplies

Tree 537-6871.

PROFESSIONAL

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats,

Classifieds

CANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

BEADLINES

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI instructor, at Creative Travel, 539-0531, class-

ADVANCED FLIGHT TRAINING. 6000-hour flight instructor special izing in multi-engine and other advanced rat-ings. Very competitive rates. Hugh Irvin, rates. F 539-3128.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Troy Brockway 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

MARY KAY inventory re-duction sale. Call after 5. 776–6052.

Lost and Found

020

Found ads can be placed free for three

IF YOU have lost an item at Derby Dining Center in the last school year, please stop by Derby 129 to identify and er, black & white, KSU collar 7th and Humboldt, Sunday. Call 537-7905.

Personals

We require a form of picture ID (KSO, driv-er's license or other) when placing a per-

HAPPY 19TH BIRTH-Have a great day to-morrow. Sorry I can't be here. Love, Carrie.

Parties-n-More

ADD A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental

OPERATION PURPLE Wave Hgt Tub Bus Rental, 18-20 person tub ca-pacity. New tubs and equipment. 587-0990.

Manhettan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 587-2440.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

A VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apartments. Close to campus. Call Moore Management. One-bedroom $320, two-bedroom with fireplace $510, two-bedroom with one and one-half bath $510, two-bedroom $400. Summer subleases available, no pets. Water, trash paid. June and August lease available. Call 537-7542 9a.m.— 6p.m. or 537-4567 after 7p.m. unfurnished apart-

AUGUST LEASE: Next to GUST LEASE: Next to campus- Eastside unfurnished two-bedroom with fireplace and laundry. Westside furnished one/ two-bedroom. Both locations have balcony, central air/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen, and off-street parking. 539-2702 leave message or call evenings. ge or call evenings.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one two, three and four-bedroom apartments for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU. Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichols Hall. Deluxe two-bed-room apartment. $490-$500. Also one-bedroom apartment for August $320. 539-2482 after 4p.m.

NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. ets. 537-8389.

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Claffin next to campus $325 plus de-posit plus electric. Au-gust year lease. No pets, 537-1180.

QUIET LARGE furnished two-bedroom in a brick six-plex with washer dryer, dishwasher, paid water and trash. One block from college. Available June or Au-gust 1, 537–7087.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo-sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428.

For Rent-Unfurnished

> CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS Corner of College and

Claflin, Manhattan 1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments

Deck/Patios for each unit On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry Covered Parking * 2 BR - $550 & $570

3 BR - $720 & $735 Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases

For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday.

9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday Noon to 3 p.m. 10 K Apartments. Spacious, two-bedroom quality apartments in complex two new complex two blocks east of campus, large, L-shaped kitchen, dishwasher, air condi-tioner, sound proofed, well insulated, low utilties, laundry, quiet street, no pets. June through May lease $480. 539-2536.

AVAILABLE AUGUSTI nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to campus, no pets, 539-2551.

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATEbedroom apartment for

AVAILABLE JUNE 1- one-

CAMBRIDGE SQUARE

campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, garbage disposal, laun-dry hopkups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744.

LEASING FOR Summe and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, gar-bage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744

NICE, ONE-BEDROOM, Pri vate entrance and off-street parking. Walk to campus. Available June 1. $275 per month. Open House Thursday March 14, 6- 8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr.

NICE, QUIET, one and twobedroom apartments. 909 Moro. Gas, water, trash paid. Off-street parking. No pets and no smoking. $300 and $400. Available June 1. 537-9306.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now, two blocks from campus. Water and trash paid $355 o $375 with pet, 565-0759.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE immediately, near Aggieville. 1124 Fremont, $395. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM NEAR

KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM WITH study available now 1212 Thurston, $400

Near KSU campus. Wa ter, trash paid. Call 776-3804. PARK PLACE APART MENTS leasing one two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 539-2951.

PRELEASING: TWO-BED-ROOM, one block from campus. Available June 1. Water and trash paid. $495/ month.

TWO- THREE- four-bedroom near campus, one and one-half bath. Cen-tral air, laundry, dish-washer. 537-1746.

539-1897.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT $490/ month Available now- July Call 539-9524.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now, 1026 Osage, $475, now through May 31. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now through May 31, 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221

TWO-BEDROOM, SPA-CIOUS, one block from $490.

WALK ACROSS to Ag-gieville and campus. Spacious one and twobedroom apartments available now and Au-gust. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with wash-er, dryer, central air, some with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

bedroom house, two baths central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher, garden, 824 Laramie. 539-3672

•2 bedrooms

•1/2 block from campus

Furnished and unfurnished

Make Anderson Place Your

Home Away From Home!

Now leasing for 1996-97

Showings every

Monday through Friday

2-4 p.m.

1852 Anderson Place #16

776-1222

AVAILABLE JUNE 1 five

For Rent-Houses

Large 2-bedroom units

now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

bedroom near campus. Washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. $375. Call 776-5981. Ask for Tasha or Travis.

two-bedroom apart-ment, fireplace, wash-ing facilities, for rent or sublease immediately. 776-2180.

COTTAGE, ONE-BED-ROOM, near City Park, available immediately, 539-7277.

FOR SUMMER and fall, two beautiful apart-ments at North Park Apartments. 1200 Fre-mont Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher. $450, 537-0428.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Avail-able immediately. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

LEASING FOR Fell. Twobedroom, two beth du-plex, one block from room in three-bed-

FOR RENT or sale, two-bedroom house in Keats. Huge yard, out-door pets ONLY. Con-tact Dick Walsh at Blan-ton Reality. 776-8506. LUXURY TWO-BEDROOM,

one and one-half bath townhome in scenic Briercliff Addition. Pool, tennis courts and clubhouse. $600. Available June 1. 776–8363. NEWLY REMODELED spacious three-bedroom duplex. Washer/ dryer, off-street parking, Walk out patio. $675. Call 776-3191. NICE TWO-BEDROOM duplex. All appliances, ga-rage. Please, no smok-ing, no pets. Five month or one year lease. Located 2304 Wil-low Lane, Manhattan. Call (913)456-7185.

NICE, THREE-BEDROOM, newly remodeled, fire-place, yard, walk to campus, off-street parking. Available June 1 $800 per month. Open House, March 14, 6-8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

Roommate Wanted

FEMALE ROOMMATE for a two-bedroom base-ment apartment. No pets. $220 utilities paid except phone. Close to campus. Please call 587-0847 if interested.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE roommate wanted to share two-bedroom apartment for fall. Call Shelley 587-1830. Leave message.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE to rent one of two-bed-room apartment. $245/ month. Now- July. Call 539-9524.

Sublease | Sublease

AVAILABILITY IMME-DIATELY, first month rent free, non-smoking female to share three-bedroom, one and one-half bath, very nice. Low one-third utilities. Parking. (316)733-4092. Call Lisa as soon as pos-sible. Leave message. sible. Leave message.

IMME-DIATELY, first floor: Large living room and kitchen; second floor: two-bedrooms. and one-half bath. Near campus, $350 negoti-able. Call Kesheng, 532-6700, Liang 776-6039 (evenings).

FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM townhouse, two and one-half bath, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, starts June 1, 587-8622. MAY 20- July 31. Share two-bedroom apart-ment $180/ month. three blocks east cam-pus. 776-9559. SUBLEASE JUNE 1 to July 31. One-bedroom apart-ment. $250. Call Laurie leave message, 587-0912. SUBLEASE ONE or twobedroom of our three-bedroom house. June-July. Female, non-smoker, no pets. Rent $197.50 plus utilities, share. Call 776-8004.

SUBLEASE- ONE-BED-ROOM in spacious three-bedroom duplex with one roommate. Washer/ dryer- lots of privacy, $225. Call 776-3191.

SUMMER SUBLEASE. Two-bedroom, one and one-half bath. Close to campus and Aggieville. 539-9110.

SUMMER SUBLEASE: Non-smoking female want-ed to sublease one

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

room, two bath apart ment. Across from cam pus plus walking dis tance to Aggieville. Laundry facilities and off-street parking pro-vided. Rent $265/ month, negotiable. Co tact Misty at 587-0917

June 1, negotiable. Water, trash paid. Near campus and Aggieville 776-9432.

to campus. Fireplace Water and trash paid Quiet area. 537–1437.

SERVICE DIRECTORY

Resume/ Typing

> PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

TYPING DONE in my home. Reasonable rates. Call Diana, 587-0411.

Other

Services

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opevery person equal op-portunity in securing and holding employ-ment in any field of work or labor for which he/ she is properly quali-fied regardless of race, sex, military status, dis-ability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Trave! (Car-ibbean, Europe, Ha-waii!) Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. Gde. (919)929-4398 ext.

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

DESERVE

Great location

Private bedroom

Laundry facilities

Onsite office

2 pools

Large bath & closets

Dishwasher/disposal

NOW LEASING

For

June & August

Call

776-1148

OPEN HOUSES DAILY

THE BEST

2 bedroom apartments

YOU

ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT- Students needed! Fishing indus-try. Earn up to $3000-$6000 plus per month. Room and board! Transportation! Male or female. No experi ence necessary. Call (206)971-3510 ext.A57684. THREE-BEDROOM TWO full bath, AC. Sublease PLOYMENT. Fisher ies, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000– $6000 plus/ month! Air-fare! Room/ Board! Free video with pro-gram! Call SEI TWO-BEDROOM. CLOSE

> BABY SITTER needed for occasional evenings for two boys ages 5 and 9. Call 776-4544 and leave

gram! Call SE (919)932-1489, ext. A85

CRUISE SHIPS HIRING Travel the world while earning an excellent income in the Cruise Ship and Land-Tour In-dustry. Seasonal and full-time employment available. No experi ence necessary. For formation call (206)971-3550 ext.C57685

CUSTOM HARVEST crew members needed. Com-bine, Truck and Silage Truck operators for summer and fall har-vest. Excellent wages including room and board, monthly salary and bonus. Call even-ings (913)877-2081, ask for Randy, Clydesdale Harvesting and Truck

FAST FUNDRAISER Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated indi-viduals. Fast, easyno financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982 FREE FINANCIAL AID!

Over $6 billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All students are eligible re gardless of grades, in come, or parent's in-come. Let us help, Call Student Financial Serv ices: (800)263-6495 ext F57685. NEED HELP! If you speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Rus-sian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Susan. Unlimited Income 539-7336. mental alertness ergy, mer 539-7336. INSTITUTE FACILITA TORS NEEDED: Wonder Workshop Child SUMMER ren's Museum seeks en ergetic and creative in-dividuals with strong background in any o the following: archi-tecture, physics, chemistry, engineering, art ceramics, and theatre to facilitate a morning program for youth (grades 1-8) June 10-

July 3. Hours/ salary ne-gotiable. Applications may be picked up at Wonder Workshop Children's Museum 409 LOSE WEIGHT NOW Needed 27 people to lose weight. All natural Dr. recommended. 587-1037.

MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or ass-ist. Openings in: Base-ball, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top salaries, excellent facilities room/ baord/ laundry travel allowance. Cal or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR SUMMER AT CAMP TACONIC. Prestigious coed camp in beautiful Massachusophomores, juniors,

SOUTH OF THE UNION

seniors and grads who love working with kids to be general counselors and instructors selors and instructors in: Swimming, Sailing, Windsurfing, Skiing, Athletics, Ropes Course, Rollerblading, Horseback Riding, Archery, Gymnastics, Aerobics, Golf, Arts and Crafts, Photography, Silver, Levelcy, Drama Silver Jewelry, Drama, Music, Piano Accom-paniment, Cooking, Science Rocketry, Pioneering, Video and News paper Competitive sala ries. Join a dedicated team. Have a reward-

(800)762-2820. OUTSIDE SUMMER JOBS Tropical Beach/ Mountain Resorts, Na-tional Parks, Ranches, Rafting Companies! 500 plus employers na-tionwide! Call SEII (919) 932-1489, ext. R85.

PREMIERE BROTHERS-

ing and enjoyable sum-mer! Please call

Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, especially Baseball, Baseball, Roter Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities

(Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking).

Top salaries, room.

board and travel. June

18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-392-3752. STUDENT'S DREAM-Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your schedule. All natural products. Doctor recommended. Increases en-

EMPLOY. MENT: Experienced combine or truck drivers needed for custo wheat harvesting op-eration. Lancaster Har-vesting, Dodge City, Kansas. (316)227-8821. SUMMER HARVEST help wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in May. Call Mike Parker, Waterville, KS. Phone; (800)653-8235.

SUMMER SEASONAL STREET LABORER POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill SIX Summer Sea sonal full-time Street Seasonal Laborer posi-Seasonal Laborer posi-tions. Persons are re-sponsible for various street maintenance in-cluding asphalt and concrete. Must be will-ing to work in dis-agreeable weather. Driver's license is re-quired. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks (May 15th-August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications $5/ hour. Application: will be taken until posi-tions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Of Human Resources Of Fice, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS. EOE-M/F/D

SUMMER SEASONAL TRAFFIC LABORER POSITIONS. The City of Manhattan is seeking to fill FOUR Summer Seasonal full-time Traf-fic Seasonal Laborer positions. Persons are responsible for painting of traffic lines, cross-walks, etc., on city streets and curbs. Use streets and curbs. Use hand tools including brooms, brushes and roller brushes, and need to carry five gallon paint buckets. Must be willing to work in disagreeable weather. Driver's license is required. 40 hours/ week for 14 weeks May 15th-August 15th). Salary: $5/ hour. Applications August 15th), Salary: $5/ hour. Applications will be taken until posi-tions are filled. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Of-fice, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS EOE-M/F/D.

FOE-M/F/D.

THE SUNSET ZOO is seeking to fill several part-time/ seasonal positions. Seeking friendly, outgoing and motivated self-starters. Positions available are in the guest services area of the zoo which included the Watering Hole Concession Stand. Applicants should be at least 16 years of age. Applicants must be able to work weekends, some evenings and holidays. Applications will be taken until all positions are filled. positions are filled. Prior concessions and cash register experi-ence helpful. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Of-fice, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS. EOE-M/F/D. THE WICHITA Business

Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong den, KS. SAVINGS AT 40- 70% off desire to be #1. If you are proud of your ac-complishments and want to join an excel-lent team of profes-sionals fax your resume to: Advertising Direc-tor, fax (316)267-8570. weekly listing of mis-cellaneous items. 415 Furniture to TROPICAL RESORTS Hiring. Entry-level and ca-reer positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, house-keepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness coun-Buy/Sell FOR SALE: Five piece dinselors, and more. Ex-cellent benefits + bo-nuses. Call Resort Em-430 ployment Services 1 206-971-3600

WANTED PART-TIME help now and or full-time for summer with crops and machine work. Need experience with planters and tillage equipment. (913)457-3440. WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience around farm machinery or trucks preferred Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776–1321 ask for Ryan or (913)582–5359. WHEAT HARVEST help wanted for summer. Case-IH equipment die-sel trucks from Texas to Montana. $1500/ month. Maddey Har-vesting. Norton, KS (913)877-5577.

Business Sporting Opportunities Equipment

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertise-ments in the Employ-BEST PRICES on Clarion car audio. Shippable on credit card orders. Inment/Career classifica-tion. Readers are ad-vised to approach any such business opporstallation available by appointment. Sound in-vestments. Seneca, KS (913)336–3880. tunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Busi-LANGE TII ski boots for sale. Size 9 1/2, like new. Best offer. 539-4959 ask for Dallas.

ness Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454. EXPANDING BUSINESS in Greece looking for associate who is bilingual. Call (913)353–2530.

For information, bid sheets and/ or to view sale items, contact Dave Trumble, Justin Hall 146B, KSU (532-5508) or (e-mail TRUMBLE@HU-MEC.KSU.EDU).

VERNMENT SURPLUS-New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Woo! (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT work-wear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9-5t. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS-

Items for Sale

1982 OLDSMOBILE station wagon, nine passenger. good family car in good condition $1000. 537-3920.

1983 PLYMOUTH Reliant, 92K, great school car. Asking $900 or best off-er. Call 532-6492 or 776-2073 after 6p.m. FOR SALE by Sealed Bid: Nine- Herman Miller Dining Tables; 40- Her-man Miller Chairs; one-Carver Press with 12 1984 HONDA CRX five-speed, 91K, AM/FM, cassette, air condi-tioning, $1050 or best offer. 537-2144. Carver Press with 12 ton Jack; one weigh scale with Mahogany Case; one Westinghouse Electric range (pink- in good condition); two Fisher Scientific Analytical Balances; Wheaton Portable Autostill: Beckman

TRANS-

510

PORTATION

Automobiles

1985 F-150 4X4, air conditioned, four-speed, extra sharp $5700, 587-0562. Ask for Heath. es; Wheaton Portable
Autostill; Beckman 110A Liquid Chromatograph Solvent Delivery System with Beckman 210 Injector valve; one-Hitachi UV/VIS Dectector; one-Gilford Spectrophotometer; Zenith Z181 Laptop Computer; one-HP Color Plotter, Bids will close at 5p.m. April 1, 1996.
For information, bid sheets and/ or to view 1987 MONTE Carlo SS below average miles. 539-8307. WANTED: 1984 through 1987 Chevrolet Caprice. High mileage ok. Even-ings 776–3624.

Bicycles

530

1995 SCHWINN Moab S mountain bike, 19-inch, squash yellow with front suspension, $425 or best offer, 537–1359.

Motorcycles

1993 YAMAHA FZR 6000 miles. Great condition $3900, 537-7383. Leave

 You're a closet golf ball collector.

At least it appears that way from all of your unused sports equipment piling up in there. Get rid of it fast. Advertise in the Kansas State Collegian Classifieds. Only $8.85 for up to 20 words. So clean your closet and make some money doing it.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie

532-6555

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

years ago, K-State Salina has done an excellent job of continuing to update and modernize the campus," Ryan Evans, senate intern, said.

Senators seemed surprised by the improvements on the campus

'The resources available at K-State-Salina provide students with a modern, convenient campus. The improvements in the facilities give students a chance to keep up with the ever-changing world of technology," Gip Githens, education senator, said. Planning for the meeting started in

The food was provided by the College of Technology College Council, Matt Wagner, Salina senator,

"I thought the hospitality that Salina showed was great," Bret Glendening, Senate secretary, said.

During second readings, senators amended by-laws regarding proxy vot-

No proxy voting is allowed in standing committees, and the bill clarified the issue.

Two bills were introduced during first readings to replace the vetoed health fee.

A referendum concerning the student health fee was also proposed that would be placed on the student government election ballot April 9-10.

THIS SPACE IS RESERVED (for you!)

Collegian Advertising 532-6560

MAKE ROOM FOR SOMETHING OUTRAGEOUS.

WORK OR STUDY ABROAD Scholarships Available Submit applications for work and/or study abroad this summer and next academic year.

KSU EXCHANGE PROGRAM SITES AVAILABLE IN: (English) UK, Czech Republic, Finland, Korea,

Netherlands, Sweden, Greece (French) France, Togo (German) Germany, Austria

(Italian) Italy (Spanish) Colombia, Mexico, Dominican Republic

WORK AND VOLUNTEER PROGRAMS Europe, Africa, Asia, Latin America, Pacific and North America

Contact: Barry Michie, Director of Study Abroad, Office of Int'l Programs, 304 Fairchild Hall, KSU. Come by or call 532-5990.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

dealt with, such as efficiency of operations, that's what it's about," he said. Robertson said many factors affect the amount of admissions into a jail. He said a change in judges can drastically change how many people end up staying in jail. City commissioner Steve Hall said decisions need to be made about the cost of a law enforcement center. "We've got this community at a point of tax saturation. There comes a point where there are things you would like to have and things you need," Hall said.

City manager Gary Greer raised the possibility of looking into privatizing the construction and operations of a jail.

"I've heard a lot of things about the privatization of jails and how it could save taxpayers money," he said.

County commissioner Jim Williams said there is an option available to use sales-tax revenue to fund the construction.

He said by using sales tax dollars over a period of time, the community's transient members, who are a

Under the current fee system, stu-

Linear tuition establishes a rela-

"A linear tuition enhances the abildents pay the same whether they take tionship between the number of hours students are enrolled in and the ity to offer sections on a self-support-large percent of the population incarcerated, would help pay for the con-

Frey asked city commissioner Justin Kastner, who is a student at K-State, if he had heard any feelings from students concerning the proposed facility.

"Students in town pay sales and property tax," Kastner said.

"The issues are going to be the same as for any other citizens of Manhattan," he said. The original jail in Manhattan was built in 1868

The current law enforcement center is at 600 Colorado St.

Under the linear model, students enrolled in six credit hours pay for six credit hours, and students enrolled in 12 credit hours pay for 12 credit covers student demand for classes in ways that we have not been able to up

"The big improvement is that this ing basis," Foster said.

to now," Foster said.

Varsity Theatre shows TODAY at 9:30 p.m. ART PRICE POLICY Adults & Students......$4 Children, Seniors, Mat. before 6 p.m. $3 Bombers

12TH MORO

PET HEALTH ALERT Heartworm Season Begins in March Have Your Dog Tested!! Kansas State University Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital Saturday, March 16 & March 23 Tones 18 do 30 a.m. each day Call Now for an apppointment 532-5690 Dogs must be 5 1/2 months old to be tested. WE CARE only needs 15, Foster said.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

UITION

not receive a refund, Foster said. This might eliminate an old concept of taking 21 hours when a student

"Students will think more carefully about what they are enrolling in,

OMEN

she said.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

This series of workshops are only for women, but men are welcome to

The reason why these workshops are provided for women only is because it is co-sponsored with the apply to the University Counseling Services for workshops designed for six hours or 12 hours.

amount of tuition taken in.

Foster said.

WRC, Lambert said. Sometimes the fears, doubts and concerns women have about a relationship really get focused on their doubts and fears about themselves,

These workshops provide women with a chance to talk about some of the issues that are most pertinent to them and help them develop some good skills, Lambert said.

If anyone is interested in one of the sessions, contact the WRC to register to acquire further information. "We are not expecting people to go to all three necessarily," Lambert

"People can choose which ones they want to attend, and there isn't any charge for it."

PLACE CALL

APARTMENTS & HOUSES

Professionally Managed

OFFERING

·furnished & unfurnished apts. *close to campus

1,2,3 & 4 Bedrooms MANAGEMENT THAT CARES

776-1340 225 McCall ABBOTT

B&L Apartment Management 1228 Westloop Ste. #247 (913) 587-9372

2 Bdrm 3/4 Bath Apartment 1026 Bluemont #6 NO PETS, 1 year lease $360/month

3 Bdrm 1 3/4 Bath Townhouse 2539 Brockman St. All appliances plus Washer & Dryer Pets allowed, Pet deposit $250 1 year lease, $700/month

3 Bdrm 1 3/4 Bath Townhouse 2535 Brockman St. All appliances plus Washer/Dryer hook-ups NO PETS, 1 year lease $700/month

NEW! 4 Bdrm 2 1/2 Bath Townhouse 420 & 422 Butterfield Rd. All appliances plus Washer/Dryer hook-ups NO PETS, 1 year lease

2 Bdrm 1 Bath Duplex 400 S. 11th All appliances plus Washer/Dryer hook-ups NO PETS, 1 year lease $375/month

Because today is mystery meat day.

It's everywhere you want to be:

Move Up To The Ultimate Living Experience In Manhattan.

2-BEDROOM APARTMENTS

> Close to KSU

> Park-like setting

> Sparkling swimming pools > Garages available

> All appliances > On-site staff

> Planned activities

> Large closets

OPEN HOUSES DAILY Call today 776-1148

THE CURTIN COMPANY

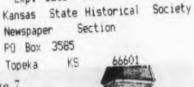

Today: Partly cloudy. See weather map, page 2.

inside

OPINION .

SPORTS . P DIVERSIONS • page 7

Exp. Date 00/00

March 11, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 111

LANDON LECTURE General Wojciech Jaruzelski, Former President of Poland, will deliver the Landon

> Lecture at 10:30 a.m today in McCain Auditorium.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Grass fires Sunday burned parts of K-State's beef research pastures and more than 100 acres of private property. See coverage, page 8 and page 10.

DOCUMENTARY LECTURE

Film star to tell K-Staters how to fulfill goals

Brent Smitko

staff reporte

"Hoop Dreams" star William Gates will speak at 7 tonight in Forum Hall on his involvement in the acclaimed documentary film.

The Union Program Council Multicultural Committee will sponsor the lecture, which will discuss the hopes and fears, successes and failures of aspiring champions, said Karriema Parris, student coordinator for the Multicultural Committee.

The film is the remarkable true story of two contemporary inner-city African American high school students, William Gates and Arthur Agee. Gates will take guests on a trip through the lives of young people pursuing a dream to play in the NBA.

He will recap his own gripping story of being a clean-cut 14-year-old who reaches local stardom and eventually national recognition after agreeing to participate in the award-winning documentary "Hoop Dreams."

Gates has commuted nearly 2-1/2 hours a day and struggled with financial hardships just to pursue his dream. Being a young father and dealing with feelings of isolation off the court also affect

From the inner city to the all-white prep school to which Gates is recruited, the film covers five

POWER CAT LOGO

Logo raises money for KSU programs

QUICKread

The Power Cat logo serves to fund scholarships for incoming freshmen and to fund leadership programs when it appears on K-State merchandise.

The Power Cat logo has personal meanings to different Wildcat fans.

For some K-State enthusiasts, the logo might bring to mind a victorious football team. For others, it might be a memorial place on campus. But the K-State logo also means scholarship Money for the logo scholarship is raised through selling items containing the K-State logo and is used to fund the University's leadership programs.

Larry Moeder, director of student financial assistance, said the scholarship is offered to incoming freshmen.

"The applicants are students with strong leadership qualities in their high school, community and church," Moeder said. "The money can go to any University scholarship commitment, so students in all curriculums have a chance at the money.'

This year the logo scholarship was directed toward the leadership program, but Moeder said the money doesn't always have to go toward leadership

Moeder said a variety of individuals involved in the scholarship programs decide where the funding will be directed year to year.

The group investigates the financial needs of various programs and which ones need funding that particular year. Then the money is distributed to the appropriate programs.

'Applicants must be in the top one-third of their high school graduating class, have an ACT compos-

• See FINANCES Page 10

FINANCIAL AID

Shutdowns create delays for receiving financial aid

Nikki Prentice

The U.S. Department of Education is weeks behind in processing federal student financial aid applications for more than 900,000 students who applied for aid for the 1996-97 school

The processing backup is a result of the recent government shutdowns and problems with new data-entry technologies, Elizabeth Hicks, Department of Education spokesperson, said in the March 4 issue of USA

"Currently at K-State we have received back 329 applications for next year," Larry Moeder, director of student financial assistance, said. "We should have at least 2,400 applications by this time."

The backup is causing problems for other four-year schools as well.

The government delay is slowing down the delivery of financial aid applications to the Office of Student Financial Assistance. As a result, students are forced to wait for a response letter identifying what loans are available to them for next year.

Education Secretary Richard Riley said he will send letters to colleges suggesting ways to deal with the application backup.

He also said he suggested delaying the May I acceptance date for students to decide which school they'll attend in the fall.

Moeder said many K-State students aren't aware of the backup, and they are panicking and contacting the financial aid office, asking why they haven't received a response.

Students may not receive a response until the end of April.

"The applications will come through. Just be patient," Moeder said. "It's just a matter of time."

Hicks said the financial-aid contractors are working around the clock to get the application process back on predicted to go nowhere. k-state is now on its way to the

THE GAME K-State, the No. 10 seed, will take on the No. 7-seeded New Mexico Lobos in the first round of the East Regional in Richmond, Va., on March 14.

THE SERIES

 There has been only one meeting between the Wildcats and the Lobos, a 94-52 win by K-State in Manhattan in

ROAD TO THE

NCAA TOURNAMENT K-State: entered the Big 8 Tournament needing a win against Öklahoma State, and got it, finishing 17-11 and fourth in the Big 8.

 New Mexico: had a 24-4 record entering the Western Athletic Conference Tournament and received an automatic bid by winning Saturday. The Lobos won three games in the conference tournament, beating No. 10 Utah in the finals, 64-60.

THE LOWDOWN ON THE LOBOS

 Record: 27-4, 14-4 in Western Athletic Conference

 Losses: New Mexico lost to Wyoming, Fresno State and twice to Utah, But the Lobos avenged those losses with wins against those teams later in the season.

In the NCAA Tournament: The Lobos' last appearance in the Big Dance was in 1994, a loss to Virginia, 57-54, in the first round.

 Leading scorers: Charles Smith, a 6-foot-4 guard, averages 19.6 points per game. Kenny Thomas, a 6-foot-9 center, and Clayton Shields, a 6-foot-8 forward, add 14.6 and 13.4 points per game, respectively.

DID YOU KNOW?

 New Mexico coach Dave Bliss was a two-time Big 8 Coach of the Year at Oklahoma in 1976 and 1979. He was Southwest Conference Coach of the year at Southern Methodist in 1988 and won the same honor in the Western Athletic Conference this year. He has compiled seven 20-win season in eight seasons at New Mexico.

Wildcats land No. 10 seed after a forecast for failure

BY SHANA NEWELL It all started in August. And it was supposed to be over by now.

The K-State basketball team started down a road that took it through downs, ups, and more downs.

But Sunday evening, the NCAA Tournament Selection Committee showed those downs weren't so down after all.

The season isn't over. K-State is going dancing.

"This is the culmination of an endeavor that started in August," Coach Tom Asbury said. "The bid is the fruit of that labor." With a 10th-seed in the Eastern Regional, K-State will face No. 7seeded New Mexico Friday in Richmond, Va. New Mexico enters the tourney with a 27-4 record, while K-State is 17-11. "I'm certainly pleased with the Friday-Sunday scenario," Asbury said. "The guys are excited - very, very excited.'

If the Cats should defeat the Lobos, they would face the winner of the No. 2-seeded Georgetown and the No. 15-seeded Mississippi Valley

"I'm glad we're in," Asbury said following the NCAA Tournament selection announcement. "They are certainly a quality opponent, and it is a well-coached program."

There is a connection between the teams, as the Lobos are coached by Dave Bliss, a friend of Asbury.

"Dave Bliss is a quality coach," Asbury said. "And he is a long-time friend of mine."

Bliss was named Western Athletic Coach of the Year as he led the Lobos to a 14-4 conference record. He has also coached at Oklahoma, where he was named Big 8 Coach of the Year in 1976 and 1979, and at Southern Methodist. He received Southwest

• See TOURNEY Page 10

Opinions among students vary about Wildcats in NCAA tourney

It finally came.

After hours and hours of waiting, the K-State men's basketball team found out about its postseason destiny. The Wildcats will be going to the Big Dance, and it will start in Richmond, Va., where they will take on New Mexico. The Cats headed into this weekend's Big 8 tournament knowing they would probably need at least one victory to get into the NCAA Tournament. The Cats pulled that one victory out against Oklahoma State but proceeded to lose to Kansas. "I was really skeptical about us getting into the tournament," Lyle Hays, senior in architectural engineering, said. "I thought that we would at least have to win two rounds in the Big 8 Tournament to get

K-State will head into the tournament with the 10th seed. Many students were surprised the Cats received such a high

"I was very surprised that we got the 10th seed," John Farr, senior in civil engineering, said. "After we lost to Kansas, I thought we would be looking at a 13th or 14th seed."

Others pictured the Cats to be seeded right where they were. "After beating O-State and playing Kansas tough, I predicted that we would be around No. 10," Kary Nye, senior in marketing management, said. "I don't really care what seed we are," Jason Sloan, junior in management, said.

"We are playing for the national title, and that is all it comes down to." K-State will be making its first appearance in the NCAA Tournament since 1992. In 1992, K-State traveled to Orlando, Fla., to take on Tulane. The Cats were beaten 55-53 in the first round. The first round hasn't been kind to the Cats. K-State's last three trips to the tournament have resulted in first-round losses. The last time the Cats advanced past the first round was in 1988, where they

• See STUDENTS Page 10

Coverage of the Big 8 Tournament and matchups for the conference teams that qualified for the NCAA Tournament. See Sports, page5.

I really don't care what seed we are. We are playing for the national title, and that is all it comes down to.

> JASON SLOAN JUNIOR IN MANAGEMENT

In the news

► TENSION BETWEEN CHINA, TAIWAN PROVOKES U.S. WARNINGS

WASHINGTON (AP) -Secretary of State Warren Christopher accused China of reckless provocations against Taiwan on Sunday and said U.S. warships would move closer to Taiwan in the coming days.

Christopher said the United States wanted the battle group led by the aircraft carrier Independence "in a position to be helpful if they need to be. They'll be moved somewhat closer to Taiwan in future days.'

China has sought to influence Taiwan's presidential election scheduled for later this month and discourage the pro-democracy movement on the island by staging missile tests off Taiwan's coast and announcing plans for live ammunition tests in the straits that divide Taiwan from the mainland.

China's actions have escalated military tensions between the two governments to a level not seen in more than a decade.

Both Beijing and Taipei claim to be the sole legitimate government of the Chinese, but their enmity has been tempered in recent years by increased trade and tourism across concern to us."

sible U.S. actions.

Christopher, speaking on NBC's "Meet the Press," said the actions taken by China "have been reckless, I think they've been risky, and ... smack of intimidation and coercion. So that is a situation of great

The administration has refused to say exactly how the United States might respond to a military attack or whether U.S. troops might be sent to help Taiwan defend itself. Christopher declined to outline pos-

DOLE LOOKS TO SECURE NOMINATION, FOCUS ON SENATE DUTIES

ADDISON, Texas. (AP) -Sketching an election-year policy agenda, likely GOP presidential nominee Bob Dole said he wants Congress to test President Clinton by passing health care, welfare reform and balanced budget mea-

But Dole said he would probably not carry a specific position on tax reform into the fall campaign.

In an interview with the Associated Press. Dole said he was eager to secure a mathematical lock

WASHINGTON (AP)

Call it academic class warfare: Graduate students across the country,

tired of growing teaching duties and diminishing rewards, are turning to labor unions for support.

ing assistants said they want more job security,

tually, higher wages.

Administrators counter that they are students

Only a handful of mostly dating from organizing efforts of the early 1970s. But labor officials say the recent recognition and apprentices, not such unions exist -

Tuesday:

employees.

better benefits and, even-

The graduate teach-

GTAS TURN TO UNIONIZATION

of a union at the University of Kansas and campaigns underway in California and Illinois are

And, students who understand how to organize in the age of e-mail

next generation of grass-

The trend in higher professors to spend more education has been for time on research and less on classroom instruction.

more teaching.

are being seen as the roots labor leaders.

signs of a new trend.

on the Republican nomination so he could turn more attention to his duties as Senate majority leader and use that post to draw leadership and policy contrasts with President

"I think this will be a campaign about credibility in the sense that things he promised in 1992 haven't materialized," Dole said. "In contrast we will make the case of providing decisive, strong leadership.

"Beyond that I think we will have very clear contrasts of big government vs. downsizing government. And I welcome a focus on Bob Dole, the person, and Bill Clinton. the person, and what they bring to Dole said he will not turn attention to selecting a running mate or trying to shape the GOP platform until he has the 996 delegates to clinch the nomination.

He could reach that mark as early as March 26 in the California

SINGAPORE PLANS WEB RULES

SINGAPORE (AP) -Felix Ng surfs the Internet to pick up stock tips. He doesn't arque politics or look for pictures of naked starlets.

That's fine with Singapore's government. It says people like him aren't the target of its new plan to censor the Net. In fact, officials said, their effort to screen out materials on sex, religion and politics won't affect most Internet activities on this island city-state.

Universities seeking But even Ng and savings hire fewer fullother Singaporeans who time professors to won't be directly affected replace retirees, and are unhappy at the loss graduate assistants do of what was a refuge from the thicket of rules that regulate books, movies, politics and nearly every aspect of Singaporean life.

"Singapore is very much restrictive, where people cannot talk. So the only media we can use is the Net," said Ng, who works for an electronics company. "If they want to curb it, we would have to keep everything to ourselves."

The government said its plan, announced this past week, is intended to keep out pornography and hate literature that could incite racial and religious violence in this multi-ethnic society of 3 million people.

Police reports

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

SUNDAY, MARCH 10

At 2:50 a.m., Richard Boulris was arrested for DUI and operating a

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

FRIDAY, MARCH 8

At 8:28 p.m., Michael Armstrong, 1428 Beechwood Terrace, Apt. 2, and Jason Dunavin, Goodnow 323, were involved in a major-damage, injury accident. Both parties received bumps to their heads and refused

SATURDAY, MARCH 9

At 1:23 a.m., Heather M. Smith, 410 9th Ave., Independence, lowa, was arrested for unlawful use of a driver's license. Bond was set at $78. At 1:56 a.m., Jason M. Boor, 1521 Oxford Place, Apt. 23, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $1,000. At 3:26 a.m., Dwaine L. Helman HHC 1/16 Infantry, Fort Riley, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at

At 3:21 p.m., the vehicle of SUNDAY, MARCH 10

At 1:33 a.m., a battery, theft and criminal damage to property report was filed by Darren C. Whitley, 300 Jardine Terrace, Apt. I12. Taken and recovered with damage was a 35mm Merchant St., Emporia, for minor in possession of alcohol in a drinking James C. Fain, 3060 Honeydew Lane, Ogden, caught on fire while in motion. Manhattan Fire Department

At 11:34 p.m., a notice to appear was issued to Jarrett D. Welch, 1112 treatment. A report was filed.

age report was filed. At 7:25 p.m., Cara L. Shepard, 821 Osage St., Apt. 6, was arrested for theft and obstruction of the legal process. Taken were two boxes of ssin from Food-4-Less. Loss was $9. A theft report was filed. Bond was set at $300.

was called to respond. A minor dam-camera with flash attachments. Loss

At 4:36 a.m., Richard R. Boulris 237 Ridge Drive, Apt. B, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $500.

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

RE INTERNATIONAL! Voluntee to help an international student practice English. Contact Jim Center at 532-6448 ■ The Apostolic Campus Ministry will meet at 8 tonight in Union 209.

BULLETINS

Business Council will meet at 5 p.m. today in Calvin 116.

College of Human Ecology student ambassador applications are available. Applications are due in the dean's office Friday.

KSU Alkido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight at Dance Studio 301.

meet at 7:15 tonight in Union Little

B Financial Management Association will meet from 6 to 9 p.m. In the Union Konza Room. The initiation of new members. Sign-up is available in the Finance Office,

MISS YOUR PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Warm and partly cloudy with the high near 70.

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today

Windy and warmer. Partly cloudy with a high in the mid to upper 60s. South wind from 20 to 30 mph. Low around 40.

Denver

Yesterday's highs and lows

Tuesday

STATE OUTLOOK

Windy in the central and east, but warmer and partly cloudy. Highs from the middle to upper 70s in the west to the lower to middle 60s in the east. Tonight, partly cloudy with lows in the middle 30s to lower 40s. Tuesday, warm and partly cloudy with highs from 75 to 80 in the west to 65 to 70 in the east.

St. Louis .

FREE DELIVERY!!!

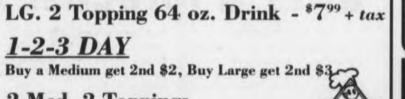

INTERNET # HTTP//:MMEDIA.COM/CLIENTS/PYRAMID

ALL YOU CAN EAT!!! $399 + tax Sunday:

Monday Mania: Buy 1 Get 1 Free (equal or Lesser Value)

Wednesday: 1-2-3 DAY

Buy Small and 2nd get for $1, Buy a Medium get 2nd $2, Buy Large get 2nd $3

Tuesday, March 12, 8 p.m.

McCain Auditorium • KSU

Gen Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9 Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. weekdays, VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets.

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts. Additional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to change without notice. Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information.

ongratulations to our Tri-Sigma sisters for achievements you have received

Becki Blankenship Melody Bartel Catie Puett Karen Killenger

Order of Omega . Kappa Delta Phi . Mortar Board Phi Upsilon Omicron

Phi Eta Sigma

Mortar Board • Alpha Zeta • Phi Eta Sigma • Golden Key

M'Cullough Development Apartment Mall Your one stop apartment shopping!

Apartments Near Campus . Now Leasing for June and August Model Showings start week of March 4

STUDIO TWO BEDROOM $490-510 ONE BEDROOM $510 $600-725 $470-720 FOUR BEDROOM

McCullough

George Burns dies at 100

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES - George Burns died quietly in his bed Saturday morning, his hundred years of seemingly inexhaustible energy having been expended.

Except for a nurse, a housekeeper and his son Ronald, Burns was alone, far from the audiences and the cronies he loved.

He was never more alive than when he was onstage, muttering sly jokes about his age and alleged attraction for young women.

Offstage he continued his role as comedian. By a simple word or gesture, he could reduce his best friend Jack Benny to falling on the floor and pounding the carpet with unstoppable laughter.

For a half-century, Burns had two places he loved. The first was his office in a film studio on Las Palmas Avenue in Hollywood, where he and Gracie had filmed their TV shows.

There he met every morning with his manager, Irving Fein, and his writers. They would discuss upcoming engagements, try out new jokes and exchange the Like Bob Hope, George understood the need for ever-fresh material, and he hired the best writers in town. He was an expert editor, honing a joke down to its bare essentials and inserting the pauses, with which only Benny was more proficient.

At lunchtime Burns drove west to Hillcrest Country Club on Pico Boulevard, near 20th Century Fox Studios. Benny considered him the funniest man at the legendary comedians' round table, the west coast version of New York's gathering of the literati at the Algonquin Hotel in the 1920s and 1930s.

Burns followed lunch with an hour or two of bridge in the game room, then went home for his nap.

Although he never allowed himself to be depressed, Burns was naturally saddened as the round table diminished with the passing of each great: Benny, Al Jolson, Groucho Marx, etc. In later years, he lunched with one or two pals and then moved on to bridge.

In 1974 Bob Thomas, Associated Press correspondent, asked Burns and Benny to reminisce about their days in vaudeville. They sat on the Hillcrest veranda overlooking the golf course, and the affection between them was palpable.

They were asked if vaudeville had been as good as people remember it.

'Sure it was," said Benny. "Every city in America had a big-time vaudeville house, and they had top performers. Of course there were small-time houses, too, and that's where people had a chance to train. All of us had a chance to be lousy in smalltime vaudeville, and gradually we learned how to be good."

"That's right," Burns agreed. "We all built our acts gradually, learning what would get laughs and what wouldn't. Gracie and I did a dance number that I would interrupt four times to tell jokes. I had one where I said, 'A funny thing happened to my mother in Cleveland.' Gracie says, 'Oh, I thought you were born in Buffalo.' We booked three days out of town, just to break in that joke."

► WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH

Millionaire talks business

Exchange

Union celebrates 40 years with a musical flashback

■ Lecturer to speak about personal success, women in business

Marci McNeal

Jessica White

The K-State Student Union's 40th

While tunes by Jerry Lee Lewis

"This is a fun social atmosphere," said John Sandlin, program adviser for Union Program Council and chairman of the 40th anniversary commit-chocolate or vanilla ice cream with chocolate sauce for 40 cents a scoop.

tables, purple and white balloons and a background covered with records and music notes, and to top it all off, a Cullison, freshman in pre-journalism and mass communications. "We went

"We love the music," said Jessica

Passers-by could buy a scoop of

The Courtyard was set up with anniversary celebration wrapped up Friday with '50s music and ice cream.

and Elvis poured out of the jukebox,

251 people bought 15 gallons of ice cream in the Union Courtyard.

staff reporter

jukebox.

staff reporter

The youngest person ever to have a seat on the stock exchange and become a millionaire by the age of 22 will lecture in celebration of Women's History Month.

Laura Pederson will speak about women in business at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Forum Hall. The lecture is sponsored by the Union Program Council's Special Events and Issues and Ideas committees. It is free to the public.

"We talked to some of the colleges that Ms. Pederson has lectured at, and they gave us nothing but excellent remarks about her," said Matt Jones, chairman of the UPC Issues and Ideas Committee and sophomore in business management.

Pederson is a native of Buffalo, N.Y., and moved to New York City at the age of 18. She delayed college to Stock Exchange, where within a short period of time she earned a seat on the

She and some friends danced and Ann Giebler, freshman in elemen-

Teto Henderson, program adviser sang to "My Boyfriend's Back" while

'We're having a ball," she said.

for UPC, was one of the four people serving ice cream. He helped drum up business for the ice cream social by shouting "Call Hall ice cream, 40 cents a scoop," pointing at people upstairs and calling some by name to urge them to take advantage of the ing to make money on the sundaes. It was just another way to celebrate the day included 8-1/2-by-11-inch color copies at the copy center, canned sodas, small boxes of popcorn, bowling and vending machines each priced at 40 cents in honor of the anniver-

Henderson said UPC was not try-

Other specials in the Union that tary education, said she agreed.

getting their ice cream.

special sundaes.

Union's 40th anniversary.

At the age of 21, she became a partner in a Wall Street firm and a millionaire by the age of 22, and earned a degree in finance from New York University, all before retiring at the age of 23.

Pederson is 'the CEO of her own financial consulting firm and travels as a college lecturer. She also manages real-estate holdings, is planning to start a career as a television talkshow host and is a part-time stand-up

Pederson has written two books titled "Play Money: My Brief But Brilliant Career on Wall Street" and "Street Smart Career Guide: A Step-By-Step Program for Your Career Development.'

"Most people who lecture about business tend to be male, so it's rare to find a woman who has been so successful in this field and who travels to talk about it." Jones said. "She has so many experiences to share, and we thought she would be perfect to lectake a job as a clerk at the American ture for Women's History Month."

Fans express remorse for Burns, remember him in their own ways

To the only "God" I'll ever know. I'll miss you.

AN ANONYMOUS NOTE LEFT OUTSIDE BURNS' HOME

LOS ANGELES - Fans gathered Sunday at the celebrity-inscribed courtyard outside Mann's Chinese Theatre, where George Burns left imprints of his hands, feet and cigar and wrote: "I'm Going in Style.""

"I feel sad," said Connie Eck of Prospect, Pa. "My kids won't grow up to know him.'

"He's one of the constants. Everybody knows George Burns," said her friend, Cathi Crifaci of Butler, Pa. "I'm glad he made it to 100."

Burns died at his Beverly Hills home Saturday, seven weeks past his 100th birthday.

Family members and close friends will attend a private funeral scheduled for Tuesday at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale, where Burns will be buried beside Gracie Allen, his wife and longtime partner who died in 1964.

"There will be no celebrities," said

Irving Fein, Burns' manager. "We hope to have a (public) memorial service in a month or two, and then all the celebrities can come.

Sunday's remembrances were as low-key as Burns' famously dry wit.

At his neat, flower-bordered home, a passing jogger left a handful of red flowers Sunday.

The day before, someone had left a pot of white daisies, along with a cigar and a note: "George - One for the road. We'll miss you.'

A guttering memorial candle was left at the house Sunday by a Jewish group to honor the man born Nathan Birnbaum on Jan. 20, 1896, on New York's impoverished Lower East Side.

Through the weekend, his name flashed on the marquee at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, where Burns often

"There was something about his innate goodness, his good spirits," Steve Allen recalled. "I never heard him swearing or grousing about his competitor. I don't think he saw any competitors in the world, and, in a sense, he had

"He was the champ at what he did." At 80, Burns received an Academy Award for 1975's "The Sunshine Boys." And he was immortalized in concrete at the Chinese Theatre for the 1979 movie "Going in Style," in which he, Art Carney and Lee Strasberg played three elderly bank robbers.

But it was "Oh, God" and its two sequels that brought Burns to the attention of a new generation.

"I'm sad for everyone who loves to laugh," said John Denver, who starred with Burns in the first "Oh, God" "We lost a dear friend who gave laughter, a lot of laughter, to a whole lot of people for a long, long time," he said. An anonymous note left outside Burns' home read: "To the only 'God'

I'll ever know. I'll miss you."

SEXUAL Men's ^ Health

If you are or have been sexually active, it is a healthy idea to get regular checks for STD (sexually transmitted disease) whether you have symptoms or NOT!

Call

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER 532-6544

For Appointment

Fine Arts Summer & Fall Allocations Requests Come to Campbell's for your It is time for groups to submit applications for funding of events or projects for which you would like assistance from the Fine Arts Council. As you may or may not know, the Fine Arts Council was created by the Student Senate to establish more fine arts programming on campus. This money is generated from the Fine Arts privilege fee students pay each semester. A reserves account programming. The forms that need to be filled out are available at the OSAS Office. THE DEADLINE FOR APPLICATION IS ON OR BEFORE THURSDAY,

student groups promoting fine-arts related

MARCH 21, 1996 AT NOON (12 p.m.). For more information, please call or go to the Office of Student Activities and Services.

K-State Union, Ground Floor • (913) 532-6541

created that assists in the programming efforts of

 Phone orders Gift wrap & delivery Mailing service Special savings of 20% on wedding invitations and wedding stationery through May 15, 1996.

JOBS

Starting at $6 per hour

ATTENTION, STUDENTS!

Help needed to take inventory in retail stores. Average 10 - 12 hours, mostly on weekends -Sundays. especially aptitude is a must.

Apply in person in Ramada Inn Stateroom Tuesday, March 12 at 6 p.m.

1-800-728-3586

Because of recent problems with programming, letters to the editor written on the E-Collegian comment submission form were not saved and forwarded. While the problem has been fixed, several letters were lost

If you submitted a letter by the comment submission form during the last two weeks, please resubmit the etter via e-mail to (steff@ksu.ksu.edu) or bring the letter to Kedzie 116. Thank you for your patience, and we apologize for the problems.

Stephanie Fuqua, opinion editor

COLLEGIANopinion

If you want your money, turn in your forms

QUICKread

▶ Students need to get their financial aid forms turned in to the government. If students have questions about the financial aid process, they can call the financial aid office at 532-6420.

Don't be surprised if the financial aid process takes a bit longer than usual for next year.

As a result of the federal government shutdowns and problems with new data-entry technologies, the U.S. Department of Education is weeks behind in processing more than 900,000 student financial aid applica-

Many K-State students will have to wait longer to receive a letter explaining what loans are available to them for the 1996-97 school year.

In fact, only 329 applications have been returned to the K-State Office of Financial Assistance this year from the federal student process department, compared to the 2,400 that should have been, Larry Moeder, director of student financial assistance, said.

What does this mean?

If you haven't already applied for financial aid and plan to do so, you need to do it as soon as possible financial aid back-ups will delay the process even more.

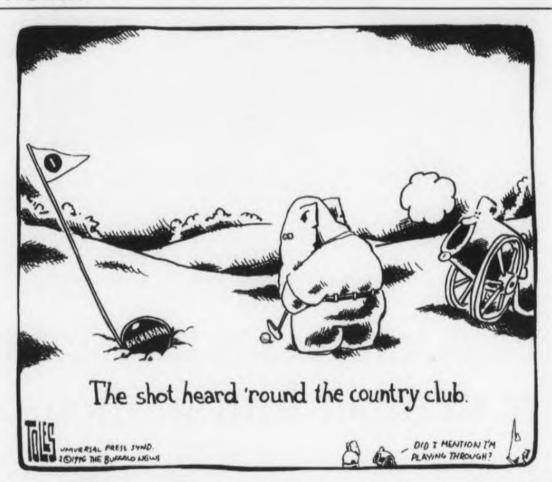

The deadline was March 1, but it is still possible to apply. Simply pick up an application at the financial aid office in Fairchild 104, fill it out and wait for a response.

Of course, if you haven't done your taxes yet, now would be a fine time to do those, as you will need that information.

If you have questions, you can contact the financial aid office at 532-6420.

Now, you've been warned. If your financial aid isn't available in August, the main culprit could be procrastination, and you would have no one to blame but yourself.

TOLES

A solution to K-State's problems

Wednesday's Collegian featured a letter from a reader who believed the Collegian should try to compete in the free market.

Now, this is a good idea. Its only fault is it doesn't go far enough. To truly solve the problems of the Collegian and the University, I suggest something more:

A MODEST PROPOSAL

In the interests of K-State, the students and the future stockholders, I suggest K-State become a private institution. It will mean a lot of changes, but will hopefully solve all of our funding, parking, healthcare and library probchief executive officer of K-State Co., will have the freedom to run things like a wellorganized business. He'll run a tight ship, or the stockholders will get someone who will Whoever ends up as the University chairman will need to make money to cover costs, but he or she will have many options for making this money.

Myview

JASON

Hamilton

For example, parking costs could be higher. In fact, we could just go ahead and make all the roads on campus toll roads. Of course, people who live close enough to walk wouldn't be paying their share, so we'd have to make all the sidewalks toll sidewalks, as well

As a private paper, the Collegian could market toward the larger community and - with luck could become the best-selling tabloid in the Midwest. Lafene would become privatized as well and might even become a specialized clinic.

The library could start charging rental costs for books. After all, we all spend money to rent movies, and we all know books are more valuable than movies.

Charging for Internet access is a step in the right direction, but we need to charge much more to make a profit. Offering access to the community at competitive prices might work.

Sports would have to go. Collegiate sports are much too erratic as money-makers. The football team might be kept around, though, just to preserve our corporate

Some of the vo-tech school classes could be moved onto campus, so we could offer services to the community (such as auto-repair, etc.).

Since the art museum won't be lucrative, we can use the new building to house the K-State Co. Beauty

School instead. Student Senate would be abolished. You just don't run a business that way. Tuition would go way up, which would cause enrollment to go way down. This would allow the CEO to reduce the faculty while still raising the academic standards. After a few years of solid profit, maybe K-State Co. could buy up most of Aggieville, where the real money is. All of our funding problems would be gone. Eventually, the whole shebang could be bought out by AT&T or maybe Disney, and all the stockholders would make a killing.

Ah, the free market. It is the soothing balm that heals all ills. It is the invisible hand that will put us back on

Let's go along with the present craze for deregulation and government downsizing. Let's get government out of our lives and start with the University.

I long for the day when K-State, from the turnstiles at Higinbotham Gate to the free-enterprise zone north of the Union, is one glorious corporate entity.

Jason Hamilton, economist at large, is a senior in English/creative writing and psychology.

rap a tish

am not one to get involved with campus politics. I see this campus as a small part of a much larger world.

Most of what upsets people here will all work itself out within a few days. And I truly believe through the long history of this University, there are few new problems, only reincarnations of old ones.

But this time politics have hit a little too close to home. There are some things we all take for granted. I do believe the fee problems with both Student Publications Inc. and Lafene will be worked out. I have faith these situations will turn out for the better.

Perhaps we will be a little wiser for the wear. We won't take these things for granted in the future. Perhaps we will take our college enthusiasm for adequate healthcare and easy access to the press with us into the real world. Until then, a touch of humor.

Real life uses for the Collegian:

1. Prove to your friends that "Hooked On Phonics" really

- Use as camouflage in the K-State Student Union.
- 3. Blow your nose in it.
- 4. Wipe your butt with it.
- Roll up and use for spanking. 6. Folded correctly, a party hat.
- 7. Where else are you going to find a 300-pound-plus man wearing a dress in Kansas?
- 8. Housebreak your roommates.
- Keep up with the slimy goings-on in Student Senate. 10. Use as floor mats and/or seat covers in your car.
- 11. Line the bed of your truck.
- 12. This job keeps columnists off the streets.
- 13. Gives Wefald something to do in the morning. 14. Gives Wefald something to do in the afternoon.
- 15. Roll up and use as a phallic device. 16. Free publicity for Greek philanthropy saves money for
- Doing the crossword gives goals to English majors. 18. Reading about campus activities gives engineering stu- dents a life, if only vicariously through us. 19. Shortage of papers provides a motivation to get to the - Union before 10 a.m. 20. Without us, what would you gripe about?
- 21. Wrap fish in it. 22. Fill in the blank.

Myview

MARY RENEE

Smith

23. Due to lack of funding, Lafene will begin using the Collegian for bandages, splints and other user-oriented products.

- 24. Not approved for use as a birth control
- 25. Easier listening than KSDB-FM 91.9. 26. Read backwards, most of the paper
- says, "Bob Dole is the devil."
- 27. Ink rubs off on hands, making tracking criminals easier.
- 28. Pizza Shuttle's phone number is given
- without the annoying jingle. 29. Paper plates.
- 30. Keeps you abreast of $1 beer nights at local drinking establishments
 - 31. Folded correctly, a barf bag for a post-$1 beer night. Lasts longer than sidewalk chalk.
- 33. Counting number of student athletes in police reports is the fastest growing Big 12 sport. As always, Nebraska is
- 34. Crumple up to use as a pillow in your 7:30 a.m. class. Uncrumple to read in your 8:30 a.m. class. 36. What else are you going to read, the Manhattan
- 37. Believe it or not, we are less liberal than Pitch Weekly. 38. Folded correctly, it makes a cool noise in your bike
- 39. Mold into bricks and help build the new Farrell exten-
- sion.
- Makes great coasters.
- 41. Softer than campus toilet paper.
- 42. Tape it on your windows to block the bright Kansas sun.
- 43. Cheaper and more available than Zig-Zag. 44. Great coffee filters.
- 45. Sexier on your bed than those Winnie-the-Pooh sheets your mom sent.
- 46. More absorbent than Depends. Cryptoquip keeps the mentally ill occupied.
- 48. Shine your belt buckle and wipe the cow pies from your
- 49. A good way to hide the morning male condition. 50. This entry has been censored because of fear of retalia-

Mary Renee Smith is a freshman in journalism and mass comraunications.

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by email. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

MITCH HOLTHUS WILL BE MISSED

Well, it's a sad day to be a Wildcat - Mitch Holthus is leaving us.

I can't even begin to tell you how much Mitch will be missed. I just had a chance to talk to him at the pep rally before the Holiday Bowl down in San Diego. After introducing myself, I told him I was a big, big, big fan of his, and said I wish he knew how many times I have said to other people, "If I can't be at a game in person, the next best thing is listening to Mitch call it."

I could tell he was sincerely touched as he thanked me for taking the time to share with him. Had I only known then that he was in the middle of making this decision, I would have thanked him for taking the time to fit K-State athletics into his busy schedule all of these years.

His will be a tough act to follow — the passion and the incredible memory he has for stats are amazing. There are going to be "Mitch-moments" that will be stand-outs in our minds - like that win against North Texas in the fall of '89; October 1993. when we beat the University of Oklahoma for the first time in 21 years; each and every win over that other team from Kansas; not to mention the comefrom-behind victory at Cincinnati last fall. Talk about enthusiasm! This is not manufactured media coverage. This is the one and only Mitch Holthus, the man who was born with a purple heart.

This spring we say good-bye to two dear friends: The best conference anywhere and to the best announcer. Thank you doesn't even begin to cover it.

Becca Pendarvis K-State alumni

SEXUAL HARASSMENT STORY WRONG

Editor.

Khristi Shell's article titled "Dealing With Sexual Harassment" raises some important issues about the protections granted by federal Title VII legislation, but also contains some serious inaccuracies that are relevant in the context of the university setting.

It is important to note Title VII applies only in an employer-employee setting. While Wednesday's article is accurate as it outlines the way Title VII operates in the workplace, the article is absolutely wrong when it says Title VII provides protection for students who allege sexual harassment by other students.

There is a great deal of legal precedent making it clear that students at state-funded institutions of higher learning cannot be punished for the content of the words they use to address other students. Certain statements by a professor to a student or by a supervisor to an employee may well be improper and illegal, but those same statements made by one student to another student are most likely protected by the First Amendment — unless they fall within a narrow exception adopted by the United States Supreme Court, or if it directly interferes with a student's ability to function at school. But even those situations do not give rise to a Title VII claim.

Sexual harassment among students is not the same as sexual harassment in the workplace. The legal standard is different, and the remedies are different. Basically, it is important to recognize students are generally free to say anything they want to other students. There are few exceptions to this rule, and it would be very unwise for K-State to begin censoring the speech of its students because it disagrees with the message of that speech.

David Vogel

K-State alumni

CARY CONOVER/Collegia

Coach Tom Asbury speaks during a press conference Sunday afternoon. Just before the conference, the announcement was made that K-State had earned a berth in the NCAA tourney.

With a 58-55 victory against Oklahoma State and a 61-55 loss to Kansas, K-State said farewell to the Big 8 and hello to the Big Dance.

Shana Newell

sports editor

KANSAS CITY, MO — The Wildcats are in the NCAA Tournament, courtesy of a win against Oklahoma State and an ugly loss to No. 5 Kansas.

K-State entered the Big 8 Tournament ready to fight for a berth in the NCAA Tournament, and a fight is exactly what they found.

The Wildcats defeated fifth-seeded Oklahoma State in the first round of the conference tournament, 58-55.

Coach Tom Asbury described it best when he said, "It was a battle, a hardfought battle.'

The Cats slipped past an Oklahoma State attempt to throw the contest into overtime on a pair of free throws in the closing seconds. When asked if he felt at any time the Cats might lose the game, Asbury had one "I was never in doubt," he said. "This game was exactly what I expected - a low-scoring, very physical, defense-orient-

The key to the contest, however, was the inability of the Cowboys to make free-

"I think the biggest thing was we didn't hit our free throws," Oklahoma State coach Eddie Sutton said. "But we also didn't shoot well from the floor in addition to our inability to hit free throws. And we put them on the line too much." But in spite of the Cowboys' mistakes, K-State nearly gave the game, and the NCAA tournament bid, to them.

"They made a nice run on us in the second half and we lost our poise for a couple minutes," Asbury said. "That is a very dangerous scenario."

With 10.5 seconds remaining in the game, a trey by Adrian Peterson cut the Cat lead to 56-55.

But Oklahoma State fouled Tyrone Davis on the in-bounds play, sending him to the line. That proved to be the final gunshot in the battle as Davis sank both free throws with 9.4 seconds left.

Ahead by three points, the Cats' defense failed to keep Peterson in check as he launched another three-point shot. But fate smiled on the Cats, and the shot was short. Jerome Lambert got the rebound and shot yet another three at the buzzer. The shot throws, as Oklahoma State was 6-of-20 was long, and the Cats emerged victorious. K-State made 37.5 percent of its shots from the field, and the Cowboys shot 38.3 percent. Aaron Swartzendruber, Shawn Rhodes, Mark Young and Ayome May proved ineffective beyond the are as the Cats went 0-for-9 from three-point land. Elliot Hatcher led the Cats in scoring but was kept 15 points from the field as he went 6-of-10 and 3-of-5 from the stripe.

Young proved to be the star of the game for the Cats as he went 4-of-9 from the field. But he was more of a defensive threat to the Cowboys as he had four steals.

"Mark Young had one of his best games for us today," Asbury said. "He really defended well, with a lot of energy. We'd be nowhere without Tyrone and Elliot, clearly, but I was really pleased with Mark's 30 minutes off the bench.'

K-State had 18 fouls to the Cowboys' 27, proving that the contest was a defensive struggle.

And that defensive struggle on Friday was apparently the straw that broke the camel's back Saturday as Kansas defeated the Cats for the third time this season.

The Cats fell to the Jayhawks in the sec-See WILDCATS Page 6

Wildcats' future in hands of Rhodes, Young gets in the weight

going to be big.

TOM ASBURY

K-STATE BASKETBALL

Shawn Rhodes tries to block the shot of KU's Raef LaFrentz during the second round of the Big 8 Tournament in Kemper Arena Saturday afternoon. Rhodes had 11 points and seven

KANSAS CITY, MO - In K-State's 1-1 finish in the final Big 8 Tournament ever, the performances were what most coaches would consider ugly

The Cats found themselves in the midst of what they thought would be a battle for a berth in the Big Dance. As it turns out, they were right. Oklahoma State, which K-State defeated in the first round 58-55, was not extended an invitation to the NCAA Tournament.

rebounds for the Wildcats.

But how did K-State get to the Dance?

There were no outstanding career-high performances by any Cat. In fact, there were quite a few season-low performances Forward Tyrone Davis was held to a season-low two points in K-State's loss to Kansas. The Cats were held to just 31.8 percent shooting from the field by the Hawks a season low. Reserve guard Aaron Swartzendruber was held scoreless in the second round of the tournament.

First Round

March 14 & 15

WEST

2 Kansas (26-4)

15 South Carolina St. (224)

K-State's leaders failed to do just that - lead. As it has in the latter part of the season, the K-State bench kept the Cats in the

But mostly, Coach Tom Asbury said it was determination.

"I'm proud of those guys," he said. "They didn't play well, but they played extremely hard. They knew it was a mustwin situation.

As it has been down the stretch, K-State found itself turning to its underclassmen to hold the team up.

Forward Shawn Rhodes was 6-of-12 from the field in Shawn is going to be the tournament, scoring 16 one heckuva player points for the weekend. His performance was felt mostly You can mark that against the Jayhawks as he down. He's better than had two assists and one block I thought, better than for the Cats in a game where anyone thought. As he contributed 11 points. He was 3-of-4 from the charity soon as he gets some line in the tourney. better conditioning,

Asbury was impressed, he predicted Rhodes' future. room this summer, he's

"Shawn is going to be one heckuva player. You can mark that down," Asbury said. "Hc's better than I thought, better than anyone thought. As soon as he gets some better conditioning, gets in the weight room this summer, he's going to be big. He's going to have six months before the start of next season."

Guard Ayome May was virtually nonexistent in the Oklahoma State game, but

MONTH O' MADNESS THE 1996 NCAA TOURNAMENT

Robertson 3-3, Pugh 1-1, Pearson 1-1) K-State 5-19 (May 1-1, Hatcher 1-8, Rhodes 1-3,

Source: K-Sate Stat Crew

Thomas 1, Pugh 1) K-State 3 (Eaker 1, Rhodes 1, Dies 1)

Men's game at a glance

	K-State						Oklahoma State					3
Name	FQ	FT	R	A	TO	PF	TP	Name	FQ	FT	R	A	TO	PF	TP
Davis	1-9	0-0		0	3	2	2	Plerce	2-5	0-0	15	0	8	2	- 0
May	5-8	0-0	4	0	1	0	11	LaFrentz	7-14	2-6	13	0	1	2	16
Eaker	1-4	0-0	3		1.1	1	2	Pollard	1-2	1-2	A	0	2	0.40	3
Hatcher	3-15	3-4	7	4	3	2	10	Hasse	2-6	1-3	3	2	1	0	5
Swartzendruber	0-9	0-0	4	0	2	10	0	Maught	1-8	2-2	2		2	3
Young	7-12	0-2	5	3	3	4	16	Williams	1-4	3-4	3	1	0	2	5
Rhodes	4-8	2-2	- 7	2	1	3	11	Roberson:	8-6	0-0	2	2	0		13
Dies	0-1	3-4	4	1	0	1	3	Thomas	0-3	0-0	0	0	1	0	0
TEAM		1000	114	900	1000	COL	gión.	Rayford	0.0	0-0	0	2	0	0	0
TOTALS	21-66	8-12	44	10	14	15	55	Pugh	2-3	0-0	1	0	0	2	5
								Peerson	1-1	0-0	577	0	- 0	0	3
								TEAM			4
								TOTALS	22-03	9-17	30	13	13	16.	01

3-POINTERS, Kansas 8-19 (Pierce 2-3, Vaughn 1-5, Robertson 3-3, Pugh 1-1, Pearson 1-1) K-State 5-19 (May 1-1, Hatcher 1-8, Rhodes 1-3, he contributed 11 points in the K-State loss to Kansas. He also had four rebounds and two steals against the Hawks. A surprise factor for K-State in the tournament was the performance of freshman Manny Dies. Playing nearly 22 minutes in the tournament, Dies blocked two

EAST

New Mexico (27-4)

10 K-STATE (17-11)

• See FUTURE Page 6

First Round

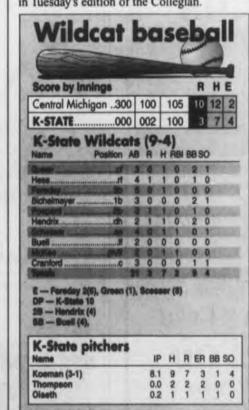

March 14 & 15

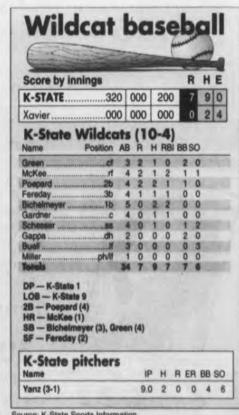

Elliot Hatcher gets the ball around an attempted kick by Oklahoma State's Andre Owens during the Cats' 61-55 rout of the first round of the Big 8 Tournament.

► BASEBALL

BLOCKED SHOTS, Kansas 7 (Pierce 2, Pollard 3,

The K-State baseball team improved its record to 11-4 on the season as it finished a sevengame road swing at the Greyhound Classic in Jacksonville, Fla. The Cats were shelled by Central Michigan before shutting out Xavier, 7-0, and defeating North Florida, 7-2. Full coverage will be in Tuesday's edition of the Collegian.

MIDWEST SOUTHEAST 7 Temple (19-12) 5 lowa State (23-8) 12 California (17-10) 10 Oklahoma (17-12) Due to space constraints, the Collegian could not run the entire NCAA tournament bracket. Look for the Collegian's tournament preview, bracket and schedules later this week.

New bar opens in Manhattan, gives area bands a place to play staff reporter Way down in the basement under Harry's Uptown is a new club in

That club is the Waydown Lounge. The Waydown Lounge has been open since the second weekend in January, co-owner Jason Eckels said. Eckels, Ken Pingleton and Jim Janke run the bar. The three opened the bar because "Manhattan is really starved for live music that you can't see every Thursday night," Eckels said. All three also have 16-17 years' total experience in bands, running bars, catering and disc jockeying. They got the name from a contest that was held at Hibachi Hut, Lone Star and Harry's Uptown. "We gave a kid named 'Flounder'

a $25 gift certificate for Hibachi Hut," Eckels said.

The Waydown was used as a speakeasy bar in the 1920s during prohibition, Eckels said.

"The room is just cool. It's aesthetically different. It's got a better atmosphere," Pingleton said.

The focus of the Waydown Lounge is live music. Some bands that have or will be playing there include local bands Sufferbus, Truck Stop Love and El Fontaine, and also regional acts the Urge and Egypt.

The three have aspirations of bringing interest back into the live music scene in Manhattan.

"If we can help other bands out, then it helps us, too. We don't want to be known as an Aggieville alternative," Eckels said.

"There's no reason why Manhattan is not as big as Lawrence," he added.

Someday they might bring bigger name bands to town and book them to play at the Wareham Opera House next door if they're too big for The Waydown "We've formed Productions, so if we do a show at the Wareham, it's gonna be a Waydown Production with the same people," Eckels said.

They said the owners of Harry's Uptown have been receptive to the Waydown

"It wouldn't have gone anywhere without them. They were the catalyst for the whole thing, but we want to really stand out and be separate from them. We're not Harry's Uptown," Eckels said.

The Waydown legally holds 172 people according to fire codes, but Eckels said they have fit 200 in comfortably and had 300 people in there for the Count Basie Orchestra.

"We didn't know what to expect for that one," Pingleton said.

They plan to have consistent live music all the time.

"It may be months between big bands here, but we're always going to have bands playing," Eckels said.

"It's going to be diverse, and it's going to be good," Pingleton said.

▶ WORKSHOP

Artists create paper

QUICKread

A visiting professor taught K-State students how to make Japanese paper at a three-day, hands-on workshop. Her paper art was featured in eight books.

Portia Sisco

Margaret Prentice makes something we use every day: paper.

In Prentice's case, it's art. Prentice visited the K-State Department of Art as a guest artist to conduct a lecture about paper-making Friday. She teaches print making and drawing at the University of Oregon at

"I'm going to be teaching a three-day, hands-on workshop making paper Japanese-style," Prentice said.

Rhonda Bathurst, senior in art, participated in the workshop. Students watched videos and made their own paper from the bark of kozo.

"We boiled the kozo fibers and picked through it and took out the foreign particles," Bathurst said. "We stretched it, and then we pounded it. We beat it to death.' Friday night, Prentice led a slide show lecture in Willard Hall. The slides included western and Japanese paper-making. "It's about how I use hand-made paper as an art medium. I show slides of my own artwork," Prentice said. In 1971, Prentice and her twin sister Kathy, started learning how to make paper. "It's funny how we find our places in life so accidentally. I saw a piece of paper Kathy made," Prentice said.

Prentice and her sister made paper for themselves until they discovered people would pay them for their paper.

"In 1971, there wasn't any hard paper-making in the United States in any commercial way," Prentice said.

With the help of her family, Prentice built a mill in Indiana to fill paper orders.

"I didn't have a teacher. I just figured it out. It was two years before we started working with it as an art medium," Prentice said.

Her artwork has been featured in eight hand-made books, including a children's story called "Inangaro," which tells the myth of how coconuts were created.

The poetry of Ireland and Scotland and the pictographs of the Anasazi were an influence on her art, Prentice said.

After Prentice makes the paper, she uses watercolors, etching, wood cutting and drawings to enhance the paper. The cotton fiber abaca is one that Prentice often works with when she makes paper. "I color the fibers with pigment so I can make images in the surface of the paper," Prentice said.

In 1994, Prentice received a Japan Foundation Fellowship so that she could study paper-making for four months in Japan. It didn't influence her own art.

"I don't see any effect at all. I'm so disappointed. I'm still hoping that it will," Prentice said.

During her visit to Japan, Prentice developed strong relationships with other paper makers.

"Six people have come to the United States as a result of my visit there,"

Impressions

Welcomes EMIE

$5 off Haircut

with style

1129 Moro

IMPRESSIONS

Office of Student Activities and Services is accepting applications for the Director of Consumer

and

Prentice said.

FUTURE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5

shots and had two assists for the Cats. He had a hand in what might have been the most memorable moment for some Wildcat fans.

Following a steal, Kansas' Jerod Haase was driving solo down court and was in the middle of stuffing the basketball when Dies rose up to block the shot. Although he sent Haase to the line, the block not only halted

ILDCATS

Kansas' momentum, but Haase missed one of the two free throws.

Dies also contributed five points in the tournament. Those five points came at crucial times for the Cats, as Dies was 5-of-6 from the free-throw

The highlight to K-State's weekend was the performance of guard Mark Young, who might have easily been K-State's most valuable player in the tournament.

Young grabbed seven boards and had 11 points in the Oklahoma State loss. Young also had four steals against the Cowboys and three assists. His numbers were even better against Kansas.

Young led the Cats with 16 points. He also had five rebounds, three assists, and two steals for the Cats.

"Mark had a great tournament,"

"He is a great defender. When our leaders didn't score, he stepped up and worked to score. He is a very versatile player who can create the shots and get the rebounds."

▶ DERAILMENT

Train wreck poses threat

Associated Press

WEYAUWEGA, Wis. - Repair crews cautiously pumped and burned propane gas from derailed tank cars Sunday to try to prevent an explosion nearly a week after 1,700 residents fled to safety.

Police and National Guard troops surrounded the deserted town in central Wisconsin, and authorities said they were unsure how long it would take technicians to drain the volatile gas from the 14 cars uprooted in a train wreck last Monday.

Crews so far have purified only one car, National Guard Sgt. Bob Holzem said. The cars have to be tipped while gas is pumped through hoses to a nearby earthen pit where fumes are burned off.

Pregnancy

Testing Center

539-3338

Totally confidential service

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Free pregnancy testing

·Same day results

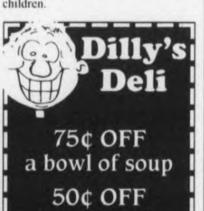

Call for appointment

At the height of the explosion threat, authorities said a blast could have caused damage within a 1.5-mile Police and National Guard troops escorted 132 people into the town Friday, but only to recover pets left at home, some without food and water. The pet rescue recovered more than 125 dogs, about 150 cats, and nearly 60 other creatures including caged birds, snakes, rabbits, a goat, a pet hog and an iguana.

cials spent the weekend trying to find classroom space elsewhere for 1,400 children.

a cup of soup

expires 3-22-96

1219 Bluemont • Aggieville

The evacuation has left homes and businesses untended, and school offi-

Tenant Affairs Mission of Consumer and Tenant Affairs: The mission of this agency is to serve the students, faculty, staff, and community through education and providing education on consumer and tenant-Job description and applications can be obtained at the office of student activities and services located on the Ground Floor of the Student Union.

537-1332

Applications are due by 3 p.m. on Friday, March 15, 1996 in the Student Office of Activities and Services.

For more information. Please contact: Scott Smith, Director Consumer and Tenant Affairs 532-6541

ond round of the tournament, 61-55.

"I was worried about the expenditure of both emotion and energy, and that was definitely a factor in the game," Asbury said. "Perhaps if we had played a more finesse team in the first round and less of a physical team, we might not have lost (to the Hawks)." K-State was a competitive foe in the battle as its bench kept the Cats in the game. Young led the team with 16 points, May and Rhodes both had 11, and Manny Dies had three points in 13:39 court time. With Elliot scoring 11 points, four Cats were in double-digits. It was the first loss for K-State when four Cats were in double figures. Although Kansas went on a 7-0 run just before halftime and came out on a 10-2 run, reserves Young and Rhodes kept the Cats in the game during the

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5

CRUISE SHIPS/LAND TOUR CO.'S

NOW HIRING!

Earn up to $2,500/month plus food, lodging, transportation. World Travel. No experience required. Many positions available. Male or Female. Seasonal/Full Time

(800) 638-6845, Ext. 2107

Dynamics 776-9100

Full set of nails '30, reg. '45

Fills $15, reg. $22 Nikki or Amy -- Exp. 3/22/96

12th & Laramie • Aggieville

Lunch Buffet

$4.95

Lunch Combination $3.35 m

Sunday Buffet

10% off w/KSU ID

HUNAM

final four and a half minutes. But as K-State's underclassmen proceeded to contribute 41 of K-State's 55 points, Kansas' freshmen were the difference in the game.

Forward T.J. Pugh and guard Ryan Robertson were a combined 4-of-4 from the three-point line, and three of those four were by Robertson.

"Without Pugh's and Robertson's threes, it would have been a different game," Asbury said. "Give those guys credit. Those were the key plays to the

Another key to the game was the K-State defense

"Our defense has been good all year, and it was excellent today," Asbury said.

"We are the No. 1 defense in what I consider to be the most important field-goal percentage. Our defense is what got us to where we are. It certainly wasn't because of our overwhelming offense.

K-State was held to a season-low 31.8 percent against the Hawks, while

SPACIOUS APARTMENTS

3 blocks east of campus.

Two bedrooms, furnished, ample parking. Quiet conditions.

Reasonable rates. 776-3624

SHEAR DYNAMICS

Friday Seafood

Buffet

7.95

get a second of equal or less value

for 1/2 Price

· Evening · Lynn & Sarah the newest designers at

Candlewood

776-9100

Shear

Dynamics

welcomes MAX

(formerly of Aggie Hair Shapers)

Aggieville

Kansas shot 41.5 percent. K-State outrebounded Kansas 44-38. It was the fourth-straight game the Hawks had been outrebounded.

But perhaps the biggest key to the game was the lack of shooting by three Cat starters.

Hatcher. Davis Swartzendruber combined for 4-of-33 from the field. For the fourth time this season, Swartzendruber was held scoreless, and Davis' two points were a season low.

"We played well today, but we made a couple of mistakes, and that cost us the game," Davis said. "Their momentum cut into ours.

We couldn't get an offensive run off. All around we made too many mistakes." But Davis said the team played with heart.

"I played my heart out today, and I know everyone else did, too," he said. was a lack of concentration on my

'I just didn't play as hard as I could. It

We are paying cash for your good used books in all categories. history, art, literature, mystery, science fiction, hobbies, cookbooks, children, and many others (no text books please).

700 N Manhattan Aggieville 539-2839

ERIKSEN SPORTS MEDICINE

CENTER

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

Fresh Eyes

Complete eye examination!

A new pair of contact lenses every three months! (four new pairs!)

Six month lens evaluation & check-up! A full year supply of lens solution!

Only the EyeDoctors can bring you FRESH EYES... our exclusive lens system with everything you need for a full year at one affordable price. Visit the EyeDoctors soon to find out if FRESH EYES"is for you!

(913) 537-1118 3012 Anderson Manhattan, Kansas 66502

Studio 32 are now offering an Evening Special Perm & Color thru rep. 23 50% Off Call Today 776-8830

CROSSWORD

ACROSS counter-1 Mme., in 38 Touch Spain 4 Contraclightly 40 Altar tion

9 "- picture exchange paints 41 Fine 1,000 43 Obvious words..." 45 Ewe or 12 Kipling lad hen, e.g. 47 Raw rock 13 Plankton component 48 Jungfrau, 14 Unruly 49 Significant bunch 15 Unwilling 54 Reading to wait course, 17 D.C. for short 55 Piece of persona 18 George's poetry brother 56 A mere 19 Mexican menu item 57 Baton 21 Crocodile's tropical cousin 24 "Sad to tell..." 25 Branch

26 Wd. processors 28 Writer Faludi 31 Military chapeau 33 Puppy's cry

35 Not prerecorded 36 Counts'

mist's handful 39 31.5 supply gallons 42 Arab 9 Stoic Rouge sch. 10 Royal Solution time: 27 min. 45 Humpty's 50 7 on the Saturday's answer

52 Ultramod-

Teetertotter quorum

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

SHBYNHX TBSN

ZXKYWBDTHJ

"PKQ, HUHX JK D

NBUH ZXKPWHTL!" Saturday's Cryptoquip: CANTASTING ORANGES FOR A LIVING CONSTITUTE A FULL NAVEL CA-REER?

Today's Cryptoquip clue: T equals M

▶ FOXTROT

by Eugene Sheffer

11 Competent

16 Intention roughly

22 Neighborhood

23 Extemporaneous

Gingrich

32 Columnist

Chase

37 Digestion

starter

League

member

Asian

holiday

problem

Leaguers

Sternward

phone

emist

34 Brave boy?

27 Blue

30 Mr.

29 English

river

20 Handle

21 Encrust

comedian

58 Photo-

DOWN

Adams

1 Enjoy the

3 Pump up

4 Subordi-

5 Adapta-

bility

6 Candle count

7 Annual visitor 8 Alche-

the volume

nate ruler slopes

2 Edge

59 Moreover

LOOK, PETER, MY HORMONES ARE JUST AS ACTIVE AS YOURS ARE - IF NOT MORE SO - BUT THAT'S NOT THE ISSUE HERE.

THE POINT IS, WHEN I ASKED MY PARENTS IF YOU COULD COME OVER AND HELP ME STUDY, I HAD TO PROMISE THEM THAT THIS WOULDN'T TURN INTO ONE OF OUR USUAL KISSFESTS, I TOLD YOU THAT BEFORE YOU GOT HERE.

AN MAKE A LIST OF THINGS

SMOOCHING. PLAIN OL I GAVE MY GROPING? WORD SORRY

DOOG AND BLAIR

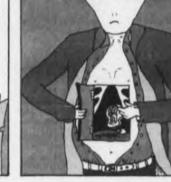

ANNOYING.

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

JUST WAIT HERE SARAH TO COME HI SKIP, YOU SURE ARE BY, ACCEPT THE BEAUTIFUL WILD DEESSED NIKE! THESE

by Bill Amend

PETER, I

REALLY HOPE

YOU'RE

SMILING

by Mark Ilich

'Tenor' roars with impeccable timing, gut-busting comedy

staff writer

With every door that slammed shut, a witty joke

Friday night's opening performance of "Lend Me a Tenor" at Manhattan Civic Theatre combined gut-busting comedy and an intricately designed set to produce a fun plot that left audience members roaring.

The set, a quaint, little hotel suite with six doors and two rooms, was constantly busy with characters bustling about in confusion.

Timing was everything to this production as the eight cast members moved in and out of the six doors.

At one end of the stage Maggie, played by Lori Nelson, senior in social work, would leave the stage exiting one door. At the same time.

Lend Me a Tenor Performances are at 8 p.m.Thursday through Saturday and at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Manhattan Civic Theatre, 1520

Poyntz Ave. Diana, played by Christine Shaneyfelt, senior in theater, would emerge from a door on the opposite side. Kay Deever, assistant director, said timing was probably the most difficult part of the production. She said the initial blocking was difficult because the pace has to stay hectic.

It was indeed hectic. The plot, much like an old English farce, is a story of mistaken identity.

Tito Merelli, a famous opera singer, played by Clive Fullagar, associate professor of psychology, passes out after he overdoses on phenobarbitol, while everyone believes he is really dead. Henry Saunders, played by Paul Berger, fears losing money on the opera which he has organized after he discovers Tito's body in the hotel room. In haste he convinces Max, played by director Sean Grace, to take over the part of Tito Merelli and altogether pretend to be him.

When Tito rises from his unconsciousness, he finds himself in a world of confusion and chaos, not knowing he has been replaced.

Although Tito, Max and Henry provide the basis for the plot, there were five smaller parts that did a magnificent job of creating the necessary confusion.

"It gives a chance for the very small parts to steal the show," Deever said.

"Everybody has a chance to ham it up."

Perhaps the best part was Henry Saunders, played by Paul Berger. Berger's character, a supposedly distinguished and refined fellow, often breaks into hilarious tirades and curses freely.

Nelson, who has participated in other Manhattan Civic Theatre productions, said this show was particularly difficult because she had to learn her lines faster for this production than she had done before.

The rush to bring this play to the stage was certainly not evident through Friday night's production. The play was incredibly upbeat and hilarious.

With a name like "Lend Me a Tenor" the show might be confused for a musical, but it certainly is not. The show only contains about two minutes of singing. After being written by Ken Ludwig in 1984, the show appeared on Broadway in 1989 and later received two Tony awards,

1-800-290-8174

Birthright of Manhattan Pregnant?

Confidential Pregnancy Tests and Services FREE

"We Care About You" Evening Hours: Wed. 6:30 - 8 p.m.

537-9180 or 1-800-550-4900

705 North | Ith - Aggieville

537-1616

Optometrist

Complete Eye Exam Exp. 3/15/96 with coupon

Get ready for Spring Break! Save Up to $20

on non-prescription sunglasses including Ray-Bans

Save up to $20 on a complete pair of eyeglasses

ANY YOGURT OR COFFEE MENU ITEM WITH THIS COUPON.

HOURS: 9AM-10PM DAILY IIAM-IOPM SUNDAY

(EXPIRES 5-31-96)

776-9461

Toll Free 1-800-432-0036

Res: (913) 776-8900

Buying or selling, we

RE/MAX

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

EACH TIME YOU

MANHATTAN BIOMEDICAL CENTER 1130 GARDENWAY MON-FRI 9AM - SAT 9AM-2PM

DONATE PLASMA!

WORK OR STUDY ABROAD

Scholarships Available Submit applications for work and/or study abroad this summer and next academic year.

KSU EXCHANGE PROGRAM SITES AVAILABLE IN: (English) UK, Czech Republic, Finland, Korea, Netherlands, Sweden, Greece (French) France, Togo (German), Austria (Italian) Italy

(Spanish) Colombia, Mexico, Dominican Republic

WORK AND VOLUNTEER PROGRAMS Europe, Africa, Asia, Latin America, Pacific and North America Contact: Barry Michie, Director of Study Abroad, Office of Int'l

Programs, 304 Fairchild Hall, KSU. Come by or call 532-5990.

not available with other discounts We fill outside prescriptions 1441 Anderson Ave. • Anderson Village Adjacent to KSU

> This Week's Specials Sancho or Burrito $1.35 reg. $1.70 ea. Taco Dinner $2.05 reg. $2.75 Good through 3-16-96

5.00 COM. 11

2809 Claflin

539-2091

Floyd E. Rogers

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Hrs.: 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

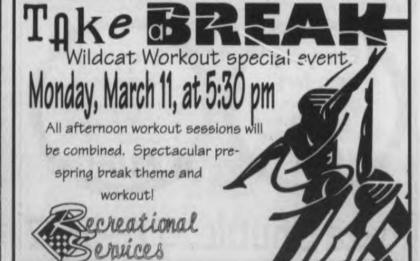

776-5900

provide you with a home market analysis.

friendship Angel Alley

1-800-752-9105

Before being engulfed in smoke, firefighters wait for water to fill their firehose in order to extinguish a grass fire north of Manhattan.

STEVE HEBERT

Tuttle Cove volunteer firefighters spray water while trying to get a grass fire under control in a pasture north of the Pure Bred Beef Barn on K-State property. The fire was thought to be started by some children playing in the field.

SHANE KEYSER

Firefighters get the water tanks they carry on their backs refilled during Sunday afternoon's

Grass fire scorches pasture

■ Wind and dry grass play role in charring 15 to 20 acres of K-State's beef research land

J. Scot Bucholz

A fire Sunday afternoon burned parts of K-State's beef research pasture.

"It is our land burning," said Officer James Younkin, KSU police, who was diverting traffic at Marlatt Avenue and Tuttle Creek Boulevard.

Pat Collins, Riley County rural fire chief, said around 15 to 20 acres burned.

'We really do not know a source yet," he said. "The location we are looking at right now

Collins said he knew there were children in the field, but he is not sure if they started the fire. "We are trying to locate them

The wind and dry grass were factors in pushing this fire along.

at this time," he said.

"The grass is dryer than paper. I have seen paper wetter," he said. "You can pick out some of the grass, and it just crumbles in your hand."

Collins said they were lucky there were two stations close, and the city trucks helped out. The fire did burn some of the telephone poles, Collins said. "KP&L was called, just portion of campus to what we were available for comment.

checking up on four of their call the campus substation," she poles," he said. Stacy Kohlmeier, general manager for KPL Gas Service, said the poles were charred but not enough to replace them. "The heat from the fire did melt some of the guy guards, which is the plastic that covers the dry wire," she said. "We will decide later if we need to replace

Kohlmeier said because the wires are out in a pasture, she did not foresee any danger to any-

"These wire feed the main

It was lucky the fire department got there in time, Kohlmeier said.

Collins said he did not think there was a monetary loss.

"Any fire that starts right now is going to be real hard to control," he said.

"That is why the governor extended the burning ban for another 30 days." Sgt. James Lehne, campus police, said they will have to watch this area carefully tonight.

No beef research personnel

A Riley County firefighter slaps flames as fire chars prairie grasses in a pasture north of Kimball Avenue.

SCOTT M. LADD Collegian

SPACE IS RESERVED

(for you!)

Collegian Advertising 532-6560

N. Tuttle Creek Blvd. Randolph Kitchenettes • Clean • Quiet Cold Beer
 Soda Snacks

$1875 DBL

Student & Military Discounts Drive a Little Save a Lot

"No Coupon" Specials

(NO coupon needed, NONE accepted)

Everyday Two-fers

2 - PIZZAS with 2 - TOPPINGS each COKES with ice

Everyday Three-fers - PIZZAS with

- TOPPING each - COKES with ice

Pizza Shuttle 776-5577

X

Now Open For Lunch 11:30-1:30 Tues.-Fri.

> Dinner 5:30 Tues.-Sun.

"The Best French Cuisine In The Midwest"

Enjoy exquisite cuisine prepared by our European Chef, Gunar, highly rated in Guide Michelin and Gault Millan. Featuring a romantic atmosphere and reasonable prices.

Wide selection of French and California Wines

Bon Appetit!

Call for reservations! 913-539-9300 • Plaza West • Manhattan

Chardonnay. MARCH.

J. LOHR RIVERSTONE "90 points . . . complex array of elegant pear, spice, honey and hazelnut notes. . . "

Reg. 11.99 10.47

Reg. 18.99 $15.94 CHALK HILL "Bold, ripe and spicy. . . creamy fig and apple flavors with notes of vanilla and toast."

CHATEAU POTELLE Reg. 110.99 "Delightfully clean and fruity. . . simple and fresh. . . "

RAYMOND AMBERHILL Reg. 110.29

Pleasantly fruity. . . pear, apple and citrus nuances. . . set against candied notes. . ." ROSEMONT Reg. 110.29 "Deliciously fruity with layers of buttery toasty oak and ripe apricot, pear and lemon flavors." CHATEAU ST. JEAN Reg. 112.99

Classifieds

CANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

DEADLINES

FOW TO PAY

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI instructor, at Creative Travel, 539-0531, class-es now forming.

A new offering from

ESSENTIAL OILS t used in t AROMATHERAPY

HOST A PARTY enhance physical and Call 537-8946

ADVANCED FLIGHT TRAINING. 6000-hour flight instructor special-izing in multi-engine and other advanced rat ings. Very competitive rates. Hugh Irvin, 539–3128.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776–6735 after 5:30p.m.

MARY KAY inventory reduction sale. Call after 5. 776-6052.

020

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

IF YOU have lost an item at Derby Dining Center in the last school year, please stop by Derby 129 to identify and

Parties-n-More ADD A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable tub

537-7587, 539-7561. ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental.

537-1825 OPERATION PURPLE Wave Hot Tub Bus Rental, 18- 20 person tub ca-pacity. New tubs and

HOUSING/

REAL ESTATE Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 587-2440.

For Rent-

A VARIETY of furnished or ARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apartments. Close to campus. Call Moore Management. One-bedroom $320, two-bedroom with fireplace $510, two-bedroom with one and one-half bath $510, two-bedroom $400. Summer subleases available, no pets. Water, trash paid, June and August lease

Apts. Furnished

June and August lease available. Call 537-7542 9a.m.- 6p.m. 537-4567 after 7p.m. AUGUST LEASE: Next to campus- Eastside un-furnished two-bed-room with fireplace and laundry. Westside fur-nished one/ two-bedroom. Both locations have balcony, centra air/ heating, carpet fully equipped kitchen fully equipped kitchen and off-street parking 539-2702 leave mes sage or call evenings. AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one two, three and fourbedroom apartments for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU. Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichols Hall. Deluxe two-bedroom apartment. $490-$500. Also, large, nice one-bedroom apart-ment, water, trash, gas, three-fourths paid. Laundrymat. $310-Laundrymat. $310-$320 539-2482 after

NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. pets. 537-8389.

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Claffin next to campus $325 plus de-posit plus electric. Au-gust year lease. No pets, 537-1180.

QUIET, LARGE, furnished, two-bedroom in a brick six-plex with washer dryer, dishwasher, paid water and trash. One block from college. Available June or Au-gust 1, 537-7087.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401.

TWO-BEDROOM FUR NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo-sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428.

For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

> CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS

Corner of College and Claflin, Manhattan 1 to 4 Bedroom

Apartments Deck/Patios for

each unit On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry

Covered Parking  2 BR - $550 & $570

3 BR - $720 & $735 Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases

For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Saturday Noon to 3 p.m.

10 K Apartments. Spacious, two-bedroom quality apartments in new complex two blocks east of campus, large, L-shaped kitchen, dishwasher, air condi tioner, sound proofed well insulated, low util well insulated, low util-ties, laundry, quiet street, no pets. June through May lease $480.539-2536. AVAILABLE AUGUST 1 nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to campus, no pets, 539-2551.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartment for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919. AVAILABLE JUNE 1- one bedroom near campus. Washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. $375. Call 776-5981. Ask for Tasha or Travis. CAMBRIDGE SQUARE, two-bedroom apart-ment, fireplace, wash-ing facilities, for rent or blease immediately.

CLOSE TO campus. One-two- three-bedroom

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475, now through May 31. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804. apartments. Not a complex. No pets. 539-4641 COTTAGE, ONE-BEU-ROOM, near City Park, available immediately,

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL

776-0221

campus. 776-8455.

For Rent-

Houses

WALK ACROSS to Ag-gieville and campus. Spacious one and two-

AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with wash er, dryer, central air some with fire place

dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

bedroom house, two baths central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher, garden, 824 Laramie. 539–3672.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1, five

LUXURY TWO-BEDROOM

NEWLY REMODELED spa

NICE TWO-BEDROOM du-

cious three-bedroom duplex. Washer/ dryer, off-street parking. Walk out patio. $675. Call 776-3191.

plex. All appliances, garage. Please, no smoking, no pets. Five month or one year lease. Located 2304 Wil-low Lane, Manhattan. Call (913)456-7185.

newly remodeled, fire-place, yard, walk to

ing. Available June 1 $800 per month. Open House, March 14, 6-8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr.

for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

TWO AND three-bedroom

FEMALE ROOMMATE for a two-bedroom base-ment apartment. No pets. $220 utilities paid except phone. Close to campus. Please call 587-0847 if interested.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted immediately. Lease runs until July 31. $213/ month plus one-half utilities. Call Kendra 537-9169, leave wanted for five-bed-room house. $150/ month. Washer/ dryer.

Three blocks from cam-pus. Call Ricky or Aaron 537–1621.

mediately for apart-ment, close to campus. Prefer non-smoker. Call 776-1340.

pus. off-street parking. $165, 537-1091.

DESERVE

Great location

Private bedroom

Laundry facilities

Onsite office

2 pools

Large bath & closets

Dishwasher/disposal

NOW LEASING

For

June & August

Call

776-1148

OPEN HOUSES DAILY

THE BEST

2 bedroom apartments

MALE/ FEMALE roommate

ROOMMATE NEEDED im-

SUMMER AND/ or fall females to share three-bedroom apartment, two blocks from cam-

Wanted

NICE, THREE-BEDROOM,

available now and August. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

available 539-7277 Leasing now

thru August Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts.

Cambridge Square Apts Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064

FOR RENT!! Basement apartment; newly re-modeled; two-bed-room; two full bath; one and one-half blocks from campus; laundry facilities; free parking; trash paid. Contact 395-2420.

Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m.

Sat. 10-3 p.m.

FOR SUMMER and fall, two beautiful apart ments at North Park Apartments. 1200 Fre-mont. Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537-0428. LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Avail-Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

LARGER TWO-BEDROOM basement apartment, two blocks NW of campus. Clean, well lit, pri-vate entrance, stove, refrigerator, washer/ dry-er, cable and all utilities paid. $500 per month. 776–4544.

LEASING FOR Fall. Twobedroom, two bath du-plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, garbage disposal, laundry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744.

LEASING FOR Summer and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, garbage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744.

NICE, ONE-BEDROOM, Pri vate entrance and off-street parking. Walk to campus. Available June 1. $275 per month. Open House Thursday March 14, 6- 8p.m.

1830 Elaine Dr. ONE, TWO, three-bedroom apartments. Close to campus. No pets, water and trash furnished. June lease, 539-1975.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-

ABLE immediately, near Aggieville, 1124 Fremont, $395. Water, trash paid. Call now. 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset

Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM WITH

study available now. 1212 Thurston. $400. Near KSU campus. Wa-ter, trash paid. Call 776-3804. PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 539-2951.

PRELEASING: TWO-BED-ROOM, one block from campus. Available June 1. Water and trash paid. $495/ month. 539-1897.

TWO- THREE- four-bedroom near campus, one and one-half bath. Central air, laundry, dish-washer. 537-1746.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

Sublease

ACROSS FROM campus Summer sublease, Three-bedrooms, Avail-able June 1, Washer/ dryer, Two bathrooms, $740/ month, No pets, 776-8957.

ABLE now through May 31. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804. AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY, first floor: Large living room and kitchen; second floor: TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., two-bedrooms. and one-half bath. Nea campus, $350 negoti-able. Call Kesheng, 532-6700, Liang TWO-BEDROOM, SPA-CIOUS, one block from 776-6039 (evenings). FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM townhouse, two and one-half bath, washer dryer, dishwasher starts June 1, 587-8622.

MAY 20- July 31. Share two-bedroom apartment $180/ month plus one-half utilities, three blocks east campus. No pets. 776-9559.

MAY THROUGH July sub-lease. Looking for fe-mades to share a fourbedroom apartment, one block from campus. Amy 776-8870.

PARK PLACE Apartment, one-bedroom, unfur-nished, across from Westloop, pool, patio, available May 27, wa-ter, trash paid. $345/ month. 776-5437 after 5p.m.

SUBLEASE JUNE 1 to July 31. One-bedroom apart-ment. $250. Call Laurie message leave 587-0912. one and one-half bath townhome in scenic Briercliff Addition. Pool, tennis courts and clubhouse. $600. Avail-able June 1. 776–8363.

SUBLEASE- ONE-BED-ROOM in spacious three-bedroom duplex with one roommate. Washer/ dryer- lots of privacy, $225. Call 776-3191.

SUMMER SUBLEASE Two-bedroom, one and one-half bath. Close to campus and Aggieville. 539-9110. SUMMER SUBLEASE: one bedroom apartment near campus, water and trash paid. Avail-able May 20 through July 31, $220/ month. 776-8897.

THREE-BEDROOM TWO full bath, AC. Sublease June 1, negotiable. Water, trash paid. Near campus and Aggieville 776-9432. TWO-BEDROOM APART-

June and July. One block from campus, nice, spacious. Water and trash paid. $475/ month. Call 395-3966.

TWO-BEDROOM. CLOSE to campus. Fireplace. Water and trash paid. Quiet area. 537-1437.

DIRECTORY

Resume/ Typing

> PERFECT resume and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776-3290.

TYPING DONE in my home. Reasonable rates. Call Diana, 587-0411.

Other Services

DO YOU suspect a cheat-ing heart? We can find out if a partner has strayed. Money back quarantee. Private guarantee. Eyes. 776-7378.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he' she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring Students needed! $$$ plus Free Trave! (Caribbean, Europe, Hawaii!) Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. Gde. (919)929-4398 ext. 21969

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT- Studeneeded! Fishing inc try. Earn up to $3000-$6000 plus per month. Room and board! Transportation! Male or female. No experience necessary. Call ext.A57684. ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT. Fisher ies, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month! Air-fare! Room/ Board! Free video with pro-gram! Call SEI (919)932-1489, ext. A85.

CRUISE SHIPS HIRING-Travel the world while earning an excellent in come in the Cruise Ship and Land-Tour In dustry. Seasonal and full-time employment available. No experi-ence necessary. For information (206)971–3550 ext.C57685. CUSTOM HARVEST crew members needed. Com-bine, Truck and Silage Truck operators for summer and fall har-vest. Excellent wages including room and board, monthly salary and bonus. Call even-ings (913)877-2081, ask for Randy. Clydesdale Harvesting and Truck

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated indi-viduals. Fast, easy-no financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982 ext.33.

Over $6 billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All students are eligible re-gardless of grades, income, or parent's in-come. Let us help. Call Student Financial Services: (800)263-6495 ext.

NEED HELPI If you speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Russian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Susan. Unlimited Income, 529, 7336

INSTITUTE FACILITA-TORS NEEDED: Won-der Workshop Child-ren's Museum seeks energetic and creative in-dividuals with strong background in any of the following: architecture, physics, chemistry, engineering, art, ceramics, and theatre to facilitate a morning program for youth (grades 1-8) June 10-July 3, Hours/ salary ne-gotiable. Applications may be picked up at Wonder Workshop Children's Museum 409 Poyntz. E.O.E.

LIVE AND WORK in the relaxed atmosphere of North Central Kansas. Registered Physical Therapist needed in progressive Physical Therapy clinics. Great benefits and salary.

Must be dedicated. Call Jodi at (913)346-5226 or send resume to H&W Therapy- Kansas Inc., 113 North First, Os-borne, KS 67473.

LOSE WEIGHT NOW! Needed 27 people to lose weight. All natural Dr. recommended. 587–1037.

PARKING SOUTH OF THE UNION

MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or ass ist. Openings in: Base-ball, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riffery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top sala-ries. excellent facilities. room/ baord/ laundry travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silvermine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR SUMMER AT CAMP TACONIC. Prestigious coed camp in beautiful Massachu setts seeks motivated sophomores, juniors seniors and grads who love working with kids to be general coun selors and instructors in: Swimming, Sailing, Windsurfing, Skiing, Athletics, Ropes Course, Rollerblading, Horseback Riding, Archery, Gymnastics, Aerobics, Golf, Arts and Crafts, Photography, Silver Jewelry, Drama, Music, Piano Accompaniment, Cooking, Science Rocketry, Pioneering, Video and Newspaper. Competitive sala ries. Join a dedicated team. Have a reward-ing and enjoyable sum-mer! Please call (800)762-2820. OUTSIDE SUMMER JOBS Tropical Beach/ Mountain Resorts, Na-SUMMER tional Parks, Ranches Rafting Companies 500 plus employers na tionwide! Call SEI! (919) 932-1489, ext. R85. PART-TIME YOUTH work er. 10 hours a week, begin in fall. Apply by April 1. First Lutheran Church. 537-8532.

PREMIERE BROTHERS Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hock ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Overnight Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year-book, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing Sailing, Windsurfing Canoeing/ Kayaking Top salaries, room, board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC

REFEREES WANTED USSE Certified Soccer Refer-ess needed for Soccer Tournament, April 13 and 14 at Anneberg Park Manhattan Kan-

(Boys): 1-800-753-9118 DANBEE (Girls): 1-800

STUDENT'S DREAM Lose weight. Earn extra $$ around your sched-ule. All natural products. Doctor recom mended. Increases en-ergy, mental alertness 539-7336.

MENT: Experienced combine or truck drivers needed for custom wheat harvesting operation. Lancaster Harvesting, Dodge City, Kansas. (316)227–8821. SUMMER HARVEST help wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in May. Call Mike Parker, Waterville, KS. Phone; (800)653-8235.

TECHNICAL SUPPORT STUDENT: The De-partment of Commu-nications, Information and Educational Tech nology seeks a self-mo tivated student with ex-pertise to maintain a small Novell network with some support from network engi-neering staff. Must be able to install and main-tain application soft-ware in both Windows 3.1 and in Windows 9.5 snyiroment. Experienvironment. Experi-ence with creating mac-ros and template is a plus. Must be familiar with Netscape and "plug-ins." IET offers flexible hours during competi-tive pay; 15- 20 hours/ week during school year and 20- 40 hours during summer. Appli-cations available in 211

Umberger Hall through March 20, 1996.

THE SUNSET ZOO is seeking to fill several part-time/ seasonal po-sitions. Seeking friendly, outgoing and moti-vated self-starters. Po-sitions available are in the guest services area of the zoo which included the Watering Hole Concession Stand. Applicants should be at least 16 years of age Applicants must be able to work weekends some evenings and holidays. Applications will be taken until all positions are filled. Prior concessions and cash register experience helpful. Apply at the Department of Human Resources Office, City Hall, 1101 Poyntz, Manhattan, KS. FOE-MF/D. Poyntz, Mar EOE-M/F/D.

THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you are proud of your accomplishments and want to join an excel lent team of professionals fax your resume to: Advertising Direc-tor, fax (316)267–8570.

TROPICAL RESORTS Hir ing. Entry-level and ca-reer positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, housekeepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness counselors, and more. Ex-cellent benefits + bo-nuses. Call Resort Employment Services 1 206-971-3600 ext

WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience around farm machinery or trucks preferred. Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776-1321 ask for

WHEAT HARVEST help wanted for summer. Case-IH equipment die-sel trucks from Texas to Montana. $1500/ month. Maddey Har-vesting. Norton, KS (913)877-5577.

CA SUMMER DAY CAMP POSITIONS. Looking for mature, de-pendable, committed people to imple YMCA SUMMER CAMP POSIT people to implement quality YMCA Summer Day Camps in four To-peka locations. Must be able to work well with and relate to kids and parents, First Aid, CPF water and CDL certifi cation a plus. Elemen tary Education, Child Development, Physcia Education, and Recrea tion are encouraged to apply. Camp Coordinators- Need strong administrative, supervisory, communicative, organization, and people skills. Minimum requirements: 12 college hours in relevant cours es or one year experi ence in state licensed child care program Camp Counselors-Must communicate and relate well to kids and parents. Minimum requirements: must be 18, high school diplo-ma, relvant college hours, experience in child care and/ or ob-servation hours. Apply now at the YMCA of To-en, Topeka 66603.

Business

Opportunities

peka Kuehns Branch at 1936 N. Tyler, Topeka 66608, or Downtown Branch At 421 Van Bur-

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to urges our readers to contact the Better Busi-ness Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 65607-1190. (913)232-0454.

EXPANDING BUSINESS in Greece looking for as-sociate who is bilingual. Call (913)353-2530

OPEN MARKET

Items for Sale GOVERNMENT SURPLUS New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT workwear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9-5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734.

COSMETICS on sale Buy one get second of equal or lesser value free. In stock only. 776-6674.

OFFICE

Hours

Mon.-Fri. 8-5

(Except holidays)

103 Kedzie Hall

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-den, KS.

SAVINGS AT 40- 70% off the retail price! Inter-ested? Call 587-1017 for weekly listing of mis cellaneous items.

Furniture to

Buy/Sell FOR SALE: Five piece dining patio set. Excellent condition, Homecrest Brand. $200. Paid $459 new. 539-8859.

Antiques

MOVIES, STILLS, books, brawns remington, Afri-can, black, oriental, estate jewelry, albums, tin signs, beer mobilia, hats, prints, political, many curious goods, Time Machine Antique Maul 1910 Skyway Drive. east of Airport. Open 12-5, Tuesday-Saturday. Visa and Mastercard and laya-ways, 539-4684.

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, um, 5000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furniture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues. – Sat. 12–5p.m. 539–4684.

Pets and

Supplies AFRICAN PYGMY heghogs male/ female, call 776-0289.

Sporting Equipment KNIFE AND SHOW. New location! We have moved from Manhattan to Junction City National Guard Arson. Saturday March 16, 9– 5. Sunday March 17, 9– 4. Buy- Sell-Trade. Information (913)922–6979.

LANGE TII ski boots for sale. Size 9 1/2, like new. Best offer. 539-4959 ask for Dallas.

Tickets to Buy/Sell

FREE TICKETS to Country Stampede featuring 18 country music enter-tainers including: Tim McGraw, Jeff Foxwor-thy, Little Texas in ex-change for poster dis-(800)795-8091

PORTATION

Automobiles

1982 OLDSMOBILE station wagon, nine passenger. good family car in good condition $1000. 537–3920.

983 PLYMOUTH Reliant,

92K, great school car. Asking $900 or best offer. Call 532-6492 or 776-2073 after 6p.m. 1985 F-150 4X4, air condi tioned, four-speed, extra sharp $5700, 587-0562. Ask for Heath. 1987 MONTE Carlo SS below average miles 539-8307.

Bicycles

1995 SCHWINN Moab S mountain bike, 19-inch, squash yellow with front suspension, $425 or best offer, 537-1359.

A LOT CAN BE SAID ABOUT A LITTLE BIT OF SPACE: It works

KANSAS STATE

COLLEGIAN 532-6555

Showings every

Monday through Friday

2-4 p.m.

1852 Anderson Place #16

776-1222

A bundle

of choices for your bundle of joy!

Childbirth Preparation Classes

Our certified childbirth educators can help prepare you for labor, birth and early parenthood. We offer six week courses and a four hour refresher course. Included is a guided tour of our newly remodeled

Birthplace. Call 587-5413 for fees and

Trial begins Tuesday in AIDS-victim case

Relatives of dead

lawyer claim makers of 'Philadelphia' stole story

Associated Press

NEW YORK- Relatives of a lawyer who was fired after contracting AIDS will try to prove to a jury this week that his story was stolen by the creators of the movie "Philadelphia."

Trial is set to begin Tuesday in U.S. District Court on a $10 million lawsuit filed by the family of Geoffrey Francis Bowers.

"Philadelphia" won an Oscar in 1994 for actor Tom Hanks for his portrayal of lawyer Andrew Beckett, a fictional character fighting his dismissal from a law firm because of

Like the movie character, Bowers worked for a major law firm and was fired in 1986 after workers noticed that he had disfiguring facial lesions of Kaposi's sarcoma, an AIDS-related

Bowers died in 1987 at age 33, shortly after testifying against the New York law firm of Baker & McKenzie in his own lawsuit claiming that he was discriminated against because he had AIDS. The state human rights board later ordered Baker & McKenzie to pay $500,000 for discriminating against Bowers.

Lawyers for TriStar Pictures Inc.,

UDENTS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Regional Championship.

first round this season?

the tournament."

WAC team.

rebounds.

lost to Kansas in the Midwest

So what do K-Staters think are the

"I think we have a good chance of chances of K-State advancing past the beating New Mexico," Kim Mosier, senior in nutritional science, said.

"We played tough in the Big 8 this year, and I think that will help us in with a 64-60 victory Saturday against Conference Coach of the Year in 1988.

center Kenny Thomas, who was named Freshman of the Year in the WAC. He was also elected to the All-Newcomer Team and the coach's All-into the WAC postseason tournament.

It defeated Utah in the final game of the tournament to win the automatic

Bliss began the season using six different starting lineups in the first seven games but eventually settled on the same lineup to finish out the sea-

That lineup includes sophomore

Also included is junior Greg Schornstein, who is averaging 7.3 points per game and 3.6 rebounds. In the middle, Thomas stands at 6 feet 9 inches and 250 pounds. He has pulled down an average of 7.7 boards per game and has 14.6 points per have Charles Smith and David

Gibson. Smith, a 6'4," 185-pound junior, is averaging the team-high 19.6 points per game and 4.7 rebounds. Sophomore Gibson, 6'2" and 165 pounds, contributes 6.4 points per Olney, center Daniel Santiago and forward Marty Cotwright to come off the game for the Lobos. Santiago, 7'1", sees minimal playing time but contributes 3.6 points per game and 1.6

rebounds when he's on the court.

Cotwright is the lone senior on the Schornstein were the only players who had played more than one year of NCAA Division I basketball.

Cats were in the tournament

Entering this season, Smith and Asbury said he honestly felt the

"But I've learned not to let yourself

K-State has gone farther than many

"It was a fair seed. We're considget too up or too down," he said. "If people expected, Asbury said, and he ered one of the Top 40 teams in the nation, and I think we're that," he said.

"We've definitely exceeded some

For seniors Tyrone Davis and Elliot Hatcher, the NCAA Tournament

you don't get in, you don't get in."

said he was pleased with the seed.

Olney is averaging 8.4 points per

New Mexico also has guard Royce

At the guard position, the Lobos game for the Lobos.

game and 3.2 boards.

bench.

Lobos squad.

expectations."

forward Clayton Shields. Shields averages 13.4 points per game and 6.1

bid to the NCAA Tournament.

New Mexico was riding high on a seven-game winning streak heading

The Lobos are led by freshman

The Lobos earned its seventh-seed

Sony Pictures Entertainment Inc. and individuals who played key roles in the movie's development concede in court papers that two emotional movie scenes were inspired by Bowers' case.

There was a courtroom scene in which Beckett opens his shirt to display his lesions, and one in which Beckett's mother encourages his fight, saying "I didn't raise my kids to sit in the back of the bus."

However, the lawyers maintain both moments were described in published stories that were in the public

Bowers' family, from Medford, Mass., said in their lawsuit that they had negotiated to have a movie made about his struggle but were left out after telling their story to Scott Rudin, a defendant and one of the producers of "Philadelphia."

Defendant Ron Nyswaner, who wrote the movie's script, said in a court document that Rudin approached him in 1988 about writing a screenplay based on the Bowers

He said Rudin gave him a copy of an article about Bowers but never told him anything he had learned from his discussions with the Bowers family.

Nyswaner said he did extensive research, and talked to people diagnosed with AIDS. And he noted that at the time one of his own nephews was dving of AIDS, as was a close friend of the movie's director, Jonathan

No. 10 Utah in the finals of the Athletic Conference Western Tournament

The Lobos finished its most successful season in school history with a 27-4 record.

"New Mexico is a tougher team than people think. They played great ball at home this season," Sloan said. "But I think we match up good against

If the Cats get past the Lobos, they could be facing a possible match-up against 26-7 Georgetown.

"If we have to play Georgetown, it could be a long, long day for the Cats," Hays said.

will be their last games in a Wildcat seniors. It's a wonderful, terrific thing for the seniors to finish this way,"

Asbury said.

"This will be really huge for the

But the seniors aren't the only players going. "This will be a great experience for the young guys," he said. "It will be a great motivator and incentive for them. All they hype and excitement will act as a carrot for them in the next few years."

Flames engulf 100s of acres

Chris Oakley

Late Sunday night a fire swept through private property in Geary County five miles south of I-70 on Highway 177.

Bill Deppish, Geary County sheriff, said he received the call about 10:15 p.m. He said the fire was initially reported to cover 100 acres.

"We're probably up to a couple hundred (acres) by now. We haven't gotten all around it. I have no idea how it started," he said.

Deppish said a house was in the fire's path, but firefighters were able to divert the blaze away from the Deppish said he thought the fire was under control. He said he didn't think any other homes were in the fire's path, but he hadn't been able to survey the entire area.

Garry Berges, Geary County assistant fire chief, said he didn't know what started the fire.

"I've talked to a couple of people, but I'm not going to say anything yet. Our main concern is to get the fire out as quick as possible," he said.

Berges said fighting such a large fire with heavy winds can cause prob-

'You get a lot of trucks and pour a whole lot of water on it. That's about all you can do," he said.

Berges said two fire vehicles had broken down, but it wasn't a concern. 'Stuff like that happens. We deal with it as best we can," he said.

Most of the fire was on property owned by Double Bar Pine. Berges said the company uses the land for a tree farm, agriculture and some of the property is used for a dump

Owners of the land refused to Firefighters from Riley and Geary counties, Alta Vista and Konza Valley

Getting Fit for Motherhood This aerobics program is specially designed for pregnant and postpartum women and is facilitated by a certified aerobics instructor. Access to our Fitness Center is also available. You may enroll at anytime in your pregnancy or postpartum with your doctor's approval. Call the Memorial Hospital Fitness Center at 587-4235 for

Nature's Way Breastfeeding Class

Breastleeding success begins with education. Our certified breastfeeding educators are trained to assist breastfeeding families in all stages of lactation. The Nature's Way Breastfeeding Class is offered monthly to expectant couples and those with new arrivals. Call 587-5413 for times.

Breastfeeding Support

Breastleeding mothers seeking support or assistance can contact our staff of certified breastleeding educators. If you are returning to work or to school and wish to continue breastfeeding, our educators can help you develop an individualized plan of care to meet your personal breastfeed ing goals. Call 587-4264 for an appoint ment. After hours, call 776-3300.

Sibling Classes

This class helps to prepare children ages three and older to welcome a new sister or brother. Call 587-5413 for times.

CPR Training

CPR training is offered for parents and expectant parents, day care providers, babysitters, grandparents, and teachers. Call 587-5413 for times and fees.

Gift Bonuses

An infant or toddler car seat or a baby sling are available as a gift bonus for parents who participate in our childbirth classes and give birth at The Birthplace.

Every New Mom Every new mom receives a diaper bag and baby's first T-shirt.

High Risk Obstetric and Neonatal Intensive Care

The Birthplace is the only service of its kind in a 60-mile radius of Manhattan, providing expert care for mothers, well babies, premature babies, and babies with medical complications.

Call Maurenne Griese, RNC, BSN, Certified Childbirth and Breastfeeding Educator, at 587-5413 for more information or to register for a class.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

their community, church and high school," Moeder said. K-State has given $60,000 in general scholarships this year, Moeder said. It has awarded 96 leadership scholarships during the 1996-97 school year. All the money raised by the logo is distributed toward athletics, the marching band and other scholarship funds.

The difference between the logo scholarship and other scholarships is how it is funded, Moeder said.

Most scholarship money is raised through private or individual funds. One example is people's leaving a certain amount of money in their will to fund various scholarships.

'The logo scholarship is an ongoing effort to raise money," Moeder

"The money is being raised all the time, not just an amount that's left to a scholarship." "The application process takes place in the fall of the student's senior year of high school," Moeder said. "As the money from the logo is raised, it will be used during the student's first year."

The deadline for general scholarship funding was Feb. 1. But scholarship applications are available all the time in the Office of Financial Aid in Fairchild 104

Principal-Counselor-Student CONFERENCE

The Office of Admissions cordially invites former students of these high schools to attend the 1996 Principal-Counselor-Student Conference. High school principals and counselors will be on campus to visit with you about your preparation for and experiences in KSU Academic programs. Your participation will help the University build a stronger relationship with your former high school faculty.

Andale - Ahearn 61

Andover - Ahearn 11

You are welcome to drop by between 10:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. on Wednesday, March 13. This is an excellent opportunity for you to renew old friendships with former classmates. The Provost has asked that your instructors excuse you from these class periods.

March 13, 1996 in the K-State Union Ahearn Field House

Arkansas City - Ahearn 12 Atchison County Comm - Union 1st Floor 1 Atchison - Ahearn 25 Axtell - Ahearn 27 B & B - Aheam 15 Basehor-Linwood - Ahearn 10 Beloit - Ahearn 7 Bennington - Union Courtyard 6 Bern - Aheam 28 Blue Valley, Randolph - Ahearn 40 Blue Valley, Stilwell - Ahearn 24 Blue Valley North - Aheam 48 Blue Valley Northwest - Ahearn 64 Bonner Springs - Union Courtyard 8 Bucklin - Ahearn 49 Buhler - Union Courtyard 9 Burlingame - Union 1st Floor 2 Caldwell - Union 1st Floor 19 Canton - Galva - Ahearn 14 Chaparral - Ahearn 54 Chapman - Ahearn 16 Cheney - Union Courtyard 10 Cimarron - Ahearn 51 Claffin - Union 1st Floor 3 Clay Center Comm - Ahearn 41 Clearwater - Union 1st Floor 20 Colby - Union Courtyard 11 Concordia - Ahearn 55 Coldwater - Ahearn 5 Decatur Comm - Ahearn 4 Derby - Ahearn 33

De Soto - Union Courtyard 12 Dighton - Ahearn 38 Emporia - Aheam 35 Eudora - Union 212A F.L. Schlagle - Ahearn 42 Flint Hills Christian - Union 1st Floor 4 Frankfort - Union 1st Floor 5 Goddard - Union Forum Hall, Main B Goessel - Ahearn 67 Great Bend - Ahearn 52 Greeley Co. - CANCELLED Haven - Union 1st Floor 6 Hayden - Ahearn 60 Hays - Aheam 23 Hiawatha - Ahearn 29 Highland Park - Ahearn 50 Holton - Union 212B Humboldt - Union 1st Floor 7 Hutchinson - Union 206A Immaculata - Aheam 17 Independence - Union 1st Floor 8 J.C. Harmon - Ahearn 59 Jackson Heights - Union 1st Floor 9 Jayhawk-Linn - Ahearn 43 Jefferson Co. North - Ahearn 22 Jetmore - Union 212C Junction City - Aheam 56 Labette Co. - Union 1st Floor 10 Lansing - Ahearn 37 Leavenworth - Ahearn 34 Little River - Aheam 18 Madison - Union, Forum Hall Balcony B Manhattan - Union 202

Marais des Cygnes - CANCELLED Marysville - Aheam 39 Meade - Ahearn 66 Millard North - Ahearn 21 Minneapolis - Union 212D Moundridge - Union 1st Floor 11 Mulvane - Ahearn 65 Neodesha - Union Courtyard 4 Ness City - Ahearn 30 Newton - Ahearn 8 Nickerson - Aheam 32 Norton Comm - Ahearn 2 Olathe North - Union Big Eight B Olathe South - Union 208 Onaga - Ahearn 62 Osage City - Union 1st Floor 18 Osawatomie - Ahearn 3 Osborne - Ahearn 19 Ottawa - Ahearn 1 Oxford - Union 1st Floor 12 Paola - Union Courtyard 1 Peabody - Ahearn 58 Plainville - Union Courtyard 5 Prairie View, Les Cygne - Aheam 53 Pretty Prairie - Ahearn 6 Protection/Coldwater - Ahearn 5 Rock Creek - Union 1st Floor 13 Rossville - Union 1st Floor 14 Russell - Aheam 26 Sacred Heart - Union 207B St. (Saint) Xavier - Ahearn 57 Salina Central - Ahearn 63 Salina South - Union 205

Seaman - Union 207A Shawnee Heights - Union Big Eight C Shawnee Msn NW - UN Council Chamber Shawnee Msn South - Union 204 Shawnee Msn West - Union 209 Smith Center - Union, Forum Hall Main A Southeast of Saline - Ahearn 31 Sumner Academy - Union 1st Floor 15 Thomas More Prep-Marian - Ahearn 36 Tonganoxie - Ahearn 44 Topeka - Union 206B Ulysses - Union Forum Hall Balcony A Valley Falls - Ahearn 45 Wakefield - Union 1st Floor 16 Washburn Rural - Ahearn 46 Washington (K.C.) - Union Courtyard 2 Washington (Washington) - Ahearn 20 Wellington - Ahearn 9 West Smith County - Ahearn 47 White Rock - Union 1st Floor 17 Wichita East - Union, Little Theatre A Wichita Heights - Union Big Eight A Wichita NW - Union, Little Theatre B

Wichita South - Union 203

Wednesday, 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m.

Today: Partly cloudy. See weather map, page 2.

inside OPINION . page 4

K-STATE LIFE . page 5

SPORTS . page 0

DIVERSIONS • page 7

Section PO Box 3585 Topeka 56601

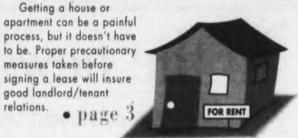

Kansas State Historical Society

Exp. Date 00/00

March 12, 1996 Volume 100, Number 112

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas relations.

HUNTING FOR AN APARTMENT

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

a century of

LANDON LECTURE

Lecturer explains rationale

Former president of Poland explains reasons for declaring martial law

Chris Oakley

For the first time in the United States, Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, former president of Poland, explained his rationale for declaring martial law in Poland 15 years ago and the results of his actions, during the 105th Landon Lecture Monday.

Jaruzelski, speaking through translator Mark Dobek, professor of political science at Benedictine College, addressed about 775 people at McCain Auditorium. He said the decision was the result of being between the anvil of internal conflicts and the hammer of external danger.

"Martial law was an evil which resulted in various human vexations and suffering which I very much regret. But even so, they were a lesser evil than the multidimensional catastrophe which faced us as a very real danger," Jaruzelski said.

"I spent the weeks prior to taking the decision on martial law as in some horrible nightmare. I entertained thoughts of suicide," he said.

Jaruzelski said a sense of responsibility for his family, friends and country held him back.

At the time Jaruzelski declared martial law, Poland was under pressure from Russia to normalize increasing tension between the Communist Party, which was losing power, and the Solidarity Party, a non-communist trade union, which was

• See JARUZELSKI Page 10

Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, former president of Poland, stands and listens to Mark Dobek, interpreter and a professor in political science at Benedictine College, deliver his type-written speech to an audience of 775 in McCain Auditorium during a Landon Lecture Monday morning. SHANE KEYSER

STUDENT SENATE

Fate of Lafene falls into Senate's hands

Heather Hollingsworth

The level of health care services students receive hinges on the decision of student senators tonight.

QUICKread

Senate will vote on two fee bills at tonight's meeting.

student health

► Student

Ending a month-long debate, Student Senate will vote on two bills presented for first readings March 7. In a bill pro- . posed by senators Mark Tomb and Shannon Alford, the student health fee would increase from $70 to about $77 per semester.

The fee would be reviewed prior to 1998-99, and following each fiscal year, the director of Lafene would submit a written summary of the usage of the student fee money to the Student Senate chair for the entire Senate's benefit.

The second bill to be discussed is a referendum vote in which students would vote on whether to increase the fee or leave the fee at its current level of funding.

Students would vote on the bill during the April 9-10 elections, and it would take 60 percent of the vote to increase the student health fee.

According to the current bill, the question would read "Should the Student Health Fee budget be increased to $2,965,465.41 (about $167 per year for full-time students)?"

If neither bill is passed, the funding for next year will remain at $70 per semester and result in a $1.1million budget reduction.

The funding increase presented by Jeff Sweat, arts and sciences senator, was sent back to committee.

Unless 60 percent of the senators vote to remove the bill from committee, it will die. As the final decisions are made, Lafene employees nervously await

"I'm concerned," said Catherine Barry, director of nursing and risk the final figures.

manager. "I know full well when an institution is required to cut funding and they aren't prepared, the quality of service declines.

With nearly 80 percent of the budget determined a year in advance, the administration was uneasy about the last-minute budget

Salaries and benefits make up about 76 percent of the Lafene operating budget and were mandated by the state of Kansas, and contractual agreements with vendors comprise another 4 percent of the budget, Lannie Zweimiller, director of Lafene, said.

Raising prices could not completely make up for the loss of funding involved in a $1.1-million budget reduction, he said.

Zweimiller said the only way to maintain services at their current level is with the Student Health Advisory Committee's Schedule A, which would cost students about $105 per semester.

"I cannot operate with the same level of funding as this year," he

"It's as true today as when I first said it."

Zweimiller said he respected the student input, but the last-minute decisions were difficult. "It is handier to know a year in advance." Zweimiller said.

"That is going to have to change. It takes a year to make the adjustment."

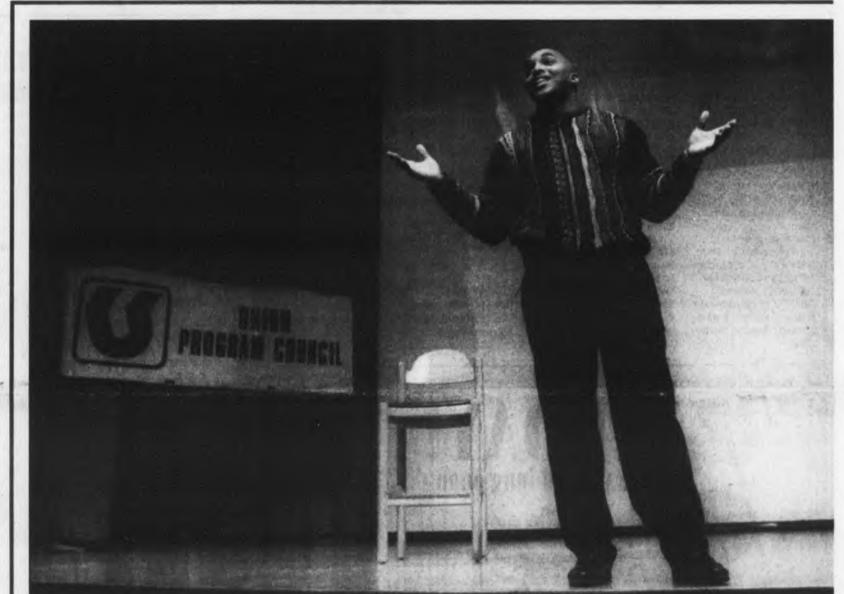

Zweimiller said the process needed to be rethought. "Hopefully we can get through this and get it fixed for future vears. In the meantime, Lafene is holding its expenses to a minimum, Zweimiller said. "We are not making any obligations that would jeopardize us in the future," he said. Despite the funding uncertainty, the staff still cares for 300-400 students per day.

"The staff has continued to do what they do - provide quality health care," Barry said.

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

William Gates, one of two subjects of the critically acclaimed documentary film "Hoop Dreams," speaks to students Monday night in Forum Hall. Gates' speech was sponsored by the Union Program Council Multicultural Committee.

'Hoop Dreams' star speaks of motivation

Brent Smitko

staff reporte

William Gates, one of the stars of the critically acclaimed documentary "Hoop Dreams," sent a message to young peoplé last night.

Students should do something that drives them, Gates said.

"You only fear what you think you can't make happen," he said to a crowd in Forum Hall. The "Hoop Dreams" lecture was a part of Free Your Mind Week, sponsored by the Union Program Council Multicultural Committee.

Gates began the lecture by showing two clips that were used to promote the documentary

"The first clip made the movie seem like an action-filled, 'Above the Rim' kind of film," he said. "The second clip was better, but you've got to remember they were still trying to make money.

"Hoop Dreams" evolved from more than 400 hours of film and took three years to edit, Gates said. Now he enjoys the financial security from his share of at least $14 million pulled in by the film and the "Hoop Dreams"

Gates addressed the effect "Hoop Dreams" has had on young people around the country. He admitted taking on the responsibility of a role model but said, "Everybody is a role

The film's focus was to show how two inner-city African American youths used basketball to escape the problems that faced them, Gates said. "The biggest thing I hope people learn is about the pressures of life," he

"The way I dealt with my disappointments was to refocus my energy," Gates said. "You need your education to move forward."

All his energy was needed to deal with being a parent while still in high

• See GATES Page 3

E-scape magazine publisher J. Patrick McDonald, extension assistant, began the magazine out of personal interest in science fiction. He said he hopes the readership will grow to about 1,000 for the electronic magazine.

Science Fiction.com

 On-line magazine features stories for sciencefiction lovers

A Topeka couple was confronted and attacked in a downtown alley by a horned beast towering more than 7 feet high in a recent story in E-scape, the Digital Journal of Speculative Fiction.

The on-line magazine's first issue hit the World Wide Web in September 1995. It specializes in science fiction, fantasy and horror stories.

"I've always been interested in publishing. When we found we had the ability to do an electronic magazine and had all the tools, we decided to do it. It all jelled together," said J. Patrick McDonald, publisher of E-scape and an extension assistant for the Center for Hazardous Substance Research at K-

About 500 people viewed the first issue. To make the magazine really work, McDonald said he would need a regular readership numbering in the thousands. A readership that size could attract more advertisers

Regular magazines use money Address The World Wide Web from the sale of the printed prodaddress to E-scape is (http://www.interink.com/escape.html). uct and from subscriptions to offset production

"That is not practical in a medium where one movement of a finger can send free copies to all 10,000 of a subscriber's best friends and relatives. So we turn to advertise," said Marie Loughin, editor of E-scape, in an edito-

Right now, the magazine has only one advertiser, Dax's Games in Aggieville, McDonald is also paying some expenses out of his own pocket. Rising paper costs are not a problem rial in the first issue.

for on-line magazines, but there are some incurred expenses. E-scape pays its authors in an attempt to attain highquality speculative fiction for its publication and attract accomplished writers.

The premiere issue boasted stories from Lee Killough, Dave Phalen and Glenn Sixbury. Sixbury is the assistant director of computing for Continuing Education Sponsored Projects at K-State. Being involved with the first issue,

I obviously thought it was something worthwhile. So far, they've put out three issues. I think that they have all been solid issues," Sixbury said.

There is a set of writer's guidelines in the table of contents of each issue of E-scape which explains how to submit manuscripts for consideration. About one in five manuscripts received make it into the maybe pile, and from there, Loughin and Phalen, who is the assistant editor, narrow down the choices

• See E-SCAPE Page 3

► SPEAKER

Kissinger to present 106th Landon Lecture

Abbi Hake

Henry Kissinger, former secretary of state and Nobel Peace Prize winner, will present the 106th Landon Lecture at 11 a.m. April 29.

Charles Reagan, chair of the Landon Lecture committee, said he estimates about 5,000 people will attend the Bramlage Coliseum event.

Kissinger, having served under several presidents since the Nixon administration, has specialized in foreign affairs. "His whole life was devoted to foreign policy," Reagan Kissinger was responsible for aiding Nixon in opening China's closed-door policy in 1976 and for his contribution to negotiating an end to the Vietnam War, for which he from 1983 to 1985. Most recently, from 1984 to 1990, he was a member of president's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board.

received a Nobel Peace Prize,

Besides serving as secretary of state for President

Nixon from 1973 to 1977,

Kissinger was appointed to chair the National Bipartisan Commission on Central America by President Reagan

Reagan said.

Charles Reagan said he hopes people attending the lecture will appreciate Kissinger's role in foreign policy during the last 10 to 12

He said the speech will be continuation of the Landon Lecture Series that has been devoted to issues of public

In the news

▶ ASSISTANT DEAN OF STUDENT LIFE GETS PROMOTION FROM K-STATE

Working with students, parents and faculty to enhance student life has always been an important goal for Assistant Dean of Student Life Carla Jones.

And now she can broaden her contact with each.

"I'm really excited," Jones said Monday after announcing her acceptance of a promotion to associate dean of student life and director of the Office of Student Life at K-

"It doesn't necessarily mean more contact with students, but a broader contact," she said.

> Jones will begin her job July 1. The position grants Jones the ability to be involved with students on selection committees, in residence halls and in other areas of student life, she said.

She will be responsible for the supervision of the Office of Student Life and the support and supervision of Adult Student Services, the International Student Center, religious activities and the Women's

She will also be responsible for adjudication of student concerns brought under the harassment policies, said Pat Bosco, associate vice president and dean of student life.

The position opened when Susan Scott, the current associate dean and supervisor of the office, requested reassignment to other responsibilities. Scott will be assuming the responsibilities of the academic leadership development programs formerly held by Bernard Franklin, who is leaving K-State this summer to become vice president and national director of the National Center for Fathering.

The name of the Dean of Student Life Office will be changed to more accurately reflect the services the office provides. The new title will be the Office of Student Life.

Sarah Lunday

▶ DOGS SAVE 10-YEAR-OLD BOY

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) - They led a boy to the brink of death, then saved his life. Now two dogs are going to get a new home. Josh Carlisle, a 10-year-old with Down's syndrome, was playing in his yard when a couple of wandering dogs apparently caught his eye and he followed them into the rugged, wooded Ozarks near his home.

For three days, as temperatures dipped into single digits, up to 350 volunteers searched for the boy. On Saturday, a man on horseback heard barking and found Josh in the company of the two protective dogs.

The dogs took him in as if they were his mother," Sheriff Ralph Hendrix said Monday. "They probably curled up next to him and kept him warm, warm enough to stay alive on us." The dogs are "God's angels," said Josh's stepfather, Lynn Coffey. He and Josh's mother, Johnny Coffey, planned to give the strays a new home for keeping the boy alive.

horse through rough ter-

The dog tried to keep up when a police car rushed Josh to a medical helicopter, but his tired legs gave out. Nell gave him a cheese-andbologna sandwich. "He

The smaller of the dogs, a dachshund, fol-

rain as they carried the cold little boy to help.

lowed rescuer Oscar

"Junior" Nell and his stayed with us through thick and thin," Nell said. The second dog, described by the sheriff as a heeler, a type of dog used to herd livestock, was found Sunday afternoon by Josh's next-door neighbors. Tony Thomas food out to lure it closer. "It was just a real timid dog," his wife, Julia, said Monday. "It wouldn't eat unless we left it near their house and put saw the dog on a hill alone." Both dogs will remain with the sheriff's department until Josh comes home from Cox Medical Oenter South in Springfield. The boy was in fair condition with frost-

Senate agenda

The Student Senate meeting is at 7 tonight in The Big 8 Room

Call to order Roll call

Open Period: Susan Drake pproval of March 7 minutes mittee reports Student Director's reports

Approval of Appointments

Res. 95/96/73 Approval of new senators

Second readings

Bill 95/96/108 Reconstruction of student activity fee BM 95/96/113 Continuance of UPC fee

Bill 95/96/117 Authorization of spring referendum for student health

Bill 95/96/118 Increase in student health fee

First Readings

Bill 95/96/119 Student review dates for privilege fees

Bill 95/96/107 College Council FY '97 allocation

Held in committee

Bill 95/96/49 Senator education requirements - Senate operations

Reference of legislation

Open period mouncement of constitution and/or by-law revisions

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

SUNDAY, MARCH 10

At 12:56 p.m., Austin Gottlob, his vehicle in D-5. Damage was a broken mirror and a dented fender Martatt 526, reported vandalism to

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

SUNDAY, MARCH 10

At 5:20 a.m., an employee advised that Full Service Beverage, 4701 Fort Riley Blvd., appeared to have been was damage to the glass door.

At 9:53 a.m., Karen Gest, 1834 Laramie St., reported a blue 21ed, 15-inch Cannondale mount bike taken. Loss was $500. At 9:54 a.m., Julie Williams, 2105

Poyntz Ave., Apt. 503, reported a terroristic threat. Criminal threats and telephone harassment report was At 11:01 a.m., Terry L. Lloyd, 561 Maple Alley, Ogden, reported taken and recovered a 1994 Ford Mustang,

Patricia Place, and David Weir, 418 valued at $3,000. A theft report was At 11:20 a.m., additional items

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291

Kan . 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second-class and an AT&T pager. Loss was $240. At 11:38 a.m., an information report was filed on an attempted su erage. They were a set of keys

At 12:36 p.m., John P. Lapotaire, 30, of Texas, was arrested on a Riley County warrant in Caldwell County, Texas, for 11 counts of theft. Bond was set at $35,000.

At 4:14 p.m., Virginis Morris, 2011 Tecumseh Road, reported James B. Morris Jr. missing. He was last seen Saturday at 11 p.m. He stayed with a riend and did not return at 10 a.m. Sunday because he did not want to return home. Subject has not been seen or heard from since. Subject is a 17-year-old white male, 5'5," 138 pounds, last wearing a blue plaid shirt and blue jeans.

postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167. 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan

© Kansas State Collegian, 1995.

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Career and Employment Services will aponeor a resumé-building workshop at 3:30 p.m. today in Union 212.

Community Service Program Tutoring will meet at 5 p.m. today in

The world is getting smalle Make yours larger. Volunteer to help an international student practice his or her spoken English in the Conversational English Program. Contact Jim Endrizzi at the onal Student Center, 532-at 7 tonight in Union Stateroom 1. The China campaign and new lead-erahip positions will be discussed.

BULLETINS

Student Foundation will meet at 6:30 tonight on the eixth floor of the Foundation Building.

Wheat State Agronomy Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in Throckmorton 2002.

M Hispanic American Leadership inization will meet at 6:30 p.m.

In ECM. Alpha Epellon Delta has initiation at 6 tonight in Union 213. The M KSU Rodeo Club will meet at 7

lowing the ceremony.

Social Work Organia

College of Human Ecology student ambassador applications are svallable. Applications are due in the dean's office March 15.

banquet will begin at 7:15 p.m. folmeet at 7 tonight in Union 205.

tonight in Weber 111.

CORRECTION

> In Monday's edition of the Collegian, an article titled, "Logo raises money for KSU programs," incorrectly reported that 96 leadership scholarships were awarded during the 1996-97 school year. It should have read that 96 scholarships were awarded during the 1995-96 school year. The Collegian regrets the error.

CORRECTION

➤ In Monday's edition of the Collegian, Jason Eckles' name was misspelled. He was also misidentified as a co-owner of the Waydown Lounge. Eckles, Ken Pingleton and Jim Janke are co-managers.

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today

Wednesday

Becoming partly cloudy. High around 70.

Omaha

and partly cloudy. Highs from 65 to 70 in the north and from 70 to 75 in the south.

plus... Live Para back patio

Come July

Denver

lows

67/42

Yesterday's

1 - 1 - 1 - 1 - 1

highs and

Breezy and partly cloudy. High from 65 to 70. South wind from 15 to 25 mph. Tonight, mostly cloudy. Law in the middle 40s.

MANHATTAN Kansas City 60/35

St. Louis . 55/30

STATE OUTLOOK

Breezy in the central and east.

Increasing clouds in the west and partly cloudy in the east. Warm with highs in the mid-60s in the northeast to mid-70s in the southwest. Tonight, mostly cloudy. Lows from the mid-30s in the northwest to mid-40s in the southeast. Wednesday, warm.

(just clean out the couch.)

6th Annual

drings food me Burgers

Chicken Bred BBQ Beef Sandwich BBQ Turkey Sandwich BBQ Ham Sandwich Combo Sandwich

BBQ Ribs Nachos Mozz Sticks Chicken Strips

Fries

Calls - Crown Jack, 7, ect... Shots - Screaming O's, Sex on the Beach, etc... Long Island Teas

Lynchburg Lemonades Screw Drivers Bloody Marys Amaretto Sours Summer Beers White Russians

& MORE...

Draws

Longnecks, Bud, Bud Light, Miller Lite, etc... Imports Corona, St. Pauli Girl, Dos Equis, Fosters, Helneken, Sam Adams, Molson, Labatts, etc...

Looking for a place to live takes effort

Abbi Hake

staff writer

Venturing out into the real world requires a lot of money and a great deal of time.

But apartment and house hunting don't have to be painful if the proper precautionary measures are taken before signing a lease,

Both the landlord and tenant have responsibilities. As long as these are maintained, it's relatively easy.

According to the Department of Human Resources, a tenant's basic responsibilities are to take care of the property, pay rent and notify the landlord in writing when something goes

A landlord's responsibility is to understand the needs of the tenant and insist that payments be on time.

Unfortunately, these measures are often not enough.

Scott Smith, director of student and tenant affairs, said the first thing a tenant needs to decide is how much to spend and where to live. There is a drastic difference in price, depending on the housing unit's proximity to

"If you're willing to walk, it will probably be a lot cheaper," Smith said.

Price is not the most important thing, though. The lease is a document that requires payment from the tenant; therefore, it should suit the tenant, he

Smith said leases to rent houses or apartments are legal contracts that bind the tenant to the terms expressed in it when they sign. Smith said he suggests taking the lease home and reading it carefully.

He said if some of the language of a lease is hard to understand, the prospective tenant should take it to the Office of Consumer and Tenant Affairs or ask the landlord. He recommended having someone, such as himself, who is versed in lease language to read and interpret each section.

Lori Barteau, human resource personnel technician at the Department of Human Resources, said the department distributes packets, free of charge, that provide easy-to-understand information for any tenant or Barteau recommends this packet to anyone who is looking for housing.

Included in the packet is an apartment/housing rental inventory that is critical, she said. The inventory lists everything in the house and cites what condition it is in when the tenant moved in to the place.

This list is for the protection of both tenant and landlord. If the landlord accuses the tenant of some wrongdoing that the tenant did not do, then the list will tell the truth.

It also aides the landlord in proving any damage done to the housing unit. This inventory must be done within the first five days of the tenant's occupancy and with both parties present.

Part of the inspection of the housing unit should concern safety.

Pat Ball, code inspection officer for the community development department, said the electrical condition of the house or apartment should be inspected before moving.

She said the house must contain two remote electrical outlets in each room and one outlet in the bathroom.

A tenant should also be aware of water stains and burn marks around electrical fixtures. Above anything else, Ball said to ask if the place has 60-amp service. If it has any less, the unit is in violation of code and may not accommodate for modern electronic usage.

Another safety tip concerns window size. Windows should be large enough to escape through in case of a Ball said, in many cases, this applies to basement apartments that were not built as living quarters.

If something in the house does not meet the tenant's expectations, the tenant can request the landlord make changes.

This kind of communication between the landlord and tenant creates an open atmosphere that can make future problems easier. You want to be friendly with your landlord. You don't want housing to be a big concern," Smith said.

Although this communication can be done verbally, Smith said everything that is said should be written down on paper as well.

Barteau said the most common mistakes made by tenants are not doing the inventory and holding back rent, which is a violation of the law.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

school. When he was 17 years old, Gates and his wife, Catherine, had their first child, Alicia, now 7 years

Today, Gates and his wife live in Milwaukee, Wis., with Alicia and their son, William Jr.

Gates was thankful to Saint Joseph's for providing him the opportunity to get a better education and was not resentful that the school used him for basketball.

"They got me what I wanted - a college scholarship," he said.

In retrospect, Gates said he never regretted being a part of the documentary, but he admitted there were times when he was ready to quit.

"They shot 24 hours a day, it seemed," he said. "I was excited, but as the years wore on, it became a

During one scene in the movie, Gates and his wife argued in the kitchen, and he recalled how uncomfortable that was with the cameras.

"I couldn't turn around and tell them to turn the camera off, so I just sucked it up and got chewed out on national television," he said.

But oddly enough, the cameras were one of the reasons why he agreed to do the documentary.

"The first motivation there was were the cameras," Gates said. "I looked at it as hey, here's instant pop-

After the five years of the camera crews following him around, Gates said it was like they were just filming family movies.

"After a while, they became extended family members," Gates

Elliot Hatcher, senior in social science and member of the K-State basketball team, said it was great to see a lot of young people at the lecture to hear Gates' message.

"It's good to let kids know they should dream," he said. "I saw the movie a few times, and I could see myself."

Now that the movie is over, Gates continues to tour the country speaking at colleges and basketball camps. Through it all, Gates and Arthur Agee have remained in touch.

"Arthur and I will be friends for life," he said.

People will remember his involvement in "Hoop Dreams."

"People ask me will I remember them when I make it, and I ask them will they remember me if I don't?"

E-SCAPE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 and eventually select five stories for each issue "Our definition of speculative fiction is pretty loose. We've published a couple of stories that really didn't smell of science fiction at all. We'd like to cover a range of subgenre within speculative fiction in each issue,"

Loughin said. With that goal in mind, Loughin said they still try to pick the best stories they can get, so the issues are not always balanced among science fiction, horror and fantasy.

The second issue, which came out in December 1995, offered fiction from Steve Olsen, Elizabeth Berrette, D.A. Velsmid and others. Mark Rich, Gregory Stewart, Ryck Neube, Clinton Lawrence and Séphera Girón had stories that appeared in the third issue, at the beginning of March.

Each issue also has game reviews, information on upcoming events that might be of interest to readers and a column by McDonald, called Reality

Topics for Reality Bytes have included mainstream press coverage of the Internet, a piece on dramatic elements in games and an explanation of the problems encountered when Escape was trying to put out its first

McDonald said he likes to write fiction, but it is usually unacceptable to publish one's own work.

"There are probably better writers out there than I, and we want to get a hold of them," said McDonald.

E-scape is also interested in finding artists to illustrate stories and is willing to pay $25 to $100 per page. They are particularly interested in digital format illustrations, but other art forms can be submitted.

"One thing that distinguishes us is the art we've had. Most on-line 'zines just have cover art and some blackand-white line art," McDonald said.

The cover art for the second issue was originally an oil painting by Laura Imel, which was photographed and scanned into the computer. The original painting is being displayed at Java Espresso and Bakery in Aggieville.

With everything from art to fiction and game reviews to event information, E-scape is dedicated to providinga top-quality speculative fiction

The magazine is free and can be copied and distributed as long as it is not sold or altered. Issue number four should appear about the end of April.

E-scape is published in HTML and available for viewing.

Adobe Acrobat format. Adobe has free Acrobat reader software (use 2.0 or later) that is needed to read the Adobe version, which is the one Escape recommends. A read-article function changes the two-column format into one so that readers can easily scroll through the stories. There is also help offered on the Web page to readers who have never surfed the web before. Free subscriptions are available. Subscribers will receive an email message when each new issue is Put Al&Fon vour resume before you graduate students to participate in our 7-day on-campus marketing program selling flexible with top compensation & bonuses. Must be available 1-2 weeks prior to the start of classes. We need:

1996 FALL MARKETING OPPORTUNITIES AVAILABLE

AT&T STUDENT CAMPUS MANAGER

To be responsible for overall event implementation, daily management & training of student group. Requires strong leadership ability. Prior manage-ment/sales-related experience a plus Must be available to attend National Training August 7-9, 1996

CAMPUS MANAGER

To manage a group of students on a daily basis and assist with overall event implementation. Sales leadership experi-

AT&T ASSISTANT STUDENT

AT&T STUDENT REP/CAMPUS GROUP

To act as our on-campus representatives Must be outgoing and sales-oriented. To find out more about these great opportunities, call 1 800 592-2121, ext. 319 or 355. Or send resume to Campu Attn.: TP. 1717 Arch Street, 33rd floor. Philadelphia, PA 19103, or fax: 215 568-1701 Equal Opportunity Employer

King Henry CRISPIAN'S DAY AT THE BOAR'S HEAD

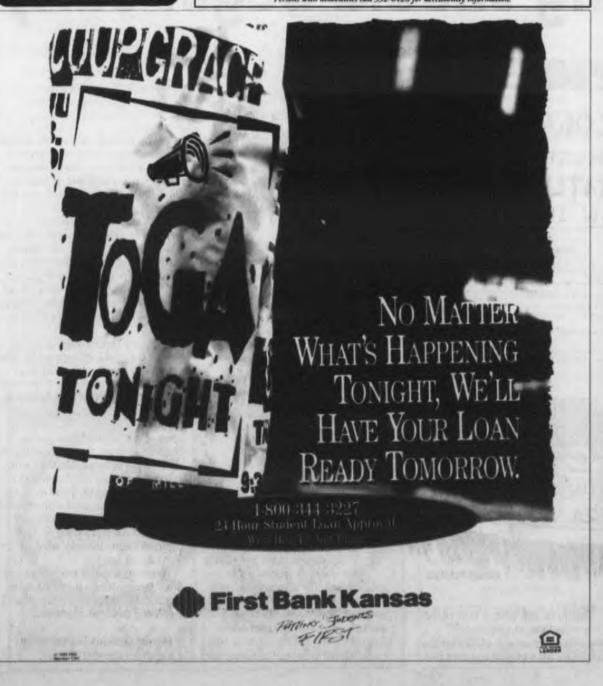

Sunday, March 17, 3 p.m.

McCain Auditorium . KSU Gen. Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9 Call 532-6428 or come to McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. VISA and MC accepted.

Tickets also available at the usual outlets Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency and the National Endowment for the Arts. Additional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to chance without notice

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility informati

WINTER PARK COLORADO $23/person for 2&3 bedroom condos ALDINE VACATION 1-800-290-8174 Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338 •Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service Call for appointment

PET HEALTH ALERT

Heartworm Season Begins in March Have Your Dog Tested!!

Kansas State University Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital

Saturday, March 16 & March 23

Times: 8:40:30 a.m. each day Call Now for an apppointment

532-5690 Dogs must be 5 1/2 months old to be tested.

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m

PLAYBOY coming

Attention female student body! Ever fantasized about being pictured in the number-one men's magazine in the world? Now's your chance to turn fantasy into reality. Representatives from Playboy magazine are coming to Manhattan to interview and photograph female students for its fall 1996 pictorial, "The Women of the Big 12." Thousands of coeds have tried out for Playboy since it began its college conference pictorials 19 years ago. Many have gone on to become Playboy Playmates, models and actresses. Even more have become doctors, lawyers, scientists, professors, business and government professionals, wives and moms. Who knows what the future holds for you? Of course, you could always dig out your issue and relive your glory days with your grandkids.

To arrange for an interview, candidates should send a recent full-figure photo in a two-piece swimsuit (or less) plus a head-and-shoulders shot to Playboy's home office in Chicago. Polaroids, snapshots or slides are OK. Candidates should also supply the following information:

YEAR IN SCHOOL DATE OF BIRTH

COURSE OF STUDY

OSPORTS/ACTIVITIES HEIGHT, WEIGHT AND MEASUREMENTS

Candidates must be 18 years or older and registered as a full- or part-time student at a Big 12 university. Clear copies of identification—one verifying enrollment in school and a photo ID that shows date of birth-must be included. All photos become property of Playboy and cannot be returned.

INTERVIEWS AT KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY WILL BE HELD ON TUESDAY, APRIL 16 AND WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17. PLAYBOY WILL CONTACT CANDIDATES TO PROVIDE THE LOCA-TION WHERE THE PLAYBOY PHOTO TEAM WILL HOLD INTERVIEWS.

SEND SUBMISSIONS TO: PLAYBOY MAGAZINE, WOMEN OF THE BIG 12 680 NORTH LAKE SHORE DRIVE, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60611 e-mail: photo@playboy.com

Opinion

DO YOU HAVE AN OPINION ABOUT THE LAFENE FEE?

If you have an opinion about the Lafene Health Center fee, the members of Student Senate would like to hear it. A list of senators and e-mail addresses has been compiled on the E-Collegian for Point your web browser to (http://www.spub.ksu.edu/) and let your senators know what their constituents think.

COLLEGIANopinion

Students should speak before Senate tonight

QUICKread

Students should call

532-6541 to reserve a place during open period for tonight's Student Senate meeting. Or they can contact their senators with a link on the

Electronic Collegian

edu/). The link is in the opinion section.

(http://www.spub.ksu.

Stop telling your friends what you think about the Lafene Health Center fee increase. It's time to let Student Senate know your opinion.

Senate will again be voting on the fee increase tonight in the K-State Student Union Big 8 Room.

The job of the senators is to represent the wishes of their constituents. But before they can stand up for what you want, you've got to let them know your wishes.

E-mail your senators using the link on the Electronic Collegian (http://www.spub.ksu.edu).

Or call John Potter, senate chair, and get yourself on the list of speakers during open period.

Either way, go to the meeting tonight and show Senate you are inter-

More than 14,000 students used

Lafene last year, and 80 percent of K-State's graduating seniors used the facility at least once during their college career. Senate needs to hear these students' opinions.

Senators passed this legislation once before, only to be vetoed by Student Body President Jeff Peterson.

Tell senators they did the right thing the first time, and you want them to pass it again.

Senators, don't be intimidated by the power of Peterson's veto. He should respect your views and let it pass. What's the use of spending hours working, only to be shot down by a president who insists on sticking to his own platform and not to students' wishes?

Students, take those friends who have known your opinion all along to the Big 8 Room and tell your senators. Make a date of it.

TOLES

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

LECTURE COMMITTEE ERRED IN JARUZELSKI

Editor,

Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski to be nominated man of the year in

This would not come as a surprise to us after the manner in which he was lionized at the Landon Lecture this morning.

It is ironic that a man who was the synonym for brutality and antidemocracy, who had trampled human rights underfoot, was introduced to the public by the Landon committee as the architect of democracy in Poland. This is a man who introduced martial law in Poland - a law that led to the arrests of thousands of Solidarity leaders, thus postponing the democratization of Poland.

Such an introduction, which is no less than a falsification of history, could only mislead unsuspecting students at K-State.

What we would like to know is, why would such individuals be invited to address the public in a country which supports democracy and human rights?

Shoba S. Rajgopal, India Barbara Hofer, Austria Roopa Swaminathan, India Alexander Nitz, Italy Nikola Zytkow, Poland

NATION OF ISLAM COLUMN WAS WELL WRITTEN

I am writing in response to Scott Allen Miller's column "Nation of Islam is not Islamic," published March I. I am surprised to find such a delicate topic as Islam written in such a fine and clear manner. I have come across many inaccurate articles on Islam, but Miller has shown beyond a reasonable doubt the un-Islamic nature of the Nation of Islam. Islam is the religion of God, and Muhammad is the Last Messenger. "Farrakhanism," or the religion that the Nation of Islam stands for, is totally un-Islamic and contradicts the Islamic belief that Prophet Muhammad brought to the world.

The Nation of Islam focuses on black people only, right from the start. Islam stands for equality. It is the message for the whole of mankind. There is no difference between black and white or any other race. Allah has said in the Quran that He has created mankind differently so that they may recognize each other.

Islam is the religion for the whole of mankind and is complete in its form. The Holy Book revealed to Muhammad by God is The Quran. This book contains the words of God. The theme of the Book is to guide man to the straight path. This is to submit totally to Him and not associate anyone with Him.

For those who do good in this life, there is Paradise and eternal peace in the Life-Here-After. For those who are non-believers, there is no peace. For them there is Hellfire. This is explicitly written in the Quran many times. stressing the consefor quences man's actions in this life.

Islam is the only religion on Earth which does not seek mediation in worship and seeking guidance. A muslim directly asks God his/her wishes any time and any place! He/she follows an Islamic Code of Life, and this is written specifically in the Quran and explained in the teachings of the Prophet. So this way of life is not man-made!

Muhammad's being the last messenger would mean there are also other prophets, and yes, there are. To name a few of the hundreds: Adam, Noah, Abraham, Joseph, Jesus, Moses, David and Muhammad. All these messengers, except Muhammad, were sent to specific regions of the world. Muhammad was sent to all of mankind with Islam. There are only four messengers to

MAJED KHAN

66 The Nation

people only,

right from the start. Islam stands for whole of mankind" equality. It is the message for the

L of Islam,

focuses on black whom Allah revealed His message in Books. The Prophets Jesus, Moses, David and Muhammad received The Bible, Torah, Zaboor and Ouran respectively. A Muslim believes in all these Messengers and their Books With the exception of the Quran, the true message which the Books brought was lost, as these Books were changed. The Ouran has promised by Allah to be preserved in its original context until the Day of Judgment.

Also, the Quran is for the whole of mankind, whereas the other three were revealed to specific societies of specific times.

There are Five Pillars of Islam which a Muslim believes. Shahaadah (Testimony): There is no god but Allah, and Muhammad is the Last Messenger. Salaah (prayer): A Muslim prays five times a day. These are the prayers at dusk, midday, afternoon, sunset and the night prayer. These prayers can be performed at any place, as long as the area for bowing is Islamically clean. Sawm (Fasting): This is done during the month of Ramadan. Here a Muslim does not eat, drink or have sex from before the sunrise until before sunset. Then there is Zakat, paying the poor, and finally Haji, which is performing pilgrimage to Mecca - if one is able

If there are any questions regarding Islam, you may reach the Manhattan mosque at 776-1033 or 776-8543.

Majed Khan

graduate student in electrical engineering

In respect for the prophets, peace be upon them

Myview

Language learning should begin early

Schields

f ever at McCain Auditorium you glance down to the salt-andpepper rows of the orchestra level and spot a tall blonde flanked by two dark imps, that would be my friends and me.

We're a trio of novices who happened to get our Select-a-Series choices in early enough to sit where nearly everyone else has a little stately gray in their hair.

At most performances, I enjoy sitting close to the stage among such dignified company, but last Tuesday at "La Traviata," it presented a prob-

I'd never seen a live opera before, but even a novice such as I knows Italian is the true language of opera. I don't speak Italian. How fortunate, then (or so I thought), that this performance came complete with English supertitles. A few minutes into the first act, I didn't find the supertitles as convenient as I'd expected. As "super" implies, the titles were above the stage, and reading them from row D involved tilting my head up at an awkward angle, momentarily drawing my eyes away from the performance.

Additionally, whenever I consulted the supertitles after hearing a phrase in the beautiful soprano of Violetta, I was disappointed with a translation as mundane as, "Thanks for the

Perhaps it was the very feeling of the music or the length of the phrase that led me to believe she had said more, and she had. Before long, it became obvious the supertitles were just communicating the main idea.

Well, I had picked up the opses of acts in the program beforehand. I am minoring in another

ty of the Italian cognates.

with. I've learned from one wonderful Spanish instructor after another, yet I speak poorly and comprehend only bits and pieces of Spanish outside of the class-In spite of all the effort my instructors have exerted upon haven't had much to work

me, not one has been able to teach me to be three years old again. It's silly to start learning a language at age 18. Evidently, there are at least a couple of things we should begin learning much earlier.

> Human babies are born to acquire language. You environment, and within a year, they're contributing to that environment. For several years, they language acquisition, until they cross language doesn't come quite so easily. The older they get, the slower they continue at this breakneck pace of a certain critical point, after which stick them in a verbal

The very fact so many of us are putting ourselves through the frustration of learning a new language learn. By the time they reach college, their language is fairly well crystallized. It's difficult to adopt the char-alone the workings of a different lan-received in a foreign language was as a junior in high school, and training is what it was. Even at the age of 16,

I could no longer pick up language with the virtual effortlessness of my who were already fluent in two lan-

German teacher's two young children, acteristics of a different dialect, let

The first serious training I past the age at which we first voted is evidence we are at least beginning to wake up from the arrogant notion that we live in an English-speaking country. As various ethnic groups continue to grow, the responsibility to know more than one language will become more and more obvious.

If a way could be found to reach the ones who will learn with minimal effort - to simulate the bilingual household for every child - they could be taking in every word of "La Traviata" at age 12.

When they understand opera and other foreign things they find themselves surrounded by, perhaps they'll find them easier to appreciate.

Keely Schields is a junior in English/creative writing.

romantic language, Spanish, so 1 decided to forsake the supertitles and focus on the emotion of the music and the action onstage. I thoughteighth or ninth word, which was disappointing in the middle of my sixth surely I would understand the majorisemester of Spanish. After this much All in all, I'd say I caught every study of a language so similar, I should be able to do a little better with Italian. The Department of Modern Languages hasn't failed me; they just ■ Saturday — Asian American Awareness Month: Daniel Fung, K-State professor in animal sciences and industry, "How to be Successful in the United States as an American-Chinese," at 3 p.m. in the Union Big 8 Room.

K-STATE

TUESDAY March 12, 1996

Features editor: N. Stewart Anderson 532-6556 - imbatman@ksu.edu

Making the early grade

Pre-med students should select a medical school early to avoid setbacks later

by Jill Story

n education from kindergarten through 12th grade takes 13 years. Tack on four or five more for an undergraduate degree. Yet another four years of intensive study may not sound like icing on the cake, but for students with aspirations of becoming physicians, those extra four years are non-negotiable.

Susan Gormely, health professions adviser, says the majority of K-State's pre-medical students looking for admission to medical school apply to the University of Kansas School of Medicine

According to KU's 1996-98 School of Medicine Catalog, "Well-qualified applicants who are residents of Kansas are given first preference.

Lin Bliss, senior in pre-medicine and history, has known since October that he would be at KU medical school in the fall because he applied for and received early-decision admission.

"It took out a lot of the anxiety to know then where I would be going. Also, I could start planning for and finding an apartment and financial aid," Bliss said.

Chris Hubener, senior in life sciences, also received early decision in October. Jennifer, Hubener's wife and senior in human resource management, said she was glad to know in advance where the couple would be so that she could find a job in the Kansas City, Kan., area.

Those headed to medical school without a built-in roommate usually choose one from among fellow medical students.

Shelley Mundhenke, senior in life science and French, and Kimberly Mosier, senior in foods and nutrition, are planning to live together while attending KU medical school beginning next fall.

Mundhenke said having a fellow medical student as a roommate is the only way to go.

"Med school is so stressful. You need someone who understands. Kim's going to know what I'm going through. I wouldn't want a roommate with a ton of free time while I was trying to study," she said.

Medical school itself is a rigorous four years, but the hard work starts long before the acceptance letters arrive.

Mosier knows firsthand about the process. She said it takes a lot of time and energy and a lot of waiting.

Admission Test ruled her life during the second semester of her junior year (spring 1995). She cut her hours to 12, making sure to keep only the classes which would help her on the MCAT, and signed up for the Kaplan MCAT track with the studying," Mosier said.

The test scores came in June, and then the and Creighton.

easier to get into than medical schools in other states that I wasn't a resident of," Mosier said.

arrived in mid-December 1995.

Preparing for that interview was the next step. "There's a book in the arts and sciences office which is a compilation of questions that students who had interviewed with medical schools in the past remembered being asked. I used that and several books and pamphlets on the subject," Mosier said

She also had a little help from her parents for this part. They asked questions and listened to her answers before giving advice on mannerisms and some content.

in Wichita

When it did begin, the selection panel members asked a variety of questions: How did her father feel about her going into medicine? What did she think was a big health care problem in Studying for the Medical College course, which met once a week.

"We had review lectures and did a lot of practice tests. The best things about it were that it helped me organize my time and stay on

The test was in April and took most of a day. "It was the best feeling to have that over," Mosier said.

application process started. KU was her top choice, and then Baylor

"I really wanted to go to KU, but I figured if that didn't happen, then the other two schools were private schools, which would be

A letter from KU, granting her an interview,

Stan Mosier, Kim's father, was qualified for the job, having graduated from KU medical school in 1968. He is now a family physician

The interview took place Jan. 5. An overnight snowfall in Kansas City delayed her 8 a.m. interview, giving her a little more time the area where she grew up? What would she do with a patient who had a living will but whose relatives didn't agree? And there were more.

great about it," The rest of the day she toured big smile stretched across her face. the facilities, attended a session on student life and ate lunch with the medical students.

Once the interview was done, all that was left in the whole application process was the wait. It was less than a month before she heard, but she said it felt like forever. Jan. 27 was the big day. The letter came to her house in Wichita, and as previously agreed, her parents opened it. "It was a Saturday. Stan opened the letter, and we were on the road to Manhattan probably a half an hour later to tell her the good "I left the interview feeling OK, but not news," Kathy Mosier, Kim's mother, said as a

> They arrived with cards, flowers and a cor gratulations balloon and had someone pull their daughter out of the Mortar Board banquet she was attending.

"I was, and still am, very excited. It will be tough, but I can't wait," Kim said.

Her dad said she is glad she will be attending his alma mater.

"It's a good institution, and it is recognized as a good teacher of primary care, which is what she's tentatively planning on. Also, she wants to practice somewhere in the Midwest eventually, and it is a good idea to get training in the same locale in which one intends to

MATT HAWKINS/Collegian

As for her own opinion on attending a medical school affiliated with the Wildcats' intrastate rival, Kim said she did not have a problem with that.

"I'll still definitely be a K-State fan. I won't be in Lawrence or on KU's main campus. I'll just be in Kansas City at the medical center," she said grinning.

"I won't have any mixed loyalties."

The Fortmeyer

This week Renelle Everett chairwoman of Multiple Sclerosis walk in Manhattan

Renelle Everett, senior in accounting, is the chairwoman of the Manhattan MS Walk against multiple sclerosis. The walk will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday, April 13, 1996. If you would like to participate in the walk, call 272-5292, or call Renelle at the Alpha Delta Pi house, 539-2334.

Russell: How are you involved in the Multiple Sclerosis Society?

Renelle: I'm in charge of the MS Walk here in Manhattan.

Russell: What exactly does being the chairperson of the Manhattan walk entail?

Renelle: I have to coordinate all the logistics of the route. I have to figure out what the route is, but I have to call around campus to make sure we can walk through campus. It's nine miles, and it starts at St. Thomas More church, and I had to secure that. We're having lunch there. The walk ends up there. For those who don't want to walk that long, there is a three-mile option.

I've also had to find sponsors in Manhattan. We've got national sponsors like Keebler and Quaker Oats who send things to us. Subway is a local sponsor supplying sandwiches to walkers and volunteers. Eastside Market is supplying apples and fruit. Dillons has given us all a gift certificate for supplies.

Russell: What kind of time does that Renelle: It takes up little pieces of time each day. It's all what you put into it. I'd say I probably spend a total of 20 or 30 hours on it. It gets to be a lot of time closer to the walk.

Russell: How did you ever get involved in the MS Walk?

Renelle: I was MS Walk chairperson last year. In Boulder, I was part of the MS Walk after my mom got MS.

Last year, I was on business ambassadors, and we were looking for a community service project, and I called the MS Society randomly and asked them if they needed any help with their walk. She told me she needed a chairperson, so I got involved and co-chaired it with another person.

Russell: How many people walked

Renelle: We had about 250 people

by Russell Fortmeyer

with a lot of them students. Russell: You got involved in this through your mother having multiple Renelle: Yes, my mother was diagnosed with MS when I was a sophomore in high school.

When I went away to school - I'm from Colorado - I didn't know what to do, so I decided to get involved with the MS society since it was a really good way to help because all the research they are doing is helping to find a cure.

Without funding, they can't do

Russell: What is multiple sclerosis? How has your family dealt with it?

Renelle: MS is a really different disease because they do not know the cause. There are around 27 different types. There are people who are chronic-progressive who progressively get worse. Then there are people like my mom who are relaxed, and you don't really know she has it. Then she'll have an exacerbation, and she'll get really sick. Then she'll get Russell: What is an exacerbation? Renelle: It's a time when you're sick It's a neurological disease attacking adults' brain.

Basically, people between 20 to 40 years old can be diagnosed with it, and women are twice as likely get it. It's not fatal and it's not contagious, and as far as I know it's not hereditary.

Russell: Is there any sort of prevention for MS?

Renelle: Staying healthy. When my mom first got diagnosed, she was on a low-fat diet from an MS cookbook - I think that's a lot of why she stays well.

There's a new drug out for people who are relaxing and remitting and then you have to go into a lottery to be picked for it. It's supposed to help slow down the progression of MS.

Russell: Does MS worsen as you age? Renelle: It depends on what kind you have. Something like cancer, a lot of the symptoms are the same. With MS, everything is different.

My mom has a hard time swallowing and has a limp in her leg. There are people who go blind and then get their sight back, some people might be in a wheelchair, and some people can progress so bad they can die from it.

Russell: How much does MS cut into your family's life? Renelle: She was like a career woman. She was a financial banker. We're fortunate enough that she doesn't have to work anymore. That was real different from having a mom who was a career woman to having a mom who stayed home now. She had to completely re-adjust her life. It was real different for It was like I started taking care of her.

We can't go and just shop all day. It's not a normal mother-daughter relationship. I have to watch out for her, instead of her always watching out for me. She hasn't been sick for about four years. All we want her to do is get better. It's basically about having a lot of faith. Russell: This disease could strike anyone in their 20s, so should students be more aware of it? Renelle: There were some people in my mom's support group in their 20s. They think my mom has had it since she was in her 20s. There may be people walking around campus and have it and not know it, or it may not be that bad.

What's real different is that she gets tired.

Russell: Can squirrels walk in the MS Walk?

Renelle: Anyone can walk who wants

"No Coupon" Specials Everyday Everyday Two-fers Three-fers PIZZAS with 3 - PIZZAS with TOPPINGS each - TOPPING each COKES with ice - COKES with ice Pizza Shuttle 776-557

F.B.I. CAR ALARM

•2 Remote • Built-In Shock Sensors . Flashing LED . Remote Panic

• Tone Siren • Starter Kill Option

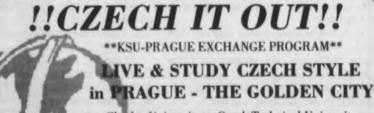

Auto Reset

FINANCING AVAILABLE

THE BEST SOUNDS AROUND - COME FROM BOOMTOWN SOUND CAR & HOME STEREOS - ALARMS

OPEN 11 a.m.-7 p.m. Mon.-Fri. 539-7929 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Sat

1015 HOSTETLER RD. MANHATTAN, KS.

Charles University or Czech Technical University cholarships: $1,500 for academic year $750 per semester

Information Meeting: farch 13, 1996 at 2 p.m., Union 206

Barry Michie - Director of Study Abroad Office of International Programs • 304 Fairchild Hall 532-5990 • sikarraj@ksuvm.ksu.edu

Tracksters end indoor season in 2nd, 4th

John Berggren

The K-State track team brought home second-place and a fourth-place overall finishes in the NCAA Indoor Championships to end its indoor track season over the weekend.

Itai Margalit finished second in the men's high jump with a jump of 7 feet, 3-3/4 inches, which he attained on his first jump.

The jump was a personal best for Margalit as a senior, who finished behind Michael Roberson of McNeese State. "Itai jumped very well, considering he had a strained hamstring," track coach Cliff Rovelto said. "He strained his hamstring early in the competition and made 7 feet, 3-3/4 inches on his first jump, which gave him the lead. He aborted the second attempt and had to sit out and watch the rest of the competition try to move ahead. It came down to the last guy, and he made it."

"He was jumping as good as anyone else in the competition," Rovelto said.

With Margalit's second-place finish, he was the sixth-consecutive K-State men's high-jump athlete to finish in the runner-up

Sophomore women's high jumper Wanita Dykstra tied for fourth in the women's event with a jump of 5 feet, 11-1/2 inches.

"Wanita also had her highest finish at the national championships," Rovelto said. "Her timing and a few other things were off just a little bit, but there's no question she was jumping higher than anyone else in the competition."

Vanitta Kinard and Renetta Seiler both entered the national championships for the first time.

Kinard competed in the women's long jump and triple jump events.

In the long jump, Kinard finished 15th, jumping 19 feet, 1-1/4 inches, and finished 12th in the triple jump, jumping 41 feet, 11-

In both events, Kinard finished among the top eight Americans, earning her all-America status, but did not place in the overall standings. Kinard is the only women's track athlete to ever gain all-America status

KYLE WYATT/Collegian

Angela Showalter competes in the high jump during a recent pentathion in Ahearn Field House. The K-State track team finished with second-place and a fourth-place finishes overall in the NCAA Indoor Championships over the weekend.

"Vanitta came up a little bit short in her events," Rovelto said. "Until this year she had never competed in an indoor event in her life. Making all-American status is quite a

Seiler finished 14th in the women's 20pound weight throw with a throw of 54 feet,

"Renetta didn't throw as well as she did all season to get to the championships," Rovelto said. "She's only a freshman, and this is her first year competing at nationals, but even though she didn't place, I think she made quite an accomplishment."

K-State finished the indoor season ranked third in the women's and 16th in the men's team dual rankings.

	Massachusetts (53)	31-1
í	2. Kentucky (2)	28-2
	3. Connecticut (8)	30-2
	4. Georgetown	26-7
	4. Kansas	26-4
١	4. Purdue	25-5
ı	7. Cincinnati	25-4
ı	8. Texas Tech (1)	28-1
	9. Wake Forest	23-5
	10. Villanova	25-6
	11. Arizona	24-6

22-11

13. Georgia Tech

14. UCLA	23-7
15. Syracuse	24-8
16. Memphis	22-7
17. lowa St.	23-8
18. Penn St.	21-6
19. Mississippi St.	22-7
20. Marquette	22-7
21. lowa	22-8
22. Virginia Tech	22-5
23. New Mexico	27-4
24. Louisville	20-11
CANADA STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF	The second second

TENNIS

Netters' win streak ends at hands of Irish, Purdue

Shane McCormick

The state of Indiana was not kind to the K-State women's tennis team this past weekend.

The Wildcats went into the weekend with a streak of three dual victories. But that streak was snapped with losses to Notre Dame and Purdue, dropping the Wildcats to 3-2 on the season.

The Cats' first Indiana opponent was

Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish defeated the Cats, 5-2. The only two victories came in singles action, where Yana Dorodnova and Karina Kuregian continued their successful spring campaign. Dorodnova beat Jennifer Hall, 7-6, 6-4. With that victory Dorodnova improved to 5-0 in singles action this spring. She has yet to lose a set in singles action.

"That was a big win for Yana," Coach Steve Bietau said. "Hall was ranked 25th in the country. That was definitely the biggest win for her so far."

At No. 2 singles, Kuregian beat Wendy Crabtree, 6-4, 6-2. Kuregian continued her smashing spring campaign, improving her singles record to 3-0.

"Karina had a good win. It was a tougher match than the score indicated," Bietau said. "She knows she can beat anyone. It's just a matter of her going out and playing well."

In the other four singles matches, the Cats were just able to come up with a total of 13 games.

Included in those losses was the first singles losses of the season for junior Karen Nicholson and sophomore Chris Schulte. Nicholson, 4-1, was defeated by Holyn Lord, 6-2, 6-4. Schulte, 3-1, was defeated by Molly Gavin, 6-2, 6-1.

In doubles action, the Cats were swept by the Fighting Irish. Dorodnova and Nicholson continued their tough spring start with an 8-6 loss to Jennifer Hall and Erin Gowen. The loss dropped the duo to 2-3 this spring.

The second dual of the weekend produced some thrilling matches as the Cats took on Purdue.

With wins at the No. 1 and No. 3 doubles spots, the Cats started off the dual with the doubles point won. The No. 1 team of Karina Kuregian and Lena Piliptchak continued to roll with an 8-5 victory over Amanda Scott and Nan Smith. At No. 2 doubles, Dorodnova and Nicholson dropped another close match in a tie-breaker 9-8 to Alyssa Kohl and Mary-Beth Maggert. Dorodnova and Nicholson started off the match down 6-1. The Cat duo was able to come back and take a 7-6 lead with Dorodnova serving for the match, but it was unable to hang on for the victory.

Bietau said despite the loss, he was pleased with the play of his No. 2 team.

"Of course, we hate to see them get in that hole in the first place. But for them to come back and fight the way they did was terrific. I'm satisfied with the progress we are making in our doubles play," he said.

The deciding match in doubles action came at the No. 3 spot, where the Cats desperately needed to pick up a win. Junior Nikki Lagerstrom and sophomore Chris Schulte came through, picking up an 8-4

Once again, Dorodnova and Kuregian looked in top form, gaining victories in singles action. Both gained victories in straight sets. Dorodnova and Kuregian have a combined perfect record of 10-0 in singles this season. The rest of the singles action was much closer, as three of the Cats' last four matches went to three sets.

At No. 3 singles, Nicholson was defeated 6-4, 7-6 (7-5), 6-2. At the No. 4 spot, it was Lena Piliptchak falling to Amanda Scott 7-6 (7-5), 2-6, 4-6.

At the No. 6 spot, Nan Smith of Notre Dame defeated Dinah Watson 6-1, 5-7, 6-4. For Watson it was her first competition on the courts this year. She has had to sit out because of a shoulder problem.

"For not playing any matches this semester, I thought she played pretty good," Bietau said. "She fought hard throughout the match and never gave up.

She's on her way back." The Wildcats, 3-3, will next take to the courts on March 22. The Cats will play host to the Brigham Young Cougars. O n March 23, the Cats will try to serve up a victory against Utah.

► BASEBALL

Cats improve record to 11-4

Who could blame the K-State baseball team for its 10-3 loss to Central Michigan Friday?

A series of travel delays found the Wildcats arriving in Jacksonville, Fla., at 4 a.m. Friday morning, only hours before they were to take the

"We played like a team that had gotten into town at four in the morning," Coach Mike Clark said. "We had some opportunities to win the ball game but didn't do some things we needed to."

Central Michigan started off early with three runs in the first inning, and a fourth added in the fourth. A K-State rally in the sixth and seventh innings put the Cats on the board, but Central Michigan closed out the game with another run in the seventh and a five-run finish in the ninth.

The Cats were led by designated hitter Dave Hendrix as he was 1-of-2 from the plate. He was walked twice and added his fourth double of the

The highlight of the weekend was pitcher Eric Yanz' outing on Saturday against Xavier of Yanz, who improved his record to 3-1 with the win, pitched a complete game, allowing only two hits and walking four batters. He struck out

"His pitching was superb," Clark said. "The defense played extremely well behind him, but I would say the last five or six innings he had total

The final game of the Greyhound Classic ended earlier than expected as rain forced officials to call the game after five innings.

Starter Kevin Wicker pitched all five innings against North Florida and allowed four hits, two earned runs and two bases off balls. He struck out six batters for the Cats.

The Cats were led again by Hendrix and by center fielder Chris Hess as both had doubles against North Florida.

Wildcat baseball Score by innings K-STATE. .310 03-7 6 1 North Florida.... ...002 00-K-State Wildcats (11-4) Position AB R H RBI BB SO .85 3 1 1 0 1 0 ...cf 2 1 1 1 1 0 .2b 3 1 1 0 0 1 dh 3 0 1 2 0 0 ...c 2 1 0 1 1 0 ...c 1 1 0 0 1 36 2 1 1 0 1 1 E — Morton (1) LOB — K-State 6 2B — Hendrix (5), Heas (6) SH — Miller (1) K-State pitchers IP H R ER BB SO 5.0 4 2 2 2 6 Wicker (3-1)

The fifth inning iced K-State's victory. The Cats were ahead by only two runs heading into the fifth, but poor pitching by the North Florida staff allowed the Cats to score three more times.

'We finished the tournament 6-1," Clark said. "I'm happy with the way we came back. There was some caliber competition out there, and our guys played well."

But Clark said he still sees room for improve-

"They need to be more conscious defensively," Clark said. "But we're only 20 percent into the season, and we've had only two home games but are 11-4. That says a lot about the team."

The Cats return to Frank Myers Field for an eight-game home stand as they prepare to face Wichita State at 4 p.m. Friday. The Shockers are ranked No. 4 in the nation.

Kentucky, Memphis will battle for title

If you are one of the many who like to participate in your own version of March Madness, then please read this column carefully.

If you would like to take home the big jackpot of your NCAA pool, then you better read this, because your opponents will be reading this. First of all, we'll start with the Big 8 teams.

It will not be a successful tournament for the Big 8. The top team in the conference this year was Kansas, but it will be lucky to get to the third round. Look for Kansas to barely slip by Maryland in the second round.

In the third round ,Kansas will lose to No. 3seed Arizona. The Javhawks looked less than impressive in a win over K-State and a loss to Iowa State. They will carry that type of play into the Big Dance.

How about the Big 8 Tournament champs, Iowa State?

The Cinderella season is over quickly for Tim Floyd and his boys. They will exit in the first round to California. A tough Big 8 Tournament

Myview

SHANE McCormick

the same with Oklahoma. The Sooners drew a very tough seventh seed in The Temple. played Owls some great ball this year against Villanova and Kansas. Ryan Minor will not be able to win by and little rest will take its toll on the Look for Cyclones.

And finally, K-State will get by New Mexico in one of the most thrilling first-round games

The Cats will pull off a 79-77 win in double overtime. They will win on a three-point basket by Manny Dies But it will be a long day for the Cats in the second round. Don't expect a big upset against No. 2

Now let's start the journey through the brackets to fame and fortune. Let's start in the Southeast.

This bracket only contains one upset in it. No.

11 Boston College will beat No. 6 Indiana. The Hoosiers have proved recently that they perform as well in the Dance as Lin Elliot has proved he can kick in crunch time.

It will be Connecticut and Georgia Tech playing in the regional finals, with Georgia Tech advancing.

In the West, as in the Southeast, there will only be one big upset - No. 11 George Washington over No. 6 Iowa. George Washington is capable of beating good teams. Just ask UMass.

In a mini-upset, No. 5 Memphis will beat No. 1 Purdue in the third round. Look for Memphis to play Arizona in the regional finals, with Memphis advancing.

The Tigers had the talent to get to the Final Four last year, but they faltered in the Sweet 16. Most of the players are back this year. This time they won't fall.

The East bracket is full of upsets.

First, No. 5 Penn State will fall to the 40-minutes-of-hell play by the Arkansas Razorbacks. The Razorbacks will continue their upset string when they defeat the overrated Marquette Golden Look for No. 6 North Carolina to fall to No.

11 New Orleans. North Carolina is not the same team it has been in the past. No. 1 UMass and No. 2 Georgetown will meet in the regional finals. Don't count on UMass falling. It has one of the best inside-outside games in the country. And finally in the Midwest, besides the Iowa State upset, there are two other upset specials in this bracket.

No. 6 Louisville will fall to No. 11 Tulsa. The Golden Hurricanes have had tremendous success in the Big Dance recently.

Also, look for No. 7 Michigan to fall to No. 10 Look for No. 3 Villanova to get by Tim Duncan and No. 2 Wake Forest in the third round. No. 1 Kentucky will get by No. 4 Utah to face the Wildcats in the regional finals. Kentucky just gets by Villanova, 100-75.

So, the Final Four will be Kentucky against UMass, Georgia Tech against Memphis.

Kentucky will beat UMass in a thrilling game. UMass will stay close, but Kentucky's depth will win it for it.

Georgia Tech's Stephon Marbury will have a terrific game, but it won't be enough to defeat Lorenzen Wright and Mingo Johnson. (You gotta love that name!) So that brings us to the finals - Kentucky against Memphis.

Kentucky's running style and the ability to substitute six different men into the game will allow them to dominate Memphis.

Kentucky 92, Memphis 75.

Shane McCormick is a senior in radio/television. Help Shane out with his NCAA Tournament picks by e-mailing your advice to (shanem@ksu.ksu.edu).

43 California

city 48 Rajputana concern

gander

51 Olive genus

52 Actor Tony wrap 49 Freudian

50 Take a

53 Large

casks

1 Urban

music

2 Greek H

by Eugene Sheffer

author 21 Checker

capture

22 Cruising

Foster

movie 24 "Nut-

26 Not live

27 Place of

29 Oral, cracker'

portrayal

worship?

28 Seedy joint perhaps

tic, plus 34 Locust

tree

35 Nevada

37 Follow-up to boo or centavos

trumpet

Brock

Enthusias-

ex-senator Paul

23 Jodie

3 Book spine

4 Arachno-

phobe's

shore call?

for snoopbottom?

9 Seemingly never-

10 Comedian 31

Johnson

ending

11 Equal

16 Wrestling

surface

20 "Exodus"

abbr.

woe

6 Flow

5 Ship-to-

7 Locales

ing?

8 Hits

Diversions

TUESDAY March 12, 1996

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

CROSSWORD

ACROSS 38 Spanish 1 Guns the 41 Practice engine 5 Clumsy pugilism 42 Grandcraft scale tale

8 Prelude to a duel 12 On 13 Shade

14 Ponder (over) 15 Split payment? 17 Chip in chips

18 Rotation duration 19 Craving 21 Michael's sister 24 Branch 25 Computer operator

26 Defensive fence 30 Tillis or Torme 31 Ram on high 32 Predicament

33 Conferences 35 Stromboli spillover 36 Gary or Eugene

37 Ladies room?

Yesterday's answer

38 100 39 Iridescent 40 Father 41 Play a 44 Past 45 Baseball's

Solution time: 24 mins.

46 Heavy weight 3-12 47 Approvals

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

ROLR GPSY KJBY

CRYPTOQUIP

AYYX ROY QYYR Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE MATH TEACHER PROCLAIMED SADLY, "BOY, DO I EVER HAVE PROB-LEMS!"

Today's Cryptoquip clue: Q equals B

▶ FOXTROT

I ONLY PROMISED DENISE ? YOU KIDS ALONE, WELL PETER AND JUST A THEN, HOW'D THEY WERE GONE GASP. YOUR STUDYING LEFT TO DO THE DEN.

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilich

by Bill Amend

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

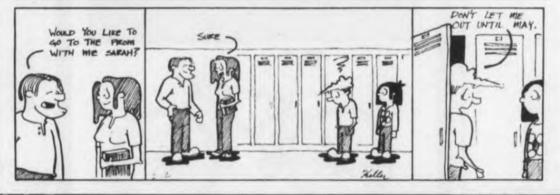

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

▶ BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

The constant weather fluctuation and the mounting stress of midterm anxiety is a source of great irritation. There is an urge to take matters into our own hands. College, after all, would be great if it weren't for all

The Suicide Smiley Collection (http://www.users.fast.net/~mpb/index.html)

If you think you need help, check this guy out. This page was started by a cartoon drawing in Windows Paintbrush. Only a few of us can even think of a more demented start.

The Suicide Smiley story is as entertaining as is the rest of the page. It is mainly focused on mocking what the authors find stupid. I also recommend the REAL Windows '95 source code that Smiley included. It explains a lot.

Church of Euthanasia Home Page (http://www.paranoia.com/coe/)

If you want a look at people who might take Malthus a little too seriously, look here. The Church of Euthanasia has coined the catchy slogan, "Save the planet, kill yourself."

For those who are the true faithful and just haven't had the time to make the ultimate sacrifice, the sermons will help enlighten you.

Online ordering will allow you to tell the rest of the world that you want them all dead. Or you can send them money to help them set up the first-ever suicide hotline. (This is NOT a prevention hotline.) They will be happy to share techniques, get you sainted, or even allow you to record that final message.

DISGRUNTLED - Home Page (http://www.disgruntled.com/)

If you're mad at your boss for making you work during these spring days, here is a place to tell your story. This is the Teamster paradise. This page is actually a magazine, with stories, jokes, and insults all intended to annoy employers.

Go ahead and e-mail your boss this link.

The Disgruntled Postal Worker Zone (http://www.well.com/user/ecp/)

A picture of Post Lady Barbie blowing away the annoying stamp buyer greets people at the site dedicated to the most annoyed people in the world.

If you're wondering what the second leading cause of death among postal workers is (murder), they are more than happy to tell you. For the postman in everyone, they sell disgruntled buttons. They even give a discount to post office employees.

I really enjoyed the true stories and cartoons. Every post office shooting in recent years is being carefully archived. So when work gets too much for your sanity, come here for pointers.

Word of the week: fried

This is when your computer completely melts down. If the processor, drives, and all the other do-hickeys have heated up and become a molten blob, then the computer is called fried. This is also a good term for making excuses for screw-ups.

Any questions or comments? E-mail me at (wings@ksu.ksu.edu).

1116 Moro

537-0886

Mon.-Sat.

11 a.m.-1 a.m.

1 a.m.-Midnight

ALMBYMK

This coupon good for

XJWY

Chicken with Broccoli

$3.90

Dine-in and carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

FREE DELIVERY (min. $9) Expires 3-22-96

Res: (913) 776-8900

Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Floyd E. Rogers

lanhattan, KS 66502 Office: (913) 776-4489 1-800-232-5726 provide you with a home market analysis.

aco Tuesday

50¢ Tacos (Chicken or Beef, Hard or Soft Shell)

$1 Margaritas (Reg. or Strawberry) $1 Frosty Mugs

Bobby T's Candlewood Shopping Center Featuring Daily Drink & Food Specials 4:30 - 9:30 p.m.

JOBS

Starting at $6 per hour

ATTENTION, STUDENTS!

Help needed to take inventory in retail stores. Average 10 - 12 hours, mostly on weekends especially Sundays. Math aptitude is a must.

Apply in person in Ramada Inn Stateroom Tuesday, March 12 at 6 p.m.

1-800-728-3586

Students/Seniors: $8 General Public $10

What services are available at Lafene?

*Outpatient Medical Cinic

*Allergy/Immunization Clinic

*Health Education and Promotion

*Laboratory Services

*Nutritional/Dietary Services

*Pharmacy Services

*Physical Therapy Services

*Radiology Services

*Sports Medicine Clinic

*University Counseling Service *Women's Clinic

*Evaluation and Referral

For Appointment Call

532-6544

Lafene Health Center

Kansas State University

Cuban dance ensemble to bring color, culture to K-State campus

QUICKread

▶ The Cuban National Folkloric Dance Ensemble will perform traditional peasant and country dances, as well as popular dances.

he Cuban National Folkloric Dance Ensemble will bring a flurry of color and culture to the stage at 8 tonight in McCain Auditorium.

The repertoire, tracing the history of Cuba in dance, will include traditional peasant and country dances, as well as the popular rumba, mambo and cha-cha.

In addition, the newest popular Cuban dance, the despelote, will be performed.

"The despelote is sort of the mambo of the '90s," Arleen Baiges, senior in industrial engineering, said. "It's the latest rage in Cuban dance."

There are a variety of influences on the troupe's style. Cuban dance is influenced by a mixture of African, European and Caribbean influences, Baiges said.

Richard Martin, director of McCain, said the chance to see the group perform is one people should take advantage of.

"Just because this community is in the dead northeast part of Kansas, people shouldn't have to travel to a big city to see this," Martin

The group's reputation was an important factor in the decision to bring the group to K-State, Martin said.

"Since they are the national repository for folk tradition in Cuba, they ought to be very good," he said.

"Also, the Washington Performing Arts Society is bringing them in, and they are definitely one of the largest and best presenters in

Martin said the group has not traveled to the United States in the last 15 years, which means most of the audience will not have seen them perform before.

The show will appeal to many people, Martin said.

"Anyone who is interested in dance, music, singing or colorful costumes would be able to enjoy the performance," he said.

"It's not just a bunch of dancers up there dancing to a tape. Besides the 21 dancers, there are seven musicians and three singers, Martin said "Most importantly, though, it will be a chance to just have fun and watch something

Tickets are $9-18 and can be purchased at the McCain Box Office.

SPACIOUS APARTMENTS

3 blocks east of campus.

Two bedrooms, furnished, ample parking. Quiet conditions.

Reasonable rates. 776-3624

► Music

Faculty members to perform concert tonight in Danforth

Jessica White

The sounds of a trumpet will fill the air at 7 tonight in Danforth Chapel.

Gary Mortenson, associate professor of music, will give a faculty recital accompanied by Bill Wingfield, music instructor, on piano; Jack Flouer, music department chairman, on trombone; Craig Parker, associate professor of music, on trumpet; and Kristin Mortenson on violin.

Gary Mortenson and Wingfield said "Sonata for Trombone, Trumpet and Piano" by Hanley Jackson, professor of music, will be the most important piece per-

"Hanley Jackson is a professor of composition and theory here, and he has written a piece for the three of us. It's going to be the first time it's ever performed," Wingfield said.

"It's a really nice piece." "The neat thing is Hanley knows all three of us really well, so he pretty much wrote the piece with us in mind," said Gary Mortenson.

Jackson even wrote a dedication on the music for Gary Mortenson, Flouer and Wingfield, the three musicians who will play the piece.

Gary Mortenson said he tried to make the program interesting for students.

"I think there's a lot of variety on it," he said. "I wouldn't want to sit down necessarily and listen to an hour of nothing but trumpet, so there's a piece with trumpet, violin and piano.

bone and piano. There's a two-trumpet, unaccompanied piece, and then there's a couple of traditional trumpet and piano works, and it's all 20th-century."

"There's a piece with trumpet, trom-

Mortenson also said the music he chose was understandable, unlike a lot of 20th-century music

"A lot of 20th-century music is very hard for most people to understand because it's kind of strange, like 20th-century art," he said.

Hanley Jackson is a professor of composition and theory here, and he has written a piece for the three of us. It's going to be the first time it's ever performed.

> BILL WINGFIELD MUSIC INSTRUCTOR

$ FREE MONEY$

Need Money for that College Education? The price of College is skyrocketing! We can match you with many providers of available Scholarships &

Grants regardless of age, scholastic ability or financial need.

Act Now!! Call for information. Scholarship Consultants (913) 776-5424

Our service is guaranteed.

Claflin Custom Resumes

Claflin Books and Copies The right resume does make a difference.. Call us. Our resume writers can create an effective

1814 Claslin Rd.

resume for you.

776-3771

Dynamics MAX

(formerly of Aggie Hair Shapers)

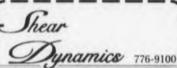

Shear

SHEAR DYNAMICS 776-9100 Aggieville

CRUISE SHIPS/LAND TOUR CO.'S NOW HIRING!

Earn up to $2,500/month plus food, lodging, reportation. World Travel. No experie required. Many positions available. Male or Female. Seasonal/Full Time.

(800) 638-6845, Ext. 2107

Full set of nails '30, reg. '45 Fills *15, reg. *22 Nikki or Amy -- Exp. 3/22/96

12th & Laramie • Aggieville

WORK OR STUDY ABROAD Scholarships Available Submit applications for work and/or study abroad this summer and next academic year.

KSU EXCHANGE PROGRAM SITES AVAILABLE IN: (English) UK, Czech Republic, Finland, Korea, Netherlands, Sweden, Greece

(French) France, Togo (German) Germany, Austria (Italian) Italy

(Spanish) Colombia, Mexico, Dominican Republic

WORK AND VOLUNTEER PROGRAMS Europe, Africa, Asia, Latin America, Pacific and North America

Contact: Barry Michie, Director of Study Abroad, Office of Int'l

Programs, 304 Fairchild Hall, KSU. Come by or call 532-5990.

MUFFLER HOUSE "Our business is exhausting"

MUFFLERS & TAILPIPES DUAL SYSTEMS AUTOS (American & Foreign) RVs LIGHT & HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS CUSTOM PIPE BENDING

COMPLETE BRAKE SERVICE FOR AMERICAN, FOREIGN, & LIGHT TRUCKS SHOCK ABSORBERS & STRUTS

ROSE HOUSE OF TINT GLASS TINTING SERVICES AVAILABLE

FOR YOUR AUTO, HOME OR BUSINESS

* DRAW TITE TRAILER HITCHES - SALES & INSTALLATION

FREE ESTIMATES

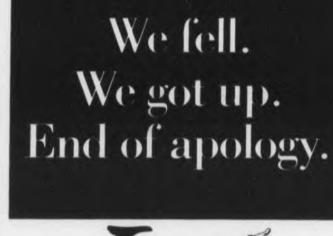

Mon.-Fri. 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. 2049 Ft. Riley Blvd.

776-8955 or 1-800-439-8956

Take advantage of our courtesy van for rides to school and home while your vehicle is being serviced Same Location

Our tourniquet? Clean, wicked new product. Survey the aluminum s[9six]. Ride-Tuned" in Boulder. All purpose dual suspension ride. 4 times stiffer standing than seated.

THE SECOND CENTURY

304 Poyntz

539-5639

POETRY CONTEST ANTHOLOGY ORDER FORM Address @$10.00 each Number of copies ordered + $ 2.00 S8H(per book) Amount enclosed:$ Mail order form and payment to: Flinthills Poetry Society c/o Manhattan Arts Council PO Box 74 Manhattan, KS 66505-0074 Don't forget to include $2.00 Shipping and Handling PER BOOK!

★Manhattan's Very First Anthology of Poetry★

Presenting the works of Melissa Rodenbeek, Ben Cartwright, Page Getz, Peter Hoeman, Betsy Wooten...and 35 other emerging poets across the state.

Order Your Copy Today!!

Classifieds

ANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

PEADUMES

break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, at Creative Travel, 539-0531, class-

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

MARY KAY inventory reduction sale. Call after 5. 776–6052.

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental. 537-1825.

to place your classified.

Call 532-6555

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarraes her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at reasonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

OPERATION PURPLE Wave Hot Tub Bus Rental, 18- 20 person tub ca-pacity. New tubs and equipment. 587-0990.

Manhetten City Ordinance 4814 sesures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of rece, sex, femilial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 587-2440.

Apts. Furnished

A VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished spart-ments. Close to campus. Call Moore Man-agement. One-bed-room $320, two-bed-room with fireplace $510, two-bedroom 9a.m.- 6p.m. 537-4567 after 7p.m.

room. Both locations have balcony, central air/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen, and off-street parking. 539-2702 leave mes-

Mon.-Fri. 8-5

p.m. (Except holidays)

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE Hours

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom spartments-for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU. Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichola Hall. Deluxe two-bed-

BULLETIN

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to acuba dive for spring

ADVANCED FLIGHT
TRAINING. 6000-hour
flight instructor specializing in multi-engine
and other advanced ratings. Very competitive
rates. Hugh Irvin, 539–3128.

Lost and Found

IF YOU have lost an item at Derby Dining Center in the last school year, please stop by Derby 129 to identify and

Parties-n-More

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

with one and one-half bath $510, two-bed-room $400. Summer subleases available, no pets. Water, trash paid. June and August lease available. Call 637-7542

AUGUST LEASE: Next to campus- Eastaide un-furnished two-bed-room with fireplace and laundry. Westaide fur-nished one/ two-bedroom apartment. $490-$500. Also, large, nice one-bedroom apartment, water, trash, gas, three-fourths paid. Laundrymat. $310-Laundrymat. $310-$320 539-2482 after

Collegian Classifieds

NINE OR 12 month lease. most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. pets, 537-8389

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Claffin next to campus $325 plus de posit plus electric. August year lease. No pets, 537-1180.

QUIET, LARGE, furnished, two-bedroom in a brick six-plex with washer dryer, dishwasher, paid water and trash. One block from college. Available June or Au-gust 1, 537-7087.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N.

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428.

For Rent-Unfurnished

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS Corner of College and

Claflin, Manhattan 1 to 4 Bedroom

- Apartments Deck/Patios for
- each unit On-Site Gym, Pool,
- and Laundry * Covered Parking

2 BR - $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735

Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday,

9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday Noon to 3 p.m.

10 K Apartments. Spaquality apartments in new complex two blocks east of campus, large, L-shaped kitchen, dishwasher, air condi tioner, sound proofed, well insulated, low utilwell insulated, low util-ties, laundry, quiet street, no pets. June through May lease $480, 539-2536.

> Why stay on Baltic Avenue when you can ADVANCE TO:

NOW LEASING FOR FALL 1996 539-2951

Unfurnished 1-2-3 BR

- · Water & Trash Paid
- · Hot Tub & Pools Volleyball/Horseshoes
- · Laundry Facilities
- 24-Hour Maintenance . On-site Management
- Call Homestead Need furniture? Rentals 537-8774

AVAILABLE AUGUST 1 nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartment for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

CAMBRIDGE SQUARE two-bedroom apart ment, fireplace, washing facilities, for rent or sublease immediately. 776–2180.

RITTNAY RIDGE

Now Leasing

or June & August

in each unit.

EARLY BIRD

SPECIAL

2 university parking emits provided with signed lease. 3 people $750 mo.

Model Showings:

Wed. 3-5, Thurs. 6-8,

Sat. 11-Noon

JUNE & AUGUST CALL CLOSE TO campus. One-587-1380 two- three-bedroom apartments. Not a com-plex. No pets. 539-4641. Open Houses Dally apartment; newly re-modeled; two-bed-room; two full bath; one and one-half blocks from campus; laundry facilities; free parking; trash paid. Contact 395-2420.

COTTAGE, ONE-LEASING FOR Fall. Two-ONE-BED bedroom, two bath du-plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, available immediately 539-7277 FOR RENT!! Basement garbage disposal, laundry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744.

ROYAL TOWERS Apartments

700 N. Manhattan Now Leasing for June & Aug 4 bedroom/2 bath $750 mo./3 people $860 mo./4 people

EARLY SIGNING BONUS 10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401.

> w/icemaker, range, microwave &

Model Showings: M-F 5-5:30 p.m. at on-site office or M-F by appt.

776-3804

FOR SUMMER and fall two beautiful apart-ments at North Park Apartments, 1200 Fre mont. Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537-0428.

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. College Heights Apts. Cambridge Square Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m.

Sat. 10-3 p.m.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Available immediately. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

LARGER TWO-BEDROOM basement apartment, two blocks NW of cam-pus. Clean, well lit, private entrance, stove, re-frigerator, washer/ dryer, cable and all utilities paid. $500 per month

LEASING FOR August. One, two, three, four and six-bedroom apartments, duplexes and house. Close to campus. No pets. 776-2102

Now Is

The Time

Great location

▲ Two bathrooms

Walk-in closets

Washer/dryer

NOW LEASING

The Curtin Company

▲ 2 bedroom

▲ Large

apartments

bedrooms

hook-ups

Fireplaces ▲ Large pool

SPA-CIOUS, one block from $490. 776-8455.

WALK ACROSS to Ag-gieville and campus. Spacious one and twobedroom apartments available now and Au-gust. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

For Rent-Houses

AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with washsome with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1, fivebedroom house, two baths central air, wash-er, dryer, dishwasher, garden, 824 Laramie. 539-3672.

LUXURY TWO-BEDROOM, one and one-half bath townhome in scenic Briercliff Addition. Pool, tennis courts and clubhouse. $600. Available June 1. 776-8363.

NEWLY REMODELED spacious three-bedroom duplex. Washer/ dryer, off-street parking. Walk out patio. $675. Call 776-3191.

NICE TWO-BEDROOM duplex. All appliances, ga-rage. Please, no smok-LEASING FOR Summer and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, gar-bage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744 ing, no pets. Five month or one year lease. Located 2304 Wil-low Lane, Manhattan. Call (913)456-7185.

NICE. THREE-BEDROOM newly remodeled, fire-place, yard, walk to ing. Available June 1 $800 per month. Open House, March 14, 6-8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr.

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please 539-1554.

Roommate Wanted

Evenings (913)632-2744.

vate entrance and off-street parking, Walk to campus. Available June

1. $275 per month. Open House Thursday March 14, 6- 8p.m.

apartments and houses available June, July,

August. One year lease, no pets. The Housing Company. 539-2255.

campus. No pets, water and trash furnished.

NICE, ONE-BEDROOM, Pri

1830 Elaine Dr.

ONE, TWO, three-bedroom

ONE, TWO, three-bedroom apartments. Close to

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.

study available now. 1212 Thurston. $400. Near KSU campus. Wa-ter, trash paid. Call hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 539-2951.

ROOM, one block from campus. Available June 1. Water and trash paid. $495/ month. 539-1897.

room. Available now. Water and trash paid. Laundry facilities. Hat-ton Property Manage-ment. Clara 539-6318

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, PRELEASING: TWO-BED-

STUDIO, ONE and two-bed-

TWO- THREE- four-bed-

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-

ABLE now through May 31. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid.

No pets. Call now 776-3804.

MENT apartment recently constructed, 500

or 537-8228

ONE-BEDROOM

FEMALE ROOMMATE for two-bedroom base-ment apartment. No pets. $220 utilities paid except phone. Close to campus. Please call 587-0847 if interested.

ABLE immediately, near Aggieville. 1124 Fremont, $395. Water, trash paid. Call now. FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted immediately. Lease runs until July 31. $213/ month plus ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776-3804. one-half utilities. Call Kendra 537-9169, leave message

MALE ROOMMATE wanted. $175 a month. 539-4429.

MALE/ FEMALE roommate wanted for five-bed-room house. $150/ month. Washer/ dryer. Three blocks from cam pus. Call Ricky or Aaron 537-1621.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE for next fall. We'll look for a place together. Call Rosario, 587-8222.

SUMMER AND/ or fall fe males to share three bedroom apartment two blocks from campus. off-street parking. $165, 537-1091.

Sublease

ACROSS FROM campus Summer sublease. Three-bedrooms. Available June 1. Washer/dryer. Two bathrooms. $740/ month. No pets. 776-8957.

room near campus, one and one-half bath. Cen-AVAILABLE DIATELY, first floor Large living room and TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. 1026 Osage, $475, now through May 31. Water, trash gaid. No pets. Call now 776-3804. kitchen; second floor two-bedrooms. Or and one-half bath. Ne campus, $350 negoti-able. Call Kesheng, 532-6700, Liang 776-6039 (evenings).

FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM townhouse, two and one-half bath, washer/ dryer, dishwasher starts June 1, 587–8622

MAY 20- July 31. Share ment $180/ month plus blocks east campus. No pets. 776-9559.

MAY THROUGH July sub-lease. Looking for fe-males to share a fourbedroom apartment, one block from cam-pus. Amy 776–8870.

PARK PLACE Apartment one-bedroom, unfur nished, across from Westloop, pool, patio, available May 27, wa-ter, trash paid. $345/ month. 776-5437 after

SUBLEASE JUNE 1 to July 31. One-bedroom apart-ment. $250. Call Laurie leave 587-0912.

SUBLEASE SUMMER, one bedroom furnished. 537-6192.

SUBLEASE- ONE-BED-ROOM in spacious three-bedroom duplex with one roommate. Washer/ dryer- lots of privacy, $225. Call 776-3191.

SUMMER SUBLEASE-available after finals/graduation. One, two, or three-bedroom, 1850 Claffin. Laundry facili-ties, water/ trash paid. 776-0264.

SUMMER SUBLEASE. Two-bedroom, one and one-half bath. Close to campus and Aggieville. 539-9110. SUMMER SUBLEASE: one bedroom apartment near campus, water and trash paid. Avail-able May 20 through July 31, $220/ month. 776-8897. THREE-BEDROOM TWO full bath, AC. Sublease

June 1, negotiable. Water, trash paid. Near campus and Aggieville 776-9432. TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT for sublease for June and July. One block from campus, nice, spacious. Water and trash paid. $475/ month. Call 395–3966. TWO-BEDROOM. CLOSE to campus. Fireplace, Water and trash paid. Quiet area. 537-1437.

210

Resume Typing

> PERFECT and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

TYPING DONE in my home. Reasonable rates. Call Diana, 587-0411.

Other Services

DO YOU suspect a cheat-ing heart? We can find out if a partner has strayed. Money back guarantee. Private guarantee. Eyes. 776-7378.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D., (913)841-5716.

Help Wanted

nance 4814 assures nance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he she is properly qualified regardless of race, sox, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Travel (Car-ibbean, Europe, Ha-waiil) Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. Gde. (919)929-4398 ext. C1069.

$1000- $2000 part-time. Call Barb 537-6892. $1750 WEEKLY possible

mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207. ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT- Students needed! Fishing industry. Earn up to $3000-$6000 plus per month. Room and board! Transportation! Male or female. No experi-ence necessary. Call (206)971-3510 ext.A57684.

ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT. Fisheries, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000 $6000 plus/ month! Air-fare! Room/ Board! Free video with pro-gram! Call SEI gram! Call SE (919)932-1489, ext. A85

CRUISE SHIPS HIRING-Travel the world while earning an excellent in-come in the Cruise Ship and Land-Tour Industry. Seasonal and full-time employment available. No experi-ence necessary. For information (206)971-3550 ext.C57685

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated individuals. Fast, easy-no financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982

FREE FINANCIAL AID! Over $6 billion in public and private sector grants and scholarship now available. All students are eligible regardless of grades, income, or parent's in-come. Let us help. Call Student Financial Serv-ices: (800)263-6495 ext. F57685.

HELP WANTED experienced summer fa help. (913)437-3162.

I NEED HELP! If you speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Rus-sian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Su-san, Unlimited Income. 539-7336.

LIVE AND WORK in the relaxed atmosphere of North Central Kansas. Registered Physical Therapist needed in progressive Physical Therapy clinics. Great benefits and salary. Must be dedicated. Call Jodi at (913)346-5226 or send resume to H&W Therapy Kansas Inc., 113 North First, Os-borne, KS 67473.

LOSE WEIGHT NOW! Needed 27 people to lose weight. All natural recommended. 587-1037

MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or ass-ist. Openings in: Base-ball, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top salaries, excellent facilities room/ baord/ laundry, travel allowance. Call travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR SUMMER AT CAMP TACONIC. Prestigious coed camp in beautiful Massachusetts seeks motivated sophomores, juniors, seniors and grads who love working with kids to be general coun-selors and instructors in: Swimming, Sailing, Windsurfing, Skiing, Athletics, Ropes Course, Rollerblading, Horseback Riding, Arch ery, Gymnastics, Aerobics, Golf, Arts and Crafts, Photography,

Silver Jewelry, Drama,

220 Sewing/Alterations

225 Pregnancy Testing

230 Lawn Care

236 Child Care

240 Musicians/DJs

245 Pet Services

250 Automotive Repair

255 Other Services

Music, Piano Accompaniment, Cooking, Science Rocketry, Pioneering, Video and Newspaper. Competitive sala ries. Join a dedicated team. Have a reward-ing and enjoyable sum-mer! Please call

(800)762-2820. OUTSIDE SUMMER JOBS Tropical Beach/ Mountain Resorts, Na-tional Parks, Ranches, Rafting Companies 500 plus employers na-tionwide! Call SEII (919) 932-1489, ext. R85.

PART-TIME YOUTH work er. 10 hours a week, begin in fall. Apply by April 1. First Lutheran Church. 537–8532.

PREMIERE BROTHERS

Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year book, Radio Station Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking) Top salaries, room board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-192-2752

REFEREES WANTED USSF Certified Soccer Refer ees needed for Soccer Tournament, April 13 and 14 at Anneberg Park Manhattan Kansas. For information call 537-2670.

SUMMER EMPLOY-MENT: Experienced combine or truck driv ers needed for custom wheat harvesting op eration. Lancaster Har vesting, Dodge City Kansas. (316)227-8821. SUMMER HARVEST help wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in May. Call Mike Parker, Waterville, KS. Phone; (800)653–8235. TECHNICAL SUPPORT STUDENT: The De-partment of Commu-nications, Information and Educational Tech nology seeks a self-mo tivated student with ex pertise to maintain a small Novell network with some support from network engineering staff. Must be able to install and maintain application software in both Windows ware in both Windows 3.1 and in Windows 95 environment. Experi ence with creating mac ros and template is a plus. Must be familiar with Netscape and "plug-ins." IET offers with Netscape and plug-ins.* IET offers flexible hours during competitive pay; 15–20 hours/ week during school year and 20–40 hours during summer. Applications available in 211 Umberger Hall through March 20, 1996.

THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you are proud of your ac-complishments and want to join an excel lent team of profes sionals fax your resume to: Advertising Director, fax (316)267–8570.

TROPICAL RESORTS Hir-DPICAL RESORTS Hir-ing. Entry-level and ca-reer positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, house-keepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness counselors, and more. Ex-cellent benefits + bo-nuses. Call Resort Employment Services 1-206-971-3600 ext

WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience around farm machinery or trucks preferred Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776-1321 ask for Ryan or (913)582-5359.

WHEAT HARVEST help wanted for summer.
Case- IH equipment diesel trucks from Texas to Montana. $1500/
month. Maddey Harvesting. Norton, KS (913)877-5577.

CAMP POSIT POSITIONS. Looking for mature, de-pendable, committed people to implement quality YMCA Summer Day Camps in four To-peka locations. Must be able to work well with and relate to kids and parents. First Aid, CPR, water and CDL certification a plus. Elemen tary Education, Child Development, Physcial Education, and Recreation are encouraged to apply. Camp Coordinators- Need strong administrative, super visory, communicative organization, and people skills. Minimum requirements: 12 college hours in relevant cours es or one year experi-ence in state licensed child care program.
Camp CounselorsMust communicate and relate well to kids and parents. Minimum requirements: must be 18, high school diplo-ma, relvant college hours, experience in child care and/ or ob-servation hours. Apply now at the YMCA of Topeka Kuehns Branch at 1936 N. Tyler, Topeka 66608 or Downtown Branch At 421 Van Buren, Topeka 66603 GUN

The Collegian cannot varify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such business opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to urges our readers to contact the Better Busi-ness Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

Business Opportunities

EXPANDING BUSINESS in Greece looking for as-sociate who is bilin-gual. Call (913)353-2530.

Items for Sale

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks) Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT work-wear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9-5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734.

MK COSMETICS on sale Buy one get second of equal or lesser value free. In stock only. 776-6674.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots, BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Ogden, KS.

Furniture to

Buy/Sell

FOR SALE: Five piece din-ing patio set. Excellent condition, Homecrest

Brand. $200. Paid $459

Antiques

MOVIES, STILLS, books, brawns remington, Afri-can, black, oriental, estate jewelry, albums, tin signs, beer mobilia, hats, prints, political, many curious goods, Time Machine Antique Maul 1910 Skyway Drive, east of Airport. Open 12-5, Tuesday-Saturday. Visa and Mastercard and laya-ways, 539-4684.

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Man-hattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers

72- PIN RAM, 8 meg $170, 4 meg $80, 4X-CD ROM $90. Tom 395-2447.

Supplies

AFRICAN PYGMY heghogs male/ female, 776-0289.

Sporting Equipment

> AND KNIFE SHOW. New location! We have moved from Manhattan to Junction City National Guard Ar mory at 18th and Jack-son. Saturday March 16, 9- 5. Sunday March 17, 9- 4. Buy- Sell-913)922-6979.

Automobiles

1983 PLYMOUTH Reliant 92K, great school car. Asking $900 or best offer. Call 532-6492 or 776-2073 after 6p.m. 1985 F-150 4X4, air conditioned, four-speed, extra sharp $5700, 587-0562. Ask for Heath 1987 MONTE Carlo SS below average miles 539-8307. 1983 Pontiac 6000 front-wheel drive, six cylin-BLACK der, diesel, dual tanks. $1250, best offer, 537-4047.

Bicycles

1995 SCHWINN Moab S mountain bike, 19-inch, squash yellow with front suspension. $425 front suspension. $42! or best offer. 537-1359.

TREK 820 $200. Trek 930 with front Shox $250.Ask for Mike, 539-2370.

CET WORL OUT.

Classified Directory 210 Resume/Typing

050 Parties n-More

REAL ESTATE

120 For Rent - Houses 125 For Sale - Houses 130 For Rent — Mobile Homes

135 For Sale — Mobile Homes 140 For Rent - Garage

145 Roommate Wanted 150 Sublease 155 Stable/Pasture

CAREERS

36. EMPLOYMENT

215 Desktop Publishing 40

> 405 Wanted to Buy 410 Items for Sale

435 Computers

466 Tickets to Buy/Self

486 Sporting Equipmen 460 Stiene Equipment

PORTATION

850 Automobiles 829 Bloydes 650 Molorgoles 860 Car Prof

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service

you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by

Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

lecrest Circle 776-3804

Home Away From Home! Now leasing for 1996-97 •2 bedrooms block from campus Furnished and unfurnished Showings every Monday through Friday 2-4 p.m.

Make Anderson Place Your

1852 Anderson Place #16 776-1222

115 Rooms Available

010 Announcements

030 Personals 040 Meetings/Events

160 Office Space 105 Land for Sale

418 Furniture to BuylSe 420 Garage/Yant Salas 425 Auction 430 Antiques

440 Food Specials 445 Music Instruments 480 Pell and Supplies

abbreviations.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS

St. Pat's Day Parade

Parade begins at 11 a.m.,

March 16, in Aggieville

2:45 p.m. - Awards ceremony in Triangle Park

COME EARLY! Bring the family and spend the Parade entries include:

K-State Marching Band

 KSU Football Team Captains · Kids, Clowns, Bagpipers, Cars

PRIZES Enter Pot of Gold Contest to win prizes from Aggieville merchants. Also prizes for largest University group, best dressed pet, and bike entered in parade.

· Marching Cobras from Kansas City

day in Aggieville - Enjoy shopping and eating, pony rides, moonwalk, clowns and face painting.

12:30 p.m. - 2-mile Fun Run begins

1:15 p.m. - 10 km Road Race

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

gaining power at the time.

"Moscow needed to exert rule of Poland, also because that made it easier to control Czechoslovakia and Hungary and isolated non-Russian minorities in the Soviet Union from Western influence," Jaruzelski said.

"The 37-million strong Poland was the largest East European country under Soviet rule, its armed forces being the Warsaw Pact's largest non-Soviet army," he said.

"Events were developing at a furious pace like some huge, foaming incapable river in space. The situation had got completely out of control, the government, the 'Solidarnose' leadership and the Church's authority proving futile." Jaruzelski said the Polish government because and the Solidarity party were miles apart in their beliefs.

"The high temperature of the conflict raised an emotional barrier between us and darkened what could have been a rational picture," he said.

Jaruzelski said the decision could

Pharmacy

Lafene Health Center

be considered to be a choice between the lesser of two evils.

"Should you ask whether we, in Poland, successfully passed our his-exam - I again have to reply both yes and no. because as I have already

- we

of finding accord.

proved

One can always change one's views. I also have fundamentally changed mine - not only in theomentioned ry, but in practice.

GEN. WOJCIECH JARUZELSKI

we passed through those turbulent times without greater casualties, without burning the bridges toward future positive solutions," he said.

"Were it not for the declaration of martial law, the substantiation of that announcement in mid-winter would have signified not only economic but also biological catastrophe," he said.

Jaruzelski said he has changed his opinion about communism since its collapse in Eastern Europe.

"One can always change one's views. I also have fundamentally changed mine - not only in theory, but in practice. I may sound immodest, but I must say that as the initiator of the 'round table' and, next, as President of the Republic of Poland, I effectively contributed to the dismantling of the old system," he said.

Because of his decision to declare martial law, Polish citizens have mixed feelings about Jaruzelski and his decision.

Martial law was lifted and Jaruzelski remained in power on July

Jaruzelski was accompanied by Jerzy Wiatr, a member of the Polish Parliament and the current Minister of National Education. Wiatr was a leading representative of the Polish People's Republic, a leader of the reformatory, democratic branch of the pro-socialist Polish People's Republic.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIA O Years

How to Incorporate the Internet in Your Job Search.

Learn how to use WWW for: Tips for WWW Resumes

→ Using USENET News Internet Job Listings

On-line Demo of the Web for ways to help your job search:

Wednesday March 13 Forum Hall 7-8:30 p.m.

Presented by Patrick Hennessey: Electrical Engineering Sponsored by Career and Employment Services 532-6506

GROSSLY DISCOUNTED PRICES Guiness Stout $ 647 SAVE $ 1.50 Guiness Pub Draught Murphy's Irish Stout Harp Lager SAVE OVER $ 1.00 Bass Ale $ 647 RIGS 319 6 PACK BOTTIES Michael Shea's New Castle Brown Ale Killian's Red/Brown Ale $ 147 RIG. 88.19 539-5269 12th & Laramie . Aggieville

PLAY IT SAFE THIS SPRING

For more information, call Cheryl Sieben at 776-8050

G.A.M.M.A. & S.H.A.P.E. PRESENT A MOCK D.U.I ARREST & TRIAL

MARCH 14 10:50 & 11:30 A.M. UNION COURTYARD

Over the counter medication available. KPPC offers promotion internship

Open For Your Convenience

Mon.-Fri. 8:30 a.m.-8:30 p.m.

Sat. 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Student Health Fee

Helps Defray Medical Expenses

532-7758

to K-State students The Kansas Pork Producers council is offering an internship to a student wanting the opportunity to work with a volunteer agricultural commodity group while developing communication, marketing and organizational skills.

Students who are seeking future employment in fields such as animal science, journalism and mass communications, hotel and restauraunt management, marketing, human ecology, public relations and foods and nutrition will find the on-thejob experiences gained during the internship to be valuable. The intern is selected on University recommendations, student application forms and interviews.

Applicants must have at least 60 credit hours with two semesters remaining until graduation. The intern works in the state office appoximately four hours per week on various activities during the school year. Some travel is required. The student receives three credit hours and a scholarship.

Applications will be accepted in the KPPC office through March 31, 1996. The internship begins in August of 1996 and ends May 31, 1997.

2601 Farm Bureau Rd. 913-776-0442

Believe Us, They're Not on the Counter.

Find them in the Lost and Found in the

kansas state collegian

532-6555 103 Kedzie

Shipping

only

$5.00

MacWorks

Student Power Macintosh Blowout!!

Performa 5200CD - 8/800/CD + 75-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor

. All-in-one, tilt-and-swivel design Built-in 15-inch multiple scan color display

 800 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM 14,400 bps fax modern to send and receive faxes

 Quad-speed CD-ROM drive for fast playback · Built-in speakers and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound Apple Design Keyboard

· Apple Factory Refurbished 90-day warranty

PowerBook 5300 - 8/500

sales macworks.com

100-MHz RISG-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor

 9.5 inch backlit passive-matrix display (16-level gray scale) 500 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM - Built-in Video Output supporting an external color display at up

· PC card slots for two Type I or Type II PC Cards or one Type III

. Built-in speaker and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound Apple Factory 1-year warranty

CALL TODAY! Your Choice

Add an Ink-Jet Printer for $199 Apple StyleWriter 1200

Add a Postscript™ Printer for $499 Apple LaserWriter 320

Mention you're a student and receive, a free CD-ROM Bundle!

Open Mon-Fri 9:00am-6:00pm We accept: Visa/MC

http://www.macworks.com

WEDNESDAY LUNCH

11 a.m.-1 p.m.

99¢ PEPPERONI PERSONAL PAN (NO 5 MINUTE GUARANTEE)

OFFER GOOD WEDNESDAY ONLY AT THE

AGGIEVILLE LOCATION ON DINE-IN ORDERS SORRY—NOT AVAILABLE FOR CARRYOUT

AGGIEVILLE 1121 MORO 539-7666

NOT VALID WITH ANY OTHER SPECIAL OFFER+1/20 CENT CASH REDEMPTION-VALUE • PIZZA HUT OF AGGIEVILLE

Today: Partly cloudy. See weather map, page 2.

GROUP PROVIDES SUPPORT FOR WOMEN IN SCIENCE

Growing from 500 members in 1971 to more than 6,000 current members, the Association for Women in Science has become the largest multidisciplinary science organization for

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

Dole's Super Tuesday

Dole predicted to clinch presidental nomination in a week.

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Sen. Bob Dole, R.-Kan., claimed a Republican primary sweep Tuesday and looked to a possible clinch of the presidential nomination in a week

"That could be the magic night," he told an exuberant crowd.

Dole celebrated solid victories in six Super Tuesday states and hoped for a strong finish in Oregon as well. Even as the biggest primary night of the campaign made the rest of the nomination contest a cakewalk for him, new polls indicated he had an uphill battle catching President Clinton in the months ahead. He seemed ready for the fight.

"Give us a chance, get Bill Clinton out of the way, and we'll get the job done," he told a cheering throng. "I think the only Tuesday that's going to be more super than this will be Tuesday, November 5."

Having vaulted back from a faltering start, Dole now felt sufficiently in command to put aside his usual cautions. He said it is pretty clear he will be the nominee and spoke in conciliatory terms of the opponents who have been hammering him for weeks.

"We've listened, and we've heard strong messages," Dole said of commentator Pat Buchanan and publisher Steve Forbes. "It is time to come together now and put our ideas together and build a strong agenda for November."

Neither Forbes nor Buchanan went into Super Tuesday planning to leave the race. Their hope was to hang in and shape the GOP agenda. Dole was joined on the victory stage by House Speaker Newt Gingrich, who urged Forbes' supporters to get behind the senator. 'I used to think I worked pretty hard until I worked with Bob Dole," Gingrich said of the man with whom he has had sometimes testy relations. "This guy can work harder than anybody I've ever seen." Dole predicted he could amass a majority of dele-

● See DOLE Page 12

Senate OKs increase in student health fee

Courtney Marshall staff reporter

Senators held their breath and waited for the roll-call vote Tuesday night concerning the student health fee. As the vote was announced, some student senators applauded for all the hard work and

A second Student Health Fee increase of $83 was passed after the first bill was passed and vetoed by Student Body President Jeff Peterson.

passed Student was SENATE Tuesday night amended to increase the fee from the proposed $77 to $83. Senators in support of the $13 increase encouraged other senators to vote for the increase and not be afraid of the executive veto.

"It's crunch time, and it's coming down to the wire, folks. We need to do something, and we need to do it now. $83 is a legitimate compromise to this situation," Gip Githens, education senator, said.

The issue of quality service was brought up by many that spoke for and against the bill.

"It was a dark and stormy night, we were in exec (executive committee), and he (Peterson) said the reason we want to do this (veto the bill) is because we have mediocre care," Janelle Moore, arts and sciences senator, said.

• See LAFENE Page 12

Riley County police officer Jack

dent.

CARY CONOVER

Boggs surveys the damage done to one of the vehicles in a two-vehicle accident Tuesday evening near the intersection of Fort Riley Boulevard and Stagg Hill Road. Five people were injured in the acci-

1,000 Women March route JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

▶ 1,000 WOMAN MARCH

Students unite with marchers, raise awareness

Voices from across the state will unite in the 1,000 Woman March to protest the changes, or lack of changes, in social programs.

For More Information,

or if you need trasporta-

tion to the march, contact

Brenda Hanger at 776-

3141; Kim Morgan, chari-

woman of NASW, at 532-

4965; or Marlene Howell

professor of women's studies, at 532-7271.

More than 1,000 people, including dignitaries, are expected to attend at 11 a.m. Friday at the Topeka Statehouse

The event, sponsored by the Kansas chapter of the National Association of Social Workers committee on women's issues, was organized to provide a platform for people affected by a list of community issues. The march is not limited to women's issues, said

Brenda Hanger, chairwoman of the march. "The purpose of the march is to give people an environment in which they can speak directly to their senators or legislators regarding how they are being impacted by various issues," Hanger said. Some of these issues include recent budget cuts such as Headstart, school lunch programs, lesbian and gay issues, elderly and racial discrimination, the privatization of welfare management and any restriction of choice for women.

On-site voter registration will be set up as well as free refreshments and a children's activity center. A caravan to the march will also be available

A group of students attending the march will address Social Rehabilitative Services changes that will force all K-State single mothers who are recipients of aid to dependent children to drop out of school and take jobs making less than minimum wage to continue receiving assistance, said Karen Maddox, a junior in social work and mother of two Carrie Warrem, senior in social work, who has been involved in organizing the march, said part of the goal is to show people that these are not "welfare mothers" they're talking about. They are mothers on welfare.

• See MARCH Page 12

Truck attempts U-turn, causes crash; 5 taken to hospital for treatment

Scott M. Ladd

Five people were injured and taken to the Saint Mary Hospital following a two-vehicle, majordamage accident at the intersection of Fort Riley Boulevard and Stagg Hill Road.

Both vehicles were eastbound on Fort Riley Boulevard when the truck that was in front of the car went to make a U-turn from the outside lane," said Sgt. Kurt Moldrup, Riley County Police Department. "The truck turned into the car, causing the accident."

The car, a 1986 Oldsmobile Cutlass driven by Carol Jurgens, 25, was left in the intersection. The truck, a 1991 Mazda driven by Nicholas Peak, 16, continued out of the intersection and into a field northeast of the accident scene.

"I assume the truck just continued going, and the driver failed to step on the brakes. That's most likely how the truck ended up in the field," Moldrup said.

In addition to the drivers, 5year-old Chelsie Linell and 18month-old Emily Carter, both passengers in the Cutlass, and 15Wreck on Ft. Riley Boulevard

A car and truck collided, sending the car onto the median of Ft. Riley Boulevard. The truck ended up in the northeast field year-old Scott Sears, a passenger in the Mazda, were taken to the Saint Mary Hospital.

ANDY MARCINIAK/Collegis

At press time, examinations continued, and the individuals' conditions were unknown. Peak was issued a citation for unsafe U-turn, Moldrup said.

No additional citations were

Laura Pederson

speaks to a crowd about women in business Tuesday evening in Forum Hall. At 18 years old, Pederson took a job as a clerk at the American Stock Exchange, and by the time she was 22. she was a million-

STEVE HEBERT

Stock market earns millions for speaker, causes burnout

Stephanie Schmutz

Investing in new ideas was the message Laura Pederson delivered to students Tuesday night as part of K-State's Free Your Mind Week

FREE YOUR MIND WEEK

Pederson spoke on behalf of women in business.

"Opportunity comes from change, always has, always will," Pederson said. "That's how I made a million dollars on the New York Stock Exchange."

Pederson started her career at a young age. At 18 she was a runner on the floor of the NYSE. By 20 she earned a seat as a trader, at 21 she became the youngest partner ever, and at 22 she was a millionaire.

"I was in the right place at the right time," she said. "I had a love for the market, and I found success because of that."

While working long hours on the Exchange, she also earned her degree in finance from New York University.

"Never pass up an opportunity to learn something," she said. "I wasn't a great student, but I didn't give up."

"We must depend on ourselves for employment," Pederson said. "We need to continue to educate ourselves and take the opportunity to learn something new."

However, working for the NYSE took its toll. After seven years, Pederson left Wall Street. "I got burned out," she said. "I was 23 and completely burned out." After leaving the Exchange, Pederson went to work for Joan Rivers.

"She was my inspiration," Pederson said. "She had been fired from 50 jobs, but she never gave up.'

Working for Rivers gave Pederson the opportunity to meet many successful women.

"I studied a lot of women in business," she said. "Women are moving ahead in the world at a fast rate."

As the world changes, so does the need to personalize products and services. "Change is taking place so fast, and it is important for women to keep up," Pederson

Focusing on the individual is what companies are doing

• See SPEECH Page 10

In the news

▶ VICTIMS OF VIOLENCE TO RECEIVE MONEY FROM U.S. GOVERNMENT

More than $1.3 million in federal money will be distributed this year to Kansans who are victims of violent crimes

Attorney General Carla Stovall received notice from U.S. Congressman Pat Robert's office Monday that $1,352,000 will be provided from money set aside by the federal Victims of Crime Act.

"I'm very pleased to be able to administer the monies from the Victims of Crime Act to assist those who, through no fault of their own, become victims of crime in our state," Stovall said. "And I am especially pleased that the money allocated to Kansas for 1997 is nearly half a million more dollars than we received last year."

The Victims of Crime Act of 1984 established a fund to assist crime victims across the country.

The fund is financed through fines and penalties collected from convicted federal criminals, and the amount of money a state receives is based on its population, said Mary Horsch, director of communication for the Kansas Attorney General's

A committee will be formed to distribute the funds and a notice to submit proposals will be given to organizations in Kansas that deal with victims, Horsch said.

The money allocated to Kansas will be distributed to programs in the state that deal with victims of violent crimes including sexual assault, spouse abuse and child abuse. Stovall said.

There are other funds, including state-administered ones, that distribute money to victims of crime in Kansas, Horsch said.

"This is just the federal part of it all," she said.

In the past, there have been programs in this state that have not received an adequate amount of funding, Stovall said.

"I look forward to putting the money to good use by providing much-needed funds to programs throughout the state, particularly in areas that have not been fully funded in the past," Stovall said.

Brett Mast

▶ KANSAS SENATE TO DEBATE GIVING INMATES RELIGIOUS MATERIALS

TOPEKA (AP) - The secretary of corrections told a legislative subcommittee the state should stop paying for inmates' religious materi-

The Department of Corrections spent only $4,000 last year on items such as Bibles, pamphlets and religious magazines.

But Corrections Secretary Chuck Simmons said that number could rise as more and more inmates start to request such mater-

He also told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that prisoners are getting more innovative in what they consider religious texts. "Inmates create religions every day," he said. The state is required to provide religious items to prisoners under state law. But if the law is amended,

Simmons said the state would provide only donated items that have first been screened by the depart-

Simmons said the department screens for items that promote racial or religious intolerance. The House already has approved the measure It now goes to the Senate Judiciary Committee for debate and a decision on endorsement.

▶ HEIR ESCAPES DEATH PENALTY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) Multimillionaire John E. du Pont will not face the death penalty when he goes on trial in the slaying of an Olympic wrestler at du Pont's estate, the district attorney said Tuesday.

Delaware County Prosecutor Patrick Meehan said his office had concluded the case lacked the aggravating circumstances necessary to invoke the death penalty. Under Pennsylvania law, any of 16 aggravating circumstances must be present, such as the torture of a victim, a previous murder conviction on the part of the defendant or if the slaying was committed during a rob-

Du Pont is charged with shooting wrestler Dave Schultz to death in front of Schultz's house on du Pont's suburban Philadelphia estate on Jan. 26.

Messages left for du Pont's lawyers were not immediately returned Tuesday.

Schultz's widow, Nancy Schultz, released a statement saying she understood the decision. Du Pont, 57, has been held without bail since his Jan. 28 arrest. A hearing is scheduled for Friday on a variety of motions, including whether he is competent to stand trial.

▶ CD-ROM TO EXHUME OUTLAW

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - A Maryland company is offering an option for those who want more hands-on involvement with the exhumation of Jesse James than just getting newsprint on their fingers from reading about it.

Odyssey Productions of Beltsville, Md., is the official video company for the investigative team led by George Washington University forensics professor James Starrs that dug up the infamous outlaw last summer.

DNA testing in February revealed that in all scientific probability the grave held the remains of James.

"Scientific Journeys of Discovery: The Search for Jesse James" will put the public in the archaeologist's seat through an interactive CD-ROM - a multimedia computer program that provides sound, pictures and words.

"CD-ROM will enable people to learn about the whole process of what Starrs and the team had to go through to accomplish the feat," Odyssey owner Mitchell Calhoun said.

The software should be available this summer for about $40, Calhoun said.

Users will select trowels and shovels, sort through artifacts and get an up-close look at things under a microscope.

Police reports

Reports are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

MONDAY, MARCH 11

The K-State Police had nothing noteworthy to report at press time

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

MONDAY, MARCH 11

At 10:25 p.m., Mike Perez, security guard at 130 Sarber Lane Dillons east, reported the theft of one K40 Radio Shack antenna valued at $90.

TUESDAY, MARCH 12

At 5:46 a.m., Tom Gary of 2800 Nevada St. reported lost property missing mailbox on top of his step son's vehicle.

MISS YOUR PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

 Career and Employment Services will present "Reaching Out ... How to incorporate the internet in your Job Search." Learn how to use the World Wide Web for resu ings at 7 tonight in Forum Hall.

The world is getting smaller. Make yours larger. Volunteer to help an international student practice spoken English in the Conversational English Program Contact Jim Endrizzi at the m The Division of Biology se scheduled to be presented by Stephen Johnson at 4 p.m. today in Ackert 221 has been canceled. Smurthwaite Scholarship House will be host to a generational fun night for all ages from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Friday at the Frith Community

M Kim Younghee will present a doctoral dissertation at 9 a.m. today in Justin 247.

BULLETINS

 National Society of Black Engineers will meet at 6:30 tonight in Durland 163.

■ Muslim Student Association will meet from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. today in the Union Little Theatre. The topic is "Islam and Conte Issues." Refreshments will be served, and everyone is welcome.

KSU Aikido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight at Dance Studio 301. Arts and Sciences Ambassadors applications will be available in Eisenhower 117. The cations are due at 4 p.m. April 9 in the dean's office. ■ College of Human Ecology student ambassador applications are available. Applications are due in

We take news tips! 532-6556

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school

A 40-percent chance for rain.

Mostly cloudy. High 65 to 70.

summer. Second-class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103. Manhattan, Kan, 66506-7167

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today

Warm and partly cloudy. High around 70. Tonight, a 30 percent chance for rain. Low in the upper 40s.

Yesterday's highs and ows m 1982.

Denver

59/32

Thursday

STATE OUTLOOK

Warm. Increasing cloudiness in the west and partly sunny in the east. Breezy in the southeast. Highs from the mid-60s in the northwest corner to the mid-70s in the south central. Tonight, a chance for thunderstorms in the north and east, and mostly cloudy in the southwest. Lows from the mid-30s in the northwest to around 50 in the southeast.

St. Louis . 61/37

CRUISE SHIPS/LAND TOUR CO.'S NOW HIRING!

Earn up to $2,500/month plus food, lodging. transportation. World Travel. No experience required. Many positions available.

(800) 638-6845, Ext. 2107 BRYAN LYKINS & HEJTMANEK

Lawyers Representing Consumers

Injured?

Call For A Free Discussion 1-800-608-2473

..913 235-5678

Tenant Affairs: on of this argency is to serve the students, faculty, staff, and community through education and providing education on consumer and tenantrelated issues.

Job description and applications can be obtained at the office of student activities and services located on the Ground Floor of the Student Union.

Applications are due by 3 p.m. on Friday, March 15, 1996 in the Student Office of Activities and Services.

For more information. Please contact: Scott Smith, Director Consumer and Tenant Affairs 532-6541

Patricia's

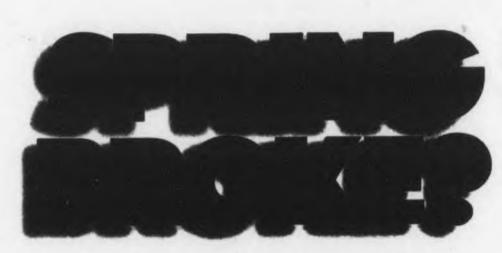

Lingerie and

We have a swimsuit to fit you 32-36, A-DD

Sunset separates, Raisins, Sauvage, Ritchie, Budweiser, Pan Dulce, Hazel 1224 Moro Aggieville

Mon.-Thur. 10-7

Fri.-Sat. 10-5

on't let this spring leave you broke and left out of all the fun. Go anywhere Greyhound goes for a maximum round trip fare of $129. For a limited time only, from February 26th until April 15th, students who show a valid student ID can travel to any of our 2,400 destinations. So this spring, take your break on Greyhound.

For more information call 1.800.231.2222.

K-State musicians, guest perform medley of works by female artists

Kristin Hermes staff reporter

Three centuries of music written by women composers will be represented when a guest artist joins members of K-State's music faculty for a concert at 8 tonight in All Faiths Chapel.

Karen Clarke, chairwoman of the string department and professor of violin at Florida State University, is an artist in residency this week and will be performing in the concert, Cora Cooper, assistant professor of music,

Women have been writing music since the time of Gregorian chants, but it is only recently that people began studying it on a large scale, Clarke

"The recent interest in women's music is trendy, but it's something that's very long overdue. People are really beginning to discover lately that this music is very good," she said.

Clarke will perform pieces for violin and piano by Amy Beach and Pauline Viardot-Garcia, both of which are from the Romantic era, she said.

Mezzo-soprano Jennifer Edwards, assistant professor of music, will be performing works by Viardot-Garcia and Clara Schumann, and K-State's faculty Trio Debranche will present the contemporary composition "Chain of Being" by Alice Ho.

The trio is one of the two pieces the ensemble has been invited to perform at the International Festival of Women Composers at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

It involves many special effects with the piano, Cooper said, which include plucking the strings inside the piano and laying metal chains across the piano's strings.

There will also be a string trio written by Maddalena Lombardini-Sirmen that will be performed on period instruments.

Clarke takes a personal and academic interest in women's music. As a part of this interest, Clarke has spent the past year on sabbatical collecting women's compositions and texts, in forming a sort of women's music library for herself, she said. She has also made a personal commitment to promoting the music, she said.

"In the next few years, I plan to perform at least one composition written by a woman at every concert I play in, because no matter where you know this music," she said.

"Eventually,

I hope this music will become part lar repertoire of musicians.

and we won't have to have a special concert to

she said.

said she highlight it,"

Cooper

thought the music would appeal to

of the regu-

The recent interest in women's music is trendy, but it's something that's very long overdue. People are really beginning to discover lately that this music is very good.

KAREN CLARKE PROFESSOR OF VIOLIN AT FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

"This concert is for everyone to enjoy — especially since we ordinarily only hear men composers. Also, it's a good representation of what some women have done through the centuries, " she said.

Admission to the concert is free.

Women's History Month attracts prominent speakers, musicians

■ Women's Resource Center sponsors events commemorating struggles

L.L. Livengood staff reporter

Women's History Month will be celebrated with music, video and a lec-

A concert featuring guest artist Karen Clarke, professor of violin at Florida State University, is the first of events scheduled for the March celebration.

"The music played will all be by women composers," Judy Davis, director of the Women's Resource Center,

Clarke will by joined by members of the K-State music faculty during the concert at 8 tonight in All Faiths

Another event scheduled traces the struggle for women's rights through two sisters' lives.

"There is a video showing and panel discussion of the documentary on the Grimke sisters," Davis said.

The sisters left the South and became the first female agents of the American Anti-Slavery Society.

The event, sponsored by the Women's Resource Center and the Women's Studies Program, is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Thursday in Union

The scheduled events will conclude with the Dorothy L. Thompson Civil Rights Lecture.

"L. Camille Hebert will present a lecture on sexual and racial harassment," Davis said.

Hebert is an associate professor of law at Ohio State University who earned her bachelor of arts degree in political science and philosophy from K-State in 1979 before graduating from the University of Kansas Law School in 1982.

The lecture is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. March 19 in Forum Hall.

WOMEN IN SCIENCE

Science group offers women aid, resources girls with from other women in many dif-

fields. It has also provided

resources

with problem solving, developing leadership and promoting opportunities in sci-

to help

ferent

support

Misty Mayden

he Association for Women in Science is celebrating its 25th anniversary through-

Growing from 500 members in 1971 to more than 6,000 current members, it has become the largest multidisciplinary science organization for women in the United States.

The local affiliate chapter at K-State was founded in 1991 when several professors and other women in the science fields saw a need for an organization that catered to the advancement of women in science.

The local chapter includes not only women from K-State, but also from KU, Emporia State and professional women in the area," Mary Albrecht, newsletter and membership officer, said.

Albrecht, professor and undergraduate program coordinator of the Department of Horticulture, said the chapter meets monthly to discuss research projects going on in the area and to listen to presentations about various topics beneficial to the members' chosen careers.

Although the national organization is celebrating its anniversary with many events, the local chapter is focused more on continuing to provide resources for their members, Albrecht said.

"As a chapter, we decided to continue providing the same types of services that we have been, so our members have the time, the resources and the education to advance their careers," she said.

National anniversary celebrations will be sponsored throughout the year, many of which began in the early days of February For 25 years, AWIS has provided health issues. Women interested in more infor-

Adult Tickets: $10 & $7

The chapter at Kansas State is here mostly as a support group for the women on campus, as well as providing them with a place to go for information.

BRENDA OPPERT PRESIDENT OF K-STATE CHAPTER FOR THE ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN IN SCIENCE

chapter at Kansas State is here mostly as a support group for the women on campus, as well as providing them with a place to go for information," Brenda Oppert, president of the K-State chapter, said.

The K-State chapter uses AWIS' mentoring program as its basis for the activities it plans throughout the

"The mentoring that goes on in the organization is from many directions," Albrecht said. "There's mentoring from faculty member to faculty member, as well as from faculty member to undergraduate."

Because of the reputation AWIS has established across the nation, its members are often called upon to present testimony before Congress, as well as to national agencies, on women's issues such as gender discrimination, sexual harassment and mation about the local chapter can contact Oppert at the Grain Marketing Research Lab, or Albrecht in the Department of Horticulture.

For the next four days, the Collegian will profile different researchers from K-State involved with the Association for Women in Science.

Professional Ice Hockey

THURSDAY, MARCH 14

7 p.m. • TULSA OILERS

Tickets only $5 with T-95 Rock Card

Rock Card Night

KICT-95

Come dressed like the Hanson

Bros. for a chance to win a night of "Hangin' with the Hansons"

Back by Popular Demand

50° Old Milwaukee 51 Bottles §1.25 Wells ⁵2 Pitchers

Yeah, we mean everything, even menu items

1129 Laramie • 537-4866

FOOSBALL TOURNEY • SUNDAY • 6 P.M.

Wearing contact lenses has never been so affordable.

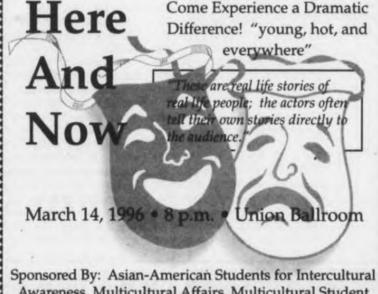

- Wear them for up to a week and replace them with a fresh, new pair
- No more cleaning hassles
- No long-term buildup that can irritate your eyes

Multi-Pak fitting fees not included in price.

(913) 537-1118 3012 Anderson Manhattan, Kansas 66502

Awareness, Multicultural Affairs, Multicultural Student Organizations, UPC Multicultural Committee

by Birke Mechem March 14-16 & March 19-21 Richols Theatre 8p.m. Tickets at McCain Box Office 532-6428

Opinion

CLARIFICATION

Because of recent problems with programming, letters to the editor written on the E-Collegian comment submission form were not saved and forwarded. While the problem has been fixed, several letters were lost

If you submitted a letter by the comment submission form during the last two weeks, please resubmit the letter via e-mail to (steff@ksu.ksu.edu) or bring the letter to Kedzie 116. Thank you for your patience, and we apologize for the problems.

Stephanie Fuqua, opinion editor

COLLEGIANopinion

1,000 Women March a way to make voices heard

QUICKread

532-7271

For more information, or if you need transportation to the march, contact Brenda Hanger at 776-3141; Kim Morgan, chairwoman of NASW, at 532-4965; or Marlene Howell, professor of women's studies, at

Students often have a hard time making their voices heard, whether it is to the administration, Congress or the Kansas Board of Regents.

However, K-State women, as well as women from across the state, will have an opportunity to bend the collective ear of the Kansas Legislature Friday.

The 1,000 Women March, sponsored by the Kansas chapter of the National Association of Social Workers, is an opportunity for women to voice their opinions about women's issues. Some of the issues in particular affect many K-State students.

Single parents will be interested in speaking about budget cuts in the Headstart and school lunch programs and changes in Social and Rehabilitative Services. Many of the lesbian and gay students on campus could address their issues, and minorities are expected to express their feelings on racial issues.

The march is also an opportunity for students to address financial aid cuts and rising tuition.

Regardless of how you feel on these and other issues, the important thing is to go and make yourself heard. Too many times this semester and in previous semesters, the Collegian Editorial Board has urged students to stop being apathetic and do something. Friday is another opportunity to take a stand. Many legislators have promised to be in attendance and listen to concerns.

In addition, an on-site voter registration booth will be set up. Take the time to get registered to vote in the November elections.

Friday will be an important day for many women in Kansas. Students should pitch in and do their part.

TOLES

MATT HAWKINS Welcome to Hooters. May take your order 'Hooters Girl'

y grad check is in, and it's official - I'm grad-Luating in May. While I don't have a job lined up, and I haven't applied to graduate schools yet, I've decided what I want to do with my life. I want to be a

"Hooters Girl." Not really. I don't particularly want to be a woman period, much less a "Hooters Girl." I've never waited tables in my life, and that's not where I see myself after graduation.

But guys, if there's anything you've ever wanted to do just because someone said you couldn't, this is your chance. You see, no matter how well you wait tables, no matter how much experience you have in the sports bar-and-grill business, men can't wait at Hooters.

Because the Hooters wait staff are all "Hooters Girls."

"That's the way it's been since the company was founded in 1983," said Scott Levinson, Hooters regional marketing director for Kansas and Missouri. "Our concept is built around the Hooters Girl - the all-American, cheerleadertype girl-next-door."

That means I can't be a "Hooters

I'm not too pleased with that idea. If a man and a woman are equally qualified for the job, flip a coin. Or choose the woman - I'm all for affirmative action.

But it seems to me if a man has a couple years experience and a good set of references, and a woman has no experience and a good set of hooters, the man deserves the job. Hooters doesn't see it that way. They see "Hooters Girls" as showgirls.

"You wouldn't see a man as a Dallas Cowboys Cheerleader or a Rockette or playing Dorothy in 'The Wizard of Oz," Levinson said. "That's the way we see it. If you're a Hooters Girl, you're playing a

That's not the way the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Myview sees it. The EEOC filed a lawsuit against Hooters for discriminatory hiring practices.

DAN Lewerenz

"What basically is happening is there are three separate individuals with separate complaints, and each is paying for their own lawsuit out of their own pockets," Levinson said. With the EEOC, it's something they've taken upon themselves. "The EEOC is spending taxpayer money, and that's what we have taken offense to." The company has taken a defensive almost comical - stance. If you call one of the restaurants and get put on hold, you're likely to hear a jingle mocking the idea of Hooters waiters. And their radio campaign includes spots by

"Support your Hooters Girls," she appealed. And I don't think wearing a bra is what she had in mind.

the original "Hooters Girl."

The whole thing would be comical if it wasn't so serious.

Women still have difficulty reaching the top levels of the business world, while affirmative action programs are being assaulted by the angry white males of America as reverse discrimination.

Yet here is a national corporation that refuses to hire men for decent waiting jobs, and all anyone can think about is how ridiculous men would look in those tight orange shorts and tied-up tee shirts.

Hooters has created an environment in which men cannot perform the regular duties required of waiters and thereby given themselves an excuse not to hire men. That is discrimination. It is wrong.

I hope the EEOC wins. I hope Hooters is forced to behave like any other business and give equal opportunities to both men and women.

And I hope if I ever need a job, and I look to waiting tables, I'll have what it takes to be a "Hooters Girl."

Dan Lewerenz is a senior in philosophy and American ethnic studies.

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

S.H.A.P.E. GAVE WRONG INFORMATION IN LETTER

The members of S.H.A.P.E. have shown their true colors. In the March 7 Collegian, they submitted a letter that was incredibly irresponsible. They supposedly were "clarifying some of Harold Taylor's incorrect statements."

First of all, how much can we trust a group to educate sexually active students about a life and death issue when they can't even report a phone number correctly?

When I called the Kansas number they gave, I was told it was not available from this calling area. The national number reported was a fax number, I guess. I had to call information to get the correct Center for Disease Control national hotline number. For those who want all the facts, that number is 1-800-342-2437.

I really don't know how long society is going to put up with this kind of reckless behavior. If S.H.A.P.E. really cared about the well-being of their fellow students, they would tell the whole truth. Reporting only that condoms "are 98-100 percent effective in blocking transmission of diseases, as well as preventing pregnancies," is only 50 percent of the truth. If you would call the national hotline, they would emphatically tell you that the 98-100 percent number is under ideal conditions and assumes there was no breakage. Harold Taylor, in his letter, was trying to warn of times when condoms are not effective (such as when exposed to extreme temperatures or pressure). This information can also be obtained by contacting the national CDC.

However, all this talk about condoms is merely drawing attention away from the real issue. The spread of HIV and STDs will not be curbed by this type of "health education," which is funded through Lafene Health Center with $180,000 from student fees. Pregnancies out of wedlock and abortions will not decrease by passing out condoms. The only thing that will eliminate these plagues on society is a renewed commitment to the foun-

GREG ADAMS 66 Treally don't L know how long society is going to put up with this kind of reckless behavior. If S.H.A.P.E.

downward spiral ever since, particureally cared larly in the above about the wellmentioned areas. being of their fellow students, parents strayed from they would tell the foundations that made our country the whole truth." great. Will this gen> eration continue to wallow in those mistakes, or will we have the courage to return to our biblical heritage? Our country's survival depends on the dations on which this country was built:

religion (Christianity in particular) and

God out of the public arena, and the country has been on a

Unfortunately, our

In 1962, we took

Greg Adams senior in civil engineering

PRACTICE FREEING YOUR MIND THIS WEEK

Editor.

In the spirit of Free Your Mind Week, I have something to say to the student body. Open your mind to the other person's point of view. That doesn't mean you have to join them, accept what they say or stop arguing with them. Just put yourself in their shoes, and see if you can understand where they are coming from. Don't be misguided into believing that everything is cut and dry, black and white.

That means JAMOT TAME you! judging me because of my race, gender, religion, taste in music and clothes or even some of my actions. I ask you try to be openminded, and base your judgments of me on what you know about me, not some stereotypes you have about me or the groups I am a part of. I also ask you make friends with people whom you have almost nothing in common with. I find when I make friends with someone in a different social group, it often becomes more difficult to generalize about everybody in that group. The last thing I ask is you have respect for other human beings, even if you decide not to accept their point of view. It will make this world a better place to live.

Eric Runnebaum sophomore in management information systems

S.H.A.P.E. and G.A.M.M.A. try to teach responsible drinking behavior in time for break

Myview

JUSTIN Wild

A drinking habit might be hard to correct, but some of the behavior is not. G.A.M.M.A. and S.H.A.P.E. are advocating safe, protective measures such as having a designated driver or having latex condoms on hand in case students have sex while intoxicated.

here is a beacon in our lives that is alluring and powerful enough to make even the most industrious college student crane his neck from a book to look at the horizon - spring break.

It has become such a ritual for students that it is highlighted during a week-long period on MTV, giving rise to physical and mental ideals of what fun should be. Unfortunately, some of these ideals have less than fun results.

One of the most detrimental forms of learned social behavior is alcohol consumption and the consequences that follow.

College students nationwide spent $4.2 billion on alcoholic beverages in 1991. A 1993 survey found many individuals who consumed an average of 11 alcoholic beverages a week reported a D or F grade average.

Coupling these two facts proves a problem exists on campuses across the country.

Due to such statistics, two campus organizations geared toward risk-management have teamed up to promote a safer spring break.

Greeks Advocating the Mature Management of Alcohol and STD/HIV/AIDS Peer Educators have had a booth in the K-State Student Union for the past few days geared toward teaching the mature use of alcohol and its side effects. On March 20, a mock DUI arrest and trial will take place in the Union to illustrate the implications of driving while intoxicated.

As a member of S.H.A.P.E., I know the statistics of what can occur on an intimate level between two people after they've been drinking. The facts particularly affect women. One of the most common contraceptives is the birth control pill; however, oral contraceptives slow the elimination of alcohol from the body, causing women on the pill to remain intoxicated longer.

Additionally, 60 to 85 percent of women who have been infected with an STD were, at the time of intercourse, intoxicated. Another statistic shows 80 percent of women who have had unplanned sex did so while intoxicated.

All this adds up to the fact that reckless behavior, which can result from drinking, is just as dangerous as the side effects of heavy drink-

G.A.M.M.A. and S.H.A.P.E. are not seeking the elimination of drinking but are geared toward teaching responsible behavior. On a personal level, I know asking such a thing is unrealistic.

A drinking habit might be hard to correct, but some of the behavior is not. G.A.M.M.A. and S.H.A.P.E. are advocating safe, protective measures such as having a designated driver or having latex condoms on hand in case students have sex while intoxicated.

All of the negative aspects of drinking occur when people don't know how to manage themselves. The challenge we face is to set aside the past standards. The simple excuse of following a pattern of behavior because it represents the way things have always been done isn't a valid excuse.

Because of one simple misjudgment while intoxicated, an individual can contract a debilitating, lifelong disease. Additionally, they might injure or kill themselves and others while intoxicated.

Not everyone will break away from the norm. Asking such a thing is unrealistic. Spring break is aptly named, because it is a break from school. Maybe it should be a break from pattern behavior as well.

Justin Wild is a senior in education and English.

Penne Ainsworth, associate professor of accounting, explains topics that will be on her accounting class' next exam. Ainsworth scored in the top 30 on the Certified Internal Auditors exam and received an honorable mention for her performance. SCOTT M. LADD

Accounting teacher scores in top 30 on auditors' exam

Relaxation key to success for associate professor of accounting

Stephanie Schmutz

Even professors take exams

sometimes. Penne Ainsworth, associate professor of accounting, scored in the top 30 on the Certified Internal Auditors exam, in which 2,394 candidates participated in a fourpart exam.

Ainsworth received an honorable mention award for her performance on the November 1995

The exam lasted two days. Ainsworth, along with other candidates, spent 14 hours in the Topeka Security Benefit building taking the four-part exam.

Ainsworth began studying for the test in September 1995.

"I felt prepared," she said.

"The first day consisted of essay questions and multiple choice regarding internal auditing. The second focused on account-

"I wasn't nervous once the test started," Ainsworth said.

During her lunch breaks, Ainsworth relaxed and watched television.

"My philosophy on test-taking is if you don't know the material the night before, then you probably aren't going to know it. I think it's important to relax," she said. Ainsworth waited almost four

"I was shocked when I saw the score," Ainsworth said, "It's one of those things you get in the mail and wait to open. I was nervous to see the results."

months for the results of the exam.

The Institute of Internal Auditors consists of a 52,000member professional association representing internal auditors in business, industry, government and education in more than 100 countries. It is the recognized leader in research, publications, certification and educational programs for internal auditors.

Dave Donnelly, head of the accounting department, said he feels Ainsworth proved her level of knowledge.

"It was an excellent performance on her part," he said. "She is a real strong faculty member, and we are very proud of her."

Since the results were revealed, the Topeka chapter of the Institute of Internal Auditors sponsored a reception in her honor.

'It was really nice," Ainsworth said. "I was honored."

Ainsworth is a long-time resident of Manhattan. She received her bachelor's and master's degrees at K-State and her doctorate from the University Nebraska-

Ainsworth is also a member of the American Accounting Association, as well as the Institute of Management Accountants.

FACULTY SENATE

Faculty asks regents to revise improvements

Rick Druse

Faculty Senate passed a resolution response to the Kansas Board of Regents' VISION 2020.

The resolution asks the board to clarify its Principles on the Learning Environment and VISION 2020 docu-

Members of the Senate said points from the Principles on the Learning Environment are not included in VISION 2020.

The resolution states that VISION 2020 removes virtually all references from the regents' Principles on the Learning Environment that have to do with improving the undergraduate experience.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

China launches missiles, puts Taiwan on its guard

Associated Press

TAIPEI, Taiwan - China testfired another missile near Taiwan early Wednesday, intensifying the tension in the region a day after China launched war games and fired sharp words at the United States.

Taiwan has threatened to strike back if the mock warfare turns into an attack, but both sides seemed anxious not to turn up the rhetoric. The Chinese Foreign Ministry's remarks were relatively restrained, and the Taiwanese military was at pains to deny newspaper stories alleging Chinese violations of Taiwanese airspace. There was no immediate response from Taiwan to the missilefiring, which broke a four-day hiatus that had generated optimism among U.S. officials.

The M-9 missile was unarmed and did not cross Taiwanese territorial waters as it fell to a test zone off Taiwan's southern coast. The zone previously had been designated by the

On Tuesday, police said they completed an island-wide cleanup of bomb shelters, and residents of Taipei, the capital, were urged to clear their basements, which double as shelters but have never been used for that pur-

The military said the Chinese deployed warships and staged bombing runs on the first day of the eightday exercise that has rattled Asia and drawn in the U.S. Navy.

The resolution also says VISION 2020 is inconsistent with the realities the regents acknowledge the University will face during the next decade when it asserts that the universities shall meet all new expectations but without new resources.

In the resolution, the Senate supambitious university.

mote positive and reasonable suggestions for enhancing pedagogy made by

It encourages the board to clarify ports initiatives at all levels to maximize the use of faculty resources and to enhance undergraduate and graduate instruction in the context of an

The Senate also resolves to proand be specific in terms of university

But it said it spotted only about 10 warplanes and 10 ships of various classes, and surmised that the rainy, misty weather was to blame. China said it will fire live ammunition, but the Taiwanese did not say whether any missiles test-fired close to Taiwan on Friday, is part of a Chinese campaign to throttle what it sees as a drive toward independence by Taiwan.

The exercise, following up three was already being used.

and faculty planning.

VISION 2020 states that it is a strategy to improve the alignment of institutional priorities, resources and activities with the new realities and expectations facing the regents universities, within their approved missions. Discussions among the regents, the presidents, faculty, students and staff have identified five areas targeted for

Regents wants each university to identify and develop three key curricular and/or instructional initiatives to serve as a prelude to fundamental change in curriculum and instruction. Each regents university will reexamine the allocation of faculty time and performance expectations in the Taiwan is the seat of the Nationalists who fled the communist takeover of China in 1949. It has never declared itself separate from China, but Beijing fears it is headed in that

The U.S. naval battle group led by the aircraft carrier USS Independence is within about 100 miles of Taiwan, outside the Taiwan Straits separating China and Taiwan.

Hours after the exercise began at noon, China accused the United States of conniving with Taiwanese separatists who, it suggested, might draw encouragement from the approach of American warships.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Shen Guofang cited Washington's sale of weapons to Taiwan and the visa it gave Taiwan's president, Lee Teng-hui, to areas of teaching, scholarship and service and optimize the use of institutional resources accordingly. Universities will also look at faculty development, support and reward systems and ensure appropriate recognition of diverse categories of faculty assignments and achievements.

Also being scrutinized are administrative operations and support processes to reduce work, increase efficiency, and increase effectiveness in achieving the institution's academic Universities will continue to develop and advocate initiatives that optimize the ability of the universities to utilize and manage financial resources.

visit the United States last June.

"All of these wrongful acts serve to support and connive with Taiwanese separatist activities, and they constitute an important element of volatility in Chinese-U.S. relations," he said at a news conference.

How to Incorporate the Internet in Your Job Search.

Learn how to use WWW for: - Tips for WWW Resumes

→ Using USENET News - Internet Job Listings On-line Demo of the Web for ways to help your job search: Wednesday March 13 Forum Hall 7-8:30 p.m.

Presented by Patrick Hennessey: Electrical Engineering Sponsored by Career and Employment Services 532-6506

'STUDIO'

SERVICE

for temporarily or permanently disabled students on campus, building to building. Inquire by calling 532-6441

PLAY IT SAFE THIS SPRING BREAK!

G.A.M.M.A. & S.H.A.P.E. PRESENT A MOCK D.U.I ARREST & TRIAL

MARCH 14 10:50 & 11:30 A.M. UNION COURTYARD

!!CZECH IT OUT!!

KSU-PRAGUE EXCHANGE PROGRAM

LIVE & STUDY CZECH STYLE in PRAGUE - THE GOLDEN CITY

Charles University or Czech Technical University Scholarships: $1,500 for academic year $750 per semester

Information Meeting: March 13, 1996 at 2 p.m., Union 206

Barry Michie - Director of Study Abroad Office of International Programs • 304 Fairchild Hall 532-5990 • sikarraj@ksuvm.ksu.edu

KPPC offers promotion internship to K-State students

The Kansas Pork Producers council is offering an internship to a student wanting the opportunity to work with a volunteer agricultural commodity group while developing communication, marketing and organizational skills.

Students who are seeking future employment in fields such as animal science, journalism and mass communications, hotel and restauraunt management, marketing, human ecology, public relations and foods and nutrition will find the on-thejob experiences gained during the internship to be valuable. The intern is selected on University recommendations, student application forms and interviews.

Applicants must have at least 60 credit hours with two semesters remaining until graduation. The intern works in the state office appoximately four hours per week on various activities during the school year. Some travel is required. The student receives three credit hours and a scholarship. Applications will be accepted in the KPPC office through March 31, 1996. The internship begins in August of 1996 and ends May 31, 1997.

2601 Farm Bureau Rd. 913-776-0442

M'Cullough Development Apartment Mall Your one stop apartment shopping!

Apartments Near Campus . Now Leasing for June and August Model Showings start week of March 4 TWO BEDROOM

$300-375

$365-385

$345-395

$410-430

$350-475

418 Poyntz Sat. 11 a.m.-Noor ONE BEDROOM $395-410 1803-1807 College Heigh 925-927 Denis Mon. & Tues. 3-5 p.m. (1803 #6) 1950-60 Hunting Mor. 6-8 p.m. (1960 #13) Tues. 3-5 p.m. 1905 Bluemont $435-455 617 N.12th Thurs. 3-5 p.m. (1005 #2) Fri. 2-4 p.m. Sun. 3-4 p.m. $375-390 1722 Laramie

1854-58 Claffin (1858 #3) Tues. 7-8 pm. Fri. 10 a.m.-Noor 411-413-415 N. 17th Mon. 11:30 u.m.-1:30 p.m. (415.45) Tues. 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. 1022-1026 Sunset Tores. & Thurs. 6-8 p.m. (1024 64) yel Towers - 1700 N. Manh appointment only usa. 6 Wed. 5-7 p.m. (1212 911) Vereham Apartments - 418 ts - 418 Poyntz

McCullough

Mon. 5-8 p.m. (1417 #1) 1026 Osage Tues. 3-5 p.m. (1026 #11) $510 Frt. 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. Sal. 10:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m $600-725 $470-720 Thurs. 3-5 p.m. (1005 #2) Fri. 2-4 p.m. 1825-1829 College Heights Mon. 5-7 p.m. (1829 #6) $600-780 Tues, 4-6 p.m. 1113 Bertrand Mon. 7:30-9:30 p.m. (1113 #6) $525 Tues. 3-5 p.m.

$490-510

FOUR BEDROOM Royal Towers - 1700 N. Manh Mon.-Fri. 5-5:30 p.m. on-sile office $750-860

Managed by McCullough Development 776-3804

Cat lacrosse opens season with victory

K-State 8 Kansas City 7

Shane McCormick

The K-State men's lacrosse team opened up its spring campaign this past weekend. The team took to the field at East Stadium to play Kansas City.

Playing their first game of the season, the Cats started off a little rusty. But the team was able to fight back and gain an 8-7 victory in overtime against Kansas City.

"Playing our first game, we were a little bit shaky starting off," Jeff Colbert, senior in microbiology, said.

"But I was glad to see we were able to pull ourselves together and get the victory."

The team participates in the Great Plains Lacrosse League. Besides K-State, the league consists of Wichita State, Kansas, Oklahoma State, Tulsa, Nebraska and Kansas City.

Whit Plunkett, club vice president, said during the years the league has become more balanced

"A couple of years ago, we were one of the more dominant teams in the league. We won a lot," he said.

"But now you can see that the league is a lot more bal-

Colbert said leadership on each team has contributed to a more competitive, developed league

"Guys are taking on more of a leadership role throughout the league," he said. "You have guys that are staying with the program and taking responsi- us."

bility to bring the new guys up." Colbert never played lacrosse in high school, but his friends introduced him to the game when he came to K-State. "I played soccer in high school, and I needed more contact, so they gave me a stick. From there, I just learned the basic skills," Colbert said.

The team usually practices Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Practice time usually lasts two to three hours.

Practice consists of some drilling but mostly scrimmag-

"That is one of the things I really enjoy about lacrosse, getting to scrimmage in practice. With other sports, you might have to spend the majority of time just drilling," Colbert said.

This semester, the team has had about 30 players on the roster. With players graduating and moving on, the team has had to replace some players from last semester's team.

Wes Briggs, club president, said the team is trying to adjust to playing with new players.

'We lost a lot of older players this year," he said. "Once we get used to playing with each other, we are going to be a strong team."

Colbert said he agreed. "With some of the guys that have left, we have had to make some changes at positions," he said. "We have some new guys that are starting, so our style this year is going to be a little bit different. Unlike other sports at K-State, the match against Kansas is not the biggest game of the year for the lacrosse team.

Colbert said in past seasons, Kansas was the big game of the year, but that has changed.

"Our big game of the year is against Wichita State," he said. "We might play Wichita State three times a year. We usually beat them twice, but it is that third time that they get

Briggs said having new guys continue to come out for the team will be the key for the future of K-State lacrosse.

"We need to keep having new guys coming out, so they can prolong and keep rebuilding this team throughout the years," he said.

JILL JARSULIC/Collegian

A member of the K-State lacrosse team takes out a Kansas City player in Sunday's game between the two teams. K-State came back from behind to gain the victory, 8-7.

Cornhuskers ecstatic to have NIT invitation

LINCOLN, Neb. - After losing 10 of its last 11 games, there is no way the Nebraska basketball team was going to turn down a chance to play in the postseason, coach Danny Nee said Tuesday.

Nee said every member of the 16-14 Cornhuskers wanted to play in the National Invitation Tournament

"I think it's a good situation," Nee said.

"Turning down the NIT, I don't see the purpose of why you'd want to do it. Anyone who does, I can't comprehend why you wouldn't want to go to a postseason tournament.

Nebraska has made four NCAA Tournament appearances and two trips to the NIT in the last six years. By accepting this year's bid to he NIT, Nebraska is one of 18 teams which has played a postseason game six straight years.

The Huskers play at Colorado State (18-11) Thursday night. It's the second straight year Nebraska will play in the NIT.

Nee defended the tournament's quality. Of the 32 teams, 11 have 20 wins, and only Tennessee at 14-14 enters the tournament with a .500 record. Central Florida and San Jose State will take losing records to the NCAA tournament.

Nee said the nation's best 64 teams are not in the NCAA Tournament and that it would be a long shot for Nebraska to win the NIT.

Last season, Nebraska played two NIT games at home, defeating Georgia, 69-61, before losing to Penn State, 65-59. The Bulldogs and the Nittany Lions made the Tournament this year.

Nee said playing the first game on the road this year may give the Huskers an advantage later in the tournament.

"We could prove ourselves on the road and then come back and get a home game and be positive when we come back home," Nee said. "If you are going to get a road game, I'd rather have it at the front end than the back end."

On the road in the NIT, the Huskers are 1-5 and 0-1 under Nee. He said he saw the tournament as a way to find some success in a disappointing year.

After starting the season 15-4, Nebraska lost nine-straight games, its longest losing streak in more than 30 years.

Players skipped practice to meet with athletic department officials Forward Chester Surles was suspended indefinitely after he was accused of assaulting his girlfriend Jan. 2. At one point, four players had been suspended for a total of 17-

1/2 games for breaking various team rules. Published reports said Nee sent a North Carolina man $8,400 in 1992 to recruit a Nigerian basketball player who now is a senior at Wisconsin. Nee denied the allegations, but the NCAA is investigating. "Our situation was we had a really good season going, we were really rolling along, and then the bottom fell out," Nee said. "Now we are trying to stop the bleeding, turn it around and make something positive."

AP Top 25

Here are the top 25 college baseball teams as determined by the staff of Baseball America magazine with

Team	Record
1. LSU	12-0
2. Cal State Fullerton	15-1
3. Wichita State	3-0
4. UCLA	14-6
5. Clemson	10-2
6. Texas Tech	18-2
7. Southern California	12-4
8. Stanford	12-8
9. Tennessee	5-3
10. Arizona State	13-5
11. CS Northridge	19-2
12. Florida	11-4
13. Arkansas	17-0
14. Mississippi State	4-4
15. Oklahoma	8-4
16. Florida State	8-4
17. Alabama	11-4
18. South Florida	10-4
19. Miami	12-3
20. Long Beach State	12-7
21. California	11-1
22. Oklahoma State	8-4
23. Rice	13-2
24. Central Florida	15-2
25. N.C. State	11-2

rce: Baseball Americ ANDY MARCINIAK/Collegia

New Mexico surprised Lobos seeded No. 7

Associated Press

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. Only four teams at the NCAA tournament have more wins than No. 23 New Mexico, a factor that makes the journey to Richmond, Va., seem a little unfair to coach Dave Bliss.

It's 1,900 miles from Albuquerque to Richmond. Bliss said that, plus the twohour time change, could cost the Lobos (27-4) an entire day of preparation time as they get ready for their NCAA opener against K-State on Friday.

But this isn't the most grucling schedule his team has endured this season.

During a six-day stretch in February, New Mexico played a 10 p.m. home game on Monday and a 7 p.m. game at San Diego State on Thursday, then flew to Honolulu for a Saturday game against Hawaii. The Lobos won all three as part of the 10-game winning streak they currently boast.

But it was a slew of lesser opponents early in the season that may have dropped them down to a seventh seed for the tourney "There is no question that New Mexico has a fine basketball team," said Bob Frederick, the chairman of the NCAA selection committee. "The pri> case was strength of schedule." Still, Bliss said he didn't understand why his seventhseeded team was being sent mary thing in New Mexico's

"I think when the NCAA figures things out, they think about TV and not much else. But they're going to have a lot of empty arenas.

He was happier about the No. 23 ranking in the AP's final poll. The Lobos returned to the poll after being there the weeks of Jan. 1 and Jan. 8, at

No. 25. "The thing I said at that time was that polls are great for fans and interest, but it really only matters if you're ranked at the end," he said. "They don't give trophies away for anything in January."

Baseball, more baseball and some mad hoops What a time of the year for sports, and I am bubbling over with excitement.

Major league baseball is in the midst of spring training. College baseball is going full-swing, and America has gone insane with the virus known as

So, to celebrate the wonderful month of March, I figured I would offer my thoughts on any subject that happens to come to mind, especially because I'm writing this column way past deadline. (But I can do that once in a while.)

Anyway, my favorite time of the year is upon us. My life becomes embedded in baseball. To be honest, though, I've been so busy lately I've been unable to keep up with my teams in spring training.

My St. Louis Cardinals defeated Kansas City Tuesday, 5-0. Don't get me wrong. I like the Royals, but only when they're playing American League

Kansas City fans should be interested in the goings-on in their interstate rival Cardinals' fran-

Myview

Newell

With Gary Gaetti now in the National League and improving upon his remarkable season last year, the Royals might find that they've made a mistake this sea-

But what the Royals didn't err on was upping outfielder Johnny Damon from AA Wichita midseason

As my History of Baseball professor, "Crocodile Bob" Linder, pointed out Tuesday, rookies very seldom have smashing successes in their first year.

As the ol' "Croc" said, George Brett didn't have a great year in his rookie season. While I would tend to agree with Mr. Linder, I beg to differ in the case

Johnny Damon has already performed at the major-league level, and he has proved he is quite capable of standing on his own two feet. In 47 games played with the Kansas City club last year, Damon hit .282 for the season with 53 hits, 11 doubles, five triples and three home runs. Nineteen of the hits were for extra bases, and he knocked in 23 runs. Damon also stole seven bases as a Royal.

And what about baseball closer to Manhattan? K-State's very own sluggers are stepping up in the world as they start the season off with an 11-4

After talking with Coach Mike Clark a few times, I truly believed K-State might have some trouble on the mound and felt that would be the key to K-State's successes or failings on the diamond

Well, it seems so far that the Wildcats' pitching has definitely contributed to the success of K-State's

Behind the solid efforts of Matt Koeman and Eric Yanz, the Cats have shown that they will be a power to contend with in the Big 8's final baseball season. Koeman is pitching 3.13 ERA this season. while Yanz is pitching 3.45.

The Cats will find out how good they are as they open conference play Tuesday at home against Oklahoma State. The Cowboys have dominated Big 8 baseball in past years, but I really feel deep in my heart that Oklahoma State's reign as the conference king has come to an end. It pains me deeply to say that, as I am an Oklahoma State baseball fan through and through, but K-State is the better club this year. Just wait and If you want a really, really good baseball game to see, go to Frank Myers Field at 4 p.m. Friday to see the Cats take on Wichita State.

Known for their baseball program, the Shockers will try to shock the Cats once again, but I think the story will be different this time around. In both meetings between the teams last year, the Shockers held the Cats to nine runs in both games combined as K-State dropped both.

And I don't know about the Collegian's readers, but I have gone mad.

Between K-State women's basketball, covering the 2A State Tournament last week and following the men's team to Kansas City and now Richmond, I have just about had enough basketball to last me a

I always watched March Madness, but until I started covering the danged sport, I never really went completely mad.

The fever has pretty much reached its peak, but until the Cats lose, it won't break, I think I'll have the fever for a few more days because I'm almost positive K-State has at least one more victory under its belt

Either way you look at it, March is the best month of the year.

At least until October. Nothing can compare to the World Series.

Shana Newell is a senior in secondary education. She will be taking a sabbatical this week as she heads to the Old Dominion State, but she will be more than happy to read your e-mail when she returns. Fill her mailbox with your thoughts at (twobag@ksu.ksu.edu).

News Digest

K-State men's golf team hunting for victory in Texas

K-State's men's golf team was still in the hunt heading into Tuesday's action at the 1996 Southwest Classic in Austin, Texas, after shooting 313 and 312 in the first two rounds

The Wildcats, sitting in eighth place, trailed leader Stephen F. Austin by 17 strokes after Monday's opening rounds. Stephen F. Austin shot 307-301, two strokes less than host Southwest Texas State's maroon squad.

Parity was the key word among Cat golfers Monday. K-State was paced by Scott Hovis and Chad Buckridge, who carded 157 over the two rounds. The other three Cats, Troy Halterman, Jason Losch and Chad Myers, all sat at 158, one stroke higher than Hovis and Buckridge The individual leader was Stephen F. Austin's Greg Harper, who shot a 145 over the two rounds.

Final results, including those from Tuesday's 18 holes of the tournament, were not provided at press

Trevor Orimm

Policies threaten Cubans' lifestyles

HAVANA (AP) — The sound of booming drums and blaring trumpets pours from the Cafe Cantante, where dozens of well-dressed Cubans with American dollars line up to get inside one of the capital's hottest nightclubs

The scene did not exist three years ago. Then, young people were crowding outside the nicer hotels, begging tourists to give them forbidden U.S. dollars for Cuban pesos, or to buy them a bar of soap, a tube of toothpaste. Limited free-market reforms have improved life for many on this Communist island since the collapse of the Soviet Union. But those enjoying the benefits fear some of their gains will be lost under new U.S. sanctions President Clinton is signing into law today.

The sanctions are in retaliation for Cuba's downing of a Cuban exile group's unarmed

"It's unjust. They want to strangle the Cuban people for ideological reasons," said Eduardo Mayo, a 29-year-old carpenter who took advantage of the economic opening to start a tiny restaurant in his home.

The restaurant seats only 12, the most that Fidel Castro's government allows. But Havana's neighborhoods are crowded these days with fledgling businesses - repair shops, parking lots, barbershops and food stands - that have drawn hundreds of thousands of Cubans into the private sector.

"The country is much more open now than it was," Mayo said.

A few years ago, Cubans would plead with foreigners to buy them a bottle of rum.

Now, Cubans not only can spend dollars, but they can earn them - legally

The reforms have not helped all Cubans, particularly those with low-paying government jobs. But for many, they have provided relief from economic strains that followed the 1990 fall of the Soviet Union, which had provided economic aid to Castro's government.

At the time, many went for months without drinking milk, eating meat or even seeing a head of lettuce.

"I like working for myself, having this independence," said Mayo, seated at one of three tables in his dining room, all covered with floral tablecloths and set with fine English china.

Congress revived the sanctions bill - known as the Cuba Liberty Act - after Cuba shot down two civilian planes flown by anti-Castro exiles off the Cuban coast on Feb. 24. Proponents say the bill, which strengthens a three-decade U.S. embargo against Cuba, will cut Castro's economic lifeline by discouraging foreign investment.

The overwhelming congressional votes for the sanctions this month send a message that "no one ... should expect this embargo to be lifted until there is democracy in Cuba," House Speaker Newt Gingrich said.

The bill would give Americans who lost property in Cuba since Castro came to power in 1959 the right to sue foreign companies that benefit from that property.

Foreign investors dealing with confiscated property would be barred entry into the United

Despite the sanctions, Cuban Foreign Ministry spokeswoman Marianela Ferriol said last week "there will be no moving back" on recent economic reforms.

But many Cubans fear new investors may be scared away or those already here might leave, drying up the supply of dollars and products.

"We don't know what will happen," said Lisette, a young woman selling ceramic figures of Cuban rebel fighters at the plaza outside the capital's weathered stone cathedral. "We have already suffered so much."

In the early 1990s, some Cubans had to dedicate several days a week to scrounge food for their families. All legally available food was allotted by ration and purchased with Cuban pesos at state stores, where shelves were often Cubans secretly grew tomatoes and raised chickens, rabbits - even goats - on their balconies. A black market thrived, but prices were out of reach for many.

Nightlife for many youths was limited to hanging out along the seafront Malecon boulevard, or chatting with friends.

Now, more and more Cubans are making their way into nightclubs like the Cafe Cantante, where young women in short dresses dance to live salsa music and drink Havana Club rum with young men in button-down shirts and twill

Cubans can find fresh lettuce, tomatoes, yams, yucca, bananas, oranges, onions and garlic at government-sanctioned farmers' markets.

"You can get so many kinds of food now," said Alcibiares Piedra, 71, who stopped to buy a $2 shot of rum in a plastic cup from a rickety wooden stand.

"Many of our people are still poor," Piedra said. "But they aren't desperate anymore."

I like working for myself, having this independence.

> EDUARDO MAYO CUBAN CITIZEN

SAVE 100'S OF DOLLARS

On Pre-Owned

Golf Clubs

King Cobra Graphite Woods

120 each

Maxfli VHL

Graphite Irons

3-PW 450

885's

Tommy Armour

Graphite

3-PW, SW, W3, W4

PCX II Square Two

2-SW $185

Ping Eye II

Mitsushiba

Graphite Irons

Nomad

ZCX

Square Two

Wilson

Dyan-Power

3-PW, SW, LW

Big Bertha

Graphite Woods

MATHEMATICS LECTURE

Speech to focus on theory

Coding theory, combinatorics and error-correcting codes will be the topics of the first Gary and Janet Thomas Lecture at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in Cardwell 103.

Vera Pless, professor of mathematics from the University of Illinois at Chicago, will be the guest speaker at the inaugural lecture.

"We are very happy to have her here at K-State," Louis Pigno, head of the Department of Mathematics, said. "We started negotiations with her two years ago and this is the earliest she could make it."

Pless will discuss the changes she has witnessed in the field of combinatorics in her lecture "The Past 50 years: A Time of Great Change."

Combinatorics is a division of mathematics using coding theory to produce codes that can correct errors that may occur during the transmission of information, Pigno said.

Pless is the author of a widely used textbook, "Introduction to the Theory of Error Correcting Codes," and has been a visiting professor at Dartmouth College, Cambridge University and California Institute of Technology

Thursday's lecture is sponsored by K-State graduates Gary and Janet Thomas and will hopefully become a yearly event, Pigno said.

Pless will also be lecturing undergraduates on the topic of error correcting codes at 4:30 p.m. today and Thursday in Cardwell 131

> Pregnancy Testing Center

> > 539-3338

•Free pregnancy testing Totally confidential service

 Same day results Call for appointment

Located across from campus in Anderson Village

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Fine Line Cattoo Inc.

and Sody Diercing Quality work Reasonably priced Over 25 years experience Thousands of designs Custom work Fully licensed,

Health Dept. Approved BE SAFE, NOT SORRY Family owned & Operated

1028 W.6th Junction City 238-8238 Thurs.-Sat. Noon-8 p.m

29th & Mass. Topeka 233-8288 Mon.-Sat. Noon-8 p.m

Floyd E. Rogers

Bikes, computers, antiques, dogs, cate, clothes, cosmetics, stereos, cars, trucks, motorcycles, APARTMENTS, roommates, lose weight, quick cosh, pet supplies, furniture, PERSONALS, part-time jobs.

You can find just about anything in the Collegian Classifieds. 532-6555

Res: (913) 776-8900 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

1-800-232-5726 Buying or selling, we provide you with a home market analysis.

Penny Alonso

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

Not just a night spot

3230 Kimball Ave

Office: (913) 776-4488

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

This coupon good for FREE NACHOS

Exp. 3/15/96

616 N. 12TH . AGGIEVILLE

let's get blotto!

Fine Arts Summer & Fall Allocations Requests

It is time for groups to submit applications for funding of events or projects for which you would like assistance from the Fine Arts Council. As you may or may not know, the Fine Arts Council was created by the Student Senate to establish more fine arts programming on campus. This money is generated from the Fine Arts privilege fee students pay each semester. A reserves account s created that assists in the programming efforts of student groups promoting fine-arts related programming.

The forms that need to be filled out are available at the OSAS Office. THE DEADLINE FOR APPLICATION IS ON OR BEFORE THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1996 AT NOON (12 p.m.).

For more information, please call or go to the Office of Student Activities and Services. K-State Union, Ground Floor • (913) 532-6541

Thurs. & Fri. for NCAA tournament GRORGEOARII

Everything Wild, & Wasted On Wacky Wednesday!

You Call It!

Calls • Premiums • Zimas• Shots Bottles Draws • Wells

> $3 Wednesday Special 1/2 Double Cheeseburger w/fries or tots

King Henry V

CRISPIAN'S DAY AT THE BOAR'S HEAD

Sunday, March 17, 3 p.m.

McCain Auditorium . KSU Gen. Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9 Call 532-6428 or come to McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. VISA and MC accepted.

Tickets also available at the usual out Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency and the National Endowment for the Arts. ddisional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to chance without notice.

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information

The Total Sports Package 1119 Moro 776-771

MacWorks

Performa 5200CD - 8/800/CD

Shipping

only

$5.00

75-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor

· All-in-one, tilt-and-swivel design · Built-in 15-inch multiple scan color display

· 800 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM

. 14,400 bps fax modem to send and receive faxes . Quad-speed CD-ROM drive for fast playback . Built-in speakers and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound

· Apple Design Keyboard · Apple Factory Refurbished 90-day warranty

PowerBook 5300 - 8/500

 100-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor . 9.5 inch backlit passive-matrix display (16-level gray scale)

500 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM

. Built-in Video Output supporting an external color display at up to 256 colors . PC card slots for two Type I or Type II PC Cards or one Type III

PC Card . Built-in speaker and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound

Apple Factory 1-year warranty

CALL TODAY! Your Choice

S1299

Add an Ink-Jet Printer for $199 Apple StyleWriter 1200

Add a Postscript™ Printer for $499 Apple LaserWriter 320

receive a free CD-ROM Bundle! Open Mon-Fri 9:00am-6:00pm

Mention you're a student and Discover

We accept: Visa/MC

3015 Anderson Ave. Manhattan, Ks 537-9235

http://www.macworks.com sales@macworks.com

A walk on the Wiccan side

Students express spirituality through ancient, secret practice of witchcraft

"I who am the beauty of the green earth, and the white moon among the stars, and the mystery of the waters, call unto thy soul: Arise, and come unto me ... And therefore let there be beauty and strength, power and compassion, honor and humility, mirth and reverence within you." -Doreen Valiente's "Charge of the Goddess"

story by Kris Bethea

icca teaches personal aspects of life. It teaches discipline, responsibility, kinship with everything, open-mindedness and diversity.

"It's a religion and a way of life," Leah Diehl, freshman in anthropology, said.

Religion is personal, Holly Mayland, graduate student in entomology, said.

It depends on where you learn things, she said.

"When it becomes personal, it becomes more complex," Mayland said. "There are people who talk about it, and there are others who keep it inside because it is private and personal and can be hard to explain to an outsider."

There are a lot of negative beliefs about people who are non-Christian, Diehl said.

"Most witches are quite careful to keep their identity a secret," Robert Linder, professor of history, said. "Because of the past, they are paranoid of misunderstandings and prejudice."

Diehl said many are reluctant to talk about their religion because of negative feedback they may get later on. Also, it is common courtesy.

"You just don't go asking people you don't know about personal stuff," Jason Nation, sophomore in German, said. Nation became interested in Wicca because to him it is an incredible source of wisdom. It is a way of understanding the world and how it works, he said. "I knew plants and trees lived, but I didn't know they were alive," Nation said. Nation said he learned from a book by Scott Cunningham, "The Truth about Witchcraft Today." "I never found anything that made more sense," Nation said.

I never found anything that made more sense.

JASON NATION SOPHOMORE IN GERMAN

Wicca shows a respect for nature. All living things including stars, planets, humans, rocks, animals, plants are thought of as having spirit.

Linder said there is a lot of ritual in witchcraft. "The Book of Shadows" is one of the oldest books of rituals written by a witch.

"Usually people who practice Wicca call it the Old Religion," Linder said. "The real name is a very well-

The affairs of Wicca are private, but once in a while someone writes or talks about it, Linder said.

"They are very careful about who they let in," Linder said. "They are not evangelistic. They don't recruit."

Witches tend to be individualistic. "Witches meet only for coven rituals," Linder said. "A coven is never more than 13."

There are two main covens in the Manhattan area, Nation said.

"Cursing and black magic may be possible, but it makes no sense," Nation said. "It is completely contradicting the beliefs of true Wiccans. Everything we do to

"I'm a solitary," Diehl said. "But I know of several Nation would rather belong in a coven than be soli-

"I just don't want to get into a flaky coven," Nation

Nation said he has done some stuff solitary, but he

"In a coven, I can meet people who are eager to talk,"

he said. "There are those who are eager to talk about the experiences and make the whole thing more meaningful

Diehl said she can talk about it because she is not

"I do practice Wicca," she said. "But I don't mind talking about it to people. I'd be happy to dispel the myths and to point people in the right direction. I feel I

Diehl said she talks about it to people she trusts and

"But I'm not going to give away any secrets," she Nation said he can talk about it because he wants

'We are not evil in any way," Nation said. "There is

This is from the Wiccan Rede. It means people one law we live by. It is 'An it harm none, do what thou should feel free to do what they want to do, as long as it does not harm themselves or anyone else, Nation said. "I don't want to be in with a bunch of airheads. I want to be with someone who knows. I want to be in a responsible, fun-loving but mature group.

worried about what others will think or say.

definitely prefers being in a coven.

covens from all over."

should do that at least."

people to understand Wicca.

people she knows.

others comes back to us three times stronger.'

This is the Threefold Law, which states, "All good that a person does returns threefold in this life. Harm is also returned threefold." One common ritual for Diehl and Nation is the Full Moon Ritual. "It's done on the night of the full moon," Diehl said. "The basic element for the Full Moon Ritual is to do some kind of magic, such as asking for healing for a friend who is sick. Nation said it is a time for goddess reverence. "It is a time when the natural energy that surrounds everything is at its strongest," Nation said. "It is a great time to do magic.' Sometimes Diehl doesn't ask for anything. 'Sometimes I just do magic," she said.

"In order to do this, you must raise energy from the universe for the thought to come true," Diehl said. Diehl said she does the ritual every full moon.

'There are 13 full moons in a year," she said. Diehl said she sometimes does ritual with others, but she has talked to people and learned from them. "Sometimes I do things of my own making," Diehl Diehl said when she was young, she didn't know other people were like her. "I think I always was Wiccan," she said. "I just didn't know what to call it." When Diehl was young, she said she would get into trouble in her Bible school.

"I'd ask questions that they didn't know how to answer," Diehl said. "They would tell me to look it up in

One book recommended by Linder to look things up in is "A History of Witchcraft, Sorcerers, Heretics and Pagans" by Jeffrey B. Russell.

Linder said there really are not many witches. "Only about 20,000 identify themselves as witches in the United States," Linder said, "out of 260 million Witches seem to move a lot, Linder said.

"I don't know much about their travel habits," Linder said. "But they seem to move and shift around a lot. They seem to not settle down for long periods of Universities tend to get many covens, he said. Today, many modern witches prefer rural areas, Linder said.

"The Great Plains and the mountains have more witches than the coast does," Linder said.

Linder said they are less encumbered by urban mechanical and electronic devices when they are out in the country.

"There are fewer power lines," Linder said, "and more access to the open sky, which is important for their rituals.'

This the first of a series on religions on the K-State campus. In some of the following weeks on the Life page, the Collegian will be covering campus religious groups. Look for first-hand commentaries of religions by people of different faiths. We will also have stories on non-mainstream religions in the Manhattan area.

If you have any ideas, would like to see your group covered or would like to be a source in a story, please feel free to call the newsroom at 532-6556, or e-mail the features editor at (imbatman@ksu.ksu.edu) with any suggestions you might have.

Diversions

WEDNESDAY March 13, 1996

Arts & entertainment editor: Claudette Riley 532-6556 - criley@ksu.edu

▶ CROSSWORD

by Eugene Sheffer

bread

abbr.

2 Unsigned:

3 Very eager

4 Croupiers,

at times

5 Calendar

abbr.

6 Actress

Ullmann

8 First White occupant

Oil grp.

House

9 Golf-bag

10 Seed coat

20 Pinnacle

22 Currier's

item

16 Ga.

Solution time: 21 mins.

partner

23 Apportions 25 Milieu for 26 Spying

device

27 Burr role

29 Chore

31 One -

Lemieux

handouts

character

34 Mysterious

38 One of a quartet

Yucatan

42 Mamie's

trans-

angle 45 Autocrat

47 Incense

48 One side of

of those thinas

"- not choose to run'

partner

53 Jones

3-13

actions 44 Branch

43 Track

43 Droopy-ACROSS 1 Talk-show eared 5 Mr. Ziegfeld 46 Gold unit 8 Some-50 Labyrinth where out goal 51 Onion there rings, e.g.

12 Swedish 54 One may woman's name go out with 13 Sartorial a bunch of sailors woe 55 Commotion

14 Tragic 15 Broke 56 Director 17 Quite eager Kazan 18 Broadway 57 Coaster 58 Theaterbacker ticket datum 11 Cincy squad 40 You, in 19 Arabesque skating 59 Theaterticket datum neighbor

1 Pocket

spins 21 Foray 24 Omega preceder 25 Wading bird 28 November duty 30 Tease

33 Mongrel 34 Go easy 35 Indivisible 36 ld counterpart 37 Puts to work 38 Unexpected problem Sister

41 Pass over

Yesterday's answer

For answers to today's crosswo 1-900-454-6873 199¢ perminute

CRYPTOQUIP TMIK DTCYLT LTVHLHEA UHLMVTF WHRT

tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, MYC.

EHAKV, VMRHEA VKTHL IQUF

DQWWHYE Yesterday's Cryptoquip: IT'S NICE THAT SOME ORGANIC VEGETABLE FARMERS LOVE TO FEEL THE BEET.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: U equals P

▶ FOXTROT

DOOG AND BLAIR

TOTALLY WAS MR. HORMONES NIGHT, IT WAS LIKE I COULDN'T EVEN THINK ABOUT STUDYING! I FEEL LIKE

I WISH I HAD YOUR WILL. POWER ... I WISH I HAD YOU SELF-CONTROL ... I WISH I HAD YOUR WORK ETHIC AND THINGS I DON'T HAVE.

by Mark Ilich

by Bill Amend

WHAT CONCERNS

IS THAT YOU'VE

ME, THOUGH,

GOT ME.

by Justin Stahlman

MR. INVADER

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

▶ BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

Smatterings by Scott Allen Milker

THAT WOULD EXPLAIN THE COURTROOM'S FLY INFESTATION PROBLEM

Marcia, Marcia, Marcia!

Alan Dershowitz, a former member of O.J. Simpson's defense team, has spilled the beans about Simpson prosecutor Marcia Clark in an interview in the latest issue of Penthouse. He said a fellow Dream Team lawyer was approached by Clark during his closing arguments. She told the unnamed lawyer to remember that she was wearing no underwear.

Dershowitz said he called Clark to confirm the story, and she admitted it was true. Dershowitz correctly pointed out that Clark, a self-proclaimed feminist, will not win accolades from Ms. magazine for this behavior.

Thank God for the forgiving angle of courtroom camera. Otherwise, there might have been a national shortage of Pepto-Bismol.

Surely Judge Lance Ito got back to nature a few times under that black robe of his. He could have sat there in the buff for days, and none of us would have ever known.

Now that former Dream Team member F. Lee Bailey is in federal prison for contempt of court, he's doing his best to keep his skivvies on to ward off cellmates.

OUCH

Anatoly Kashpirovsky is refusing to give up the government apartment he was given when he was a member of Russia's parliament. Before joining public life, he made a living in the paranormal fields of faith healing, hypnotism and as a psychic. Now he says whoever tries to evict him will be made impotent. Obviously, the right man for the job of evicting him I have to admit I know I wouldn't want to have to evict Lorena Bobbitt, but I would evict Dionne Warwick and the Psychic Friends Network from their offices in a split second. Anything just to get them off television.

Miller

THIS WEEK'S WEIRD, OBNOXIOUS WORD toi'let pa'per n. the periodical your dad reads when he stinks up the bathroom every morning

THIS WEEK'S STUPID INTERNET NEWS-

GROUP (S.I.N.) alt.fan.marcia-clark

There are so many reasons to be a fan of Marcia Clark. She put up a brave custody battle for custody of her children for the duration of the Simpson trial — perish the thought! And then there's that mole on her lip that ranks up there with the one above soul singer Aaron Neville's eye. Or maybe you want to argue whether the fuzzy-headed Marcia was tougher in court than the feathered-back Marcia.

THIS WEEK'S PATHETIC INTERNET SITE SUG-GESTION (P.I.S.S.)

(http://www.virtual-media.com/vm/presents/ouzo/99bottles.html)

If you're like me, you don't want to be caught on a long trip singing "99 Bottles of Beer On the Wall" with other passengers and forget the words when you get to the 47th bottle. Disaster! Here's a Web site with the complete lyrics to the song. Print them out and bring them on trips, or just sing the song to your computer.

COMEDY PORTZ

Come enjoy this improv comedy group that uses the audience for its comedy routine.

> Tuesday, March 19 8:00 pm Union Station

Union Program Office - 3rd floor of the K-State Student Union - 532-6571

Union Station: TIM SUTTLE & THE GREAT

This weekend at

SLEEPING ADAMS Friday, March 15 9:00pm - midnight Union Station

AFRICAN AMERICAN NITE

Saturday, March 16 10:00 pm - 1:00 am Union Station

9 BALL BILLIARDS Monday, March 18, 6:00 pm

Union Rec Center CASH AND OTHER $8 entry fee

Sign up & pay at Union Rec Center

PRIZES!

Student Art Show

Entries accepted in the UPC Office 9:00 am - 4:00 pm Monday - Friday Pick up rules and regulations before bringing in your entry.

K-State Student Union

Faculty Lecture Series Presents:

Professor

Howard Wiarda Lecturing on: U.S.-Latin American Foreign Policy

Friday, March 15 2:00 pm Forum Hall K-State Student Union UPC boson & Mose Commi

APPALACHIAN MOUNTAINS

SPRING BREAK TRIP

March 22-30 Spots still open for this trip!

Cost is $85 per person Sign up today in the UPC Office 3rd Floor Student Union

K-State Student Union UPC Outdoor Rec Committee

SPADESTACULAR '96

Sunday, March 17, 6:00 pm Union Station

$10 per team Sign up in the UPC Office

FREE Door Prizes CASH Prizes for 1st, 2nd, & 3rd places

Control Student Union

Pet Trust fund helps owners memorialize favorite animals

Janet Blanchat

When a pet dies, there is a way the pet can live on and help the College of Veterinary Medicine through the Pet Trust program.

Pet Trust began in 1985 and was formerly called the Pet Memorial Fund. It is a program for veterinarians or people who have lost a pet to make a memorial contribution in a pet's name to the College of Veterinary Medicine.

Families and friends of pet owners also contribute. The money funds research, veterinary medical education or wherever the need is greatest.

Dr. Richard DeBowes, professor of surgery and head of the Department of Clinical Sciences, said the program benefits former pet owners and the Veterinary Medicine Com-

"The Pet Trust offers an opportunity for people to memorialize their animal friend while supporting advances in veterinary medical care, education and research," DeBowes

When someone loses a pet, the veterinarian sends in a donation to the Pet Trust. The Office of Development and Alumni Affairs at the College of Veterinary Medicine then sends a sympathy letter to the person who lost the pet, telling them about the donation in memory of their

"Because people are close to their pets, the grieving process accompanying pet loss is intense," DeBowes

The veterinarian's name, the petowner's name and the pet's name are entered in a leather-bound book. The donor's address is also in-

When the book is filled, it is put in a special section of the Veterinary Medical Library at the college.

The Pet Trust has set a goal of $500,000. When it is reached, the money that has been contributed will go toward the areas people have chosen to contribute to. Until then, the Pet Trust Committee has decided, no funds will be used except for operating expenses.

The average donation is $10-20, DeBowes said

But the person who has lost the pet does not know how much is donated. People who use veterinarians are not asked for money by the Pet Trust Also, veterinarians don't send in a donation for every pet that dies. One veterinarian, for example, keeps a list of pets from good clients and cases that end up terminal. DeBowes said the relationships between pets and their owners are what keeps the program going. "People are close to their pets. The human-animal bond is very strong," he said. More than 100 veterinarians use the Pet Trust. It helps veterinarians because the donations are deductible as business expenses. Also, it can be used to help veterinarians keep their clients after they lose a pet because it sends a message of how much they care.

wholesale price of the product

K-State logo raises money for various scholarship funds

Nikki Prentice

Anything from magnets to sweatshirts finances the K-State Logo Scholarship. The revenue generated through these products supports several areas

The scholarship fund started in 1984 with only $2,000. Since then, funds have increased into the ten and hundred thousands.

In 1988, John Fairman, assistant vice president for institutional advancement. wanted an audit setting up a method for using the money in a standard pro-

After Fairman's proposal, the University referred the funds toward scholarships that have been there ever since. Fairman said the scholarship money is split two ways. "A percentage of the funds goes toward athletic and band scholarships, and the rest is distributed to the University scholarship funds," he said. The manufacturers who sell products with the K-State logo pay the University a 7.5-percent royalty on the

"It doesn't have much to do with retailers. It deals with manufacturers and having our name on the products," Fairman said

The campus licenses the manufacturers who make products featuring the University logo. This process helped cut down on cheaply made products and assisted in cleaning up the market, Fairman said.

Last fiscal year, K-State was the 10th fastest-growing school in the nation in terms of marketing dollars. The University raised $241,268.58 in licensing fees, resulting in more schol-arships available for K-State students.

Fairman said one unique product recently approved was stick-on magnets for cars.

"We've had requests for condoms, which didn't go," Fairman said. 'We've got cellular phones, screen savers, and there's a car dealership that will paint Powercats on the cars they sell," he said.

The logo raised $180,000 for scholarships for the 1995-96 school year. General scholarships received $60,000, and the athletic department, marching band and cheerleading squad received the remaining $120,000.

Fairman said the money is distributed by the amount of money earned. He said the first $50,000 raised is split 50-50 between athletics and general scholarships. The next $100,000 is divided 60-40, with 60 percent for athletics and 40 percent for general scholarships.

Any amount more than $150,000 is separated 70-30, with athletics receiving 70 percent of the sum, he said.

Fairman said football generated about 50 percent of funds earned for the logo scholarship fund for the 1995-

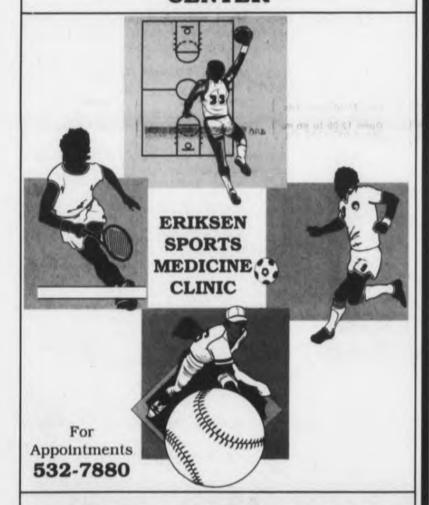

Another 26 percent of revenue came from general University sales, while only 24 percent came from sales relating to basketball.

Fairman said because athletics generates any significant increase in licensing income, athletics get a larger sum of the scholarship funds.

"Sales shot up when the football program took off," Fairman said. "Then when we went to the bowl games, the sales went up dramatically. Either way, just because there's a University, we are going to sell products," he said.

DIMODELLE HIND A STREET WITH THE HIND WHICH THE STREET This Week's Specials Sancho or Burrito $1.35 (reg. $1.70 ea.) Taco Dinner $2.05 (reg. $2.75) TACO HUT "Where good friends get together" 2809 Claffin 539-2091

ERIKSEN SPORTS MEDICINE CENTER

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

Principal-Counselor-Student CONFERENCE

The Office of Admissions cordially invites former students of these high schools to attend the 1996 Principal-Counselor-Student Conference. High school principals and counselors will be on campus to visit with you about your preparation for and experiences in KSU Academic programs. Your participation will help the University build a stronger relationship with your former high school faculty.

You are welcome to drop by between 10:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. on Wednesday, March 13. This is an excellent opportunity for you to renew old friendships with former classmates. The Provost has asked that your instructors excuse you from these class periods.

Wednesday, March 13, 1996 10:30 a.m.-12:15 p.m. in the K-State Union Ahearn Field House

Andale - Ahearn 61 Andover - Ahearn 11 Arkansas City - Ahearn 12 Atchison County Comm - Union 1st Floor 1 Eudora - Union 212A Atchison - Ahearn 25 Axtell - Ahearn 27 B & B - Ahearn 15 Basehor-Linwood - Ahearn 10 Beloit - Ahearn 7 Bennington - Union Courtyard 6 Bern - Ahearn 28 Blue Valley, Randolph - Ahearn 40 Blue Valley, Stilwell - Ahearn 24 Blue Valley North - Ahearn 48 Blue Valley Northwest - Ahearn 64 Bonner Springs - Union Courtyard 8 Bucklin - Ahearn 49 Buhler - Union Courtyard 9 Burlingame - Union 1st Floor 2 Caldwell - Union 1st Floor 19 Canton - Galva - Ahearn 14 Chaparral - Ahearn 54 Chapman - Ahearn 16 Cheney - Union Courtyard 10 Cimarron - Ahearn 51 Claffin - Union 1st Floor 3 Clay Center Comm - Ahearn 41 Clearwater - Union 1st Floor 20 Colby - Union Courtvard 11 Concordia - Aheam 55 Coldwater - Ahearn 5 Decatur Comm - Ahearn 4

Derby - Ahearn 33

De Soto - Union Courtyard 12 Dighton - Ahearn 38 Emporia - Ahearn 35 F.L. Schlagle - CANCELLED Flint Hills Christian - Union 1st Floor 4 Frankfort - Union 1st Floor 5 Goddard - Union Forum Hall, Main B Goessel - Ahearn 67 Great Bend - Ahearn 52 Greeley Co. - CANCELLED Haven - Union 1st Floor 6 Hayden - Ahearn 60 Hays - Ahearn 23 Hiawatha - Ahearn 29 Highland Park - Ahearn 50 Holton - Union 212B Humboldt - Union 1st Floor 7 Hutchinson - Union 206A Immaculata - Ahearn 17 Independence - Union 1st Floor 8 J.C. Harmon - Ahearn 59 Jackson Heights - Union 1st Floor 9 Jayhawk-Linn - Ahearn 43 Jefferson Co. North - Ahearn 22 Jetmore - Union 212C Junction City - Ahearn 56 Labette Co. - Union 1st Floor 10 Lansing - Ahearn 37 Leavenworth - Ahearn 34 Little River - Ahearn 18 Madison - Union, Forum Hall Balcony B Manhattan - Union 202

Marais des Cygnes - CANCELLED Marysville - Ahearn 39 Meade - Ahearn 66 Millard North - Ahearn 21 Minneapolis - Union 212D Moundridge - Union 1st Floor 11 Mulvane - Ahearn 65 Neodesha - Union Courtyard 4 Ness City - Ahearn 30 Newton - Ahearn 8 Nickerson - Ahearn 32 Norton Comm - Ahearn 2 Olathe North - Union Big Eight B Olathe South - Union 208 Onaga - Ahearn 62 Osage City - Union 1st Floor 18 Osawatomie - Ahearn 3 Osborne - Ahearn 19 Ottawa - Ahearn 1 Oxford - Union 1st Floor 12 Paola - Union Courtyard 1 Peabody - Ahearn 58 Plainville - Union Courtvard 5 Prairie View, Les Cygne - Ahearn 53 Pretty Prairie - Ahearn 6 Protection/Coldwater - Ahearn 5 Rock Creek - Union 1st Floor 13 Rossville - Union 1st Floor 14 Russell - Ahearn 26 Sacred Heart - Union 207B St. (Saint) Xavier - Ahearn 57

Salina Central - Ahearn 63

Salina South - Union 205

Seaman - Union 207A Shawnee Heights - Union Big Eight C Shawnee Msn NW - UN Council Chamber Shawnee Msn South - Union 204 Shawnee Msn West - Union 209 Smith Center - Union, Forum Hall Main A Southeast of Saline - Ahearn 31 Sumner Academy - Union 1st Floor 15 Thomas More Prep-Marian - Ahearn 36 Tonganoxie - Ahearn 44 Topeka - Union 2068 Ulysses - Union Forum Hall Balcony A Valley Falls - Ahearn 45 Wakefield - Union 1st Floor 16 Washburn Rural - Ahearn 46 Washington (K.C.) - Union Courtyard 2 Washington (Washington) - Ahearn 20 Wellington - Ahearn 9 West Smith County - Ahearn 47 White Rock - Union 1st Floor 17 Wichita East - Union, Little Theatre A Wichita Heights - Union Big Eight A Wichita NW - Union, Little Theatre B Wichita South - Union 203

Classifieds

BOARD

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scubs dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, at Creative Travel, 539–0531, class-as now forming.

izing in multi-engine and other advanced rat ings. Very competitive rates. Hugh Irvin, rates. 539-3128.

to mordin 🕸

COME FLY with us. K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 778-6735 after 5:30p.m.

MARY KAY inventory reduction sale. Call after 5. 776-6052.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days. FOUND: SET of keys, out by Carnehan Creek Rec, ares. Has name "Becky" on K-State license name tag. Call name tag. 639-4261.

Parties-n-More of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wat-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental. 537-1825.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass har with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at reasonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

OPERATION PURPLE Wave Hot Tub Bus Rental, 18-20 person tub ca-pacity. New tubs and equipment. 587-0990.

Manhattan City Ordi-nance 4814 assures every person equal op-portunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, fa-

to place your classified.

Call 532-6555

milial status, military status, disability, reli-gion, age, color, na-tional origin or ances-try. Violations should be reported to the Di-rector of Human Re-sources at City Hall, 887-2440.

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apartments. Close to campus. Call Moore Management. One-bedroom $320, two-bedroom with fireplace $510, two-bedroom should be should

AUGUST LEASE: Next to

GUST LEASE: Next to compus— Eastside unfurnished two-bedroom with fireplace and laundry. Westside furnished one/ two-bedroom. Both locations have balcony, central sir/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen,
and off-street parking, 539-2702 leave message or call evenings.

AVAILABLE IMME

room apartment on An-derson Ave. Clean and new. For rent or sub-lease. Call lease. Call (913)446-3788, leave

PARKING SOUTH OF THE

SPACIOUS APARTMENTS blocks east of campus

Two bedrooms, furnished ample parking. Quiet s. Reasonable rates 776-3624.

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments-for now, summer and fail. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

FOR AUGUST next to KSU. Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichols Hall. Deluxe two-bedroom apartment. $490-$500. Also, large, nice one-bedroom apart-ment, water, trash, gas, three-fourths paid. Laundrymet. $310-$220.550.2489. Laundrymat. $310-$320 639-2482 after

NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537-8389.

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Cleflin next to campus $325 plus deposit plus electric. August year lease. No pets, 537-1180.

QUIET, LARGE, furnished, two-bedroom in a brick six-plex with washer/ dryer, dishwasher, paid water and trash. One block from college.

Available June or August 1, 537-7087. THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401.

Except holidays)

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours Mon.-Fri. 8-5

TWO-BEDROOM NISHED spartment, 1200 Fremont. Central air, dishwasher, dispo-sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450. 537-0428.

Unfurnished

10 K Apartments, Spacious, two-bedroom quality apartments in new complex two blocks east of campus, large, L-shaped kitchen, dishwasher, air condi-tioner, sound proofed, well insulated, low util-ties, laundry, quiet street, no pets. June

Collegian Classifieds

Leasing now

thru August Sandstone Apts.

Cambridge Square Apts. Large 2-bedroom units

537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS Corner of College and

1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments

Deck/Patios for each unit

On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry Covered Parking

* 2 BR - $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735

Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases For more information. call: (913) 776-3663

Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday Noon to 3 p.m.

Why stay on Baltic Avenue when you can

NOW LEASING FOR FALL 1996

539-2951

Unfurnished 1-2-3 BR

· Water & Trash Paid · Hot Tub & Pools

· Volleyball/Horseshoes · Laundry Facilities

• 24-Hour Maintenance On-site Management

Need furniture? Rentals 532-877 AVAILABLE AUGUST 1. nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to no pets, campus, 539-2551. AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-

Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919. AVAILABLE JUNE 1- onebedroom with washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. $375. Near campus. Call 776-5981. Ask for Tasha or Travis. CAMBRIDGE SQUARE two-bedroom apart-ment, fireplace, wash-ing facilities, for rent or sublease immediately. 776–2180.

CLOSE TO campus. Onetwo- three-bedroom

FOR RENT!! Basement apartment; newly re-modeled; two-bed-room; two full bath; one and one-half blocks from campus; laundry facilities; free parking; trash paid. Contact 395-2420.

FOR SUMMER and fall, two beautiful apart-ments at North Park Apartments. 1200 Fre-mont. Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537-0428 JUNE 1 preleasing: two-bedroom, one block from campus. Water and trash paid. $495/ month. 539-1897.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Avail-able immediately, $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776–3804.

LEASING FOR August. One, two, three, four and six-bedroom apar-tments, duplexes and

•2 bedrooms

% block from campus

Furnished and unfurnished

house. Close to cam

LEASING FOR Fall. Twobedroom, two bath du-plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, garbage disposal, laun-dry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744 (913)632-2744.

LEASING FOR Summer and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, gar-bage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744.

NICE, ONE-BEDROOM. Pri-vate entrance and off-street parking. Walk to campus. Available June 1. $275 per month. Open House Thursday March 14, 6- 8p.m.

ONE, TWO, three-bedroom apartments and houses available June, July, August. One year lease, no pets. The Housing Company. 539–2255.

ONE, TWO, three-bedroom apartments. Close to campus. No pets, water and trash furnished. June lease, 539–1975.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE immediately, near Aggieville, 1124 Fremont, $275 through July 31. Water, trash paid. Call now. paid. 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345– $385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM WITH study available now 1212 Thurston. $400 Near KSU campus. Wa ter, trash paid. Call 776-3804.

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 539-2951.

REALLY NICE, one-bed room apartment. Avail-able May 20. Poolside. Nearby laundry facili-ties, 776-2322.

STUDIO, ONE and two-bedroom. Available now. Water and trash paid. Laundry facilities. Hat ton Property Manage-ment. Clara 539-6318 or 537-8228.

TWO- THREE- four-bedroom near campus, one and one-half bath. Cen-tral air, laundry, dish-washer. 537-1746.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now through May 31. 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT apartment, All from campus. Parking. June. $450. 539-6578. TWO-BEDROOM BASE-MENT apartment re-cently constructed, 500 block of Bluemont.

$325 plus utilities. Available Aug. 1. 537–1047 after 6. TWO-BEDROOM NEAR

KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m., 776-0221.

TWO-BEDROOM, SPA-CIOUS, one block from

WALK ACROSS to Ag-gieville and campus. Spacious one and two-bedroom apartments available now and Au gust. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

For Rent-

Houses AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with wash-er, dryer, central air, some with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1, fivebedroom house, two baths central air, wash-er, dryer, dishwasher, garden, 824 Laramie. 539–3672.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE. Available for summer spacious, nice, two baths, dishwasher,

Make Anderson Place Your

Home Away From Home!

Now leasing for 1996-97

Showings every

Monday through Friday

2-4 p.m.

1852 Anderson Place #16

776-1222

washer/ dryer, fenced yard, $700/ month. yard, $700/ month. 539-5141 ask for Aaron

LUXURY TWO-BEDROOM, one and one-half bath townhome in scenic Briercliff Addition. Pool, tennis courts and clubhouse. $600. Avail-able June 1. 776–8363.

NICE TWO-BEDROOM du plex. All appliances, garage. Please, no smoking, no pets. Five month or one year lease. Located 2304 Willow Lane, Manhattan. Call (913)456-7185.

NICE, THREE-BEDROOM newly remodeled, fire-place, yard, walk to campus, off-street park-ing. Available June 1 $800 per month. Open House, March 14, 6-8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr

TWO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink er. No pets please. 539-1554.

For Sale-Houses

GOVERNMENT FORE-VERNMENT FORE-CLOSED homes for pennies on $1. De-linquent Tax, Repo's, REO's. Your area. Toll Free 1-800-898-9778 ext. H-1915 for current

Roommate Wanted

FEMALE NON-SMOKER for fall will look for place together. Call Sandy. 565-0204 (leave message). WALE ROOMMATE wanted immediately. Lease runs until July 31. $213/ month plus one-half utilities. Call Kendra 537-9169, leave

MALE ROOMMATE want ed. $175 a month. 539-4429.

MALE/ FEMALE roommate wanted for five-bed-room house. $150/ month. Washer/ dryer. Three blocks from carr pus. Call Ricky or Aaron 537-1621.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE for next fall. We'll look for a place together Call Rosario, 587-8222.

SUMMER AND/ or fall fe males to share three bedroom apartment two blocks from campus. off-street parking. $165, 537-1091.

Sublease

ACROSS FROM campus Summer sublease Three-bedrooms. Avail able June 1. Washer/ dryer. Two bathrooms. $740/ month. No pets.

AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY, first floor Large living room and kitchen; second floor two-bedrooms. One and one-half bath. Near campus, $350 negoti-able. Call Kesheng, 532-6700, Liang

776-6039 (evenings). FOUR- FIVE-BEDROOM townhouse, two and one-half bath, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, starts June 1, 587-8622.

MAY 20- July 31. Share two-bedroom apart ment $180/ month plus one-half utilities, three blocks east campus. No pets. 776–9559. MAY THROUGH July sub-lease. Looking for fe-males to share a fourbedroom apartment, one block from cam-pus. Amy 776–8870.

ONE-BEDROOM, NICE, spa-cious, clean, available after finals, until Aug. 1. Rent negotiable. Across from campus. 537–2386.

PARK PLACE Apartment one-bedroom, unfurnished, across from Westloop, pool, patio, available May 27, wa-ter, trash paid. $345/ month. 776-5437 after

SUBLEASE SUMMER, one-bedroom furnished. 537-6192.

SUMMER SUBLEASE available after finals/ graduation. One, two, or three-bedroom, 1850 Claflin. Laundry facili-ties, water/ trash paid. 776-0264.

SUMMER SUBLEASE Two-bedroom, one and one-half bath. Close to campus and Aggieville 539-9110.

SUMMER SUBLEASE: one bedroom apartment near campus, water and trash paid. Avail-able May 20 through July 31, $220/ month. 776-8897.

THREE-BEDROOM TWO full bath, AC. Sublease June 1, negotiable. Wa-ter, trash paid. Near campus and Aggieville 776-9432.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT for sublease for June and July. One block from campus, nice, spacious. Water and trash paid. $475/ month. Call 395–3966.

TWO-BEDROOM, CLOSE to campus. Fireplace. Water and trash paid. Quiet area. 537-1437.

Typing

and all your other word processing needs Laser printing. Cal Brenda 776–3290.

SERVICE

DIRECTORY

255 Services

DO YOU suspect a cheat ing heart? We can find out if a partner has strayed. Money back guarantee. Private Eyes. 776–7378.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D. (913)841-5716.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures nance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which has as a properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertise-ments in the Employment/Career classifica ment/Career classifica-tion. Readers are ad-vised to approach any such employment op-portunity with reason-able caution. The Col-legian urges our read-ers to contact the Bet-ers to contact the Beters to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Trave! (Caribbean, Europe, Ha-waii!) Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. (919)929-4398

$1000- $2000 part-time.

750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207

$35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898–9778 ext. R-

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898–9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.

ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT- Students PLOYMENT - Students needed! Fishing indus-try, Earn up to $3000-$6000 plus per month. Room and board! Transportation! Male or female. No experi-ence necessary. Call (206)071-2510 (206)971-3510 ext.A57684. PLOYMENT. Fisher ies, parks, resorts nov hiring! Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month! Air-fare! Room/ Board! Free video with program! Call SE (919)932-1489, ext. A85 BOCKERS II catering now whiring part-time wait-ers' waitresses and bar-tenders. Must be avail-able weekends and over break. Apply noon- 3p.m. or by ap-pointment M-F at 2321 Skyvue Lane.

COMPUTING AND Net work Systems is seek-ing to hire one student UNIX administrator to work 15-30 hours per week. Duties will inweek. Duties will in-clude assisting with all aspects of UNIX system administration. Re-quirements include knowledge of Solaris 2 and the ability to learn and work without close supervision. Applicasupervision. Applica-tion available in 16 Nichols Hall at the re-ception desk. Completed application and re-sume due, March 20, 1996 by 5:00 p.m.

CRUISE SHIPS HIRINGTravel the world while earning an excellent income in the Cruise Ship and Land-Tour Industry. Seasonal and full-time employment available. No experience necessary. For information call (206)971–3550
ext.C57685.

WORK SUCK? If so, come see us! Summer Work, make $450/ week!! Possible college credit. Interviews being held. Call 539-1561.

FAST FUNDRAISERRaise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated individuals. Fast, sasyno financial obligation (800)862-1982
ext.33.

FREE FINANCIAL AID! Over $6 billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All students are eligible re-gardless of grades, in-come, or parent's in-come. Let us help. Call Student Financial Services: (800)263-6495 ext. F57685.

HARVEST HELP NEED-ED. We run three new 2188's Case Interna-tional combines, three new Chevy automatic, new Chevy automatic, twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board pro-vided. $1400/ month for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting. (913)689-4660.

HELP WANTED experi enced summer farm help. (913)437-3162.

NEED HELP! If you speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Russian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Susan. Unlimited Income. 539-7336 539-7336.

LIVE AND WORK in the relaxed atmosphere of North Central Kansas. Registered Physical Therapist needed in progressive Physical Therapy clinics. Great benefits and salary. Must be dedicated. Call Jodi at (913)346-5226 or send resume to H&W Therapy- Kansas Inc., 113 North First, Osborne, KS 67473.

LOSE WEIGHT NOW! Needed 27 people to lose weight. All natural Dr. recommended. 587-1037.

MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or ass-ist. Openings in: Base-ball, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis. Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking. Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top sala-ries, excellent facilities, ries, excellent facilities, room/ baord/ laundry, travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR SUMMER AT CAMP TACONIC. Prestigious coed camp in beautiful Massachu-setts seeks motivated sophomores, juniors, seniors and grads who love working with kids to be general coun-selors and instructors selors and instructors in: Swimming, Sailing, Windsurfing, Skiing, Athletics, Ropes Course, Rollerblading, Horseback Riding, Archery, Gymnastics, Aerobics, Golf, Arts and Crafts, Photography, Silver Jewelry, Drama, Music, Piano Accompaniment, Cooking, Scipaniment, Cooking, Sci-ence Rocketry, Pioneer-ing, Video and News-paper. Competitive salatary Education, Child Development, Physcial Education, and Recrearies. Join a dedicated apply. Camp Coordi-team. Have a reward-ing and enjoyable sum-mer! Please call (800)762-2820. MANAGEMENT TRAINEE opening at American General Finance. Finance/ sales back-ground helpful. 776-0050.

OUTSIDE SUMMER JOBS Tropical Beach/ Mountain Resorts, National Parks, Ranches, Rafting Companies! 500 plus employers na-tionwide! Call SEI!

(919) 932-1489, ext. R85. PART-TIME YOUTH work-er. 10 hours a week, begin in fall. Apply by April 1. First Lutheran Church. 537-8532.

PREMIERE BROTHERS Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, es-pecially Baseball, Bas-ketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hock-Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling: other openings Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper. Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Yearbook, Radio Station, Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Waterfront/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing, Sailing, Windsurfing, Canoeing/ Kayaking). Top salaries, room, board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-

REFEREES WANTED USSF Certified Soccer Refer-ees needed for Soccer Tournament, April 13 and 14 at Anneberg Park Menhattan Kansas. For information call 537-2670.

SPECIAL BEGINNINGS, Early Learning Center is a private pre-school and child care facility seeking Lead Teachers for pre-school children.
Candidates must have bachelors in EC Education or related field by May 1996. Positions begin in June 1996.
Competitive salary, excellent benefits. Currantly excepting rerently excepting re-sume and applications. Will be holding open in-terviews March 18, 25 from 10a.m. to 8p.m. 10216 Pflum, Lenexa, KS 68215. (913)894-0131

(913)894-0131. EMPLOY MENT: Experienced combine or truck drivwheat harvesting operation. Lancaster Harvesting, Dodge City, Kansas. (316)227-8821.

SUMMER HARVEST help wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in May. Call Mike Parker, Waterville, KS. Phone; (800)653–8235.

TECHNICAL SUPPORT

STUDENT: The De-partment of Commu-nications, Information and Educational Technology seeks a self-mo-tivated student with ex-pertise to maintain a small Novell network with some support from network engi-neering staff. Must be able to install and main tain application soft-ware in both Windows 3.1 and in Windows 95 environment. Experience with creating mac-ros and template is a plus. Must be familiar pius. Must be familiar with Netscape and "plug-ins." IET offers flexible hours during competitive pay; 15–20 hours/ week during school year and 20–40 hours during summer. Applications available Applications available in 211 Umberger Hall through March 20, 1996 THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you are proud of your ac complishments and want to join an excellent team of profes sionals fax your resume to: Advertising Direc-tor, fax (316)267-8570.

TROPICAL RESORTS Hir ing. Entry-level and ca-reer positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, housekeepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness coun-selors, and more. Excellent benefits + bo nuses. Call Resort Em-ployment Services 1-206-971-3600 ext.

WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience around farm machinery or trucks preferred. Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776-1321 ask for Ryan or (913)582-5359.

WHEAT HARVEST help

wanted for summer.
Case-IH equipment diesel trucks from Texas to Montana. $1500/
month. Maddey Harvesting, Norton, KS (913)877-5577. YMCA SUMMER CAMP POSIT CA SUMMER DAY CAMP POSITIONS. Looking for mature, dependable, committed people to implement quality YMCA Summer Day Camps in four Topeka locations. Must be able to work well with and relate to kids and parents. First Aid, CPR. parents. First Aid, CPR water and CDL certifi-cation a plus. Elemen-

YOU

DESERVE

Great location

Private bedroom

Laundry facilities

Onsite office

2 pools

Large bath & closets

Dishwasher/disposal

NOW LEASING

For

June & August

Call

776-1148

OPEN HOUSES DAILY

THE BEST

2 bedroom apartments

nators- Need strong administrative, super-visory, communicative, organization, and peo-ple skills. Minimum requirements: 12 college hours in relevant cours es or one year experi ence in state licensed child care program. Camp Counselors-Must communicate and relate well to kids and parents. Minimum re-quirements: must be 18, high school diploma, relevant college hours, experience in child care and/ or observation hours. Apply now at the YMCA of To-peka Kuehns Branch at 1936 N. Tyler, Topeka 66608 or Downtown Branch At 421 Van Bur-per Topeka 66602 OPEN MARKET

410

Items for Sale

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS-New and used! Combat and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves, mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT workwear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9- 5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734.

MK COSMETICS on sale. Buy one get second of equal or lesser value free. In stock only. 776-6674.

NEED A simple, inexpen-sive and effective way to get the word out about your group, theme, event or cause? Or are you interested about having a picture of yourself or a friend on your refrigerator? How about buttons! We make buttons from your pre-printed designs or we can help you with a design. Interested? Want some information? Call Pawnee Mental Health's CSP program. Ask for Joe at 587-4333.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-den, KS.

415 Furniture to

Buy/Sell COUCH AND chair for sale. Great for a college apartment. Nothing fan cy, but clean and in decent condition. Asking $75 for both or best off-er. Call 537–4807.

FOR SALE: Five piece dining patio set. Excellent condition, Homecrest Brand. $200. Paid $459 new. 539-8859.

Antiques

MOVIES, STILLS, books brawns remington, African, black, oriental, es can, black, oriental, estate jewelry, albums, tin signs, beer mobilia, hats, prints, political, many curious goods, Time Machine Antique Maul 1910 Skyway prive. east of Airport. Open 12-5, Tuesday-Saturday. Visa and Mastercard and lava-Mastercard and laya-ways, 539-4684.

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Computers 486DX4 X100 8MB RAM CD ROM 14400 modem 16 bit sound card 14-inch monitor Win 95 $1000, 539-8453

72- PIN RAM, 8 meg $170, 4 meg $80, 4X-CD ROM $90. Tom 395-2447.

Supplies AFRICAN PYGMY heghogs

Pets and male/ female, 776-0289. Sporting

Equipment

AND KNIFE SHOW. New location! We have moved from Manhattan to Junction City National Guard Ar mory at 18th and Jack-son. Saturday March 16, 9- 5. Sunday March 17, 9- 4. Buy- Sell-Trade. Information (913)922-6979.

Stereo

Equipment YAMAHA RECEIVER, RX 385. Inputs for CD, tape, VCR, aux, 45 wat/ channel, remote. Great quality/ shape. $125 or best offer. 565-0362, ask for Brad.

PORTATION

Automobiles

1983 PLYMOUTH Reliant 92K, great school car. Asking $900 or best off-er. Call 532-6492 or 776-2073 after 6p.m.

1985 F-150 4X4, air condi-tioned, four-speed, extra sharp $5700, 587-0562, Ask for Heath.

1987 MONTE Carlo SS

below average miles. 539-8307. ECONOMICAL, 1983 Pontiac 6000 frontwheel drive, six cylinder, diesel, dual tanks. $1250, best offer, 537-4047.

Bicycles

TREK 820 $200. Trek 930 with front shox $250.Ask for Mike, 539-2370.

Motorcycles

1993 SUZUKI GSXR750 exof extras. 537-5014.

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

Spring Break ALTERNATIVE SPRING BREAK- Five fun days, music, dance, yoga meditation: Meet stud

A LOT CAN BE SAID ABOUT

ian meals (800)896-2387.

ents from around coun try: Missouri Ozarks Call for rides Vegetar-ian meals $145.

A LITTLE BIT OF SPACE: It works KANSAS STATE

COLLEGIAN

532-6555 Track down your market with the

Collegian

Target the 20,000 students and 5,000 faculty/staff with a classified ad. It's only $8.85

for 20 words. KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

103 Kedzie (east of Union) 532-6555

Classified Directory

BOARD

advertising first. This helps potential buyers

Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers

Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in

CLASSIFIED AD

find what they are looking for.

are confused by abbreviations.

their price range

TIPS FOR WRITING A CATEGORIES Always put what item or service you are

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

gates next Tuesday if he does well enough in that day's four midwestern primaries.

"There could be a drawing," he cracked.

Three new national polls suggest Dole faces an uphill battle with Clinton. The president outpaced the senator handily in the ABC News-Washington Post, CBS News and Gallup surveys, and one found Dole wanting in his ability to express why he should be president.

Dole just touched on that Tuesday night in what has become stock lines in now-frequent victory speeches.

"If you believe our country must return to the traditional values that made America strong, you have a home in the Dole campaign," he said. "If you believe in hope and economic growth, you have a home in the Dole campaign."

His positions still largely not fleshed out, Dole went on to invite those interested in a balanced budget, the appointment of conservative judges and more powers for police.

Dole spent most of the day on Capitol Hill business, with a stack of memos, invitations, paperwork and back-to-back legislative meetings on his mind.

Pausing to shake hands with several gawking tourists, Dole-the-senator quickly became Dole-the-candidate when one couple said they came from California.

"I'm coming out there next week," Dole said, just ahead of the state's March 26th primary.

The hallway encounter was a small sign that despite Dole's hectic legislative workday, the presidential campaign is never far from the Senate majority leader's mind.

In a hint of the political debate to come, Dole reacted sharply to a reporter's question about Democratic charges that the Republican budget would damage environmental protec-

"We're not trying to devastate the environment. This is 1996. President Clinton's getting an early start on November," Dole said.

"He's going to need it." The press of Senate business will keep Dole in Washington on Wednesday, delaying for one day a campaign swing in the Midwest.

While on the campaign trail, Dole keeps tabs on doings in the Senate from his chartered Boeing 727 and usually brings along briefing books on various legislative issues.

Dole met Tuesday with Republican leaders and the Senate committee chairmen to plot legislative strategy, as he does every Tuesday. He also met with a group of city officials from Kansas about their local concerns.

His Kansas colleague, Republican Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, said Dole spends these sessions listening and asking questions.

"He brings up differences. You know, 'Where is this bill, Nancy? How is this bill coming along?' Most of all, he orchestrates things," she

But Kassebaum acknowledged the presidential campaign has largely superseded the legislative agenda this

"It's been slow getting started. But now we've got the compass set," she

SENATE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"I said, 'Why do you think it's mediocre?' He didn't answer. 'Why do you think it's mediocre?' 'It's a personal experience.' So because of some personal vendetta, we got vetoed?" Moore questioned during debate.

Newly appointed graduate senator Bob Jackson, said he supported the increase and suggested the $83 was too

"I don't see anyone here with the education to make a judgment in the quality of care. Let's make sure Lafene is here for us. Personally, I think the $83 is too low," Jackson said.

During open period, Brad Finkeldei, student body vice president, addressed senators with tears in his eyes.

Finkeldei said some senators have upset him over the last two weeks concerning the Lafene increase by saying things like he is on a high horse, he's selfish, and he's a slimeball.

"If I can say it gently, I'll say fuck you!" Finkeldei said. "You can disagree with my politics and what I do, but you know I've been here for two years, and I'm proud of what I've done in those two Peterson and Finkeldei said they have stood by their campaign pledge of no fee increases.

"Maybe vetoing was foolish, but it's what we believed," Finkeldei said. Finkeldei said he did not know for sure if Peterson would veto the new bill, and he told senators he did not think Peterson would veto the bill again.

"I don't know if we're going to veto this. I would, but I'm pretty sure he won't," Finkeldei said.

John Potter, senate chair, said during open period he thinks there needs to be a change in the decorum that Senate is currently operating under.

"Words can cut and make some deep wounds," he said.

He told senators that they need to avoid bad language, extreme prejudice when giving a vote and decline from using individual's names when speaking on the floor.

In other Senate news, a referendum concerning the student health fee was sent back to Senate Operations Committee for further review.

If this bill passes, it will be placed on election ballots during the student government elections April 9-10.

You can disagree with my politics and what I do, but you know I've been here for two years, and I'm proud of what I've done in those two

BRAD FINKELDE STUDENT BODY VICE PRESIDENT

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"The big thing is to put faces to the statistics that government agencies like to quote, to say this is the kid you're taking food from, or the mother you're taking a degree from," Warrem said.

Maddox said the march is a platform for anyone who wouldn't normally have the opportunity to be

"It's about the whole political atmosphere for all social programs," she said. "It's providing a forum for those who are normally voiceless in positive and safe environment for people to share their story."

Valerie Hernandez, sophomore in English, began receiving assistance when her sister died. She was trying to raise her sister's two children and her own son, Tino.

Hernandez said she views the march as an opportunity to dispel the myth of the lazy welfare mother eating Bon-Bons and spending food stamps

Even with the help of welfare, they are still living below poverty line, Hernandez said.

"We don't want to live on welfare forever," Hernandez said. "I went back to school because I felt like I wasn't going anywhere. I wanted to better myself and to be self-sufficient.

"Welfare is assistance, but it only maintains you," she said. "You can never get ahead, and you never have enough. These kids need more than what welfare can offer them.' The significance of these changes in the national and state political climate to the local community might not be realized by students, Hanger

"Students need to be aware that they are being impacted by political processes whether they're aware of it or not," she said. "Cutting financial aid and making it more difficult for students to get financial aid is going to impact students."

Students might not realize the powerful role they can have by getting involved.

"In the '60s, students were crucial to getting the Vietnam War stopped. They were more involved then," she said. "There is a hopelessness that's taken over that it doesn't matter, but it does matter."

SPEECH

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

more of lately. Companies want to know about the consumers and their needs.

Customizing things from cars to razors is necessary to compete in this day and age.

"The average man says 400 words per day, whereas a woman says 2,500. Women focus on the individual and are concerned with wants and needs," Pederson said.

Finding and investing in new ideas is the pathway to success, Pederson said.

Three things women need to do today are to have a great resume, have good business cards and keep up on

"You can be the most intelligent person in the world, but if you can't communicate well then you can't make people believe in you," she said. Tuesday night's meeting was sponsored by the Union Program Council Issues and Ideas Committee, UPC

Special Events and the Finance Club. "Take the initiative to learn something and teach something," Pederson said. "There are a lot of choices and a lot of opportunities. Don't let things

DO THE LOOP

10% OFF WITH KSUID MUNAM Lunch Buffet 5 1 95 All You Can Eat OR Lunch Combo 5 7 35 And Up w/ soup, fried rice, & appelleer TREE DELIVERY

Exotic Aquatics Freshwater Fish & Plants Saltwater Fish & Coral Bring in this ad for $1 worth of free feeder fish limit 1 coupon per customer expires 3-31-96

CUSTOM FRAMING BY ame maken 1346 WESTLOOP CENTER 539-0567

Vespor's Manhattan's Premium

> Wine Source Since 1968 1338 WESTLOOP PLACE

539-9441

WESTLOOP SHOPPING CENTER ...

THIS SPACE IS RESERVED

(for youl)

KSU Bakery

Science Club

BAKE SALE TODAY!

3 to 5 p.m. Shellenberger Hall

First Floor

Collegian Advertising

532-6560

FASHION SHOP BEAUTY SALON

With Coupon Walk-ins Welcome Appointments Preferred

1129 Westloop 539-2921 (on the west side)

1348 WESTLOOP MANHATTAN. KS 66503

539-1751

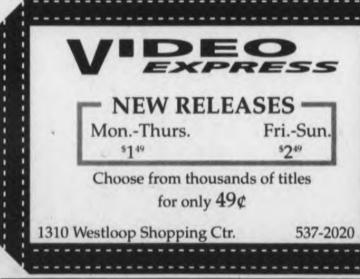

Every one has their own spot.

DO THE LOOP

Contact Russ Wilson at the Collegian 532-6560

539-9500

Today: Thunderstorms likely. See weather map, page 2.

inside OPINION . page

SCOTLAND

SPORTS • page 5

Topeka DIVERSIONS • page 6

Newspaper

PO Box 3585

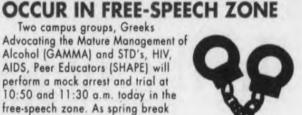

Exp. Date 00/00

Kansas State Historical Society

Section

March 14, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 114

MOCK ARREST AND TRIAL TO

approaches, the groups are stressing the dangers of excessive drinking.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

TEACHER EVALUATIONS

Surveys used in decisions about tenure

staff reporte

oloring inside the lines brought us accolades from our teachers in early elementary school. Now, by coloring in the bubbles on teacher evaluation forms at the end of each semester, students can turn the tables on their instruc-

Evaluations provide a way for students to praise teachers for a job well done and offer advice on how to improve instruction methods. They are also part of the criteria used by departments to make decisions about pay increases, tenure, reappointment and promotion.

'Teacher evaluations serve a dual purpose. They let people see their strengths and weaknesses, and they help to reward and punish people for doing good and bad jobs," said Michael Ossar, head of mod-

Collegian Editorial Board says it's time for evaluations to be made public.

Each department decides to which degree student evaluations are utilized when making decisions about salary and advancement, but all departments use them.

"As of December, each probationary faculty member must use student rating forms," said Victoria Clegg, director of the Office of Educational Advancement.

In December, the faculty handbook was amended to read, "Probationary faculty with classroom responsibilities shall be rated by students at least once a year in each course that they

The Office of Educational Advancement processes all student evaluations at the end of each semester, keeping a copy of the results on record. They then send the forms, along with a computer printout report of the findings, back to the faculty members after grades have been submitted.

• See EVALS Page 8

Where teacher evaluations go

Teacher evaluations go through these channels when processed.

Students use evaluation forms to critique faculty members who teach their classes.

Evaluation forms are taken to the Office of Educational Advancement, where they are processed.

A computer printout of the results and the actual evaluations are sent to the faculty members after final grades are submitted at the end of the semester.

Faculty members look over printouts and read student comments.

Results from student evaluations of faculty members are used as part of the criteria for salary increases, reappointment, tenure and promotion. They can also give faculty members an idea of how they can improve their instruction methods.

Source: Victoria Clegg, Office of Educational Advancement, and Faculty Handbook

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

INTERNATIONAL

Man kills, wounds 28 children

Associated Press

DUNBLANE, Scotland - One child, sobbing, leaned heavily against a car door. Another, her eyes glazed, stumbled through the jostling crowd at the primary school gate.

In the main street nearby, a woman shrieked, "Victoria! Victoria!"

Dunblane, a tranquil cathedral town at the foot of the Scottish Highlands, roiled in grief and horror Wednesday after a disgraced former

Boy Scout leader armed with four handguns killed or wounded all but one of 29 kindergartners playing in the school gymnasium, and killed their

The slaughter of the innocents was over in moments

Just setting in is the shock, the devastation, the sheer sense of stunned disbelief in this beautiful country town, and throughout a nation with strict gun control laws and few multiple slayings.

"Just now, to most people, this is a nightmare," said school board member Gerry McDermott. "But they will not wake up from it."

Five-year-old Stewart Weir will never forget the man with the guns. The boy ran, escaped with only a bullet-grazed leg and was able to tell his Dad about it.

"Stewart said he thought the gunman was shooting at him," Robert Weir said after comforting his son in the hospital. "He got hit in the leg, so he took a run and just hid with another wee girl. It is lucky the man turned the gun on himself before he got the rest of the kids."

Frantic parents tried to get into the school while police and ambulance workers inside confronted unspeakable horror

"I can only describe what I saw ... as a medieval vision of hell," paramedic John McEwan told the Sun, a

See MASSACRE Page 8

As waves of sudsy water cascade down his rear window, Clayton Janasek, senior in mechanical engineering, rinses his 1979 Trans Am at a car wash in the Candlewood Shopping Center. Janasek said he was washing his car because of a combination of a dirty car, great weather and to break away from studying. SCOTT M. LADD

► U.S. POSTAL SERVICE

Manhattan post office accepts debit, credit cards as payment

The U.S. Postal Service will be the largest retail operation in the world accepting credit and debit cards by the year 1997.

As part of a program to bring a more convenient payment method to post offices across the country, the Manhattan post office has been accepting credit and debit cards since Feb. 14.

'We're listening to our customers," Marvin Roth, Manhattan postmaster, said. "Many customers prefer the convenience of credit and debit cards. Now they will be able to use their cards at the post office.'

Debit cards, or automatic teller machine cards, will be accepted for all purchases at retail windows except passport applications, but credit cards will have a few more restrictions, Roth said.

Most people prefer to use their cards because it saves them time and effort, Roth said. "It's just easier," Mike Wiley, Manhattan resident, said. "When I use my debit card, the money comes right out of my checking account." Writing one check at the end of the month to pay off expenses allows you to see how much money you have spent that month, Mike Hoyt, senior in electrical engineering, said.

"This just gives me one less place I have to use cash," Hoyt said.

Not as many people are taking advantage of the new payment methods as was expected, Roth said. "We have the signs up, but not many people are aware of the change," Roth said.

Making this payment process available on a national level is requiring the installation of data lines to 50,000 terminals at 33,000 locations.

Postal window clerks will also have to be trained to use the new equipment and financial accounting systems. After the initial conversion to the new system, operations should run more smoothly, Roth said.

"I think if you ask anyone in the retail business they will tell you that credit cards make it easier,"

Research conducted at more than 500 pilot sites showed that more than 90 percent of the customers were satisfied with the speed and convenience of card transactions.

COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE

Students voice grievances

the memo.

Sara Edwards

The Architecture Student Advisory Board is helping to mediate students concerns about a class.

Among other issues, the process of responding to student concerns was addressed Wednesday night.

According to an ASAB memo, grievances about the class Structural Systems in Architecture 4 were first brought to the Board's attention at the Feb. 7 meeting.

"... issues, such as attendance, graduate teaching assistants and level of difficulty of the class, were discussed," the memo stated.

ASAB then wrote a letter to department head Susanne Siepl-Coates addressing those concerns, according to the memo. ASAB then had a forum March 6. ASAB representatives, students, administrators and the instructor, Sidney Stotesbury were present. "The scope of the forum was to discuss the issues at hand openly and dents had been submitted. The board decided to extend the deadline for proposals to Friday. If the ASAB gets more proposals, they will only four proposals written by stu-

to begin a process whereby solutions might be implemented," according to for students to write down concerns and proposals for solutions and submit them to the ASAB, said Carol

Morrissette, chair of the ASAB and

When the ASAB met Wednesday, fifth-year student in architecture.

The next step after the meeting was have another meeting March 20. They also decided to post the memo to remind students to submit proposals. Morrissette said one of the reasons they did not receive many proposals was because many students had class projects due this week.

When the board gets more memos, it will then write a memo to the Siepl-Coates with the students' suggestions. She then will discuss concerns with Stotesbury.

K-State researcher leaves theater for laboratory

Brent Smitko

If you are squeamish around bugs, you should not read any further in this story. Brenda Oppert surrounds herself with thousands of insects every day as a part of her job. "Insects really are fascinating," Oppert said.

A temporary assistant scientist with K-State's Department of Biochemistry and the president of the Flint Hills branch of the Association of Women in Science, Oppert does research investigating the biochemical basis of insect resistance development to Bacillus thuringiensis.

In other words, she tries to find out how insects become immune to various pesticides.

"I feel that my work has a purpose," she said. "And you trust other people think so, too."

But 20 years ago if you had asked this Fort Worth, Texas, native what she would be doing in the future, her answer might have been acting, not researching insects.

"I majored in theater arts until I was a junior," Oppert said. "I wasn't exposed to a lot of science at an early age." When she originally went to the University of Texas at El Paso in 1975, she did not know where Manhattan was and had no aspirations of getting a degree in biology.

"I always wanted to work with animals," she said. That is when she came under the influence of her mentor, Professor James Becvar, who sparked her interest in biology.

"He gave me the confidence and encouragement I needed," Oppert said.

At the time a single parent of twins, Oppert started over after finishing three years in theater and received bachelor's and master's degrees in biology from UTEP.

During this time Oppert met her second husband, Steve Upton, an associate professor in biology who was a visiting scientist at UTEP. He received position at K-State in the Division of Biology, and together they came Manhattan.

Oppert worked on her doctoral degree in biochemistry at K-State and since receiving her degree in 1991 has been trying to find a full-time position in the department.

While waiting for full-time work, Oppert has done postdoctoral research at K-State

See OPPERT Page 8

For the next three days, the Collegian will profile different researchers from K-State involved with the Association for Women in Brenda Oppert is doing post-doctoral research in insect digestive systems for the U.S. Grain and Marketing Research Laboratory on College Avenue. Oppert received her doctorate in biochemistry from K-

In the news

▶ DOLE INDECISIVE ABOUT CHOICE OF PRESIDENTIAL RUNNING MATE

WASHINGTON (AP) - The GOP presidential nomination all but his, Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., said he has not chosen anyone for the No. 2 spot on the ticket - a position he had 20 years ago — and predicts retired Gen. Colin Powell would take it if asked.

As he swept seven "Super Tuesday" primaries to move close to clinching the nomination, Dole said he had only "in a loose way" thought about a vice presidential running

"It's in the back of my mind sometimes as I fly around, watching governors and others perform," Dole said in an interview. "But I haven't really thought about it in any concerted way.

Dole insisted he had no favorite. "The slate is wide open," he said.

► LEADERS RESPOND TO BOMBINGS

SHARM EL-SHEIK, Egypt (AP) - In a dramatic show of solidarity, world leaders rallied around Israel today to combat the wave of suicide bombings that have ravaged the Middle East peace process. President Clinton hailed the Red Sea summit as "a strong, united stand" against ter-

The impressive array of kings, sheiks, prime ministers, presidents and princes was a bold response to anti-Israeli extremists who unleashed four suicide bombs, killing 62 people in nine bloody days.

It was the most extensive gathering of Arab leaders on behalf of Israel in the 48-year history of the Jewish state.

"Terrorism has become an international phenomenon," Egyptian president Hosni Mubarak said in an interview shortly before welcoming Clinton to the one-day summit of nearly 30 world leaders.

STRIKE HALTS GM AUTO PLANTS

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) Striking workers at two General Motors Corp. brake factories insist the walkout that has idled more than 87,000 fellow employees will eventually benefit them all

"We're taking a stand for the whole country of automakers," striking worker Joe Plummer said Tuesday as he picketed outside a GM Delphi Chassis plant. "We're here trying to protect our jobs.

The strike's ripple effect has forced the to shut down 21 of 29 North American assembly plants and nine parts

PLAYER REFUSES TO SALUTE FLAG

gy.

DENVER (AP) - All season long, while his teammates lined up to face the flag during the national anthem, star basketball guard Mahmoud Abdul-Rauf has sat by himself in a silent show of allegiance to his faith

"I'm a Muslim first and a Muslim last," said Abdul-Rauf, who plays for the Denver Nuggets.

the two Delphi Chassis brake plants began March 5, mainly over job security and outsourcing, the production of parts by outside plants or compa-

The strike by 2,700

members of the United

Auto Workers union at world's largest automaker

"My duty is to my creator, not to nationalistic ideolo-

On Tuesday, the National Basketball Association suspended Abdul-Rauf indefinitely without pay, saying his refusal to stand violates a league rule requiring all players to "line up in a dignified posture" for the Senate agenda

The Student Senate meeting is at 7 tonight in the Union Big 8 Room. Call to order

Open Period: Kathy Barry Approval of March 12 minutes Committee reports Student Director's reports

Approval of appointments

Res. 95/96/75 Approval of new senator

Second readings

Bill 95/96/71 Kill Ike Bill 95/96/111 Amendment to SGA by-laws regarding the intern

Bill 95/96/115 Special allocation to International Coordinating

Bill 95/96/116 Special allocation to Student Governing Association Bill 95/96/122 Conversion of campus privilege fees to privilege

First readings

Res. 95/96/74 Supporting the National Champion KSU Livestock Judging Team sign on I-70 Bill 95/96/120 Amendment to the SGA Constitution concerning proxy voting Bill 95/96/121 Amendment to the SGA Constitution clarifying timeline for veto

Bill 95/96/123 KSU student fee line item spending regulations Bill 95/96/124 OSAS budget FY '97

Held in committee Bill 95/96/49 Senator education requirements - Senate operations Bill 95/96/107 College Council FY '97 allocation

Bill 95/96/110 Establishment of ad-hoc Committee to Investigate Athletics (CIA)

Bill 95/96/112 Increase of student health fee Bill 95/96/114 Amendment to SGA by-laws regarding Senate

Reference of legislation

Announcement of SGA constitution and/or by-law revisions Adjournment Kemacity hiles Committee to

Police reports

orts are taken directly from the daily logs of the campus and Riley County ce departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list whe

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

TUESDAY, MARCH 12

her vehicle backed out of a stall she

At 6:12 s.m., Carolyn May reported was parked in and struck a state van. Loss was less than $500.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

TUESDAY, MARCH 12

At 11:02 a.m., Jay Schneide 921 Kearney St., reported the theft of his bike. Loss was $350. At 11:02 a.m., Shella Key, 3835 Kaw Road, reported that she suspected her landlord was harassing At 3:23 p.m., Shauna Dolan, 917 Vattier St., Apt. 2, reported a fire in her residence. The Manhattan Fire Department was dispatched At 4:14 p.m., Barb Rupert, 318 N. lows, reported an accident involving a pedestrian and a vehicle. A vehicle struck pedestrian Douglas Rupert, Riley. Douglas Rupert sustained cuts

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13

At 2:16 a.m., Billie Jo Simons, 8524 Mulberry St., was arrested at and bruises to his right leg. At 4:50 p.m., Mark Rand, empl of Westloop Video Express, 1310 Westloop, reported the theft of seven videos. Loss was $540.

At 6:07 p.m., a vehicle accident was reported at Stagg Hill Road and by Nicholas Peak, 104 Oakwood Circle, and Carol Jurgens, Ogden collided into one another, resulting in head, knee and elbow injuries Injured passengers were Scott Sears, 100 Notre Dame Circle, 18-month-old Emily Carter and 5-year-old Chelses College Avenue and College Heights Road for DUI. Bond was set at $500.

CORRECTION

> In the March 13 edition of the Collegian, Henry Kissinger, former secretary of state and Nobel Peace Prize winner, was identified as serving as secretary of state for President Nixon from 1973 to 1977. Kissinger did not serve President Nixon during those years; instead, he served the presidential administration during that time.

532-6448.

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

■ CEO15 Civil Engineering Assembly will meet at 7:30 tonight in Seaton 063. ■ Be international! Volunteer to help an international student practice English. Contact Jim Endrizzi at national Student Center at

■ Smurthwaite Scholarship/Leadership House will be host to a generational fun night for all ages from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday at the Thomas J. Frith

m Farrell Library is making some departmental moves. Those sion is free. Bring a sack lunch. changes include the Government BULLETINS

Amnesty International will meet at 7 tonight in Union 205. The program topic will be leadership to next year.

Campus Crusade for Christ will meet at 7 tonight in Throckmorton

■ Lutheran Campus Ministry will meet for supper and a Bible study at 6 tonight in the Baptist Campus

m ICTHUS will meet at 8 tonight in Union 212. ■ College of Human Ecology student ambassador applications are available. Applications are due in the dean's office Friday.

Arts and Sciences ambassadors applications will be available

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second-class

 Alpha Kappa Psi will meet at 7:30 tonight in Union 213.

Documents Office to room 101,

306, Accounting to room 400,

Library Network Services to room

Sorting to room 117 and the Lucy

m The University of Notre Dame

Men's Glee Club will present a concert at 8 tonight at St. Thomas More

Catholic Church, 2900 Kimball Ave.,

■ Lunchbag Theatre will present

"Trout" at 11:30 a.m. today in the Purple Masque Theatre at 11:30 a.m.

today. The play is short, and admis-

in Eisenhower 117. The applications are due at 4 p.m. April 9 in the ■ BAPP Club will meet at 4:30

tonight at 8 p.m.

Wilde and Daryl Youngman Room to

KSU Skydiving Club will meet at 7 tonight in Union 208.

p.m. today in Calvin 202.

■ Pre-Physical Therapy Club will meet at 7 tonight in Union 207. ■ KSU Horseman's executive meeting will be at 6 tonight in Weber Lounge. Applications for next year's officer positions in AED are available in Eisenhower 113. Deadline to apply is March 22.

postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, cir-culation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167.

© Kansas State Collegian, 1995.

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Today

Denver

lows

62/29

Yesterday's

highs and

Thunderstorms likely. Mostly cloudy with the high near 65. Chance for rain, 60 percent.

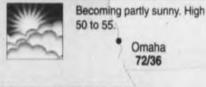

Tonight, low from 35 to 40.

Goodland

68/27

Garden City

74/31

67/36

Wichita

77/35 •

Friday

Omaha 72/36

MANHATTAN 77/30 Kansas Topeka 71/44 73/41

> Coffeyville 77/41

STATE OUTLOOK

Colder in the west and north. Rain likely in the northwest with thunderstorms likely in the east. Snow may mix with the rain in the northwest. Highs from around 40 in the northwest to around 70 in the southeast. Tonight, a chance for light snow in the northwest and rain in the east. Lows from the upper 20s in the northwest to the mid-40s in the southeast.

> St. Louis . 70/43

Floyd E. Rogers

Res: (913) 776-8900 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

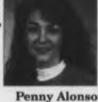

Office: (913) 776-4488 Fax: (913) 776-4977 1-800-232-5726

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home

market analysis.

Penny Alonso

FRIENDS AND SEINFELD 4:30 - 9:30 p.m. Bobby T's Candlewood Shopping Center

Featuring Daily Drink & Food Specials

Is your 1995 penny worth $20?

Coins and Stamps appraised, bought and sold by dealers Sunday, March 17 at Manhattan Holidome 530 Richards Drive from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

69/52

Manhattan Coin Collectors Club

ADMISSION TO ALL UPC FILMS IS $1.75

BRAVEHEART

Friday, March 15 5:30 & 9:30 pm Saturday, March 16 6:00 pm Sunday, March 17 8:45 pm Forum Hall

K-State Student Union
UPC Feeture Films Comm

EAT DRINK MAN WOMAN

Thursday, March 14 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, March 16 10:00 pm

From the creator of The Wedding Banquet

K-State Student Union UPC Kaleldocope Films Co

Forum Hall For more information call the UPC Office at 532-6571

Troupe to perform skits

Phil Kellum staff reporter

The Asian American theater troupe Here and Now will perform at 8 tonight in the Union Ballroom. Students will have an opportunity to gain a better knowledge of Asian American culture.

The troupe is a non-profit organization that travels to schools and universities across the country to educate people about Asian culture.

"Their issues affect all students and also deal with Asian American life as well," said Erin Parkinson, Union Program Council Multicultural Committee chairperson.

The troupe's appearance at K-State is co-sponsored by UPC Multicultural Committee and ASIA in conjunction with Free Your Mind Week and Asian American Awareness Month.

"We felt like this group would be a perfect chance for a co-sponsorship with ASIA. The issues are very consistent with Free Your Mind Week and Asian American Awareness Month," Parkinson said.

UPC is required to have its spring semester programs set by Dec. 1, so it began choosing in November. In early December, Here and Now was chosen to perform, Parkinson said.

"It has real potential to be of broad-based interest. Because of their youth and diverse backgrounds, they could touch base and hit home with many students," Parkinson said.

Here and Now will perform skits and vignettes involving audience interaction, comedy, drama, dance and other forms of theater to cover Asian American themes, as well as general multicultural

"It is a good way for students to gain a new understanding of other cultures in a calm way. The more exposure, the more friendly and open the campus is, it will give a window into other cultures and increase understanding to give a better chance for friendships and a better campus atmosphere," Parkinson said.

Parkinson said she did not know how big an audience to expect for the performance.

"I'd love to have every student there. We could have 50 to 500. We've prepared for everything. It's a valid program even if no one goes," she said.

Here and Now will bring 10 of its 15-20 member troupe to K-State to perform.

The program will last about two hours and will be free

"There are two schools of thought with regard to this issue. Some faculty don't mind, and other faculty feel that it would be an invasion of privacy,"

Stroupe said he wishes more people would take advantage of that opportunity to offer suggestions.

comment if the class is in their major are out of their element."

evaluations are an important tool for are not always taken seriously.

Stroupe said he had heard of all he said

AIDS MEMORIAL QUILT

Quilt symbolizes lost lives

QUICKread

The quilt will be on display at the Topeka ExpoCentre March 14-17. The times are 7-9 p.m. Thursday, 9 a.m. - 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Sunday. The display is free and open to the public.

Gina Garvin

Piece by piece and panel by panel, the AIDS quilt will unroll tonight in Topeka.

"Each piece represents a human being who has died from AIDS," said Reita Currie, assistant director of health education at Lafene, as she described the official NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt.

Members of the STDs, HIV, AIDS Peer Educators, a liaison between the student population at K-State and Lafene Health Center, will travel to Topeka to see the

In 1988, the entire quilt covered the same distance as eight football fields.

The display in Topeka will not be large; however, there will be several 12-by-12 feet blocks on display. Each panel for each victim is 3-by- 6 feet, symbolizing the exact size of a coffin, Currie said.

The quilt was started in 1987 after being inspired by a candlelight march in San Francisco, where demonstrators taped victims' names on a government building.

The quilt represents a peaceful and visual way of helping others understand the great numbers of people who have lost their lives to AIDS.

SHAPE members and others who will be at the opening ceremonies will experience a variety of emotions, Currie said.

"It's a very beautiful and emotional ceremony," she said. Besides the unrolling of the quilt, people will also have the opportunity to walk around and look at different blocks of the

Only a section of the quilt will be on display in Topeka, yet the display is said to be one of the largest ones since the entire quilt was shown in Washington in October 1988, Currie said.

Throughout the display, the names of those who have a quilt panel are read.

When the entire quilt was on display in Washington, it took 11 hours to read through the list.

The quilt is a great way to make a person's life more known.

Those who view the quilt see a lot of characteristics and interests of the person, Currie said.

"The panels are very much like a memorial marker for a person who has lost their life to AIDS," she said. "I really encourage people to go see the quilt. It's a very moving experience."

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"It's an event, a big moment when you sit down and open the envelope and see how the students evaluate you," Craig Stroupe, instructor of English.

Stroupe said he sees teacher evaluations as a way to open lines of communication between his students and himself.

"Teachers try to listen to students and what the students need. If something's not working, we need to do something differently," he said. Graduate students are evaluated also. Jon Guderski and Brian Wardlow, graduate teaching assistants in geography, said their evaluations go directly to the head of the department. Guderski said students probably do not take the evaluations seriously especially in lower-level classes. "But if you were really bad, they'd take it seriously enough to let someone know," he said. Wardlow said things were different in his classes.

"I'd say my students take it more seriously. I have upper-level classes," he said.

There are two forms available for faculty to use in obtaining student ratings. Departments, with input from faculty members, decide which form is distributed to their students.

The differences between the two make one more suitable for use in department decisions and one better for improvement of teaching methods, although both can be used for either purpose, Clegg said. The teval form is used most often. It is the shorter of the two forms, with 14 questions. There are 11 designed for rating the instructor and three for self-rating.

Clegg said this is the form faculty members most often use to submit to the department for decisions such as raises or advancement

The IDEA form is less frequently used. Faculty may use this form to gain feedback for purposes of improving instruction.

It has 46 questions and, among other things, asks about the student's attitudes toward and behavior in the course, and it has the student compare the course to others they have taken at the University.

Both forms were developed in the Office of Educational Advancement at K-State. The IDEA form is marketed off-campus to other universities.

No matter what the primary use of the evaluations is, they are the property of the teacher.

At one point, ratings for faculty members who gave permission were published by Student Governing Association and made available for purchase to students.

Clegg said student government at the time stopped publishing the booklet, and her office stopped asking permission for the release of the ratings soon after that.

Whether ratings could ever be published again would depend on student and SGA interest and would require written permission from faculty mem-

Clegg said. Both the teval and the IDEA forms provide space for written student com-

"In terms of responses, I don't get many flippant ones," he said. "It varies according to the class. More people area of interest than do students who

Despite the fact that the student gauging performance of teachers, they kinds of silly things being written on evaluation forms.

"Someone wrote that a teacher was too thin and needed to gain weight,"

PUBLIC SERVICE

Mock arrest skits to demonstrate hazards of excessive drinking during spring break

Darren Whitley staff reporter

Lights and sirens will help the groups Greeks Advocating the Mature Management of Alcohol and STDs, HIV, AIDS Peer Educators dramatize the dangers of excessive drinking.

The two groups will perform a mock arrest and trial at 10:50 and 11:30 a.m. today in the free-speech

The groups' intent is to show how excessive drinking during spring break gets students into trouble by resulting in a DUI or contraction of an STD, said Cindy Burke, director of health education and promotion at Lafene Health Center.

The mock arrest and trial will use GAMMA members as student jurors. Bill Kennedy, Riley County district attorney, will be the prosecutor, said

Bill Arck, director of alcohol and other drug education service at Lafene. Burke said GAMMA and SHAPE have been working on planning the event for several weeks. They have also sponsored a booth to promote safe and responsible behavior during spring break in the K-State Student Union this week. The groups have been giving students a Ziploe bag with two condoms, directions for their use and a fact sheet about STDs and alcohol consumption. The mock arrest and trial will put the student through the whole process of what happens with DUI cases, Burke said. "Hopefully it will come across as being a real-life experience in that this is really what could happen," Burke Burke said the mock arrest is ambitious on the part of GAMMA and SHAPE, and it should be fun. The experience was designed to approximate reality.

Throughout the year, Kennedy said he sees a lot of students with DUI cases in the county, Arck said. Just 10 years ago, as many as four students were killed in drunken driving accidents each year, Arck said. "We have not had a student killed to my knowledge in probably three to four years. "Just because that has happened does not mean we do not want to get the message out," Arck said.

"It's been a long time since school started, and it's going to be party time," Arck said.

Party time or not, students need to plan to have sober drivers for traveling to and from their spring break destinations, Arck said.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 532--6560

WORK OR STUDY ABROAD Scholarships Available Submit applications for work and/or study abroad this summer and next academic year.

KSU EXCHANGE PROGRAM SITES AVAILABLE IN: (English) UK, Czech Republic, Finland, Korea,

Netherlands, Sweden, Greece (French) France, Togo (German) Germany, Austria (Italian) Italy

(Spanish) Colombia, Mexico, Dominican Republic

WORK AND VOLUNTEER PROGRAMS Europe, Africa, Asia, Latin America, Pacific and North America

Contact: Barry Michie, Director of Study Abroad, Office of Int'l Programs, 304 Fairchild Hall, KSU. Come by or call 532-5990.

The Kansas Pork Producers council is offering an interrship to a student wanting the opportunity to work with a volunteer agricultural commodity group while developing communication, marketing and organizational skills.

Students who are seeking future employment in fields such as animal science, journalism and mass communications, hotel and restauraunt management, marketing, human ecology, public relations and foods and nutrition will find the on-thejob experiences gained during the internship to be valuable. The intern is selected on University recommendations, student application forms and interviews.

Applicants must have at least 60 credit hours with two semesters remaining until graduation. The intern works in the state office appoximately four hours per week on various activities during the school year. Some travel is required. The student receives three credit hours and a scholarship Applications will be accepted in the KPPC office through-ends May 31, 1997 2601 Farm Bureau Rd.

March 31, 1996. The interrubip begins in August of 1996 and

Not just a night spot

Open 11 a.m. 5 TV's 17 Booths FREE COFFEE ALL DAY

Two Slices Per Customer Per Visit

With Purchase of Beverage

PROM Dresses 10% OFF!

PROM

2011 Ft. Riley Blvd.

539-5200

PLAY IT SAFE THIS SPRING BREAK!

G.A.M.M.A. & S.H.A.P.E. PRESENT A MOCK D.U.I ARREST & TRIAL

MARCH 14 10:50 & 11:30 A.M. UNION COURTYARD

Opinion

EDITORIAL BOARD MEMBERS

Mike Marlett _ Editor in chief Kevin Klassen Managing editor Sarah Lunday News editor Cary Conover _ Photo editor Design editor Christy Little Copy chief N. Stewart Anderson Features editor . City / government editor

Claudette Riley Arts and entertainment editor Stephanie Fuqua Opinion editor Shana Newell Sports editor Justin Stahlman . Graphics editor Kevyn Jacobs E-Collegian editor ■ These Collegian editorial board members write 'COLLEGIANopinion.' Editorials are a majority opinion and not necessarily the view of all individuals on the board. People interested in joining the board can call 532-6556 or send a letter to the editor by e-mail or snail mail at Kedzie 116, Attention: Stephanie Fuqua.

COLLEGIANopinion

Teacher evaluations should be made public

QUICKread

▶ Students should be able to see what other students thought about a certain class, in order to make an informed decision during enrollment.

Most K-State students have completed a teacher evaluation form at some point during their college careers.

Student Governing Association used to print the results, but SGA stopped that practice a few years ago. Now the results are seen only by teachers and their departments. In recent years, this has become a campaign issue with many senators.

Now the administration is considering making the results of teacher evaluations open to the students, and it is about time.

So many times, we fill out the tevals only to wonder if they make a difference. Whether we are praising teachers or chiding them, we wonder if anyone uses what we write - especially if the class is taught by a tenured pro-

Now students might have the opportunity to see what their peers thought of certain classes and professors.

Granted, a lot of the teval replies are childish or irrelevant. But those who care about being students will take the time to make instructive criticisms and adequate praise where necessary. The knowledge that these will be published may refrain some students from making such comments as "She sucked" or "This class blows."

As students, we are indirectly the professors' employers. Part of the money we pay in tuition and taxes, as well as our parents' taxes, goes back to the professors. We need to have some leverage, and publishing tevals is the way to go.

These should be made public in all department offices, along with the drop-add forms and line schedules, so that students can make informed decisions when choosing their classes.

NOTES FROMthe underground

Women need computer knowledge

I heard something really scary the other day. It chilled me to my soul and made me question my very existence on this planet. Ready?

Myview

KADY

Guyton

"What's a mouse, and how do I make it

"How does this icon thingy work? "Don't computer viruses eat silicon?"

All these statements came from the mouths of people I thought should know better: college-age women who have grown up in America and can read.

Women and girls as a group have been ignored by the technological powers-that-be for a long time. A recent poll claims girls in the 11-17 age bracket are the largest untapped market for computer companies.

Why, you ask? Because, let's face it, most of the really cool video games are marketed to boys. Boys start playing games on their computers, then move on to downloading shareware games off the Girls, on the other hand, do not tend to get involved in the blood-and-guts games their brothers play and are not really given the incentive to see what else the computer can do.

There is no way I would give a copy of Doom or Mortal Kombat to my 8-year-old cousin. I doubt she would play it either.

I was very lucky to have been exposed to computers at a young age. In high school one of my instructors, a woman, was a tech junkie who made a point of teaching everybody everything, whether we wanted to know or not.

I have taken that knowledge so much further: Now I roll out of bed every morning, stumble to the Collegian and spend two to three hours putting it online so K-State alumnus Marlin Fitzwater and those nice folks at the University of Kansas can

I learned the basic steps in high school, but it was what I needed to get to where I am now and to see where I can go from here.

A poll in MacHome Journal said men outnumber women online by about seven to one. I hate being a minority, and of all the people I know who can be pioneers, I am not one of them. The numbers are starting to swing the other way, but it has been slow going. The women who are online are certainly worth getting to know. They are funny and smart and very, very politically aware. The topics of conversation range from how to hook up a printer to an IBM, to whether Pat Buchanan is the antichrist.

They are also the fastest typists I have ever seen in my life. The information age is upon us. Instructors are starting to require their students to turn in assignments by e-mail, and some are asking at least one source for papers be a World Wide Web site.

Women are generally gun-shy about asking for help with computers in a lab full of men. I do not blame them. Who wants to ask a question just to have a 16-year-old look down his nose at you?

Unfortunately, not asking the question does not get the question answered. The information age is upon us, and no one is going to wait for women to become e-mail literate. They have to do it now, on their own.

Kady Guyton is a junior in journalism and mass communications and can be reached by email at (grey@ksu.ksu.edu).

Censorship free speech There's a fine line between the two here is a fine line between freedom of speech and attacking someone or something.

Last week, I crossed that line. You might have noticed my column did not run last week. Well, that is why - I was out of line, and my column got pulled.

The column was attacking honor societies and stated my opinion that many of them have lost their honor. It posited that people join the societies only because they want to build up their résumés.

The problem was not necessarily in the content but in the way I went about it. I basically spouted off unfounded cheap shots emphasizing the point that honor societies can be shallow facades. My mistake came when I let personal experiences interfere with my column and ended up, in a roundabout way, attacking a particular society.

I had friends who asked, "How can they pull your column? That's censorship!"

I began to think about censorship. My mind wandered back to a classroom discussion I participated in last semester about speech codes at K-State. The idea was teachers' and students' speech should be restricted on campus to avoid offending any-

I remember being vehemently opposed to the idea of speech codes or any other restriction of speech.

I imagined Big Brother watching our every move and controlling our lives. Everyone would become a number, because by referring to someone as something else, you might offend them.

WILLIAM THOMAS Burdette

Next thing you know, all human interaction would be limited to computer-based communications in which one person would punch in a message and the computer would automatically edit it and send it to the desired recipient. For example I would type in:

Dear Jon Girlstealer, I cannot believe you stole my girlfriend. You stupid sonofabitch. I am going to kill

Your worst nightmare,

The computer would edit the letter and send the following:

Myview

ERIC

Waters

I am unable to understand why you are having relations with the person who was once my female companion. You not-thatintelligent-descendant-of-a-female-dog. I am going to end your life.

Your particularly unpleasant dream,

I started thinking all voice boxes would be removed at birth to avoid misunderstandings and potentially offensive situations.

Then I snapped back into reality. I realized what I wrote last week just was not appropriate for a paper that is trying to convey a professional image. I was not censored. I do not have freedom of speech here. Instead I have freedom of what I can get past the editor. The paper pays me. It would be different if I were standing on a corner, or if I owned the publication. That is just the way

All our lives we have had, and will continue to have, people restrict our speech. When we are children, our parents make sure our language is appropriate. When we get older, our schools make us sit in timeout if we use one of the words we heard on the late-night movie channel. Our bosses often strongly encourage us to portray a certain image at work, which usually includes not swearing at or attacking the customers. All that is not censorship. It is just good business. It is doing what is appropriate and restricting what is not. I guess that is good. Imagine the other side of the scenario

Dear Jon Girlstealer, I cannot believe you stole my girlfriend. You stupid sonofabitch. I am going to kill you. Your worst nightmare,

This time the reply is a bit differ-

Dear William Thomas Burdette, My name is Marcia Clark. After the O.J.

trial, I went into private practice. I am currently representing Jon Girlstealer. He is bringing a harassment suit against you for your threatening letter. Good luck winning; Mr. Cochran does not handle this type of

Marcia Clark Attorney at Law

Obviously, there is a fine line between freedom of speech and attacking others.

Don't get me wrong. I still vehemently oppose restrictions on speech, but I also see their usefulness in keeping our society somewhat civil.

I guess it is good for some of us to get our mouths washed out with soap now and again.

William Thomas Burdette is a freshman in journalism and mass communications, political science and international

It's past time to stop stereotyping young black males

rior to attending college, I was relatively optimistic about the relations among different races.

Growing up in a predominantly black environment was something I have experienced all my life. I anticipated living among people who come from a variety of backgrounds. I did not anticipate dealing with the many stereotypes concerning myself and others as black males. Throughout my first semester, I came into contact with many students who had many misconceptions concerning black males. A number of students would say, "So tell me, are you on the football or basketball team?"

This really disturbs me because it makes me think that on a predominantly white campus, if a student sees a black male, they automatically perceive him to be an athlete.

They have this picture that if a black male is on a predominantly white college campus, he must either be a swift runner with a football or be skillful on a basketball court.

They fail to realize he just might be attending college to broaden his mind and obtain the skills necessary to become a success in life.

Who knows? He may also be on a complete academic scholarship, as I am.

Last year, a column was printed titled "Stop perpetuating atereotypes of black males." Errol Williamson made a valuable statement that many black males "are very educationally minded."

However, there are people who have trouble agreeing with this statement. Why? It is simple. They see the local news or read the local paper and see the statistics showing the numbers of black males who are without high school diplomas, incarcerated, dead and considered dangerous and criminally minded. After seeing these statistics, they form this negative image of black males.

Unfortunately, the news and papers neglect to report the statistics on black males who are not incarcerated, are leaders in high places, have graduated from high school and college, are supporting their families, are helping others in their times of need, are alive and well and are making a difference in their communities and making a difference in the lives of others.

Throughout my first semester, I have also learned that individuals associate people with what they hear from others and what is printed on a piece of paper. There was a time when a rape occurred on campus. The next day, it was in the college paper with a brief description stating the subject was a white male and so on. After that, there was not too much more said or heard about it.

A couple of weeks later, another rape occurred. This time in the college paper, there was a sketched-out picture of the subject, description, time and place the rape had occurred and a lot more detailed information all on the front page.

Students had posted the sketched photo throughout the residence halls and across campus. Meetings were held to discuss it, campus police seemed to be watching goings and comings, and it was the center of everyone's conversation. Do you know why? The rapist was a black male.

I often see people wear the shirts that say "eracism." Yes, there is nothing wrong with it, but tell me, how are you going to erase racism when you may be a racist yourself? Let's face it, many people are ignorant about other races outside their own. For example, take the following incident I have experienced many times on campus

It is about 10:30 p.m., and I am walking back to my room alone. My trip to the library lasted a little bit longer than I had expected. As I am walking along, I realize a young woman keeps looking back at me as if I am after or following her. She begins to walk faster and faster until she finally makes a ridiculous stop at Bluemont Hall, where she waits until I am clear down the street.

Now what am I supposed to think? First of all, she does not even know me. Second, she makes me feel like I am some sort of criminal on the loose who is out to harm her. Finally, she knows Bluemont is closed long before 10:30 p.m., and the only reason she stopped there was to avoid me. All this is due to her stereotypes of black males.

Ignorance means not knowing, and I believe that whether we like it or not, many students and people in general are living in ignorance. You know who you are. If this is supposed to represent the real world, it does not represent a lot. As you are reading this, I know that I might be stepping on your toes, but that is because I am speaking the truth. And yes, the truth does hurt.

It is about time to do away with the labels and misconceptions concerning black males and whoever else you have stereotyped. Sometimes I wonder what it would be like if everyone were colorless. How would we treat one another? On what would we base our judgments? Would we consider one group as a threat to another? Would we consider one group superior to another? Think about it.

Eric Waters is a sophomore in graphic

Big Dance fulfills Cat dreams

The Wildcats received an invitation to go "dancing" Sunday for the first time in three years. For Cat fans, it was a dream come true.

At least so I thought until I was walking through the K-State Student Union yesterday when my sports fanatic

Myview

JOHN

Berggren

ears caught hold of a conversation. I overheard several K-State students say they wished K-State was in the NIT instead.

Their reasoning seemed to be that if K-State went to the NIT, it would have a better chance of winning more games, possibly some of which would have been played at home I did not jump in on their conversation to tell them how insanely wrong they were. Instead, I stood off in the near distance and gritted my teeth in disgust. First, Cat fans, no team ever makes it a season goal to make it to the NIT. The NIT is only a consolation tournament full of, for the most part, second-rate teams. No team in its right mind would ever want to go to the NIT over the NCAA Tournament. The NIT might have easier competition, but that is not what a Division I team looks for when trying to build a dynasty like Kansas has.

Second of all, the NIT gets media coverage comparable to that of the college women's NCAA Tournament. That means fans do not get any media coverage unless it is late at night or their school is in the semi-final or final rounds.

I will admit that it is not likely K-State will make it far in the NCAA Tournament. Most people pick the Cats to be lucky to get past the first round.

So what if K-State does not make it to the Sweet 16? The Cats have still had a great year.

Look at the preseason polls where the Cats were picked to finish seventh or eighth in the Big 8. We finished fourth in the conference. That is quite an achievement over where the skeptics placed us.

Probably an even bigger achievement for the Cats this year is that the team showed it has some quality young athletes who are going to be among the best the next few years in the Big 12.

One has to look no farther than the box scores of the last several games, and one will see that it is the play of this year's freshmen and sophomores that put us in the NCAA Tournament.

In the last six games, Ayome May averaged 8.2 points per game, Aaron Swartzendruber averaged 10.5, Mark Young averaged eight, Manny Dies averaged 2.3, and Shawn Rhodes averaged 6.5. These might not be all-America number but they are pretty good for a bunch of underclassmen.

The NCAA Tournament will be an awesome experience for this crew, and if it works hard in the off season, K-State will be a sure shot to be in the "Big Dance" again next year.

This year's tournament debut will be key for the returning Cats, as everybody knows that experience is key when a team wants to do well in the tournament.

K-State coach Tom Asbury even admitted experience in the NCAA Tournament is impor-

"I'd rather have a bunch of guys who have been there before," Asbury said. "I'd rather have experience if for no other reason just to get over the jitters. There's a new sense of urgency and excitement when you get to the NCAA Tournament.'

of guys who have been there before. I'd rather have experience if for no other reason just to get over the jitters.

TOM ASBURY K-STATE BASKETBALL COACH

Tyrone Davis also said a loss in the tournament would be the end of his K-State career, but the experience gained would benefit K-State's team for several years.

"I think the tournament means a lot to our young players," Davis said. "They'll come back next year with a lot more confidence. I think they will be a lot better next year after me and Elliot (Hatcher), George (Hill), and Brian (Gavin) are gone. They'll have to step up and show some leadership, and this experience will help them a lot."

I think the future looks pretty bright for the K-State basketball team. Maybe even a few years down the road, basketball will not be the No. 2 sport behind football.

You have to give Asbury a lot of credit. He has this program performing better than even he envisioned in his short two-year tenure at K-State.

"I think this program is ahead of schedule," Asbury said. "Looking at the conditions as to where we were picked and what some of the expectations and anticipations was, we're having a

John Berggren is a freshman in radio/television. If you have a good reason why K-State shouldn't have gone to the NCAA tournament, e-mail him at (johnber@ksu.ksu.edu).

k-state faces a bout of MARCH MADNESS

KYLE WYATT/Collegian Blake Mertens, freshman in chemical engineering, takes advantage of the warm weather Wednesday to shoot some hoops in the parking lot of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house.

Collegian coverage of K-State's run for the Big Dance continues in the Sports Special Section

3-on-3 tourney to run parallel to Big Dance

When the Wildcats take the court Saturday in Richmond, Va., they will have a little different look.

Coach Tom Asbury will be nowhere in sight, and only three Cats will play at any given time.

No need to check your TV listings Asbury's Cats still play Friday, and there will still be a full contingent on the court. But a second K-State team will play in Richmond in the Pizza Hut Hoops 3-on-3 Road Trip. Each school invited to the NCAA Tournament was offered a spot in the Road Trip.

Five students, Corby Kassebaum, senior in biochemistry; Allen Poppe, senior in biochemistry; Andy Wingert, senior in history and social sciences; Karlton Place, senior in civil engineering, and Shane Kaberline, senior in kinesiology, will make the trip, leaving Friday and returning Sunday.

"We got a call from (assistant vice president) John Fairman Thursday to tell us this might happen," Kassebaum said. "We still didn't know if K-State would make it into the tournament, so everything was up in the air.

"At that point, we became pretty big Catbackers.

Kassebaum, Poppe and Place won the intramural 3-on-3 tournament last spring and added Wingert and Kaberline to their roster.

Teams must consist of full-time students who do not participate in

NCAA sports. "It's supposed to be a team that's played together so they can't just stack a team with athletes," Poppe

Poppe said the invitation came as a shock.

"It definitely was a surprise," he said. "I thought Corby was full of shit when he called me up."

Place said they have not had a chance to practice because they just found out about the tournament.

"There's not a lot of practice you can do for 3-on-3," he said. "We've played a lot of ball at the Rec, but

All of the games will be played in Richmond Saturday, meaning the team will miss K-State's game.

'We won't get to see them play at all," Kassebaum said. "We'll be flying out there Friday when they play, and if they win we'll be on the plane back home."

If the 3-on-3 team wins, it also has the chance to advance to the Final Four. The initial tournament bracket is identical to the NCAA bracket with substitute teams for schools which could not field a 3-on-3 team. But after the first round is played, only the tournament sites will be the same.

Teams eliminated in the first round will earn $1,000 to be donated to the general scholarship fund of their universities. The prize money increases as teams advance through the tournament, with the national champions earning $20,000 for their

"We've enjoyed playing intramurals over the years, so it's nice to give something back," Wingert said.

KU re-evaluates competitive edge before Big Dance match-ups

Associated Press

LAWRENCE - With a front line measuring 6-foot-11, 6'10" and 6'6", rebounding was a great strength for Kansas until a couple of weeks ago.

Now it is a great worry, especially after Sunday's 56-55 loss to Iowa State in the Big 8 Tournament final. Have the Jayhawks lost their aggressiveness? Their enthusiasm? Or has the ball just been bouncing toward the other guys?

"We're doing a pathetic job on the boards, and I don't know what it is," said power forward Raef LaFrentz, the Jayhawks' tallest player at 6'11". "We really didn't make a strong effort to keep them (Iowa State) off the boards

While winning the Big 8 regular season title by three games, the Jayhawks (26-4) led the Big 8 in rebounding at 42.1 and in rebounding margin, 7.1 per game. It promised to be a dependable edge in virtually every game they would play.

But now they've been outrebounded in their last five games, including the Iowa State loss and a loss to Oklahoma in the regular-season finale.

In their first 25 games, they were outrebounded in only five games.

It is a disturbing trend for the Jayhawks, seeded No. 2 in the West Regional, as they pack for Tempe, Ariz., and their first-round game Friday against South Carolina State.

"We're getting killed on the offensive boards," LaFrentz said.

A sophomore All-Big 8 selection, LaFrentz led the Jayhawks during the regular season with 8.2 rebounds per game and tied Ryan Minor of Oklahoma for No. 2 in the conference behind Oklahoma's Ernie Abercrombie (9.5).

"We need to do a better job limiting their shots," LaFrentz said. "Any time a Division I team gets four looks at the basket, they're going to put it

Twice Sunday, the smaller Iowa State players outhustled what appeared to be taller-but-slower Kansans to get rebounds off the Cyclones' missed free throws. "We've got to get it straightened out," LaFrentz said.

Students take tae kwon do to competitive level

John Berggren

Tae kwon do is one of the United States' fastest-growing forms of martial arts. More than 4 million people practice the art in this country alone.

the Manhattan Academy of Tae kwon do, said people enter the sport for several reasons.

"People are interested in the sport aspect of the art, the self-defense of the art, and I have had a lot of people come in who use the art as a form of physical therapy," George said. "It's great for the cardiovascular system, and it builds muscle tone.

"Tae kwon do is a sport that has a balancing effect. It helps in stress relief and teaches people to be assertive and not overly aggressive," George said.

Tae kwon do differs from other martial arts because it is a Korean form of fighting that deals heavily with kicking techniques.

"Tae kwon do is 60 to 70 percent kicks, while karate is just the opposite. It deals more with hand motions," George said.

Three K-State students have taken the sport aspect of tae kwon do to a competitive ntry alone. On Feb. 17, Andy Yaghjian, Tim Robert George, tae kwon do instructor at Derowitsch and Charlie Matteson all placed at the K-State tae kwon do championships.

To place at state, a competitor has to finish in the top three places in a category. Categories distinguish differences in sex, weight and experience.

Experience levels are marked by belts that are given after a certain amount of training is completed. Yellow belts usually train for around six months, green belts train for around a year, blue belts train for around two years, red belts train for about 2-1/2 to three years, and black belts train for at least three Yaghjian placed in the red-belt competition, Derowitsch placed in the black-belt competition, and Matteson placed in the yellow-belt competition.

Black belts who place at their state championships can go on to the 22nd U.S. Nationals May 9-12 at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, Colo.

In the black belt division at nationals, all degrees of black belts compete against one another for a chance to place in the top three. Placing in the top three at nationals qualifies the competitors to try out for the national team. Once on the national team, a competitor has a chance to be on the Olympic team in the year 2000.

George said Derowitsch will expect to see some pretty tough competition at nationals.

"Tim got his black belt just recently and could wind up fighting anybody up to a fourth-degree black belt," George said.

"It's really hard to say how well he will do. Even the top competitors say anybody can beat anybody on any given day. Determining who he fights will be by purely the luck of the draw," George said.

Derowitsch said he was aware of the competition he might face and said he was just anxious to be able to compete.

"It's a big step for me into a whole other level of fighting," he said. "It's very exciting for me because I have never been to nationals. All I know is that they're really fast.

"My goal at nationals is to just try to hold my own. If I can get out of there without getting killed, I'll be pretty happy. I want to put up a good fight this year, and then next year if I go back, I'll try to place."

Derowitsch has four years of experience in tae kwon do and eight years' experience in martial arts. He said he liked tae kwon do the best of all the martial arts.

'I like this sport because it has the bestlooking high, fast, strong kicks," Derowitsch said. "My main aspect of the art is the competition, and tae kwon do is the only martial art with kicks that is a full medal sport in the Olympics. I can conceivably go as far as my skill takes me."

DOWN

1 Expendi-together

5 Sandbox

6 Angling

7 Expel

8 Actress

Tomei

what

11 Infinitesi

the E.R.

cohabitant

4 Factories 25 Mr.

ture 2 Queued up

3 Put

■ KSU Theatre presents "Tartuffe" at 8 tonight through Saturday in Nichols Theatre. Tickets are $8-10.

"Here and Now," a production from the California Asian theatrical group, will be at 8 tonight in the Union Ballroom. ■ UPC presents "Eat Drink Man Woman" at 7 and 9:30 tonight in Forum Hall

CROSSWORD

ACROSS 1 Bivouac 42 Nasal 45 '60s model 5 Favorable 49 Baton 8 Spar

50 9mm sub-12 Evangelist machine Roberts 13 Singer 52 Former filly 53 Never Rawls 14 Unfavoragain 54 Clerical able vote 15 Pop addr. 55 Acknowl-16 Newspaper revenue 56 Check 57 Ballsource bearing 17 Tatum's father item?

58 Stamina, in 18 Score 20 Conway of C&W music 22 Male Manx 23 Firewood? 24 Motel furnishings 27 Rate 32 Mr. Baba

33 Ring decision 34 "Sound of Music" extra 35 Woe 39 Greek cross

40 Charged

38 On in years

Yesterday's answer

Solution time: 23 mins.

"Variety"

greens 51 Wye successor 3-14

MPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 199¢ perminute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

OCKOQAZCA, NUCN WHOCNUZC MXZWKTG

UVMTCN Yesterday's Cryptoquip: BEFORE RETIRING EACH NIGHT, PIRATES LIKE TAKING THEIR CUPS OF BUL-

Today's Cryptoquip clue: M equals C

► FOXTROT

by Eugene Sheffer

19 Gift-tag

word 21 Kids' card game 24 Disreputable

Wallach 26 Length

28 Bushel pts.

damages

31 Conclusion

38 "20 Ques-category

tions'

"That hurts!"

passen-

42 Noah's

44 Mongol

thropic

potation

46 Was

47 Piratic

29 Certain

30 Seek

9 No matter 36 In partner-

10 Pronto, in 37 Hairpiece

I CAN'T BELIEVE YOU AND I HAVE BEEN GOING OUT PEANUT

DOOG AND BLAIR

I MEAN, YOU'RE SMART AND FUNNY AND PRETTY AND WON-DERFUL AND FRIENDLY AND PERCEPTIVE ? THOUGHTFUL AND PERFECT AND WHAT AM I ?!

by Mark Ilich

by Bill Amend

BY THE WAY, YOU'VE GOT SOME QUALITIES

THAT I DIDN'

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

KSU THEATRE

'Tartuffe' offers true comic colors, tale of hypocrite

Nikki Prentice

An opera depicting the story of a supreme hypocrite who is exposed as a true scoundrel will take the stage at 8 tonight in Nichols Theatre.

"There's a laugh a minute. It has a continuous pace. I think the strength of the play is you're not waiting for a highlight. It takes you right to it," Carl Hinrichs, director of "Tartuffe," said.

KSU Opera Theatre will perform "Tartuffe," which is an opera based on a play written in the 17th century.

The story was written 200 years ago by the playwright Moliere. The main character, Tartuffe, is a man who claims strict observance of moral practices. However, he is a cunning lecher, cheat, thief, liar and fraud - the supreme hypocrite who is exposed as a true scoundrel.

When the play begins, Tartuffe, played by Chad Pape, junior in music education, has been invited into a wealthy French family. The father of the family, Orgon, is fooled by Tartuffe's con-artist endeavors and thinks of Tartuffe as somewhat a "god of the earth."

Tartuffe

Tartuffe is also infatuated with Orgon's wife.

"Tartuffe is a man who is deeply in lust with another man's wife, Orgon's wife," Pape said. "He makes himself come across as a 'holy man' so he can get into the house to seduce Orgon's wife."

are $8-10.

through Saturday and March 19-21 in Nichols Theatre. Tickets

Performances are 8 tonight

Tartuffe does not fool the rest of Orgon's family, but unfortunately, Orgon refuses to believe the relatives' claims against Tartuffe. In the meantime, Orgon makes Tartuffe his heir and disinherits the rest of the family.

By the time Orgon, played by Aaron Austin, senior in music education, sees Tartuffe's true colors, it is too late. Orgon has already left his possessions to Tartuffe.

"Orgon plays a bigger man than he really is," Austin said. "He's a tough guy but a teddy bear inside." Hinrichs said "Tartuffe" is a comedy with serious undertones

"The opera is very exaggerated. There's a lot of comic business that goes on," Hinrichs, associate professor of theater, said. "Lots of jokes and lines. Nothing terribly serious goes on.'

Topeka native Kirke Mechem composed the opera about 25 years ago.

Music director Jerry Langenkamp said the music has a

"The play has some standard opera-style music and ensembles that are modern and different in sounds, with a colorful accompaniment," Langenkamp, director of opera for the music department, said.

"The play itself makes people look at what they believe in, and that some things aren't what they seem to be. You also need to look at all sides of the issue," Austin said. Set designer, Zaid El-Hamoudeh, graduate student in theater, said the opera takes place in a 17th-century French chateau decorated with classic marble floors and elegant,

Tickets are $8 for students and seniors and $10 for the general public and can be purchased at the McCain Box

Have you gone mad?

Look for complete coverage of K-State's first-round game with New Mexico in Monday's paper. Isn't March Madness great?

Victorian furniture

Classifieds

BOARD

Announcements

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI in-structor, at Creative Travel, 539-0531, class-flight instructor special izing in multi-engine and other advanced ratings. Very competitive rates. Hugh Irvin, 539-3128.

ADVANCED FLIGHT

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five sir-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

SIGN A "giant" card thanking Mitch Holthus and wishing him well in his career. There will be a table set up in the student union across from the stateroom from 10a.m. to 2p.m., Thursday and Friday, March 14-15.

Lost and Found

Found ade can be placed free for three days.

FOUND: SET of keys, out by Carnehan Creek Rec. area. Has name "Becky" on K-State license name tag. Call name tag-539-4261.

Parties-n-More

D A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's

Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild Mobile Hot Tub Rental. 537-1825.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette perties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at reasonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

OPERATION PURPLE Wave Hot Tub Bus Rental, 18-20 person tub ca-pacity. New tubs and equipment. 587-0990.

to place your classified.

Call 532-6555

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hell, 587-2440.

For Rent-Apts. Furnished

SPACIOUS APARTMENTS

3 blocks east of campus Two bedrooms, furnished, ample parking. Quiet conditions. Reasonable rates 776-3624.

A VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apart-ments. Close to cam-pus. Call Moore Man-agement. One-bed-room $320, two-bed-room with fireplace $510, two-bedroom with one and one-half bath $510, two-bed-room $400. Summer subleases available, no pets. Water, trash paid. June and August lease available. Call 537-7542 9a.m.— 6p.m. or 537-4567 after 7p.m.

AUGUST LEASE: Next to campus—Eastside un-furnished two-bed-room with fireplace and laundry. Westside fur-nished one/ two-bed-room. Both locations have balcony, central air/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen, and off-street parking. 539-2702 leave mes-sage or call evenings.

AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY- One-bed-room spartment on An-derson Ave. Clean and new. For rent or sub-lesse. Call (913)446–3788, leave

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments-

FOR AUGUST next to KSU.
Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichols
Hall. Deluxe two-bedroom apartment, $490$500. Also, large, nice one-bedroom apartment, water, trash, gas, three-fourths paid.
Laundrymat. $310$320. 539-2482 after Laundrymat. $310-$320 539-2482 after

NINE OR 12 month lease, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537-8389.

ONE-BEDROOM STUDIO furnished in complex, 1219 Claflin next to campus $325 plus de-posit plus electric. Au-gust year lease. No pets, 537-1180. for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450. 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM

NISHED apartment, 1200 Fremont Central air, dishwasher, dispo-sal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428.

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE Hours Mon.-Fri. 8-5

(Except holidays)

110 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

> AVAILABLE AUGUST 1, nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open

Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

SHOW. New location!
We have moved from Manhattan to Junction
City National Guard Armory at 18th and Jackson. Saturday March
16, 9-5. Sunday March
17, 9-4. Buy-SellTrade. Information
(913)922-8979.

(913)922-6979.

ask for Brad.

Computers

Collegian Classifieds

AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE-LY. Very nice one, LY. Very nice one, two, three and fourbedroom apartment for now, summer and fall Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919.

Leasing now thru August

Fremont Apts. Sandstone Apts. Now Is

The Time

Great location

Two bathrooms

▲ Walk-in closets

▲ Washer/dryer

hook-ups

▲ Fireplaces

▲ Large pool

NOW LEASING

JUNE 8 AUGUST

587-1380

Open Houses Daily

The Curtin Company

LEASING FOR Fall. Two-

bedroom, two bath du-plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, garbage disposal, laundry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744.

and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, garbage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744.

vate entrance and off-street parking. Walk to campus. Available June 1. $275 per month. Open House Thursday March 14, 6- 8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr.

apartments and houses available June, July, August. One year lease, no pets. The Housing apartments. Close to campus. No pets, water and trash furnished. June lease, 539–1975.

ABLE immediately, near Aggieville. 1124 Fremont, $275 through July 31. Water, trash paid. Call now. 775.3904

Company. 539-2255

ONE. TWO, three-bedroom

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid.

Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804.

JUNE- JULY at Park Place $345/ month. 539-7760.

ONE-BEDROOM NEAR KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804.

study available now. 1212 Thurston. $400. Near KSU campus. Wa-ter, trash paid. Call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM WITH

OPEN, LEE CREST APARTMENTS 1212 KEARNEY, Friday 3:30-6, Saturday 11-3:30 one-bedroom.

Four buildings within one block campus, on Sunset and Kearney.

Why stay on

Baltic Avenue

when you can

ADVANCE TO:

Park Place

NOW LEASING FOR

FALL 1996

539-2951

. Water & Trash Paid

. Hot Tub & Pools

• Unfurnished 1-2-3 BR

 Volleyball/Horseshoes Laundry Facilities

• 24-Hour Maintenance

On-site Management

Call Homestead Need furniture? Rentals 537-8774

•2 bedrooms

•½ block from campus

Furnished and unfurnished

Make Anderson Place Your

Home Away From Home!

Now leasing for 1996-97

Showings every

Monday through Friday

2-4 p.m.

1852 Anderson Place #16

776-1222

paid. 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM

NICE, ONE-BEDROOM. Pri-

LEASING FOR Summer

2 bedroom

apartments

bedrooms

▲ Large

Cambridge Square Apts.

Large 2-bedroom units

537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m. Sat. 10-3 p.m.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1- one-$375. Near campus. Call 776-5981. Ask for

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS

Corner of College and Claflin, Manhattan 1 to 4 Bedroom Apartments

Deck/Patios for each unit

On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry Covered Parking

2 BR - $550 & $570 3 BR - $720 & $735

Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases

For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday Noon to 3 p.m. ONE, TWO, three-bedroom

CAMBRIDGE SQUARE, two-bedroom apart-ment, fireplace, wash-ing facilities, for rent or sublease immediately. 776-2180

CLOSE TO campus. One-two- three-bedroom apartments. Not a complex. No pets. 539-4641.

FOR SUMMER and fall. two beautiful apart-ments at North Park Apartments, 1200 Fremont. Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537–0428.

4 bedroom, 2½ bath townhomes. Refrigerator, range, nicrowave, dishwashe Full-size washer/dryer in each unit.

EARLY BIRD SPECIAL 2 university parking signed lease. 3 people/$750 mo. 4 people/$860 mo.

Model Showings: Sat. 11-Noon 2529 Candlecrest Circle 776-3804

JUNE 1 or Aug. 1. preleas-ing: two-bedroom, one block from campus. $495- $505/ month. 539-1897.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Avail-able immediately. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776–3804.

LEASING FOR August. One, two, three, four and six-bedroom apartments, duplexes and house. Close to cam-pus. No pets. 776-2102.

ROYAL

TOWERS

Apartments 1700 N. Manhattan Now Leasing for June & August 4 bedroom/2 bath $750 mo./3 people 860 mo./4 people EARLY SIGNING BONUS $400 cradit

w/icemaker, range

Model Showings: M-F 5-5:30 p.m. at on-site office or M-F by appt. 776-3804

PARK PLACE APART-MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 539-2951.

room apartment. Available May 20. Poolside. Nearby laundry facilities, 776–2322. STUDIO, ONE and two-bed room. Available now. Water and trash paid. Laundry facilities. Hatton Property Manage-ment. Clara 539-6318 or 537-8228.

SUMMER Before 10:30a.m 537-2346. Ask for Jus

TOWNHOUSE- ONE block from campus. Two dou-ble sized bedrooms, two bath. $625. Land mark Realty, 776-2222.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now through May 31, 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776–3804.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-MENT apartment. All bills paid except electric and phone. One block from campus. Parking. June. $450. 539-6578.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-

776-0221.

TWO-BEDROOM, CIOUS, one block from available now and August. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

Houses

120

AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with ward er, dryer, central air, with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

AVAILABLE JUNE 1. five

FOR RENT or sale. Available now, two-bed-room house in Keats. Huge yard, outdoor pets ONLY. Contact Dick Walsh at Blanton

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE Available for summer spacious, nice, two baths, dishwasher, washer/ dryer, fenced yard, $700/ month. 539-5141 ask for Aaron

LUXURY TWO-BEDROOM

NICE TWO-BEDROOM duplex. All appliances, ga-rage. Please, no smok-ing, no pets. Five month or one year lease. Located 2304 Wil-low Lane, Manhattan. Call (913)45€ 7185.

NICE, THREE-BEDROOM newly remodeled, fire-place, yard, walk to campus, off-street park-ing. Available June 1 $800 per month. Open House, March 14, 6-8p.m. 1830 Elaine Dr.

TWO AND three-bedroom

REALLY NICE, one-bed-

SUBLEASEnice, one-bedroom ground level apart-ment. Close to campus.

TWO- THREE- four-bedroom near campus, one and one-half bath. Cen-tral air, laundry, dish-washer. 537-1746.

MENT apartment re-cently constructed, 500 block of Bluemont. $325 plus utilities. Available Aug. 1. 537-1047 after 6.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m.,

WALK ACROSS to Ag gieville and campus Spacious one and two bedroom apartments bedroom house, two baths central air, washer, dryer, dishwasher, garden, 824 Laramie. 539-3672.

For Rent-

Realty 776-8506.

one and one-half bath townhome in scenic Briercliff Addition. Pool, tennis courts and clubhouse. $600. Available June 1. 776–8363.

for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

Wanted

GOVERNMENT FORE-CLOSED homes for pennies on $1. De-linquent Tax, Repo's, REO's. Your area. Toll Free 1-800-898-9778 ext. H-1915 for current listings

DIRECTORY Roommate

FEMALE NON-SMOKER for fall will look for place together. Call Sandy. 565-0204 (leave

MALE ROOMMATE wanted immediately. FEMALE Lease runs until July 31. $213/ month plus one-half utilities. Call Kendra 537-9169, leave

MALE ROOMMATE to share apartment. Very close to campus for summer. Call: Ryan 565-0169. MALE ROOMMATE want ed. $175 a month 539-4429. MALE/ FEMALE roommate wanted for five-bed-room house. $150/ month. Washer/ dryer. Three blocks from campus. Call H 537-1621. Call Ricky or Aaron

NON-SMOKING FEMALE for next fall. We'll look for a place together. Call Rosario, 587–8222.

SUMMER AND/ or fall fe males to share three bedroom apartment, two blocks from cam-

Sublease

ACROSS FROM campus. Summer sublease. Three-bedrooms. Avail-able June 1. Washer/ dryer. Two bathrooms. $740/ month. No pets. 776-8957.

AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY, first floor: Large living room and kitchen; second floor: two-bedrooms. One and one-half bath. Near campus, $350 negoti-able. Call Kesheng, 532-6700, Liang 776-6039 (evenings).

AVAILABLE NOW or sum mer: sublease one-bed-room of four-bedroom apartment. $220 month includes cable. Water and trash paid. Ground floor, pool, laundry facilities. First month rent paid. Call 776-2216.

FOR SUMMER. Your own washer and dryer. Close to campus, city park and Aggieville. Call 776-9041.

FIVE-BEDROOM townhouse, two and one-half bath, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, starts June 1, 587-8622. MALE ROOMMATE needed for immediate sub-lease. Smoker OK. Huge apartment, large kitchen, living room. Two-bedroom, balco-ny, fireplace. McCain Lane location. ny, fireplace. Mountain State Incation. You pay $260, plus half low KPL. Urgent that we find someone soon. Call someone soon. Call Matt at 537-0752 after

MAY 20- July 31. Share two-bedroom apart-ment $180/ month plus one-half utilities, three blocks east campus. No pets. 776–9559.

MAY THROUGH July sub-lease. Looking for fe-males to share a fourbedroom apartment, one block from cam-pus. Amy 776-8870.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT, nice, spacious, clean, available after fin-als, until Aug. 1. Rent negotiable. Across m campus. 537-2386.

PARK PLACE Apartment, one-bedroom, unfur nished, across from Westloop, pool, patio, available May 27, wa-ter, trash paid. $345/ month. 776-5437 after 5p.m.

SUBLEASE SUMMER, one-bedroom furnished. 537-6192.

SUBLEASE TWO-BED-ROOM one and one-half bath. May 1- July 31. Close to campus, Aggiveille. Water/ trash paid. 537–4768, leave a MMER SUBLEASE-available after finals/ graduation. One, two, or three-bedroom, 1850 Claffin. Laundry facili-SUMMER ties, water/ trash paid. 776-0264.

SUMMER SUBLEASE four bedroom, 1800 Platt. Across from Durland. Call 565-0169.

SUMMER SUBLEASE. Two-bedroom, one and one-half bath. Close to campus and Aggieville. 539-9110.

SUMMER SUBLEASE: onebedroom apartment near campus, water and trash paid. Avail-able May 20 through July 31, $220/ month. 776-8897.

THREE-BEDROOM TWO full bath, AC. Sublease June 1, negotiable. Wa-ter, trash paid. Near campus and Aggleville 776-9432.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT for sublease for June and July. One block from campus, nice, spacious. Water and trash paid. $475/ month. Call 395-3966.

TWO-BEDROOM. CLOSE to campus. Fireplace. Water and trash paid. Quiet area, 537-1437

Resume/

Typing PERFECT and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776-3290.

Services

255

DO YOU suspect a cheat-ing heart? We can find out if a partner has strayed. Money back guarantee. Private guarantee. Eyes. 776-7378.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services Dale L. Clinton, M.D. (913)841-5716.

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he'she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Trave! (Caribbean, Europe, Ha waii!) Seasonal/ Per manent, no experience (919)929-4398

$1000- $2000 part-time. Call Barb 537-6892. $1750 WEEKLY possible

mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207. $35,000/ YEAR income potential. Reading books. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. R-

$40,000/ YEAR income potential. Home typ-ists/ PC users. Toll Free (800)898-9778 ext. T-1915 for listings.

1915 for details

ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT- Students needed! Fishing indus-try. Earn up to $3000-$6000 plus per month. Room and board! Transportation! Male or female. No experi ence necessary, Call (206)971-3510

ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT. Fisher ies, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month! Air fare! Room/ Board Free video with pro-gram! Call SEI (919)932-1489, ext. A85.

ATTENTION STUDENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envelopes at home. All materials provided. Send SASE to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Im-mediate response.

BOCKERS II catering now hiring part-time wait-ers/ waitresses and barable weekends and over break. Apply noon- 3p.m. or by ap-pointment M- F at 2321 Skyvue Lane.

CHRISTIAN MOTHER seeking college student to watch infant in my home. Part-time during weekdays through May. Hours flexible.

COMPUTING AND Net work Systems is seek-ing to hire one student UNIX administrator to work 15-30 hours per week. Duties will in-clude assisting with all week. Duties will include assisting with all aspects of UNIX system administration. Requirements include knowledge of Solaris 2 and the ability to learn and work without close supervision. Applications available in 16 Nichols Hall at the reception desk. Completed application and resume due, March 20, 1996 by 5:00p.m.

CRUISE SHIPS HIRING-Travel the world while earning an excellent income in the Cruise Ship and Land-Tour In-dustry. Seasonal and full-time employment available. No experi-ence necessary. For in-formation call (208) 971-3550 ext.C57685 DOES YOUR SUMMER WORK SUCK? If so, come see us! Summer Work, make $450/ week!! Possible college credit. Interviews being held. Call 539–1561.

(206)971-3550

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated individuals. Fast, easyno financial obli tion (800)862-1982 ext.33. FREE FINANCIAL AID!

Over $6 billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All students are eligible re gardless of grades, in come, or parent's in-come. Let us help. Call Student Financial Services: (800)263-6495 ext F57685.

FUNDRAISER-MOTI VATED groups needed to earn $500 plus pro-moting AT&T, Discover, gas and retail cards. Since 1969, we've helped thousands of groups raise the money they need. Call Gina at (800)592-2121 ext. 198. Free CD to qualified

GROWING NETWORK enterprise looking for en thusiastic, motivated in dividuals in your area. Experience personal and financial freedom and motivate others. Call (913)545-3497 after

HARVEST HELP NEED-ED. We run three new 2188's Case International combines, three new Chevy automatic twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May Room and board pro-vided. $1400/ month for experienced help. Call Gaines Harvesting

HELP WANTED experienced summer farm help. (913)437-3162.

MADE $1800 in 6 weeks. No work! No time! Rush $2 and self-addressed stamped en-velope to: Briles, P.O. Box 127, Rule, TX 79547. NEED 25 people to get Garth Brooks tickets Saturday. I will pay each person $35. Ryan: 565-0169.

NEED HELPI If you speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Rus-sian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Susan. Unlimited Income 539-7336

LIVE AND WORK in the relaxed atmosphere of North Central Kansas. Registered Physical Therapist needed in progressive Physical benefits and salary. Must be dedicated. Call Jodi at (913)346-5226 or send resume to H&W Therapy- Kansas Inc., 113 North First, Os-borne, KS 67473.

LIVE-IN NANNY needed for summer only. Free Room and board. Con-tact Lee 537–1444. LOSE WEIGHT NOW! Needed 27 people to lose weight. All natural Dr. recommended. 587-1037.

MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or ass-Instruct, coach or assist. Openings in: Baseball, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA English Horseback Wall, Ice Hockey, Scul-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top sala-ries, excellent facilities, room/ baord/ laundry, travel allowance, Call travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, MANAGEMENT TRAINEE opening at American General Finance. Finance/ sales background helpful, 776-0050.

OUTSIDE SUMMER JOBS Tropical Beach Mountain Resorts, National Parks, Ranches Rafting Companies 500 plus employers na-tionwide! Call SEII (919) 932-1489, ext. R85.

PREMIERE BROTHERS-

Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, especially Baseball, Basketball, Roller Hockey Gymnastics, Field Hock Gymnastics, Field Hock-ey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Ri-flery, Pioneering/ Over-night Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper, Photography, Year book, Radio Station Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing Sailing, Windsurfing Canoeing/ Kayaking) Top salaries, room, board and travel. June 18- August 17. Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC

(Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-Certified Soccer Refer ees needed for Soccer Tournament, April 13 and 14 at Anneberg Park Manhattan Kansas. For information call 537–2670. ROOF TRUSS Manufac-turer 5107 Murray Rd. 776-5081.

SPECIAL BEGINNINGS Early Learning Center is a private pre-school and child care facility seeking Lead Teachers for pre-school children. Candidates must have bachelors in EC Educa tion or related field by May 1996. Positions begin in June 1996 Competitve salary, ex-cellent benefits. Cur-rently excepting resume and applications.
Will be holding open in-terviews March 18, 25 from 10a.m. to 8p.m. 10216 Pflum, Lenexa.

(913)894-0131. SUMMER EMPLOY-MENT: Experienced combine or truck driv-ers needed for custom wheat harvesting operation. Lancaster Harvesting, Dodge City Kansas. (316)227-8821.

SUMMER HARVEST help

wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and 9500's beginning in May. Call Mike Parker. Waterville, KS. Phone: MK COSMETICS on sale (800)653-8235. TECHNICAL SUPPORT STUDENT: The Department of Communications, Information and Educational Tech-nology seeks a self-mo-tivated student with expertise to maintain a small Novell network with some support from network engi-neering staff. Must be able to install and main-tain application software in both Windows 3.1 and in Windows 95 environment. Experi ence with creating mac ros and template is a plus. Must be familiar with Netscape and "plug-ins." IET offers flexible hours during competitive pay: 15–20 hours/ week during school year and 20–40 hours during summer. Applications available in 211 Umberger Hall through March 20, 1996. ros and template is a

THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you are proud of your accomplishments and want to join an excel lent team of professionals fax your resume to: Advertising Director, fax (316)267-8570.

TROPICAL RESORTS Hir ing. Entry-level and ca-reer positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, house-keepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness counselors, and more. Exployment Services 1-206-971-3600 ext

WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience ar ound farm machinery or trucks preferred. Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776-1321 ask for 486DX4 X100 8MB RAM CD ROM 14400 modem 16 bit sound card 14-inch monitor Win 95 $1000, 539–8453. WHEAT HARVEST help wanted for summer.

Case-IH equipment diesel trucks from Texas to Montana. $1500/
month. Maddey Har-72- PIN RAM, 8 meg $170, 4 meg $80, 4X-CD ROM $90. Tom 395-2447. vesting. Norton, KS (913)877-5577.

YMCA SUMMER DAY CAMP POSITIONS. Looking for mature, dependable, committed people to implement quality YMCA Summer Day Camps in four Topeka locations. Must be able to work well with and relate to kids and parents. First Aid, CPR. Sporting Equipment parents. First Aid, CPR water and CDL certifi-cation a plus. Elemen-tary Education, Child Development, Physicial Education, and Recreation are encouraged to apply. Camp Coordinators-Need strong administrative, supervisory, communicative, organization, and peographication, and peographication. Stereo Equipment organization, and people skills. Minimum re-quirements: 12 college hours in relevant cours-YAMAHA RECEIVER, RX-385. Inputs for CD, tape, VCR, aux, 45 watt/ channel, remote. Great quality/ shape. $125 or best offer. 565-0362, ask for Brad. es or one year experience in state licensed child care program. Camp Counselors-Must communicate and Must communicate and relate well to kids and parents. Minimum re-quirements: must be 18, high school diplo-ma, relevant college hours, experience in child care and/or obchild care and/ or ob

MARKET

Items for Sale

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS

New and used! Combat and safety toe boots.

Wool (blankets, gloves mittens and socks). Camouflage clothing. Also CARHARTT work-wear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9- 5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS

(913)437-2734.

den, KS.

Furniture to

COUCH AND chair for sale, Great for a college apartment. Nothing fan-

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, cy, but clean and in de-cent condition. Asking $75 for both or best off-er. Call 537-4807.

Buy/Sell

Antiques

servation hours. Apply now at the YMCA of To-peka Kuehns Branch at 1936 N. Tyler, Topeka 66608 or Downtow Branch At 421 Van Bu PORTATION en, Topeka 66603

Automobiles

1985 F-150 4X4, air conditioned, four-speed, extra sharp $5700, 587-0562. Ask for Heath.

below average miles. 539-8307. ECONOMICAL, BLACK 1983 Pontiac 6000 frontwheel drive, six cylinder, diesel, dual tanks. $1250, best offer, 537-4047.

1987 MONTE Carlo SS

LOW MILES five-speed black 1987 Ford Tempo $1350, 1985 blue Mer-cury Marquis, extra clean, $1700 or best off-er. 776-2329, (913)238-1259.

Bicycles

Buy one get second of equal or lesser value free. In stock only. 776-6674. TREK 820 $200. Trek 930 MOVIE STILLS, books with front shox $250.Ask for Mike, 539-2370. bronze Remingtons, Afri can, black, oriental, es hats, prints, political hats, prints, political, many curious goods, Time Machine Antique Maul 4910 Skyway Drive. east of Airport. Open 12-5, Tuesday through Saturday. Visa and Mastercard and laya-way, 539-4684. 1993 SUZUKI GSXR750 excellent condition, tons of extras. 537-5014. SUZUKI 550 GS 1977. Nice ride on a warm day. Must sell. $1000 or best PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Ogoffer. 587-8638 after

Motorcycles

ALTERNATIVE SPRING BREAK- Five fun days, music, dance, yoga, meditation: Meet students from around country: Missouri Ozarks. Call for rides Vegetar-ian meals $145. (800)896-2387.

Classified Directory

NY 10590.

SERVICE DIRECT-ORY

EMPLOY-MENT/ CAREERS

OPEN MARKET

TRANSPOR-TATION

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

TIPS FOR WRITING A

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are images, and sub-categories are designation

CLASSIFIED AD

Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations.

marked by one of the large preceded by a number

ASSACRE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

London tabloid. "There were little bodies in piles, dotted around the room, and items of children's clothing like shoes and pumps around the

The final toll was 16 dead children, 12 wounded children, two dead adults - one of them the gunman, who took his own life - and two wounded teachers. The dead children included 11 girls and five boys.

Dunblane is the sort of place people almost never leave, a place whose 9,000 residents clearly care about one another. Just 35 miles northwest of Edinburgh, it straddles the River Allan in the spectacular Perthshire countryside leading into the high-

An ecclesiastical center since the seventh century, it has a cathedral, which, like the town's life, was described by Victorian social theorist John Ruskin as "perfect in its simplicity."

It also had Thomas Hamilton, 43, a reclusive individual who lived in a public housing project in Stirling, 5 miles away, and came to Dunblane to supervise a boys' athletic group.

Balding and bespectacled, Hamilton belonged to a local gun club and liked taking photographs. Beyond that, neighbors did not know much about Hamilton. Not, for example, that he was a scout leader in Stirling in the early 1970s but was expelled for what the Boy Scouts Association called "complaints about unstable and possibly improper behavior following a Scout camp."

He kept up his involvement with young people, however, running boys' groups that met in municipal halls in Stirling, Dunblane and neighboring towns through the 1980s.

Some parents then expressed suspicions about his activities, and boys complained about his habit of photographing them once he'd made them assume strange poses, thrusting out their chests or executing gymnastic moves, usually after stripping off their shirts.

Always, Hamilton wanted to get back into the Scouts. Five days ago he wrote to Queen Elizabeth II, scouting's patron, reportedly to complain the Boy Scouts Association was sullying his reputation.

No one interviewed Wednesday remembered seeing Hamilton set off Wednesday along the two-lane motorway to Dunblane, or turn up Doune Road to the school, or wander onto the unguarded playground, through the unlocked front door, across the dining hall and into the

In Dunblane, no one had ever thought of guarding a school.

At 9:30 a.m., teacher Gwen Mayor, 44, was supervising 29 lively youngsters as they ran around the gym and took turns scrambling up the climbing bars.

That's the moment Hamilton appeared in the doorway - and opened fire on them all.

Elsewhere in the school, children heard a noise like firecrackers and jumped up from their desks and ran to windows to see what was going on. Teachers ordered them under their desks. The principal dialed the police. It was Britain's worst shooting since Michael Ryan, 27, also a loner and gun enthusiast, shot 16 people in the southern English market town of Hungerford Aug. 19, 1987. He, too, killed himself.

Parents learned of the shootings quickly and rushed to the school.

The lucky ones, sobbing with relief, hugged the older children who emerged. There was neither relief nor solace for those led to an adjacent building or the nearby Westlands Hotel to be told the worst possible news, that their daughters or sons were dead.

Shortly after the massacre, a group of teen-age boys walked around to the rear of the roped-off school and stared at bullet holes in the gym windows.

They recalled Hamilton as a strange man who made them feel uncomfortable.

OPPER1

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 and has worked closely with Karl Kramer, a research chemist.

Kramer said Oppert is thorough and enthusiastic and he has enjoyed collaborating with her.

"She gets a kick out of discovery," he said. "She wants to understand the entire system, pursuing all avenues of research aggressively.

Oppert has three daughters. Sierra is 4 years old, and her 17-year-old twins Cris and Shauna are both seniors at Manhattan High School.

"My life away from work is my kids," she said.

an influence on her kids. Shauna would like to be a geophysicist, and Cris is interested in a career in marine biology, Oppert said. Between work and her family, it

Oppert's work, however, has been would be safe to assume that Oppert has little time for anything else. However, she is also the president of the Flint Hills chapter of the Association of Women in Science, which is a national organization.

The organization gives women in science a chance to give something back to other women interested in the field, Oppert said.

"There is much more of a support group for women now," she said.

"I think women are treated more like scientists."

Guiness $2.00

17th & Amderson. Manhattan, KS. 66502

(913) 539-7531 Fax (913) 539-3909

Friday:

Jazz from Seven

$150 16 oz Lite Cans

UNIVERSITY LOUNGE

Presents:

St. Patrick's Weekend

Kick off your St. Patrick's Day Weekend

Friday March 15th with our

Chase the Snakes Celebration beginning at 5 p.m.

Drink Specials

Green Beer $1.00 Bud Light Bottles $1.75

Green Jello Shots $1.00 O'Doul's $2.00

Hot Food Specials

Irish Stew, Potato Skins and Spicy Shamrock Sticks

Be sure to spend St. Patty's Weekend at the 12th Street Pub

March Madness With

K-STATE SWEATSHIRTS

Buy One Sweatshirt or Tee Shirt

Get the Second (Of Equal or Lesser Value) For Just 1/2 Pricell

KANSAS STATE TEE SHIRTS

March 14 - March 17

(913) 776-5461

Mon.-Sat.: 9:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.

Thur. till 8 p.m., Sun: Noon - 5 p.m.

Boiling Leprechauns $4.50

Thursday:

from Lincoln, Nebraska Paul Phillips

$150 23 oz Beers

$150 Margaritas

Advertise in the Collegian. 532-6555

CRUISE SHIPS/LAND TOUR CO.'S NOW HIRING!

Earn up to $2,500/month plus food, lodging, transportation. World Travel. No experience required. Many positions available. Male or Female. Seasonal/Full Time. (800) 638-6845, Ext. 2107

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

· Tree pregnancy testing ·Totally confidential service ·Same day results

Call for appointment

in Anderson Village

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN 100 YEARS

532-6560

K-State Day at Worlds of Fun Sunday, April 21, 1996 $11.95 passports, SAVE over $14 Enjoy the hair-raising rides at Kansas City's Worlds of Fun during K-State Day. Passports are only $11.95 each, plus a $2 handling fee per order or group. Tickets on sale through April 11. For information, call John White at 532-6260. On sale at the Student Union Recreation Center

King Henry

Sponsored by K-State Alumni Association

Sunday, March 17, 3 p.m.

McCain Auditorium . KSU Gen. Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9 Call 532-6428 or come to McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m.

VISA and MC accepted. Tickets also available at the usual outlets Presented in pare by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency and the National Endowment for the Arts. Idditional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to chance without notice

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility information

Mon -Sat. 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Thurs. till 8 p.m.

Fine Menswear

Westloop Shopping Center

CONGRATULATIONS KAPPA OMICRON NU SPRING 1996 INITIATES! Jeanne Lynch

Cynthia Abitz Alisha Anderson Sarah Basore Glenn Bloomstrom Barry Bowden Carmie Brown Charles Chandler Leigh Cunningham Shaina Drummond Julia Emack Danielle Erieling Jami Foster Angela Gerhardt Lori Hiebert Genevieve Houghton Elaine Johannes Bethany Johnson Cyrena Kellogg Kerri Korte Dayna Krannawitter John Lane Anne Leibengood

Amy Markle Crystal McMullen Kristen Mehan Keri Mick Justin Moore Michell Murphy John P. Murray Peggy Niemann Amy Pfizenmaler Sally Renoux Erin Schellhardt Susan Shea Theresa Stills Karl Titz Stephanie Tweito Jill Wary Kelly Welker Amy Wilden Kemberly Wolf Steve Zinser

Initiation: 7:00 Thursday March 14, 1996, Hoffman Lounge. Dr. David Wright will be speaking on "Ethical Leadership". All members are strongly encouraged to attend!

When: Friday, 1:45 p.m. CST Station: CBS Odds: New Mexico by 2 points At stake: winner advances to round of 32 Waiting: Georgetown or Mississippi Valley

Collegian special sports section—

it's time to

Selected to finish at the bottom of the Big 8 closet, the Wildcats have proven that the good guys don't always finish last.

Shane McCormick

It was supposed to be one of the bottom teams in the Big 8 conference. It was given little chance to make the NIT Tournament, let alone the NCAA Tournament. But K-State has done it. It has scratched and clawed its way to an NCAA berth. At 17-11 overall, 7-7 in Big 8 play, the Wildcats will be making their 22nd appearance in the NCAA Tournament. The 10th-seeded Wildcats will meet seventh-seeded New Mexico in the first-round game of the East Regional at Richmond, Va.

Statistically, the Cats were led by seniors Tyrone Davis and Elliot Hatcher this year.

Davis averaged 13.2 points a game while leading the team in rebounds with 8.3 per game. As K-State's only big man last season, Davis held the center position but returned to forward this season, his senior season. At the position, Davis has established himself as one of the Big 8's premier

His biggest game of the year came in a 75-60 win at Oklahoma. Davis scored 25 points and grabbed six rebounds and three steals in 32 minutes of play. When Davis was not in the contest, K-State didn't score a point.

For the second-straight season, Hatcher led the team in scoring, compiling a 16.5 average per game. But Hatcher's success doesn't stop at the offensive end. This season Hatcher led the Big 8 in steals, averaging 2.5 per game.

Hatcher's biggest numbers have seemed to come on the road this season. Just take a look at his last eight conference road games. In those games, Hatcher has averaged 19.8 points, 5.8 rebounds, 2.6 assists and 2.3 steals. Included in those performances are a 25-point performance at Oklahoma and a 30-point performance at Kansas. In that contest, Hatcher played the entire 40 minutes.

Along with the strong performances of seniors Hatcher and Davis, the Cats have received big contributions from their youth

One of the biggest contributions has come in the shape of freshman Shawn Rhodes. Everyone figured Rhodes to be redshirted this season. But Rhodes worked hard in the off season, impressed the coaching staff in the preseason and found himself on the hardwood this season.

This season, Rhodes made three starts in place of center Gerald Eaker. In his first career start, Rhodes led K-State to a 70-57 win at Colorado. Rhodes recorded 13 points, nine rebounds and two steals. He also hit two big three-pointers down the stretch.

Rhodes' second big game as a starter came against Iowa State in Ames. He helped K-State to a 92-87 win, with a

• See WILDCATS Page 4

K-State huddles before the start of the second half in the game against Kansas at Kemper Arena. Kansas defeated K-State 61-55 in the second round of the Big 8 Tournament.

The Western Atlantic Conference has long been searching for respect. The Lobos are out to find that respect. Stop No. 1 — Richmond, Va.

by Trever Brim

Forgive the New Mexico Lobos if they feel somewhat like the man from their home state who tried to order tickets to this summer's Olympics.

After revealing he was calling from New Mexico, the man was told he could not order tickets through the United States, but he would have to order tickets through his own country instead.

It seems the Lobos suffer from a similar lack of respect. Despite winning the Western Athletic Conference postseason tournament and posting a 27-4 overall record, the Lobos enter the NCAA tournament as an unknown team.

Even worse, however, is the Lobos' seed. After winning 10 straight and defeating 12th-ranked Utah to win the WAC Tournament, 23rd-ranked New Mexico is forced to travel from Albuquerque, N.M., to Richmond, Va., for the first two games of the NCAA Tournament.

The seed could also be construed as a slap in the face to New Mexico's fans, who turn out in droves. New Mexico averaged 15,680 fans at The Pit in 1994-95, good for ninth in the nation, and increased that number to 16,792 this season. But traveling to Richmond won't be cheap for Lobos' fans. Without a seven-day advance purchase, New Mexico fans are looking at about $1,178 for round-trip flights, according to a local travel agency.

In the end, the Lobos hope they will get their respect and wins, similar to the way the man finally got his tickets after giving an out-of-state address. The first step for New Mexico, which starts no seniors, comes at 1:45 p.m. Friday, when it faces K-State.

To defeat the Wildcats, the Lobos will likely need another strong performance from freshman center Kenny Thomas. The 6-foot-9 Thomas averaged 14.6 points per game and 7.7 rebounds per game during the regular season en route to WAC freshman-of-the-year honors. Thomas also became the fifth freshman in WAC history to be named to the 10-member, all-WAC coaches' team

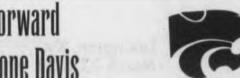

'They're a good team to begin with, but the big fellow in the middle (Thomas) pushes them over the hill from a decent team to an excellent team," K-State coach Tom Asbury said. "Thomas is the guy we're going to have a hard Lobos' guard Charles Smith joined Thomas on the coaches' all-WAC team, and was also named to the media's all-WAC first team and all-defense (WAC) first team. The 6'4" junior averaged a team-high 19.6 points per game over the regular season while shooting .387 (58-150) from three-point range.

See LOBOS Page 4

The leaders...

Forward Tyrone Davis

Elliot Hatcher

Underrated is the word most people would use to describe senior forward Tyrone Davis. He was named to the Second-Team

All-Big 8 by the Associated Press and earned a spot to on the All-Big 8 Underrated team. Davis had nine double-double games for the Cats this season, enough to be third in the Big 8. He field goal percentage. He finished in double figures 21 times this season. But perhaps the one person who underrates Davis is Davis himself.

finished third in the conference in

At a press conference before the Cats' departure for Richmond, Va., Davis said although he was excited about going to the NCAA Tournament, there was more at stake for K-State.

"It means a lot (to the program),

Tyrone Davis scrambles for the basketball during K-State's loss to Kansas at the Big 8 because K-State has a lot of young players," he said. "They'll come back next year with a lot of confidence. This experience will help. They'll come back next year and we'll be gone (the seniors). They'll have to step it up and show some leadership." But at the same time, a lot is at stake for Davis. Hit with an ankle injury midway through the season, Davis found himself with a sprained thumb on his shooting hand during K-State's last seven games. Now he has a strained shoulder to work through at the same time he is nursing his sore ankle. "It's all right," he said, grinning. 'I'm going to play. Like I've said before, if my legs aren't cut off, I'm going to play. I've played through pain before. Davis, who finished the season averaging 13.2 points per game and 8.3 rebounds, said the tournament is an extra gift for him. "This is my last year, and we weren't picked to go this far," he said. "We have an overachieving team, I guess. I think we're going to come out and play as hard as we can. Hopefully we can go and pull out a big win. It means a lot to me. I'm real excited."

Unlike some of his teammates, Davis said he was excited when he learned about K-State's invitation to the tournament.

"Oh, I'm a very emotional per-son," he said. "I didn't smack anybody on the head, but I wanted to. But I didn't want to hurt nobody."

Playing in the NCAA Tournament is the dream of every Division I college basketball player. But among the tourney-bound Wildcats, that dream is even more special for senior Elliot Hatcher.

Hatcher's career was nearly cut short by injuries. And had it not been for the good graces of the NCAA granting him a medical hardship, his career would have ended in embarrassment on the floor of Kemper

"I really want to thank the NCAA," Hatcher said. "This is really important to me. I want to shake the hand of the NCAA or whoever gave me the hardship.

"The only thing I've never done is Elliot Hatcher passes the ball away from a Kansas defender at the Big 8 Tournament last week.

play in the Big Dance, and now they've given me that chance."

Hatcher's career began at San Diego Mesa Community College, where he played at the point and offguard positions for a year. But a knee injury in a summer pick-up game forced Hatcher to the bench for his sophomore year.

He continued to take classes at Mesa, then transferred to Greyson County Community College (Texas) to continue his career. But another knee injury put him back on the bench for his first year at Greyson.

And that's where the problems began. The NCAA gives student athletes five years to play four seasons in any particular sport. Hatcher's first year on the bench could be counted as his redshirt year. The second year out would count against his eligibility.

But there was a way out. Athletes who lose eligibility due to injury can appeal to the NCAA for a medical hardship, granting an extension of their eligibility. Hatcher did.

He came to K-State as a senior, unsure of his status for the coming year. But Hatcher said at the time it was not that important to him.

"If I didn't get it, it really wasn't a big deal," he said. "I had always wanted to play college basketball, and I got my chance. You may wish for something better, but I got this

Word came in practice midway

• See HATCHER Page 4

Friends, or foes?

Coaches Tom Asbury and Dave Bliss have had a lifelong friendship. Now they take it to another level.

by Dan Lewerenz K-State coach Tom Asbury doesn't want to play New Mexico Friday. It's not the hot hand of guard Charles Smith that bothers him, nor the prowess of center Kenny Thomas.

It's his friendship with Lobo coach Dave Bliss. "He's a friend of mine, and I wouldn't schedule them normally," Asbury said. "This job is hard enough without doing something like that." Asbury and Bliss go way back back to the 1970s, before Asbury got his first college coaching job. And their relationship goes well beyond just familiarity on the court. "He recruited one of my kids when I was a high school coach in Denver and he was at Oklahoma," Asbury said of the former Sooner coach. "And he married a girl I taught senior lifesaving to. We just kind of nurtured that friendship over the years. I've been over to his house many times."

Bliss, 171-82 in eight seasons at New Mexico, got his start as an assistant to legendary coach Bob Knight at Army, then followed his mentor to Indiana. Remnants of Knight's style remain in Bliss-coached teams, Asbury said.

"He's different from Knight in that he's changed over the years. He's Knight-like in that they play well defensively." Bliss took his first head-coaching job in 1975 at Oklahoma, where his teams were 7-6 against the Wildcats over a five-year span. Bliss coached the Southern Methodist Mustangs from 1981-88, taking over the New Mexico program in 1988. Friends off the court, Asbury is not afraid to admit he's taken a page or two from Bliss' play book. "(New Mexico) knocked us out of the NIT one year when they had Luc Longly, and they executed some of the best high-low I've ever seen," Asbury said. "We even patterned some of our stuff at Pepperdine after them."

But for 40 minutes Friday afternoon, all that will be set aside. Asbury and Bliss share the same goal, and the other is merely an obstacle.

"Oh, I want to win. That's for sure."

K-State vs. New Mexico

K-State F F Schornstein, 6-7 Jr. Davis, 6-8 Sr. G G Smith, 6-4 Jr.

Haircuts only $7" Perms starting at '20 Sculptured Nails by Erin or Michelle '20 Fills 115 Manicures only 57

Two Massage Therapists Certified In:

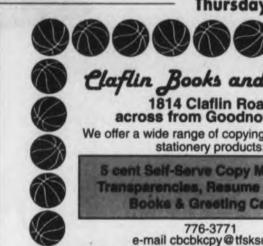

Sports Massage muscular Therapy* Swedish Massage* *Shoulders, Neck and Face Massage

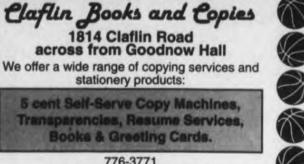

Mon. - Sat. 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sun. 1 to 5p.m

Deep Tissue Massages New Location: 409 Poyntz • Store 539-5999 • Salon 539-6969

Kansas' Largest Selection of Import & Specialty Beers with over 425 to choose from.
6 PACK OR SINGLE BOTTLE. Import Tuesday 10% Off 6-packs 2th & Laramie 15% Off Singles

AGGIEVILLE

776-3771 e-mail cbcbkcpy@tfsksu.net

Tuesday & Wednesday: Steak Nights Thursday: Karaoke Friday & Saturday: Live Bands

24 Pack Coca-Cola. Sprite or Diet Coke.

Limit 1 24 pack with $10 purchase or more. Coupon expires 3/19/96.

Like to be bored?

Then for gosh sakes, don't come here!!

Mary Sez

Come check out our new drink specials while? My you watch your favorite team on T.V.!!

Dr. Love's Club & Strippers Inc., Upstairs

A Beer and Soft Drink Tavern

EXOTIC DANCERS NIGHTLY TUESDAY-

Season Runs Sept. 15 until May 30 No Membership Required

8:30-11:30 Tue.-Sat. 539-0190

SATURDAY $3 Cover Charge When Dancers are in Club!

NO CHECKS PLEASE! TAL CASH

1/4 Mile East of Manhattan Airport on Skyway Drive

No one under 21 Picture I.D. Required

Celebrate Your Favorite NCAA Victories

SBBL 1/2 Off Everything $250 Pitchers & Dance with KJDJ Fri. & Sat. $1 Old Mil Light Bottles & Dance with KJDJ

Crawl Night Wed. 25¢ Draws $125 Schooners

Brown Bag Special 40 oz. Brown Bag

Thurs, Six Minutes Down/ $175 Schooners Fri. & Sat.

March 15 & 16 Jeff Barrett Live

5 Mississippi St. (22-7)

4 UCLA (23-7)

13 Princeton (21-6)

6 Indiana (19-11)

7 Temple (19-12)

2 Cincinnati (25-4)

11 Boston College (18-10)

3 Georgia Tech (22-11)

14 Austin Peay (19-10)

10 Oklahoma (17-12)

15 N.C.-Greensboro (20-9

12 Va. Commonwealth (24-8)

money

611 Pecan Circle Manhattan

MONTH O' MADN

64 will enter. One will exit victorious. Pools will be made. Oc It is March

First Round Second Round Regionals 1 Purdue (25-5) Semifinals 16 Western Carolina (17-12 8 Georgia (19-9) 9 Clemson (18-10) Albuquerque, N.M. March 14 & 16 5 Memphis (22-7) 12 Drexel (26-3) 4 Syracuse (24-8) 13 Montana St. (21-8) Denver March 22 & 24 6 lowa (22-8) 11 George Washington (2)-7 3 Arizona (24-6) 14 Valparaiso (21-10) Tempe, Ariz. March 15 & 17 7 Maryland (17-12) 10 Santa Clara (19-8) 2 Kansas (26-4) 15 South Carolina St. (22-7) March 30 1 Connecticut (30-2) 16 Colgate (15-4) 8 Duke (18-12) 9 Eastern Michigan (24-5) Indianapolis March 4 & 16

March 15 & 17

East Rutherford, N.J.

Lexington, Ky. March 22 & 24

MATION

CHAMPION

CHAMPI

East Rutherfo

April

Diet Cures What Diet Causes

Food Supplements Special Dietary Foods Body Building Foods Homeopathies

Natural Foods Appliances Books

Hansen Nutrition Center

3112 Anderson Ave. 537-4571

Mon.-Sat. 9:30 a.m.-6 p.m.

ESS THE 1996 NCAA MEN'S TOURNAMENT

Second Round

Providence, R.I. March 14 & 16

Richmond, Va.

Dallas

March 14 & 16

Milwauk March 15 & 17

March 15 & 17

lds will be given. Cinderella teams will defeat some Goliaths. Madness.

Regionals Semifinals

Atlanta

East Rutherford, N.J.

Minneapolis March 21 & 23

March 21 & 23

1 Massachusetts (31-1)

16 Central Florida (11-18)

First Round

8 Bradley (22-7) 9 Stanford (19-8)

5 Penn State (21-6)

12 Arkansas (18-12)

4 Marquette (22-7)

13 Monmouth, N.J. (20-9)

6 North Carolina (20-10)

11 New Orleans (21-8)

3 Texas Tech (28-1)

14 Northern Illinois (20-9)

7 New Mexico (27-4)

10 K-STATE (17-11)

2 Georgetown (26-7)

15 Miss. Valley State (22-6)

1 Kentucky (28-2)

16 San Jose St. (13-16)

8 Wisc.-Green Bay (25-3)

9 Virginia Tech (22-5)

5 lowa State (23-8)

12 California (17-10)

4 Utah (25-6)

13 Canisius (19-10)

6 Louisville (20-11)

11 Tulsa (22-7)

3 Villanova (25-6)

14 Portland (19-10)

7 Michigan (20-11)

10 Texas (20-9)

2 Wake Forest (23-5)

15 Northeast La. (16-13)

N. STEWART ANDERSON/Collegia

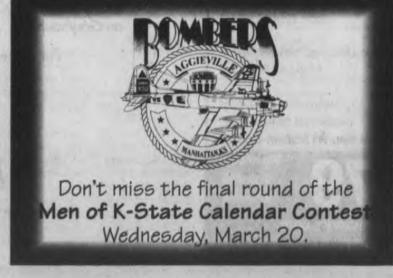

TOURNAMENT Don't Miss A Game

6'x8' Projection Screen TV • 10 TVs Sun.-Thurs.:

$1 Wells • $150 Bottles • $175 23 oz. Big Beers

17th & Fort Riley Blva 537-1784

1/2 mi. East on Highway 24 913-776-6371

PASTA

Buy one Authentic Italian Entree at regular price-get a 2nd of equal or lesser value FREE! WITH COUPON

Offer good Sunday thru Thursday

OF MANA 2304 Stagg Hill Rd. Located across from the Holiday Inn-Holidome-Manhattan

Keystone Suit 8.99

Coors Light Suit 7.99

Schlitz 24pk 7.99

Schlitz Canadian cans

12 Pak Molson Canadian cans

WAS 6:40 NOW 4.99

.99¢

ak Molson cans 5.99 22oz Beer bottles
12 pak Molson cans

750 Eden Roc Champagne 3.99 1/2 Peter Roc Champagne 3.99
1/2 Sal Seb Country wines 8.99
1/3 Sal Seb Proprietor white 211 6.99

6 pak Heineken Tarwebok 399 5.99

Berghoff Red

Oldenberg

CASE BTS

Augsburger Red 10.99 Holiday Salute

1.0 Cafe Di Amore Coffee Liquer WAS 16.19 NOW 9.99

1/2 Gals

Jack Daniels Black 27.34 Windsor 13.89 Skol Gin 8.99

Canadian Club 20.49 Jack Daniels Lynchburg Lemonade 1.50

Round Two? If K-State looks beyond New Mexico, the road could be treacherous for the Wildcats

No. 2-seeded Georgetown or No. 15-seeded Mississippi Valley State await the Cats if they make it to round two. Georgetown has the experience, but Mississippi Valley State has the heart.

The winners of the K-State vs. New Mexico and Georgetown vs. Mississippi Valley State games will move on to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

If K-State defeats New Mexico Friday, it will most likely play the No. 2 seed in the Eastern bracket, Georgetown.

Georgetown comes into the NCAA Tournament ranked fourth in the nation, but in its last game, it lost to No. 3-ranked Connecticut Huskies, 75-74, in the final game of the Big East Tournament.

Georgetown finished the regular season with a 26-7 record and sported some pretty amazing team statistics.

As a team, the Hoyas are currently outrebounding their opponents 43.3 to 35.5 a game and are averaging 83.5 points per game to their

In 32 games this season, the Hoyas are shooting an average of 47 percent from the field while holding opponents to 41 percent.

The individual team leader for Georgetown is sophomore guard Allen Iverson. Iverson was named the Big East defensive player of the year for the second consecutive time.

The last time a Big East player earned consecutive defensive player of the year awards, the honors went to the likes of the NBA's Dikembe Mutombo and Alonzo Mourning in the 1989-90 and 1990-91 sea-

When asked about a possible Hatcher-Iverson match up, K-State guard Elliot Hatcher just shook his head.

"We can't look past New Mexico. I mean, I know everybody on campus is coming up to me and saying, 'If you all win, you're going to have to play Georgetown," Hatcher said.

"You never know, Georgetown may get upset. You never know what's going to happen in the tournament. But if we win, we'll just wait and see what the coaches have to say."

Iverson leads the team in scoring with 24.7 points per game. Other leaders include Othella Harrington (12), Victor Page (12.7), Jerome Williams (10.4) and

Boubacar Aw (8.9). The Hoyas are led in rebounds by Williams with 8.8 rebounds per game and Harrington with seven rebounds per game.

Mississippi Valley State, on the other hand, comes into the NCAA Tournament sporting a record of 22-6.

The Delta Devils haven't really played anybody competitive all year. In its only real outof-conference test, the Devils faced Utah State, a game in which they lost 80-63.

The Devils are coming off four-straight wins, including the South Western Athletic Conference Championship, which earned it an automatic bid to the Dance.

Statistically, the Devils are ranked sixth in the nation in scoring, averaging 86 points per game and also leading their conference in rebounding margin at plus 10.5.

Among the top Devil players is Marcus Mann, who led Division I basketball in rebounding, standing as the tallest player on the team at only 6 feet, 8 inches. Mann also leads the team in scoring, averaging 21.6 points per game.

The rest of the starting five for the Devils are - Anthony Davis, a 6'1" sophomore who averages 8.9, Kenyon Ross, a 6'8" junior who averages 5.8, Fredrick Haywood, a 6'7" senior who averages 9.6, and Dendrius Rucker, a 6'8" senior who averages 13.5.

This is only the third trip ever for the Delta Devils, as they lost in their last two appearances in the first rounds of the 1992 and 1986

The SWAC has had only two teams ever reach past the first round - Alcorn State in 1980 and Texas Southern in 1993.

About Georgetown

26-7 overall record, No. 2 seed Ranked No. 4 in the nation Coach: John Thompson Players: G Allen Iverson, Victor Page F Jerome Williams, Ya-Ya Dia

About Mississippi Valley

C Othella Harrington

22-6 overall record, No. 15 seed Not ranked, 3rd trip to NCAA Coach: Lafayette Stribling

Players: G Anthony Davis, Kenyon Ross F Fredrick Haywood, Dendrius Rucker

C Marcus Mann

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

through the season - Hatcher was a junior again. "President (Jon) Wefald and Coach (Tom Asbury) came into practice and told me," Hatcher said. "They told me I was going to get another year." And how important that year would be. The last game of Hatcher's junior year — or his first senior year — was an embarrassment, a 90-45 loss to Kansas in the first round of the Big 8

"The thing that would have hurt is that loss," Hatcher said. "That's not the way anyone wants to go out. I've never

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Overall, New Mexico shot .384 from beyond the arc during the season, with

Royce Olney (.436), Greg Schornstein

(.431), and Clayton Shields (.411)

"They're a great three-point shoot-

'Shields, Schornstein and Smith

Schornstein and Shields start at forward for the Lobos. The 6-foot-8 Shields averaged 13.4 points per game and 6.1 rebounds per game, while the 6'7" Schornstein averaged 7.3 points per game and 3.6 rebounds per game

David Gibson rounds out the Lobos' starting five, averaging 6.4 points per game in the back court.

OBOS

leading the way.

ing team," Asbury said.

during the regular season.

all have great range."

lost a game that bad. Never."

And the extra season gave Hatcher something else - another chance at professional basketball.

"Playing at the next level is always the goal, and if I would have gone out last year I would never have made it,"

"This season gave me another chance to prove myself. And I've made the most of it.

"I'm not the best player in the country, but I think I put myself in position to take a shot."

It's a shot at the pros — and a shot at the Big Dance.

"I've never been in this situation before, so I'm really excited. It's a new experience.

one win against each team it has faced this season, losing only to Utah these teams in later matchups at The Pit, where they posted a 19-1 record.

the friendly confines of The Pit and has not played on neutral ground this

But the Lobos defeated each of

New Mexico went 8-3 away from (twice), Fresno State and Wyoming.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

career high 18 points and seven rebounds. His three-pointer with 1:40 left in regulation tied the game.

Another freshman who has stepped up for the Cats this season has been Ayome May.

In his first year, May has established himself as one of the conference's top freshmen. His 46.1 fieldgoal percentage was tops among Big 8 freshmen this season.

May's biggest game came in a 77-66 loss to Kansas. Against one of the better defenses in the conference, May scored a career-high 20 points. He also recorded six rebounds, four steals and no turnovers.

May also helped the Cats to a big win at California earlier in the season. In that contest, May scored 15 points on 7-of-10 shooting from the field. K-State has only lost once this year when May reaches double figures in scoring.

This season, K-State has been more recognized for its defensive play on the court.

K-State has allowed opponents to shoot only 40.1 percent from the field this season. This figure is the lowest since the 1967-68 season for the Cats. Compare this to last year's mark of 44.2 percent, and you can see the improvement.

We can't look past New Mexico. You never know,

Georgetown may get upset. You never know

what's going to happen in the tournament. But if we win, we'll just wait

es have to say.

and see what the coach-

ELUOT HATCHER

K-STATE GUARD

Part of the improvement of defense has come from K-State's ability to block more shots this season. Last season, the Cats just recorded 65 blocks all season. This season, the Cats have already blocked 112 shots. That mark broke the school record of 97 by the 1990-91 team.

Leading the way with blocked shots for the Cats this season was junior center Gerald Eaker. Eaker shattered the old school record of 45 blocks by Les Craft. Eaker has already recorded 58 this season. Eaker's average of 2.4 blocks per game led the Big 8 this season.

Lose your only copy of the NCAA Tournament bracket?

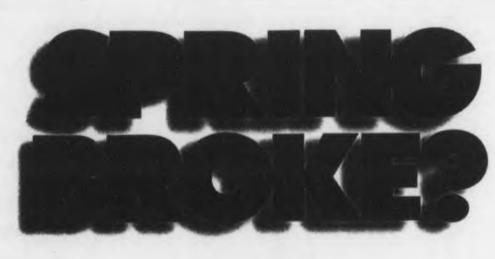

Get another one on the E-Collegian.

Our address is: http://spub.ksu.edu

http://collegian.ksu.edu

Students/Seniors: $8 General Public $10

on't let this spring leave you broke and left out of all the fun. Go anywhere Greyhound goes for a maximum round trip fare of $129. For a limited time only, from February 26th until April 15th, students who show a valid student ID can travel to any of our 2,400 destinations. So this spring, take your break on Greyhound.

For more information call 1.800.231.2222.

- COKES with ice

1219 Bluemont . Aggieville

Student Power Macintosh Blowout!!

CALL TODAY!

Performa 5200CD - 8/800/CD 75-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor

. All-in-one, tilt-and-swivel design

 Built-in 15-inch multiple scan color display . 800 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM

. 14,400 bps fax modern to send and receive faxes

. Quad-speed CD-ROM drive for tast playback

. Built-in speakers and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound

· Apple Design Keyboard · Apple Factory Returbished 90-day warranty

PowerBook 5300 - 8/500

Apple Factory 1-year warranty

sales//macworks.com

100-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor

 9.5 inch backlit passive-matrix display (16-level gray scale) 500 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM

. Built-in Video Output supporting an external color display at up

PC card slots for two Type I or Type II PC Cards or one Type III Built-in speaker and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound

Add a Postscript™ Printer for $499

Apple LaserWriter 320

S1299

Add an Ink-Jet Printer for $199

Apple StyleWriter 1200

We accept:

Visa/MC

Your Choice

Mention you're a student and receive a free CD-ROM Bundle! Open Mon-Fri 9:00am-8:00pm

http://www.macworks.com

Shipping only $5.00

Today: Partly cloudy. See weather map, page 2.

inside

OPINION . page SPORTS . page 6

WEEKEND • page 8

DIVERSIONS • page 9

HKIDAY March 15, 1996

Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas Volume 100, Number 115

FILING DEADLINE IS MONDAY Elections

Monday is the filing deadline for SGA elections. If you are interested in running to be a student senator or student body president, call 532-6541 today.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Exp. Date 00/00

Kansas State Historical Society

66601

MANHATTAN FIRE

Flames blaze from house in 2nd fire at same duplex

Sarah Lunday

Fire crawled up an unoccupied two-story house at the northeast corner of Eight and Humboldt streets early Thursday morning.

The fire was reported at 3:26 a.m. by a passerby. Two fire engines, two pumpers and 17 firefighters fought the blaze, which stemmed from the

The fire started when a combustible pipe in the basement was laid too close to a vent pipe and sparked flames.

"It's kind of like a pipe chase," Battalion Chief Jerry Snyder said.

The pipe's path was a furnace, which ran the vertical length of the house. Damage is estimated two-apartment duplex was almost finished being re-renovated. A previous fire had forced the family to renovate before renting it out to any more families or college students.

Before the first fire, the family didn't have any

"In all of this misery, I'm glad that it happened now instead of when somebody was in there," Sabine Karnowski, graduate student in interior

The last fire caused about the same amount of damage, she said.

The Karnowskis own other buildings in Manhattan but are not corporate.

STUDENT SENATE

Proxy votes worry Senators

Courtney Marshall

staff reporter Absent Student Senators may not get the opportunity to have a proxy vote if Bill 120 passes March 21.

Currently, senators have the opportunity to get another senator to vote in their absence. Some senators have concerns that the proxy votes are mis-

"We want to get rid of proxy voting in Senate. We think, at least I think, that senators need to be present in order to vote." Trent LeDoux, agriculture senator, said problem in the past of senators abusing proxies and using proxies to their advantage, basically getting two votes. That's not what it's designed to do, but that's where they're abusing it," he said.

The senate chair has the power to grant excused absences.

A senator can only get a proxy vote with an excused absence.

There has been some controversy about how to vote when a senator has someone

"I usually end up carrying somebody's proxy, but they always tell me before hand how to vote for them. If they don't, I usually abstain," LeDoux said.

Other bills passed included an amendment to the Student Governing Association by-laws concerning the intern program. The amendment removes the section that requires interns to do a project that is evaluated by the Intern Coordinator. A special allocation of $2,170 for SGA was passed with a vote of 56-0.

The money will be used to fund the spring 1996 general election. The Committee was planning on implementing a computeraided election process to enable a campus-wide election process, according to the bill.

The computer-aided election process for the 1996-97 election was not feasible, and the election could not happen without the allocation from

During first readings, a resolution supporting the national champion K-State livestock judging team was proposed.

If the resolution is passed, a sign will be added to the K-State sign along Interstate 70.

NATIONAL STUDENT DAY OF ACTION

Events focus on student involvement

■ Students receive opportunity to learn about issues, concerns

Marci McNeal

K-State will be one of close to 300 universities around the country participating in the National Student Day of Action today.

Activities will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the free-speech zone.

"The issues we will be dealing with on this day are the key to getting people involved with their community," said Liz Ring, director of membership for the Young Democrats and senior in histo-

National Student Day of Action is directed toward student empowerment and will center primarily around protecting student aid and encouraging voter registration and education.

Groups on campus participating in the activities include Students for Peace and Justice, Students for Sustainability, Young Democrats, Habitat for Humanity, Amnesty International and the National Organization for Women. Each group will talk about its own issues and Ring said students will have the opportunity to learn more about the different campus organizations that will be participating on this day.

"The organizations will be dealing with their own issues and will provide information about their group to anyone who is interested," Ring said. "Students will also have the opportunity to join the organizations participating in the event."

> TRIAL

Judge refuses separate charges in murder trial

- Charges overlap in trial of woman accused of killing children

Associated Press

OLATHE - A judge has rejected a defense request to separate murder and poisoning charges against a woman accused of setting a fire that killed two of her children.

Johnson County District Judge Peter Ruddick announced his decision Wednesday in the case of Dr. Debora Green of Prairie Village.

Green, 44, is accused of starting a deadly fire in her family home in October and of trying to poison her estranged husband before that.

Ruddick said it was clear that evidence in the murder and poisoning cases would overlap. And he said he found a compelling factual relationship between all counts. Green's attorneys, Dennis Moore and Kevin

Moriarty, had argued that trying all the charges together could confuse and mislead the jury, preventing Green from getting a fair trial. Prosecutors argued against separate trials because of added expense and possible emotional harm to witnesses, including a child who survived

Ruddick said it seems unlikely that qualified jurors would have difficulty coming to a fair deci-

Green is accused of starting a fire in October that killed Timothy Farrar, 13, and Kelly Farrar, 6. • See FIRE Page 5

Owners Peter and Sabine Karnowski said the problems renting out the house.

"Because we've had a

Paul Damm, senior in agriculture, undergoes a field sobriety test given by Sgt. Stan Conkwright Thursday morning in the free-speech zone. The field sobriety test was followed by a mock arrest and trial, all of which were sponsored by Greeks Advocating the Mature Management of Alcohol and STD, HIV and Peer Educators.

Mock arrest demonstrates DUI proceedings

Darren Whitley staff reporter

A motorcycle roared into the free-speech zone followed by a sky-blue Riley County police car with lights and sirens going Thursday morning.

The two vehicles came to a stop at the sidewalk leading to the north entrance of the K-State Student Union.

Some students giggled.

One student said it brought back memories.

Paul Damm, senior in agriculture, got off the motorcycle and was given a field-sobriety test while playing out the role of a drunken driver for Greeks Advocating the Mature Management of Alcohol and STD, HIV and AIDS Peer Educators mock arrest and trial. Damm was actually sober during the proceed-Damm's field sobriety test checked his balance, coordination and concentration. When he failed the test, 75 students were watch-

"I did not know they did all of that stuff," Jamie Barkes, sophomore in psychology, said about the field sobriety test.

Sgt. Stan Conkwright of the Riley County Police Department

cuffed Damm and took him inside the Union where a courtroom was set up for trial in the Union Courtyard.

Inside, Riley County Attorney Bill Kennedy humorously began the prosecution's case by reviewing the evidence and going over

"He was arrested at least four minutes ago," Kennedy said, drawing a chuckle from the audience

Charges against Damm were read by Jennifer Kassebaum, senior assistant University attorney, who acted as the judge.

Conkwright was called as a witness for the prosecution and questioned by Kennedy. The defense presented no evidence and had no witnesses.

See MOCK Page 5

▶ PROTEST

Council calls for editing of offensive scenes

AbdullNasor T. Abdullah staff reporte

The Council on American-Islamic Relations, a Washington-based Islamic advocacy group, is expressing concern that the new Warner Brothers film, "Executive Decision," portrays Muslims and Islam in a stereotypical and negative light. The film, "Executive Decision," starring Kurt Russell and Steven Seagal, is about a 747 jet bound for Washington that is hijacked by Nagi Hassan (David Suchet), the second in command of one of the most ruthless and feared terrorist organizations in the world. The terrorists, who are Chechens, target Washington with a cargo of lethal nerve toxin. "Executive Decision" is scheduled for nationwide release today. "Americans have not been subjected to movie images of Serbs holding the Bible in one hand as they slit the throats of women and children," Nihad Awad, CAIR Executive Director, said.

Awad said such images should not be portrayed of any people of whatever religion or CAIR is calling on Warner Brothers to edit the most offensive scenes to eliminate the links between Islam and violence and to insert a disclaimer in the beginning of the film.

The disclaimer would indicate that the actions of those portrayed in the film do not depict the characteristics or beliefs of any particular ethnic or religious group.

Diane Gursky, director of publicity for "Executive Decision," said the filmmakers are aware of the concerns brought up by Muslims.

"We did not and do not intend to hurt anybody's feelings by this movie," Gursky said. The decision to edit out the offensive scenes has not yet been made, she said.

"The people have seen a rough-cut nearly a month ago," Gursky said. Many things could have changed since, she

CAIR had previously campaigned against

"True Lies" which had negative stereotypes of "As we witnessed following the Oklahoma City bombing, this unending barrage of anti-Islamic imagery does have a real impact on the lives of ordinary Muslims," Awad said. It is unfortunate that Muslims are the sole remaining safe villains available to movie producers, she said.

• See EXECUTIVE Page 5

PORTRAYAL OF MUSLIMS IN FILM

According to CAIR, people who have seen a rough cut of the film said the negative portrayals of Muslims and Islam include the following:

 A Muslim in a flashback committing an act of terrorism with what appears to be a Quran (Koran), Islam's revealed text, in one hand and a bomb in the other.

References to verses from the Quran in discussions of why violence is used

A display of a ring worn by a terrorist with the word Allah, or God, on it.

A depiction of a terrorist performing Islamic

 The reversal of reality in which Chechens, who are victims of violence, are depicted as the aggressors.

Chants of "Allahu Akbar," or "God is Most Great," an Islamic phrase often used in stereo-typical portrayals of Muslims.

In the news

► FASHION SHOW INCLUDES MODELS IN VARIOUS CULTURAL APPAREL

In conjunction with Free Your Mind Week, the Union Program Council Multicultural Committee will sponsor the second annual Ebony Fashion Revue at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Union Ballroom.

About 40 students from different cultures will model casual wear, evening wear, African garb and formal wear In addition, this year will debut

the greek paraphernalia category. "We wanted to have many races represented - Asian, black, whatever," said Valarie Byrd, sophomore in business marketing and one of three coordinators for this year's Ebony Fashion Revue.

This year's Ebony Fashion Revue will offer a variety of entertainment besides the models and

'Right now, at this time, we'll have someone singing, dramatic performances and we'll have someone doing drums," said Sewit Retta, sophomore in pre-health professions and also a coordinator of the Ebony Fashion Revue.

A free party will also follow the fashion revue.

Rhonda Lee

▶ VET MED PROVIDES 2 CLINICS TO TEST FOR HEARTWORMS IN DOGS

K-State's College of Veterinary Medicine will offer two clinics to test for heartworm disease in dogs.

Owners can bring their dogs to the clinic from 8 to 11 a.m. Saturday and again the following Saturday at the same times.

The heartworm test is a simple blood test that will cost the owner $12.

"Preventative medicine will be available for purchase," Kathy Gaughan, clinical instructor and small animal outpatient service.

The cost of the medicine will vary depending on the size of the dog and what kind of medicine the owner prefers, she said.

Heartworms live in the bloodstream of the dog's heart and lungs. The disease is transmitted to other dogs by mosquitoes.

"We target a lot of people who might have forgotten to get their dog a yearly test by conducting our clinic in the early spring.

"We also selected this time because it's the start of mosquito season," Gaughan said.

In the early stages of the heartworm disease, dogs can experience coughing, labored breathing, exercise intolerance and weight loss.

"If the disease goes untreated for a long period of time, the owner might have to pay a lot to get rid of the disease, and if the disease progresses even further heart failure may occur in the dog," Gaughan

The clinic is open to everyone. but if your dog has never visited the College of Veterinary Medicine, then it is recommended that an appointment be scheduled beforehand.

This clinic is strictly for dogs, because they are the main victims of heartworms. However, the disease might occur in other animals, such as cats or ferrets.

Gina Garvin

REGENTS TO DISCUSS TUITION

TOPEKA (AP) - The Budget Development and Tuition Committee is expected to recommend to the Kansas Board of Regents at its May meeting how much tuition and fees should be raised at Kansas' six universities for the 1997-98 academic

The committee began the process of developing its recommendation during the regents' meetings here this week.

It tentatively chose a 3percent, across-the-board increase in tuition and fees for discussion purposes

But it will study it again at the regents' April meeting.

The full board is to consider the tuition increase at its June meet-

The 3-percent increase would about match inflation, committee members said

It would take effect for the fall 1997 semester.

Present tuition and fees for full-time undergraduate students are $1,188 at Wichita State $1,099 at Kansas State, $1,091 at the University of Kansas, $921 at Fort Hays State, $903 at Pittsburg State and $891 at Emporia State.

Regent Phyllis Nolan chairwoman of the committee, said individual schools could later make their cases for greater increases.

Tuition is going up 6 percent at KU and K-State this coming fall and will go up 3 percent at the other four schools.

▶ U.S. TO HELP FIGHT TERRORISM

JERUSALEM (AP) -Grieving with the Israeli people, President Clinton pledged $100 million on Thursday to the fight against terrorism. But he acknowledged that no one - not presidents or princes or prime ministers - can guarantee a riskfree world.

In an emotional trip that coupled meetings with Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres with a visit to the grave of Peres' slain predecessor, Yitzhak Rabin, Clinton imagined aloud how Americans would respond to the terrorism that confronts Israel

"Our people would be off the wall. They would be angry. They would be furious. They would want action," he said.

To that end, Clinton pledged the $100 million over two years to pay for anti-terrorism initiatives. including training, bombdetection scanners, X-ray systems and robotics for handling suspect pack-

Israeli officials said they envisioned using much of the U.S. aid to help establish a separation zone with the West Bank to try to prevent terrorist infiltration. The zone, which would include electronic fences, guard towers and bomb-sniffing dogs, was first proposed by Rabin and was approved by the Israeli Cabinet March 3.

In Washington, however, a State Department official said, "The United States does not intend for any of its aid to be used in any kind of permanent separation zone."

Police reports

police departments. Because of space constraints, we do not list who calls for escorts or minor traffic violations.

K-STATE POLICE DEPARTMENT

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13

There was nothing noteworthy from campus police at press time.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13

At 3:02 p.m., someone found a calf with no brand or markings. The calf was a 500-pound Holstein bull.

At 7:35 p.m., there was a report of

THURSDAY, MARCH 14 At 12:34 a.m., there was a report of a fight in progress at the back gate of Rusty's Last Chance Restaurant & on. There was an apparent disagreement between management and an unruly subject over money. The subject was evicted from the area.

At 1:58 a.m., there was a report of shots being fired in the area of 323 Stallion Circle in Ogden. The report-ing party reported hearing three to four shots north of the house fired from a small caliber weapon. The reporting party then heard the vehi-cle drive off. Officers did not locate shots being fired in the 200 block of Sixth Street in Ogden. The shots might have come from a pistol of

MISS YOUR PAPER?

Oversleep and miss getting a Collegian? Don't worry. The Collegian can be accessed via the World Wide Web. Just point your Web browser to http://www.spub.ksu.edu/

Bulletins

ANNOUNCEMENTS

m Be International! Volunteer to help an international student prac-tice English. Contact Jim Endrizzi at 532-6448.

Smurthwalte Scholarship Leafership House will be host to a al fun night for all ages from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Saturday at the thomas J. Frith Commu

m Farrell Library is making some departmental moves. Those changes include the Govern uments Office to room 101, Library Network Services to roo 300, Accounting to room 400,

Sorting to room 134 and the Lucy Wilde and Daryl Youngman room to Kevin Owen will present a doctoral dissertation at 11 a.m. today in Call 140. William Schountz will present a doctoral dissertation at 1:30 p.m.

today in Ackert 324a.

Continuing Education and UFM are sponsoring a Red Cross certification class from March 15-22. The class will be from 4 to 8 p.m. March 15 and 18-22 at the KSU Natatorium The class will also meet from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 5 to 9 p.m. March 16-

17 at the Natatorium

BULLETINS

InterVarsity Christian Fellowship will meet at 7:30 tonight in Throckmorton 1018. Everyone is meet from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. today in the Union Little Theatre. The topic is "Islam and Contemporary Issues." Refreshments will be served, and everyone is welc Lutheran Campus Ministry will meet at 7:15 p.m. Sunday in Danforth Chapel for an evening worship service.

M KSU Student Fellowship will

A 30 percent chance for showers. High around 55.

meet at 9 p.m. every Sunday at 1326 Fremont St. The group will discuss "Forum on Jesus."

KSU Aikido will meet from 7 to 9 tonight in Dance Studio 301. College of Human Ecology stu dent ambassador application available. Applications are due in the dean's office Friday. M Arts and Sciences available in Eisenhower 117. The lications are due at 4 p.m. April

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103 Manhattan Kan 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502 POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan. 66506-7167

C Kansas State Collegian, 1995

STATE OUTLOOK

Today, mostly cloudy in the west and south and partly cloudy in the northeast. Highs in the 50s. Tonight, mostly cloudy. Lows in the 30s to lower 40s. Saturday, a chance for showers statewide. Mostly cloudy with highs from around 50 in the northwest to the upper 50s in the

MANHATTAN WEATHER

Denver

ows

34/31

Yesterday's

highs and

Partly cloudy. High in the upper 50s. Northeast wind from 5 to 15 mph. Tonight, partly cloudy. Low in the mid-30s.

Garden City

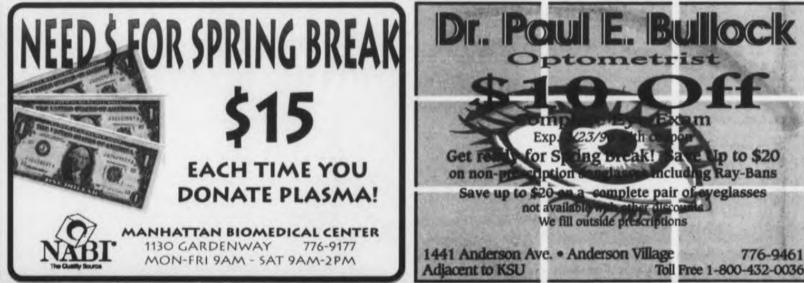

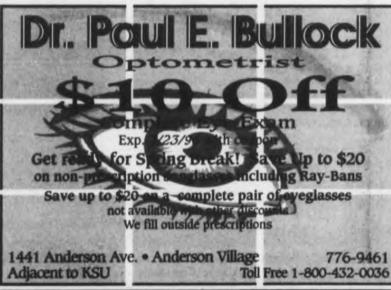

Saturday

Kansas St. Louis . 61/46

SOUTH SERVICE Property of the Party

(NO coupon needed. "No Coupon" Specials NONE accepted) Everyday Everyday Three-fers Two-fers PIZZAS with PIZZAS with TOPPINGS each TOPPING each COKES with ice COKES with ice Pizza Shuttle 776-5577

M'Cullough Development Apartment Mall Your one stop apartment shopping!

Apartments Near Campus . Now Leasing for June and August

Model Showings start week of March 4

STUDIO	MARKET STATE	TWO BEDROOM	10 may 10 m
Wareham Apartments 418 Poyntz By appointment only	$300-375	1417-1419 Leavenworth Mon. 6-8 p.m. (1417 &1) Tues. Noon-2 p.m. Sat. 11 s.mNoon	$490-510
ONE BEDROOM 1803-1807 College Heights 925-927 Denison	$395-410	1026 Osage Tues 3-5 p.m. (1026 #11) Fr. 11:30 a.m1:30 p.m.	$510
Mon. & Tues. 3-5 p.m. (1803 #5) 1950-60 Hunting Mon. 6-8 p.m. (1960 #13)	8436-455	Set 10:30 a.m11:30 a.m. Aggleville Penthouse Apts. 617 N.12th By Appointment Only	$800-725
Tues. 3-5 p.m. 1005 Bluemont Thurs, 3-5 p.m. (1005 #2) Fri. 2-4 p.m.	$385	1001-1005 Bluemont Thurs. 3-5 µm. (1005 #2) Frt. 2-4 p.m.	8470-720
Sun 3-4 p.m. 1722 Laramie By appointment only	$375-390	Sun. 3-4 p.m. 1825-1829 College Heights Mon. 5-7 p.m. (1829 #6)	$500-750
1854-58 Claffin (1858 #3) Tues. 7-8 pm. Fri. 10 a.mNoon	$385-410	Tues 4-6 p.m. 1113 Bertrand Mon. 7:30-9:30 p.m. (1113-66) Tues 3-5 p.m.	6525
411-413-415 N. 17th Mon. 11:30 a.m1:30 p.m. (415 (5)) Tues. 10:30 a.m12:30 p.m. 1022-1026 Sunset	$345-305	FOUR BEDROOM	E750-050
Tues, & Thurs, 6-8 p.m. (1024 64) Royal Towers - 1790 N. Manhattan By appointment only	200	Mort Frt 5-630 p.m. on-ste office Britishey Ridge Townstonies 2529 Centiletrest Circle	$750-000
1212 Thurston Tues. & Wed. 5-7 p.m. (1212 911) Wareham Apartmenta - 418 Poynts	9410-490 9350-476	Wed. 3-5 p.m. Thurs. 6-5 p.m. Sec. 11 iz m - Wash
By appointment only	NE ST
∕/IcCullough	Managed (by McCullough Development 776-3804

AUTOGRAPH PARTY

Christian Books & Gifts 1427 Anderson • Anderson Village • Across from McCain, KSU Sat. March 16, 1-3 p.m. 537-0310

Ann Stalheim-Smith, associate professor of biology, came to K-State in 1970 and teaches several biology classes in addition to writing a textbook, "Understanding Anatomy and Physiology."

KYLE WYATT

For the next two days, the Collegian will profile differ

volved with the Association researchers from K-State for Women in Science.

Farm life cultivates work ethic

Brent Smitko

staff reporter

Growing up on a farm in South Dakota can instill a strong work ethic in a person.

"If it needs to be done, do it," Ann Stalheim-Smith, associate professor of biology, said. There are no 9-to-5 working hours on a farm,

Stalheim-Smith said. "You just work until it's done."

The years she spent in South Dakota gave her the opportunity to spend a lot of time outdoors. "Growing up on the farm brought me close to animals and plant life," Stalheim-Smith said.

Stalheim-Smith's hard-working attitude, commitment and interest in the outdoors have carried over to her teaching career at K-State.

"I try to let the students know everything I can to help them learn," she said. "If the student wants to learn, I want to help them."

A former student of Stalheim-Smith's, Ron Gaines, who is an assistant instructor of biology, said Stalheim-Smith always does what she can to accommodate her students.

"She just knows the students," he said. A lot can be learned about teachers from their offices. If you look closely in Stalheim-Smith's, you'll notice a phrase on her bulletin board that reads, "Active Listening."

"It helps remind myself to always be an active listener," she explained. "To concentrate on what people are saying and where they are coming

Stalheim-Smith went to Augustana College in Sioux Falls, S.D., and had aspirations of becoming a nurse. But during her sophomore year, Professor Gordon Froiland took Stalheim-Smith under his wing and guided her in the direction of

"It was a small biology department, so I had him for a lot of my classes," she said.

When Stalheim-Smith went to talk with her dean about the change, she didn't receive the response she'd expected.

"My dean said to me women don't go into biology," Stalheim-Smith said. "It surprised me, she was so definite."

"I was angry that she would say a thing like that to me, but I didn't let it deter me.'

Stalheim-Smith continued on and received her bachelor's in biology, attended the University of Colorado for her master's degree, then Northern Arizona University for her Ph.D in 1982.

In retrospect Stalheim-Smith said she feels the stereotype against women in science has changed since she was a student in biology.

"There are many more women going into science today," she said. "And they're getting a lot of the positions of prominence."

Outside of her work, Stalheim-Smith has three daughters, including 34-year-old Heather, 31-year-old Andrea and 28-yearold Jaime. She met her husband, Christopher Stalheim-Smith, while the two were attending

CU. "I met him in a class we had together," Stalheim-Smith said. "We sat in alphabetical order, and both our last names started with S so we were next to each other."

Now the Stalheim-Smiths both work in the Division of Biology at K-State and love to travel together. Recently, they were able to visit their daughter Andrea in Africa.

We were able to go into an African village and observe their culture," Stalheim-Smith said. Also, we went on an hot-air-balloon safari and saw everything from giraffes to wart hogs, she

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Local festivities offer people fun, tradition

Bill Bontempo

Sometime during the fifth century, the missionary St. Patrick came to Ireland to convert the Irish to Christianity.

According to legend, he used the shamrock with its three-leaf clover as a symbol of the Christian trinity of Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

St. Patrick allegedly drove all the snakes out of Ireland and into the sea, where they drowned. This is viewed by the Irish as a symbol of driving

The American tradition of celebrating a day honoring St. Patrick began in Boston in 1737. Today, towns worldwide honor him with parades and festivities.

Manhattan is no exception, and this year Cheryl Sieben, director of Aggieville Business Association, said she expects a large crowd for the 18thannual Aggieville St. Patrick's Day celebration.

The celebration will include an hour-long parade, a two-mile fun run, a 10-kilometer run, the leprechaun three-mile walk and the Pot of Gold

The parade, which starts at 11 a.m., will include the Marching Cobras from Kansas City, Mo., football players from K-State's Holiday Bowl championship team, clowns and various floats.

A green 1954 Ford truck sponsored by Streetside Records will be handing out coupons, posters and other music-industry related items.

The parade will begin amidst the smell of barbecue from the front of Auntie Mae's Parlor and the 12th Street Pub.

Both bars will be cooking bratwurst and other barbecue favorites in the street and opening early for the special celebration.

The Pot of Gold Contest requires participants to enter Aggieville shops and say, "I see the pot of gold," at which time they will receive a mark on their entry sheet. Completed entry sheets will be eligible for a prize drawing.

Wearing green, drinking green,

™LIVE MUSIC

The WayDown Lounge presents

Taypt and The Urge

(Egypt features the former lead singer from 24-7 SPYZ)

Performing funky musical stylings for your dancing pleasure

Thursday March 21st

Doors open at 8:00 Show starts at 10:00

$5 in advance $6 at the door

Advance tickets available at Harrys Uptown and Hibachi Hut beginning Mon. 3/18 This is a 21 and over show!

ID's will be checked at the door.

displaying shamrocks and kissing the Blarney Stone are all considered good-luck rituals on St. Patrick's Day, and Aggieville will offer visitors a chance to be a part of all three tradi-

Nearly every Aggieville drinking establishment will have green shots of some kind and green beer.

Rusty's Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon will offer a Killian's souvenir glass. It will also feature an ambulance disc jockey on the back patio and prize distributions throughout the

For those who prefer shamrocks, some Aggieville merchants will be decorating their windows with the three-leaf clovers and other holiday decorations.

Sieben said the city will have a competition for the best window, and some stores are taking it seriously.

"Lin wants to win the window competition more than anything," Julie Skinner, bookkeeper for Krystallos, said about her boss.

Mary Alice Hodgson, sales clerk, was busy adorning the Krystallos window with shamrocks and other glittery

"If she doesn't win, she's going to blame me," Hodgson said, laughing.

Krystallos will also have a table in front of its store with sale items.

The tradition of kissing the Blarney Stone might seem harder than other St. Patrick's Day traditions. The Blarney Stone is set in a castle in the Irish village of Blarney, and those who kiss the stone are said to receive the gift of persuasive eloquence.

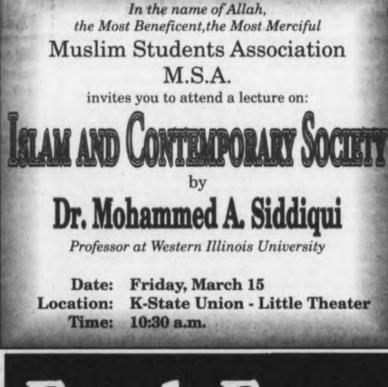

In Manhattan, the Blarney Stone is a white cake with white icing covered in peanuts, which is being made especially for St. Patrick's Day by Java Espresso and Bakery.

Walking and running events will conclude next to the Lucky BrewGrille and the awards ceremony will be in Triangle Park across from the bar, followed by a barbecue and concert featuring the Marching Cobras.

The money raised from the entry fee for the run will go to the Special

Opinion

DO YOU HAVE AN OPINION ABOUT STUDENT ELECTIONS?

If you have an opinion about what issues you would like to see covered during student government elections, we would like to hear it. Send questions to Stephanie Fuqua at (steff@ksu.ksu.edu) or call

You may also use the E-Collegian. Point your web browser to (http://www.spub.ksu.edu/) and let us know what you think.

COLLEGIANopinion

'Great' spring break deals are often scams

QUICKread

Students can contact the Better Business Bureau of Northeast Kansas Inc. to ask about spring break deals that seem too good to be true. Call (913) 232-5055 if you have questions.

At this time next week, most of us will be out the door and headed for the spring break of our dreams.

But don't let dreams inhibit your Scam artists get their jollies preying on careless college students in Manhattan as well as the rest of the

If the prices seem too good to be true, they probably are.

It is not uncommon for students in Manhattan to be ripped off.

This year, the Better Business

Bureau has reported unsolicited faxes about businesses in Nebraska and Kansas offering a Bahaman cruise and one-week accommodations in central

President Joyce Woodward said travelers should be aware that what is offered will not always be what you experience on vacation

She also advised students to check the legitimacy of an offer before sending the company cash or a credit-card num-

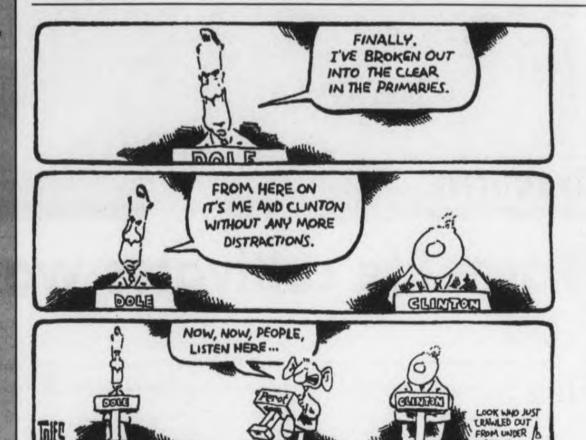

The dates you have scheduled for your vacation might not match the dates of the offer, Woodward warns, You also might not find the accommodations what they promised.

Often anxious travelers trust their travel plans to people outside of their own community who are only interested in a one-time sale to them.

Good tips to remember when shopping for the perfect travel plans include working with a tried and true agency and calling the Better Business Bureau.

So before you leave next week, call the Better Business Bureau, and check the travel company and agent before finalizing travel plans.

TOLES

independence from Britain? Hardly!"

The handwritten sign hung over the bar tap at Tyr Na Nog, the truly Irish pub that humbly sat across the street from where I lived in Billy treated Tyr Na Nog as if he were its father. No special greetings or smiles were in order when you darkened its door because, after all, we were all kind of like family. The pub was inside house just downstairs from where Billy lived, which contributed to its cozy feel.

And because we were all family, Billy did not have to mince words around us, either.

It was no secret that Billy, a native of Ireland, wanted the British out of Northern Ireland. The walls of the pub were covered with newspaper clippings about the IRA's resistance, hunger strikes undertaken by convicted IRA terrorists and separatist propaganda.

Besides those he wrote himself, like the handwritten sign, there were green printed separatist banners and signs on the walls. "One Ireland!" they proclaimed in English and Gaelic. Some signs were only in Gaelic, and their messages seemed like a secret known only by the Irish. There were lots of Britons and Irish who came to Tyr Na Nog to take a load off. Billy was cordial to all of them, but if you watched closely, you could detect just the

Miller

he British are so entrenched in Northern Ireland, they are hardly wont to cede it to the Irish people and close the door on hundreds of years of colonial occupation.

slightest revulsion for his English customers. He took their green dollars as readily as he took mine or those of Irish customers. But I could not help but wonder if he wished he did not have to.

Whether there were Britons around or not, Billy grumbled and griped about Britain a lot. While his customers quaffed huge pints of the strong cider and warm, thick stout he served, Billy pontificated about the evils of the cause of the Orange, the Protestants in Northern Ireland who want to keep Northern Ireland in the United room executions of Greens (the Catholics who supported separation from the United Kingdom) by British soldiers, the only legallyarmed people in Northern Ireland, who killed in the streets and back alleys.

He told of the suppression of separatist political parties like Sinn Fein. For years, Sinn Fein President Gerry Adams' voice was censored from broadcast over governmentcontrolled British media outlets. He told of hundreds of years of bloody conflicts with the British on Irish soil. While the British Empire has receded from nearly all of its holdings in the New World, Asia and Africa, it fervently maintains its foothold in Northern Ireland. The British are so entrenched in Northern Ireland. they are hardly wont to cede it to the Irish people and close the door on hundreds of years of colonial occupation.

When asked to explain the sign mocking American independence, Billy explained in his thick brogue that since the end of the War of 1812, the United States has been coddling the British.

This country has consistently kept Britain as an ally and trading partner, bailing the United Kingdom out of two world wars and turning a blind eye to human rights abuses by the British around the world.

American President Irish Reagan would not criticize former British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's denial of the reality of Country and with deference to its maternal will, just as America always has.

President Clinton, another Irish American, has been perhaps the most pro-active American leader pushing along the peace process in Northern Ireland. He appointed former Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell to lead a commission to work with the parties of the Northern Ireland conflict and has traveled to Northern Ireland to promote peace.

And peace came to Belfast, for

But once a truce was declared, the British became complacent and unwilling to negotiate further with Sinn Fein and other separatists. So the bombings began once again, unfortunately.

As the American colonists found out so long ago, the British government respects few other political actions besides violence, Mahatma Ghandi's pacifism in India notwithstanding.

It is difficult to take the side of the IRA and Sinn Fein, but history has shown the stubborn British Crown respects violent protest and revolution, not peace.

Now if only America would have the independence to diplomatically stand up to the British and support a unified Ireland.

Happy St. Patrick's Day, by the

Scott Allen Miller is a senior in interdisciplinary social sci-

It's time to stand up to Britain We hundred My view Kingdom and out of the predominantly Catholic Irish Republic. He told of sidewalk and livingHe told of unite

Day of action is chance to rally around issues that concern students et's falk about an issue near and dear to my heart student empowerment.

For a long time, students have been removed from the decision-making process in this nation. By and large, the primary cause is we're one of the poorest, as well as most apathetic, groups of people in the Rarely do students rally around issues - even if it is clearly in their best interest to do so. A prime example of this is the recent debates on student financial aid. The situation, however, shows signs of changing. Last year, more than 100 universities participated in days of action in opposition to the Contract With America. This year, more than 300 universities are participating in days of action to rally around protection of financial and affirmative action. Today, K-State has its own day of action from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the free-speech zone aid, immigrants'

rights

Numerous campus I would like to encourage groups will participate to raise awareness of issues and actively take a stand on the subjects that affect our lives. Indeed, it is about time events began to take place again. The last great emergence of student action was in the 1960s and early '70s. Several differences between these movements and the current one are immediately apparent. For example, as one of the organizers, I'm one of the only long-haired, hippie socialist types involved this time around.

Also, activism in the '60s and '70s was a trendy thing for people to do. This caused many of the so-called activists to be ignorant of the real issues involved.

LACH Franquemont provided an issue everyone could be unified around. The youth activists of today are fewer in numbers but better educated to the issues due to automatic mass dissemination of information on the Internet and other means of dispersion of knowledge.

What you have, therefore, is a core contingent of people asking for environmental protection, workers rights, an end to unnecessary poverty and respect for human beings, instead of mass groups of people asking for free love and drugs.

It is important to realize the mistakes made by our parents' generation ultimately caused the failure of their movement. It was far too easy for those in power to right.

write off what they considered fringe attitudes.

Because of the mistakes, it is up to us to succeed where others have failed. It is up to us to truly create a better world and stop the destruction brought about by those only concerned with self interest. It is up to us to see that all the benefits a modern world can provide are not heaped at the feet of the rich alone. It is up to us to see this planet is preserved for the use of our own children and their children's children. Today, you have the chance to come out and participate in the discussion of the issues that will influence us all down the line. But don't just listen and forget about what you have heard. Get involved in some of the groups represented and become an informed person, ready to actively work toward a better life. You don't have to be a radical to be involved. Just a concerned person.

Lach Franquemont is a sophomore in physics and philosophy and is one of the organizers for the K-State Day of

READERSwrite

Drop off letters at Kedzie 116 or send them to Letters to the Editor, c/o Stephanie Fuqua, Kansas State Collegian, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan. 66506. We also accept letters by e-mail. Our address is (collegn@spub.ksu.edu). Letters should be addressed to the editor and include a name, address and phone number. A photo identification will be necessary for hand-delivered letters. Letters must be in prose form. No poetry will be accepted. Letters may be edited for length, clarity and grammar.

DIRECTOR: REPORTER MISQUOTED ME

Editor.

I am writing in response to Nikki Prentice's Feb. 29 preview article for the KSU Theatre production "Waiting for the Words."

As writer and director of "Words," I was pleased with the audience response and critical acclaim my play received. My thanks go to Collegian staff writer Portia Sisco, who wrote a thoughtful and comprehensive review.

I was not pleased, however, with the preview written by Prentice, and neither was Chris Ellner, a member of the cast. We both felt we had been severely misquoted throughout the article.

We complained mutually that our comments were taken out of context, words were rearranged in some cases, and statements were attributed to us that we never made. At the time, however, we had a show to put on, and neither of us wanted to devote precious time and energy to the response of such irresponsible journalism. We should have found the time.

After seeing the following statement, "I think it is impossible to find one person to spend the rest of your life with," printed twice in the Collegian, once by Prentice and once in a letter to the editor, I feel it necessary to clear something up. I never made this statement!

This is one of many problematic statements falsely attributed to me by Nikki Prentice. Had she actually bothered to see a rehearsal of my play before she wrote an article telling the public exactly what my play was about, she might have been able to avoid misquoting

I have nothing against the institution of marriage, although, like many in my generation, I question its appropriateness in my life. It's no secret far too many marriages these days are failing. There is more than enough evidence, I believe, to warrant a bit of healthy skepticism concerning marriage.

As for my thoughts and feelings regarding bisexuality: A bisexual friend of mine once wondered aloud to me if he would ever be able to find one person to whom he could completely commit himself. Feeling attraction for and desiring intimacy with both men and women, he considered he might never find that one "special someone," since one person might be capable of fulfilling only half of his

> He felt both frightened and challenged by the possibility that he might spend the majority of his life single. These are the sentiments that I attempted to express through the struggles of the character Rebecca, a recently acknowledged bisexual, and her former boyfriend,

It has recently been brought to my attention that it is a frequent practice of Collegian reporters who write preview articles for KSU Theatre productions to simply conduct telephone interviews with directors and cast members without viewing actual rehearsals. Unless you at least view a rehearsal, I think it is close to impossible to write an accurate portrayal of the plot or theme of a play, regardless of the information obtained through inter-

In addition, I recently had a conversation with two other directors in the KSU Theatre Department, and it seems to be the general consensus that, while we are always grateful for any and all coverage we receive from the Collegian, we have come to almost expect that we will frequently be misquoted.

Collegian reporters in the future to exercise more journalistic responsibility when it comes to reporting theater events. If you're invited to attend a rehearsal, do so. Then you won't have to rely on quotes to flesh out an article but will be able to use your own knowledge about the play to create a thought-provoking and accurate representation of the play for readers.

Deidre Ensz graduate student in theater and writer/director of "Waiting for the Words"

Mock

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Jurors found Damm guilty of DUI and of attempting to flee and allude an Sentencing, which would normally wait 30 days in a real court case, followed within 30 seconds.

Kassebaum sentenced Damm to six months in jail, a $2,500 fine, a $300 fine for attempting to flee and allude an officer, court costs of $102, cost of enrollment and attendance in a drug and alcohol school and a mandatory jail sentence of 48 hours or 100 hours of community service.

After court was adjourned, Kennedy spoke with GAMMA members about the cost of a DUI.

EXECUTIVE

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

CAIR's report on the anti-Muslim hate crimes resulting from links between

Muslims and the Oklahoma City bombing, detailed more than 200 incidents of stereotyping, harassment, at K-State, said Islam is not well-known in the United States, and there-

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

She is also accused of attempting to kill another child, Kate, 10, and of poisoning her husband, Dr. Michael destroyed the family's Prairie Village

County Jail in lieu of a $3 million bond. She is expected to be arraigned Morrison has five days from then to announce whether he will seek the

Send Flowers

Steve's

Floral

Call 539-6227

Kate Farrar escaped the blaze that

Green remains in the Johnson

Johnson County Attorney Paul

Farrar, 40, with castor beans.

on the charges March 28.

Robert Rook, instructor of history assault and property damage.

FIRE

"It could easily cost $3,000," he

"The fine and costs are only a start for the punishment. The next one really begins the day when you get your next bill from your insurance company and find out that your insurance costs have just been tripled for the next five years," Kennedy said.

Conkwright also stayed afterwards and spoke with students.

"Most people think they are not too drunk to drive," he said.

Kennedy said the county videotapes DUI suspects when they come in to take the breathalyzer.

"It generally just blows the person away," Kennedy said.

College students and soldiers sometimes go back the next day to see the video and see just how drunk they fore it is misinterpreted, feared and always been seen as a threat, Rook

Americans came out full blossom

after the Iranian revolution, he said.

American contact with Islam has

The Islamic threat viewed by

"Hollywood makes a lot of money victimizing Muslims," Rook said.

Portraying Islam in a negative way seems to get good ratings, and Muslims have become the source of "These charges are absolutely

"Secondly, this trial is going to be Ruddick said the jury selected to intertwined, making it appropriate to try them together," Morrison said lengthy, difficult and expensive for everyone. It makes sense to have only hear the case could be sequestered for one trial," Morrison said.

three to five weeks.

misrepresented.

death penalty.

said.

were, Kennedy said.

"They just kind of sit there and sag back against the wall," he said.

Kennedy said DUI was really a hot item when he first ran for county attorney. He said the second time he ran for office, it was a less-important issue, but it has resurfaced again as an

"It is driven by the federal government," he said.

Conkwright said there has been an attitude change about drinking and "We are seeing houses take on responsibility to help other people. To me, that's really great," Conkwright

The attitude shift has been across the board with 18 states having zero tolerance for minors.

"All cultures have the capacity to misunderstand other cultures," Rook tion are all factors for these stereo-

Muslims visiting the United States than Americans visiting Islamic countries, he said. The blame for such negative stereotyping can be placed on Moving this summer?

Look for a sublease with an ad in the

classifieds.

5 3 2 - 6 5 5 5

ignorance and the media, Rook said.

The degree of contact and educa-

In addition, there are more villains after the Nazis, he said.

types, he said.

DREAMS DO COME TRUE See for yourself the movie that is stealing America's heart!

Those states have seen a drastic

Damm, who said he's never been a

"The cuffs suck. They hurt," he

DUI suspect, only wore handcuffs for 30 seconds during the mock arrest and decrease in fatality accidents among minors, Conkwright said.

ACADEMY AWARD NOMINATIONS

BEST ACTOR · Massimo Troisi BEST DIRECTOR · Michael Radford

"Fall in love with one of the loveliest movies in a long time.

Classic Rock n' Roll 17th and Ft. Riley Blvd 537-1484

Great Food! Great Entertainment!

VARSITY THEATRE Fri. 3/15-Thurs. 3/21 at 7 p.m. Mat. Sun., March 17 1:45 - LAST WEEK ART PRICE POLICY Adults & Students......$4 Children, Seniors, Mat. before 6 p.m. $3 Bombers MORO 12TH

1116 Moro 537-0886 Mon.-Sat.

11 a.m.-1 a.m. 11 a.m.-Midnight

This coupon good for Mongolian Chicken $3.90

Dine-in and carryout Not valid with any other specials. coupons, or on deliveries.

FREE DELIVERY (min. $9) Expires 4/1/96

Office of Student Activities and Services is accepting applications for the Director of Consumer and

Tenant Affairs Mission of Consumer and Tenant Affairs:

on of this agency is to serve the students, faculty, staff, and community through education and providing education on consumer and tenantrelated issues.

Job description and applications can be obtained at the office of student activities and services located on the Ground Floor of the Student Union.

Applications are due by 3 p.m. on Friday, March 15, 1996 in the Student Office of Activities and

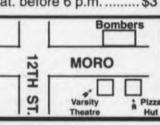

For more information. Please contact: Scott Smith, Director Consumer and Tenant Affairs 532-6541

MAKE ROOM FOR SOMETHING OUTRAGEOUS. ALLISON ANDERS, ALEXANDRO ROCKWILL ROBERT RODRIGETZ, QUENTIN TARANTING

VARSITY THEATRE Fri. 3/15-Thurs. 3/21 at 9:30 LAST WEEK

ART PRICE POLICY Adults & Students......$4 Children,

Seniors, Mat. before 6 p.m......$3

Spring Special

WASH, WAX, Budget Car Care Interior cleaning Deodorizing, Buffing and Shampooing $40

537-1496 717 S. 6th St. 8-6 M-F 8-3 Sat.

Home of the Wildcats

We manage over ...

apartments

within five blocks of campus. All types and sizes.

See our display ad for details.

776-3804

FLOWERS FOR

Floyd E. Rogers

Res: (913) 776-8900 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3079

Office: (913) 776-4488 Fax: (913) 776-4977

1-800-232-5726

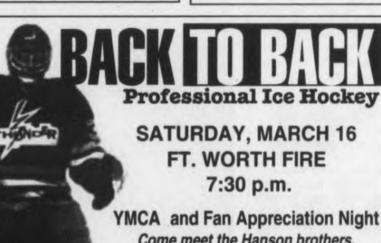

Buying or selling, we provide you with a home market analysis.

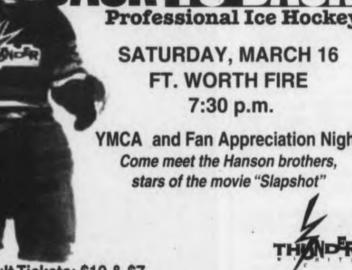

1219 Bluemont . Aggieville

Penny Alonso

Res: (913) 776-7492 Voice Mail: (913) 587-3233

Adult Tickets: $10 & $7 FOR MORE INFO CALL (316) 264-GOAL

OPEN NIGHTS AND SUNDAYS

JUST DROP IN!

* VILLAGE PLAZA 539-4043 (Near ALCO)

431 E. Poyntz 776-6410 (K-MART PLAZA)

It is time for groups to submit applications for funding of events or projects for which

you would like assistance from the Fine

Arts Council. As you may or may not know, the Fine Arts Council was created by the Student Senate to establish more fine arts programming on campus. This money is generated from the Fine Arts privilege fee

students pay each semester. A reserves account created that assists in the programming efforts of student groups promoting fine-arts related programming.

The forms that need to be filled out are available at

the OSAS Office. THE DEADLINE FOR

MARCH 21, 1996 AT NOON (12 p.m.).

For more information, please call or go to the Office of Student Activities and Services.

K-State Union, Ground Floor • (913) 532-6541

PLICATION IS ON OR BEFORE THURSDAY,

Sunday, March 17, 3 p.m.

McCain Auditorium . KSU Gen. Public $18, Sr. Citizens $16, Student/Child $9 Call 532-6428 or come to McCain box office, noon to 5 p.m. VISA and MC accepted.

Tickets also available at the usual outles Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency and the National Endowment for the Arts. dditional support provided by the K-State Fine Arts Fee. All dates and artists subject to chance without notice.

Move Up To The Ultimate Living Experience In Manhattan.

2-BEDROOM APARTMENTS

Park-like setting Close to KSU Sparkling swimming pools All appliances

Garages available On site staff Large closets

Planned activities

OPEN HOUSES DAILY Call today

776-1148

THE CURTIN COMPANY

B&L Apartment Management 1228 Westloop Ste. #247 (913) 587-9372

2 Bdrm 3/4 Bath Apartment 1026 Bluemont #6 NO PETS, 1 year

3 Bdrm 1 3/4 Bath Townhouse 2539 Brockman St. All appliances plus Washer & Dryes Pets allowed, Pet deposit $250

3 Bdrm 1 3/4 Bath Townhouse 2535 Brockman St. All appliances plus Washer/Dryer hook-ups NO PETS, 1 year lease

NEW! 4 Bdrm 2 1/2 Bath Townhouse 420 & 422 Butterfield Rd. All appliances plus Washer/Dryer hook-up NO PETS, 1 year lease

2 Bdrm 1 Bath Duplex 400 S. 11th All appliances plus Washer/Dryer hook-ups NO PETS, 1 year lease $375/month

AUGUST LEASES APARTMENTS

HOUSES 2055 Tecumseh

*2 Bedroom 1508 Hillcrest *2 Bedroom

1500 Hartford *4 Bedroom 1541 Hartford *4 Bedroom

1544 Hartford *4 Bedroom 1422 Harry

*4 Bedroom & Lg. Study 1419 Hillcrest *4 Bedroom, 2 Study McCall

1837-1841 College Hts. *1-3-4 Bedroom 1225 Claflin * 1 Bedroom 1320-22-24 N. Man. *2-4 Bedroom

776-9124 Call for Appt. Today 225 McCall 1

Persons with disabilities call 532-6428 for accessibility informatio

Sports

Did you know?

■ Since the seedings began in 1979, the lowest-seeded team to make the Final Four in the NCAA Tournament was LSU in 1986. The Tigers were the 11th seed in the Southeast Region and lost in the national semifinals.

· Monday

■ Watch for the Collegian's coverage of K-State's game against New Mexico in the NCAA Tournament.

Richmond offers writer surprises

RICHMOND, VA. - In Thursday's press conference, K-State coach Tom Asbury said the Wildcats just want to get down to business.

"You never know how you're going to play when you get to this type of environment. We don't have a lot of guys who have played in this setting before, and experience does help. But when the goes up tomorrow (Friday) at 2:45 (1:45 CST), all the other stuff is just fluff. All it boils down to is who can execute, who can shoot, who can defend it, can you knock down your free throws. It's not rocket science especially at this time of the year when there are no surprises. It just comes down to who can play a better game of basketball," he said.

Myview

Well, I can attest to the fact that Asbury was wrong. There have been surprises.

Surprise No. 1 - When we finally got to Richmond, too late to actually attend the press conference (the quotes are courtesy of the NCAA), I found that my reservation at the media hotel had somehow been lost. Don't ask me how. All I know is that I'd been up since 5:45 a.m. and just wanted to

But things couldn't get worse, so we decided to head over to Richmond Coliseum to pick up our media credentials.

Surprise No. 2 - As I walked into the building, I joked that my press pass had probably been lost, too. I spoke too soon.

After searching for the media coordinator and K-State's sports information director, we finally were able to get everything settled. I have to share a hotel room with a Topeka Capital-Journal reporter until tomorrow, but I won't complain. I'm at the NCAA

I'm looking for surprise No. 3, but hopefully I won't get it until Friday morning. I'm hoping (although it will mess up my NCAA bracket) that Georgetown will be upset in the first round by Mississippi Valley State.

I'm hoping that K-State will not lose to New Mexico, thus providing me with a reason to write about surprise No. 4.

But let's talk about some other surprises that have happened since I've left Manhattan.

As I write this column, eight teams have ended their seasons, while eight other teams await a second-round game on Saturday. It was no surprise that UConn defeated Colgate in the first round of the Southeastern regional. I was surprised, however, by the score. A mere nine points was the margin as UConn advanced on a 68-59 win.

Now, it might be a surprise to many people, but at the risk of jinxing myself in further games, I wasn't surprised at all by the victory of Eastern Michigan against the Blue Devils of Duke. Eastern Michigan walked away with a dominating 75-60 victory. I will be the first to admit, I adamantly dislike the Blue Devils. I'm glad they've been sent packing. And what about the Drexel Dragons? I picked Drexel as one of my upsetters in its first-round contest against Memphis. I'm not sure I really honestly believed Drexel would win, but now that they've surprised most people, I'm not feeling so silly about picking them to head to the Sweet 16. (The knowledge that the Dragons have probably ruined quite a few people's brackets is reassuring, too.)

The knowledge that the Dragons have probably ruined quite a few people's brackets is reassur-

Syracuse wasn't a surprise, and neither was its 88-55 thumping of Montana State. Montana State? Who are those guys, anyway? Ooh, big surprise here. UMASS with a 92-70 slapping of Central Florida. Anyone who picked Central Florida earns my vote for the Most Stupid Person of the Year award.

Those Bradley Braves - you can't count on them for anything. K-State stomps them in the preseason. The Braves make it all the way to the Big Dance - I'm sure helping the Cats out some with their power rating - and then they lose, 66-58, to the Stanford Cardinals

This was probably one of the toughest match-ups to pick, and although I didn't get to see the game and haven't seen highlights yet, the score indicates it was a pretty good game that might have gone down to the wire.

Kentucky was no surprise. I have it going all the way to the championship game (although losing to Arizona in the finals.) The only surprise will be if the Bluegrass Wildcats lose before the Final Four.

And in another close match-up, Virginia Tech sent Wisconsin-Green Bay home early with a 61-48 defeat. I don't know if that's a surprise or not. I was surprised I picked Virginia Tech correctly. I had no clue whatsoever which way to sway on that game.

I've had enough surprises for one day. Here's hoping K-State isn't surprised when the Lobos take Shana Newell, senior in secondary education, is enjoying the beautiful town of Richmond, Va. If you're one of the people she mentioned above, don't e-mail her at (twobag@ksu.ksu.edu).

Drexel surprises Memphis, 75-63

K-State vs. New Mexico

Station: CBS

When: Friday, 1:45 p.m. CST

Waiting: Georgetown or

Associated Press

▶ Boxing

Associated Press

being a father again.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. - Bill Herrion doesn't take offense when people with puzzled looks on their faces ask, "Drexel who?"

"Heck, I didn't know who Drexel was until I took the job," said the fifth-year coach who guided the small Philadelphia school to the first major upset of the NCAA Tournament Thursday

Malik Rose had 21 points and 15 rebounds as the 12th-seeded Dragons stunned fifth-seeded Memphis 75-63 in the first round of the West Regional.

Drexel (27-3) extended the nation's second-longest winning streak to 15 games and will play fourth-seeded Syracuse, an 88-55 winner over Montana State, in the second round Saturday.

Its victories are a school record, and the three losses have been by less than 10 points. "We're a game away from the Sweet Sixteen and for a school like us, it's a dream come true," Herrion said. Drexel and its 4,073 students get little Tyson yearns to reclaim from a four-year layoff in August.

boxing title

LAS VEGAS — Mike Tyson is excited about becoming a champion again and thrilled about

He expects to become WBC heavyweight cham-

While Tyson thinks he was born to box, he also

As for being in a championship fight for the first time since being upset by James "Buster" Douglas

Feb. 11, 1990, Tyson said, "I'm very anxious. I'm looking forward to it. I'm trying to keep my head from when they fought Feb. 25, 1989, Tyson and the oddsmakers believe the outcome will be the same.

thousand fans will be coming to root for him, and 5,000 will be taking the long depressing trip back to the 34-year-old champion from Britain at the MGM

Grand Garden. Tyson also was 10-1 when he stopped Bruno in the fifth round in defense of the undisputed championship seven years ago. When Bruno's supporters arrive, the odds should shorten.

total of a little more than three full rounds in two fights since his comeback, he noted that he had been off for eight months when he fought Bruno in when he fought Bruno, and he is much more dealing with," he said. "I wasn't that interested in Commission, Tyson made $3 million and Bruno

$1.2 million for their first fight. Saturday night, and midnight EST. The pay-per-view show will begin at 9 p.m. and include live telecasts of a fight between Michael Carbajal and Melchor Cob-Castro of Mexico for the vacant IBF junior flyweight title and a WBC strawweight title defense by Ricardo

Lopez of Mexico against Ala Villamor of the Tyson is getting about $30 million.

He also said he was suffering boxing burnout

"I wasn't aware of the strains and pressure I was

According to the Nevada State Athletic

The fight is expected to start between 11:15 p.m.

While Tyson is going into Saturday's fight with a While Tyson's and Bruno's roles are reversed

"He's not going to beat me," Tyson said. "Five

The 29-year-old Tyson is a 10-1 favorite to beat pion Saturday night when he challenges Frank

Bruno in his third fight since beginning a comeback said, "If I put the enthusiasm into doing something else that I put into boxing, I would be successful at attention in Philadelphia, where Big Five members Villanova, Penn, Temple, La Salle and St. Joseph's dominate the headlines and recruiting.

Mississippi Valley But the Dragons' first NCAA Tournament victory in their fourth appearance should change their also-ran status. The Dragons continued a trend of No. 12 seeds pulling off upsets in the tournament's opening round. In 1994, No. 12 Tulsa ousted UCLA and in 1993, 12th-seeded Santa Clara shocked Arizona

"Maybe this will help push us to the level of the Big Five," forward Jeff Myers said. "Our respect level has been going up the last four years, and we're not an outsider any-

Drexel didn't make it past the tournament's first round the last two years, losing to Oklahoma State by 24 points in 1995 and Temple by 22 points in 1994. Herrion said his teams played scared in those losses.

Drexel took the for good about seven minutes into the game as Memphis struggled on 40-percent shooting in the first half

Rose, a senior from Philadelphia, had his No. 00 retired on Feb. 25. Against Memphis, he became the third player in school history to score 600 or more points in a single season while also going 'over the 2,000-point mark. He now has 2,013

"To come in and do what we did is remarkable," Rose said. "I'm really proud to be a part of it.

Rose is the third-leading rebounder on the NCAA's list behind Derrick Coleman of Syracuse and Ralph Sampson of Virginia. The Tigers couldn't stop Rose inside, and the few times they did, he kicked the ball out to freshman Mike DeRocckis or Myers.

The duo helped the Dragons hit 50 percent from 3-point range against a Memphis team that had held opponents to 28 percent from long-range

Myers finished with 15 point and DeRocckis added 14 points. They each hit three 3-pointers as Drexel went 9-of-18 from

The Tigers seemingly had the edge from the 3-point line coming into the game. They needed 14 long-range baskets to set a school record but finished 5-of-19. Wright said, "Their whole team came out prepared and beat us. It wasn't a one-man

Leading by 10 at halftime, Drexel scored the first eight points of the second half on 3pointers by DeRocckis and David Frey and a layup by Rose for a 48-30 advantage. Memphis (22-8) scored the next six before Rose broke away for a dunk to push Drexel's lead to 50-36 with 13:46 remaining. "It's hard to whup a possessed man," Memphis coach Larry Finch Sr. said of Rose. "We were sending three and four guys in there after the rebound and he still kept coming away with it," he said.

Sophomore Danielle

Hernandez watch-Busch practices her putting on the front nine earlier this month at the Manhattan Country Club. The K-State women's golf team will go into the final day of a three-day event at the the Northern Illinois/Fairway Network Snowbird Classic Intercollegiate Golf Tournament in Tampa, Fla. The team is ranked 13th. The Wildcats shot 348 yesterday on the second day of the tournament finishing five strokes behind Florida

DARREN WHITLEY

Atlantic.

► BASEBALL

Philippines.

focused now.

Baseball team seeks to continue streak this weekend

Shane McCormick and Shana Newell

Looking to continue its successful spring campaign, the K-State baseball team returns home for an eight-game homestand this weekend The Wildcats will take to the field

Friday against No. 4 Wichita State at Frank Myers Field. Because of the basketball team's 1:45 p.m. tip-off, the baseball game has been rescheduled for a 4 p.m. start. "What we tried to do was create a dou-

Clark said. "This way, fans can watch the basketball game on TV and then head to the ballpark for a game.' The Cats, 11-4, will face a 5-1 Shocker team. Wichita State experienced its first loss of the season Wednesday to the Arkansas Razorbacks. The Hogs, who handed K-State its first three losses of the season, shut out the Shockers, 5-0. One of K-State's starters, first baseman Jason Bichelmeyer has had experience with the Shockers.

Bichelmeyer transferred to K-State this summer after spending two seasons as a reserve for Wichita State. Last season at Wichita State, Bichelmeyer hit .250 in 32 games for the Shockers. He knocked in 12 runs, had three doubles and one home run. Bichelmeyer is expected to produce high numbers for the Cats this season. Wichita State defeated the Cats 3-5 and 6-7 in both meetings between the teams Saturday, the Cats will take to the field for a doubleheader against Regis. The first bleheader for K-State fans," Coach Mike pitch will be thrown at noon.

With Big 8 play starting Tuesday against No. 19 Oklahoma State, Clark said the series with Regis will be K-State's last chance to get some players ready.

"We've got Wichita State on Friday and Oklahoma State next Tuesday," Clark said. "It (Regis) will give us a chance to give some guys some pitches. We're going to need some guys to step up for us."

K-State and Regis will finish the series Sunday. They square off at 1 p.m. Gates to Frank Myers Field will open one hour prior to the first pitch of each game. Admission is free for students.

Wildcat hurler Matt Koeman makes a delivery during the Cats victory against Creighton in February. K-State will be host to the Wichita State Shockers at 4 p.m. today at Frank Myers Field and go into the game sporting an 11-4 record.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS PROGRAM

City prioritizes improvements, disagrees on armory, parking

The thing that is screaming at us is we need to diversify our economy

and be less reliant of the government, but here we

STEVE HALL

■ Funds unavailable for some projects, commissioners must decide which programs are most important

Chris Oakley

ity commissioners met Thursday during a work session to discuss the Capital Improvements Program and which programs will be included in the CIP.

The CIP is part of the city's budget process, and it prioritizes and schedules capital improvements during a six-year period for such projects as major pieces of equipment, construction and maintenance projects. The commission has the option each year to vote to amend the current CIP.

'We've tried to load this process with public input," city manager Gary Greer said.

Because the city does not have the capital to conduct every program that is deemed necessary, commissioners and city staff must decide which programs are the most important.

"There were great sacrifices made," Greer said of prioritizing the projects.

"A lot of these projects were worthwhile, and I hate to not have the money to fund them," he said.

Those projects, deemed to be less important for the fiscal year, are either put into the appendix of the CIP or deleted from it completely.

Projects in the appendix have city support, but the funds are not available for the projects. Projects can stay in the appendix

One of the projects which commissioners disagreed about was a proposed plan to build a new National Guard Armory — a portion of which would be used for a youth center. The city would share funding of the armory with the county and state.

City staff had recommended funding the Armory for two years, 1997 and 1998 at $250,000 each year. Commissioner Steve Hall said he felt there were other programs that might be more important to the community, such as parking-lot improvements of the Riley County Seniors' Service Center.

"In the past, we've gone out and given people pretty much what they wanted," he said.

"I think it's time now to go back and see what is more important, a parking lot at the seniors center or a new armory," Hall said.

"I'm saying we have a great propensity in the organization to build new stuff, and we never want to take care of what we already have," he said.

Commissioner Justin Kastner said he thought that because county and state funds were available, the city might be undertaking the construction to save money, instead of having to fund the entire project at a later

"I certainly feel we need to look at the opportunity, but I feel we ought to look at other things we cut that would have been included if not for the armory request," Kastner said.

Commissioner Sydney Carlin said she didn't want a situation where groups supporting the armory and youth recreation against those who support improving the parking lot of the senior center.

"There's a lot of things I'm hearing that I don't agree

Hall and Kastner said they agreed that there are other programs which provide more pressing problems for the

Mayor Edith Stunkel and commissioners Bruce Snead and Carlin said they didn't want to provide the entire $500,000 and would prefer funding only around $250,000 of the construction of the armory.

"My comfort level is between $250,000 to $300,000 toward the armory," Stunkel said.

Carlin said the armory would provide economic benefits for the city.

Stunkel said maybe the money could be provided with MENOFAB funds, which is given to businesses which promote economic growth in Manhattan. Hall said he didn't think MENOFAB funds would be best for the city.

"The thing that is screaming at us is we need to diversify our economy and be less reliant of government, but here we go again," he said.

Snead said he felt the economic benefits would not be as great for the city as predicted.

"It can have benefits," he said.

"It's new because we've never been asked to put this much dough and land into it," Snead said.

On April 9, there will be a town hall meeting so citizens can learn more about the CIP process, Greer said. On April 16, there will be a meeting where citizens will have the opportunity to provide input on which projects would be best for the city, he said.

The CIP is not finalized until the commission votes on it May 7 and approves the budget. The city commission is scheduled to certify the 1996 budget to the county clerk Aug. 25.

WE ACCEPT NEWS TIPS

532-6556

TONIGHT

LAST NIGHT FOR $1 BOTTLES nin Business!

Open at 1 p.m. for K-State Game

CALL TODAY!

Your Choice

299

Apple StyleWriter 1200

Apple LaserWriter 320

Add an Ink-Jet Printer for $199

Add a Postscript™ Printer for $499

Thanks for your patronage

Brad · Amanda · Geryl · Jason (Woody)

· Hunter · Susan · Becky ·

MacWorks

Shipping

only

$5.00

Performa 5200CD - 8/800/CD • 75-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor

- · All-in-one, tilt-and-swivel design · Built-in 15-inch multiple scan color display
- 800 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM
- . 14,400 bps fax modern to send and receive faxes . Quad-speed CD-ROM drive for fast playback
- . Built-in speakers and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound
- Apple Design Keyboard · Apple Factory Refurbished 90-day warranty

PowerBook 5300 - 8/500

100-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor

- 9.5 inch backlit passive-matrix display (16-level gray scale)
- 500 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM . Built-in Video Output supporting an external color display at up
- to 256 colors · PC card slots for two Type I or Type II PC Cards or one Type III
- . Built-in speaker and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound

Mention you're a student and receive a free CD-ROM Bundle!

Apple Factory 1-year warranty

Open Mon-Fri 9:00am-6:00pm We accept: Visa/MC Discover

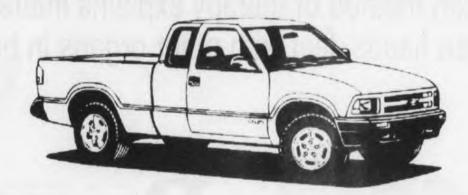

sales@macworks.com

http://www.macworks.com

WIBW-TV PRESENTS

WIN A NEW CHEVY S-SERIES!

Play Games! Score Points! Win CBS Sports Prizes!

It's fun! It's free!

SPONSORED BY

CHEVY TRUCKS

Microsoft^{*}

© 1996 CBS Inc. All rights reserved. *No purchase necessary. Sweepstakes ends 11/06/96. Open to enrolled college students who are U.S. residents Chevy Truck pictured may not be identical to one awarded

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY

Union Pedestrian Island March 21, 11 AM - 5 PM March 22, 10 AM - 4 PM

Locally Sponsored By

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS PROGRAM

City prioritizes improvements, disagrees on armory, parking

The thing that is screaming at us is we need to diversify our economy

and be less reliant of the government, but here we

STEVE HALL

■ Funds unavailable for some projects, commissioners must decide which programs are most important

Chris Oakley

ity commissioners met Thursday during a work session to discuss the Capital Improvements Program and which programs will be included in the CIP.

The CIP is part of the city's budget process, and it prioritizes and schedules capital improvements during a six-year period for such projects as major pieces of equipment, construction and maintenance projects. The commission has the option each year to vote to amend the current CIP.

'We've tried to load this process with public input," city manager Gary Greer said.

Because the city does not have the capital to conduct every program that is deemed necessary, commissioners and city staff must decide which programs are the most important.

"There were great sacrifices made," Greer said of prioritizing the projects.

"A lot of these projects were worthwhile, and I hate to not have the money to fund them," he said. Those projects, deemed to be less important for the fiscal year, are either put into the appendix of the CIP or deleted from it completely.

Projects in the appendix have city support, but the funds are not available for the projects. Projects can stay in the appendix

One of the projects which commissioners disagreed about was a proposed plan to build a new National Guard Armory — a portion of which would be used for a youth center. The city would share funding of the armory with the county and state.

City staff had recommended funding the Armory for two years, 1997 and 1998 at $250,000 each year. Commissioner Steve Hall said he felt there were other programs that might be more important to the community, such as parking-lot improvements of the Riley County Seniors' Service Center.

"In the past, we've gone out and given people pretty much what they wanted," he said.

"I think it's time now to go back and see what is more important, a parking lot at the seniors center or a new

WE ACCEPT NEWS TIPS

532-6556

TONIGHT

LAST NIGHT FOR $1 BOTTLES

Thanks for your patronage Brad · Amanda · Geryl · Jason (Woody) · Hunter · Susan · Becky ·

armory," Hall said.

"I'm saying we have a great propensity in the organization to build new stuff, and we never want to take care of what we already have," he said.

Commissioner Justin Kastner said he thought that because county and state funds were available, the city might be undertaking the construction to save money, instead of having to fund the entire project at a later

"I certainly feel we need to look at the opportunity, but I feel we ought to look at other things we cut that would have been included if not for the armory request," Kastner said.

Commissioner Sydney Carlin said she didn't want a situation where groups supporting the armory and youth recreation against those who support improving the parking lot of the senior center.

'There's a lot of things I'm hearing that I don't agree with," she said.

Hall and Kastner said they agreed that there are other programs which provide more pressing problems for the

Mayor Edith Stunkel and commissioners Bruce Snead and Carlin said they didn't want to provide the entire $500,000 and would prefer funding only around $250,000 of the construction of the armory.

"My comfort level is between $250,000 to $300,000 toward the armory," Stunkel said.

Carlin said the armory would provide economic benefits for the city.

Stunkel said maybe the money could be provided with MENOFAB funds, which is given to businesses which promote economic growth in Manhattan. Hall said he didn't think MENOFAB funds would be best for the city.

"The thing that is screaming at us is we need to diversify our economy and be less reliant of government, but here we go again," he said.

Snead said he felt the economic benefits would not be as great for the city as predicted.

"It can have benefits," he said.

"It's new because we've never been asked to put this much dough and land into it," Snead said.

On April 9, there will be a town hall meeting so citizens can learn more about the CIP process, Greer said. On April 16, there will be a meeting where citizens will have the opportunity to provide input on which projects would be best for the city, he said.

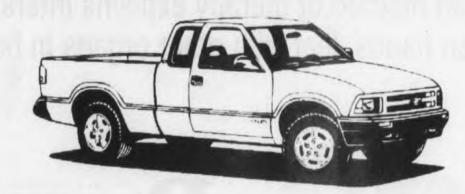

The CIP is not finalized until the commission votes on it May 7 and approves the budget. The city commission is scheduled to certify the 1996 budget to the county clerk Aug. 25.

nin business!

WIBW-TV PRESENTS

WIN A NEW CHEVY S-SERIES!

Play Games! Score Points! Win CBS Sports Prizes!

It's fun! It's free!

SPONSORED BY

CHEVY TRUCKS

GOODFYEAR

Microsoft[.]

KANSAS STATE

UNIVERSITY

Union Pedestrian Island

March 21, 11 AM - 5 PM

March 22, 10 AM - 4 PM

10 1996 CBS Inc. All rights reserved. "No purchase necessary. Sweepstakes ends 11/06/96. Open to enrolled college students who are U.S. residents. Chevy Truck pictured may not be identical to one awarded Student Power Macintosh Blowout!!

MacWorks

Shipping

only

$5.00

Performa 5200CD - 8/800/CD

- 75-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor · All-in-one, tilt-and-swivel design
- . Built-in 15-inch multiple scan color display
- 800 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM. . 14,400 bps fax modern to send and receive faxes
- . Quad-speed CD-ROM drive for fast playback
- . Built-in speakers and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound Apple Design Keyboard
- · Apple Factory Refurbished 90-day warranty

PowerBook 5300 - 8/500

- + 100-MHz RISC-based PowerPC 603 microprocessor 9.5 inch backlit passive-matrix display (16-level gray scale)
- 500 megabyte hard disk drive and 8 megabytes of RAM . Built-in Video Output supporting an external color display at up
- to 256 colors
- · PC card slots for two Type I of Type II PC Cards or one Type III
- . Built-in speaker and microphone, 16-bit stereo sound Apple Factory 1-year warranty

CALL TODAY! Your Choice

Open at 1 p.m.

for K-State Game

Add an Ink-Jet Printer for $199 Apple StyleWriter 1200

Add a Postscript™ Printer for $499 Apple LaserWriter 320

Mention you're a student and receive a free CD-ROM Bundle! Open Mon-Fri 9:00am-6:00pm

sales@macworks.com http://www.macworks.com

We accept: Visa/MC K-State Student Union Discover UPC Special Events Committee

Locally

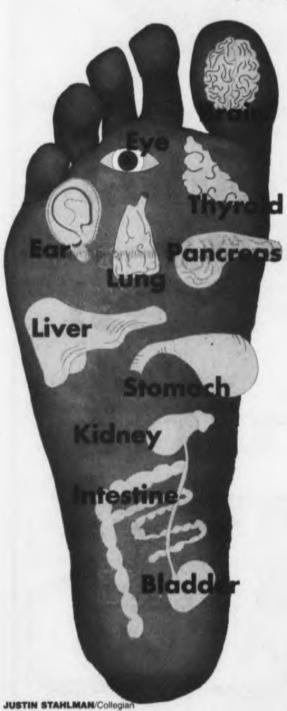

Sponsored By

SATURDAY SUNDAY The Reflex

Egyptian method of therapy explains interaction between hands, feet with other organs in body

by Collegian staff

eflexology is more than just foot-massage therapy. It is a relaxing and healthful tool in rejuvenating the body's natural func-

The therapy is a form of massage based on the principle that there are reflexes in the feet relative to every organ

Through massaging the hands and feet, the body is able to release tension, stress, increase blood supply and help normalize the body.

"Reflexology isn't a cure by any means," said Eric Kipp, reflexologist and owner of Lifestyle Enhancements. "Its purpose isn't to treat or diagnose specific medical disorders, but to promote better health and well-being in the same way as exercise and diet pro-

The modern study of reflexology began in the early 1900s. Dr. William Fitzgerald, an American physician, studied the relationship between the hands and feet and how certain areas on the hands and feet affect other organs, limbs and nerves in the body.

Fitzgerald, who is known as a pioneer of reflexology, found there are specific interactions between areas on the hands and feet and the organs in the body.

By pressing these areas, the organs could be directly influenced.

Through his research, Fitzgerald found that the hands and feet were the most convenient terminals for communicating with the rest of the body.

According to "The Encyclopedia of Reflexology, The Egyptian Method" by Lynn and Gail Nelson, reflexology dates back to 2000 B.C.

Egyptian pictures found in pyramids show evidence of this ancient massage method. Reflexology has also been attributed to Eastern-world medicine.

More than 6,000 European doctors, nurses and physical therapists incorporate reflexology into their healing procedures, said Stephanie Rick, author of the book "The Reflexology Workout."

The technique performed during reflexology is zone therapy, which is based on the principle that the unimpaired function of nerve networks allows the body to heal itself and function properly.

Zone thera-

also the basis for acupuncture, Japanese shaitsu massage acupressure and Reflexology and message therapy are diverse. For example, reflexology therapy only deals with the feet and hands, where massage treatment, like Swedish massage, works with all the muscle areas to release built-up tension and lactic acid in the muscles.

Kipp, senior in history, started studying reflexology last fall. He said some health problems inhibit a body's healing powers through bad habits. "Reflexology is just one aspect that helps free up the body's natural healing abilities," he said.

Kipp said an important aspect of reflexology treatment is incorporating other aspects of health into your everyday

Kipp offers health counseling in addition to reflexology treatments.

"I'm not a nutritionist or a doctor, but I can give people more information to help them teach themselves how to develop a good relationship with their bodies," Kipp

Relaxation is the primary benefit of reflexology. "Be calm and enjoy it. The more the body gets used to the treatment, the more receptive your body will be," Kipp

There is no required certification for reflexology. Barbara Rider, licensed cosmetologist at Tina's Studio 32, learned reflexology therapy at Crum's Beauty College in Manhattan.

Rider said the school was host to an eight-hour, hands-on and video presentation by Nelson, reflexologist an author of, "The Encyclopedia of Reflexology, Th Eypgtian Method.'

JUSTIN STAHLMAN/Collegian

Nelson is president and founder of Digit International, a reflexology clinic in Temecula, Calif.

Rider said she incorporates reflexology into pedicure and manicures. Clients have been impressed with the reflexology, sh

"They say it feels good, and they can feel themselve relax all over," she said. Kipp learned reflexology treatment from his reflexolo gist therapist and attending seminars. It takes a while to build clientele, Kipp said. Mo: reflexologists have home-based businesses, but some ar found at health-care facilities and clinics. Treatments can range from $20-60 per reflexology ses

"I charge $20 per hour session. In bigger cities, it ca cost up to $60 per session," Kipp said. Rider charges $20 for a 30-minute therapy.

"The reason is not clear why or how reflexology work it simply does," Rick said. "Whatever your reason fc exploring reflexology, you are going to discover that will enhance every facet of your physical health and emc tional well-being.

THE CASUAL CRITICS

by Nolan Schramm and Page Getz

Quentin Tarantino, Allison Rockwell, Robert Rodriguez,

Nolan:  1/2 out of five stars

"Four Rooms" was a bountiful mountain of sweet, twisted Tarantino-esque misery. We are first introduced to the new bellboy, Theodore.

A coven of witches has arrived in the prestigious New York hotel, mon signor.

Tim Roth stars in this four-part anthology that focuses on a day in the life of Ted, the bellhop.

The bizarre clientele in the first segment begin wreaking havoc immediatel, with the request for "the missing ingredient" that Ted possesses.

Say no more! A request for ice takes Ted to the third floor, where he is entwined in a bizarre sexual ritual involving nudity and firearms in the second segment, "The Wrong Man." The third segment stars Antonio Banderss as a gang-ster-type who leaves his children with Roth for $500.

Throughout the movie, we see Ted face sexual depravity, a disease-addled death and finally, Tarantino in the culminating scene of big money and drunkenness, "The Man From Hollywood."

All the tension that has built throughout the movie is exploded away in one final culmination.

Twisted, bizarre, hilarious ... but this type of rubberstamp movie is quickly becoming the Hollywood standard. If you like Tarantino, you'll love this. If you hate Tarantino, this movie brings no redemption.

Page: 1/2 out of five stars

To summarize the unsummarizable: Four directors, four rooms, improvised finger amputations in the penthouse, a coven of supermodel witches conducting seance with a recipe containing "sperm de bellhop" in the honeymoon suite, S&M in room 309 and a gangster's unattended children with the corpse of a hooker down

Part of the charm of "Four Rooms" is that it's a surreal comic anthology that follows what would be considered an insignificant night in the life of a bellhop, typically not an occupation on which to base an entire

Unfortunately, the character's eccentricities are so outlandish that there is more of an obstacle in identifying with them, partly because they are primarily upper-uppercrust, but also because they are all quirks and no

Even Ted, the bellhop (Roth), whose character has the potential to be a sort of an Ed-Grimmley type, is obnox-iously and distractingly melodramatic.

Regardless of its alienating extremes, the film has to be appreciated for what seems to be a rare and genui attempt to produce a craft as opposed to a product, and the format and aura of the film are endearingly "black-

"Beautiful Girls" Ted Demme, director

Nolan: 1/2 out of five stars

Here's an overly stereotypical look at life in a small, New England town. Willie Conway (Timothy Hutton) plays a city boy who returns home to attend his highschool reunion and ponder the meaning of his life.

As a musician, he finds the New York music scene stifling and sans cash. When he returns home, he finds the town is stagnant, exactly identical to the one he left many years ago. His father is an idiot, his brother is Butt-Head, and all his old friends (including Matt Dillon) are stuck in dead-

In fact, the only halfway-intelligent person he meets is witty, intelligent, cute, vibrant and 13 years old. Marty end relationships based on visceral pleasures.

extremely sly and attractive. Willie has cold feet about his marriage and begins to wonder what his future really holds. Meanwhile, all his eer-guzzlin' guy friends are at war with their women. The women pack together, talking about the macho men. So stereotypical ...

Take some No-Doz with you to the theater.

Page: 1/2 out of five stars Despite the cast's potential, two redundant themes make "Beautiful Girls" one to fish out only at the bar-

The first is the identity crisis of a high school reunion's confrontation of youth's idealism versus the anonymous status of life after reaching legal drinking age. The second is the worn battle of the sexes.

"Beautiful Girls" has been compared by critics to "The Big Chill" and "Diner," but it is more of a working-class "90210" - comparable to a sort of back-East, blue-collar version of the Seattle bachelor-glorifying

The disappointingly trite plot isn't characteristic of a generation, but of a generation of trendy films that attempt to attract a media-constructed generalization of a market that could only be insulted by it.

As the title implies, "Beautiful Girls" has little substance with the exception of Rosic O'Donnell's grocery store commentary where she attempts to recondition the hormone-dictated boys about the difference between a Playmate centerfold and a woman. The characters vacantly rely too heavily on their functions as stereotypes.

For example, Matt Dillon plays a post-adolescent variation of Al Bundy, a dense legend in his own mind-

Dillon's girlfriend is an anorexic wallflower desperately awaiting his commitment, and Martha Plimpton's acting potential is reduced to an eye-rolling victim of an

The only role in which the script does justice to the actor is 13-year-old Natalie Portman, who steals the heart of Timothy Hutton and their scenes together.

Ironically, the movie is rated PG-13 for its mature emes, but all of its male characters are immature, and the female characters are minimized and underdevel15 Diadem

18 Money

back

oven

21 Brotherly

address

23 High-note

singer

Sumac

24 High-note

Mariah

25 Abrades

29 Private

35 Mastroi-

37 She loved

31 Carpi reaching anni costar

Narcissus

27 Far-

20 Brewer's

16 Like

Diversions

CROSSWORD by Eugene Sheffer 21 Calendar ACROSS 41 Old Olds 3 Beetle abbr. 43 DDE's 1 "Julius amulets 22 Ske-4 Labora-Caesar opponent 44 Sheltered tory daddle conspir-24 Train 45 Tenant discovery ator 6 Male swan 47 Ate vora-5 Sheikdom compo-at 8 tonight through Saturday and at 2 on Sunday.

9 Mid-May of song nent ciously 26 25th 49 Slip 6 Laurel honoree 12 Bring upon 52 "--- Tiki" or Hardy. anniver 53 St. crosser sary gift oneself 7 Formerly 54 Perrier 28 Pos-13 Threematch link 8 Ovine line sessed rival 55 Posed 14 Kimono 9 Grinder 30 Female accessory 56 Greek 10 Not

32 Police CONmerely chief in sonants 11 Thurber's "Tosca" Hester's A 57 Doubledreamer 33 Common check a 17 Rock band word sum 34 "Help!" DOWN crew member 36 Wears 1 Op.

follower 19 Caution away 38 Big 2 Blackbird color barrels Solution time: 26 mins. 39 City near Knoxville 40 Inclined 42 Lecherous one. M ASH APPRAISE maybe maker Strauss 46 Over-

> 48 Send pronto 50 Despon-

38 Have a 3-15 51 Remnant cow?

Yesterday's answer

For answers to today's crossword, cal 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touch tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

QUWKPK-CUJOOD

RCNRJBJPQJ:

MNAKJOOD ANCCUAH BNNMU. Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE UNBUDGING, RE-LUCTANT MOUNTAIN CLIMBER FOREVER FEARED GIVING HIS ASCENT.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: B equals G

▶ FOXTROT

DOOG AND BLAIR

by Mark Ilich

by Bill Amend

MR. INVADER

by Justin Stahlman

MELVIN VS. THE WORLD

by Matt Hawkins

BLOODLINES

by Kristian Kelley

'Henry V' offers classical history with modern spin

Chris Oakley

This production of "Henry V" not only involves knights in armor, but it also includes minutemen with muskets and an infantry with M-16s.

"King Henry V: Crispian's Day at the Boar's Head" will be performed by the Acting Company at 3 p.m. Sunday in McCain Auditorium.

Director Mary Lou Rosato has adapted Shakespeare's classic history to fit 20th-century audi-

Shakespeare's work has King Henry bringing his soldiers together on St. Crispian's Day to remember the sacrifices they made for one another.

Rosato decided to have representatives of different wars from different centuries gather together at a tavern to reenact Henry's story.

"The director has decided there are ways of presenting Shakespeare's words other than just out of book," Richard Martin, director of McCain,

Henry V

McCain Performance Series presents "Henry V" at 3 p.m. Sunday in McCain Auditorium.

said. "She's taken the play as a discourse of war and its effect on people," he said.

Martin said he hasn't seen a performance of the play. When booking shows like this, it's typically not possible to see them because they are not up and running. This is not a play that is coming off of a Broadway run or the run in a regional theater that is then toured following a run somewhere else" he said.

"What one is relying on when dealing with a company like the Acting Company is their reputation for fielding a good group of actors and assigning the play to a director who knows what he or she is doing," he

"We're buying a promise, and they have always delivered," Martin said.

Martin said Henry V is one of Shakespeare's most well-known plays, partly because two motion pictures have been based on it.

The play uses Shakespeare's words, although the length is shortened to keep audiences from sitting through a four-hour production.

Also, some parts are arranged differently from Shakespeare's original work.

The Acting Company has produced such talents such as Kevin Kline and Patti LuPone. It was co-founded by Margot Harley and John Houseman in 1972 to create productions of classic and contemporary plays for audiences nationwide.

The play is presented by the Kansas Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts. unding is also being provided by the fine arts privilege

Tickets are available at the McCain Box Office, Bramlage Coliseum, the Union Bookstore, Manhattan Town Center's customer service desk and Information Ticket and Registration at Fort Riley.

Tickets are $18 for the general public, $16 for senior citizens and $9 for students and children.

CRUISE SHIPS/LAND TOUR CO.'S NOW HIRING!

Earn up to $2,500/month plus food, lodging, transportation. World Travel. No experience required. Many positions available, Male or Fernale. Seasonal/Full Time. (800) 638-6845, Ext. 2107

WESTLOOP 539-3333

Women's SilverLake' Jeans. Preferred by cowboys everywhere.

Back-yoke piecing, scalloped or buttoned pockets, and classic fit make our NA835 SilverLake* jeans very stylish. And very attractive.

LEE'S WESTERN WEAR

Store Hours:

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

8426 E. HWY 24

ADMISSION TO ALL UPC FILMS IS $1.75

BRAVEHEART

Friday, March 15 5:30 & 9:30 pm Saturday, March 16 6:00 pm Sunday, March 17 8:45 pm Forum Hall

K-State Student Union
UPC Feature Films Committee

EAT DRINK MAN WOMAN

Thursday, March 14 7:00 & 9:30 pm Saturday, March 16 10:00 pm

From the creator of The Wedding Banquet

K-State Student Union UPC Kaleidocope Films Co

Forum Hall For more information call the UPC Office at 532-6571 TRACTORS FOR OUR DAILY BREAD

Group seeks answer to hunger

In the 1960s and '70s, some staff members from K-State's Department of Agriculture established a college of agriculture and engineering in northern Nigeria.

Two decades later, their influence is indirectly helping people such as Chris Akhimien lead the fight against Akhimien came to K-State to earn his master's degree in agricultural economics. He graduated in 1990.

The reputation of the University's agriculture department and the influence of the staff members on Akhimien's home country of Nigeria made Akhimien's choice a simple one. 'The major reason I came here was to find a cure for hunger," he said. Akhimien does not believe the practice of sending food to hunger-stricken countries, often called the band-aid approach, will help. But he is convinced sending tractors will.

In November 1990, Akhimien founded Tractors For Our Daily Bread, which seeks to provide farmers in Africa with the agricultural equipment they need to take full advantage of the resources in their country.

The focus of Tractors For Our Daily Bread is to find a solution for the hunger problems in Africa instead of treating the symptoms.

"Africa's problem has been addressed by the band-aid application for too long," he said. "The only way out is to send tractors to Africa to increase productivity."

'Africa has more farmable land than the United States," said Debra Frey, director of development for Tractors For Our Daily Bread.

But the problem is they do not have the equipment and training to manage the land efficiently, she said.

Frey said Nigeria only uses 3 percent of its farmable land.

Africa has more land with farming potential than any other country in the world. However, it only cultivates 22 percent of its arable land, as opposed to Asia, which cultivates 88 percent.

The Tractors For Our Daily Bread program aims to solve this problem by finding people who are willing to send farm equipment to Africa. The program also seeks to educate African farmers in efficient agricultural techniques.

The most important piece of equipment is the Ford 8N tractor, which is ideal for the small type of farms in Frey said the 8N tractor has many appealing characteristics.

About one-half million Ford 8N tractors were built in the late '40s and early '50s, and they have proven to be reliable over the years.

"This is the same tractor that mechanized our farming from the horse,"

The 8N tractor has also survived over the years because of the sheer number Ford originally produced.

"Since there's so many, they still make replacement parts for them," Frey

HELP WANTED

You can help Tractors For Our Daily Bread by donating farm equipment, money or organizing a group to help buy a tractor. Contact Debra Frey, director of Development for Tractors For Our Daily Bread in Manhattan at 776-3454 or call toll free 1-800-775-2732.

Using tractors is more efficient than the traditional method of farming by hand, used in most African countries. "Ninety percent of the farming is done by hand," Frey said."With this little tractor, that same farmer can feed about 50 to 60 people.

Tractors For Our Daily Bread has six working Ford 8N tractors in Nigeria right now, which work to feed about 300 people.

The group has three tractors on its way to Zimbabwe and plans to send more soon. The goal is to send 1,000 tractors to Africa, Frey said.

Aside from starvation, another problem created when farming by hand is overpopulation. Increased population occurs when families need more kids to help harvest the crops.

According to recent data compiled by the food and agriculture organizations of the United Nations, the population in Nigeria is growing at a rate of 3.3 percent while food production is decreasing at a rate of 1.25 percent.

Frey said as a result of malnutrition less than half of Africa's population reaches adulthood, but working with the agricultural problems will help cure the problem.

According to the Hunger Project, a world-wide research organization, population naturally drops when an increase in agriculture occurs.

The idea of mechanized agriculture in lesser-developed countries has met some criticism as a result of possible negative environmental effects.

Critics believe mechanization will require a greater need for fossil fuels which may not be readily available in those countries.

Akhimien said he does not believe fuel will be an issue because Africa has cars, airplanes and other automobiles, which already consume fuel.

He said he believes the tractor program is the only one that will work in Africa.

"There is no way any nation in the world can feed themselves with hand tools," he said. "It's just impossible."

He is taking steps to ensure the success of the tractor project by establishing satellite offices in several places nationwide. He is currently setting up an office in Wilmington, Del.

"This is a very long-term project," he said. "It will take long-term plan-

Akhimien said he is pleased with the progress of his project so far and hopeful for the future.

"I believe we are doing very well,"

Location to change for parking services

Purchasing a parking permit next year will not be as convenient as walking to Burt Hall.

If renovations remain as planned, parking permits will be sold from

Edwards Hall beginning in fall 1996. "Right now we are looking at June 1 to have everything moved to Edwards," Dwain Archer, director of Parking Services, said.

"Of course, that is a tentative

"It depends on how far we can get along with the renovations, but we are hoping to start selling parking permits there by next semester."

The move to Edwards will give Parking Services the opportunity to better accommodate customers.

"Burt Hall, where we are now, is more of an individual office building," Archer said.

"It doesn't lend itself to house bigger departments such as Parking

"Edwards is larger, and with increased space we will be able to accommodate more customers than we could at Burt," he said.

Availability of parking spaces and a shuttle service will help balance out the inconvenience of location, Archer said.

"One plus is more available parking either at the Rec or in B-16 by Weber," he said.

"We do have a limited shuttle bus service, which has been running since August. The route runs from Edwards to the Vet Med building to the KSU Foundation and then to the Union.

"It's on a timed schedule so if students or faculty need to get to Edwards, they can," he said.

Although the location of Parking Services will be changing, the method of paying for parking tickets will remain the same.

"Tickets will be paid for in the same way they are paid for now either at the window, which will be in Edwards, through the mail, or at the yellow drop boxes located around campus.'

One other convenient change might occur.

The only other change we may be making in the fall might be altering our business operating hours," Archer said.

"We may open a half hour to 45 minutes early and close a half hour to 45 minutes later. We're making all these changes to better serve the students and faculty, and we're going to try to keep everyone informed via the media," he said.

RELIGION DIRECTORY

First Bap ist Church

Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. For free transportation within chity limits, call the church.

Pastors Karen & Alan Selig 2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8691

An American Baptist Congregration

at Luther House 1745 Anderson Sunday Worship 7:15 p.m. in the Danforth Chapel College Liturgy
"Now the Feast and Celebration" Pastor Jayne Thompson 539-4451

Open to All

Canterbury Episcopal Campus Ministry

St. Francis

Eucharist & Guitar in Danforth Chapel Every Sunday at 5 p.m. Rev. Cathy Chittenden-Bascom

532-9099

School of Bible 9:30 a.m.

7 p.m. KOINONIA Fellowship

* Broadcast 9:05 a.m.

Angel 95 (95.3 FM)

WEDNESDAY Service 7:30 p.m.

STERLING HUDGINS-PASTOR

cated 12 miles north of Tuttle Creek Dat turn off Hwy. 13 at the sign. 4150 LIVING WATER DR. OLSBURG, KS 66520

(913) 468-3615

LIVING WATER RANCH CHURCH

Grace Baptist Church 2901 Dickens (2 blks. E. of Seth Child) SUNDAY Service 10:30 a.m.

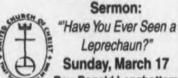

·Sunday · Two Unique Worship' 8:15 • 10:45

Bible Classes (ALL AGES) 9:30 A.M. Body Life or Care Cells

6 P.M. 776-0424

> First Congregational Church

700 Poyntz (Poyntz and Juliette) 537-7006 Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m. Sermon:

Leprechaun?" Sunday, March 17 Rev. Donald Longbottom

WESTVIEW COMMUNITY CHURCH

Morning Worship 8:30 & 10:45 a.m.

Sunday School 9:45 a.m. Sunday Evening Worship 6 p.m. 1st Sunday

CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 2, 3, 4 Sunday 6 p.m. 3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

CRESTVIEW CHURCH

English Worship 10:30 a.m. & 6:30 p.m. Sunday School 9:15 a.m. Chinese Worship 10:30 a.m.

(3 miles north of Kimball Ave.)

4761 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

776-3798

FIRST UNITED

METHODIST CHURCH 8:30 & 11 a.m. Worship 9:45 a.m. Church School including University and Young adult classes Nursery provided for all services Omer G. Tittle, Pastor 776-8821 612 Poyntz

DIAL-A-PRAYER 776-9569 ST. LUKE'S

LUTHERAN CHURCH (LCMS)

Campus Pastor James Gau 6 p.m. Saturday Evening Service 7:45-8:45 a.m. Early Service 9-9:45 a.m. Sunday School 10-11 a.m. Contemporary Service 11:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m. Late Service (8:45-11:15 a.m. Fellowship) 330 N. Sunset Ave.

Manhattan Mennonite Church

Sunday School 9:30 a.m., Worship 10:45 a.m. Eldon Epp, Pastor 10th and Fremont Child Care Available

FIRST LUTHERAN

10th Poyntz 537-8532 Worship at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

Sunday School all ages 9:40 a.m. St. Isidore's

Catholic Student Center

Sun. 9.30, 11 a.m., & 5 p.m. Confessions Sat. 4 p.m. 539-7496

Chaplain: Father Brad Sterrett

Come and Seek with us.

First Presbyterian Church Worship 10:30 a.m.

8th & Leavenworth 537-0518

Classifieds

BULLETIN

Announcements

BOARD

SCUBA DIVE Learn to scuba dive for spring break and summer. Call David Garvin, PADI instructor, at Creative Travel, 539-0531, class-es now forming.

ADVANCED FLIGHT
TRAINING. 8000-hour
flight instructor specializing in multi-engine
and other advanced ratings. Very competitive
rates. Hugh Irvin, 539–3128.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five air-planes. For best prices call Troy Brockway, 776-6735 after 5:30p.m.

SIGN A "gient" card thank-ing Mitch Holthus and wishing him well in his career. There will be a ent union across from the stateroom from 10a.m. to 2p.m., Thurs-day and Friday. March 14-15.

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND: SET of keys, out by Carnahan Creek Rec. area. Has name "Becky" on K-State license name tag. Call name 539-4261. LOST- VERY dear plati-num cross. Please call: 537-0234.

Parties-n-More ADD A extra touch of class to your next party. Call Wayne's Water Party to rent a portable hot tub 537-7587, 539-7561.

ADD A splash to your next bash! Call Wet-N-Wild

Mobile Hot Tub Rental. 537-1825.

MALE EXOTIC DANCER available for bachelor-ette parties and birth-days. Ladies embarrass her with the funniest gift ever! Professional entertainment at reaentertainment at rea-sonable rates! Rob 539-6623.

OPERATION PURPLE Wave Hot Tub Bus Rental, 18-20 person tub ca-pacity. New tubs and equipment 587-0990.

REAL ESTATE

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in housing without distinction on account of race, sex, familial status, military atatus, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations ahould be reported to the Director of Numan Resources at City Hall, 587-2440.

Apts. Furnished

A VARIETY of furnished or unfurnished apart-ments. Close to cam-pus. Call Moore Man-agement. One-bed-room $320, two-bed-room with fireplace $510, two-bedroom with one-and one-half with one and one-half bath $510, two-bed-room $400. Summer subleases available, no pets. Water, trash paid. June and August lease available. Call 537-7542 9a.m.- 6p.m. 537-4567 after 7p.m.

SPACIOUS APARTMENTS

3 blocks east of campus Two bedrooms, furnished, ample parking. Quiet s. Reasonable rates 776-3624.

AUGUST LEASE: Next to campus- Eastside un-furnished two-bed-room with fireplace and laundry, Westside fur-nished one/ two-bed-room, Both locations

have balcony, central air/ heating, carpet, fully equipped kitchen, and off-street parking. 539-2702 leave message or call evenings

Call 532-6555

to place your classified.

AVAILABLE IMME-DIATELY- One-bed-room apartment on An-derson Ave. Clean and new. For rent or sub-lease. Call (913)446-3788, leave AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Vary nice one, two, three and four-bedroom apartments-for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919. FOR AUGUST next to KSU Across the street from Ford Hall and Nichols Hall. Deluxe two-bednall, Deluxe (Wo-Ded-room apartment, $490-$500. Also, large, nice one-bedroom apart-ment, water, trash, gas, three-fourths paid. Laundrymat. $310-$320 539-2482 after NINE OR 12 month lesse, most utilities paid, fur-nished or unfurnished. Studio, one, two, or three-bedroom. No pets. 537–8389.

furnished in complex, 1219 Claffin next to campus $325 plus de-posit plus electric. Au-gust year lease. No pets, 537-1180.

THREE-BEDROOM, 815 N. 10th St., sublease, $450, 539-8401. TWO-BEDROOM FUR-NISHED spartment, 1200 Fremont, Central air, dishwasher, disposal, carpeting, off-street parking, $450, 537-0428. 110 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished

AVAILABLE AUGUST 1, nice two, three, and four-bedroom, close to campus, no pets, 539,5651 AVAILABLE IMMEDIATE LY. Very nice one, two, three and four-bedroom spartment for now, summer and fall. Close to campus with great prices. 537-2919. AVAILABLE JUNE 1- one bedroom with washer/ dryer, water/ trash paid. $375. Near campus. Call 778-5981. Ask for Tasha or Travis.

Sat. 10-3 p.m.

$495- $505/ month 539-1897. CLOSE TO campus. Onetwo- three-bedroom apartments. Not a com-plex. No pets. 539-4641.

FOR SUMMER and fall, two beautiful apart-ments at North Park Apartments. 1200 Fre-mont. Close to campus, disposal, dishwasher, $450, 537-0428. LEASING FOR August. One, two, three, four and six-bedroom apar-

Leasing now thru August Fremont Apts.

Sandstone Apts.

PARKING SOUTH OF THE UNION

Cambridge Square Apts. Large 2-bedroom units 537-9064 Weekdays 8:30-5 p.m.

JUNE 1 leases, one-bed-rooms at 1913 Ander-son or 327 and 331 Fre-mont. $290- $305. No pets. 587-0399.

JUNE 1 or Aug. 1. preleas-ing: two-bedroom, one block from campus. Water and trash paid.

LARGE, TWO-BEDROOM near KSU campus. 1829 College Heights. Available immediately. $500. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

tments, duplexes and house. Close to cam-pus. No pets. 776-2102. LEASING FOR Fall. Twobedroom, two bath du-plex, one block from campus. Large enough for four. Dishwasher, garbage disposal, laundry hookups. McCain Lane. Evenings (913)632-2744. LEASING FOR Summer and Fall. One block from campus, two-bed-room, dishwasher, garbage disposal, laundry facilities. Very nice com-plex, 1860 Anderson. Evenings (913)632-2744.

ONE, TWO, three-bedroom apartments and houses available June, July, August. One year lease, no pets. The Housing Company. 539–2255.

ONE, TWO, three-bedroom apartments. Close to campus. No pets, water and trash furnished June lease, 539-1975.

Except holidays)

103 Kedzie Hall

OFFICE

Hours Mon.-Fri. 8-5

Why stay on Baltic Avenue when you can ADVANCE TO:

FALL 1996 539-2951

 Unfurnished 1-2-3 BR · Water & Trash Paid

· Hot Tub & Pools Volleyball/Horseshoes

 Laundry Facilities * 24-Hour Maintenance · On-site Management

Call Homestead Need furniture? Rentals $37-8774

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL-ABLE immediately near Aggieville. 1124 Fremont, $275 through July 31. Water, trash paid. Call now 776-3804.

old. Male/ female

532-6273.

Sporting

Equipment

Equipment

PORTATION

Automobiles

1985 F-150 4X4, air condi-

1987 MONTE Carlo SS

1990 LINCOLN Continental

only. (913)238-3874

ECONOMICAL.

tioned, four-speed, extra sharp $5700, 587-0562. Ask for Heath.

below average miles. 539-8307.

Towncar, blue on blue cloth top, signature ser-

1983 Pontiac 6000 front-wheel drive, six cylin-der, diesel, dual tanks.

$1250, best offer 537-4047.

black 1987 Ford Tempo $1350, 1985 blue Mer-

TREK 820 $200. Trek 930 with front shox $250.Ask for Mike, 539-2370.

er. (913)238-1259.

Bicycles

530

cury Marquis, extra clean, $1700 or best off-er. 776-2329,

BLACK

FEEDER RABBITS $7.98. Pet-N-Stuff. 539-9494.

AND

SHOW. New location! We have moved from Manhattan to Junction

City National Guard Ar mory at 18th and Jackson. Saturday March 16, 9– 5. Sunday March 17, 9– 4. Buy- Sell-Trade. Information

MTX BLUE Thunder car

speakers in truck boxes 12-inch woofers- tweet-ers. Retail $350. Selling for $185 or best offer,

Collegian Classifieds

CHASE MANHATTAN APARTMENTS

Corner of College and Claffin, Manhattan

1 to 4 Bedroom

Apartments Deck/Patios for

each unit On-Site Gym, Pool, and Laundry

Covered Parking 2 BR - $550 & $570

3 BR - $720 & $735

Now Accepting Reservations for August 1996 - July 1997 Leases

For more information, call: (913) 776-3663 Monday-Friday,

9 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday Noon to 3 p.m.

ONE-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now. Sunset Apartments, $345-$385. Water, trash paid. Laundry facilities. No pets. Call 776–3804. ONE-BEDROOM

JUNE- JULY at Park Place $345/ month. ONE-BEDROOM NEAR

KSU campus, available now. 1960 Hunting. $400- $435. Water, trash paid. 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM

study available now 1212 Thurston, $400 Near KSU campus. Wa ter, trash paid. Call 776-3804.

N, LEE CREST APARTMENTS 1212 KEARNEY, Friday 3:30-6, Saturday 11one-bedroom Four buildings within one block campus, on Sunset and Kearney.

MENTS leasing one, two and three-bedroom apartments. Two pools, hot tub, horseshoes, volleyball. 539-2951.

REALLY NICE, one-bed room apartment. Available May 20. Poolside Nearby laundry facili-ties, 776–2322.

STUDIO ONE and two-bed room. Available now Water and trash paid Laundry facilities. Hat ton Property Management. Clara 539-6318 or 537-8228.

SUMMER SUBLEASE nice, one-bedroom ground level apart-ment. Close to campus. 10:30a.m 537-2346, ask for Justin istntim@ksu.ksu.edu

TOWNHOUSE- ONE block from campus. Two double sized bedrooms, two bath. $625. Landmark Realty, 776-2222.

TWO- THREE- four-bed room near campus, on and one-half bath. Cen tral air, laundry, dish-washer, 537-1746.

TWO-REDROOM APART MENT available now and June 1. No pets. $450/ month, washer/ dryer hookups, fenced backyard, off-street parking. Call 537–1566.

TWO-BEDROOM AVAIL ABLE now through May 31, 1026 Osage, $475. Water, trash paid. No pets. Call now 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE-MENT apartment. All bills paid except electric and phone. One block from campus. Parking. June. $450. 539-6578.

TWO-BEDROOM BASE MENT apartment re-cently constructed, 500 block of Bluemont. $325 plus utilities. Available Aug. 1. 537–1047 after 6.

TWO-BEDROOM NEAR KSU. Water/ trash paid. $460/ month. Call $460/ month. Call 587-4111 or after 6p.m.,

TWO-BEDROOM, SPA-CIOUS, one block from $490.

WALK ACROSS to Ag gieville and campus Spacious one and two bedroom apartments available now and Au-gust. Off-street parking, 776-0683.

For Rent-Houses

AUGUST LEASING next to campus three, four, five-bedroom houses and apartments with wash er, dryer, central air, some with fire place dishwasher, garage. Trash, pest control paid, no pets. 537-8543.

FIVE-BEDROOM HOUSE available June 1, $1000/ month, washer/ dryer, hookup, fenced yard, off-street parking. Call 537-1566.

FOR RENT or sale. Available now, two-bed-room house in Keats.

FOUR-BEDROOM HOUSE. JR-BEDROOM MOUSE, Available for summer spacious, nice, two baths, dishwasher, washer/dryer, fenced yard, $700/ month, 539-5141 ask for Aaron leave massage.

townhome in scenic Briercliff Addition. Pool, tennis courts and clubhouse. $600. Avail-able June 1. 776–8363.

NICE TWO-BEDROOM duplex. All appliances, ga-rage. Please, no smok-ing, no pets. Five month or one year lease. Located 2304 Wil-low Lane, Manhattan. Call (913)456-7185.

WO AND three-bedroom for non-smoker, drink-er. No pets please. 539-1554.

For Sale-Mobile Homes

THREE-BEDROOM, TWO bath modular home. All appliances, ceiling fans, deck,,shed. fans, deck,, shed. $19,500 or best offer. Must sell 537-8854.

Roommate Wanted

FEMALE NON-SMOKER for fall will look for place together. Call Sandy. 565-0204 (leave

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted immediately. Lease runs until July 31. $213/ month plus one-half utilities. Call Kendra 537-9169, leave MALE ROOMMATE to share apartment. Very close to campus for summer. Call: Ryan 565-0169.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted. $175 a month 539-4429.

MALE/ FEMALE roommate wanted for five-bed-room house. $150/ month. Washer/ dryer. Three blocks from cam pus. Call Ricky or Aaron 537–1621.

SUMMER AND/ or fall females to share three bedroom apartment two blocks from campus. off-street parking. $165, 537-1091.

Sublease

ACROSS FROM campus Summer sublease. Three-bedrooms. Available June 1. Washer/ dryer. Two bathrooms. $740/ month. No pets. 776-8957.

AVAILABLE NOW or sum mer: sublease one-bed-room of four-bedroom apartment. month includes cable. Water and trash paid Ground floor, pool laundry facilities. First month rent paid. Call

FOR SUMMER. Your own washer and dryer. Close to campus, city park and Aggieville. Call 776-9041.

FIVE-BEDROOM townhouse, two and one-half bath, washer/ dryer, dishwasher, starts June 1, 587–8622.

MALE ROOMMATE needed for immediate sub-lease. Smoker OK. Huge apartment, large kitchen, living room. Two-bedroom, balco-ny, fireplace. McCain Lane location. You pay $260, plus half low KPL. Urgent that we find someone soon. Call Matt at 537-0752 after

MAY 20- July 31. Share two-bedroom apart-ment $180/ month plus one-half utilities. three blocks east campus. No pets. 776–9559.

MAY THROUGH July sub-lease. Looking for fe-males to share a fourbedroom apartment, one block from cam-pus. Amy 776-8870.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT, nice, spacious, clean, available after finals, until Aug. 1. Rent negotiable. Across from campus. 537-2386.

PARK PLACE Apertment, one-bedroom, unfur-nished, across from Westloop, pool, patio, available May 27, wa-ter, trash paid. $345/ month. 776-5437 after 5p.m.

DESERVE

Great location

Private bedroom

Laundry facilities

Onsite office

Large bath & closets

Dishwasher/disposal

THE BEST

2 bedroom apartments

YOU

SUBLEASE SUMMER, one bedroom furnished 537-6192

SUBLEASE TWO-BED ROOM one and one-half bath. May 1- July 31. Close to campus, Aggiveille. Water/ trash paid. 537–4768, leave a SUMMER SUBLEASE-available after finals/ graduation. One, two, or three-bedroom, 1850 Claffin. Laundry facili-ties, water/ trash paid. 776-0264.

SUMMER SUBLEASE four-bedroom, 1800 Platt. Across from Durland.

SUMMER SUBLEASE three-bedroom house, 732 Frey Dr. Furnished washer and dryer. Fenced in back yard. $520 per month deposit, Call 587-8166.

SUMMER SUBLEASE Two-bedroom, one and one-half bath. Close to campus and Aggieville 539-9110.

SUMMER SUBLEASE: one bedroom apartment near campus, water and trash paid. Avail-able May 20 through July 31, $220/ month. 776-8897.

THREE-BEDROOM TWO full bath, AC. Sublease June 1, negotiable. Wa-ter, trash paid. Near campus and Aggieville 776-9432.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT for sublease one half block from campus. Will sublease for $400. Please call for availability. 537-0234.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT for sublease for June and July. One block from campus, nice, spacious. Wate and trash paid. $475 month. Call 395-3966.

210

Resume/ Typing

PERFECT and all your other word processing needs. Laser printing. Call Brenda 776–3290.

Other Services

> DO YOU suspect a cheat-ing heart? We can find out if a partner has strayed. Money back guarantee. Private guarantee. Eyes. 776-7378.

PROMPT CONTRACEPTIVE and abortion services. Dale L. Clinton, M.D., Lawrence, (913)841-5716.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

Help Wanted

Manhattan City Ordinance 4814 assures every person equal opportunity in securing and holding employment in any field of work or labor for which he' she is properly qualified regardless of race, sex, military status, disability, religion, age, color, national origin or ancestry. Violations should be reported to the Director of Human Resources at City Hall, Resources at City Hall, 537-0056.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment/Career classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment op-portunity with reason-able caution. The Col-legian urges our read-ers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, To-peka, KS 66607-1190, (913)232-0454.

$ CRUISE Ships Hiring! Students needed! $$$ plus Free Travel (Car-ibbean, Europe, Ha-waii!) Seasonal/ Permanent, no experience necessary. Gde (919)929-4398 ext

$1750 WEEKLY possible mailing our circulars. For information call (301)306-1207.

ALASKA SUMMER EM-PLOYMENT- Student needed! Fishing indus try. Earn up to $3000 $6000 plus per month. Room and board! Transportation! Male or female. No experience necessary. Call (206)971-3510

> PLOYMENT. Fisher ies, parks, resorts now hiring! Earn to $3000-$6000 plus/ month! Air Room/ Board Free video with pro-gram! Call SEI (919)932-1489, ext. A85.

> > ANATOMY AND PHYS-IOLOGY: Half-time position open for postdoo or research assistant with Biology back-ground to do electron microscopy of synapse and nerve cells in se anemones on an NSI grant. Contact Jane A. Westfall, 532-4528 immediately. KSU is an equal opportunity em-

ATTENTION STUDENTS Earn extra cash stuffing envelopes at home. All materials provided. Send SASE to National Mailers P.O. Box 774, Olathe, KS 66051. Im-

CHRISTIAN MOTHER seek ing college student to watch infant in my home. Part-time during weekdays through May fours flexible Hours 587-0291.

COMPUTING AND Network Systems is seek-ing to hire one student UNIX administrator to work 15-30 hours per week. Duties will in-clude assisting with all aspects of UNIX system administration. Re-quirements include knowledge of Solaris 2 and the ability to learn and work without close supervision. Applica-tions available in 16 Nichols Hall at the re-ception desk. Complet-ed application and re-sume due, March 20, 1996 by 5:00p.m.

CRUISE SHIPS HIRING Travel the world while earning an excellent inome in the Cruise Ship and Land-Tour In full-time employment available. No experi-(206)971-3550 ext.C57685

DOES YOUR SUMMER WORK SUCK? If so, work, make $450/week!! Possible college credit. Interviews being held. Call 539-1561.

FAST FUNDRAISER-Raise $500 in five days- Greeks, groups, clubs, motivated individuals. Fast, easy-no financial obliga-tion (800)862-1982

FREE FINANCIAL AID! Over $6 billion in public and private sector grants and scholarships is now available. All students are eligible re-gardless of grades, income, or parent's in-come. Let us help. Call Student Financial Serv-ices: (800)263-6495 ext. F57685.

GROWING NETWORK enterprise looking for en-thusiastic, motivated individuals in your area. Experience personal and financial freedom and motivate others. Call (913)545–3497 after

HARVEST HELP NEED ED. We run three new 2188's Case International combines, three new Chevy automatic twinscrew trucks. Start mid to end of May. Room and board pro-vided, $1400/ month for experienced help, Call Gaines Harvesting

HELP WANTED experienced summer farm help. (913)437-3162.

MADE $1800 in weeks. No work! No time! Rush $2 and self-addressed stamped envelope to: Briles, P.O. Box 127, Rule, TX

I NEED HELP! If you speak Spanish, French, German, Japanese, Rus-sian, Chinese, Korean or Portugese, call Susan. Unlimited Income. 539-7336.

LIVE-IN NANNY needed for summer only. Free Room and board. Con-tact Lee 537–1444.

LOSE WEIGHT NOW! Needed 27 people to lose weight. All natural recommended. 587-1037.

MAINE. EXCITING, fun-filled summer! Must have good skills, able to instruct, coach or assist. Openings in: Base-ball, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Lax, Swim (WSI), Waterski and All Water Sports, PLUS: Camping and Hiking, Ropes and Climbing Wall, Ice Hockey, SCU-BA, English Horseback Riding, Archery, Riflery, Arts and Crafts, Martial Arts, RN's Secretaries. Coed Staff, Top salaries, excellent facilities. room/ baord/ laundry, travel allowance, Call travel allowance. Call or write; Steve Rubin, (800)473-6104, Camp Cobbossee 10 Silver-mine Dr., So. Salem, NY 10590.

MANAGEMENT TRAINEE opening at American General Finance. Finance, Finance, ground helpful, 776-0050.

OUTSIDE SUMMER JOBS Tropical Beach/ Mountain Resorts, National Parks, Ranches Rafting Companies

RESEARCH/ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT Make Anderson Place Your DPRA Incorporated, a contract research and consulting firm in environmental and regulatory issues, has a part-time Home Away From Home!

position (20-30 hrs. per week) open for Research/Administrative Assistant starting April 22 and continuing indefinately. Applicants should have at least an associate degree and have training and/or extensive experience in word processing, computer spreadsheet/graphics development and good use of the internet. Prefer candidates with good research skills and attention to detail. Good typing and clerical skills are a plus as well as desktop publishing experience. The selected applicant can expect to perform a variety of work providing support for environmental litigation, regulatory reviews, regulatory impact assessments and information services. Good verbal and writing skills are required as well as the ability to meet tight deadlines. Pay is $9 per hour. Send letter, resume and transcript to Directory of Human Resources, Department P., DPRA Incorporated, P.O. Box 727, Manhattan, KS 66505. No phone calls please.

> DPRA INCORPORATED EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

500 plus employers na-tionwide! Call SEII (919) 932-1489, ext.

PREMIERE BROTHERS-Sister Camps in Mas-sachusetts: Counselor positions for talented and energetic students as Program Specialists in all Team Sports, esin all Team Sports, especially Baseball, Basketball, Roller Hockey, Gymnastics, Field Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball; 30 Tennis openings; also Golf, Archery, Riflery, Pioneering/ Overnight Camping, Ropes and Rock Climbing, Weights/ Fitness and Cycling; other openings Cycling; other openings include Performing Arts, Fine Arts, Figure Skating, Newspaper,

Photography, Year book, Radio Station Cooking, Sewing and Rocketry; All Water-front/ Pool Activities (Swimming, Skiing Sailing, Windsurfing Canceing/ Kayaking) Top salaries, room, board and travel. June 18- August 17, Inquire: MAH-KEE-NAC (Boys): 1-800-753-9118. DANBEE (Girls): 1-800-

REFEREES WANTED USSF Certified Soccer Refer-ees needed for Soccer Tournament, April 13 and 14 at Anneberg Park Manhattan Kansas. For information call 537-2670.

ROOF TRUSS Manufac-turer 5107 Murray Rd. 776–5081.

SPECIAL BEGINNINGS Early Learning Center is a private pre-school and child care facility seeking Lead Teachers for pre-school children. Candidates must have bachelors in EC Education or related field by May 1996. Positions begin in June 1996. Competitve salary, ex-cellent benefits. Cur-rently excepting resume and applications. Will be holding open in-terviews March 18, 25 from 10a.m. to 8p.m. 10216 Pflum, Lenexa.

(913)894-0131. SUMMER EMPLOY-MENT: Experienced combine or truck driv ers needed for custom wheat harvesting op-eration. Lancaster Har-vesting, Dodge City, Kansas. (316)227–8821.

SUMMER HARVEST held wanted: Three John Deere 9600's and Waterville, KS. Phone: (800)653-8235.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN, K-State's student-produced daily newspaper, is now ac cepting applications for summer and fall 1996 positions in advertising and news. Included are paid positions in advertising sales, reporting copy editing, photo journalism, graphics, art and electronic pub-lishing. It's a great op-

•2 bedrooms

% block from campus

·Furnished and unfurnished

portunity to apply your skills and gain invalu-able hands-on experi-ence. Applications and more information are

THE ROYAL PURPLE. K State's student pro-duced yearbook, is now accepting applications for the 1996-97 school year. There are many positions to choose from. It's a great op-portunity to apply your skills and gain invaluable hands-on experience. Applications and more information are available in Kedzie 103.

THE WICHITA Business Journal is looking for an outstanding Account Executive with a strong desire to be #1. If you are proud of your ac complishments and want to join an excel-lent team of professionals fax your resume to: Advertising Direc-tor, fax (316)267–8570. ROPICAL RESORTS Hiring. Entry-level and ca-reer positions available worldwide (Hawaii, Mexico, Caribbean, etc.). Waitstaff, house-keepers, SCUBA dive leaders, fitness counselors, and more. Excellent benefits + bo nuses. Call Resort Em-ployment Services 1-206-971-3600 ext.

WANTED, COMBINE and truck drivers for wheat harvest. Experience ar ound farm machinery or trucks preferred. Good wages and bonus plan available (913)776-1321 ask for Ryan or (913)582-5359.

WHEAT HARVEST held wanted for summer.
Case-IH equipment diesel trucks from Texas to Montana. $1500/
month. Maddey Harvesting. Norton, KS (913)877-5577. CA SUMMER

CAMP POSITIONS. Looking for mature, de-pendable, committed people to implement quality YMCA Summer Day Camps in four Topeka locations. Must be able to work well with and relate to kids and parents. First Aid, CPR water and CDL certifi-cation a plus. Elemen-tary Education, Child Development, Physcial Education, and Recreation are encouraged to apply. Camp Coordinators- Need strong ad-ministrative, super-visory, communicative, organization, and peoquirements: 12 college hours in relevant cours es or one year experi ence in state licensed child care program. Camp Counselors-Must communicate and relate well to kids and parents. Minimum re-quirements: must be 18, high school diploma, relevant college hours, experience in child care and/ or ob servation hours. Apply

Now leasing for 1996-97

Showings every

Monday through Friday

2-4 p.m.

1852 Anderson Place #16

776-1222

now at the YMCA of To peka Kuehns Branch at 1936 N. Tyler, Topeka 66608 or Downtown Branch At 421 Van Bur-

MARKET

Items for Sale

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS New and used! Combai and safety toe boots. Wool (blankets, gloves mittens and socks) Camouflage clothing Also CARHARTT work wear. Open Monday through Friday 9-5:30p.m. Saturday 9- 5. St. Mary's Surplus Sales. St. Marys, KS (913)437-2734.

MK COSMETICS on sale Buy one get second of equal or lesser value free. In stock only. 776-6674.

MOVIE STILLS, books bronze Remingtons, African, black, oriental, estate jewelry, albums, estate jewelry, albums, tin signs, beer mobilia, hats, prints, political, many curious goods, Time Machine Antique Maul 4910 Skyway Drive. East of Airport. Open 12 through 5, Tuesday through Saturday. Visa and Mastercard and layaway, 539-4684.

PAT'S SURPLUS- Boots BDU's, fatigues, ammo cans, TA-50, coats, hats, military equipment. Open 12:00 to 6p.m. Phone 537-5020, Og-

Furniture to Buy/Sell

COUCH AND chair for sale Great for a college apartment. Nothing fan-cy, but clean and in de-cent condition. Asking $75 for both or best off-er. Call 537–4807.

Antiques

TIME MACHINE Antique Maul and Geeb Empori-um, 6000 square feet, antiques, collectibles, estate jewelry, furni-ture, 4910 Skyway Dr. four blocks east of Manhattan Airport. Open Tues.- Sat. 12- 5p.m. 539-4684.

Motorcycles

Computers 486DX4 X100 8MB RAM CD ROM 14400 modern 16 bit sound card 14 inch monitor Win 95

72- PIN RAM, 8 meg $170, 4 meg $80, 4X-CD ROM $90. Tom 395-2447.

$1000, 539-8453.

Supplies

BABY AFRICAN Pigmy hedgehogs four weeks

1993 SUZUKI GSXR750 ex cellent condition, tons of extras. 537-5014. SUZUKI 550 GS 1977, Nice ride on a warm day. Must sell. $1000 or best offer. 587-8638 after

> GET THE WORD

Looking for a job?

The Classifieds is your source to find the job you've been looking for. KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

532-6555

Classified Directory

020 Lost and Found

030 Personals 040 Meetings/Event 080 Parties-n-More

115 Rooms Available 120 For Rent - Houses 125 For Sale - Houses

140 For Rent -- Garage 145 Roommetic Wanted

188 Utable Pasture 460 Office Space 165 Lind for Sale

180 Subleuse

210 Resume/Typing 215 Desktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations

225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care 240 Musicians/DJs

248 Pet Services

250 Automotive Repai 166 Other Services 36,

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS 110 Help Wanted 426 Auction

OPEN

MARKET

406 Wested to Buy

410 Norm for Sale

415 Furniture to Buyo'S

420 Garage/York Sales

440 Food Specials 445 Music Instruments All O Pers and Supplea 468 Sporting Equipmen

488 Tickets to Buyingan

50 TRANS-PORTATION

810 Austrabies

TRIPS

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

CATEGORIES

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by

Always put what item or service

abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

2 pools NOW LEASING For June & August Call 776-1148 OPEN HOUSES DAILY LUXURY TWO-BEDROOM, one and one-half bath

Patricia's UNDERCOVER Lingerie and SWIMSUITS!

We have a swimsuit to fit you sizes 32-36, A-DD Sunset separates, Raisins, Sauvage, Ritchie, Budweiser, Pan Dulce, Hazel 1224 Moro • Aggieville

Mon.-Thur. 10-7, Fri.-Sat.

UNIVERSITY LOUNGE Presents:

St. Patrick's Weekend Kick off your St. Patrick's Day Weekend

Drink Specials

Green Beer $1.00 Bud Light Bottles $1.75 Green Jello Shots $1.00 O'Doul's $2.00

Boiling Leprechauns $4.50 Guiness $2.00 Hot Food Specials

Irish Stew, Potato Skins and Spicy Shamrock Sticks

17th & Amderson, Manhattan, KS, 66502 (913) 539-7531 Fax (913) 539-3909

ATWOOD

Thomas P. Atwood Mary Elizabeth Atwood

1927 Ft. Riley Blvd. Manhattan, Kansas 66502 913/537-2250 FAX: 913/537-2329

"Our Business Is Exhausting" ose Muffler House

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. Manhattan, Kansas 66502 913-776-8955

1-800-439-8956 Rose House of Tint

Divisions of Rose Muffler House "If it's Glass, We Can Tint It!"

regular priced merchandise excluding dog & cat food & livestock exp. 3/31/96

ANIMAL HOUSE PETS • 210 N. 4th • 537-6111

Need to Relax?

Come in and see what we offer.

St. Patrick's Day Race Massage-A-Thon!

15 Minute Neck & Shoulder/ Runner Relief Massage for $10.00!

15% Kansas State ID Discount (NOT VALID WITH ANY OTHER OFFER)

Serenity Cove Health & Nutrition Center

1214 Moro • Manhattan, KS 66502 • (913) 587-8300

St. Patrick's Post Aggieville Party @ 30bby T

Saturday, March 16 $1.50 Killians Red & Herman Josephs Drawell GREEN BEER SHAMROCK SHOTS!

Friday SMALL TOWN SOUNDS Steak & Shrimp specials

DAVE LEWIS KARAOKE SHOW

FIND HIDDEN SHAMROCKS 4 for PRIZES and Sunday: GIVEAWAYSIL & Olde Irish Songs.

Bobby Ts · Candlewood Shopping Center · 537-8383

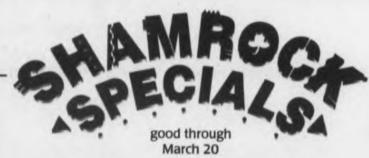

Garnet, Amethyst, Citrine, Opal, Moonstone, Onyx, Lapis, and Sterling Silver Rings. Also Toe Rings & Anklets!

708 N. Manhattan Avenue

Aggieville

Processors Pentlum 75 $130

Pentium 120 $298

Hard Drives 1.0 GB $210

1.2 GB $230 1.6 GB $265

Memory

Software

Full Throttle $32 Wing Commander III $35 Wing Commander IV $54 NBA Live 96 $42

486 to Pentium upgrade $275* on most systems

1 MB 30pin $40 4 MB 72pin $85 8MB 72pln $165

Other 4X CD-ROM $95

Network Computer Solutions

P100 System

$1375

anhattan

It's Spring Time

Come see all the great St. Pat's and Easter merchandise, plus all the new spring merchandise.

BOYDS BUNNIES SNOBUNNIES YANKEE CANDLES BIRD FEEDERS T-SHIRTS

STATIONERY GREETING CARDS ST. PAT'S

Don't miss our Sidewalk Sale Weather Permitting

704 N. MANHATTAN-IN AGGIEVILLE-539-7654 MON.-FRI. 8:30-8:30, SAT. 8:30-5:30, SUN. 12:00-5:00

March Madness With

K-STATE SWEATSHIRTS Buy One Sweatshirt or Tee Shirt Get the Second (Of Equal or Lesser Value) For Just 1/2 Pricell

KANSAS STATE TEE SHIRTS March 14 - March 17

(913) 776-5461 Mon.-Sat.: 9:30 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.

Thur. till 8 p.m., Sun: Noon - 5 p.m.

Keystone Bottles..... Case

Canadian Mist Liter......$8.99

You Don't Have To Wait for a Sale!

537-8219

1129 Bluemont Aggieville